

SCHEDULE 1

General conditions under which farmed animals must be kept

Freedom of movement

10. Where animals are continuously or regularly tethered or confined, they shall be given the space appropriate to their physiological and ethological needs in accordance with established experience and scientific knowledge.