THE FUTURE GENERATIONS COMMISSIONER FOR WALES

The Commissioner's functions

24 Future Generations report: activity during the reporting period

- (1) During a reporting period (but before the report under section 23 is published) the Commissioner must consult—
  - (a) the advisory panel (see section 26);
  - (b) each public body;
  - (c) representatives of voluntary organisations in Wales;
  - (d) any other person who the Commissioner considers is taking steps (or wishes to take steps) that may contribute to the achievement of the well-being goals;
  - (e) representatives of persons resident in each local authority area in Wales;
  - (f) representatives of persons carrying on business in Wales;
  - (g) trade unions representing workers in Wales;
  - (h) any other person the Commissioner considers appropriate to ensure that economic, social, environmental and cultural interests are fully represented.
- (2) In preparing a report under section 23 the Commissioner must (in addition to taking into account representations made by the persons consulted under subsection (1)) take into account—
  - (a) each annual well-being report under section 10(10) published during the reporting period;
  - (b) the future trends report published under section 11 on the day before the beginning of the reporting period;
  - (c) relevant reports of the Auditor General for Wales.
