

Council Directive 2002/53/EC of 13 June 2002 on the common catalogue of varieties of agricultural plant species

Article 19

Where a variety ceases to be accepted in the Member State which initially accepted it, one or more other Member States may continue to accept that variety provided that the requirements for acceptance continue to be met in their territory and that maintenance remains assured.