PARLIAMENTARY ELECTORS

All persons whose names appear in the list appear to be entitled to vote at both Northern Ireland and United Kingdom parliamentary elections unless the contrary is indicated by a letter preceding the name. The meaning of the letters is as follows:—

N means that the elector can vote at a Northern Ireland election but cannot vote at a United Kingdom election.

B means that the elector can vote at a Northern Ireland election by virtue of a business premises' qualification or as the spouse of a person having such qualifications but cannot vote at a United Kingdom election.

I means that the elector cannot vote at a Northern Ireland election but can vote at a United Kingdom election. If this letter is followed by the letter Y it indicates an elector who is entitled to vote at a United Kingdom election only after 1st October, 19

L means that the elector has only a local government qualification and cannot vote at any parliamentary election in respect of that entry.

A person possessing a service qualification is distinguished by the letter S preceding his name. Generally such persons can vote at all parliamentary elections. Where this is not the case the letter S is preceded by either the letter N or the letter I or IY with the meaning stated above.
