(3) In paragraph (1) and in Schedule 1, the phrase “if and so long as he occupies the dwelling-house as his residence” shall be construed as requiring the fulfilment of the same, and only the same, qualifications (whether as to residence or otherwise) as had to be fulfilled before the commencement of this Order to entitle a tenant, within the meaning of the Rent Restriction Acts, to retain possession, by virtue of those Acts and not by virtue of a tenancy, of a dwelling-house to which those Acts applied.

(4) A person who becomes a statutory tenant of a dwelling-house as mentioned in paragraph (1) is, in this Order, referred to as a statutory tenant by virtue of his previous protected tenancy, and a person who becomes a statutory tenant as mentioned in paragraph (2) is, in this Order, referred to as a statutory tenant by succession.

- (b) a notice served (whether before or after the commencement of this Order) by a district council under section 110 of the Public Health (Ireland) Act 1878 or by the Executive under^{F6} Article 41 of the Housing (Northern Ireland) Order 1981] has not been complied with within the period specified in the notice.

(8) A tenancy is not a protected tenancy by virtue of paragraph (1) if the dwelling-house let under the tenancy consists only of separate and self-contained premises produced by conversion, after the commencement of this Order, of other premises with or without the addition of premises erected after that commencement.

(9) For the purposes of paragraph (8), premises are to be treated as converted after the commencement of this Order if the conversion was completed then, notwithstanding that it began before that commencement.

Miscellaneous

Effect on sub-tenancies of determination of superior tenancy N.I.

19.—(1) If—

- (a) a court makes an order for possession of a dwelling-house from a tenant; and
(b) the order is made by virtue of Article 13(1)(a) or (b), nothing in the order shall affect the right of any sub-tenant to whom the dwelling-house or any part of it has been lawfully sub-let before the commencement of the proceedings to retain possession by virtue of this Part, nor shall the order operate to give a right to possession as against any such sub-tenant.

(2) Where a protected or statutory tenancy of a dwelling-house is determined, either as a result of an order for possession or for any other reason, any sub-tenant to whom the dwelling-house or any part of it has been lawfully sub-let shall, subject to the provisions of this Order, be deemed to become the tenant of the landlord on the same terms as he would have held from the tenant if the tenant's protected or statutory tenancy had continued.

(3) Where a dwelling-house—

- (a) forms part of premises which have been let as a whole on a superior letting but do not constitute a dwelling-house let on a protected tenancy or subject to a statutory tenancy; and
(b) is itself let on a protected tenancy, or subject to a statutory tenancy, then, from the coming to an end of the superior letting, this Order shall apply in relation to the dwelling-house as if, in lieu of the superior letting, there had been separate lettings of the dwelling-house and of the remainder of the premises, for the like purposes as under the superior letting, and at rents equal to the just proportion of the rent under the superior letting.

- (b) if the tenancy exists on the commencement of this Order, the rent payable under the tenancy immediately before that commencement.

(2) Subject to Article 27(5)(b), where a rent for a dwelling-house is registered under Part V, if the rent payable for any statutory period of a regulated tenancy of the dwelling-house would be less than the rent so registered, it may be increased up to the amount of that rent by a notice of increase served by the landlord on the tenant and specifying the date from which the increase is to take effect.

(3) Where a limit is imposed by paragraph (1) on the rent recoverable in relation to a regulated tenancy, the amount by which the rent payable under the tenancy exceeds that limit shall, notwithstanding anything in any agreement, be irrecoverable from the tenant.

(5) Neither a notice of increase nor Article 21 shall operate to increase the rent under a regulated tenancy for any contractual period, except in so far as may be consistent with the terms of the tenancy.

(6) Notwithstanding that a notice of increase relates to statutory periods it may be served during a contractual period.

- (7) Where—
 - (a) a notice of increase is served during a contractual period of a protected tenancy; and
 - (b) the protected tenancy could, by a notice to quit served by the landlord at the same time, be brought to an end before the date specified in the notice of increase.

the notice of increase shall operate to convert the protected tenancy into a statutory tenancy on that date.

(8) If the county court is satisfied that any error or omission in a notice of increase is due to a bona fide mistake on the part of the landlord—

- (a) the court may by order amend the notice by correcting any errors or supplying any omission therein which, if not corrected or supplied, would render the notice invalid; and

(b) if the court so directs, the notice as so amended shall have effect and be deemed to have had effect as a valid notice.

(9) Any amendment of a notice of increase under paragraph (8) may be made on such terms and conditions with respect to arrears of rent or otherwise as appear to the court to be just and reasonable.

(10) No increase of rent which becomes payable by reason of an amendment of a notice of increase under paragraph (8) shall be recoverable in respect of any statutory period which ended more than six months before the date of the order making the amendment.

(3) No amount which a tenant is entitled to recover under paragraph (1) shall be recoverable at any time after the expiry of two years from the date of payment.

(4) Any person who, in any rent book or similar document, makes an entry showing or purporting to show any tenant as being in arrears in respect of any sum on account of rent which is irrecoverable by virtue of this Part shall be guilty of an offence and liable to^{F21} a fine not exceeding £500], unless he proves that, at the time of the making of the entry, the landlord had a bona fide claim that the sum was recoverable.

(5) If, where any such entry has been made by or on behalf of any landlord, the landlord on being requested by or on behalf of the tenant to do so, refuses or neglects to cause the entry to be deleted within seven days, the landlord shall be guilty of an offence and liable to^{F21} a fine not exceeding £500], unless he proves that, at the time of the neglect or refusal to cause the entry to be deleted, he had a bona fide claim that the sum was recoverable.
