

SCHEDULE 9

Monitoring for radioactive substances in water bottled and labelled as “spring water” and bottled drinking water

PART 1

General

Radon

3. The representative surveys must be designed in such a way that underlying parameters, including the geology and hydrology of the area, radioactivity of rock or soil and well type, can be identified and used to direct further action to areas of likely high exposure.