- (i) if the transferor became entitled to any interest on the securities transferred and applied it for charitable purposes only, exemption could be granted under section 505(1)(c) in respect of the interest;
 - (ii) if the transferor became entitled to any interest on the securities transferred and applied it for the purposes mentioned in paragraph (d) of section 505(1), exemption could be granted under that paragraph in respect of the interest;
 - (e) ^{M1387} if the securities transferred are held on a disabled person's trusts, the transferor is trustee of the settlement and on no day in the year of assessment in which the interest period ends or the previous year of assessment the nominal value of securities held by him as trustee of the settlement exceeded £5,000;
 - (f) if the transferor does not fulfil the residence requirement for the chargeable period in which the transfer is made and is not a non-resident United Kingdom trader in that period;
 - (g) ^{F3133}
 - (h) ^{F3133}
 - (j) if the transferor is an individual who, if he became entitled in the year of assessment in which the transfer occurs to any interest on the securities transferred, would be liable, in respect of the interest, to tax chargeable under Case IV or V of Schedule D and computed on the amount of sums received in the United Kingdom; or
 - (k) ^{M1388} where, if the transferor became entitled to any interest on the securities transferred, exemption could be allowed under section 592(2) in respect of the interest.
- (2) ^{M1389} Section 713(2)(b) or (3)(b) (as the case may be) does not apply if—
- (a) the transferee carries on a trade, and if at the time he acquired the securities he were to transfer them that transfer would fall to be taken into account for the purposes of the Tax Acts in computing the profits or losses of that trade; or
 - (b) any provision of subsection (1) above except paragraph (a) would apply if “transferor” read “transferee”.
- (3) ^{M1390} If securities held on charitable trusts cease to be subject to charitable trusts the trustees shall be treated for the purposes of sections 710 to 728 as transferring the securities (in their capacity as charitable trustees) to themselves (in another capacity) at the time when the securities cease to be so subject.
- (4) ^{M1391} For the purposes of this section a person fulfils the residence requirement for a chargeable period if he is resident in the United Kingdom during any part of the period or is ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom during the period.
- (5) For the purposes of this section a person is a non-resident United Kingdom trader in a chargeable period if during any part of it he is (though neither resident during any part of it nor ordinarily resident during it) carrying on a trade in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency and the securities transferred—
- (a) were situated in the United Kingdom and used or held for the purposes of the branch or agency at or before the time of the transfer (where the person concerned is a transferor); or
 - (b) were so situated at the time of the transfer and were acquired for use by or for the purposes of the branch or agency (where the person concerned is a transferee);

but the provisions of this subsection relating to the situation of the securities in the United Kingdom do not apply where the person concerned is a company.

(6) ^{M1392}In any case where securities are transferred without accrued interest to a person (“the seller”) and a contract is made for the sale by the seller of securities of that kind (“the seller’s contract”) and the seller’s contract or any contract under which the securities are transferred to the seller is one in the case of which ^{F3134} . . . ^{F3135} paragraph 3 or 4 of Schedule 23A] has effect and in relation to which the seller is the dividend manufacturer, then—

- (a) where the nominal value of the securities subject to the seller’s contract is greater than or equal to that of the securities transferred, the seller shall not be treated as entitled to any sum to which, but for this subsection, he would be treated as entitled under section 713(3)(b) on the securities transferred;
- (b) where the nominal value of the securities subject to the seller’s contract is less than that of the securities transferred, any sum (or the aggregate of any sums) to which he is treated as entitled under section 713(3)(b) on the securities transferred shall be reduced by the amount of any part of the sum (or aggregate) attributable to securities (“relevant securities”) of a nominal value equal to that of the securities subject to the seller’s contract; and for the purposes of sections 710 to 728 the securities which the seller contracts to sell shall not be treated as transferred by him (though treated as transferred to the person to whom he contracts to sell).

(7) In determining for the purposes of subsection (6)(b) above which of the securities transferred are relevant securities, those transferred to the seller earlier must be chosen before those transferred to him later.

(8) ^{M1393}For the purposes of this section—

“disabled person’s trusts” means trusts falling within paragraph ^{F3136}1(1) of Schedule 1 to the 1992] Act;

“branch or agency” has the meaning given by section ^{F3136}10(6) of the 1992] Act; and the place where securities are situated shall be determined in accordance with section ^{F3136}275 of the 1992] Act.

716 Transfer of unrealised interest.

- ^{M1394}(1) This section applies where securities are transferred (whether before or after 6th April 1988) with the right to receive interest (“unrealised interest”) payable on them on an interest payment day falling before the settlement day.
- (2) Where the settlement day falls within an interest period, section 714 shall (subject to subsection (5) below) apply as if the transferor were entitled under section 713 to a sum on them in the period of an amount equal to the unrealised interest (in addition to any other sum to which he may be treated as so entitled).
- (3) Where the settlement day falls after the end of the last interest period in relation to the securities, the transferor shall be treated as receiving on the settlement day annual profits or gains of an amount equal to the unrealised interest; and the profits or gains shall be chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D for the chargeable period in which they are treated as received.
- (4) Where the transferee receives the unrealised interest, and but for this subsection it would be taken into account in computing tax charged for the chargeable period in which the interest is received, it shall for the purposes of the Tax Acts be left out of account.
- (5) ^{M1395}Section 715 shall apply for the purposes of this section as if—
- (a) in subsection (1)—
 - (i) the reference to section 713(2)(a) or (3)(a) were a reference to subsection (2) or (3) above; and
 - (ii) references to the year of assessment in which the interest period ends were references to the year in which the settlement day falls; and
 - (b) in subsection (2) the reference to section 713(2)(b) or (3)(b) were a reference to subsection (4) above.

717 Variable interest rate.

- ^{M1397}(1) This section applies to securities other than securities falling within subsection (2) ^{F3138} . . . below.
- (2) Securities fall within this subsection if their terms of issue provide that throughout the period from issue to redemption (whenever redemption might occur) they are to carry interest at a rate which falls into one, and one only, of the following categories—
- (a) a fixed rate which is the same throughout the period;
 - (b) a rate which bears to a standard published base rate the same fixed relationship throughout the period;
 - (c) a rate which bears to a published index of prices the same fixed relationship throughout the period.
- (3) In subsection (2)(c) above “published index of prices” means the retail prices index or any similar general index of prices which is published by, or by an agent of, the government of any territory outside the United Kingdom.
- (4) ^{F3139}
- (5) ^{F3139}

- (7) If the securities are transferred without accrued interest they shall be treated for the purposes of sections 710 to 728 as transferred with accrued interest.
- (8) The person entitled to the securities immediately before they are redeemed shall be treated for the purposes of those sections as transferring them with accrued interest on the day they are redeemed.
- (9) Where there is a transfer as mentioned in subsection (6) above or by virtue of subsection (8) above, section 713 shall have effect with the omission of subsection (2) (b) and with the substitution for subsections (3) to (6) of the following subsection—
- “(3) In subsection (2) above “the accrued amount” means such amount (if any) as [^{F3140}is just and reasonable].”.
- (10) Subsection (11) below applies where there is a transfer by virtue of subsection (8) above and the settlement day in relation to the transfer falls after the end of a period which would (by virtue of section 711(3) and (4) and apart from this subsection) be the only or last interest period in relation to the securities.
- (11) For the purposes of sections 710 to 728 the period beginning with the day following that interest period and ending with the settlement day shall be treated as an interest period in relation to the securities; and section 711(4) shall not apply to it.

719 Unrealised interest in default

^{M1399}(1) Where securities are transferred as mentioned in section 716(1) and, because of any failure to fulfil the obligation to pay interest on them, the value (on the day of the transfer) of the right to receive the unrealised interest is less than the amount of the unrealised interest, section 716 shall have effect as modified by subsections (2) to (4) below.

(2) In subsections (2) and (3) for “the unrealised interest” there shall be substituted “amount A”.

(3) For subsection (4) there shall be substituted—

“(4) Where the transferee receives an amount by way of the unrealised interest (amount B) and that amount falls to be taken into account in computing tax charged for the chargeable period in which it is received, it shall for the purposes of the Tax Acts be treated as reduced by an amount (amount C) equal to—

- (a) nil, if the amounts have been previously received by the transferee by way of the unrealised interest and their aggregate is equal to or greater than the value (on the day of the transfer to the transferee) of the right to receive the unrealised interest;
- (b) amount B, if that value is equal to or greater than amount B (aggregated with other amounts previously so received, if any);
- (c) that value, if no amount has been previously so received and that value is less than amount B; or
- (d) so much of that value as exceeds the aggregate of amounts previously so received, in any other case.”.

(4) The following shall be substituted for subsection (6)—

“(6) In this section “amount A” means, in a case where the transferor acquired the securities on or after 28th February 1986 with the right to received unrealised interest—

- (a) an amount equal to amount D less amount E; or

Transfers with or without accrued interest: supplemental 720 Nominees, trustees etc.

- (1) ^{M1400}Where securities are transferred by or to a person as nominee for another person, or as trustee for another person absolutely entitled as against the trustee, or for any person who would be so entitled but for being an infant or other person under disability, or for two or more persons who are or would be jointly so entitled, sections 713, 715 and 716 shall apply as if references to the transferor or the transferee (as the case may be) were to the person or persons for whom the nominee or trustee disposes or acquires.
- (2) ^{M1401}It is hereby declared that for the purposes of subsection (1) above—
- (a) securities are transferred by a person as trustee for another person absolutely entitled as against the trustee if that other person has immediately before the transfer the exclusive right to direct how the securities shall be dealt with, subject only to satisfying any outstanding charge, lien or other right of the trustee to resort to the securities for payment of duty, taxes, costs or other outgoings; and
 - (b) securities are transferred to a person as trustee for another person so entitled if that other person has that right immediately after the transfer.

- (4) ^{M1402}Where a person who is entitled to securities becomes trustee of them, he shall be treated for the purposes of sections 710 to 728 as transferring them (in a capacity other than trustee) to himself (in his capacity as trustee), or to himself and any other trustees, at the time he becomes trustee.
- (5) ^{M1403}Annual profits or gains which by virtue of 714(2) or 716(3) are treated as received in a year of assessment by trustees shall be chargeable to income tax [^{F3142}at the rate applicable to trusts] for that year.

723 Foreign securities: delayed remittances

- ^{M1409}(1) This section applies where in an interest period a person is treated as entitled to a sum or sums under section 713(2)(a) in respect of a transfer or transfers of securities of a particular kind which are situated outside the United Kingdom.
- (2) Subject to subsection (3) below, the amount of any annual profits or gains which the person is treated under section 714 as receiving on the day the period ends in respect of securities of that kind shall be reduced—
- (a) if the amount of the sum or aggregate of the sums exceeds the amount of the profits or gains, to nil; or
 - (b) in any other case, by the amount of the sum or aggregate.
- (3) No reduction shall be made unless the person makes a claim and shows that the conditions in subsection (5) below are, so far as applicable, satisfied in the chargeable period in which the profits or gains are treated as received.
- (4) The claimant (or his personal representatives) shall be charged to tax under Case VI of Schedule D on the amount of the reduction for the chargeable period in which the conditions in subsection (5) below cease to be satisfied.
- (5) The conditions are—
- (a) that the claimant was unable to remit the proceeds of the transfer or transfers to the United Kingdom;
 - (b) that the inability was due to the laws of the territory in which the securities are situated, or to the executive action of its government, or to the impossibility of obtaining foreign currency in that territory; and
 - (c) that the inability was not due to any want of reasonable endeavours on the part of the claimant.
- (6) No claim under this section shall be made in respect of a transfer more than six years after the end of the interest period in which the transfer occurred.
- (7) The personal representatives of a deceased person may make any claim which he might have made under this section if he had not died.
- (8) For the purposes of this section the place where securities are situated shall be determined in accordance with section [F3153 275 of the 1992] Act.

[726A F3157 New issues of securities.

- (1) This section applies where—
 - (a) securities (old securities) of a particular kind are issued by way of the original issue of securities of that kind,
 - (b) on a later occasion securities (new securities) of the same kind are issued,
 - (c) a sum (the extra return) is payable in respect of the new securities, by the person issuing them, to reflect the fact that interest is accruing on the old securities,
 - (d) the issue price of the new securities includes an element (whether or not separately identified) representing payment for the extra return, and
 - (e) the extra return is equal to the amount of interest payable for the relevant period on so many old securities as there are new (or, if there are more new securities than old, the amount of interest which would be so payable if there were as many old securities as new).
- (2) For the purposes of sections 710 to 728—
 - (a) the new securities shall be treated as having been issued on the relevant day;
 - (b) they shall be treated as transferred to the person to whom they are in fact issued (though not treated as transferred by any person);

- (c) the transfer shall be treated as a transfer with accrued interest and as made on the day on which the new securities are in fact issued;
 - (d) that day shall be treated as the settlement day (notwithstanding section 712); but this subsection is subject to subsection (7) below.
- (3) If the new securities are in fact issued under an arrangement by virtue of which the acquirer accounts to the issuer separately for the extra return mentioned in subsection (1) above and the rest of the issue price, in relation to the transfer mentioned in subsection (2)(b) above—
 - (a) section 713(4) shall not apply, and
 - (b) for the purposes of section 713(2) the accrued amount shall be the amount found under subsection (4) or (5) below (as the case may be);and here “the acquirer” means the person to whom the new securities are in fact issued and “the issuer” means the person by whom they are in fact issued.
- (4) Subject to subsection (5) below, the amount is one equal to the amount (if any) of the extra return separately accounted for.
- (5) If the interest on the new securities is payable in a currency other than sterling, the amount is the sterling equivalent on the settlement day of the amount found under subsection (4) above; and for this purpose the sterling equivalent of an amount on the settlement day is the sterling equivalent calculated by reference to the London closing rate of exchange for that day.
- (6) If the new securities are in fact issued otherwise than as mentioned in subsection (3) above, section 713(4)(b) shall apply in relation to the transfer mentioned in subsection (2)(b) above.
- (7) If the new securities are securities to which section 717 applies (after applying subsection (2)(a) above) subsection (2)(b) to (d) above shall not apply.
- (8) For the purposes of this section the relevant period is the period beginning with the day following the relevant day and ending with the day on which the new securities are in fact issued.
- (9) For the purposes of this section the relevant day is—
 - (a) the last (or only) interest payment day to fall in respect of the old securities before the day on which the new securities are in fact issued, or
 - (b) the day on which the old securities were issued, in a case where no interest payment day fell in respect of them before the day on which the new securities are in fact issued.]

730 Transfers of income arising from securities

- ^{M1413}(1) Where in any chargeable period the owner of any securities (“the owner”) sells or transfers the right to receive any interest payable (whether before or after the sale or transfer) in respect of the securities without selling or transferring the securities, then, for all the purposes of the Tax Acts, that interest, whether it would or would not be chargeable to tax apart from the provisions of this section—
- (a) shall be deemed to be the income of the owner or, in a case where the owner is not the beneficial owner of the securities and some other person (“a beneficiary”) is beneficially entitled to the income arising from the securities, the income of the beneficiary, and
 - (b) shall be deemed to be the income of the owner or beneficiary for that chargeable period, and
 - (c) shall not be deemed to be the income of any other person.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1) above, in the case of a sale or other realisation the proceeds of which are chargeable to tax [^{F3163}by virtue of section 18(3B)] the interest so deemed to be the income of the owner or beneficiary shall be deemed to be equal in amount to the amount of those proceeds.
- (3) Nothing in subsection (1) above shall affect any provision of this Act authorising or requiring the deduction of income tax—
- (a) from any interest which, under that subsection, is deemed to be the income of the owner or beneficiary, or
 - (b) from the proceeds of any subsequent sale or other realisation of the right to receive that interest;
- but the proceeds of any such subsequent sale or other realisation shall not, for any of the purposes of the Tax Acts, be deemed to be the income of the seller or the person on whose behalf the right is otherwise realised.
- (4) Where—
- (a) the securities are of such a character that the interest payable in respect thereof may be paid without deduction of income tax, and
 - (b) the owner or beneficiary does not show that the proceeds of any sale or other realisation of the right to receive the interest which is deemed to be his income by virtue of this section have been charged to tax [^{F3163}by virtue of section 18(3B)],
- then the owner or beneficiary shall be chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D in respect of that interest, but shall be entitled to credit for any tax which that interest is shown to have borne.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4) above, in any case where, if the interest had been chargeable under Case IV or Case V of Schedule D, the computation of tax would have been made by reference to the amount received in the United Kingdom, the tax under Case VI shall be computed on the full amount of the sums which have been or will be received in the United Kingdom in the year of assessment or any subsequent year in which the owner remains the owner of the securities.

- (6) In relation to corporation tax, subsections (4) and (5) above shall not apply but, subject to the provisions of the Tax Acts about distributions, the owner or beneficiary shall, in respect of any interest which is deemed to be his income by virtue of this section, be chargeable to corporation tax under Case VI of Schedule D unless he shows that the proceeds of any sale or other realisation of the right to receive that interest have been charged to tax [^{F3163}by virtue of section 18(3B)].
- (7) In this section—
 “interest” includes dividends, annuities and shares of annuities, and “securities” includes stocks and shares.
- (8) The Board may by notice require any person to furnish them within such time as they may direct (not being less than 28 days), in respect of all securities of which he was the owner at any time during the period specified in the notice, with such particulars as they consider necessary for the purposes of this section and for the purpose of discovering whether—
 (a) tax has been borne in respect of the interest on all those securities; or [^{F3164}730A] Treatment of price differential on sale and repurchase of securities.

- (1) Subject to subsection (8) below, this section applies where—
 (a) a person (“the original owner”) has transferred any securities to another person (“the interim holder”) under an agreement to sell them;
 (b) the original owner or a person connected with him is required to buy them back either—
 (i) in pursuance of an obligation to do so imposed by that agreement or by any related agreement, or
 (ii) in consequence of the exercise of an option acquired under that agreement or any related agreement;
 and
 (c) the sale price and the repurchase price are different.
- (2) The difference between the sale price and the repurchase price shall be treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts—
 (a) where the repurchase price is more than the sale price, as a payment of interest made by the repurchaser on a deemed loan from the interim holder of an amount equal to the sale price; and

^{F3166} 730 ~~EE~~ Change gains and losses on sale and repurchase of securities

- (1) For the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts, a company has a relationship to which this section applies in any case where—
 - (a) the circumstances are as set out in section 730A(1)(a) and (b);
 - (b) the company is the repurchaser of the securities or (subject to subsection (11) below) the interim holder;
 - (c) the conditions in subsection (2) or (3) below are satisfied; and
 - (d) subsection (10) below does not prevent this section from applying,and references to a relationship to which this section applies, and to a company's being a party to such a relationship, shall be construed accordingly.
- (2) The conditions in this subsection are that—
 - (a) the sale price and the repurchase price are expressed in a currency other than sterling;
 - (b) there is a difference between—
 - (i) the sterling equivalent of the sale price as at the date of the transfer of the securities to the interim holder (“the first sum”); and
 - (ii) the sterling equivalent of the sale price as at the date they are bought back by the repurchaser (“the second sum”); and
 - (c) the case is not one where section 93 of the Finance Act 1993 (accounts of a company in a currency other than sterling) applies in relation to the company.
- (3) The conditions in this subsection are that—
 - (a) the case is one where section 93 of the Finance Act 1993 applies in relation to the company;
 - (b) the sale price and the repurchase price are expressed in a currency other than the relevant foreign currency (within the meaning of that section) in relation to the company; and
 - (c) there is a difference between—
 - (i) the relevant foreign currency equivalent of the sale price as at the date of the transfer of the securities to the interim holder (“the first sum”); and
 - (ii) the relevant foreign currency equivalent of the sale price as at the date they are bought back by the repurchaser (“the second sum”).
- (4) Where a company has a relationship to which this section applies and—
 - (a) the company is the repurchaser and the first sum exceeds the second sum; or
 - (b) the company is the interim holder and the second sum exceeds the first sum,

the amount of the excess shall be treated for the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts as an exchange gain (within the meaning of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships)) arising to the company from the relationship.

