

Industrial and Provident Societies Act 1965

1965 CHAPTER 12

Membership and special provisions affecting members

20 Members under 21

A person under the age of twenty-one but above the age of sixteen may be a member of a registered society unless provision to the contrary is made by the society's registered rules and may, subject to those rules and to the provisions of this Act, enjoy all the rights of a member and execute all instruments and give all receipts necessary to be executed or given under those rules, but shall not be a member of the committee, trustee, manager or treasurer of the society.
