(2) In this Part, unless the context otherwise requires—

“available earnings” means the earnings, including any remuneration paid by or on behalf of an employer to an employee who is for the time being unable to work owing to sickness, which remain payable to a claimant on any pay-day after deduction by his employer of all amounts lawfully deductible by the employer otherwise than by virtue of a deduction notice;

“claimant” means a person to whom an award is made by virtue of section 23(8) of the Act;

(3) Any notice or other document required or authorised to be given or sent to any person under the provisions of this Part shall be deemed to have been given or sent if it was sent by post to that person in accordance with paragraph (6) of regulation 27 where that regulation applies and, in any other case, at his ordinary or last known address or in the case of an employer at the place of business where the claimant to which it relates is employed, and if so sent to have been given or sent on the day on which it was posted.

Award and protected earnings

19.—(1) Where an adjudicating authority determines that a person claiming income support is entitled by virtue of section 23(8) of the Act (effect of return to work after a trade dispute) and makes an award to him accordingly he shall determine the claimant's protected earnings (that is to say the amount below which his actual earnings must not be reduced by any deduction made under this Part).

(2) The adjudicating authority shall include in his decision—

- (a) the amount of income support awarded together with a statement that the claimant is a person entitled by virtue of section 23(8) of the Act and that accordingly any sum paid to him on that award will be recoverable from him as provided in this Part;

- (a) the amount determined by applying paragraph (3) to the further award; and

Period for which deduction notice has effect

21.—(1) A deduction notice shall come into force when it is served on the employer of the claimant to whom it relates and shall cease to have effect as soon as any of the following conditions is fulfilled—

- (b) the direction shall take effect when a copy of it is served on the employer concerned.

Effect of deduction notice

22.—(1) While a deduction notice is in force the following provisions of this regulation shall apply as regards any relevant pay-day.

(2) Where a claimant's earnings include any bonus, commission or other similar payment which is paid other than on a day on which the remainder of his earnings is paid, then in order to calculate his available earnings for the purposes of this regulation any such bonus, commission or other similar payment shall be treated as being paid to him on the next day of payment of the remainder of his earnings instead of on the day of actual payment.

- (3) If on a relevant pay-day a claimant's available earnings—

(a) do not exceed his protected earnings by at least £1, no deduction shall be made;

(b) do exceed his protected earnings by at least £1, his employer shall deduct from the claimant's available earnings one half of the excess over his protected earnings, so however that where earnings are paid other than weekly the amount of the protected earnings and the figure of £1 shall be adjusted accordingly, in particular—

(c) where earnings are paid monthly, they shall for this purpose be treated as paid every five weeks (and the protected earnings and the figure of £1 accordingly multiplied by five);

(d) where earnings are paid daily, the protected earnings and the figure of £1 shall be divided by five,

and if, in any case to which sub-paragraph (c) or (d) does not apply, there is doubt as to the adjustment to be made this shall be determined by the Secretary of State on the application of the employer or the claimant.

(4) Where on a relevant pay-day earnings are payable to the claimant in respect of more than one pay-day the amount of the protected earnings and the figure of £1 referred to in the preceding paragraph, adjusted where appropriate in accordance with the provisions of that paragraph, shall be multiplied by the number of pay-days to which the earnings relate.

(b) the employer shall not on any relevant pay-day deduct from the claimant's earnings by virtue of the deduction notice an amount greater than the excess of the recoverable amount over the aggregate of all such amounts as, in relation to that notice, are mentioned in regulation 21(1)(c)(i) and (ii); and

(c) where the amount of any deduction which by this regulation the employer is required to make would otherwise include a fraction of 1p, that amount shall be reduced by that fraction.

(6) For the purpose of this regulation “relevant pay-day” means any pay-day beginning with—

(a) the first pay-day falling after the expiration of the period of one month from the date on which the deduction notice comes into force; or

(b) if the employer so chooses, any earlier pay-day after the notice has come into force.

(4) Where a deduction notice is cancelled by virtue of regulation 20(4) or 21(2) or ceases to have effect by virtue of regulation 21(1) the employer shall within 10 working days after the date on which the notice is cancelled or, as the case may be, ceases to have effect—

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations, a draft of which has been laid before and approved by resolution of each House of Parliament, come into force on 11th April 1988 and replace, with amendments, the Social Security (Payments on account, Overpayments and Recovery) Regulations 1987 (S.I. 1987/491) and Part IV of the Supplementary Benefit (Trade Disputes and Recovery from Earnings) Regulations 1980 (S.I. 1980/1641) which cease to have effect.

The main amendments are consequential upon the introduction of family credit and income support. Other amendments—

- (1) take account of the change in the assessment of capital for income support (tariff income) in calculating overpayments flowing from a misrepresentation as to claimant's capital (regulation 14);
- (2) relate to the amount of income support which can be deducted in respect of overpayment of benefit (regulation 16(4));
- (3) provide that, in the calculation of a claimant's protected earnings, housing costs are calculated at a fixed rate (regulation 19).

The Regulations contain transitional provisions which enable recovery of supplementary benefit and family income supplement to continue to be made by including those benefits in the definition of “benefit” and provide for continuity of action done or begun under the regulations which are revoked.

The Regulations are made under provisions of the Social Security Act 1986 none of which has yet been in force for 12 months. Accordingly, the Regulations are exempt, by section 61(5) of the Social Security Act 1986, from reference to the Social Security Advisory Committee and have not been so referred.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Social Security (Payments on account, Overpayments and Recovery) Regulations 1988.