- (5) Where a company has a relationship to which this section applies and—
- (a) the company is the repurchaser and the second sum exceeds the first sum; or
 - (b) the company is the interim holder and the first sum exceeds the second sum,
- the amount of the excess shall be treated for the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts as an exchange loss (within the meaning of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships)) arising to the company from the relationship.
- (6) Where an exchange gain or loss is treated by virtue of subsection (4) or (5) above as arising to a company from a relationship to which this section applies—
- (a) Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 shall have effect in relation to the exchange gain or loss as it would have effect if it were an exchange gain or loss (as the case may be) arising to the company from a loan relationship to which it is a party; but
 - (b) the only debits and credits to be brought into account for the purposes of that Chapter by virtue of this section in respect of the relationship to which this section applies are those relating to the exchange gains and losses,
- and, subject to paragraph (b) above, references in the Corporation Tax Acts to a loan relationship accordingly include a reference to a relationship to which this section applies.
- (7) Where a company has a relationship to which this section applies, the repurchase price shall be treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts (other than this section and sections 730A, 737A and 737C) and (in cases where section 263A of the 1992 Act does not apply) for the purposes of the 1992 Act—
- (a) in a case where an exchange gain arises to the company by virtue of subsection (4)(a) above or an exchange loss arises to the company by virtue of subsection (5)(b) above, as increased by the amount by which the first sum exceeds the second sum, and
 - (b) in a case where an exchange gain arises to the company by virtue of subsection (4)(b) above or an exchange loss arises to the company by virtue of subsection (5)(a) above, as reduced by the amount by which the second sum exceeds the first sum.
- (8) Any question whether debits or credits brought into account in accordance with subsection (6) above in relation to any company—
- (a) are to be brought into account under section 82(2) of the Finance Act 1996 (trading loan relationships); or
 - (b) are to be treated as non-trading debits or credits,
- shall be determined (subject to Schedule 11 to that Act (insurance companies)) according to the extent (if any) to which the company is a party to the repurchase in the course of activities forming an integral part of a trade carried on by that company.
- (9) To the extent that debits or credits fall to be brought into account by a company under section 82(2) of that Act in the case of a relationship to which this section applies, the company shall be regarded for the purposes of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 as being a party to the relationship for the purposes of a trade carried on by the company.

- (10) Except where regulations under section 737E otherwise provide, this section does not apply if—
- (a) the agreement or agreements under which provision is made for the sale and repurchase are not such as would be entered into by persons dealing with each other at arm's length; or
 - (b) all of the benefits and risks arising from fluctuations, before the repurchase takes place, in the market value of the securities sold accrue to, or fall on, the interim holder.
- (11) Where—
- (a) the repurchase price is more than the sale price, so that by virtue of section 730A(2)(a) a payment of interest is treated as made by the repurchaser on a deemed loan from the interim holder; but
 - (b) the payment of interest is treated as made to a person other than the interim holder,
- references to the “interim holder” in subsections (1), (4) and (5) above shall be read as references to the person to whom the payment of interest is treated as made.
- (12) Any reference in this section to the “relevant foreign currency equivalent” of an amount is, in the case of any company, a reference to the amount's equivalent expressed in the relevant foreign currency (within the meaning of section 93 of the Finance Act 1993) in relation to the company.
- (13) Expressions used in this section and in section 730A have the same meaning in this section as in that section.]

and in relation to any security comprised in the holding, the company having the holding is in subsection (2) below referred to as “the dealing company” and so much of any reduction in the value of the security as is attributable to any distribution falling within paragraph (b) above is in that subsection referred to as “the relevant reduction”.

- (2) Where this subsection applies, an amount equal to the relevant reduction in the value of a security comprised in the holding—
- (a) shall, if and so long as the security is not realised or appropriated as mentioned below, be added to the value of the security for the purposes of any valuation;
 - (b) shall be treated, on any realisation of the security in the course of trade, as a trading receipt of the dealing company or, in the event of a partial realisation, shall be so treated to an appropriate extent, and
 - (c) shall be treated as a trading receipt of the dealing company if the security is appropriated in such circumstances that a profit on the sale of the security would no longer form part of the dealing company’s trading profits.
- (3) References in this section to a holding in a company refer to a holding of securities by virtue of which the holder may receive distributions made by the company, but so that—
- (a) a company’s holdings of different classes in another company shall be treated as separate holdings, and
 - (b) holdings of securities which differ in the entitlements or obligations they confer or impose shall be regarded as holdings of different classes.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2) above—
- (a) all a company’s holdings of the same class in another company are to be treated as ingredients constituting a single holding, and
 - (b) a company’s holding of a particular class shall be treated as an ingredient in a holding amounting to 10 per cent. of all holdings of that class if the aggregate of that holding and other holdings of that class held by connected persons amounts to 10 per cent. of all holdings of that class;
- and section 839 shall have effect in relation to paragraph (b) above as if, in subsection (7) of that section, after the words “or exercise control of” in each place where they occur there were inserted the words “or to acquire a holding in”.
- (5) Where this section applies in relation to a distribution which consists of or includes interest to which section 732 applies, any reduction under that section in the price paid for the securities in respect of which the distribution is made shall be adjusted in such manner as seems appropriate to the Board to take account of subsection (2) above.
- (6) For the purposes of this section “security” includes a share or other right and a company is a “dealing company” in relation to a holding if a profit on a sale of the holding would be taken into account in computing the company’s trading profits.

- (a) the borrower under a stock lending arrangement is treated under section 736B(2) as paying under that arrangement an amount representative of interest on any securities (“the relevant securities”),
 - (b) an amount of money (“cash collateral”) is payable to or for the benefit of the lender for the purpose of securing the discharge of the requirement to transfer the relevant securities back to the lender,
 - (c) the stock lending arrangement is designed to produce a return to the borrower which equates, in substance, to the return on an investment of money at interest, and
 - (d) the main purpose, or one of the main purposes, of the stock lending arrangement is the obtaining of a tax advantage.
- (2) Where this section applies—
- (a) the Tax Acts are to apply as if the borrower receives an amount of interest payable in respect of the cash collateral, and
 - (b) the amount of the interest is calculated in accordance with the following provisions of this section (see, in particular, subsections (3) to (7)).
- (3) The interest is treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts as if it were received on the date (“the return date”) on which the borrower transfers the relevant securities back to the lender.
- (4) The interest is treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts as if it were payable in respect of the period (“the interest period”)—
- (a) beginning with the date on which the lender transfers the relevant securities to the borrower, and
 - (b) ending with the return date.
- (5) The rate of interest payable in respect of the cash collateral is a rate that is reasonably comparable to the rate that the borrower could obtain by placing the cash collateral on deposit for the interest period.
- (6) For the purposes of this section, the amount of the cash collateral on which the interest is payable is taken to be—
- (a) in any case where the amount of the cash collateral varies at any time on or before the return date, the highest amount of the cash collateral at any time on or before the return date, and
 - (b) in any other case, the amount of the cash collateral as at the return date.
- (7) The amount of the interest which the borrower is treated as receiving in respect of the cash collateral for the interest period is reduced (but not below nil) by any interest which the borrower actually receives in respect of that collateral for that period.
- (8) If the borrower is a person within the charge to income tax, the interest which the borrower is treated as receiving is charged to income tax under Chapter 2 of Part 4 of ITTOIA 2005 (interest).
- (9) If the borrower is a company within the charge to corporation tax—
- (a) the interest which the borrower is treated as receiving is treated for the purposes of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships) as payable to it on a money debt,

- (b) that money debt is treated for those purposes as a relationship to which section 100 of the Finance Act 1996 applies (money debts etc not arising from the lending of money), and
 - (c) the credits to be brought into account for those purposes in respect of the interest must be determined using an amortised cost basis of accounting.
- (10) The fact that the borrower is treated as receiving an amount of interest is not to be taken as implying that the interest is payable by the lender or any other person.
- (11) For the purposes of this section—
“money” includes money expressed in a currency other than sterling,
“stock lending arrangement” and “securities” have the same meanings as in section 263B of the 1992 Act, “tax advantage” has the meaning given by section 709(1).
- (12) For the purposes of this section—
(a) any reference to the transfer of securities back has the same meaning as in section 263B of the 1992 Act (see, in particular, sections 263B(5) and 263C(1) of that Act), but
(b) if it becomes apparent that the borrower will not comply with the requirement to transfer any securities back, the borrower is treated as if he transfers them back on the date on which it becomes so apparent.
- (13) For the purposes of this section it does not matter—
(a) whether the cash collateral is payable by the borrower or by any other person,
(b) whether the cash collateral is payable under the stock lending arrangement or under any other arrangement,
(c) whether collateral in another form is also provided in connection with the stock lending arrangement.

- (a) a person (“the lender”) transfers securities to another person (“the borrower”), and
 - (b) a requirement is imposed on a person to transfer any or all of the securities, or any other property, back to the lender or any other person, and it does not matter whether the person on whom that requirement is imposed is the borrower or any other person.
- (2) In this section “quasi-cash collateral”, in relation to any stock lending arrangement or quasi-stock lending arrangement, means—
- (a) any money which is payable for a relevant purpose, plus
 - (b) any other property which is transferable for a relevant purpose.
- (3) Money or other property is payable or transferable for a relevant purpose if it is payable or transferable to or for the benefit of—
- (a) the lender under the stock lending arrangement or quasi-stock lending arrangement, or
 - (b) a person connected with that lender, for the purpose of securing the discharge of the requirement to transfer any or all of the securities, or any other property, back to that lender or any other person.
- (4) For the purposes of sections 736B and 736C, a quasi-stock lending arrangement is treated as if it were a stock lending arrangement.
- (5) For the purposes of section 736C, in relation to any stock lending arrangement or quasi-stock lending arrangement,—
- (a) quasi-cash collateral is treated as if it were cash collateral, and
 - (b) the amount of the quasi-cash collateral in relation to the stock lending arrangement or quasi-stock lending arrangement is taken to be the amount of the cash collateral.
- (6) If any property other than money is transferable for a relevant purpose, the amount of the quasi-cash collateral so far as relating to that property is determined by reference to its market value.
- (7) In any case where—
- (a) section 736C applies in relation to a quasi-stock lending arrangement, and
 - (b) the person for whom the tax advantage was designed to be obtained is a person (“the other person”) other than the borrower under that arrangement, that section has effect as if the other person were the person who receives the amount of interest mentioned in that section.
- (8) In any case where section 736C applies in relation to a quasi-stock lending arrangement—
- (a) any reference in that section to cash collateral being payable to or for the benefit of the lender includes its being payable to or for the benefit of a person connected with the lender,
 - (b) the reference in subsection (1)(c) of that section to a return to the borrower includes a return to any other person, and
 - (c) any reference in that section to the transfer back of the relevant securities by the borrower to the lender includes the transfer back of any or all of the securities, or any other property, by any person to the lender or any other person.

[^{F3205}737] Deemed manufactured payments: further provisions.

- (1) This section applies where section 737A applies.
- (2) Subsection (3) below applies where—
 - (a) the dividend mentioned in section 737A(2)(a) is a dividend on United Kingdom equities, and
 - (b) by virtue of section 737A(5), ^{F3208} . . . paragraph 2 of Schedule 23A applies, in relation to the payment which is treated under section 737A(5) as having been made; and in subsection (3) below “the deemed manufactured dividend” means that payment.
- (3) Where this subsection applies—
 - (a) the amount of the deemed manufactured dividend shall be taken to be an amount equal to the amount of the dividend mentioned in section 737A(2)(a);
 - (b) the repurchase price of the securities shall be treated, for the purposes of [^{F3209}section 730A], as increased by an amount equal to the gross amount of the deemed manufactured dividend.
- (4) In subsection (3) above the reference to the gross amount of the deemed manufactured dividend is to the aggregate of—
 - (a) the amount of the deemed manufactured dividend, and
 - (b) the amount of the tax credit that would have been issued in respect of the deemed manufactured dividend had the deemed manufactured dividend in fact been a dividend on the United Kingdom equities.
- (5) ^{F3210}
- (6) ^{F3210}
- (7) Subsection (8) below applies where—
 - (a) the dividend mentioned in section 737A(2)(a) is a periodical payment of interest on United Kingdom securities, and
 - (b) by virtue of section 737A(5), paragraph 3 of Schedule 23A applies in relation to the payment which is treated under section 737A(5) as having been made ^{F3211}; and in subsection (8) below “the deemed manufactured interest” means the payment referred to in paragraph (b) above.
- (8) Where this subsection applies—
 - [^{F3212}(a) the amount which by virtue of section 737A(5) is taken to be the gross amount of the deemed manufactured payment for the purposes of paragraph 3 of Schedule 23A shall be taken to be the gross amount of the deemed manufactured interest for the purposes of this section;]
 - (b) any deduction which, by virtue of [^{F3213}that paragraph], is required to be made out of the gross amount of the deemed manufactured interest shall be deemed to have been made.
- (9) Where ^{F3214} . . . subsection (8) above applies, the repurchase price of the securities shall be treated, for the purposes of [^{F3209}section 730A], as increased by the gross amount of the deemed manufactured interest.
- (10) Subsection (11) below applies where—
 - (a) the dividend mentioned in section 737A(2)(a) is an overseas dividend, and

- (2) The Treasury may by regulations make provision for all or any of sections 727A, 730A and 737A to 737C to have effect with modifications in relation to cases where—
 - (a) arrangements, corresponding to those made in cases involving an arrangement for the sale and repurchase of securities, are made by any agreement, or by one or more related agreements, in relation to securities that are to be redeemed in the period after their sale; and
 - (b) those arrangements are such that the person making the sale or a person connected with him (instead of being required to repurchase the securities or acquiring an option to do so) is granted rights in respect of the benefits that will accrue from their redemption.
- (3) The Treasury may by regulations provide that section 730A is to have effect with modifications in relation to cases involving any arrangement for the sale and repurchase of securities where there is an agreement relating to the sale or repurchase which is not such as would be entered into by persons dealing with each other at arm's length.
- (4) The powers conferred by subsections (1) and (2) above shall be exercisable in relation to section 263A of the 1992 Act as they are exercisable in relation to section 730A of this Act.
- (5) Regulations made for the purposes of this section may—
 - (a) make different provision for different cases; and
 - (b) contain such supplementary, incidental, consequential and transitional provision as appears to the Treasury to be appropriate.
- (6) The supplementary, incidental and consequential provision that may be made by regulations under this section shall include—
 - (a) in the case of regulations relating to section 730A, provision modifying subsections (3)(b), (9), (11)(c) and (11A) of section 737C; and
 - (b) in the case of regulations relating to section 263A of the 1992 Act, provision modifying the operation of that Act in relation to cases where by virtue of the regulations any acquisition or disposal is excluded from those which are to be disregarded for the purposes of capital gains tax.
- (7) In this section “modifications” includes exceptions and omissions; and any power under this section to provide for an enactment to have effect with modifications in any case shall include power to provide for it not to apply (if it otherwise would do) in that case.
- (8) References in this section to a case involving an arrangement for the sale and repurchase of securities are references to any case where—
 - (a) a person makes a sale of any securities under any agreement (“the original sale”); and
 - (b) that person or a person connected with him either—
 - (i) is required under that agreement or any related agreement to buy them back; or
 - (ii) acquires, under that agreement or any related agreement, an option to buy them back.
- (9) Section 730B shall apply for the purposes of this section as it applies for the purposes of section 730A.]

CHAPTER III

TRANSFER OF ASSETS ABROAD

739 Prevention of avoidance of income tax.

- ^{M1425}(1) Subject to section 747(4)(b), the following provisions of this section shall have effect for the purpose of preventing the avoiding by individuals ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom of liability to income tax by means of transfers of assets by virtue or in consequence of which, either alone or in conjunction with associated operations, income becomes payable to persons resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- [^{F3223}(1A) Nothing in subsection (1) above shall be taken to imply that the provisions of subsections (2) and (3) below apply only if—
- (a) the individual in question was ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom at the time when the transfer was made; or
 - (b) the avoiding of liability to income tax is the purpose, or one of the purposes, for which the transfer was effected.]
- (2) Where by virtue or in consequence of any such transfer, either alone or in conjunction with associated operations, such an individual has, within the meaning of this section, power to enjoy, whether forthwith or in the future, any income of a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom which, if it were income of that individual received by him in the United Kingdom, would be chargeable to income tax by deduction or otherwise, that income shall, whether it would or would not have been chargeable to income tax apart from the provisions of this section, be deemed to be income of that individual for all purposes of the Income Tax Acts.
- (3) Where, whether before or after any such transfer, such an individual receives or is entitled to receive any capital sum the payment of which is in any way connected with the transfer or any associated operation, any income which, by virtue or in consequence of the transfer, either alone or in conjunction with associated operations, has become the income of a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom shall, whether it would or would not have been chargeable to income tax apart from the provisions of this section, be deemed to be income of that individual for all purposes of the Income Tax Acts.
- (4) In subsection (3) above “capital sum” means, subject to subsection (5) below—
- (a) any sum paid or payable by way of loan or repayment of a loan, and
 - (b) any other sum paid or payable otherwise than as income, being a sum which is not paid or payable for full consideration in money or money’s worth.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (3) above, there shall be treated as a capital sum which an individual receives or is entitled to receive any sum which a third person receives or is entitled to receive at the individual’s direction or by virtue of the assignment by him of his right to receive it.
- (6) Income shall not by virtue of subsection (3) above be deemed to be that of an individual for any year of assessment by reason only of his having received a sum by way of loan if that sum has been wholly repaid before the beginning of that year.

740 Liability of non-transferors.

^{M1426}(1) This section has effect where—

- (a) by virtue or in consequence of a transfer of assets, either alone or in conjunction with associated operations, income becomes payable to a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom; and
- (b) an individual ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom who is not liable to tax under section 739 by reference to the transfer receives a benefit provided out of assets which are available for the purpose by virtue or in consequence of the transfer or of any associated operations.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this section, the amount or value of any such benefit as is mentioned in subsection (1) above, if not otherwise chargeable to income tax in the hands of the recipient, shall—

- (a) to the extent to which it falls within the amount of relevant income of years of assessment up to and including the year of assessment in which the benefit is received, be treated for all the purposes of the Income Tax Acts as the income of the individual for that year;
- (b) to the extent to which it is not by virtue of this subsection treated as his income for that year and falls within the amount of relevant income of the next following year of assessment, be treated for those purposes as his income for the next following year, and so on for subsequent years, taking the reference in paragraph (b) to the year mentioned in paragraph (a) as a reference to that and any other year before the subsequent year in question.

(3) Subject to subsection (7) below and section 744(1), the relevant income of a year of assessment, in relation to an individual, is any income which arises in that year to a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom and which by virtue or in consequence of the transfer or associated operations referred to in subsection (1) above can directly or indirectly be used for providing a benefit for the individual or for enabling a benefit to be provided for him.

(4) Income tax chargeable by virtue of this section shall be charged under Case VI of Schedule D.

(5) An individual who is domiciled outside the United Kingdom shall not, in respect of any benefit not received in the United Kingdom, be chargeable to tax under this section by reference to relevant income which is such that if he had received it he would not, by reason of his being so domiciled, have been chargeable to income tax in respect of it; and subsections (6) to (9) of section 65 shall apply for the purposes of this subsection as they would apply for the purposes of subsection (5) of that section if the benefit were income arising from possessions outside the United Kingdom.

(6) Where—

- (a) the whole or part of the benefit received by an individual in a year of assessment is a capital payment [^{F3224}to which section 87 or 89(2) of, or paragraph 8 of Schedule 4C to, the 1992 Act applies] (chargeable gains:

- (b) chargeable gains are by reason of that payment treated under either of those sections [^{F3226}, or that paragraph,] as accruing to him in that or a subsequent year, paragraph (b) of that subsection shall apply in relation to any year of assessment (“a year of charge”) after one in which chargeable gains have been so treated as accruing to him as if a part of the amount or value of the benefit corresponding to the amount of those gains had been treated under that subsection as his income for a year of assessment before the year of charge.

- (7) This section applies irrespective of when the transfer or associated operations referred to in subsection (1) above took place, but applies only to relevant income arising on or after 10th March 1981.

741 Exemption from sections 739 and 740.

^{M1427}Sections 739 and 740 shall not apply if the individual shows in writing or otherwise to the satisfaction of the Board either—

- (a) that the purpose of avoiding liability to taxation was not the purpose or one of the purposes for which the transfer or associated operations or any of them were effected; or
- (b) that the transfer and any associated operations were bona fide commercial transactions and were not designed for the purpose of avoiding liability to taxation.

[^{F3227}741] Exemption from sections 739 and 740 (transactions on or after 5th December 2005)

- (1) The individual is not liable to income tax by virtue of section 739 or 740 for the year of assessment by reference to the relevant transactions if he satisfies an officer of the Board—
 - (a) that Condition A is met, or
 - (b) in a case where Condition A is not met, that Condition B is met.
- (2) Condition A is that it would not be reasonable to draw the conclusion, from all the circumstances of the case, that the purpose of avoiding liability to taxation was the purpose, or one of the purposes, for which the relevant transactions or any of them were effected.
- (3) Condition B is that—
 - (a) all the relevant transactions were genuine commercial transactions, and
 - (b) it would not be reasonable to draw the conclusion, from all the circumstances of the case, that any one or more of those transactions was more than incidentally designed for the purpose of avoiding liability to taxation.
- (4) The intentions and purposes of any person who, whether or not for consideration,—
 - (a) designs or effects the relevant transactions or any of them, or
 - (b) provides advice in relation to the relevant transactions or any of them, are to be taken into account in determining the purposes for which those transactions or any of them were effected.
- (5) A relevant transaction is a commercial transaction only if it is effected—
 - (a) in the course of a trade or business, or
 - (b) with a view to setting up and commencing a trade or business, and, in either case, for the purposes of that trade or business.
- (6) For that purpose, the making and managing of investments, or the making or managing of investments, is not a trade or business except to the extent that—
 - (a) the person by whom it is done, and
 - (b) the person for whom it is done, are independent persons dealing at arm's length.
- (7) In this section—

“commercial transaction” does not include—

 - (a) a transaction on terms other than those that would have been made between independent persons dealing at arm's length, or
 - (b) a transaction that would not have been entered into between independent persons dealing at arm's length;

“independent persons” means persons who are not connected with each other (within the meaning given by section 839);

“relevant transactions” means—

 - (a) the transfer, and
 - (b) any associated operations;

“revenue” includes taxes, duties and national insurance contributions;
“taxation” includes any revenue for whose collection and management the Commissioners for Her Majesty’s Revenue and Customs are responsible.

