Conveyance of mail bags by railway undertakers

33 Power to require provision of regular mail trains.

- (1) The [^{F61}Post Office] may by notice in writing require any railway undertakers, as from the day specified in the notice (being not less than twenty-eight days from the service thereof), to convey either by ordinary trains or, if necessary, by special trains, at such times as the [^{F61}Post Office] may direct, all mail bags tendered to the undertakers, together with any [^{F62}persons engaged in the business of the Post Office] accompanying those mail bags.
- (2) Any railway undertakers on whom any such notice is served shall, as from the day specified therein, provide at their own cost such vehicles attached to ordinary trains, or, as the case may be, such special trains, as may be sufficient for the conveyance of mail bags to the satisfaction of the [^{F61}Post Office] (in this Act referred to as “regular mail trains”) and shall in all respects comply with the notice, and shall receive, take up, deliver and leave any such mail bags and [^{F62}persons engaged in the business of the Post Office] as aforesaid at such places on the railway, on such days, at such times in the day, and subject to all such reasonable requirements and restrictions as to speed of travelling, places, times and duration of stoppages, and times of arrival, as the [^{F61}Post Office] may from time to time direct.
- (3) The rate of speed of any regular mail train shall not be altered unless six months’ notice of the intended alteration has been given to the [^{F61}Post Office].
- (4) Notwithstanding anything in the two last foregoing subsections, a regular mail train shall not be required to travel at any time on any part of a railway at a speed in excess

34 Additional provisions as to regular mail train services.

- (1) [^{F63}Post Office] may, if [^{F63}it] thinks fit, in relation to any regular mail train—
 - (a) require that the whole of the inside of any vehicle used for the conveyance of mail bags shall be exclusively appropriated for that purpose;
 - (b) where the train is a special train, require by notice in writing that the whole of the train shall be appropriated to the service of the [^{F64}Post Office] to the exclusion of all other traffic except such as he may sanction.
- (2) The [^{F63}Post Office] may require any railway undertakers to provide and equip separate vehicles fitted up as the [^{F63}Post Office] may direct for the purpose of sorting postal packets therein (in this Act referred to as “sorting carriages”), and the railway undertakers shall attach sorting carriages to such regular mail trains as the [^{F63}Post Office] may direct.
- (3) ^{F65}
- (4) The royal arms shall be painted on the outside of every sorting carriage instead of any other marking prescribed by law in respect of railway vehicles; but the want of the royal arms on any vehicle belonging to or used by the [^{F64}Post Office] shall not form an objection to the running of that vehicle on any railway.
- (5) For the greater security of mail bags conveyed by regular mail trains, the railway undertakers shall comply with such reasonable directions respecting the conveyance, delivery and leaving of mail bags and [^{F64}persons engaged in the business of the Post Office] accompanying them and vehicles used for the conveyance thereof as the [^{F63}Post Office] may from time to time give, and the undertakers shall be responsible for any failure on the part of their officers or servants to comply with any such directions:

Provided that no [^{F64}person engaged in the business of the Post Office] shall interfere with or give orders to an engine driver or other person having charge of a railway engine, but if any cause of complaint arises it shall be stated to the officer of the railway undertakers having charge of the train or to the chief officer of the undertakers on duty at any station upon the railway.

36 Alteration of regular mail train services.

- (1) Notwithstanding any agreement or award as to the remuneration to be paid by the [F⁶⁷Post Office] to any railway undertakers for any regular mail train services performed by them, the [F⁶⁷Post Office] may, by notice in writing—
 - (a) require the undertakers, as from the day specified in the notice (being not less than twenty-eight days from the service thereof), to render such additional services as may be specified therein; or
 - (b) direct that, as from the day specified in the notice, those services or such part thereof as may be so specified shall be discontinued.
- (2) As from the day specified in any such notice, any agreement or award as to remuneration for the regular mail train services provided by the railway undertakers shall cease to have effect, and the remuneration to be paid for any such services performed on or after that day as increased or reduced by such a requirement or direction as aforesaid shall be such as may be fixed by a new agreement between the [F⁶⁷Post Office] and the undertakers or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by the Transport Tribunal:

Provided that the provision of any services as so increased or reduced shall not be suspended, postponed or deferred by reason only that the remuneration to be paid therefor has not been either agreed or determined as aforesaid.
- (3) Where any dispute as to remuneration is referred to the Transport Tribunal under the last foregoing subsection, that tribunal may award any compensation they consider reasonable to be paid to the railway undertakers for any loss that may be occasioned to the undertakers by the alteration or discontinuance of the services previously performed by them by means of any train or vehicle specially required by the [F⁶⁷Post Office] to be forwarded for the conveyance of mail bags.
- (4) Where the day specified in any notice given under this section for the discontinuance in whole or in part of any regular mail train services is less than six months from the service of the notice, then, if the services are directed to be discontinued without cause stated or for any stated cause other than the default of the undertakers in the performance of any of the services required of them by the [F⁶⁷Post Office] or the breach by the undertakers of any agreement with the [F⁶⁷Post Office], the [F⁶⁷Post Office] shall pay to the undertakers such full and fair compensation for all loss occasioned by the discontinuance as may be agreed between the [F⁶⁷Post Office] and 37 Review of agreements and awards as to regular mail train services.

Where any agreement or award fixing the amount of remuneration to be paid to any railway undertakers for regular mail train services performed by them has been in force for a period of three years, the undertakers may, if they consider themselves aggrieved by the terms fixed by the agreement or award, by notice under their common seal require that the agreement or award shall be referred to the Transport Tribunal in order that it may be determined whether any and if so what alteration ought to be made therein:

Provided that the provision of any regular mail train services shall not be interrupted or impeded by reason of any such reference to the Transport Tribunal.

