SR 2010 No. 42

1. This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC) and is laid before Parliament by Command of Her Majesty.

3. Matters of special interest to the Joint Committee on Statutory Instruments

None.

4. Legislative Context

- 4.1 Following the creation of HMRC in 2005, sections 82(2), 83(2) and 84(1) of the Finance Act 2007 allowed the Treasury to apply PACE and PACE (NI) to investigations carried out by HMRC officers across a range of functions of both the former HM C&E and Inland Revenue. The HMRC 2007 PACE and PACE (NI) application orders were brought in to force to bring effect to the Finance Act 2007 changes, however some limitations on the application of PACE/PACE(NI) to former Inland Revenue functions remained.

- 4.2 The National Minimum Wage was one of the remaining functions, where the powers contained in the 2007 Orders could not be used. However, sections 11 and 12 of the Employment Act 2008 amended the Finance Act 2007 to bring the National Minimum Wage within the HMRC functions that are able to utilise the powers within the 2007 PACE application orders. These Statutory Instruments implements this change.
- 4.3 These Statutory Instruments also apply provisions of PACE and PACE (NI), not previously applied to criminal investigations conducted by HMRC,

5. Territorial Extent and Application

- 5.1 SI No. 360 applies to England and Wales.
- 5.2 SR No. 42 applies to Northern Ireland

6. European Convention on Human Rights

The instruments are subject to negative resolution procedure and do not amend primary legislation, no statement is required.

7. Policy background

- What is being done and why

- 7.1 HMRC is already able to use a range of powers contained within the 2007 orders when investigating crime in relation to the functions of HMRC.
- 7.2 The amendments to the 2007 Orders enable HMRC to carry out criminal investigations using PACE and PACE (NI) powers into National Minimum Wage (NMW) matters, where previously HMRC's has had to rely on police assistance.
- 7.3 The amendments also expand HMRC's powers to enter premises to arrest an individual when in possession of an arrest warrant or to arrest a person who is unlawfully at large. Previously HMRC would require police assistance in such circumstances, despite having powers to enter premises to arrest someone for an indictable offence. These amendments provide officers of HMRC with the same ability to enter premises to make arrests, whilst being subject to the existing safeguards that apply to criminal investigations generally. In addition, the amendments also allow material seized by someone accompanying an HMRC officer, when executing a search warrant, to be retained for as long as necessary.

7.4 The HMRC Internet website has published material setting out which officers are authorised to use these powers in HMRC .This material is published on the criminal investigation policy page:

<http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/prosecutions/crim-inv-policy.htm>

7.5 The amendments to the statutory instruments enable HMRC to exercise its investigative functions within an agreed legal framework.