- (8) Any associated operation that would not (apart from this subsection) fall to be taken into account for the purposes of this section must be taken into account for those purposes if, were it to be so taken into account, the conditions in subsection (1) above would be failed by reference to—
- (a) that associated operation, or
 - (b) that associated operation taken together with the transfer or any one or more other associated operations.
- (9) The jurisdiction of the Special Commissioners on any appeal includes jurisdiction to review any decision taken by an officer of the Board in exercise of the officer’s functions under this section.
- (10) This section is subject to sections 741B and 741C (application of section 741 and this section etc).]

VALID FROM 05/12/2005

[^{F3229}741B] Section 739: just and reasonable apportionment in certain cases

- (1) This section applies where—
 - (a) an individual is liable to tax by virtue of section 739 for a year of assessment (the “taxable year”), but
 - (b) the conditions in subsections (2) to (4) below are met.
- (2) Condition 1 is that since the making of the transfer there have been one or more years of assessment when the circumstances were such that, so far as relating to such of the relevant transactions as were effected before the end of the year, the individual—
 - (a) was not liable to tax by virtue of section 739, or
 - (b) would not have been liable to tax by virtue of section 739 if there had been any deemed income of his under that section,because an appropriate exemption applied or, in a case falling within paragraph (b) above, would have applied.
- (3) Condition 2 is that the individual is liable to tax under section 739 in the taxable year in consequence of Condition B in section 741A(3) not being met.
- (4) Condition 3 is that the income by reference to which the individual is liable to tax for the taxable year is attributable—
 - (a) partly to relevant transactions by reference to which the appropriate exemption applied for the last exempt year of assessment, and
 - (b) partly to associated operations not falling within paragraph (a) above (“chargeable operations”).
- (5) For the purposes of this section, a year of assessment is “exempt” if it is one of the years of assessment mentioned in subsection (2) and there is no earlier year of assessment for which—
 - (a) the individual was liable to tax by virtue of section 739, or
 - (b) the individual would have been liable to tax by virtue of section 739, if there had been any deemed income of his under that section.
- (6) Where this section applies, the liability of the individual is to be reduced as if it fell to be determined by reference to only so much of the income as appears to an officer of the Board to be justly and reasonably attributable to chargeable operations in all the circumstances of the case.
- (7) The facts and matters that may be taken into account in determining for the purposes of subsection (6) above whether income may be regarded as justly and reasonably attributable to chargeable operations include whether, and to what extent, the chargeable operations or any of them directly or indirectly affect any of the following—
 - (a) the character, description or amount of any income of any person,

- (b) any person's power to enjoy any income,
 - (c) the character, description or amount of any income which a person has power to enjoy.
- (8) The jurisdiction of the Special Commissioners on any appeal includes jurisdiction to review any decision taken by an officer of the Board in exercise of the officer's functions under this section.
- (9) In this section—
- “appropriate exemption” means exemption by virtue of—
 - (a) paragraph (b) of section 741(1), or
 - (b) Condition B in section 741A(3);
 - “relevant transactions” means—
 - (a) the transfer, and
 - (b) any associated operations.]

742 Interpretation of sections 739 to 741.

- (1) ^{M1428}F For the purposes of sections 739 to 741 “an associated operation” means, in relation to any transfer, an operation of any kind effected by any person in relation to any of the assets transferred or any assets representing, whether directly or indirectly, any of the assets transferred, or to the income arising from any such assets, or to any assets representing, whether directly or indirectly, the accumulations of income arising from any such assets.
- (2) An individual shall, for the purposes of section 739, be deemed to have power to enjoy income of a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom if—
- (a) the income is in fact so dealt with by any person as to be calculated, at some point of time, and whether in the form of income or not, to enure for the benefit of the individual; or
 - (b) the receipt or accrual of the income operates to increase the value to the individual of any assets held by him or for his benefit; or
 - (c) the individual receives or is entitled to receive, at any time, any benefit provided or to be provided out of that income or out of moneys which are or will be available for the purpose by reason of the effect or successive effects of the associated operations on that income and on any assets which directly or indirectly represent that income; or
 - (d) the individual may, in the event of the exercise or successive exercise of one or more powers, by whomsoever exercisable and whether with or without the consent of any other person, become entitled to the beneficial enjoyment of the income; or
 - (e) the individual is able in any manner whatsoever, and whether directly or indirectly, to control the application of the income.
- (3) In determining whether an individual has power to enjoy income within the meaning of subsection (2) above—

- (a) regard shall be had to the substantial result and effect of the transfer and any associated operations, and
 - (b) all benefits which may at any time accrue to the individual (whether or not he has rights at law or in equity in or to those benefits) as a result of the transfer and any associated operations shall be taken into account irrespective of the nature or form of the benefits.
- (4) ^{M1429}Subsection (5) below applies where a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom throughout any chargeable period in which an interest period (or part of it) falls would, at the end of the interest period, have been treated under section 714(2) as receiving annual profits or gains or annual profits or gains of a greater amount if he had been resident or domiciled in the United Kingdom during a part of each such chargeable period.
- (5) Sections 739 to 741 shall have effect as if the amount which the person would be treated as receiving or the additional amount (as the case may be) were income becoming payable to him; and, accordingly, any reference in those sections to income of (or payable or arising to) such a person shall be read as including a reference to such an amount.
- (6) Where income of a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom throughout any chargeable period in which an interest period (or part of it) falls consists of interest—
 - (a) which falls due at the end of the interest period, and
 - (b) which would have been treated under section 714(5) as reduced by an allowance or an allowance of a greater amount if he had been resident or domiciled in the United Kingdom during a part of each such chargeable period,then for the purposes of sections 739 to 741, the interest shall be treated as being reduced by the amount of the allowance or by the additional amount (as the case may be).
- (7) In subsections (4) to (6) above “interest period” has the meaning given by section 711.
- (8) ^{M1430}F^{F3230}For the purposes of sections 739 to 741, any body corporate incorporated outside the United Kingdom ^{F3230}. . . shall be treated as if it were resident outside the United Kingdom whether it is so resident or not.
- (9) For the purposes of sections 739 to 741—
 - (a) a reference to an individual shall be deemed to include the wife or husband of the individual;
 - (b) “assets” includes property or rights of any kind and “transfer”, in relation to rights, includes the creation of those rights;
 - (c) “benefit” includes a payment of any kind;
 - (d) references to income of a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom shall, where the amount of the income of a company for any year or period has been apportioned under section 423, include references to so much of the income of the company for that year or period as is equal to the amount so apportioned to that person, and that amount shall be treated as increased by such proportion of itself as corresponds to the rate of advance corporation tax applicable to a distribution made at the end of the accounting period to which the apportionment relates^{F3231},

- (b) one of those persons is resident in the United Kingdom and is a person in whose case the 40 per cent test in section 755D(3) is satisfied; and
- (c) the other is a person in whose case the 40 per cent test in section 755D(4) is satisfied.]

(2) A company which falls within paragraphs (a) to (c) of subsection (1) above is in this Chapter referred to as a “controlled foreign company”.

(3) [^{F3243}Subject to section 748, where] the provisions of this Chapter apply in relation to an accounting period of a controlled foreign company, the chargeable profits of that company for that period and its creditable tax (if any) for that period shall each be apportioned in accordance with section 752 among the persons (whether resident in the United Kingdom or not) who had an interest in that company at any time during that accounting period.

(4) Where, on such an apportionment of a controlled foreign company’s chargeable profits for an accounting period as is referred to in subsection (3) above, an amount of those profits is apportioned to a company resident in the United Kingdom then, subject to subsection (5) below—

- (a) a sum equal to corporation tax at the appropriate rate on that apportioned amount of profits, less the portion of the controlled foreign company’s creditable tax for that period (if any) which is apportioned to the resident company, shall be [^{F3244}chargeable on] the resident company as if it were an amount of corporation tax chargeable on that company; and
- (b) if, apart from this paragraph, section 739 would deem any sum forming part of the company’s chargeable profits for that accounting period to be the income of an individual for the purposes of the Income Tax Acts, that section shall not apply to such portion of that sum as corresponds to the portion of those chargeable profits which is apportioned to companies which are resident in the

- (6) In relation to a company resident outside the United Kingdom—
- (a) any reference in this Chapter to its chargeable profits for an accounting period is a reference to the amount which, on the assumptions in Schedule 24, would be the amount of the total profits of the company for that period on which, after allowing for any deductions available against those profits, corporation tax would be chargeable; and
 - (b) any reference in this Chapter to profits does not include a reference to chargeable gains but otherwise (except as provided by paragraph (a) above) has the same meaning as it has for the purposes of corporation tax.

[^{F3271}749] Interests in companies.

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter, the following persons have an interest in a company—
- (a) any person who possesses, or is entitled to acquire, share capital or voting rights in the company;
 - (b) any person who possesses, or is entitled to acquire, a right to receive or participate in distributions of the company;
 - (c) any person who is entitled to secure that income or assets (whether present or future) of the company will be applied directly or indirectly for his benefit; and
 - (d) any other person who, either alone or together with other persons, has control of the company.
- (2) Rights which a person has as a loan creditor of a company do not constitute an interest in the company for the purposes of this Chapter.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b) above, the definition of “distribution” in Part VI shall be construed without any limitation to companies resident in the United Kingdom.
- (4) References in subsection (1) above to being entitled to do anything apply where a person—
- (a) is presently entitled to do it at a future date, or
 - (b) will at a future date be entitled to do it;
- but a person whose entitlement to secure that any income or assets of the company will be applied as mentioned in paragraph (c) of that subsection is contingent upon a default of the company or any other person under any agreement shall not be treated as falling within that paragraph unless the default has occurred.

- ^{M1439}(1) Without prejudice to [^{F3272}subsection (5)] of section 749, a company which, by virtue of [^{F3273}any of subsections (1) to (4)] of that section, is to be regarded as resident in a particular territory outside the United Kingdom shall be considered to be subject to a lower level of taxation in that territory if the amount of tax (“the local tax”) which is paid under the law of that territory in respect of the profits of the company which arise in any accounting period is less than [^{F3274}three-quarters] of the corresponding United Kingdom tax on those profits.
- (2) For the purposes of this Chapter, the amount of the corresponding United Kingdom tax on the profits arising in an accounting period of a company resident outside the United Kingdom is the amount of corporation tax which, on the assumptions set out in Schedule 24 and subject to subsection (3) below, would be chargeable in respect of the chargeable profits of the company for that accounting period.
- (3) In determining the amount of corporation tax which, in accordance with subsection (2) above, would be chargeable in respect of the chargeable profits of an accounting period of a company resident outside the United Kingdom—
- [^{F3275}(a) it shall be assumed for the purposes of Schedule 24 that an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made as regards that period; and]
- (b) there shall be disregarded so much of any relief from corporation tax in respect of income as would be attributable to the local tax and would fall to be given by virtue of any provision of Part XVIII ^{F3276} . . . ; and
- (c) there shall be deducted from what would otherwise be the amount of that corporation tax—
- (i) any amount which (on the assumptions set out in Schedule 24) would fall to be set off against corporation tax by virtue of section 7(2); and

751A Reduction in chargeable profits for certain activities of EEA business establishments

- (1) This section applies if—
 - (a) an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made as regards an accounting period (“the relevant accounting period”) of a controlled foreign company,
 - (b) throughout that period the controlled foreign company has a business establishment in an EEA territory,
 - (c) throughout that period there are individuals who work for the controlled foreign company in that territory, and
 - (d) a company resident in the United Kingdom (“the UK resident company”) has a relevant interest in the controlled foreign company in that period.
- (2) The UK resident company may make an application to the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs for the chargeable profits of the controlled foreign company for the relevant accounting period to be reduced by an amount (“the specified amount”) specified in the application (including to nil).
- (3) If the Commissioners grant the application—
 - (a) those chargeable profits are treated as reduced by the specified amount, and
 - (b) the controlled foreign company's creditable tax (if any) for that period is treated as reduced by so much of that tax as, on a just and reasonable basis, relates to the reduction in those chargeable profits,for the purpose of applying section 747(3) to (5) for determining the sum (if any) chargeable on the UK resident company under section 747(4)(a) (but for no other purpose).
- (4) The Commissioners may grant the application only if they are satisfied that the specified amount does not exceed the amount (if any) equal to so much of those chargeable profits as can reasonably be regarded as representing the net economic value which—
 - (a) arises to the appropriate body of persons (taken as a whole), and
 - (b) is created directly by qualifying work.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4) “net economic value” does not include any value which derives directly or indirectly from the reduction or elimination of any liability of any person to any tax or duty imposed under the law of any territory.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (4) “the appropriate body of persons” means—

- and for the purposes of this subsection “group of companies” means a company and any other companies of which it has control.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (4) “qualifying work” means work which—
- (a) is done in any EEA territory in which the controlled foreign company has a business establishment throughout the relevant accounting period, and
 - (b) is done in that territory by individuals working for the controlled foreign company there.
- (8) Any reference in this section to a business establishment of a controlled foreign company in an EEA territory is to be construed in accordance with paragraph 7 of Schedule 25 (but as if the reference in that paragraph to the territory in which the company is resident were to the EEA territory).
- (9) For the purposes of this section individuals are not to be regarded as working for a company in any territory unless—
- (a) they are employed by the company in the territory, or
 - (b) they are otherwise directed by the company to perform duties on its behalf in the territory.

 - (i) the amount (if any) by which the controlled foreign company's finance income for the relevant accounting period exceeds 5% of its gross income for that period, or
 - (ii) if that amount is a negligible amount, nil.
- (7) “The excess finance and IP income” for the relevant accounting period means—
- (a) the amount (if any) by which the total of the controlled foreign company's finance income and relevant IP income for that period exceeds 5% of its gross income for that period, or
 - (b) if that amount is a negligible amount, nil.
- (8) Net chargeable profits are excluded by this subsection if, and to the extent that, they can reasonably be regarded—
- (a) as representing the net economic value which—
 - (i) arises to the appropriate body of persons (taken as a whole), and
 - (ii) is created directly by qualifying work, or
 - (b) as not being wholly or partly attributable, directly or indirectly, to transactions with persons within the charge to United Kingdom tax.
- (9) In subsection (8)(a) “qualifying work” means work which—
- (a) is done in the territory in which the controlled foreign company is resident, and

- (b) is done in that territory by individuals working for the controlled foreign company there.
- (10) A transaction with a company which is within the charge to United Kingdom tax only because it carries on a trade in the United Kingdom through a permanent establishment there is within subsection (8)(b) only if the transaction is attributable to activities carried on through that establishment.
- (11) For the purposes of subsections (8) and (9)—
- (a) section 751A(5), (6) and (9) applies as it applies for the purposes of the equivalent provisions of section 751A, and
 - (b) paragraph 5(2) to (5) of Schedule 25 (residence of controlled foreign company) applies as it applies in relation to Part 2 of that Schedule.
- (12) In this section—
- “finance income” has the meaning given by paragraph 12F(3) of Schedule 25 (with references to C read as references to the controlled foreign company);
 - “relevant IP income” has the meaning given by paragraph 12F(4) of that Schedule;
 - “net chargeable profits” means chargeable profits excluding so much of those profits as is directly attributable to the finance income or relevant IP income of the controlled foreign company;
 - “UK-connected gross income” has the same meaning as in paragraph 12E of Schedule 25;
 - “United Kingdom tax” means corporation tax or income tax;
- and paragraph 12G of that Schedule (gross income) applies for the purposes of this section as it applies for the purposes of Part 2A of that Schedule (with references to C read as references to the controlled foreign company).]

[^{F3292}751AC] Reduction in chargeable profits following an exempt period

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) an exempt period in relation to a controlled foreign company ends in accordance with paragraph 15F(2) of Schedule 25 (time exempt period ends if there is an early termination event), other than by reason of an early termination event within paragraph 15F(3)(b),
 - (b) an accounting period (“the relevant accounting period”) of the company ends after that exempt period but before the time the exempt period would have ended had paragraph 15F(2) of that Schedule not applied,
 - (c) an apportionment under section 747(3) would fall to be made as regards the relevant accounting period, and

- (d) a company resident in the United Kingdom (“the UK resident company”) has a relevant interest in the controlled foreign company in that period.
- (2) The UK resident company may make an application to the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs for the chargeable profits of the controlled foreign company for that accounting period (“the chargeable profits”) to be reduced to an amount (“the specified amount”) specified in the application (which may be nil).
- (3) If the Commissioners grant the application—
- (a) the chargeable profits are treated as reduced to the specified amount, and
 - (b) the controlled foreign company's creditable tax (if any) for that period is treated as reduced by so much of that tax as, on a just and reasonable basis, relates to the reduction in the chargeable profits,
- for the purpose of applying section 747(3) to (5) for determining the sum (if any) chargeable on the UK resident company under section 747(4)(a) (but for no other purpose).
- (4) The Commissioners may grant the application only if—
- (a) they are satisfied that the specified amount is not less than the relevant amount, and
 - (b) they have not previously granted an application made by the UK resident company in respect of the relevant accounting period under section 751A or 751AB.
- (5) “The relevant amount” means the amount (if any) equal to so much of the chargeable profits as it is just and reasonable to regard as referable to—
- (a) the relevant transaction which triggered the end of the exempt period, or
 - (b) any later relevant transaction occurring before the time the exempt period would have ended had paragraph 15F(2) of Schedule 25 not applied.
- (6) “Relevant transaction” has the meaning given by paragraph 15E of Schedule 25 (and it does not matter if the transaction occurs pursuant to an agreement entered into by the controlled foreign company before the relevant time (within the meaning of paragraph 15G of that Schedule)).]

751B Section 751A: supplementary

- (1) An application by a company under section 751A—
- (a) must be made in such form as the HMRC Commissioners may determine,
 - (b) must be accompanied by such documents (or copies of documents) in the company's possession or power as those Commissioners may reasonably require for the purpose of determining whether to grant the application, and

- (c) must contain such information as those Commissioners may reasonably require for that purpose.
- (2) An application by a company under section 751A—
 - (a) may be made at any time on or before the filing date (within the meaning of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998) for the relevant company tax return of the company, and
 - (b) may be amended or withdrawn at any time before the application is determined by those Commissioners.
- (3) If an application by a company under section 751A is granted after the company has delivered its relevant company tax return, it has 30 days beginning with the day on which the application is granted in which to amend that return to give effect to section 751A.
- (4) The time limits otherwise applicable to an amendment of a company tax return do not prevent an amendment being made under subsection (3).
- (5) If the HMRC Commissioners refuse an application by a company under section 751A, the company may appeal to the Special Commissioners against the refusal.
- (6) Notice of an appeal must be given in writing to the HMRC Commissioners within 30 days after the application is refused.
- (7) On an appeal—
 - (a) if the Special Commissioners are satisfied that the relevant amount is a different amount from the amount specified in the application, they must direct the HMRC Commissioners to grant the application as if the amount specified in it were that different amount,
 - (b) if the Special Commissioners are satisfied that the relevant amount is the amount specified in the application, they must direct the HMRC Commissioners to grant the application, and
 - (c) in any other case, the Special Commissioners must confirm the refusal.
- (8) For the purposes of subsection (7) “the relevant amount” means the amount (if any) equal to so much of the chargeable profits mentioned in subsection (4) of section 751A as can reasonably be regarded as representing the value mentioned in that subsection.
- (9) Part 5 of the Management Act (appeals against assessments to tax), apart from section 50, applies in relation to an appeal under this section as it applies in relation to an appeal against an assessment to tax.
- (10) In this section “relevant company tax return”, in relation to a company, means the return for the accounting period for which—
 - (a) any sum is chargeable on the company under section 747(4)(a), or
 - (b) any sum would be so chargeable but for section 751A,in respect of the chargeable profits of the controlled foreign company for the accounting period mentioned in section 751A(1).
- (11) In this section “the HMRC Commissioners” means the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs.

