

Northern Ireland (Interim Arrangements) Act 2023

2023 CHAPTER 21

An Act to extend the period during which departmental functions may be exercised in the absence of Ministers to cover the whole of the current period in which there is no Executive; to give the Secretary of State power, during that period, to commission advice and information for the purpose of developing options for raising more public revenue in Northern Ireland or otherwise improving the sustainability of public finances in Northern Ireland; and to require certain accounts and related documents to be laid before the House of Commons in periods in which the Northern Ireland Assembly is not functioning. [24th May 2023]

BE IT ENACTED by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Departmental functions

1 Period during which functions may be exercised in absence of Ministers

In section 3 of the Northern Ireland (Executive Formation etc) Act 2022 (exercise of departmental functions in absence of ministers)—

- (a) in subsection (1), for “the period mentioned in subsection (2)” substitute “the current period in which there is no Executive”;
- (b) for subsection (2) substitute—

“(2) In this section “the current period in which there is no Executive” means the period—

- (a) beginning with 6 December 2022 (the day on which this Act was passed), and
- (b) ending when an Executive is next formed.”

Status: Point in time view as at 24/05/2023.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Northern Ireland (Interim Arrangements) Act 2023. (See end of Document for details)

Advice and information

2 Advice and information on options for raising public revenue

After section 5 of the Northern Ireland (Executive Formation etc) Act 2022 insert—

“Advice and information

5A Advice and information on options for raising public revenue

- (1) The Secretary of State may use the powers conferred by this section only—
 - (a) during the current period in which there is no Executive, and
 - (b) for the purpose of developing options for raising more public revenue in Northern Ireland or otherwise improving the sustainability of public finances in Northern Ireland.
- (2) The Secretary of State may direct a Northern Ireland department to—
 - (a) give the Secretary of State advice or information about such matters as may be specified in the direction;
 - (b) carry out such consultation as may be specified in the direction.
- (3) A direction to provide advice or information may include provision about—
 - (a) the manner or form in which it is to be provided;
 - (b) when it is to be provided.
- (4) A direction to carry out a consultation may include provision about—
 - (a) who is to be consulted;
 - (b) how the consultation is to be carried out;
 - (c) the content of the consultation (including provision requiring the department to obtain the approval of the Secretary of State to the content of the consultation before the consultation begins);
 - (d) the consultation timetable.
- (5) Where a direction requires a department to give information that is not within its possession, or is not under its control, the department must take reasonable steps to obtain the information for the purpose of complying with the direction.
- (6) The power under subsection \(2\)\(a\)—
 - (a) may be exercised so as to require two or more departments to give joint advice;
 - (b) may be exercised so as to require two or more departments jointly to collate information and for one or other of them to give it to the Secretary of State.
- (7) A direction under this section lapses at the end of the current period in which there is no Executive.

Status: Point in time view as at 24/05/2023.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Northern Ireland (Interim Arrangements) Act 2023. (See end of Document for details)

- (8) In this section “current period in which there is no Executive” means the period—
- (a) beginning when the Northern Ireland (Interim Arrangements) Act 2023 is passed, and
 - (b) ending when an Executive is next formed.

5B Advice and information: data protection

- (1) A direction under section 5A\(2\)\(a\) does not require a disclosure of information if the disclosure would contravene the data protection legislation (but in determining whether a disclosure would do so, take into account the duty to comply with a direction under that section).
- (2) In this section “data protection legislation” has the same meaning as in the Data Protection Act 2018 (see section 3(9) of that Act).”
