FOUNDATIONS FOR POSSESSION OF DWELLING- HOUSES LET UNDER SECURE TENANCIES

PART I

FOUNDATIONS ON WHICH COURT MAY ORDER POSSESSION

Ground 9

The dwelling-house is let by a registered housing association which lets dwelling-houses only for occupation (alone or with others) by persons whose circumstances (other than merely financial circumstances) make it especially difficult for them to satisfy their need for housing; and—

- (a) either there is no longer such a person residing in the dwelling-house or the tenant has received from the Executive an offer of accommodation in premises which are to be let as a separate dwelling under a secure tenancy; and
- (b) the association requires the dwelling-house for occupation (whether alone or with other members of his family) by such a person.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Housing (Northern Ireland) Order 1983, Cross Heading: Ground 9.
