13 Jurisdiction ancillary to matrimonial proceedings.

- (1) The jurisdiction of a court in Scotland to entertain an application for a [^{F9}Part I order] in matrimonial proceedings shall be modified by the following provisions of this section.
- (2) A court in Scotland shall not have jurisdiction, after the dismissal of matrimonial proceedings or after decree of absolutor is granted therein, to entertain an application for a [^{F9}Part I order][^{F10}in those proceedings] unless the application therefor was made on or before such dismissal or the granting of the decree of absolutor.
- (3) Where, after a decree of separation has been granted, an application is made in the separation process for a [^{F9}Part I order], a court in Scotland shall not have jurisdiction to entertain that application if, on the date of the application, proceedings for divorce or nullity of marriage in respect of the marriage concerned are continuing in another court in the United Kingdom.
- (4) A court in Scotland shall not have jurisdiction to entertain an application for the variation of a [^{F9}Part I order] made [^{F11}in matrimonial proceedings where the court has refused to grant the principal remedy sought in the proceedings] if, on the date of the application, matrimonial proceedings in respect of the marriage concerned are continuing in another court in the United Kingdom.
- (5) Subsections (3) and (4) above shall not apply if the court in which the other proceedings there referred to are continuing has made—
 - (a) an order under section [^{F12}2A(4)] or [^{F13}19A(4)] of this Act or under subsection (6) below (not being an order made by virtue of paragraph (a)(ii) of that subsection), or
 - (b) an order under section 5(2), 14(2) or 22(2) of this Act which is recorded as made for the purpose of enabling [^{F14}Part I proceedings with respect to] the child concerned to be taken in Scotland or, as the case may be, in another court in Scotland, and that order is in force.

15 Duration, variation and recall of orders.

- (1) Where, after the making by a court in Scotland of a [F17Part I order] (“the existing order”) with respect to a child,—
- (a) a [F17Part I order], or an order varying a [F17Part I order], competently made by another court in any part of the United Kingdom with respect to that child; or
 - (b) an order [F18relating to the parental responsibilities or parental rights in relation to] that child which is made outside the United Kingdom and recognised in Scotland by virtue of section 26 of this Act [F19or by virtue of the Council Regulation],
- comes into force, the existing order shall cease to have effect so far as it makes provision for any matter for which the same or different provision is made by the order of the other court in the United Kingdom or, as the case may be, the order so recognised.
- (2) Subject to sections 11(1) and 13(3) and (4) of this Act, a court in Scotland which has made a [F17Part I order] (“the original order”) may, notwithstanding that it would no longer have jurisdiction to make the original order, make an order varying or recalling the original order; but if the original order has by virtue of subsection (1) above ceased to have effect so far as it makes provision for any matter, the court shall not have power to vary that order under this subsection so as to make provision for that matter.
- (3) In subsection (2) above, an order varying an original order means any [F17Part I order] made with respect to the same child as the original order was made.
- (4) [F20Where, by virtue of subsection (1) above, a child is to live with a different person], then, if there is in force an order made by a court in Scotland [F21. . . providing for the supervision of that child by a local authority, that order shall cease to have effect.
