<sup>F57</sup>The criteria to assess the risk shall include the existence of a conformity certificate referred to in Article 14 issued by a competent authority of a third country where the conformity checks have been approved pursuant to Article 15. The existence of such certificate shall be considered as a factor reducing the risk of non-conformity.

The criteria to assess the risk may also include:

- a the nature of the product, the period of production, the price of the product, the weather, the packing and handling operations, the storage conditions, the country of origin, the means of transport or the volume of the lot;
- b the size of the traders, their position in the marketing chain, the volume or value marketed by them, their product range, the delivery area or the type of business carried out such as storage, sorting, packing or sale;
- c findings made during previous checks including the number and type of defects found, the usual quality of products marketed, the level of technical equipment used;

- e the place where the check is carried out, in particular if it is the point of first entry into [<sup>F58</sup>Great Britain], or the place where the products are being packed or loaded;

[<sup>F59</sup>The appropriate authorities] shall lay down in advance:

- a the criteria for assessing the risk of non-conformity of lots;
- b on the basis of a risk analysis for each risk category, the minimum proportions of traders or lots and/or quantities which will be subject to a conformity check.

[<sup>F59</sup>The appropriate authorities] may choose not to carry out selective checks on products not subject to specific marketing standards, based on a risk analysis.

3 Where checks reveal significant irregularities, [<sup>F60</sup>the appropriate authorities] shall increase the frequency of checks in relation to traders, products, origins, or other parameters.

3 Where the goods do not conform with the standards, the inspection body shall issue a finding of non-conformity for the attention of the trader or their representatives. Goods for which a finding of non-conformity has been issued may not be moved without the authorisation of the inspection body which issued that finding. That authorisation can be subject to the respect of conditions laid down by the inspection body.

Traders may decide to bring all or some of the goods into conformity. Goods brought into conformity may not be marketed before the competent inspection body has ensured by all appropriate means that the goods have actually been brought into conformity. The competent inspection body shall issue, where applicable, a certificate of conformity as set out in Annex III for the lot or part thereof only after the goods have been brought into conformity.

If an inspection body accepts a trader's wish to bring the goods into conformity in a [<sup>F86</sup>constituent nation] other than that where the check leading to a finding of non-conformity has been carried out, the trader shall notify the competent inspection body of the destination [<sup>F86</sup>constituent nation] of the non-conforming lot. The [<sup>F87</sup>inspection body] issuing the finding of non-conformity shall send a copy of that finding to the other [<sup>F88</sup>inspection bodies] concerned including the [<sup>F89</sup>competent inspection body of the constituent nation] of destination of the non-conforming lot.

Where the goods can neither be brought into conformity nor sent to animal feed, industrial processing or any other non-food use, the inspection body may, if necessary, request traders to take adequate measures in order to ensure that the products concerned are not marketed.

Traders shall supply all information deemed necessary by [<sup>F90</sup>the appropriate authorities] for the application of this paragraph.
