“PRA rules” means the rules made by the PRA under FSMA 2000 as they have effect from time to time;

Calculation of risk margin

7B. Where PRA rules provide for a risk margin to be calculated separately from the best estimate, the risk margin for the whole portfolio of insurance and reinsurance obligations of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking must be calculated in accordance with the following formula—

$$RM = CoC \times \sum_{t \geq 0} \frac{SCR(t) \times \max(\lambda^t, \lambda_{floor})}{(1+r(t+1))^{t+1}} ;$$ where—

- (a) “RM” denotes risk margin;
- (b) “CoC” denotes the cost-of-capital rate, which equals 4%;
- (c) the sum covers all integers including zero;
- (d) “SCR(t)” denotes the SCR of the reference undertaking after t years, calculated in accordance with PRA rules;
- (e) “λ” denotes the risk tapering factor, and equals—
 - (i) 0.9 for long-term insurance and reinsurance obligations, and
 - (ii) 1.0 for general insurance and reinsurance obligations;
- (f) “λ^t” denotes the risk tapering factor to the power of t years;
- (g) “λ_{floor}” denotes the floor of the risk tapering factor, and equals 0.25;
- (h) “r(t+1)” denotes the basic relevant risk-free interest rate for the maturity of t + 1 years, derived from the basic relevant risk-free interest rate term structure.

Power of PRA to make rules

7C. Notwithstanding regulation 7B, the PRA’s power to make general rules under section 137G of FSMA 2000(a) continues to include power to make rules permitting an insurance or reinsurance undertaking to use simplified methods to calculate risk margin which are proportionate to the nature, scale and complexity of the risk underlying its insurance or reinsurance obligations.”.

- (6) Before regulation 8 (PRA’s functions and powers under FSMA 2000) insert—

“PART 3

Enforcement and review”.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

Part 2 of these Regulations makes provision about the calculation of the risk margin, which is the amount of capital that insurance and reinsurance undertakings are required to hold to ensure that they are able to transfer their liabilities to another insurer if required. Part 2 restates Articles 37 (calculation of the risk margin) and 39 (cost-of-capital rate) of Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2015/35 of 10 October 2014 supplementing Directive 2009/138/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the taking-up and pursuit of the business of insurance and reinsurance (Solvency II) (“Regulation 2015/35”). Articles 37 and 39 and other remaining provisions of Regulation 2015/35 are revoked by section 1(1) of, and Schedule 1 to, the Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 (c. 29) and the revocations will be brought into force on 31st December 2024 by the Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 (Commencement No. 6) Regulations 2024 (S.I. 2024/620 (C. 39)).

Part 3 makes provision for saving legislation that is due to be revoked that applies to a Gibraltar group or a Gibraltar undertaking. The effect of this provision is that the revoked legislation, together with any modifications, will continue to apply to a Gibraltar group or a Gibraltar undertaking until Schedule 2A to the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (c. 8) (“FSMA 2000”) comes fully into force.

Part 4 makes amendments to FSMA 2000, including in particular replacing the definitions of “insurance undertaking” and “reinsurance undertaking” in section 417(1). “Insurance undertaking” and “reinsurance undertaking” will include all insurance and reinsurance undertakings authorised as such under FSMA 2000, including overseas undertakings, and Lloyd’s.

Part 5 makes amendments to the Companies Act 2006 (c. 46) following the revocation of regulation 42 of the Solvency 2 Regulations 2015 (S.I. 2015/575) by section 1(1) of, and Schedule 1 to, the Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 (c. 29); the revocation is brought into force on 30th June 2024 (see the Financial Services and Markets Act 2023 (Commencement No. 4 and Transitional and Saving Provisions) (Amendment) Regulations 2023 (S.I. 2023/1382)). The Insurance and Reinsurance Undertakings (Prudential Requirements) (Transitional Provisions and Consequential Amendments) Regulations 2024 (S.I. 2024/594) convert matching adjustment approvals granted by the PRA under regulation 42 of those Regulations to matching adjustment permissions under section 138BA of FSMA 2000.

Part 6 makes consequential amendments to secondary legislation. Regulation 12 amends the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Disclosure of Confidential Information) Regulations 2001 (S.I. 2001/2188) to permit the disclosure of confidential information if this is necessary to allow the PRA to publish individual stress tests results for insurance and reinsurance undertakings.

Rules made by the PRA are available on www.prarulebook.co.uk and copies of the rules can be obtained from the PRA, 20 Moorgate, London EC2R 6DA, where they are also available for inspection.
