EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations.)

These Regulations amend the Foyle Area (Control of Netting) (Amendment) Regulations 1983 to delay further the coming into operation of additional restrictions on the materials which may be used in the construction of commercial fishing nets for the capture of salmon or trout. The Foyle Area (Control of Netting) (Amendment) Regulations 1985 delayed the coming into operation of these additional restrictions from 1st June 1985 until 1st June 1986. These Regulations delay the introduction of the additional restrictions for a further one year until 1st June 1987.

The effect of this delay will be that a ban on 2 types of net in common use, namely, a multistrand monofilament and single throw monopoly which is also known as super nylon or Japanese netting, will take effect from 1st June 1987 instead of 1st June 1986.

The Foyle Area (Control of Netting) (Amendment) Regulations 1983 amend the Foyle Area (Control of Netting) Regulations (Northern Ireland) 1981 which control and restrict netting for salmon and trout in the Foyle Area.
