EUROPEAN COMMISSION

Keep infectious animal diseases out of the European Union!

Products of animal origin may carry pathogens that cause infectious diseases in animals

There are strict procedures and veterinary controls on the introduction of products of animal origin into the European Union

Travellers (*) must surrender these products
for official controls

(*) Other than those arriving with small quantities for personal consumption from Andorra, Croatia, the Faeroe Islands, Greenland, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway, San Marino and Switzerland.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Commission Regulation (EC) No 1285/2008, ANNEX III. (See end of Document for details)

Diseases don't respect borders

If you bring in meat or dairy products from outside the EU, you risk importing animal diseases.

If you do not declare such items, you may be fined or face criminal prosecution.

These products will be seized and destroyed on arrival.

However, you may bring in small quantities for personal consumption from Andorra, Croatia, the Faeroe Islands, Greenland, Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway, San Marino and Switzerland
