

Transport Act 1968

1968 CHAPTER 73

PART VII U.K.

INLAND WATERWAYS

The Board's waterways

104 Classification of ^{F1}... waterways. U.K.

- (1) For the purposes of sections 105 to 111 of this Act the inland waterways comprised in the [^{F2}undertakings] of the Waterways Board [^{F3}and Canal & River Trust] shall be divided into—
 - (a) the waterways for the time being specified in Part I of Schedule 12 to this Act, being waterways (in this Part of this Act referred to as “the commercial waterways”) to be principally available for the commercial carriage of freight;
 - (b) the waterways for the time being specified in Part II of that Schedule, being waterways (in this Part of this Act referred to as “the cruising waterways”) to be principally available for cruising, fishing and other recreational purposes; and
 - (c) the remainder.
- (2) The description contained in the said Schedule 12 of any waterway shall be read subject to any order made by the Minister [^{F4}or, in the case of a waterway in Scotland, the Scottish Ministers] for giving greater precision to that description by reference to a map.
- (3) The Minister [^{F5}or, in the case of a waterway in Scotland, the Scottish Ministers] may by order transfer any waterway from one Part of the said Schedule 12 to the other Part, remove any waterway from either of those Parts or add to either of those Parts any inland waterway for the time being comprised in the undertaking of the Board [^{F6}or Canal & River Trust] which is not for the time being a commercial waterway or a cruising waterway.

Status: Point in time view as at 02/07/2012.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Transport Act 1968, Part VII. (See end of Document for details)

- [^{F7}(3A) Canal & River Trust may apply to the Minister for the making of an order under subsection (3).
- (3B) In deciding whether to make an order under subsection (3), the Minister must have regard to the financial position of Canal & River Trust.]
- (4) Schedule 13 to this Act shall have effect in relation to the making of any order under subsection (3) of this section, and any such order shall be subject to annulment [^{F8}in the case of an order made by the Minister,] in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament [^{F9}in the case of an order made by the Scottish Ministers, in pursuance of a resolution of the Scottish Parliament.].
- (5) In subsection (3) of this section references to any waterway include references to any part of that waterway.

105 Maintenance of ^{F10}... waterways. U.K.

- (1) With a view to securing the general availability of the commercial and cruising waterways for public use, it shall be the duty of the Waterways Board [^{F11}and of Canal & River Trust, in relation to the waterways comprised in their respective undertakings], subject to the provisions of this section—
- (a) to maintain the commercial waterways in a suitable condition for use by commercial freight-carrying vessels; and
 - (b) to maintain the cruising waterways in a suitable condition for use by cruising craft, that is to say, vessels constructed or adapted for the carriage of passengers and driven by mechanical power.

