Benefits linked to the general level of prices

- 6.2 Section 150 of the 1992 Act requires the Secretary of State to review certain benefits to determine whether they have retained their value in relation to the general level of prices. If the benefits have not retained their value, section 150 of the 1992 Act requires the Secretary of State to up-rate them by at least as much as the percentage increase in the general level of prices. The main benefits affected are Attendance Allowance, Carer’s Allowance, Disability Living Allowance, Personal Independence Payment and the Additional State Pension.
- 6.3 Section 151A of the 1992 Act requires the inherited increments of the old State Pension and certain amounts exceeding the full rate of the new State Pension (payable under transitional arrangements) to be increased in line with prices.
- 6.4 The Secretary of State has discretion over how to measure changes in the general level of prices and has decided to measure the increase over the appropriate period using the Consumer Prices Index (“CPI”).<sup>2</sup>
- 6.5 Following his review, the Secretary of State has determined that benefits linked to the general level of prices have not maintained their value in relation to prices over the year to September 2023 and has decided to up-rate them in line with the increase in CPI (6.7%).<sup>3</sup>

Benefits linked to earnings

- 6.6 Section 150A of the 1992 Act requires the Secretary of State to review certain benefits to determine whether they have retained their value in relation to the general level of earnings. If the benefits have not retained their value, section 150A of the 1992 Act requires the Secretary of State to up-rate them by at least as much as the percentage increase in the general level of earnings. The benefits affected are the basic State Pension, the full rate of the new State Pension, the standard minimum guarantee element of Pension Credit, and the widow’s and widower’s pension in Industrial Death Benefit.
- 6.7 The Secretary of State has discretion over how to measure changes in the general level of earnings and has decided to use growth in Average Weekly Earnings (“AWE”) in the year to May-July 2023 (8.5%).<sup>4</sup>
- 6.8 Following his review, the Secretary of State has determined that benefits linked to the general level of earnings have not maintained their value. He has therefore decided to up-rate the basic State Pension and full rate of the new State Pension in line with growth in AWE in the year to May-July 2023 (8.5%). He has also decided to up-rate the other benefits to which section 150A applies by 8.5% (see paragraph 7.9 below).

Benefits up-rated at the Secretary of State’s discretion

- 6.9 If he considers it appropriate, the Secretary of State, having regard to the national economic situation and any other matters which he considers relevant, may also increase other benefits by such a percentage as he thinks fit.
- 6.10 The Secretary of State has decided to up-rate the personal or standard allowances of Universal Credit, Income Support, Housing Benefit, Jobseeker’s Allowance, and Employment and Support Allowance in line with the Consumer Prices Index (“CPI”). Certain child and family elements in benefits for people below State Pension age and in Pension Credit are linked to His Majesty’s Revenue & Customs (HMRC) tax credit and Child Benefit rates. These elements will be up-rated in line with the increase in the relevant HMRC rates. Those child elements not linked to HMRC rates will increase by 6.7%.

- 6.11 The Secretary of State has decided to up-rate disability, carer, pensioner, and family/lone parent premiums in benefits for people below State Pension age, and the additional amount for severe disability and carer responsibilities in Pension Credit, in line with CPI.
- 6.12 He has also decided to increase the savings credit threshold in Pension Credit to deliver an increase in the Savings Credit maximum in line with CPI.

Benefits devolved to the Scottish Parliament

- 6.13 The Scotland Act 2016<sup>5</sup> amended the Scotland Act 1998<sup>6</sup> by inserting exceptions to reserved matters under Schedule 5, Part 2, section F1 (social security schemes). This devolved legislative competence for certain areas of social security to the Scottish Parliament. The executive functions of the Secretary of State in relation to Carer’s Allowance, in so far as they relate to residents in Scotland, transferred to the Scottish Ministers with effect from 3 September 2018. The executive functions of the Secretary of State in relation to Attendance Allowance, Disability Living Allowance, Industrial Injuries Benefits, Personal Independence Payment and Severe Disablement Allowance, in so far as they relate to residents in Scotland, transferred to the Scottish Ministers with effect from 1 April 2020.
- 6.14 Following the Scotland Act 1998 (Agency Arrangements) (Specification) Order 2018<sup>7</sup>, whilst the Scottish Government establishes the infrastructure necessary to deliver replacement benefits, the Secretary of State has entered into Agency Agreements with the Scottish Ministers to deliver the devolved benefits in Scotland for a temporary period. This is on the basis that Scottish Ministers bring forward provision which has the identical effect to that being delivered in England and Wales for as long as the Agency Agreements are in place. Functions exercisable under an Agency Agreement cannot include the making of subordinate legislation in Scotland, and consequently the Scottish Ministers will be making provision with regard to the up-rating of these benefits in Scotland.

Additional Information

- 6.15 The Secretary of State announced his up-rating decisions to Parliament in a Written Ministerial Statement on 22 November 2023.<sup>8</sup> The table setting out the new rates has been placed in the Libraries of the House of Commons and the House of Lords<sup>9</sup> and published on gov.uk.<sup>10</sup>
- 6.16 In accordance with the 1992 Act, a draft of this Order is laid before Parliament for approval by resolution of each House together with a copy of the report by the

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 The Secretary of State's annual review of social security benefit rates is required by sections 150, 150A and 151A of the 1992 Act.