^{F3293}752 Apportionment of chargeable profits and creditable tax

- (1) This section applies in any case where an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made as regards an accounting period of a controlled foreign company.
- (2) Where—
 - (a) the persons who have relevant interests in the controlled foreign company at any time in the relevant accounting period have those interests by virtue only of directly or indirectly holding ordinary shares of the company,
 - (b) each of those persons satisfies the condition that he is either—
 - (i) resident in the United Kingdom throughout that accounting period, or
 - (ii) resident in the United Kingdom at no time in that accounting period, and
 - (c) no company which has an intermediate interest in the controlled foreign company at any time in the relevant accounting period has that interest otherwise than by virtue of directly or indirectly holding ordinary shares of the controlled foreign company, subsection (3) below shall apply.
- (3) Where this subsection applies, the apportionment of the controlled foreign company's chargeable profits and creditable tax (if any) for the relevant accounting period shall be made among the persons who have relevant interests in the company at any time in that period in direct proportion to the percentage of the issued ordinary shares of the controlled foreign company which, in accordance with section 752B, each of those relevant interests represents.
- (4) Where subsection (3) above does not apply, the apportionment of the controlled foreign company's chargeable profits and creditable tax (if any) for the relevant accounting period shall be made on a just and reasonable basis among the persons who have relevant interests in the company at any time in that period.]

where—

P is the product of the appropriate fractions of that person and each of the share-linked companies through which he indirectly holds the shares in question, other than the lowest share-linked company; and

S is the percentage of issued ordinary shares of the controlled foreign company which is held directly by the lowest share-linked company.

(2) In subsection (1) above and this subsection—

“the appropriate fraction”, in the case of a person who directly holds ordinary shares of a share-linked company, means that fraction of the issued ordinary shares of that company which his holding represents;

“the lowest share-linked company”, in relation to a person who indirectly holds ordinary shares of a controlled foreign company, means the share-linked company which directly holds the shares in question;

“share-linked company” means a company which is share-linked to the controlled foreign company in question.

(3) Where a person has different indirect holdings of shares of the controlled foreign company (as in a case where different shares are held through different companies which are share-linked to the controlled foreign company)—

(a) subsection (1) above shall apply separately in relation to the different holdings with any necessary modifications; and

(b) for the purposes of section 752(3) above the percentage of the issued ordinary shares of the company which the relevant interest represents is the aggregate of the percentages resulting from those separate applications.

(4) Where, for the purposes of subsection (3) of section 752, the percentage of the issued ordinary shares of the controlled foreign company which a person directly or indirectly holds varies during the relevant accounting period, he shall be treated for the purposes of that subsection as holding throughout that period that percentage of the issued ordinary shares of the company which is equal to the sum of the relevant percentages for each holding period in the relevant accounting period.

(5) For the purposes of subsection (4) above—

“holding period”, in the case of any person, means a part of the relevant accounting period during which the percentage of the issued ordinary shares of the controlled foreign company which the person holds (whether directly or indirectly) remains the same;

“the relevant percentage”, in the case of a holding period, means the percentage equal to—

 - (a) a person has a direct interest in a company if (and only if) he has an interest in the company otherwise than by virtue of having an interest in another company;
 - (b) a person has an indirect interest in a company if (and only if) he has an interest in the company by virtue of having an interest in another company;
 - (c) a person indirectly holds shares of a controlled foreign company if (and only if) he directly holds ordinary shares of a company which is share-linked to the controlled foreign company.
- (3) For the purposes of the relevant provisions, a company is “share-linked” to a controlled foreign company if it has an interest in the controlled foreign company only by virtue of directly holding ordinary shares—
 - (a) of the controlled foreign company, or
 - (b) of the controlled foreign company or of one or more companies which are share-linked to the controlled foreign company by virtue of paragraph (a) above, or
 - (c) of the controlled foreign company or of one or more companies which are share-linked to the controlled foreign company by virtue of paragraph (a) or (b) above,and so on.
- (4) For the purposes of the relevant provisions, a company (“company A”) has an intermediate interest in a controlled foreign company if (and only if)—
 - (a) it has a direct or indirect interest in the controlled foreign company; and
 - (b) one or more other persons have relevant interests in the controlled foreign company by virtue of having a direct or indirect interest in company A.
- (5) Any interest or shares held by a nominee or bare trustee shall be treated for the purposes of the relevant provisions as held by the person or persons for whom the nominee or bare trustee holds the interest or shares.
- (6) Where—
 - (a) an interest in a controlled foreign company is held in a fiduciary or representative capacity, and
 - (b) subsection (5) above does not apply, but the interest shall be treated for the purposes of the relevant provisions as held by that beneficiary or, as the case may be, as apportioned on a just and reasonable basis among those beneficiaries.

(7) In the relevant provisions—

“bare trustee” means a person acting as trustee—

- (a) for a person absolutely entitled as against the trustee; or
- (b) for any person who would be so entitled but for being a minor or otherwise under a disability; or
- (c) for two or more persons who are or would, but for all or any of them being a minor or otherwise under a disability, be jointly so entitled;

“ordinary shares”, in the case of any company, means shares of a single class, however described, which is the only class of shares issued by the company;

“the relevant accounting period” means the accounting period mentioned in section 752(1);

“share” includes a reference to a fraction of a share.]

^{F3311} 754 Returns where it is not established whether acceptable distribution policy applies.

- (1) This section applies where—
- (a) a company resident in the United Kingdom (“the UK company”) has an interest in a controlled foreign company at any time during an accounting period of the controlled foreign company;
 - (b) the UK company delivers a company tax return; and
 - (c) at the time when the UK company delivers the company tax return, it is not established whether or not the controlled foreign company has pursued an acceptable distribution policy in relation to the accounting period.

- (2) If the UK company is of the opinion that the controlled foreign company is likely to pursue an acceptable distribution policy in relation to the accounting period, the UK company shall make the company tax return on the basis that the accounting period of the controlled foreign company is one in relation to which the controlled foreign company pursues such a policy.
- (3) If the UK company is not of the opinion that the controlled foreign company is likely to pursue an acceptable distribution policy in relation to the accounting period, the UK company shall make the company tax return on the basis that the accounting period of the controlled foreign company is one in relation to which the controlled foreign company does not pursue such a policy.
- (4) In any case where—
 - (a) the UK company acts in pursuance of subsection (2) above, but
 - (b) it becomes established that the controlled foreign company has not pursued an acceptable distribution policy in relation to the accounting period,the UK company shall amend the company tax return on the basis that the accounting period is not one in relation to which the controlled foreign company pursues an acceptable distribution policy.
- (5) In any case where—
 - (a) the UK company acts in pursuance of subsection (3) above, but
 - (b) it becomes established that the controlled foreign company has pursued an acceptable distribution policy in relation to the accounting period,the UK company shall amend the company tax return on the basis that the accounting period is one in relation to which the controlled foreign company pursues an acceptable distribution policy.
- (6) Any amendment required to be made to the company tax return by virtue of subsection (4) or (5) above (“an ADP amendment”) shall be made by the UK company before the expiration of the period of 30 days next following the end of the period allowed for establishing an ADP in relation to the accounting period of the controlled foreign company.
- (7) Subject to subsection (8) below, the making of any ADP amendment is subject to, and must be in accordance with, the other provisions of the Corporation Tax Acts as they apply for the purposes of this Chapter.
- (8) The time limits otherwise applicable to amendment of a company tax return do not apply to an ADP amendment.
- (9) A company which fails to make an ADP amendment required by subsection (4) above within the time allowed for doing so shall be liable to a tax-related penalty under paragraph 20 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (penalty, not exceeding amount of tax understated, for incorrect or uncorrected return).
- (10) For the purposes of this section, if it has not previously been established whether or not the controlled foreign company has pursued an acceptable distribution policy in relation to the accounting period, it shall be taken to be established immediately after the end of the period allowed for establishing an ADP in relation to that accounting period.

- (a) must be given specifically in relation to the case in question and must apply to the amount determined; but
 - (b) subject to that, may be given by the Board (either before or after the making of the determination) in any such form or manner as they may determine.
- (5) In this section references to a determination requiring the Board's sanction are references (subject to subsection (6) below) to any determination of the amount of chargeable profits or creditable tax for an accounting period of a controlled foreign company which falls to be apportioned to a particular person under section 747(3).
- (6) For the purposes of this section, a determination shall be taken, in relation to a closure notice or a discovery assessment, not to be a determination requiring the Board's sanction if—
- (a) an agreement about the relevant amounts has been made between an officer of the Board and the person in whose case it is made;
 - (b) that agreement is in force at the time of the giving of the closure notice or, as the case may be, notice of the assessment; and [^{F3314}755A Treatment of chargeable profits and creditable tax apportioned to company carrying on life assurance business.

- (1) This section applies in any case where—
 - (a) an amount (“the apportioned profit”) of a controlled foreign company’s chargeable profits for an accounting period falls to be apportioned under section 747(3) to a company resident in the United Kingdom (“the UK company”);
 - (b) the UK company carries on life assurance business in that one of its accounting periods (“the relevant accounting period”) in which ends the accounting period of the controlled foreign company; and
 - (c) the property or rights which represent the UK company’s relevant interest in the controlled foreign company constitute to any extent assets of the UK company’s long term business fund.
- (2) Subsections (3) and (4) below apply if, in the case of the relevant accounting period, the UK company is not charged to tax under Case I of Schedule D in respect of its profits from life assurance business.
- (3) Where this subsection applies, the “appropriate rate” for the purposes of section 747(4) (a) and paragraph 1 of Schedule 26 in relation to the policy holders’ part of any BLAGAB apportioned profit shall be—
 - (a) if a single rate of tax under section 88A(1) of the ^{M1442}Finance Act 1989 (lower corporation tax rate on certain insurance company profits) is applicable in relation to the relevant accounting period, that rate; or
 - (b) if more than one such rate of tax is applicable in relation to the relevant accounting period, the average of those rates over the whole of that period.
- (4) Where this subsection applies, the “appropriate rate” for the purposes of section 747(4) (a) and paragraph 1 of Schedule 26 shall be nil in relation to so much of the apportioned profit as is referable to—

- (a) pension business,
 - (b) life reinsurance business, or
 - (c) overseas life assurance business,
- carried on by the UK company.
- (5) If, in the case of the relevant accounting period, the UK company is charged to tax under Case I of Schedule D in respect of its profits from life assurance business, the “appropriate rate” for the purposes of—
- (a) section 747(4)(a), and
 - (b) paragraph 1 of Schedule 26,
- shall be nil in relation to so much of the apportioned profit as is referable to the UK company’s relevant interest so far as represented by assets of its long term business fund.
- (6) If, in the case of the relevant accounting period,—
- (a) the UK company is not charged to tax under Case I of Schedule D in respect of its profits from life assurance business,
 - (b) any creditable tax of the controlled foreign company falls to be apportioned to the UK company, and
 - (c) the apportioned profit is to any extent referable to a category of business specified in paragraphs (a) to (c) of subsection (4) above,
- so much of the creditable tax so apportioned as is attributable to the apportioned profit so far as so referable shall be left out of account for the purposes of this Chapter, other than section 747(3) and this section, and shall be treated as extinguished.
- (7) If, in the case of the relevant accounting period,—
- (a) the UK company is charged to tax under Case I of Schedule D in respect of its profits from life assurance business, and
 - (b) any creditable tax of the controlled foreign company falls to be apportioned to the UK company,
- so much of the creditable tax so apportioned as is attributable to so much of the apportioned profit as is referable to the UK company’s relevant interest so far as represented by assets of the UK company’s long term business fund shall be left out of account for the purposes of this Chapter, other than section 747(3) and this section, and shall be treated as extinguished.
- (8) Any set off under paragraph 1 or 2 of Schedule 26 against the UK company’s liability to tax under section 747(4)(a) in respect of the apportioned profit shall be made against only so much of that liability as is attributable to the eligible part of the apportioned profit.
- (9) Accordingly, in the application of paragraph 2 of Schedule 26 in relation to the apportioned profit, in the definition of “the relevant maximum” in sub-paragraph (3)—
- (a) the reference to the liability to tax referred to in sub-paragraph (1) of that paragraph shall be taken as a reference to only so much of that liability as is attributable to the eligible part of the apportioned profit; and
 - (b) in paragraph (a), for the amount there described there shall be substituted a reference to the eligible part of the apportioned profit.
- (10) For the purposes of this section, the “eligible part” of the apportioned profit is any BLAGAB apportioned profit, other than the policy holders’ part.

- (b) an amount of the company’s chargeable profits, and an amount of its creditable tax (if any), for that accounting period falls to be apportioned under section 747(3) to a company resident in the United Kingdom (“the UK company”);
 - (c) the UK company delivers a company tax return for that one of its accounting periods in which the controlled foreign company’s accounting period ends; and
 - (d) in making or amending the return, the UK company has regard to accounts of the controlled foreign company drawn up using a method falling within subsection (2) below.
- (2) The methods which fall within this subsection are—
- (a) the method described in paragraph 52 of Schedule 9A to the ^{M1444}Companies Act 1985 (which provides for a technical provision to be made in the accounts which is later replaced by a provision for estimated claims outstanding); and
 - (b) any method which would have fallen within paragraph (a) above, had final replacement of the technical provision, as described in sub-paragraph (4) of paragraph 52 of that Schedule, taken place, and been required to take place, no later than the end of the year referred to in that sub-paragraph as the third year following the underwriting year.
- (3) Where this section applies—
- (a) the UK company may make any amendments of its company tax return arising from the replacement of the technical provision in the controlled foreign company’s accounts at any time within twelve months from the date on which the provision was replaced; and
 - (b) notice of intention to enquire into the return under paragraph 24 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 may be given at any time up to two years from that date (or at any later time in accordance with the general rule in sub-paragraph (3) of that paragraph).
- (4) If, in a case where this section applies, the accounts of the controlled foreign company are drawn up using a method falling within paragraph (b) of subsection (2) above—
- (a) the controlled foreign company, and
 - (b) any person with an interest in the controlled foreign company,
- shall be treated for the purposes of this section as if final replacement of the technical provision, as described in sub-paragraph (4) of paragraph 52 of Schedule 9A to the ^{M1445}Companies Act 1985, had taken place at, and been required to take place no later than, the end of the year referred to in that sub-paragraph as the third year following the underwriting year.
- (5) Regulations under section 755C may make provision with respect to the determination of the amount of the provision by which the technical provision is to be treated as replaced in cases falling within subsection (4) above.

CHAPTER V

OFFSHORE FUNDS

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

f^{F3321}Meaning of offshore fund

Textual Amendments

F3321 Ss. 756A-756C and preceding cross-headings inserted (with effect in accordance with s. 145(2) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2004 (c. 12), Sch. 26 para. 3 (with Sch. 26 para. 17)

756A General definition of offshore fund

- (1) In this Chapter references to an offshore fund are to a collective investment scheme constituted by—
- (a) a company that is resident outside the United Kingdom, or
 - (b) a unit trust scheme the trustees of which are not resident in the United Kingdom, or
 - (c) arrangements not falling within paragraph (a) or (b) taking effect by virtue of the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom and which under that law create rights in the nature of co-ownership (without restricting that expression to its meaning in the law of any part of the United Kingdom).
- (2) Subsection (1) has effect subject to—
- section 756B (treatment of umbrella funds), and
 - section 756C (treatment of funds comprising more than one class of interest).
- (3) In this section “collective investment scheme” has the meaning given by section 235 of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Treatment of umbrella funds

756B Treatment of umbrella funds

- (1) In this Chapter, an “umbrella fund” means an offshore fund—
- (a) which provides arrangements for separate pooling of the contributions of the participants and the profits or income out of which payments are made to them; and
 - (b) under which the participants are entitled to exchange rights in one pool for rights in another;
- and references in this Chapter to a part of an umbrella fund are to such of the arrangements as relate to a separate pool.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) For the purposes of this Chapter (except subsection (1))—
- (a) each part of an umbrella fund shall be regarded as a separate offshore fund, and
 - (b) the umbrella fund as a whole shall not be regarded as an offshore fund.
- (3) In this Chapter, in relation to a part of an umbrella fund—
- (a) a reference to the assets of an offshore fund is to such of the assets of the umbrella fund as under the arrangements form part of the separate pool to which that part of the umbrella fund relates;
 - (b) a reference to the income of an offshore fund is to the income arising from those assets;
 - (c) a reference to a person having an interest in an offshore fund is to a person for the time being having an interest in that separate pool; and
 - (d) a reference to an offshore fund being a non-qualifying fund shall be read in relation to times before the coming into force of this section as a reference to the umbrella fund being a non-qualifying fund.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Treatment of funds comprising more than one class of interest

756C Treatment of funds comprising more than one class of interest

- (1) For the purposes of this Chapter where there is more than one class of interest in an offshore fund (the “main fund”)—
- (a) each class of interest shall be regarded as a separate offshore fund, and
 - (b) the main fund shall not be regarded as an offshore fund.
- (2) In this section, references to a class of interest in an offshore fund do not include—
- (a) a part of an umbrella fund which is regarded as an offshore fund by virtue of section 756B, or
 - (b) a class of interest in an offshore fund which by virtue of section 759(5), (6) or (8) is not a material interest in the fund.
- (3) In this Chapter, in relation to a class of interest in an offshore fund—
- (a) a reference to the assets of an offshore fund is to the assets of the main fund;
 - (b) a reference to the income of an offshore fund is to such of the income of the main fund as is attributable to interests of that class under the arrangements constituting the main fund;
 - (c) a reference to a person having an interest in an offshore fund is to a person for the time being having an interest of that class; and

Material interests in non-qualifying offshore funds

757 Disposal of material interests in non-qualifying offshore funds

- ^{M1448}(1) This Chapter applies to a disposal by any person of an asset if—
- (a) at the time of the disposal, the asset constitutes a material interest in an offshore fund which is or has at any material time been a non-qualifying offshore fund; or
 - (b) at the time of the disposal, the asset constitutes an interest in a company resident in the United Kingdom or in a unit trust scheme, the trustees of which are at that time resident in the United Kingdom and at a material time after 31st December 1984 the company or unit trust scheme was a non-qualifying offshore fund and the asset constituted a material interest in that fund;
- and for the purpose of determining whether the asset disposed of falls within paragraph (b) above, section [^{F3322}127 of the 1992] Act (equation of original shares and new holding) shall have effect as it has effect for the purposes of that Act.
- (2) ^{M1449}Subject to the following provisions of this section and section 758, there is a disposal of an asset for the purposes of this Chapter if there would be such a disposal for the purposes of the [^{F3322}1992] Act.
- (3) Notwithstanding anything in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) of section [^{F3322}62 of the 1992] Act (general provisions applicable on death: no deemed disposal by the deceased) where a person dies and the assets of which he was competent to dispose include an asset which is or has at any time been a material interest in a non-qualifying offshore fund, then, for the purposes of this Chapter, other than section 758—
- (a) immediately before the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a) of that subsection, that interest shall be deemed to be disposed of by the deceased for such a consideration as is mentioned in that subsection; but
 - (b) nothing in this subsection affects the determination, in accordance with subsection (1) above, of the question whether that deemed disposal is one to which this Chapter applies.
- (4) Subject to subsection (3) above, section [^{F3322}62 of the 1992] Act applies for the purposes of this Chapter as it applies for the purposes of that Act, and the reference in that subsection to the assets of which a deceased person was competent to dispose shall be construed in accordance with subsection (10) of that section.
- (5) Notwithstanding anything in section [^{F3322}135] of the [^{F3322}1992] Act (exchange of securities for those in another company) in any case where—

- (a) the company which is company B for the purposes of subsection (1) of that section is or was at a material time a non-qualifying offshore fund and the company which is company A for those purposes is not such a fund, or
- (b) under section [F3322 136] of that Act (reconstruction or amalgamation involving issue of securities) persons are to be treated, in consequence of an arrangement, as exchanging shares, debentures or other interests in or of an entity which is or was at a material time a non-qualifying offshore fund for assets which do not constitute interests in such a fund;

then, subsection (3) of section 85 of that Act (which applies provisions of that Act treating transactions as not being disposals and equating original shares with a new holding in certain cases) shall not apply for the purposes of this Chapter.

- (6) In any case where, apart from subsection (5) above, section [F3322 135(3) of the 1992] Act would apply, the exchange concerned of shares, debentures or other interests in or of a non-qualifying offshore fund shall for the purposes of this Chapter constitute a disposal of interests in the offshore fund for a consideration equal to their market value at the time of the exchange.
- (7) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) a material time, in relation to the disposal of an asset, is [F3323 any time on or after] the earliest date on which any relevant consideration was given for the acquisition of the asset or, if that date is earlier than 1st January 1984, any time on or after 1st January 1984; and
 - (b) “relevant consideration” means consideration which, assuming the application to the disposal of [F3322 Chapter III of Part II of the 1992] Act, would fall to be taken into account in determining the amount of the gain or loss accruing on the disposal, whether that consideration was given by or on behalf of the person making the disposal or by or on behalf of a predecessor in title of his whose acquisition cost represents, directly or indirectly, the whole or any part of the acquisition cost of the person making the disposal.

758 Offshore funds operating equalisation arrangements

^{M1450}(1) For the purposes of this Chapter, an offshore fund operates equalisation arrangements if, and at a time when, arrangements are in existence which have the result that where—

- (a) a person acquires by way of initial purchase a material interest in the fund at some time during a period relevant to the arrangements; and
- (b) the fund makes a distribution for a period which begins before the date of his acquisition of that interest;

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. the amount of that distribution which is paid to him (assuming him still to retain that interest) will include a payment of capital which is debited to an account maintained under the arrangements (“the equalisation account”) and which is determined by reference to the income which had accrued to the fund at the date of his acquisition.

