Article 20

Derogations for the direct transport of ready to lay poultry

By way of derogation from Article 17, the competent authority may authorise the direct transport of ready-to-lay poultry to a holding or shed of that holding preferably within the protection or the surveillance zone in which there is no other poultry, subject to the following conditions:

- (a) a clinical examination of the poultry and other captive birds in the holding of origin and in particular of those to be moved is carried out by the official veterinarian;
- (b) where appropriate, laboratory tests have been carried out on poultry in the holding of origin in accordance with instructions given by the official veterinarian with favourable results;
- (c) the ready-to-lay poultry is transported in vehicles sealed by the competent authority or under its supervision;
- (d) the holding or shed of destination is placed under official surveillance following the arrival of the ready-to-lay poultry;
- (e) if moved outside the protection or surveillance zone, the poultry shall remain on the holding of destination for at least 21 days.
