Procedure before determination of appeal

Notice of appeal

3.—(1) A person who wishes to appeal under section 103 of the Act must give notice to an adjudicator by completing in full, and in English, the form for the time being issued by the Secretary of State for the purpose (“notice of appeal”); and any form so issued is to be in the form shown in the Schedule to these Rules or a form to like effect.

(2) The notice of appeal must be signed by the appellant or his representative.

(3) Subject to paragraph (4), the notice of appeal must be received by the adjudicator not later than 2 days after the day on which the appellant received the decision letter.

(4) The adjudicator may extend the time limit for receiving the notice of appeal (either before or after its expiry) if:

(a) he considers that it is in the interests of justice to do so; and

(b) he is satisfied that:

(i) the appellant; or

(ii) his representative (if he has one);

was prevented from complying with the time limit by circumstances beyond his control.

Procedure after receiving notice of appeal

4.—(1) On the day that the adjudicator receives notice of appeal or, if not reasonably practicable, as soon as possible on the following day, he must send a copy of the notice of appeal or, if not reasonably practicable, as soon as possible on the following day, and any supporting documents, to the Secretary of State by fax.

(2) On the day after the day on which the adjudicator receives notice of appeal, the Secretary of State must send the appeal bundle to the adjudicator by fax or by hand and to the appellant by first class post or by fax.

(3) On consideration day, the adjudicator must:

- (a) decide in accordance with rule 5 whether there should be an oral hearing;
- (b) set the date for determining the appeal in accordance with rule 6;
- (c) if there is to be an oral hearing, give notice to the Secretary of State and the appellant, in accordance with rule 7, of the date on which it is to be held.

(4) “Consideration day” means the day after the day on which the Secretary of State sends the appeal bundle to the adjudicator in accordance with paragraph (2).

Whether there should be an oral hearing

5.—(1) The adjudicator must decide to hold an oral hearing:

- (a) where the appellant has requested an oral hearing in his notice of appeal; or
- (b) if the adjudicator considers that it is necessary for the appeal to be disposed of justly.

(2) In all other cases, the appeal may be determined without an oral hearing.

Date for determination of appeal

6.—(1) If there is to be an oral hearing, the hearing must be held and the appeal determined 4 days after consideration day.

(2) In all other cases, the appeal must be determined on consideration day, or as soon as possible thereafter, but in any event not later than 4 days after consideration day.

Notification of date of oral hearing

7. If there is to be an oral hearing, the adjudicator must send a notice to the appellant and to the Secretary of State informing them of the date, time and place of the hearing.

Further evidence provided before the determination of the appeal

8.—(1) Where the appellant sends to the adjudicator evidence to which this paragraph applies, the appellant must at the same time send a copy of such evidence to the Secretary of State.

(2) Paragraph (1) applies to evidence which is sent after the appellant has sent notice of appeal to the adjudicator but before the appeal has been determined.

(3) Where the Secretary of State sends to the adjudicator evidence to which this paragraph applies, the Secretary of State must at the same time send a copy of such evidence to the appellant.

(4) Paragraph (3) applies to evidence which is sent after the Secretary of State has sent the appeal bundle to the adjudicator but before the appeal has been determined.

Determination of appeal

Hearing of appeal in absence of either party

9.—(1) If an appellant has indicated in his notice of appeal that he does not want to attend, or be represented at, an oral hearing, the hearing may proceed in his absence.

(2) Where:

- (a) an appellant has indicated in his notice of appeal that he wants to attend, or be represented at, an oral hearing;
- (b) he has been notified of the date, time and place of the hearing in accordance with rule 7; and
- (c) neither he nor his representative (if he has one) attends the hearing; the hearing may proceed in his absence.

(3) Where neither the Secretary of State nor his representative (if he has one) attends the hearing, it may proceed in his absence.

Evidence

10.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies to all appeals.

(2) The adjudicator may take into account any matters which he considers to be relevant to the appeal (including matters arising after the date on which the decision appealed against was taken).

(3) Paragraphs (4) to (6) apply to oral hearings only.

(4) No person may be compelled to give any evidence or produce any document which he could not be compelled to give or produce on the trial of an action.

