To: (name and address of defender in summons)

(Pursuer's name and address), pursuer, has brought an action against you in the Court of Session, Edinburgh. The pursuer seeks dissolution of your civil partnership. A copy of the summons in the action is attached.

1. The summons states that you consent to a decree of dissolution of your civil partnership. If you do consent your civil partner will obtain a decree of dissolution of your civil partnership if he [or she] shows that you have not cohabited with him [or her] at any time during a continuous period of two years after the registration of your civil partnership and immediately before this action.

2. If the pursuer obtains a decree of dissolution of your civil partnership, the consequences may be as follows:–

(a) you may lose your rights of inheritance in your civil partner's property;

(b) you may lose the right to any pensions which depends on the civil partnership continuing or on your civil partner dying;

(c) apart from these consequences there may be others depending on your particular circumstances.

3. If you consent to the grant of decree of dissolution of your civil partnership, you are still entitled to apply to the court—

(a) to make financial or other provision for you by making an order under the Family Law (Scotland) Act 1985;

(b) to make an order under section 11 of the Children (Scotland) Act 1995 or for maintenance in respect of any child of the family, or any child accepted as such, who is under 16 years of age.

In order to make such an application you must lodge defences to the action seeking any such order. If you wish to do this you should consult a solicitor.

4. If after considering the above you wish to consent to decree of dissolution of your civil partnership, you should complete and sign the attached notice of consent form, and send it to—

The date of service is the date stated at the top of this notice unless service has been made by post in which case the date of service is the day after that date.