- (2) For the purposes of this section, a person acquires an interest in an offshore fund by way of initial purchase if—
- (a) his acquisition is by way of subscription for or allotment of new shares, units or other interests issued or created by the fund; or
 - (b) his acquisition is by way of direct purchase from the persons concerned with the management of the fund and their sale to him is made in their capacity as managers of the fund.
- (3) Without prejudice to section 757(1), this Chapter applies, subject to the following provisions of this section, to a disposal by any person of an asset if—
- (a) at the time of the disposal, the asset constitutes a material interest in an offshore fund which at that time is operating equalisation arrangements; and
 - (b) the fund is not and has not at any material time (within the meaning of section 757(7)) been a non-qualifying offshore fund; and
 - (c) the proceeds of the disposal do not fall to be taken into account as a trading receipt.
- (4) This Chapter does not, by virtue of subsection (3) above, apply to a disposal if—
- (a) it takes place during such a period as is mentioned in subsection (1)(a) above; and
 - (b) throughout so much of that period as precedes the disposal, the income of the offshore fund concerned has been of such a nature as is referred to in paragraph 3(1) of Schedule 27.
- (5) An event which, apart from section [F3324]127 of the 1992] Act (reorganisations etc.), would constitute a disposal of an asset shall constitute such a disposal for the purpose of determining whether, by virtue of subsection (3) above, there is a disposal to which this Chapter applies.
- (6) The reference in subsection (5) above to section [F3324]127 of the 1992] Act includes a reference to that section as applied by section [F3324]135] of that Act (exchange of securities) [F3325] and a reference to section [F3326]127 as] applied by section [F3324]132] of that Act (conversion of securities).

759 Material interests in offshore funds

^{M1451}(1) In this Chapter references to a material interest in an offshore fund are references to such an interest in any [^{F3327}collective investment scheme which is constituted by]—

- (a) a company which is resident outside the United Kingdom;
- (b) a unit trust scheme the trustees of which are not resident in the United Kingdom; [^{F3328}or]
- (c) any arrangements which do not fall within paragraph (a) or (b) above, which take effect by virtue of the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom and which, under that law, create rights in the nature of co-ownership (without restricting that expression to its meaning in the law of any part of the United Kingdom); and any reference in this Chapter to an offshore fund is a reference to any such [^{F3329}collective investment scheme] in which any person has an interest which is a material interest.

[^{F3330}(1A) In this section “collective investment scheme” has the same meaning as in the ^{M1452}Financial Services Act 1986.]

- (2) Subject to the following provisions of this section, a person’s interest in a company, unit trust scheme or arrangements is a material interest if, at the time when he acquired the interest, it could reasonably be expected that, at some time during the period of seven years beginning at the time of his acquisition, he would be able to realise the value of the interest (whether by transfer, surrender or in any other manner).
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2) above, a person is at any time able to realise the value of an interest if at that time he can realise an amount which is reasonably approximate to that portion which the interest represents (directly or indirectly) of the market value at that time of the assets of the company or, as the case may be, of the assets subject to the scheme or arrangements.
- (4) For the purposes of subsections (2) and (3) above—
 - (a) a person is able to realise a particular amount if he is able to obtain that amount either in money or in the form of assets to the value of that amount; and
 - (b) if at any time an interest in an offshore fund has a market value which is substantially greater than the portion which the interest represents, as mentioned in subsection (3) above, of the market value at that time of the assets concerned, the ability to realise such a market value of the interest shall not be regarded as an ability to realise such an amount as is referred to in that subsection.
- (5) An interest in a company, scheme or arrangements is not a material interest if—
 - (a) it is an interest in respect of any loan capital or debt issued or incurred for money which, in the ordinary course of a business of banking, is lent by a person carrying on that business; or
 - (b) it is a right arising under a policy of insurance.
- (6) Shares in a company falling within subsection (1)(a) above (an “overseas company”) do not constitute a material interest if—

- (a) the shares are held by a company and the holding of them is necessary or desirable for the maintenance and development of a trade carried on by the company or a company associated with it; and
 - (b) the shares confer at least 10 per cent. of the total voting rights in the overseas company and a right, in the event of a winding-up, to at least 10 per cent. of the assets of that company remaining after the discharge of all liabilities having priority over the shares; and
 - (c) not more than ten persons hold shares in the overseas company and all the shares in that company confer both voting rights and a right to participate in the assets on a winding-up; and
 - (d) at the time of its acquisition of the shares, the company had such a reasonable expectation as is referred to in subsection (2) above by reason only of the existence of—
 - (i) an arrangement under which, at some time within the period of seven years beginning at the time of acquisition, that company may require the other participators to purchase its shares; or
 - (ii) provisions of either an agreement between the participators or the constitution of the overseas company under which the company will be wound up within a period which is, or is reasonably expected to be, shorter than the period referred to in subsection (2) above; or
 - (iii) both such an arrangement and such provisions; and in this paragraph “participators” means the persons holding shares falling within paragraph (c) above.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (6)(a) above, a company is associated with another company if one of them has control of the other within the meaning of section 416 or both of them are under the control, within the meaning of that section, of the same person or persons.
- (8) An interest in a company falling within subsection (1)(a) above is not a material interest at any time when the following conditions are satisfied, namely—
- (a) that the holder of the interest has the right to have the company wound up; and
 - (b) that, in the event of a winding up, the holder is, by virtue of the interest and any other interest which he then holds in the same capacity, entitled to more than 50 per cent. of the assets remaining after the discharge of all liabilities having priority over the interest or interests concerned.
- (9) The market value of any asset for the purposes of this Chapter shall be determined in like manner as it would be determined for the purposes of the [F33311992] Act except that, in the case of an interest in an offshore fund for which there are separate published buying and selling prices, section [F3331272(5)] of that Act (meaning of “market value” in relation to rights of unit holders in a unit trust scheme) shall apply with any necessary modifications for determining the market value of the interest for the purposes of this Chapter.

760 Non-qualifying offshore funds

- ^{M1453}(1) For the purposes of this Chapter, an offshore fund is a non-qualifying fund except during an account period of the fund in respect of which the fund is certified by the Board as a distributing fund.
- (2) An offshore fund shall not be certified as a distributing fund in respect of any account period unless, with respect to that period, the fund pursues a full distribution policy, within the meaning of Part I of Schedule 27.
- (3) Subject to Part II of that Schedule, an offshore fund shall not be certified as a distributing fund in respect of any account period if, at any time in that period—
- more than 5 per cent. by value of the assets of the fund consists of interests in other offshore funds; or
 - subject to subsections (4) and (5) below, more than 10 per cent. by value of the assets of the fund consists of interests in a single company; or
 - the assets of the fund include more than 10 per cent. of the issued share capital of any company or of any class of that share capital; or
 - subject to subsection (6) below, there is more than one class of material interest in the offshore fund and they do not all receive proper distribution benefits, within the meaning of subsection (7) below.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3)(b) above, in any account period the value, expressed as a percentage of the value of all the assets of an offshore fund, of that portion of the assets of the fund which consists of an interest in a single company shall be determined as at the most recent occasion (whether in that account period or an earlier one) on which the fund acquired an interest in that company for consideration in money or money's worth; but for this purpose there shall be disregarded any occasion—
- on which the interest acquired constituted the “new holding” for the purposes of section [F3332]127 of the 1992] Act (equation of original shares and new holding), including that section as applied by any later provision of Chapter II of Part IV of that Act (reorganisation of share capital etc.); and
 - on which no consideration fell to be given for the interest acquired, other than the interest which constituted the “original shares” for the purposes of that section.
- (5) Except for the purpose of determining the total value of the assets of an offshore fund, an interest in a company shall be disregarded for the purposes of subsection (3)(b) above if—

- (a) the company carries on (in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) a banking business providing current or deposit account facilities in any currency for members of the public and bodies corporate; and
 - (b) the interest consists of a current or deposit account provided in the normal course of the company's banking business.
- (6) There shall be disregarded for the purposes of subsection (3)(d) above any interests in an offshore fund—
- (a) which are held solely by persons employed or engaged in or about the management of the assets of the fund; and
 - (b) which carry no right or expectation to participate, directly or indirectly, in any of the profits of the fund; and
 - (c) which, on a winding up or on redemption, carry no right to receive anything other than the return of the price paid for the interests.
- (7) If in any account period of an offshore fund there is more than one class of material interests in the fund, the classes of interest do not, for the purposes of subsection (3) (d) above, all receive proper distribution benefits unless, were each class of interests and the assets which that class represents interests in and assets of a separate offshore fund, each of those separate funds would, with respect to that period, pursue a full distribution policy, within the meaning of Part I of Schedule 27.
- (8) For the purposes of this Chapter, an account period of an offshore fund shall begin—
- (a) whenever the fund begins to carry on its activities; and
 - (b) whenever an account period of the fund ends without the fund then ceasing to carry on its activities.
- (9) For the purposes of this Chapter, an account period of an offshore fund shall end on the first occurrence of any of the following—
- (a) the expiration of 12 months from the beginning of the period;
 - (b) an accounting date of the fund or, if there is a period for which the fund does not make up accounts, the end of that period; and
 - (c) the fund ceasing to carry on its activities.
- (10) For the purposes of this Chapter—
- (a) an account period of an offshore fund which is a company falling within section 759(1)(a) shall end if, and at the time when, the company ceases to be resident outside the United Kingdom; and
 - (b) an account period of an offshore fund which is a unit trust scheme falling within section 759(1)(b) shall end if, and at the time when, the trustees of the scheme become resident in the United Kingdom.
- (11) The provisions of Part III of Schedule 27 shall have effect with respect to the procedure for and in connection with the certification of an offshore fund as a distributing fund, and the supplementary provisions in Part IV of that Schedule shall have effect.

Charge to tax of offshore income gains

761 Charge to income tax or corporation tax of offshore income gain.

- ^{M1454}(1) If a disposal to which this Chapter applies gives rise in accordance with section 758 [^{F3333}or Schedule] 28 to an offshore income gain, then, subject to the provisions of this section, the amount of that gain shall be treated for all the purposes of the Tax Acts as—
- (a) income arising at the time of the disposal to the person making the disposal, and
 - (b) constituting profits or gains chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D for the chargeable period in which the disposal is made.
- (2) Subject to subsection (3) below, sections [^{F3334}2(1) and 10 of the 1992 Act] (persons chargeable to tax in respect of chargeable gains) and section 11(2)(b) shall have effect in relation to income tax or corporation tax in respect of offshore income gains as they have effect in relation to capital gains tax or corporation tax in respect of chargeable gains.
- (3) In the application of section [^{F3334}10 of the 1992 Act] in accordance with subsection (2) above, paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (1) of that section (which define the assets on the disposal of which chargeable gains are taxable) shall have effect with the omission of the words “situated in the United Kingdom and” [^{F3335}and subsection (3) of that section (which makes similar provision in relation to corporation tax) shall have effect with the omission of the words “situated in the United Kingdom”].

- (4) If, in any year of assessment—
- (a) under subsection (3) of section [^{F3337}87 of the 1992 Act], as it applies apart from subsection (2) above, a chargeable gain falls to be attributed to a beneficiary, and
 - (b) under that subsection, as applied by subsection (2) above, an offshore income gain also falls to be attributed to him,
- subsection (4) of that section (gains attributed in proportion to capital payments received) shall have effect as if it required offshore income gains to be attributed before chargeable gains.
- (5) Subject to subsection (6) below, for the purpose of determining whether an individual ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom has a liability for income tax in respect of an offshore income gain which arises on a disposal to which this Chapter applies where the disposal is made by a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom—
- (a) sections 739 and 740 shall apply as if the offshore income gain arising to the person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom constituted income becoming payable to him, and
 - (b) any reference in those sections to income of (or payable or arising to) such a person accordingly includes a reference to the offshore income gain arising to him by reason of the disposal to which this Chapter applies.
- (6) To the extent that an offshore income gain is treated, by virtue of subsection (1) or subsection (2) above, as having accrued to any person resident or ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom, that gain shall not be deemed to be the income of any individual for the purposes of section 739 or 740 or any provision of Part XV.

766 Offences under section 765.

- (1) ^{M1460} Any person who, whether within or outside the United Kingdom, does or is a party to the doing of any act which to his knowledge amounts to or results in, or forms part of a series of acts which together amount to or result in, or will amount to or result in, something which is unlawful under section 765(1) shall be guilty of an offence under this section.
- (2) In any proceedings in respect of such an offence against a director of the body corporate in question (that is to say, the body corporate which is or was resident in the United Kingdom) or against any person who was purporting to act in that capacity—
- it shall be presumed that he was a party to every act of that body corporate unless he proves that it was done without his consent or connivance; and
 - it shall, unless the contrary is proved, be presumed that any act which in fact amounted to or resulted in, or formed part of a series of acts which together amounted to or resulted in or would amount to or result in, something which is unlawful under section 765(1) was to his knowledge such an act.
- (3) ^{M1461} Any person who is guilty of an offence under this section shall be liable on conviction on indictment—
- to imprisonment for not more than two years or to a fine, or to both; or
 - where the person in question is a body corporate which is or was resident in the United Kingdom, to a fine not exceeding an amount equal to three times the corporation tax, capital gains tax and income tax paid or payable which is attributable to the income, profits or gains (including chargeable gains) arising in the 36 months immediately preceding the commission of the offence, or £10,000, whichever is the greater;
- and proceedings in respect of such an offence alleged to have been committed by a person may be taken before the appropriate court in the United Kingdom having jurisdiction in the place where that person is for the time being.

Change in ownership of company

767A Change in company ownership: corporation tax.

- (1) Where it appears to the Board that—
 - (a) there has been a change in the ownership of a company (“the tax-payer company”),
 - (b) any corporation tax assessed on the tax-payer company for an accounting period beginning before the change remains unpaid at any time after the relevant date, and
 - (c) any of the three conditions mentioned below is fulfilled,any person mentioned in subsection (2) below may be assessed by the Board and charged (in the name of the tax-payer company) to an amount of corporation tax in accordance with this section.
- (2) The persons are—
 - (a) any person who at any time during the relevant period before the change in the ownership of the tax-payer company had control of it;
 - (b) any company of which the person mentioned in paragraph (a) above has at any time had control within the period of three years before that change.
- (3) In subsection (2) above, “the relevant period” means—
 - (a) the period of three years before the change in the ownership of the tax-payer company; or
 - (b) if during the period of three years before that change (“the later change”) there was a change in the ownership of the tax-payer company (“the earlier change”), the period elapsing between the earlier change and the later change.
- (4) The first condition is that—
 - (a) at any time during the period of three years before the change in the ownership of the tax-payer company the activities of a trade or business of that company cease or the scale of those activities become small or negligible; and
 - (b) there is no significant revival of those activities before that change occurs.
- (5) The second condition is that at any time after the change in the ownership of the tax-payer company, but under arrangements made before that change, the activities of a trade or business of that company cease or the scale of those activities become small or negligible.
- (6) The third condition is that—
 - (a) at any time during the period of six years beginning three years before the change in the ownership of the tax-payer company there is a major change in the nature or conduct of a trade or business of that company;
 - (b) there is a transfer or there are transfers of assets of the tax-payer company to a person mentioned in subsection (7) below or to any person under arrangements which enable any of those assets or any assets representing those assets to be transferred to a person mentioned in subsection (7) below;
 - (c) that transfer occurs or those transfers occur during the period of three years before the change in the ownership of the tax-payer company or after that change but under arrangements made before that change; and
 - (d) the major change mentioned in paragraph (a) above is attributable to that transfer or those transfers.

- (7) The persons are—
 - (a) any person mentioned in subsection (2)(a) above; and
 - (b) any person connected with him.
- (8) The amount of tax charged in an assessment made under this section must not exceed the amount of the tax which, at the time of that assessment, remains unpaid by the tax-payer company.
- (9) For the purposes of this section the relevant date is the date six months from the date on which the corporation tax is assessed as mentioned in subsection (1)(b) above.
- (10) Any assessment made under this section shall not be out of time if made within three years from the date on which the liability of the tax-payer company to corporation tax for the accounting period mentioned in subsection (1)(b) above is finally determined.

[^{F3348}767A] Change in company ownership: postponed corporation tax.

- (1) Where it appears to the Board that—
 - (a) there has been a change in the ownership of a company (“the transferred company”),
 - (b) any corporation tax relating to an accounting period ending on or after the change has been assessed on the transferred company or an associated company,
 - (c) that tax remains unpaid at any time more than six months after it was assessed, and
 - (d) the condition set out in subsection (2) below is fulfilled, any person mentioned in subsection (4) below may be assessed by the Board and charged to an amount of corporation tax not exceeding the amount remaining unpaid.
- (2) The condition is that it would be reasonable (apart from this section) to infer, from either or both of—
 - (a) the terms of any transactions entered into in connection with the change, and
 - (b) the other circumstances of the change and of any such transactions, that at least one of those transactions was entered into by one or more of its parties on the assumption, as regards a potential tax liability, that that liability would be unlikely to be met, or met in full, if it were to arise.
- (3) In subsection (2) above the reference to a potential tax liability is a reference to a liability to pay corporation tax which—
 - (a) in circumstances which were reasonably foreseeable at the time of the change in ownership, or
 - (b) in circumstances the occurrence of which is something of which there was at that time a reasonably foreseeable risk, would or might arise from an assessment made, after the change in ownership, on the transferred company or an associated company (whether or not a particular associated company).

- (4) The persons mentioned in subsection (1) above are—
- (a) any person who at any time during the relevant period had control of the transferred company;
 - (b) any company of which the person mentioned in paragraph (a) above has at any time had control within the period of three years before the change in the ownership of the transferred company.
- (5) In subsection (4) above, “the relevant period” means—
- (a) the period of three years before the change in the ownership of the transferred company; or
 - (b) if during the period of three years before that change (“the later change”) there was a change in the ownership of the transferred company (“the earlier change”), the period elapsing between the earlier change and the later change.
- (6) For the purposes of this section a transaction is entered into in connection with a change in the ownership of a company if—
- (a) it is the transaction, or one of the transactions, by which that change is effected; or
 - (b) it is entered into as part of a series of transactions, or scheme, of which transactions effecting the change in ownership have formed or will form a part.
- (7) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) references to a scheme are references to any scheme, arrangements or understanding of any kind whatever, whether or not legally enforceable, involving a single transaction or two or more transactions;
 - (b) it shall be immaterial in determining whether any transactions have formed or will form part of a series of transactions or scheme that the parties to any of the transactions are different from the parties to another of the transactions; and
 - (c) the cases in which any two or more transactions are to be taken as forming part of a series of transactions or scheme shall include any case in which it would be reasonable to assume that one or more of them—
 - (i) would not have been entered into independently of the other or others; or
 - (ii) if entered into independently of the other or others, would not have taken the same form or been on the same terms.
- (8) In this section references, in relation to the transferred company and an assessment to tax, to an associated company are references to any company (whenever formed) which, at the time of the assessment or at an earlier time after the change in ownership—
- (a) has control of the transferred company;
 - (b) is a company of which the transferred company has control; or
 - (c) is a company under the control of the same person or persons as the transferred company.
- (9) A person assessed and charged to tax under this section shall be assessed and charged in the name of the company by whom the tax to which the assessment relates remains unpaid.

768 Change in ownership of company: disallowance of trading losses.

^{M1468}(1) If—

- (a) within any period of three years there is both a change in the ownership of a company and (either earlier or later in that period, or at the same time) a major change in the nature or conduct of a trade carried on by the company, or
- (b) at any time after the scale of the activities in a trade carried on by a company has become small or negligible, and before any considerable revival of the trade, there is a change in the ownership of the company, no relief shall be given under section 393 by setting a loss incurred by the company in an accounting period beginning before the change of ownership against any income or other profits of an accounting period ending after the change of ownership.

