PART IV

INTERPRETATION

1. In Parts I to III of the Schedule—

“carr” means an area of marshy ground on which the vegetation is predominantly willow or alder;

“fen” means an area of low lying marshy ground;

“grassland” means land on which the vegetation consists primarily of grass species;

“heath” means an area of grass, shrubs and trees on acidic sandy soils;

“improved land” means land which has been drained, fertilised, reseeded or otherwise managed to increase its productive capacity;

“management plan” means a plan for carrying out any activity (other than the making of a payment) provided for in a stewardship agreement;

“maiden fruit tree” means a fruit tree not more than 2 years old;

“meadowland” means land used for the production of hay or silage;

“reedbeds” means an area of marshy ground on which the vegetation consists primarily of reeds;

“rough pasture” means permanent grassland on which the vegetation is predominantly natural because agricultural improvement is difficult due to terrain or other physical constraints;

“scrape” means a shallow excavation which may hold water seasonally;

“standard fruit tree” means a fruit tree other than a maiden fruit tree with a stem of between 1.6 metres and 2 metres and no more than 5 years old;

“watermeadow” means a meadow which is periodically inundated with water through a system of sluices and carriers.

2. In Part I of the Schedule any reference to—

(a) land described as “lowland” land is a reference to land which is not “upland” land; and

(b) land described as “upland” land is a reference to land situated within the area in England included in the list of less-favoured farming areas established under Article 2(2) of Council

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

Directive 75/268/EEC on mountain and hill farming and farming in less-favoured areas⁽⁵⁾ (as last amended by Council Decision 95/1/EC, Euratom, ECSC adjusting the instruments concerning the accession of new member States to the European Union⁽⁶⁾), which list is contained in Council Directive 84/169/EEC⁽⁷⁾ as amended by Commission Decision 91/25/EEC⁽⁸⁾.

3. In the Schedule–

- (a) any reference to a given unit of measurement includes (where appropriate to the circumstances) a reference to a fraction of that unit; and
- (b) where (in accordance with sub-paragraph (a) above) a reference to a given unit of measurement is a reference to a fraction thereof, any reference to a payment rate in relation to the given unit of measurement shall be adjusted in proportion to the fraction concerned.”.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend the Countryside Stewardship Regulations 1996 (S.I. 1996/695 as amended by S.I. 1996/1481 and S.I. 1996/3123) (the “principal Regulations”) which (extending to England, including the Isles of Scilly) supplement Council Regulation (EEC) No. 2078/92 on agricultural methods compatible with the requirements of the protection of the environment and the maintenance of the countryside (OJ No. L 215, 30.7.92, p. 85), as last amended by Commission Regulation (EC) No. 2772/95 (OJ No. L 288, 1.12.95, p. 35), as itself rectified by Commission Regulation (EC) No. 1962/96 (OJ No. L 259, 2.10.96, p. 7). Certain agreements covered by this Order are also subject to Commission Regulation (EC) No. 746/96 (OJ No. L 102, 25.4.96, p. 19) laying down detailed rules for the application of the Council Regulation 2078/92, which Commission Regulation has been amended by Commission Regulation (EC) No. 435/97 (OJ No. L 67, 7.3.97, p. 2.).

These Regulations amend the payment rates applicable to certain activities in the principal Regulations, revise the payment structure applicable to scrub management and bracken management, and make minor drafting corrections and amendments to the principal Regulations (regulation 2 of these Regulations together with revised Schedule inserted into the principal Regulations thereby).

No Compliance Cost Assessment in relation to these Regulations has been prepared.
