Clean Air (Northern Ireland) Order 1981

Miscellaneous

Extension of Order to certain emissions

35.—(1) Where the Department is satisfied that practicable means exist for reducing or controlling gaseous emissions from a chimney, the Department, after consultation with such organisations as appear to it to be representative of interests substantially affected, may by regulations made subject to affirmative resolution make provision for the reduction or control of such emissions.

(2) Regulations made under paragraph (1) may contain such consequential and incidental provisions, and may make such adaptations of this Order, as appear to the Department to be necessary or expedient for the purpose of giving effect to this Article.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Clean Air (Northern Ireland) Order 1981, Section 35.