Basic State Pension

- 7.2 The statutory minimum increase to the basic State Pension is the rise in earnings. The Government has given a commitment to increase the basic State Pension in line with the triple lock, that is, the highest of the growth in earnings, the growth in prices, or 2.5%. As the increase in earnings over the relevant period (8.5%) is higher than both the growth in prices (6.7%) and 2.5%, the basic State Pension will increase by 8.5% from April 2024.
- 7.3 The rate of the full basic pension in a Category A and Category B State Pension (based respectively on a person's own National Insurance contributions and those of a late spouse or civil partner) will be increased from £156.20 to £169.50 a week from April 2024.
- 7.4 The lower rate of Category B basic pension (payable to a married person or civil partner in certain circumstances) will be increased from £93.60 to £101.55 a week from April 2024.

New State Pension

- 7.5 The statutory minimum increase to the full rate of new State Pension is the rise in earnings. The Government has also committed to increase the full rate of the new State Pension in line with the triple lock. The full rate of the new State Pension will therefore increase by 8.5% in April 2024 from £203.85 to £221.20.
- 7.6 Existing awards of the new State Pension as of April 2024 will be at the transitional rate. The transitional rate incorporates a 'starting amount' which is based on a person's National Insurance contributions to 5 April 2016. Where the 'starting amount' is less than the full rate, it is increased by 1/35th of the full rate for each qualifying year gained between April 2016 and State Pension age. As such, the transitional rate is not a fixed rate and may, in individual cases, be more than, less than, or equal to the full rate of the new State Pension.
- 7.7 Transitional rates of the new State Pension that are equal to or less than the full rate are to be increased by the same percentage as the full rate.<sup>11</sup> These amounts will, therefore, be increased by 8.5%. Where the transitional rate exceeds the full rate, the excess amount<sup>12</sup> will be increased in line with the increase in prices (see paragraph 7.10 below).
- 7.8 Payments of inherited amounts or shared State Pension may be payable under transitional arrangements to widowed or divorced individuals who reach State Pension age under the new system.<sup>13</sup> These amounts are up-rated by: either the percentage increase in the full rate of the new State Pension, or the increase in prices, or a combination of the two depending on the total amount of the individual's award.<sup>14</sup> The total amount of the award excludes any incremental payments arising because the individual has deferred taking their pension for a period after they reached State Pension age.

Other Benefits

7.9 The statutory minimum increase to the following rates is the rise in earnings. They will also increase by 8.5% from April 2024:

- Pension Credit standard minimum guarantee
- The higher rate of widow's pension and the widower's pension in Industrial Death Benefit.

7.10 The statutory minimum increase to the following rates is the rise in prices. They will increase by 6.7% from April 2024:

- Attendance Allowance
- Carer's Allowance
- Disability Living Allowance
- Graduated Retirement Benefit
- Incapacity Benefit
- increments to State Pension
- Industrial Injuries Disablement Benefit

- Transitional amounts of the new State Pension above the level of the full rate, and inherited increments of old State Pension payable to a surviving spouse or civil partner in the new State Pension

The following rates will also increase by 6.7% from April 2024:

- Universal Credit – including Standard Allowances, Transitional Severe Disability Premium Elements and Childcare Elements
- Employment and Support Allowance, Housing Benefit, Income Support, Jobseeker's Allowance personal allowances
- Additional amounts in Pension Credit payable on grounds of disability and caring responsibilities
- Carer and disability premiums in Income Support, Jobseeker's Allowance and Employment and Support Allowance and Housing Benefit.

<sup>13</sup> These components are derived from the additional State Pension in the old State Pension. The inheritable amount may also be derived from Graduated Retirement Benefit in the old State Pension.

<sup>14</sup> Schedules 4 and 9 to the Pensions Act 2014 provide, respectively, for the up-rating of inherited amounts and the shared State Pension.

- Statutory Adoption Pay, Statutory Maternity Pay, Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay, Statutory Paternity Pay, Statutory Shared Parental Pay and Statutory Sick Pay.

7.11 Bereavement Support Payment provides working people with short-term financial support following the death of a spouse or civil partner, to help towards the additional costs associated with a death. Its rates will remain the same as in 2023/24.

Rounding conventions

7.12 Each benefit has an individual rounding convention for how new rates are calculated. The majority of new rates are rounded to the nearest five pence.

8. European Union Withdrawal and Future Relationship

8.1 This instrument does not relate to withdrawal from the European Union / trigger the statement requirements under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act.

9. Consolidation

9.1 Informal consolidated text of instruments is available to the public free of charge via The National Archives website – Legislation.gov.uk.<sup>15</sup>

11. Guidance

11.1 Public information products will be updated to reflect the new rates where applicable, and guidance bulletins have been issued to operational staff to advise them of the new rates.

12. Impact

12.1 The impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies is not significant beyond their existing obligations with respect to making, and in some cases funding, certain Statutory Payments.

12.2 The impact on the public sector is that overall Exchequer expenditure will increase by £19 billion in 2024/25.

12.3 An Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because there is not a significant new impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies (see paragraph 13.1).

13. Regulating small business

13.1 For small businesses whose annual gross National Insurance payments are £45,000 or less, this Order does not impose any new costs in respect of Statutory Adoption Pay, Statutory Paternity Pay, Statutory Maternity Pay, Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay and Statutory Shared Parental Pay, since such employers are reimbursed 100% of the amount paid out plus an additional percentage as prescribed in regulations in compensation for the employers' National Insurance costs on these payments. Larger employers are reimbursed for 92% of the costs. Employers meet the full costs of Statutory Sick Pay.