(5) The adjudicator may require any witness to give evidence on oath or affirmation, and for that purpose an oath or affirmation in due form may be administered.

(6) When the adjudicator takes into consideration documentary evidence at an oral hearing, a party present at the hearing is to be given an opportunity of inspecting and considering that evidence and taking copies if copies have not been provided previously to that party in accordance with these Rules.

Record of proceedings

11. A record of the proceedings at an oral hearing before the adjudicator is to be made.

Exclusion of public

12.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this rule, oral hearings are to take place in public.

(2) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (3), the adjudicator may exclude a member of the public or members of the public generally from a hearing or from part of a hearing if, and to the extent that, he considers it necessary to do so in the public interest.

(3) But nothing in this rule is to prevent a member of the Council on Tribunals, a member of the Scottish Committee of that Council, the Chief Asylum Support Adjudicator or the Deputy Chief Asylum Support Adjudicator, in their capacity as such, from attending an oral hearing.

Adjudication

13.—(1) Where an oral hearing is held:

- (a) the adjudicator must inform all persons present of his adjudication at the conclusion of the hearing;

- (b) if neither the appellant nor his representative (if he has one) is present at the conclusion of the hearing, the adjudicator must send notice of his adjudication on the same day to the appellant;
 - (c) if the Secretary of State is not present at the conclusion of the hearing, the adjudicator must send notice of his adjudication on the same day to the Secretary of State; and
 - (d) not later than 2 days after the day on which the appeal is determined, the adjudicator must send a reasons statement to the appellant and the Secretary of State.
- (2) Where there is no oral hearing, the adjudicator must on the day that the appeal is determined:
- (a) send notice of his adjudication to the appellant and the Secretary of State; and
 - (b) send a reasons statement to them.
- (3) An adjudication takes effect from the day on which it is made.
- (4) A “reasons statement” is a written statement giving reasons for the adjudication.

Representation

15. A party to the appeal may be represented by any other person.

Withdrawal of decision

16.—(1) Where the Secretary of State withdraws the decision which is appealed against, he must give notice to the adjudicator and the appellant forthwith.

(2) Where the appellant withdraws his appeal, he must give notice to the adjudicator and the Secretary of State forthwith.

(3) Where paragraph (1) or (2) applies, the appeal is to be treated for all purposes as at an end.

(2) Where a notice or other document is sent by first class post by the Secretary of State or by the adjudicator, it is to be taken to have been received 2 days after the day on which it was sent, unless the contrary is proven.

(3) Where reference is made in these Rules to a specified number of days after an event, the number of days is to be calculated from the expiry of the day on which the event occurred.

(4) Where these Rules provide that an act is to be done or to be taken to have been done:

- (a) not later than a specified number of days after an event; or
- (b) a specified number of days after an event;

and that number of days:

- (c) expires on an excluded day, the act is to be taken to have been done as required if done on the next working day;
- (d) includes an excluded day, that day is to be discounted.

(5) Where these Rules provide that an act is to be done or to be taken to have been done on a certain day and that day is an excluded day, the act is to be taken to have been done as required if done on the next working day.

Irregularities

19.—(1) Any irregularity resulting from failure to comply with these Rules before the adjudicator has determined the appeal is not by itself to render the proceedings void.

(2) But the adjudicator must, if he considers that either party may have been prejudiced, take such steps as he thinks fit to remove or reduce the prejudice.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Rules)

Section 103 of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999 (the Act) provides for an appeal right if the Secretary of State decides that a person does not qualify, or no longer qualifies, for asylum support under section 95 of the Act. These Rules provide for the procedure to be followed in deciding such appeals.

Section 104(3) provides that, in making these Rules, regard must be had to the desirability of securing, so far as is reasonably practicable, that appeals are brought and disposed of with the minimum of delay.

The Rules therefore provide for a short time-scale. The adjudicator must receive notice of appeal 2 working days after the appellant receives notice of the Secretary of State's decision. Where there is to be an oral hearing, it must take place 6 working days after the adjudicator receives notice of appeal and the adjudicator must give his decision on the same day. Where there is no oral hearing, the appeal must be determined as soon as possible and not later than 6 working days after receipt of the notice of appeal, and the adjudicator must give notice of his decision on the day that he determines it.
