

ANNEX I

DEFINITIONS

(as referred to in Article 1)

14. 'Red cells, buffy coat removed, in additive solution' means the red cells from a single whole blood donation, with a large proportion of the plasma from the donation removed. The buffy coat, containing a large proportion of the platelets and leucocytes in the donated unit, is removed. A nutrient/preservative solution is added.