

Superannuation Act 1965

1965 CHAPTER 74

PART V

MISCELLANEOUS AND GENERAL

General.

96 Power of Treasury to delegate power to grant allowances, etc.

The Treasury may, to such extent and subject to such conditions as they think fit, delegate to any Minister or officer of the Crown—

- (a) any power conferred on them by this Act to grant any allowance or gratuity, and
- (b) any functions exercisable by them under any provision of this Act relating to pensions or contributions under Parts III and IV thereof, and references in this Act to the Treasury shall be construed accordingly.
