

Council Directive of 5 March 1990 on the acceptance of pure-bred breeding pigs for breeding (90/118/EEC) (repealed)

Article 2

- 1 A Member State may not prohibit, restrict or impede:
- the acceptance for artificial insemination within its territory of pure-bred breeding male pigs or the use of their semen when those animals have been accepted for artificial insemination in a Member State on the basis of tests for monitoring their performance and assessing their genetic value to be carried out in accordance with Commission Decision 89/507/EEC⁽¹⁾,
 - the acceptance for official testing of pure-bred breeding male pigs or the use of their semen within the quantitative limits necessary for the tests for monitoring their performance and assessing their genetic value to be carried out in accordance with Decision 89/507/EEG by officially approved associations or organizations.

2 Where implementation of the provisions of paragraph 1 would give rise to disputes, particularly with regard to interpretation of the tests, operators shall have the right to seek the opinion of an expert.

In the light of the expert's opinion, measures may be adopted at the request of a Member State in accordance with the procedure laid down in Article 4.

3 The general rules for implementing paragraph 2 shall, where necessary, be adopted in accordance with the procedure set out in Article 4.