- (2) In applying this section to the accounting period in which the change of ownership occurs, the part ending with the change of ownership, and the part after, shall be treated as two separate accounting periods, and the profits or losses of the accounting period shall be apportioned to the two parts.
- (3) The apportionment under subsection (2) above shall be on a time basis according to the respective lengths of those parts except that if it appears that that method would work unreasonably or unjustly such other method shall be used as appears just and reasonable.
- (4) In subsection (1) above “major change in the nature or conduct of a trade” includes—
 - (a) a major change in the type of property dealt in, or services or facilities provided, in the trade; or
 - (b) a major change in customers, outlets or markets of the trade; and this section applies even if the change is the result of a gradual process which began outside the period of three years mentioned in subsection (1)(a) above.
- (5) In relation to any relief available under section 343 to a successor company, subsection (1) above shall apply as if any loss sustained by a predecessor company had been sustained by a successor company and as if the references to a trade included references to the trade as carried on by a predecessor company.
- (6) Where relief in respect of a company’s losses has been restricted under this section then, notwithstanding [F3355 section 577(3) of the Capital Allowances Act], in applying the provisions of that Act about balancing charges to the company by reference to any event after the change of ownership of the company, any allowance or deduction falling to be made in taxing the company’s trade for any chargeable period before the change of ownership shall be disregarded unless the profits or gains of that chargeable period or of any subsequent chargeable period before the change of ownership were sufficient to give effect to the allowance or deduction.
- (7) In applying subsection (6) above it shall be assumed that any profits or gains are applied in giving effect to any such allowance or deduction in preference to being set off against any loss which is not attributable to such an allowance or deduction.
- (8) Where the operation of this section depends on circumstances or events at a time after the change of ownership (but not more than three years after), an assessment to give effect to the provisions of this section shall not be out of time if made within six years from that time, or the latest of those times.
- (9) Any person in whose name any shares, stock or securities of a company are registered shall, if required by notice by an inspector given for the purposes of this section, state

[^{F3357}768E] Change in ownership of investment company: deductions generally.

- (1) This section applies where there is a change in the ownership of an investment company and—
 - (a) after the change there is a significant increase in the amount of the company's capital; or
 - (b) within the period of six years beginning three years before the change there is a major change in the nature or conduct of the business carried on by the company; or
 - (c) the change in the ownership occurs at any time after the scale of the activities in the business carried on by the company has become small or negligible and before any considerable revival of the business.
- (2) For the purposes of subsection (1)(a) above, whether there is a significant increase in the amount of a company's capital after a change in the ownership of the company shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Part I of Schedule 28A.
- (3) In paragraph (b) of subsection (1) above "major change in the nature or conduct of a business" includes a major change in the nature of the investments held by the company, even if the change is the result of a gradual process which began before the period of six years mentioned in that paragraph.
- (4) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) the accounting period of the company in which the change in the ownership occurs shall be divided into two parts, the first the part ending with the change, the second the part after;
 - (b) those parts shall be treated as two separate accounting periods; and
 - (c) the amounts in issue for the accounting period being divided shall be apportioned to those parts.
- (5) In Schedule 28A—
 - (a) Part II shall have effect for identifying the amounts in issue for the accounting period being divided; and
 - (b) Part III shall have effect for the purpose of apportioning those amounts to the parts of that accounting period.
- (6) Any sums which—
 - (a) are disbursed or treated as disbursed as expenses of management in the accounting period being divided, and
 - (b) under Part III of Schedule 28A are apportioned to either part of that period,shall be treated for the purposes of section 75 as disbursed in that part.
- (7) Any charges which under Part III of Schedule 28A are apportioned to either part of the accounting period being divided shall be treated for the purposes of sections 338 and 75 as paid in that part.
- (8) Any allowances which under Part III of Schedule 28A are apportioned to either part of the accounting period being divided shall be treated for the purposes of [^{F3358}section 253 of the Capital Allowances Act] and section 75(4) as falling to be made in that part.

- (b) in a case falling within subsection (1)(b) above but not within subsection (1)(a) above, each of the persons mentioned in subsection (1)(b) shall be taken for the purposes of this section to acquire at the time of the change the appropriate proportion of any relevant assets owned by the company; and
 - (c) in any other case, each of the persons mentioned in paragraph (c) of subsection (1) above (other than any whose holding is disregarded under that paragraph) shall be taken for the purposes of this section to acquire at the time of the change the appropriate proportion of any relevant assets owned by the company.
- (6A) In subsection (6) above—
- “the appropriate proportion”, in relation to one of two or more persons mentioned in subsection (1)(b) or (c) above, means a proportion corresponding to the proportion which the percentage of the ordinary share capital acquired by him bears to the percentage of that capital acquired by all those persons taken together; and
 - “relevant assets”, in relation to a company, means—
 - (a) any ordinary share capital of another company, and
 - (b) any property or rights which under subsection (3) above may be taken into account instead of ordinary share capital of another company.
- (6B) Notwithstanding that at any time a company (“the subsidiary company”) is a 75 per cent. subsidiary of another company (“the parent company”) it shall not be treated at that time as such a subsidiary for the purposes of this section unless, additionally, at that time—

F3382S. 770A substituted for ss. 770-773 (with effect in accordance with s. 108(5) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 1998 (c. 36), s. 108(1); S.I. 1998/3173, art. 2

774 Transactions between dealing company and associated company.

^{M1470}(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, where—

- (a) a dealing company becomes entitled to a deduction, in computing the profits or gains of the company for tax purposes for any period, in respect of the depreciation in the value of any right subsisting against an associated company, being a non-dealing company; or
- (b) a dealing company makes any payment to such an associated company, being a payment in respect of which the dealing company is entitled to a deduction in computing its profits or gains for tax purposes for any period; and the depreciation or payment is not brought into account in computing the profits or gains of the non-dealing company, that company shall be deemed to have received on the last day of the period income of an amount equal to the amount of the deduction and shall be chargeable in respect thereof under Case VI of Schedule D.

(2) Where the non-dealing company is carrying on a trade, the income referred to in subsection (1) above shall, if the company so elects, not be so chargeable but shall be deemed to have been a receipt of the trade, or, if the company is carrying on more than one trade, to have been a receipt of such one of the trades as the company may choose.

(3) Where the non-dealing company is carrying on, or was formed to carry on a trade, then if—

- (a) either—
 - (i) the right subsisting against it was a right to the repayment of moneys lent for meeting expenditure which has proved (in whole or in part) abortive, or
 - (ii) the payment to the company was made for meeting such expenditure, and
- (b) that expenditure is such that the company is not entitled in respect of it to any allowance or deduction in computing losses or gains, subsection (1) above shall not apply in so far as the expenditure proved abortive.

(4) For the purposes of this section—

- (a) “company” includes any body corporate;
- (b) “dealing company” means a company dealing in securities, land or buildings and includes any company whose profits on the sale of securities, land or buildings are part of its trading profits;
- (c) “non-dealing company” means any company which is not a dealing company;
- (d) two or more companies shall be treated as associated companies if one has control of the other or others, or any person has control of both or all of them;
- (e) references to a company (“the first company”) having control of another company (“the second company”) shall be construed as references to the first company having control of the second company either by itself or in conjunction with any person having control over the first company, and “control” has the meaning given by section 840;

F3383 Ss. 774A-774G and preceding cross-heading inserted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 6 para. 6(2)-(7) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2006 (c. 25), Sch. 6 para. 6(1)

774A Meaning of “structured finance arrangement” for purposes of s.774B

- (1) For the purposes of section 774B an arrangement is a structured finance arrangement in relation to a person (“the borrower”) if the following condition is met in relation to the borrower.
- (2) The condition is that—
- (a) under the arrangement the borrower receives from another person (“the lender”) any money or other asset (“the advance”) in any period,
 - (b) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice the accounts of the borrower for that period record a financial liability in respect of the advance,
 - (c) the borrower, or a person connected with the borrower, makes a disposal of an asset (“the security”) under the arrangement to or for the benefit of the lender or a person connected with the lender,
 - (d) the lender, or a person connected with the lender, is entitled under the arrangement to payments in respect of the security, and
 - (e) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice those payments reduce the amount of the financial liability in respect of the advance recorded in the accounts of the borrower.
- (3) For the purposes of this section, in any case where the borrower is a partnership, references to the accounts of the borrower include the accounts of any member of the partnership.
- (4) For the purposes of this section and section 774B—
- (a) references to a person connected with the borrower do not include the lender, and

- (b) references to a person connected with the lender do not include the borrower.

774B Disregard of intended effects of arrangement involving disposals of assets

- (1) If—

- (a) an arrangement is a structured finance arrangement in relation to a person (“the borrower”), and
(b) the arrangement would (disregarding this section) have had the relevant effect (see subsections (2) and (3)), the arrangement is not to have that effect.

- (2) If the borrower is a person other than a partnership, the relevant effect is that—

- (a) an amount of income on which the borrower, or a person connected with the borrower, would otherwise have been charged to tax is not so charged,
(b) an amount which would otherwise have been brought into account in calculating for tax purposes any income of the borrower, or of a person connected with the borrower, is not so brought into account, or
(c) the borrower, or a person connected with the borrower, becomes entitled to an income deduction.

- (3) If the borrower is a partnership, the relevant effect is that—

- (a) an amount of income on which a member of the partnership would otherwise have been charged to tax is not so charged,
(b) an amount which would otherwise have been brought into account in calculating for tax purposes any income of a member of the partnership is not so brought into account, or
(c) a member of the partnership becomes entitled to an income deduction.

- (4) If—

- (a) a person in relation to whom the structured finance arrangement would otherwise have had the relevant effect is a person within the charge to income tax, and
(b) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice the accounts of the person record an amount as a finance charge in respect of the advance, that person may treat the amount for income tax purposes as interest payable on a loan.

- (5) If a person in relation to whom the structured finance arrangement would otherwise have had the relevant effect is a company within the charge to corporation tax—

- (a) the advance is to be treated, in relation to the company, for the purposes of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 as a money debt owed by the company,
(b) the arrangement is to be treated, in relation to the company, for the purposes of that Chapter as a loan relationship of the company (as a debtor relationship), and
(c) any amount which, in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice, is recorded in the accounts of the company as a finance charge in respect of the advance is to be treated as interest payable under that relationship.

- (6) For the purposes of this section, in any case where the borrower is a partnership,—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) references to accounts include the accounts of the partnership, and
 - (b) any deemed interest is treated as payable by the partnership (whether or not the finance charge is recorded in the accounts of the partnership).
- (7) For the purpose of determining when any deemed interest in respect of the advance is paid—
- (a) the payments mentioned in section 774A(2)(d) are treated as consisting of amounts for repaying the advance and amounts (“the interest elements”) in respect of interest on the advance, and
 - (b) the interest elements of those payments are treated as paid when those payments are paid,
- and the deemed interest in respect of the advance is treated as paid at the times when the interest elements are treated as paid.
- (8) In this section “deemed interest” means any amount which is treated as interest as a result of subsection (4) or (5).
- (9) This section is subject to the exceptions contained in section 774E.

774C Meaning of “structured finance arrangement” for purposes of s.774D

- (1) For the purposes of section 774D an arrangement is a structured finance arrangement in relation to a partnership (“the borrower partnership”) if condition A or B is met in relation to the borrower partnership.
- (2) Condition A is that—
- (a) a person (“the transferor partner”) disposes of an asset (“the security”) under the arrangement to the borrower partnership,
 - (b) the transferor partner is a member of the borrower partnership immediately after the disposal (whether or not a member immediately before the disposal),
 - (c) under the arrangement the borrower partnership receives from another person (“the lender”) any money or other asset (“the advance”) in any period,
 - (d) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice the accounts of the borrower partnership for that period record a financial liability in respect of the advance,
 - (e) there is a relevant change in relation to the membership of the borrower partnership involving the lender or a person connected with the lender (see subsection (6)),
 - (f) under the arrangement the share of the lender or person connected with the lender in the profits of the borrower partnership is determined by reference (wholly or partly) to payments in respect of the security, and
 - (g) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice those payments reduce the amount of the financial liability in respect of the advance recorded in the accounts of the borrower partnership.
- (3) For the purposes of condition A, references to the accounts of the borrower partnership include the accounts of the transferor partner.
- (4) Condition B is that—
- (a) the borrower partnership holds an asset (“the security”) as a partnership asset at any time before the arrangement is made,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

- (b) under the arrangement the borrower partnership receives from another person (“the lender”) any money or other asset (“the advance”) in any period,
 - (c) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice the accounts of the borrower partnership for that period record a financial liability in respect of the advance,
 - (d) there is a relevant change in relation to the membership of the borrower partnership involving the lender or a person connected with the lender,
 - (e) under the arrangement the share of the lender or person connected with the lender in the profits of the borrower partnership is determined by reference (wholly or partly) to payments in respect of the security, and
 - (f) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice those payments reduce the amount of the financial liability in respect of the advance recorded in the accounts of the borrower partnership.
- (5) For the purposes of condition B, references to the accounts of the borrower partnership include the accounts of any person who is a member of the partnership immediately before the arrangement is made.
- (6) For the purposes of this section and section 774D there is a relevant change in relation to the membership of the borrower partnership involving the lender or a person connected with the lender if directly or indirectly in consequence of, or otherwise in connection with, the arrangement—
- (a) the lender, or a person connected with the lender, becomes a member of the borrower partnership at any time, or
 - (b) there is at any time a change in the share of a member of the borrower partnership in the profits of the borrower partnership in a case where that member is the lender or a person connected with the lender.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (6)(b) the reference to a person connected with the lender includes a person who at any time becomes connected with the lender directly or indirectly in consequence of, or otherwise in connection with, the arrangement.

774D Disregard of intended effects of arrangement involving change in relation to a partnership

- (1) This section applies if—
- (a) an arrangement is a structured finance arrangement in relation to a partnership (“the borrower partnership”), and
 - (b) any relevant change in relation to the membership of the borrower partnership involving the lender or a person connected with the lender would (disregarding this section) have had the following effect.
- (2) The effect is that—
- (a) an amount of income on which a relevant member of the borrower partnership would otherwise have been charged to tax is not so charged,
 - (b) an amount which would otherwise have been brought into account in calculating for tax purposes any income of a relevant member of the borrower partnership is not so brought into account, or
 - (c) a relevant member of the borrower partnership becomes entitled to an income deduction.
- (3) In this section “relevant member of the borrower partnership” means—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) in any case where condition A in section 774C is met in relation to the arrangement, the transferor partner, and
- (b) in any case where condition B in that section is met in relation to the arrangement, any person other than the lender who is a member of the borrower partnership immediately before the time at which the relevant change in relation to the membership of the borrower partnership involving the lender or a person connected with the lender occurs.

- (4) Part 9 of ITTOIA 2005 and section 114 above are to have effect in relation to any relevant member of the borrower partnership as if the relevant change in relation to the membership of the borrower partnership involving the lender or a person connected with the lender had not occurred.

Accordingly, the structured finance arrangement is not to have the effect mentioned in subsection (2).

- (5) The following provisions of this section confer relief from tax the availability of which depends on which of the conditions in section 774C is met in relation to the arrangement.

- (6) In any case where condition A in section 774C is met, if—

- (a) the transferor partner is a person within the charge to income tax, and
- (b) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice the accounts of the borrower partnership record an amount as a finance charge in respect of the advance, the transferor partner may treat the amount for income tax purposes as interest payable by the transferor partner on a loan.

- (7) In any case where condition A in that section is met, if the transferor partner is a company within the charge to corporation tax—

- (a) the advance is to be treated, in relation to the company, for the purposes of paragraph 19 of Schedule 9 to the Finance Act 1996 (and the other provisions of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of that Act) as a money debt owed by the borrower partnership,
- (b) the arrangement is to be treated, in relation to the company, as a transaction for the lending of money from which that debt is treated as arising for those purposes, and
- (c) any amount which, in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice, is recorded in the accounts of the borrower partnership as a finance charge in respect of the advance is to be treated as interest payable by the company under that transaction.

- (8) For the purposes of subsections (6) and (7), references to the accounts of the borrower partnership include the accounts of the transferor partner.

- (9) In any case where condition B in section 774C is met, if—

- (a) a relevant member of the borrower partnership is a person within the charge to income tax, and
- (b) in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice the accounts of the borrower partnership record an amount as a finance charge in respect of the advance, the relevant partner may treat the amount for income tax purposes as interest payable by the borrower partnership on a loan.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (10) In any case where condition B in that section is met, if a relevant member of the borrower partnership is a company within the charge to corporation tax—
- (a) the advance is to be treated, in relation to the company, for the purposes of paragraph 19 of Schedule 9 to the Finance Act 1996 (and the other provisions of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of that Act) as a money debt owed by that partnership,
 - (b) the arrangement is to be treated, in relation to the company, as a transaction for the lending of money from which that debt is treated as arising for those purposes, and
 - (c) any amount which, in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice, is recorded in the accounts of the borrower partnership as a finance charge in respect of the advance is to be treated as interest payable by the borrower partnership under that transaction.
- (11) For the purposes of subsections (9) and (10), references to the accounts of the borrower partnership include the accounts of any relevant member of the borrower partnership.
- (12) For the purpose of determining when any deemed interest in respect of the advance is paid—
- (a) the payments mentioned in section 774C(2)(f) or (4)(e) are treated as consisting of amounts for repaying the advance and amounts (“the interest elements”) in respect of interest on the advance, and
 - (b) the interest elements of those payments are treated as paid when those payments are paid,
- and the deemed interest in respect of the advance is treated as paid at the times when the interest elements are treated as paid.
- (13) In this section “deemed interest” means any amount which is treated as interest as a result of any of subsections (6) to (10).
- (14) This section is subject to the exceptions contained in section 774E.

774E Sections 774B and 774D: exceptions

- (1) Section 774B or 774D does not apply if the whole of the advance under the structured finance arrangement—
- (a) is charged to tax on a relevant person (see subsection (7)) as an amount of income,
 - (b) is brought into account in calculating for tax purposes any income of a relevant person, or
 - (c) is brought into account for the purposes of any provision of the Capital Allowances Act as a disposal receipt, or proceeds from a balancing event or disposal event, of a relevant person.

For the purposes of this subsection the effect of section 785A (rent factoring of leases of plant or machinery) is to be disregarded.

- (2) Subsection (1)(c) is not to be taken as met in any case where—
- (a) the receipt or proceeds gives rise to a balancing charge, and
 - (b) the amount of the balancing charge is limited by any provision of the Capital Allowances Act.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

(3) Section 774B or 774D does not apply if, at all times, the whole of the advance under the structured finance arrangement—

- (a) is a debtor relationship of a relevant person for the purposes of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships), or
- (b) would be a debtor relationship of a relevant person for those purposes if that person were a company within the charge to corporation tax.

For the purposes of this subsection references to a debtor relationship do not include a relationship to which section 100 of the Finance Act 1996 (money debts etc not arising from the lending of money) applies.

(4) Section 774B or 774D does not apply in so far as the structured finance arrangement is an arrangement in relation to which—

- (a) section 263A of the 1992 Act (agreements for sale and repurchase of securities) applies,
- (b) paragraph 15 of Schedule 9 to the Finance Act 1996 (repo transactions and stock-lending) applies, or
- (c) Chapter 5 of Part 2 of the Finance Act 2005 (alternative finance arrangements) has effect.

(5) Section 774B or 774D does not apply in so far as—

- (a) the security under the structured finance arrangement is plant or machinery which is the subject of a sale and finance leaseback, or
- (b) the structured finance arrangement is an arrangement in relation to which sections 228B to 228D of the Capital Allowances Act apply with the modifications contained in section 228F of that Act (lease and finance leaseback).

(6) For the purposes of subsection (5)(a), whether plant or machinery is the subject of a sale and finance leaseback is determined in accordance with section 221 of the Capital Allowances Act.

But, in applying that section, it is to be assumed that the words “and which are not a long funding lease in the case of the lessor” were omitted from section 219(1)(b) of that Act (meaning of “finance lease”).

(7) For the purposes of this section a “relevant person” means—

- (a) if section 774B applies, a person in relation to whom the structured finance arrangement would (but for that section) otherwise have had the relevant effect (within the meaning of that section), and
- (b) if section 774D applies, a relevant member of the borrower partnership (within the meaning of that section).

774F Sections 774B and 774D: power to provide further exceptions

(1) The Treasury may make regulations prescribing other circumstances in which section 774B or 774D is not to apply in relation to a structured finance arrangement.

(2) Any regulations under subsection (1) may make provision amending section 774E.

(3) The power to make regulations under subsection (1) includes—

- (a) power to make provision having effect in relation to times before the making of the regulations (but not times earlier than 6th June 2006),

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) power to make different provision for different cases or different purposes, and
- (c) power to make incidental, supplemental, consequential or transitional provision and savings.

774G Sections 774A to 774D: minor definitions etc

- (1) For the purposes of sections 774A to 774D “arrangement” includes any agreement or understanding (whether or not legally enforceable).
- (2) For the purposes of sections 774A to 774D “income deduction” means—
 - (a) a deduction in calculating any income for tax purposes, or
 - (b) a deduction against total income or total profits.
- (3) For the purposes of sections 774A to 774D—
 - (a) references to a person's receiving any asset include the person's obtaining directly or indirectly the value of any asset or otherwise deriving directly or indirectly any benefit from it,
 - (b) references to a disposal of an asset include anything which constitutes a disposal of the asset for the purposes of the 1992 Act,
 - (c) references to payments in respect of any asset include obtaining directly or indirectly the value of any asset or otherwise deriving directly or indirectly any benefit from it.
- (4) For the purposes of sections 774A to 774D, section 839 (connected persons) applies.
- (5) For the purposes of sections 774A to 774D references to the accounts of any person who is a company include the consolidated group accounts of a group of companies of which it is a member.
- (6) If any person does not draw up accounts in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice, sections 774A to 774D apply as if the accounts had been drawn up by the person in accordance with that practice.
- (7) Sections 277 to 281 of ITTOIA 2005 and section 34 above (lease premiums) are not to apply in relation to a premium paid in respect of a grant of a lease where the grant constitutes a disposal of an asset for the purposes of section 774A(2)(c) or 774C(2)(a).]