38 Conveyance of mail bags by railway otherwise than as part of regular mail train services.

- (1) Railway undertakers shall, whether or not any notice requiring the provision of regular mail trains has been given to them by the [F68Post Office] under this Act, convey by any train all mail bags tendered to them for conveyance by that train, whether or not those mail bags are accompanied by [F69a person engaged in the business of the Post Office], and shall afford all reasonable facilities for the receipt and delivery of mail bags at any of their stations without requiring them to be booked or interposing any other delay, and where the mail bags are accompanied by [F69a person engaged in the business of the Post Office] shall permit that officer to receive and deliver them at any station and render him such assistance as he may require.
- (2) Railway undertakers shall be entitled to be paid by the [F68Post Office] such reasonable remuneration for any services performed by them under the foregoing subsection as may be agreed between the [F68Post Office] and the undertakers or, in default of agreement, as may be determined by the Transport Tribunal.
- (3) The [F68Post Office] may send any [F69person engaged in the business of the Post Office] with mail bags not exceeding the weight of luggage allowed to any other passenger (or subject to the general rules of the railway undertakers for any excess of that weight) by any passenger train upon the same conditons as any other passenger; and in that case the undertakers shall not be responsible for the safe custody or delivery of the mail bags.

87 Interpretation.

(1) In this Act, except where the context otherwise requires, the following expressions have the following meanings respectively:—

- ^{F168}
“British postal area” means the United Kingdom, . . . ^{F169};
- “chattel” in relation to Scotland means a corporeal moveable;
- “commander”, in relation to an aircraft, includes the pilot or other person in charge of the aircraft;
- “foreign”, in relation to any postal packet, means either posted in the British postal area and sent to a place outside that area, or posted in a place outside that area and sent to a place within that area, or in transit through the British postal area to a place outside that area;
- “inland”, in relation to any postal packet or any description thereof, means posted within the British postal area and addressed to some place in that area, and “inland postage” means the postage chargeable on an inland postal packet;
- “mail” includes every conveyance by which postal packets are carried, whether it be a ship, aircraft, vehicle, horse or any other conveyance, and also a person employed in conveying or delivering postal packets;
- “mail bag” includes . . . ^{F170} any form of container or covering in which postal packets in course of transmission by post are conveyed, whether or not it contains any such packets;
- ^{F168}
“master”, in relation to a ship, includes every person (except a pilot) having command or charge of the ship, whether the ship is a ship of war or other ship;
- “officer of the Post Office” includes the Postmaster-General, and any person employed in any business of the Post Office, whether employed by the Postmaster-General or by any person under him or on behalf of the Post office;
- “parcel” means any postal packet defined as a parcel by . . . ^{F171} ^{F172} the provisions of a scheme made under s. 28 of the ^{M12}Post Office Act 1969].
- ^{F168}
“postal packet” means a letter, postcard, reply postcard, newspaper, printed packet, sample packet, or parcel, and every packet or article transmissible by post, and includes a telegram;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/02/1991.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Post Office Act 1953 (repealed). (See end of Document for details)

“post office” includes any house, building, room, vehicle or place used for the purposes of the Post Office, and any post office letter box;

“post office letter box” includes any pillar box, wall box, or other box or receptacle provided by the permission or under the authority of the Postmaster-General [^{F173}or the authority established by section 6 of the ^{M13}Post Office Act 1969] for the purpose of receiving postal packets, or any class of postal packets, for transmission by or under the authority of the Postmaster-General [^{F173}or the authority established by section 6 of the Post Office Act 1969];

^{F174}

“railway undertakers” means any authority, body or person authorised by any enactment to construct, work or carry on a railway;

“regular mail train” has the meaning assigned by section thirty-three of this Act, and “regular mail train services” means services performed under that section or section thirty-four of this Act including services performed under those sections by virtue of section forty-two . . . ^{F175} of this Act;

^{F168}

[^{F177}“valuable security” means any document creating, transferring, surrendering or releasing any right to, in or over property, or authorising the payment of money or delivery of any property, or evidencing the creation, transfer, surrender or release of any such right, or the payment of money or delivery of any property, or the satisfaction of any obligation];

“vehicle” includes a railway vehicle.

[^{F178}(1A) In the application of this Act to Great Britain, references to public service vehicles shall be construed in like manner as if they were contained in the ^{M14}Road Traffic Act 1960].

(2) For the purposes of this Act—

- (a) a postal packet shall be deemed to be in course of transmission by post from the time of its being delivered to any post office to the time of its being delivered to the addressee;
- (b) the delivery of a postal packet of any description to a letter carrier or other person authorised to receive postal packets of that description for the post or to an officer of the Post Office to be dealt with in the course of his duty shall be a delivery to a post office;

[^{F179}(c) the delivery of a postal packet—

- (i) at the premises to which it is addressed or redirected, except they be a post office from which it is to be collected;
- (ii) to any box or receptacle to which the occupier of those premises has agreed that postal packets addressed to persons at those premises may be delivered; or
- (iii) to the addressee’s servant or agent or to some other person considered to be authorised to receive the packet.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/02/1991.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Post Office Act 1953 (repealed). (See end of Document for details) shall be a delivery to the addressee.]

- (3) Except in so far as the context otherwise requires, any reference in this Act to any other enactment shall be construed as a reference to that enactment as amended by or under any other enactment, including this Act.
- (4) A reference in any enactment other than this Act to a post letter shall be construed as a reference to a postal packet within the meaning of this Act.
