

2008 CHAPTER 12

PART 10

CHARITABLE COMPANIES

Requirement to disclose charitable status

100.—(1) Where a company is a charity and its name does not include the word “charity” or “charitable”, the fact that the company is a charity must be stated in legible characters—

- (a) in every location, and in every description of document or communication, in which it is required by regulations under section 82 of the Companies Act 2006 (c. 46) to state its registered name, and
- (b) in all conveyances purporting to be executed by the company.

(2) In subsection (1)(b) “conveyance” means any instrument creating, transferring, varying or extinguishing an interest in land.

Commencement Information

II S. 100 in operation at 24.6.2013 by S.R. 2013/145, art. 2, Sch.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Charities Act (Northern Ireland) 2008, Section 100.