63 Part VII contracts.

- (1) Subject to the following provisions of this section, this Part of this Act applies to a contract, whether entered into before or after the commencement of this Act, whereby one person grants to another person, in consideration of a rent which includes payment for the use of furniture or for services, the right to occupy as a residence a dwelling-house to which this Part of this Act applies.
- (2) Subject to subsection (3) below, a contract falling within subsection (1) above and relating to a dwelling-house which consists of only part of a house is a contract to which this Part of this Act applies whether or not the lessee is entitled, in addition to exclusive occupation of that part, to the use in common with any other person of other rooms or accommodation in the house.
- (3) Subject to subsection (5) below, this Part of this Act does not apply—
 - (a) to a contract under which the interest of the lessor belongs to Her Majesty in right of the Crown, or to a government department, or is held in trust for Her Majesty for the purposes of a government department; nor
 - (b) to a contract entered into on or after 3rd October 1980, where the interest of the lessor belongs to one of the bodies mentioned in subsection (4) below; nor
 - (c) to a contract for the letting of any dwelling-house at a rent which includes payment in respect of board if the value of the board to the lessee forms a substantial proportion of the whole rent; nor
 - (d) to a contract which creates a regulated tenancy; nor
 - (e) to a contract which created a controlled tenancy if that tenancy subsequently becomes a converted tenancy within the meaning of section 115(1) below.
- (4) The bodies referred to in subsection (3)(b) above are—
 - [^{F2}(a) a council constituted under section 2 of the Local Government etc. (Scotland) Act 1994, or a joint board or joint committee of two or more such councils, or the common good of such a council or any trust under the control of such a council;
 - [^{F3}(aa) Scottish Water;]
 - (b) a development corporation established by an order made, or having effect as if made, under the ^{M1}New Towns (Scotland) Act 1968;
 - (c) the Scottish Special Housing Association;
 - (d) the Housing Corporation;
 - (e) a registered housing association within the meaning of the [^{F4}Housing Associations Act 1985];
 - (f) a housing co-operative within the meaning of section [^{F5}22 of the Housing (Scotland) Act 1987]; and
 - (g) any housing trust which was in existence on 13th November 1953 . . . ^{F6}.
- (5) An interest belonging to Her Majesty in right of the Crown shall not prevent this Part of this Act from applying to a contract if the interest is under the management of 64 Dwelling-houses to which Part VII applies.

- (1) Subject to the following provisions of this section this Part of this Act applies to any dwelling-house the rateable value of which on the appropriate day did not or, as the case may be, does not exceed £200, or in the case of a dwelling-house comprising or forming part of lands and heritages for which a rateable value is or was first shown on the valuation roll on or after 1st April 1978, £600.
- (2) In relation to dwelling-houses comprising or forming part of lands and heritages for which a rateable value is or was first shown on the valuation roll on or after 1st April 1978, the Secretary of State may by order made by statutory instrument subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament increase the said sum of £600 in subsection (1) above, and he may make different provision for different classes of case.
- (3) The Secretary of State may by order under this section provide that, as from such date as may be specified in the order, this Part of this Act shall not apply to a dwelling-house the rateable value of which on such day as may be specified in the order exceeds such amount as may be so specified.
- (4) An order under subsection (3) above—
 - (a) may be made so as to relate to the whole of Scotland or to such area in Scotland as may be specified in the order, and so as to apply generally or only to, or except to, such classes or descriptions of dwelling-houses as may be specified in the order; and

- (b) may contain such transitional provisions as appear to the Secretary of State to be desirable.
- (5) The power to make an order under subsection (3) above shall be exercisable by statutory instrument and no such order shall have effect unless it is approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament.
- (6) For the purposes of this section, in relation to a dwelling-house which is not separately rated, “rateable value” means such proportion of the rateable value of the premises of which the dwelling-house forms part as may be determined to reflect the relationship between the value of the dwelling-house and the value of the said premises—
- (a) by agreement in writing between the lessor and lessee; or
 - (b) failing such agreement, by the [^{F8}First-tier Tribunal, on an application] by either party.