Other provisions

775 Sale by individual of income derived from his personal activities.

^{M1471}(1) Subject to subsection (7) below, this section has effect where—

- (a) transactions or arrangements are effected or made to exploit the earning capacity of an individual in any occupation by putting some other person in a position to enjoy all or any part of the profits or gains or other income, or of the receipts, derived from the individual's activities in that occupation, or anything derived directly or indirectly from any such income or receipts; and
- (b) as part of, or in connection with, or in consequence of, the transactions or arrangements any capital amount is obtained by the individual for himself or for any other person; and

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) the main object or one of the main objects of the transactions was the avoidance or reduction of liability to income tax.
- (2) Any such capital amount shall for all the purposes of the Income Tax Acts be treated as being earned income of the individual which arises when the capital amount is receivable, and which is chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D.
- (3) In this section—
- (a) references to any occupation are references to any activities of any of the kinds pursued in any profession or vocation, irrespective of whether the individual is engaged in a profession or vocation, or is employed by or holds office under some other person; and
 - (b) references in subsection (1) above to income or receipts include references to payments for any description of copyright or licence or franchise or other right deriving its value from the activities, including past activities, of the individual.
- (4) This section shall not apply to a capital amount obtained from the disposal—
- (a) of assets (including any goodwill) of a profession or vocation, or of a share in a partnership which is carrying on a profession or vocation, or
 - (b) of shares in a company,
- in so far as the value of what is disposed of, at the time of disposal, is attributable to the value of the profession or vocation as a going concern, or as the case may be to the value of the company's business, as a going concern.
- (5) If the value of the profession, vocation or business as a going concern is derived to a material extent from prospective income or receipts derived directly or indirectly from the individual's activities in the occupation, and for which, when all capital amounts are disregarded, the individual will not have received full consideration, whether as a partner in a partnership or as an employee or otherwise, subsection (4) above shall not exempt the part of the capital amount so derived.
- (6) In subsections (4) and (5) above references to the company's business include references to the business of any other company in which it holds shares directly or indirectly.
- (7) Where on any occasion an individual obtains a capital amount consisting of any property or right which derives substantially the whole of its value from the activities of the individual, or (as in the case where the individual acquires a stock option and subsequently exercises the stock option) there are two or more occasions on which an individual obtains a capital amount consisting of any such property or right, then—
- (a) tax under this section shall not be charged on any such occasion, but
 - (b) without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of this section or section 777, tax under this section shall be charged on the occasion when the capital amount, or any such capital amount, is sold or otherwise realised, and shall be so charged by reference to the proceeds of sale or the realised value.
- (8) For the purposes of subsection (1)(b) above the cases where an individual obtains any capital amount for some other person include cases where the individual has put some other person in a position to receive the capital amount by providing that other person with something of value derived, directly or indirectly, from the individual's activities in the occupation.

^{F3384}775A Transfers of rights to receive annual payments

- (1) This section applies in any case where—
- (a) a person sells or transfers the right to receive an annual payment to which this section applies (see subsection (4)), and
 - (b) the consideration (if any) for the sale or transfer would not, apart from this section, be chargeable to tax.
- (2) In any such case, tax is charged—
- (a) in the case of income tax, under this section; or
 - (b) in the case of corporation tax, under Case III of Schedule D.
- (3) Where this section applies—
- (a) the tax is charged on an amount equal to the market value of the right to receive the annual payment;
 - (b) the tax is charged for the chargeable period in which the sale or transfer takes place;
 - (c) the person liable for the tax is the person who sells or transfers the right to the annual payment.
- (4) This section applies to any annual payment other than—
- (a) an annual payment under a life annuity;
 - (b) an annual payment under a pension annuity;
 - (c) an annual payment to which section 347A applies (annual payments that are not charges on income);
 - (d) an annual payment in respect of which, by virtue of section 727 of ITTOIA 2005 (payments by individuals arising in UK), no liability to income tax arises under Part 5 of that Act.
- (5) This section applies in relation to part of an annual payment as it applies in relation to the whole of an annual payment.
- (6) For the purposes of this section, a sale or transfer of all rights under an agreement for annual payments, or under an annuity, is a sale or transfer of the rights to each individual payment under the agreement or annuity.
- (7) In this section—
- “life annuity” means—
- (a) a life annuity, as defined in section 657(1); or
 - (b) a life annuity, as defined in section 473(2) of ITTOIA 2005;

776 Transactions in land: taxation of capital gains.

^{M1472}(1) This section is enacted to prevent the avoidance of tax by persons concerned with land or the development of land.

(2) This section applies wherever—

- (a) land, or any property deriving its value from land, is acquired with the sole or main object of realising a gain from disposing of the land; or
- (b) land is held as trading stock; or
- (c) land is developed with the sole or main object of realising a gain from disposing of the land when developed; and any gain of a capital nature is obtained from the disposal of the land—

- (i) by the person acquiring, holding or developing the land, or by any connected person, or
- (ii) where any arrangement or scheme is effected as respects the land which enables a gain to be realised by any indirect method, or by any series of transactions, by any person who is a party to, or concerned in, the arrangement or scheme; and this subsection applies whether any such person obtains the gain for himself or for any other person.

(3) Where this section applies, the whole of any such gain shall for all the purposes of the Tax Acts be treated—

- (a) as being income which arises when the gain is realised, and which constitutes profits or gains chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D for the chargeable period in which the gain is realised; and
- (b) subject to the following provisions of this section, as being income of the person by whom the gain is realised.

(4) For the purposes of this section—

- (a) land is disposed of if, by any one or more transactions, or by any arrangement or scheme, whether concerning the land or property deriving its value from the land, the property in the land, or control over the land, is effectually disposed of; and
- (b) references in subsection (2) above to the acquisition or development of property with the sole or main object of realising the gain from disposing of the land shall be construed accordingly.

(5) For those purposes—

- (a) where, whether by a premature sale or otherwise, a person directly or indirectly transmits the opportunity of making a gain to another person, that other person’s gain is obtained for him by the first-mentioned person; and

- (b) any number of transactions may be regarded as constituting a single arrangement or scheme if a common purpose can be discerned in them, or if there is other sufficient evidence of a common purpose.
- (6) For the purposes of this section, such method of computing a gain shall be adopted as is just and reasonable in the circumstances, taking into account the value of what is obtained for disposing of the land, and allowing only such expenses as are attributable to the land disposed of; and in applying this subsection—
- (a) where a freehold is acquired and the reversion is retained on disposal, account may be taken of the way in which the [^{F3385}profits] under Case I of Schedule D of a person dealing in land are computed in such a case; or
- (b) account may be taken of the adjustments to be made in computing such [^{F3385}profits] under subsections (2) and (3) of section 99.
- In the application of this subsection to Scotland, “freehold” means the estate or interest of the proprietor of the dominium utile or, in the case of property other than feudal property, of the owner, and “reversion” means the interest of the landlord in property subject to a lease.
- (7) Subsection (2)(c) above shall not apply to so much of any gain as is fairly attributable to the period, if any, before the intention to develop the land was formed, and which would not fall under paragraph (a) or (b) of that subsection; and in applying this subsection account shall be taken of the treatment under Case I of Schedule D of a person who appropriates land as trading stock.
- (8) If all or any part of the gain accruing to any person is derived from value, or an opportunity of realising a gain, provided directly or indirectly by some other person, whether or not put at the disposal of the first-mentioned person, subsection (3)(b) above shall apply to the gain, or that part of it, with the substitution of that other person for the person by whom the gain was realised.
- (9) This section shall not apply to a gain accruing to an individual which by virtue of sections [^{F3386}222 to 226 of the 1992] Act (private residences) is exempt from capital gains tax, or which would be so exempt but for the provisions of section [^{F3386}224(3)] of that Act (residences acquired partly with a view to making a gain).
- (10) Where—
- (a) there is a disposal of shares in—
- (i) a company which holds land as trading stock; or
- (ii) a company which owns directly or indirectly 90 per cent. or more of the ordinary share capital of another company which holds land as trading stock; and
- (b) all the land so held is disposed of—
- (i) in the normal course of its trade by the company which held it, and
- (ii) so as to procure that all opportunity of profit in respect of the land arises to that company,
- then this section shall not by virtue of subsection (2)(i) above apply to any gain to the holder of shares as being a gain on property deriving value from that land (but without prejudice to any liability under subsection (2)(ii) above).
- (11) Where a person who considers that paragraph (a) or (c) of subsection (2) above may apply as respects a gain of a capital nature which that person has obtained from the disposal of land, or which he would obtain from a proposed disposal of land, supplies to the inspector to whom he makes his return of income written particulars showing how the gain has arisen or would arise—

- (a) the inspector shall, within 30 days from his receipt of the particulars, notify that person whether or not he is satisfied that, in the circumstances as described in the particulars, the gain will not, or would not, be chargeable to tax on that person under this section; and
 - (b) if the inspector notifies that person that he is so satisfied, the gain shall not be chargeable on that person under this section.
- (12) If the particulars given under this section with respect to the gain are not such as to make full and accurate disclosure of all facts and considerations relating thereto which are material to be known to the inspector, any notification given by the inspector under subsection (11) above shall be void.
- (13) In this section—
- (a) references to the land include references to all or any part of the land, and “land” includes buildings, and any estate or interest in land or buildings;
 - (b) references to property deriving its value from land include—
 - (i) any shareholding in a company, or any partnership interest, or any interest in settled property, deriving its value directly or indirectly from land, and
 - (ii) any option, consent or embargo affecting the disposition of land; and for the purposes of this section any question whether a person is connected with another shall be determined in accordance with section 839.
- (14) This section shall apply to all persons, whether resident in the United Kingdom or not, if all or any part of the land in question is situated in the United Kingdom.

777 Provisions supplementary to sections 775 and 776.

- ^{M1473}(1) This section has effect to supplement sections 775 and 776, and those sections and this section are together referred to as the relevant provisions.
- (2) In applying the relevant provisions account shall be taken of any method, however indirect, by which—
- (a) any property or right is transferred or transmitted; or
 - (b) the value of any property or right is enhanced or diminished;
- and accordingly the occasion of the transfer or transmission of any property or right, however indirect, and the occasion when the value of any property or right is enhanced, may be an occasion when, under sections 775 and 776, tax becomes chargeable.

- (a) to sales, contracts and other transactions made otherwise than for full consideration or for more than full consideration; and
 - (b) to any method by which any property or right, or the control of any property or right, is transferred or transmitted by assigning share capital or other rights in a company or any partnership or interest in settled property; and
 - (c) to the creation of any option or consent or embargo affecting the disposition of any property or right, and to the consideration given for the option, or for the giving of the consent or the release of the embargo; and
 - (d) to the disposal of any property or right on the winding up, dissolution or termination of any company, partnership or trust.
- (4) In ascertaining for the purposes of the relevant provisions the intentions of any person, the objects and powers of any company, partners or trustees, as set out in any memorandum, articles of association or other document, shall not be conclusive.
- (5) In order to ascertain whether and to what extent the value of any property or right is derived from any other property or right, value may be traced through any number of companies, partnerships and trusts, and the property held by any company, partnership or trust shall be attributed to the shareholders, partners or beneficiaries at each stage in such manner as is appropriate in the circumstances.
- (6) In applying the relevant provisions—
- (a) any expenditure or receipt or consideration or other amount may be apportioned by such method as is just and reasonable in the circumstances;
 - (b) all such valuations shall be made as are appropriate to give effect to sections 775 and 776.
- (7) For the purposes of the relevant provisions (and in particular for the purpose of the reference in section 775 to an individual putting some other person in a position to enjoy income or receipts) partners, or the trustees of settled property, or personal representatives, may be regarded as persons distinct from the individuals or other persons who are for the time being partners or trustees or personal representatives.
- (8) Where a person is assessed to tax under the relevant provisions in respect of consideration receivable by another person—
- (a) he shall be entitled to recover from that other person any part of that tax which he has paid; and
 - (b) if any part of that tax remains unpaid at the expiration of six months from the date when it became due and payable, it shall be recoverable from that other person as though he were the person assessed, but without prejudice to the right to recover it from the person actually assessed;
- and for the purposes of paragraph (a) above the Board or an inspector shall on request furnish a certificate specifying the amount of income in respect of which tax has been paid, and the amount of tax so paid; and the certificate shall be conclusive evidence of any facts stated in it.
- For the purposes of this subsection any income which a person is treated as having by virtue of sections 775 and 776 shall, subject to section 833(3), be treated as the highest part of his income.
- (9) If it appears to the Board that any person entitled to any consideration or other amount taxable under sections 775 and 776 is not resident in the United Kingdom, the Board may direct that section 349(1) shall apply to any payment forming part of that amount as if it were an annual payment charged with tax under Case III of Schedule D, but without prejudice to the final determination of the liability of that person, including any liability under subsection (8)(b) above.

- (10) Sections 775 and 776 have effect subject to Part XV and to any other provision of the Tax Acts deeming income to belong to a particular person.
- (11) Where under section 776(2)(c) any person is charged to tax on the realisation of a gain, and the computation of the gain proceeded on the footing that the land or some other property was appropriated at any time as trading stock, that land or other property shall be treated on that footing also for the purposes of section [F3387 161 of the 1992] Act (property becoming or ceasing to be stock in trade).
- (12) Where under section 775(1)(b) or 776(8) the person charged to tax is a person other than the person for whom the capital amount was obtained or the person by whom the gain was realised, and the tax has been paid, then, for the purposes of sections [F3387 37 and 39 of the 1992] Act (profits taxable as income excluded from tax on capital gains), the person for whom the capital amount was obtained or the person by whom the gain was realised shall be regarded as having been charged to that tax.
- (13) For the purposes of the relevant provisions—
- “capital amount” means any amount, in money or money’s worth, which, apart from the sections 775 and 776, does not fall to be included in any computation of income for purposes of the Tax Acts, and other expressions including the word “capital” shall be construed accordingly;
- “company” includes any body corporate; and
- “share” includes stock;
- and any amount in money or money’s worth shall not be regarded as having become receivable by some person until that person can effectively enjoy or dispose of it.

- (a) the granting of a lease or any other transaction involving the creation of a new estate or interest in the land;
 - (b) the transfer of the lessee's interest under a lease by surrender or forfeiture of the lease; and
 - (c) any transaction or series of transactions affecting land or an estate or interest in land, such that some person is the owner, or one of the owners, before and after the carrying out of the transaction or transactions, but another person becomes or ceases to become one of the owners;
- and in relation to any such transaction or series of transactions any person who is an owner before the carrying out of the transaction or transactions, and is not the sole owner thereafter, shall be regarded for the purposes of this section as a transferor.
- (4) A deduction by way of any relevant tax relief, being a deduction in respect of rent or of any other payment to which this section applies, shall not exceed the commercial rent for the period for which the rent or other payment is made of the land in respect of which that payment is made.
- (5) If—
- (a) under subsection (4) above part of a payment which would otherwise be allowable as a deduction by way of any relevant tax relief is not so allowable, and
 - (b) one or more subsequent payments are made by the transferor, or a person who is associated with the transferor, under the lease or other transaction,
- that part of the first-mentioned payment may be carried forward and treated for the purposes of any such deduction by way of tax relief as if it were made at the time when the next of those subsequent payments was made, and so made for the period for which that subsequent payment was made.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (4) above—
- (a) if more than one payment is made for the same period the payments shall be taken together;
 - (b) if payments are made for periods which overlap, the payments shall be apportioned, and the apportioned payments which belong to the common part of the overlapping periods shall be taken together;
 - (c) the preceding references to payments include references to parts of payments which under subsection (5) above are treated as if made at a time subsequent to that at which they were made, and to the extent that a part of a payment so carried forward under that subsection is not so allowable as a deduction by way of tax relief, it may again be carried forward under that subsection;
 - (d) so much of any payment as is in respect of services or the use of assets or rates usually borne by the tenant shall be excluded, and in determining the amount to be so excluded provisions in any lease or agreement fixing the payments or parts of payments which are in respect of services or the use of assets may be overridden.
- (7) A payment made for a period all of which falls more than one year after the payment is made shall be treated for the purposes of this section as made for that period of one year beginning with the date on which the payment was made, and a payment for a period part of which falls after the end of that year shall be treated for those purposes as if a corresponding part of the payment was made for that year (and no part for any later period).

- (8) For the purposes of making a comparison under subsection (4) above between a payment consisting of rent under a lease (“the actual lease”), or such payments taken together, and the commercial rent of the land, “commercial rent” shall mean the rent which might be expected to be paid under a lease of the land negotiated in the open market at the time when the actual lease was created, being a lease which is of the same duration as the actual lease, which is, as respects liability for maintenance and repairs, subject to the terms and conditions of the actual lease and which provides for rent payable at uniform intervals and—
- (a) at a uniform rate, or
 - (b) if the rent payable under the actual lease is rent at a progressive rate (and such that the amount of rent payable for any year is never less than the amount payable for any previous year), a rent which progresses by gradations proportionate to those provided by the actual lease.
- (9) For the purpose of making a comparison under subsection (4) above between a payment which does not consist of rent under a lease (or such a payment taken together with other payments) and the commercial rent of the land, “commercial rent” shall mean the rent which might be expected to be paid under a tenant’s repairing lease negotiated in the open market at the time when the transaction was effected under which the payment or payments became due, being—
- (a) where the period over which payments are to be made under that transaction is not less than 200 years, or the obligation to make such payments is perpetual, a lease for 200 years; and
 - (b) where that period is less than 200 years, a lease which is of the same duration as that period.
- (10) In this section references to rent under a lease include references to rent which the person entitled to the lease is under subsection (4), (5) or (6) of section 37 or under section 87 treated, for any purpose, as paying in respect of land comprised in the lease, and such rent shall be treated for the purposes of this section as having been paid from day to day as it has become due.
- (11) For the purposes of this section the following persons shall be deemed to be associated with one another, that is—
- (a) the transferor in any such transaction as is described in subsection (1) or (2) above, and the transferor in another such transaction, if those two persons are acting in concert, or if the two transactions are in any way reciprocal, and any person who is an associate of either of those associated transferors;
 - (b) any two or more bodies corporate participating in, or incorporated for the purposes of, a scheme for the reconstruction of any body or bodies corporate or for the amalgamation of any two or more bodies corporate;
 - (c) any persons who are associates as defined in section 783(10).
- (12) In this section—
- “asset” means any description of property or rights other than land or an interest in land;
- “lease” includes an underlease, sublease or any tenancy or licence, and any agreement for a lease, underlease, sublease or tenancy or licence and, in the case of land outside the United Kingdom, any interest corresponding to a lease as so defined; and in relation to such land, expressions in this section relating to interests in land and their disposition shall be construed accordingly;
- “rent” includes any payment made under a lease; and “tenant’s repairing lease” means a lease where the lessee is under an obligation to maintain and repair the whole, or substantially the whole, of the premises comprised in the lease.

(13) For the purposes of this section the following are deductions by way of relevant tax relief, that is to say—

- (a) a deduction in computing profits or gains chargeable under Schedule A ^{F3388} . . . ;
- (b) a deduction in computing [^{F3389}profits] or losses of a trade, profession or vocation for the purposes of tax;
- (c) a deduction in computing profits or gains chargeable under Case VI of Schedule D, or in computing any loss for which relief is allowable under section 392 or 396;
- (d) allowance of a payment under section 75 or 76;
- (e) a deduction from emoluments to be assessed under Schedule E made in pursuance of section 198(1) or allowable in computing losses in an employment for tax purposes;
- (f) a deduction allowable for tax purposes in computing profits or gains or losses arising from woodlands.

(14) This section shall not apply if the transfer described in subsection (1) or (2) above was on or before 14th April 1964.

780 Sale and leaseback: taxation of consideration received.

^{M1476}(1) If, in any case where a person (“the lessee”) who is a lessee of land under a lease having not more than 50 years to run (“the original lease”) is entitled in respect of the rent under the lease to a deduction by way of tax relief which is a relevant tax relief for the purposes of section 779—

- (a) the lessee assigns the original lease to another person, or surrenders it to his landlord, for a consideration which apart from this section would not be taxable otherwise than as capital in the hands of the lessee, and

- (b) there is granted or assigned to the lessee another lease (“the new lease”) of or including the whole or any part of the land which was the subject of the original lease for a term not exceeding 15 years;

then, subject to the following provisions of this section, the provisions of this Act providing for deductions or allowances by way of tax relief in respect of payments of rent shall apply in relation to the rent under the new lease, and for the purposes of the Tax Acts a proportion of the consideration received by the lessee shall be treated not as a capital receipt but in accordance with subsection (3) below.