Status: Point in time view as at 02/07/2012.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Transport Act 1968, Part VII. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Neither paragraph (a) nor paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of this section shall impose on the Board [^{F12}or Canal & River Trust] any duty to maintain a waterway, or any part of a waterway, in a suitable condition for use by any vessel of the kind mentioned in that paragraph unless the dimensions of the vessel (that it to say, its length, width, height of superstructure and draught)—
- (a) correspond to, or are less than, those of a vessel of that kind which customarily used that waterway or part during the period of nine months ending with 8th December 1967; or
 - (b) if the waterway or part has been restored or improved since that date, are such as to make it suitable for use on that waterway or part;
- but, save as aforesaid, the duty imposed by that paragraph shall extend to any vessel of the kind therein mentioned as respects the dimensions of which paragraph (a) or (b) of this subsection is satisfied.
- (3) If it appears to the Minister that, having regard to any change in the size, design or type of vessel customarily using any commercial waterway or cruising waterway, or any part thereof, [^{F13}or to any other reason the Minister considers relevant to the duty under subsection (1),] it is desirable to exercise his powers under this subsection, he may (after consultation with [^{F14}Canal & River Trust]) by order substitute for the duty imposed on [^{F14}Canal & River Trust] by the foregoing provisions of this section in respect of that waterway or part such duty in respect of the maintenance thereof as he considers appropriate having regard to that change, and may by that order make such incidental or transitional provision as he thinks necessary or expedient in connection therewith.
- [^{F15}(3ZA) Canal & River Trust may apply to the Minister for the making of an order under subsection (3).
- (3ZB) In deciding whether to make any order under subsection (3), the Minister must have regard to the financial position of Canal & River Trust.]
- [^{F16}(3A) If it appears to the Scottish Ministers that, having regard to any change in the size, design or type of vessel customarily using any commercial waterway or cruising waterway, or any part of such waterway, it is desirable to exercise their powers under this subsection, they may (after consultation with the Board) by order substitute for the duty imposed on the Board by subsection (1) in respect of that waterway (or part) such duty in respect of the maintenance of such waterway (or part) as they consider appropriate having regard to that change, and may by that order make such incidental or transitional provision as they think necessary or expedient in connection therewith.]
- (4) Schedule 13 to this Act shall have effect in relation to the making of any order under subsection (3) [^{F17}or (3A)] of this section, and any such order [^{F18}made by the Minister under subsection (3)] shall be subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament [^{F19}, and an order made by the Scottish Ministers under subsection (3A) is subject to the negative procedure].
- (5) Section 17 of the ^{M1}Regulation of Railways Act 1873 (which requires the Board to maintain certain inland waterways) shall cease to apply to any inland waterway which on the date on which this section comes into force is comprised in the undertaking of the Board; and any local enactment passed with respect to any such inland waterway, so far as that enactment—
- (a) confers any public or private right of navigation over the waterway; or

Status: Point in time view as at 02/07/2012.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Transport Act 1968, Part VII. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) imposes any duty to maintain that waterway for the purpose of navigation (including any duty to supply, or maintain a supply of, water for the waterway for that purpose), shall cease to have effect.
- (6) If the Board [^{F20}or Canal & River Trust] acquire any inland waterway after the date on which this section comes into force any local enactment passed with respect thereto shall, so far as it confers or imposes any such right or duty as is mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b) of subsection (5) of this section, cease to have effect on the date on which the waterway is so acquired.
- (7) Any person who suffers loss by reason of the extinguishment by virtue of subsection (5) or (6) of this section of any private right shall be entitled to be paid by the Board [^{F21}or, as the case may be, Canal & River Trust] compensation to be determined, in case of dispute, by the appropriate tribunal; and the tribunal shall, in determining the compensation, take into account any contractual right offered by the Board [^{F21}or, as the case may be, Canal & River Trust] in substitution for the right which is extinguished.
- (8) Where by virtue of subsection (5) of this section a statutory right of navigation ceases to be exercisable as respects a waterway of which the Waterways Board [^{F22}or, as the case may be, Canal & River Trust] are not the owner, the Board [^{F22}or, as the case may be, Canal & River Trust] shall have power to authorise any use of the waterway which would have been authorised by that statutory right.

[^{F23}106. Enforcement of maintenance duty – the Waterways Board U.K.

