The Shared Parental Leave Regulations 2014

PART 5

TAKING SHARED PARENTAL LEAVE

Work during shared parental leave

37.—(1) An employee may carry out work for the employer during a period of shared parental leave without bringing the period of leave to an end.

(2) An employee may work no more than 20 days under paragraph (1) for each employer during the period in which shared parental leave may be taken (see regulations 7(1) and 23(1)).

(3) For the purposes of this regulation, any work carried out on any day constitutes a day's work.

(4) Subject to paragraph (5), for the purposes of this regulation, "work" means any work done under the contract of employment and includes training or any activity undertaken for the purposes of keeping in touch with the workplace.

(5) Contact to discuss an employee's return to work or any other reasonable contact from time to time between an employer and an employee does not constitute work for the purposes of this regulation.

(6) This regulation does not confer any right on an employer to require that any work be carried out during a period of shared parental leave, nor any right on an employee to work during a period of leave.

(7) Any day's work carried out under this regulation does not have the effect of extending the total duration of a period of shared parental leave.

Application of terms and conditions during shared parental leave

38.—(1) An employee who takes shared parental leave is, during any period of leave—

(a) entitled to the benefit of all of the terms and conditions of employment which would have applied if the employee had not been absent, and

(b) bound by any obligations arising under those terms and conditions, subject only to the exception in section 75I(1)(b)(1) of the 1996 Act.

(2) In paragraph (1), "terms and conditions of employment" has the meaning given by section 75I(2) of the 1996 Act, and accordingly does not include terms and conditions about remuneration.

(3) For the purposes of section 75I of the 1996 Act, only sums payable to the employee by way of wages or salary are to be treated as remuneration.

(4) In the case of accrual of rights under an employment-related benefit scheme within the meaning given by paragraph 7 of Schedule 5 to the Social Security Act 1989(2), nothing in paragraph (1)(a) above imposes a requirement which exceeds the requirements of paragraph 5C(3) of that Schedule.

Redundancy during shared parental leave

39.—(1) This regulation applies where, during a period in which an employee is taking shared parental leave, it is not practicable by reason of redundancy for an employer to continue to employ that employee under the existing contract of employment.

(2) Where there is a suitable alternative vacancy, the employee is entitled to be offered (before the end of the employee’s employment under the contract of employment) alternative employment with the employer, the employer’s successor, or an associated employer, under a new contract of employment which complies with paragraph (3) and takes effect immediately on the ending of the employee’s employment under the previous contract.

(3) The new contract of employment must be such that—

- (a) the work to be done under it is of a kind which is both suitable in relation to the employee and appropriate for the employee to do in the circumstances, and
- (b) its provisions as to the capacity and place in which the employee is to be employed, and as to the other terms and conditions of the employee’s employment, are not substantially less favourable to the employee than if the employee had continued to be employed under the previous contract.

Right to return after shared parental leave

40.—(1) Where an employee returns to work after a period of shared parental leave which, when added to any other period of relevant statutory leave (see paragraph (3)) taken by the employee in relation to C, means that the total amount of relevant statutory leave taken by the employee in relation to C is 26 weeks or less, the employee is entitled to return from leave to the job in which the employee was employed before the absence, except where paragraph (2)(b) applies.

(2) Where an employee returns to work after a period of shared parental leave which—

- (a) when added to any other period of relevant statutory leave taken by the employee in relation to C, means that the total amount of relevant statutory leave taken by the employee in relation to C is more than 26 weeks; or
- (b) was the last of two or more consecutive periods of relevant statutory leave which included a period of parental leave of more than four weeks, a period of additional maternity leave, or a period of additional adoption leave, the employee is entitled to return from leave to the job in which the employee was employed before the absence, or, if it is not reasonably practicable for the employer to permit the employee to return to that job, to another job which is both suitable for the employee and appropriate for the employee to do in the circumstances.

(3) In this regulation—

“relevant statutory leave” means leave provided for in Part 8 of the 1996 Act(7) except any period of parental leave.
