

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order provides for the making of an anti-social behaviour order against a person by a magistrates' court on application by a relevant authority or by the court by or before which the person is convicted of a criminal offence. Breach of such an order is a criminal offence under Article 7. Article 8 provides for restrictions on reporting proceedings for such orders against children.