- (1) If, on an application by any person under this section to the Court of Session, the court determines that there has been, in respect of any waterway, a serious and persistent failure by the Waterways Board to discharge the duty imposed on them by—
- (a) section 105(1), or
 - (b) an order made under section 105(3A),
- the court may, subject to the provisions of this section, require the Board to remedy that failure; but, save as aforesaid, neither subsection (1) of section 105 nor any order under subsection (3A) of that section shall be construed as imposing any duty or liability enforceable by proceedings before any court to which the Board would not otherwise be subject.
- (2) The fact that proceedings on an application under subsection (1) (referred to in this section as “enforcement proceedings”) are in progress in respect of any waterway or any part of a waterway, or that the court has in any such proceedings imposed any requirement on the Board, shall not prevent the Scottish Ministers from making an order in respect of that waterway or part under section 104(3) or 105(3A); but—
- (a) except as provided in subsection (3) of this section, where such an order is made while enforcement proceedings are in progress, the court shall nevertheless determine those proceedings on the basis of the duty of the Board as it stood when the proceedings were instituted; and
 - (b) the making of such an order shall in no case absolve the Board from complying with any requirement which is imposed by the court in any enforcement proceedings.
- (3) If a relevant order is pending at the time when enforcement proceedings are instituted, or if, at any time after enforcement proceedings have been instituted and before the court has imposed any requirement on the Board in the proceedings, the Scottish Ministers notify the Board that they are considering the making of a relevant order and give the court such a certificate as is mentioned in subsection (4)—
- (a) the court shall not, so long as the order is pending, impose any requirement on the Board in those proceedings; and
 - (b) if the order is made, the court shall, in determining in those proceedings whether there has been a failure by the Board to discharge their duty, have regard only to the duty (if any) to which the Board are subject in consequence of the making of the order.
- (4) The certificate referred to in subsection (3) is a certificate in writing to the effect that it appears to the Scottish Ministers that the imposition of any requirement on the Board on the basis of their existing duty would result in their incurring substantial expense and that, having regard to their financial position and their duty under section 18 of the Act of 1962 and section 41 of this Act, it would be unreasonable for them to bear that expense without a grant or further grant under section 43 of this Act.

- (5) In subsection (3) “relevant order” means, in relation to any enforcement proceedings, an order under section 104(3) or 105(3A) of this Act in relation to the waterway or part of a waterway which is the subject of the proceedings; and for the purposes of that subsection an order is pending during the period of three months beginning with the day on which the Scottish Ministers notify the Board that they are considering the making of the order and, if before the expiration of that period notice of the proposed order is published under Schedule 13 to this Act, during any further period until the order is made or the Scottish Ministers notify the Board that it will not be made.
- (6) As soon as may be after giving the Board any such notification as is mentioned in subsection (5), the Scottish Ministers shall give notice of that notification in the Edinburgh Gazette.
- (7) For the purposes of this section enforcement proceedings shall be treated as instituted at the time when the summons beginning the proceedings is served on the Board.

113 Byelaws in respect of waterways owned or managed by certain bodies. E+W+S

- (1) The Minister may, on the application of any qualified body which owns or manages an inland waterway and after consultation with the relevant authority, by order confer on that body power to make byelaws in relation to that waterway for such purposes as may be specified in the order.
- (2) Byelaws made by virtue of an order under this section shall not have effect until confirmed by the Minister, and before applying to the Minister for the confirmation of any byelaws the body concerned shall take such steps as may be specified in the order for securing that persons affected by the byelaws have an opportunity of making representations thereon to the Minister.
- (3) If any person contravenes, or fails to comply with, any byelaws made by virtue of an order under this section he shall be guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding [^{F65}level 1 on the standard scale], and if the contravention or failure to comply is continued after the conviction, he shall be guilty of a further offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £5 for each day on which it is so continued.
- (4) An order under this section may contain such supplementary provisions as the Minister thinks necessary or expedient.
- (5) In this section—

“qualified body” means any navigation authority as defined in section 135(1) of the ^{M7}Water Resources Act 1963, a body mentioned in any of the paragraphs of section 109(2) of this Act ^{F66}... and any other body having public or charitable objects;

“relevant authority”, in relation to any order, [^{F67}means [^{F68}any local authority or [^{F69}water authority] (except any such authority which is itself the applicant for the order)]]^{F68}, except where applying for the order, Scottish Water or any local authority]]^{F67}means, except in a case where it is itself the applicant for the order, the National Rivers Authority or any local authority] in whose area the waterway in question is wholly or partly situated.
- (6) Section 40 of the ^{M8}Railway and Canal Traffic Act 1888 (which makes provision as to the byelaws of canal companies) shall not apply to byelaws made by virtue of an order under this section.
