
EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations make provision for the monitoring of certain people admitted to bail by means of electronic or radio devices. They also repeal the Bail Conditions (Specification of Devices) and Restriction of Liberty Order (Scotland) Amendment Regulation 2005 (“the 2005 Regulations”), which prescribe the methods and devices for monitoring compliance of such people with movement restriction conditions. These Regulations prescribe the same methods as in the 2005 Regulations but, following a change of contractor, prescribe different devices from those in the 2005 Regulations. By virtue of regulation 1(3), there is a period of approximately two months during which the devices specified in either set of Regulations may be used. This is to allow for an orderly transition.

Regulation 3 prescribes the methods by which compliance with movement restriction conditions may be monitored. These remain as in the 2005 Regulations.

Regulation 4 and the Schedule specify the devices which may be used for monitoring compliance with movement restriction conditions.