

CHAPTER lxxxviii.

An Act to confer further powers on the Aberdeen Harbour Commissioners. A.D. 1879.
[3d July 1879.]

WHEREAS an Act (herein-after called "the firstly recited Act") was passed in the thirty-first and thirty-second years of the reign of Her present Majesty, chapter one hundred and thirty-eight, intituled, the Aberdeen Harbour Act, 1868:

And whereas another Act (herein-after called "the secondly recited Act") was passed in the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth years of the reign of Her present Majesty, chapter ninety-eight, intituled, the Aberdeen Harbour Act, 1871:

And whereas by the firstly recited Act the Aberdeen Harbour Commissioners (herein-after called "the Commissioners") were authorised to make and maintain works for the improvement of the harbour of Aberdeen (herein-after called "the harbour") and to borrow moneys for that purpose:

And whereas the harbour has been greatly improved, and the trade and revenue thereof augmented, by the execution of certain of the works authorised by the firstly recited Act, and such improvement and benefit would be increased by the execution of other works authorised by that Act, herein-after particularly mentioned, and it is expedient that the Commissioners should be empowered to borrow further moneys for that purpose:

And whereas it is expedient that the rates and duties at present leviable at the harbour should be revised, and that certain new rates and duties should be imposed:

And whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for the nomination of candidates to be elected Commissioners, and for facilitating the election of elected Commissioners when the number of candidates nominated does not exceed the number of vacancies to be supplied; and that certain additional powers should be granted to the Commissioners:

But the objects aforesaid cannot be effected without the authority of Parliament:

A.D. 1879.

May it therefore please Your Majesty that it may be enacted; and be it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows; viz.,

Sinking fund
for moneys borrowed under this Act.

9. The Commissioners, in addition to the sinking funds provided by the recited Acts, shall in every year, from and after the first day of October one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, set apart as a sinking fund, out of the rates and revenues to be received by them, a sum, being not less than one pound ten shillings per centum per annum on the moneys borrowed under the authority of this Act, to be applied by the Commissioners in paying off such borrowed moneys; and such last-mentioned sinking fund shall be applied by the Commissioners in paying off such borrowed moneys until the same be wholly paid off, and to no other purpose whatsoever: Provided always, that such last-mentioned sinking fund shall in the first instance be applied by the Commissioners in paying off the moneys borrowed under the authority of the recited Acts, and remaining unpaid, if the Commissioners shall be required to do so by the persons entitled thereto.

preceding the making of such return, and the description of the securities upon which the same has been invested, and also showing the purposes to which any portion of the moneys invested for the sinking fund has been applied during the same period, and the total amount remaining invested at the end of the year; and in the event of any wilful default in making such return the treasurer shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds. If it appear to the Board of Trade by such return or otherwise that the Commissioners have failed to set apart the sum required by this Act or the recited Acts for the sinking fund, or have applied any portion of the moneys set apart for that fund to any purposes other than those authorised by those Acts, the Board of Trade may by order direct that a sum not exceeding double the amount in respect of which such default shall have been made shall be set apart and invested as part of the sinking fund, and such order shall be enforceable by decree of either division of the Inner House of the Court of Session in Scotland, pronounced in a summary application presented for that purpose.

13. All duties, rates, and moneys which before the commencement of this Act shall have become due or payable to the Commissioners and which shall be then unpaid, and all fines, penalties, and costs which shall have been incurred under the firstly recited Act previous to the commencement of this Act and which shall be then unpaid, may be levied, collected, sued for, and recovered by the Commissioners, notwithstanding the repeal of the Schedules A, B, C, D, and E annexed to the firstly recited Act.

When herring barrels are exported empty, and are returned to the port and harbour packed with herrings, the owners (if the exporters of the barrels) shall be entitled to an allowance or drawback of the amount of rates paid on exportation for such barrels out of the rates payable on importation for such herrings.

If any goods for which rates shall have been paid when loaded shall, from any accident or otherwise, be unloaded, no rates shall be charged a second time for such goods on being reloaded.

Where any goods shall have been shipped and the rates therefor paid, and such goods shall thereafter be reloaded within the harbour, by reason of the detention therein of the vessel by stress of weather, and shall not be re-shipped, such rates shall be repaid by the Commissioners.
