Unlicensed Fishing Boats) (Scotland) Order 2017

Made	- - - -	28th February 2017
Laid before the Scottish Parliament	- - - -	2nd March 2017
Coming into force	- -	17th April 2017

The Scottish Ministers make the following Order in exercise of the powers conferred by section 5(1) (b) and (2) of the Sea Fish (Conservation) Act 1967<sup>(1)</sup> and all other powers enabling them to do so.

Citation and commencement

1. This Order may be cited as the Shellfish (Restrictions on Taking by Unlicensed Fishing Boats) (Scotland) Order 2017 and comes into force on 17th April 2017.

Interpretation

2. In this Order—

“day” means a period of 24 hours beginning and ending at midnight;

“unlicensed fishing boat” means any fishing boat which is not—

- (a) a Scottish fishing boat;
- (b) a relevant British fishing boat; or
- (c) a fishing boat which flies the flag of a country other than the United Kingdom.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order restricts the number of specified species of shellfish that an unlicensed fishing boat can take per day from the Scottish zone.

Article 2 defines the terms “day” and “unlicensed fishing boat”.

Article 3 provides for a daily take limit of 1 lobster.

Article 4 provides for a daily take limit of 10 Norway lobsters.

Article 5 provides for a daily take limit of 5 of any (or any combination of) specified species of crabs. The specified species are edible crab, green crab, spinous spider crab and velvet crab.

Article 6 provides for a daily take limit of 6 of any (or any combination of) king scallops or queen scallops.

It is an offence under section 5(1) of the Sea Fish (Conservation) Act 1967 to use a fishing boat in contravention of a restriction imposed by this Order. The penalties are fixed by section 11 of that Act. On summary conviction, the penalty is a fine not exceeding £50,000. On conviction on indictment, the penalty is an unlimited fine. In either case, the court may also order forfeiture of any fish in respect of which the offence was committed and of any net or other fishing gear used in committing the offence. On summary conviction, if the court does not order the forfeiture of fish, it may impose an additional fine not exceeding the value of the fish.

A Business and Regulatory Impact Assessment has been prepared in relation to this Order and placed in the Scottish Parliament Information Centre. A copy of this can be obtained from Marine Scotland, the Scottish Government, Victoria Quay, Edinburgh EH6 6QQ.