73 Notices to quit served by owner-occupiers.

Where a person who has occupied a dwelling-house as a residence (in this section referred to as “the owner-occupier”) has, by virtue of a Part VII contract, granted the right to occupy the dwelling-house to another person and—

- (a) at or before the time when the right was granted, or, if it was granted before 8th December 1965, not later than 7th June 1966) the owner-occupier has given notice in writing to that other person that he is the owner-occupier within the meaning of this section, and
- (b) if the dwelling-house is part of a house, the owner-occupier does not occupy any other part of the house as his residence, neither section 71 nor section 72 above shall apply where a notice to quit the dwelling-house is served if, at the time the notice is to take effect, the dwelling-house is required as a residence for the owner-occupier or any member of his family who resided with him when he last occupied the dwelling-house as a residence.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2017.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Rent (Scotland) Act 1984, Part VII. (See end of Document for details)

74 Reduction of period of notice on account of lessee's default.

- (1) The provisions of this section apply where a Part VII contract has been referred to [F61the First-tier Tribunal] and the period at the end of which a notice to quit will take effect has been determined by section 71 above or extended under section 72 above.
- (2) If, in a case where this section applies, it appears to the [F62First-tier Tribunal], on an application made by the lessor for a direction under this section,—
- (a) that the lessee has not complied with the terms of the contract, or
 - (b) that the lessee or any person residing or lodging with him has been guilty of conduct which is a nuisance or annoyance to adjoining occupiers or as been convicted of using the dwelling-house, or allowing the dwelling-house to be used, for an immoral or illegal purpose, or
 - (c) that the condition of the dwelling-house has deteriorated owing to any act or neglect of the lessee or any person residing or lodging with him, or
 - (d) that the condition of any furniture provided for the use of the lessee under the contract had deteriorated owing to any ill-treatment by the lessee or any person residing or lodging with him,
- the [F62First-tier Tribunal] may direct that the period referred to in subsection (1) above shall be reduced so as to end at a date specified in the direction.
- (3) No application may be made under section 72 above with respect to a notice to quit if a direction has been given under this section reducing the period at the end of which the notice is to take effect.

75 [F63Power of First-tier Tribunal, in action for possession, to reduce period of notice to quit]

In any case where—

- (a) a notice to quit a dwelling-house which is the subject of a Part VII contract has been served, and
- (b) the period at the end of which the notice to quit takes effect is for the time being extended by virtue of section 71 or section 72 above, and
- (c) at some time during that period the lessor institutes proceedings before the [F64First-tier Tribunal] for possession of the dwelling-house, and
- (d) in those proceedings the [F64Tribunal] is satisfied that any of paragraphs (a) to (d) of section 74(2) above applies, the [F64Tribunal] may direct that the period referred to in paragraph (b) above shall be reduced so as to end at a date specified in the direction.

81 Interpretation of Part VII.

- (1) In this Part of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—
 - [^{F73c}“council tax” means the tax payable under the Local Government Finance Act 1992;]
 - “dwelling-house” means a house or part of a house;
 - “lessee” means the person to whom is granted, under a Part VII contract, the right to occupy the dwelling in question as a residence and includes any person directly or indirectly deriving title from the grantee;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/12/2017.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Rent (Scotland) Act 1984, Part VII. (See end of Document for details)

“lessor” means the person who, under a Part VII contract, grants to another the right to occupy the dwelling in question as a residence and includes any person directly or indirectly deriving title from the grantor;

“register” means the register kept by [^{F74}the First-tier Tribunal] in pursuance of section 67 above;

“rental period” means a period in respect of which a payment of rent falls to be made;

“services” includes attendance, the provision of heating or lighting, the supply of hot water and any other privilege or facility connected with the occupancy of a dwelling-house.

- (2) References in this Part of this Act to a party to a contract include references to any person directly or indirectly deriving title from such a party.
- (3) Where separate sums are payable by the lessee of any dwelling-house to the lessor for any two or more of the following, namely—
- (a) occupation of the dwelling-house,
 - (b) use of furniture, and
 - (c) services,

any reference in this Part of this Act to “rent” in relation to that dwelling-house is a reference to the aggregate of those sums and, where those sums are payable under separate contracts, those contracts shall be deemed to be one contract.
