

Ecclesiastical Judges and Legal Officers Measure 1976 (repealed)

1976 No. 2

1 Retiring age for judges of ecclesiastical courts.

- (1) In subsection (4) of section 2 of the <sup>M1</sup>Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction Measure 1963 (appointment of person to be chancellor of diocese to be without limit of time subject to provisions as to resignation or removal from office), for the words “without limit of time” there shall be substituted the words “for the period beginning with the date of appointment and ending on the date on which he attains the age of seventy-five years”; and at the end of that subsection there shall be inserted the following paragraph:—
- “(c) may continue to act as chancellor for the purpose of any proceedings or cause of faculty in the consistory court of the diocese during the course of which he attains the age of seventy-five years as if the date of the conclusion in that court of those proceedings or that cause, as the case may be, were the date on which he attains that age”.
- (2) In subsection (5) of section 3 of the said Measure of 1963 (appointment of person to be judge of the Arches Court of Canterbury or the Chancery Court of York to be without limit of time subject to provisions as to resignation or removal from office), for the words “without limit of time” there shall be substituted the words “for a period beginning with the date of the appointment and ending with the date on which that person attains the age of seventy-five years”; and at the end of that subsection there shall be inserted the following paragraph:—
- “(c) any judge of either of the said Courts may continue to act as a judge thereof for the purpose of any proceedings in that Court during the course of which he attains the age of seventy-five years as if the date of the conclusion in that Court of those proceedings were the date on which he attains that age”.
- (3) The amendments made by subsection (1) above shall not have effect in relation to any person who holds the office of chancellor of a diocese, or, in the case of the diocese of Canterbury, commissary general, at the commencement of this Measure, and the amendments made by subsection (2) above shall not have effect in relation
