Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

C1. I want to admit the claim and settle it before the last date for a response.

- ① You should select this option if you accept that the claim against you is correct and you are able to settle it with the claimant now.
- ① You do not need to complete Parts D and E.
- ① You should send this Response Form to the court and to the claimant. You should settle the claim with the claimant or the claimant's representative by the last date for a response.

C2. I want to admit the claim and apply for time to pay.

- ① You should select this option if you accept that the claim against you is correct but you want to be given time to make a payment, or time to make payments in instalments.
- ① You do not need to complete Parts D and E.
- ① You should also complete a Time to Pay Application and send it with this completed Response Form to the court and to the claimant by the last date for a response.
- ① Only an individual may ask for time to pay. If you are a company or another type of organisation and accept that the claim against you is correct, you should select option C1 and try to settle the claim before the last date for a response.

C3. I want to dispute the claim.

- ① You should select this option if you do not accept that the claim against you is correct, and you want to:
 - argue that the court does not have jurisdiction,
 - dispute the entire claim, or
 - dispute the amount that is being claimed.
- ① You should complete this Response Form and send it to the court and to the claimant by the last date for a response. You will be sent written orders by the court telling you how to proceed.

D. ABOUT YOUR RESPONSE

D1. What is the background to this claim?

- ① In this part, you should set out the essential factual background to the claim. The claimant has set out their understanding in section D1 of the Claim Form. In particular, you should set out anything in section D1 of the Claim Form which you disagree with.
- ① For example, you should include:
 - key dates
 - if there was an agreement, what was agreed

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- when you became aware of the problem or dispute
 - whether any payments have been made so far, and if so what
 - whether any services have been provided so far, and if so what.
- ① If this is insufficient space to describe the essential factual background, you may use another sheet of paper, which must be headed 'D1' and must be attached to the Response Form.

D2. Why should the claim not be successful?

- ① You should set out briefly the reasons why the claim made against you should not be successful, and the court should not make the orders which the claimant has asked for in the Claim Form.
- ① For example, reasons might include:
- that you did not breach a contract with the claimant (e.g. work was completed satisfactorily)
 - that you did not cause the claimant damage or financial loss
 - that you have the right to keep something belonging to the claimant (e.g. because a repair has not been paid for).
- ① If this is insufficient space to set out these reasons, you may use another sheet of paper, which must be headed 'D2' and must be attached to the Response Form.

D3. Are there any additional respondents you think should be responding to this claim?

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- ① You should complete this section if you think that:
 - you have a right of contribution, relief or indemnity against someone who is already a respondent
 - someone else should be made a respondent in this claim, as they are solely, jointly, or jointly and severally liable with you for the claim made against you
 - someone else should be made a respondent in this claim as they are liable to you for the claim made against you.
- ① If you complete this section then the court may order you to formally serve the Claim Form and the Response Form on any additional respondents.
- Yes (please complete D4)
- No

D4. Which additional respondents do you think should be responding to this claim?

- ① Set out below the full names and addresses of any additional respondents you think should be responding to the claim made against you.
- ① Set out the reasons why each person should be an additional respondent to the claim made against you.

1. [Name] [Address] [Reasons why this person should be an additional respondent]
2. [Name] [Address] [Reasons why this person should be an additional respondent]

D5. What steps have you taken, if any, to try to settle the dispute with the claimant?

- ① It is an important principle of simple procedure that parties should be encouraged to settle their disputes by negotiation, where possible.
- ① The court will use this information to assess whether more negotiation would help you and the claimant settle your dispute.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

E. WITNESSES, DOCUMENTS AND EVIDENCE

E1. Set out in a numbered list any witnesses you might bring to a hearing to support your response, their name and address, and what their relationship to the claim or response is.

- ① You should list any witnesses you think you might bring to a hearing. You do not need to list yourself or the claimant.
- ① You should provide the full name and address of any witnesses.
- ① Your claim may require no witnesses other than you and the claimant. You do not need to bring a witness if the evidence which they might give can be shown in some other way, e.g. by photographs.
- ① You should describe the relationship of each witness to the claim or response. For example, you might indicate that a witness:
 - was the person with whom you made an agreement,
 - was present when the alleged damage took place,
 - inspected some work which you consider to have been completed satisfactorily.
- ① If the court orders a hearing, Part 11 of the Simple Procedure Rules tells you what you need to do to arrange the attendance of your witnesses.

1. [Name]
[Address]
[Relationship to the claim or response]

2. [Name]

E2. Set out in a numbered list any documents you might bring to court to support your response.

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

- ① You should list any documents you think you might bring to a hearing. This includes photographs and other printed material which may be kept in a file.
- ① When preparing these documents for a hearing, it is useful if they are indexed with numbers.
- ① If the court orders a hearing, Part 10 of the Simple Procedure Rules tells you what you need to do to lodge documents before that hearing.

1. 2. 3. 4. 5. [...]

E3. Set out any other pieces of evidence you intend to bring to a hearing to support your response.

- ① You should list any other evidence you think you might bring to a hearing.
- ① This includes objects, but not printed material. For example, if the claim was about damage caused to an item of clothing, you might list the item of clothing. You do not need to bring a piece of evidence if the important point can be shown in some other way, e.g. by photographs.
- ① If the court orders a hearing, Part 10 of the Simple Procedure Rules tells you what you need to do to lodge other evidence before that hearing.
