3 False trade description

- (1) A false trade description is a trade description which is false to a material degree.
- (2) A trade description which, though not false, is misleading, that is to say, likely to be taken for such an indication of any of the matters specified in section 2 of this Act as would be false to a material degree, shall be deemed to be a false trade description.
- (3) Anything which, though not a trade description, is likely to be taken for an indication of any of those matters and, as such an indication, would be false to a material degree, shall be deemed to be a false trade description.
- (4) A false indication, or anything likely to be taken as an indication which would be false, that any goods comply with a standard specified or recognised by any person or implied by the approval of any person shall be deemed to be a false trade description, if there is no such person or no standard so specified, recognised or implied.

4 Applying a trade description to goods

- (1) A person applies a trade description to goods if he—
 - (a) affixes or annexes it to or in any manner marks it on or incorporates it with—
 - (i) the goods themselves, or
 - (ii) anything in, on or with which the goods are supplied; or

- (b) places the goods in, on or with anything which the trade description has been affixed or annexed to, marked on or incorporated with, or places any such thing with the goods; or
 - (c) uses the trade description in any manner likely to be taken as referring to the goods.
- (2) An oral statement may amount to the use of a trade description.
- (3) Where goods are supplied in pursuance of a request in which a trade description is used and the circumstances are such as to make it reasonable to infer that the goods are supplied as goods corresponding to that trade description, the person supplying the goods shall be deemed to have applied that trade description to the goods.

5 Trade descriptions used in advertisements

- (1) The following provisions of this section shall have effect where in an advertisement a trade description is used in relation to any class of goods.
- (2) The trade description shall be taken as referring to all goods of the class, whether or not in existence at the time the advertisement is published—
- (a) for the purpose of determining whether an offence has been committed under paragraph (a) of section 1(1) of this Act; and
 - (b) where goods of the class are supplied or offered to be supplied by a person publishing or displaying the advertisement, also for the purpose of determining whether an offence has been committed under paragraph (b) of the said section 1(1).
- (3) In determining for the purposes of this section whether any goods are of a class to which a trade description used in an advertisement relates regard shall be had not only to the form and content of the advertisement but also to the time, place, manner and frequency of its publication and all other matters making it likely or unlikely that a person to whom the goods are supplied would think of the goods as belonging to the class in relation to which the trade description is used in the advertisement.

6 Offer to supply

A person exposing goods for supply or having goods in his possession for supply shall be deemed to offer to supply them.