(2) For the purposes of this section—

- (a) if the aggregate of the rent payable under the new lease in respect of any rental period ending on a date falling before the 15th anniversary of the date on which the term of the new lease begins is greater than the aggregate of the rent payable under the new lease in respect of the period of equal duration beginning on the day following that date, then unless the term of the new lease would be treated as ending on an earlier date by virtue of paragraph (b) below, that term shall be treated as ending on that date;
- (b) if under the terms of the new lease—
- (i) the lessor of the lessee has power to determine the new lease at a time before the expiry of the term for which it was granted, or
 - (ii) the lessee has power to vary his obligations under the new lease so as to reduce the rent which he would otherwise have to pay or in any other manner beneficial to him, then, unless the term of the new lease would be treated as ending on an earlier date by virtue of paragraph (a) above, that term shall be treated as ending on the earliest date with effect from which, in exercise of that power, the lessor or the lessee could determine the new lease or, as the case may be, the lessee could so vary his obligations; and in any case where a rentcharge payable by the lessee is secured on the whole or any part of the property which is the subject of the new lease, the rent payable under the new lease shall be treated for the purposes of paragraphs (a) and (b) above as equal to the aggregate of the rentcharge and the rent payable under the terms of that lease.

(3) Subject to the following provisions of this section, the proportion of the consideration received by the lessee as mentioned in subsection (1) above, or of any instalment of that consideration, which for the purposes of the Tax Acts is to be treated not as a capital receipt but in accordance with this subsection shall be determined by the formula—

where N is the term of the new lease expressed in years or, if that term is less than a year, where N is 1; and that proportion shall be treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts—

- (a) as a receipt of a trade, profession or vocation, if the rent payable by the lessee under the new lease is allowable as a deduction in computing [^{F3390}profits] or losses of a trade, profession or vocation for the purposes of tax and if the consideration is received by the lessee in the course of that trade, profession or vocation; and

- (b) in any other case, as a profit or gain chargeable under Case VI of Schedule D.
- (4) In any case where the property which is the subject of the new lease does not include the whole of the property which was the subject of the original lease, the consideration received by the lessee shall be treated for the purposes of subsection (3) above as reduced to that portion of the consideration which is reasonably attributable to such part of the property which was the subject of the original lease as consists of, or is included in, the property which is the subject of the new lease.
- (5) Schedule 2 shall have effect for the purposes of giving relief, on a claim being made in that behalf, from any increase in an individual's liability to income tax which is attributable to any amount being treated, by virtue of subsection (3) above, as an income receipt for a single year of assessment rather than as a series of such receipts during the term of the new lease; and in the application of that Schedule by virtue of this subsection for the definitions of "chargeable sum" and "relevant period" there shall be substituted the following definitions—
- "chargeable sum" means the amount in respect of which, by virtue of subsection (3) above, the claimant is chargeable to income tax for the year of assessment;"*
- "relevant period", in relation to any chargeable sum, means the term of the new lease."*
- (6) Where by agreement with his landlord, the lessee varies the terms of the original lease in such a manner that, in return for such a consideration as is specified in subsection (1) (a) above, the lessee undertakes to pay, during a period ending not later than 15 years after the date on which the consideration, or if the consideration is paid in instalments, the last such instalment, is paid to the lessee, a rent greater than that payable under the original lease, he shall be treated for the purposes of this section—
- (a) as having surrendered the original lease for that consideration, and
- (b) as having been granted a new lease for a term not exceeding 15 years but otherwise on the terms of the original lease as so varied.
- (7) References in this section to the lessee (other than in subsection (1)(a) above) include references to a person who is a partner or associate of the lessee or an associate of a partner of the lessee; and for the purposes of this section the expression "associate" shall be construed in accordance with 783(10).
- (8) Subject to subsection (7) above, expressions used in this section have the meanings assigned to them by section 24, and in subsection (2)(a) above "rental period" means a period in respect of which a payment of rent falls to be made, and for the purposes of that subsection, in a case where the rental period is a quarter or a month, each such period shall be treated as of equal duration.
- (9) The preceding provisions of this section shall not apply if the lessee had, before 22nd June 1971, a right enforceable at law or in equity to the grant of the new lease, but in any case where, apart from this subsection, those provisions would apply, no part of the rent paid under the new lease shall be treated as a payment of capital, and the provisions of this Act providing for deductions or allowances by way of tax relief in respect of payments of rent shall apply accordingly.

781 Assets leased to traders and others.

^{M1477}(1) Subject to section 782, where—

- (a) a deduction by way of tax relief which is one of the kinds listed in subsection (4) below is allowable in respect of a payment made under a lease of an asset of any description, and
 - (b) before, at or after the time when the payment is made, either—
 - (i) the person who made the payment has obtained or obtains a capital sum in respect of the lessee's interest in the lease, or
 - (ii) the lessor's interest in the lease, or any other interest in the asset, has belonged to an associate of the person who made the payment, and that associate has obtained a capital sum in respect of that interest, the person obtaining that sum shall be charged under Case VI of Schedule D for the chargeable period in which the sum is obtained with tax on an amount equal to the amount of the payment in respect of which tax relief is so allowed.

- (2) A person shall not be assessed to tax under subsection (1) above on any amount to the extent to which it exceeds the capital sum by reference to which he is so assessed.
- (3) Subsection (1) above shall not apply to payments under a lease created on or before 14th April 1964.
- (4) The kinds of deductions by way of tax relief to which subsection (1) above applies are as follows—
- (a) a deduction in computing [^{F3391}profits] or losses of a trade, profession or vocation for the purposes of tax;
 - (b) a deduction in computing profits or gains chargeable under Case VI of Schedule D, or in computing any loss for which relief is allowable under section 392 or 396;
 - (c) allowance of a payment under section 75 or 76;
 - (d) a deduction from emoluments to be assessed under Schedule E made in pursuance of section 198(1) or allowable in computing losses in an employment for tax purposes;
 - (e) a deduction allowable for tax purposes in computing profits or gains or losses arising from woodlands.
- (5) Where—
- (a) the deduction by way of tax relief mentioned in subsection (1)(a) above is a deduction in computing, for income tax purposes, profits or gains or losses of a trade, profession or vocation, or arising from woodlands, and
 - (b) any part of the payments made under the lease by the person obtaining the capital sum is a payment in respect of which a deduction is not allowed for the reason that the whole or any part of the period in which the payment would 782 Leased assets: special cases.

- ^{M1478}(1) This section shall apply, and section 781 shall not apply, to payments—
- (a) which are allowable by way of deductions in computing the [^{F3395}profits] or losses of a trade, and
 - (b) which are made under a lease of an asset which at any time before the creation of the lease was used for the purposes—
 - (i) of that trade; or
 - (ii) of another trade carried on by the person who at that time or later was carrying on the first-mentioned trade; and when so used was owned by the person carrying on the trade in which it was being used.
- (2) Subject to the following provisions of this section, the deduction allowable in computing the [^{F3395}profits] or losses of the trade for the purposes of tax as respects any such payment shall not exceed the commercial rent of the asset for the period for which the payment was made.
- (3) If under subsection (2) above part of a payment which would otherwise be allowable as a deduction is not so allowable, and one or more subsequent payments are made by the same person under the same lease, that part of the first-mentioned payment may be carried forward and treated for the purposes of computing the [^{F3395}profits] or losses of the trade for the purposes of tax as if it were made at the time when the next of those subsequent payments was made, and so made for the period for which that subsequent payment was made.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (2) above—
- (a) if more than one payment is made for the same period the payments shall be taken together;
 - (b) if the payments are made for periods which overlap, the payments shall be apportioned, and the apportioned payments which belong to the common part of the overlapping periods shall be taken together;
 - (c) the preceding references to payments include references to parts of payments which under subsection (3) above are treated as if made at a time subsequent to that at which they were made;
- and to the extent that a part of a payment carried forward under subsection (3) above is not allowable as a deduction it may again be carried forward under that subsection.
- (5) A payment made for a period all of which falls more than one year after the payment is made shall be treated for the purposes of this section as made for that period of one year beginning with the date on which the payment is made, and a payment for a period part of which falls after the end of that year shall be treated for those purposes as if a corresponding part of the payment was made for that year (and no part for any later period).

- (6) For the purpose of making a comparison under subsection (2) above between a payment, or payments taken together, and the commercial rent of the asset, “commercial rent” shall mean the rent which might at the relevant time be expected to be paid under a lease of the asset for the remainder of the anticipated normal working life of the asset, being a rent payable at uniform intervals and at a uniform rate which would afford a reasonable return for its market value at the relevant time, having regard to the terms and conditions of the lease; and in this subsection—

“anticipated normal working life” means, in the case of any asset, the period which might be expected, when the asset is first put into use, to be going to elapse before it is finally put out of use as being unfit for further use, it being assumed that the asset is going to be used in the normal manner and to the normal extent, and is going to be so used throughout that period; and

“the relevant time” means the time when the lease was created under which the payment was made with which the commercial rent is to be compared.

- (7) If the asset is used at the same time partly for the purposes of the trade and partly for other purposes the commercial rent as defined in subsection (6) above shall be determined by reference to what would be paid for such a partial use of the asset.
- (8) This section shall not apply in relation to payments made under a lease created on or before 14th April 1964.
- (9) In this section references to the person carrying on a trade are references to the person carrying on the trade for the time being, and where at any time a person succeeds to a trade which until that time was carried on by another person, and by virtue of section 113 or 337(1) the trade is to be treated as discontinued, the trade shall, nonetheless, be treated as the same trade for the purposes of this section.
- (10) In this section references to a trade include references to a profession or vocation.

783 Leased assets: supplemental.

- ^{M1479}(1) References in section 781 to a sum obtained in respect of the lessee's interest in a lease of an asset, or in respect of any other interest in an asset include—
- (a) in the case of a lessee's interest, references to sums representing the consideration in money or money's worth obtained on a surrender of the rights to the lessor, or on an assignment of the lease, or on creating a sublease or any other interest out of the lease; and
 - (b) references to any insurance moneys payable in respect of the asset, so far as payable to the owner of the interest in the asset.
- (2) Such references also include references to sums representing money or money's worth obtained by the person entitled to the interest by a transaction or series of transactions disposing of the asset, or of an interest in the asset, and in particular transactions which comprise arrangements under which the rights of the lessee under a lease of the asset are merged in any way with the rights of the lessor, or with any other rights as respects the asset, so far as the money or money's worth so obtained is attributable to the rights of the lessee under the lease.
- (3) References in section 781 to sums obtained in respect of any interest in an asset include references to money or money's worth so obtained in any transaction (including a transaction of the kind described in subsection (1) or (2) above) by way of consideration received by a person who is an associate of the person entitled to the interest in the asset.
- (4) If an interest in the asset is disposed of by any person to a person who is his associate, the person disposing of the interest shall (unless in fact he obtains a greater sum) be treated for the purposes of section 781 as having obtained in respect of the interest—
- (a) the value of the interest in the open market; or
 - (b) the value of the interest to the person to whom it is, in effect, transferred;
- whichever is the greater.
- (5) For the purposes of subsections (3) and (4) above a disposition may be direct or indirect and may be effected by any such transaction as is described in subsection (2) above.
- (6) For the purposes of sections 781 and 784 and this section any sum obtained by any persons carrying on a trade, profession or vocation in partnership in respect of an interest in an asset which is and continues to be used for the purposes of the trade, profession or vocation shall be regarded as apportionable between them in the shares in which they are then entitled to the profits of the trade, profession or vocation.
- (7) Subject to subsection (6) above, for those purposes a sum obtained by persons jointly entitled to an interest in an asset shall be apportionable according to their respective interests in the rights.
- (8) For those purposes, any payment in respect of which a deduction is allowable by way of tax relief which is made by persons carrying on a trade, profession or vocation in partnership shall be apportioned in such manner as may be just.
- (9) Where under this section any sum or payment falls to be apportioned and, at the time of the apportionment, it appears that it is material as respects the liability to tax (for whatever period) of two or more persons, any question which arises as to the manner in which the sum or payment is to be apportioned shall be determined, for the purposes of tax of all those persons—

784 Leased assets subject to hire-purchase agreements.

- (1) ^{M1480}In the application of section 781 to a lease which constitutes a hire-purchase agreement, for the reference in subsection (2) of that section to the amount of the capital sum there shall, where that capital sum was obtained in respect of the lessee's interest in the lease constituting the hire-purchase agreement, be substituted references to the amount of the capital sum (adjusted, if necessary, under subsection (5) of that section) after deducting any capital expenditure which was incurred by the person obtaining the capital sum in providing the lessee's interest.
- (2) In subsection (1) above "capital expenditure which was incurred by the person obtaining the capital sum in providing the lessee's interest" means—
 - (a) so much of any payment made under the lease by the person obtaining the capital sum (or, where the capital sum was obtained by the personal representatives of a deceased person, so made by that deceased person) as is not a payment in respect of which a deduction is allowable by way of tax relief which is one of the kinds listed in subsection (4) of section 781, plus
 - (b) where the lessee's interest was assigned to the person obtaining the capital sum, any capital payment made by that person as consideration for the assignment.
- (3) If the amount to be deducted in pursuance of subsection (1) above exceeds the amount of the capital sum from which it is to be deducted, no charge shall arise under section 781(1) in respect of the capital sum.
- (4) If the capital sum represents the consideration for part only of the lessee's interest in the lease which constitutes a hire-purchase agreement, the amount to be deducted under subsection (1) above shall be such proportion of the capital expenditure which is still unallowed as is reasonable having regard to the degree to which the capital expenditure has contributed to the value of what is disposed of in return for the capital sum.
- (5) If more than one capital sum is, or is to be regarded as, obtained by the same person in respect of the lessee's interest in the lease which constitutes a hire-purchase agreement, then, so far as in respect of one of those capital sums any deduction is made in respect of capital expenditure in pursuance of subsection (1) above that capital expenditure shall be left out of account in applying subsections (1) and (3) above to any other such capital sum; and the order in which this subsection is applied shall be the order in which the capital sums are obtained.
- (6) ^{M1481}In this section—

"hire-purchase agreement" means an agreement, other than a conditional sale agreement, under which—

 - (a) goods are bailed or, in Scotland, hired in return for periodical payments by the person to whom they are bailed or hired, and
 - (b) the property in the goods will pass to that person if the terms of the agreement are complied with and one or more of the following occurs—
 - (i) the exercise of an option to purchase by that person;
 - (ii) the doing of any other specified act by any party to the agreement;
 - (iii) the happening of any other specified event; and ^{F3400}Section 785B: interpretation

- (1) The expressions used in section 785B and this section are to be interpreted as follows.
- (2) “Capital payment” means any payment except one which, if made to the lessor—
 - (a) would fall to be included in a calculation of the lessor's income for corporation tax purposes, or
 - (b) would fall to be included in such a calculation but for section 502B (rental earnings under long funding finance lease).
- (3) “Lease” includes—
 - (a) a licence, and
 - (b) the letting of a ship or aircraft on charter or the letting of any other asset on hire, and “lessor” and “lessee” are to be read accordingly.
- (4) “Lease of plant or machinery” includes a lease of plant or machinery and other property but does not include—
 - (a) a lease where the income attributable to the lease received by the lessor (if any) would be chargeable to tax under Schedule A, or
 - (b) a lease of plant or machinery where the lessor has incurred what would (but for section 34A of the Capital Allowances Act) be qualifying expenditure (within the meaning of Part 2 of that Act) on the plant or machinery.
- (5) “Relevant arrangement” means any agreement or arrangement relating to a lease of plant or machinery, including one made before the lease is entered into or after it has ended (and, accordingly, “lessor” and “lessee” include prospective and former lessors and lessees).
- (6) A capital payment, in relation to a lease or relevant arrangement, is “relevant” if condition A or B is met (but this is subject to subsection (9)).
- (7) Condition A is that the capital payment is payable (or paid), directly or indirectly, by (or on behalf of) the lessee to (or on behalf of) the lessor in connection with—
 - (a) the grant, assignment, novation or termination of the lease, or
 - (b) any provision of the lease or relevant arrangement (including the variation or waiver of any such provision).
- (8) Condition B is that rentals payable under the lease are less than (or payable later than) they might reasonably be expected to be if there were no obligation to make the capital payment (and the capital payment were not made).
- (9) A capital payment is not “relevant” if or to the extent that—
 - (a) the capital payment reduces (or would but for section 536 of the Capital Allowances Act reduce) the amount of expenditure incurred by the lessor for the purposes of the Capital Allowances Act in respect of the plant or machinery in question,
 - (b) the capital payment is compensation for loss resulting from damage to, or damage caused by, the plant or machinery in question, or 786 Transactions associated with loans or credit.

- ^{M1482}(1) This section applies as respects any transaction effected with reference to the lending of money or the giving of credit, or the varying of the terms on which money is lent or credit is given, or which is effected with a view to enabling or facilitating any such arrangement concerning the lending of money or the giving of credit.
- (2) Subsection (1) above has effect whether the transaction is effected between the lender or creditor and the borrower or debtor, or between either of them and a person connected with the other or between a person connected with one and a person connected with the other.
- (3) If the transaction provides for the payment of any annuity or other annual payment, not being interest, being a payment chargeable to tax under Case III of Schedule D, the payment shall be treated for all the purposes of the Tax Acts as if it were a payment of annual interest.
- (4) ^{F3401}
- (5) If under the transaction a person assigns, surrenders or otherwise agrees to waive or forego income arising from any property (without a sale or transfer of the property) then, without prejudice to the liability of any other person, he shall be chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D on a sum equal to the amount of income assigned, surrendered, waived or foregone.
- (6) If credit is given for the purchase price of any property, and the rights attaching to the property are such that, during the subsistence of the debt, the purchaser's rights to income from the property are suspended or restricted, he shall be treated for the purposes of subsection (5) above as if he had surrendered a right to income of an amount equivalent to the income which he has in effect foregone by obtaining the credit.
- (7) The amount of any income payable subject to deduction of income tax shall be taken for the purposes of subsection (5) above as the amount before deduction of tax.
- (8) References in this section to connected persons shall be construed in accordance with section 839.

F3403 Pt. 18 Chs. 1, 2 modified (6.3.1992 with effect as mentioned in s. 289(1)(2) of the amending Act) by Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992 (c. 12), ss. 277(1), 289 (with ss. 60, 101(1), 171, 201(3))

788 Relief by agreement with other countries.

^{M1484}(1) If Her Majesty by Order in Council declares that arrangements specified in the Order have been made with the government of any territory outside the United Kingdom with a view to affording relief from double taxation in relation to—

- (a) income tax,
- (b) corporation tax in respect of income or chargeable gains, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.
Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) any taxes of a similar character to those taxes imposed by the laws of that territory, and that it is expedient that those arrangements should have effect, then those arrangements shall have effect in accordance with subsection (3) below.
- (2) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1) above, if it appears to Her Majesty to be appropriate, the arrangements specified in an Order in Council under this section may include provisions with respect to the exchange of information necessary for carrying out the domestic laws of the United Kingdom and the laws of the territory to which the arrangements relate concerning taxes covered by the arrangements including, in particular, provisions about the prevention of fiscal evasion with respect to those taxes; and where arrangements do include any such provisions, the declaration in the Order in Council shall state that fact.
- (3) Subject to the provisions of this Part, the arrangements shall, notwithstanding anything in any enactment, have effect in relation to income tax and corporation tax in so far as they provide—
- (a) for relief from income tax, or from corporation tax in respect of income or chargeable gains; or
 - (b) for charging the income arising from sources, or chargeable gains accruing on the disposal of assets, in the United Kingdom to persons not resident in the United Kingdom; or
 - (c) for determining the income or chargeable gains to be attributed—
 - (i) to persons not resident in the United Kingdom and their agencies, branches or establishments in the United Kingdom; or
 - (ii) to persons resident in the United Kingdom who have special relationships with persons not so resident; or
 - (d) for conferring on persons not resident in the United Kingdom the right to a tax credit under section 231 in respect of qualifying distributions made to them by companies which are so resident.
- (4) The provisions of Chapter II of this Part shall apply where arrangements which have effect by virtue of this section provide that tax payable under the laws of the territory concerned shall be allowed as a credit against tax payable in the United Kingdom.
- (5) For the purposes of this section and, subject to section 795(3), Chapter II of this Part in its application to relief under this section, any amount of tax which would have been payable under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom but for a relief to which this subsection applies given under the law of that territory shall be treated as having been payable; and references in this section and that Chapter to double taxation, to tax payable or chargeable, or to tax not chargeable directly or by deduction shall be construed accordingly.

This subsection applies—

- (a) to any relief given with a view to promoting industrial, commercial, scientific, educational or other development in a territory outside the United Kingdom, being a relief with respect to which provision is made in the arrangements in question for double taxation relief;^{F3404} . . .
- (b)^{F3404}

[^{F3405}Relief does not fall to be given in accordance with section 801 by virtue of this subsection unless the arrangements in question make express provision for such relief (but this paragraph is without prejudice to section 790(10B)).]

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (6) Except in the case of a claim for an allowance by way of credit in accordance with Chapter II of this Part, a claim for relief under subsection (3)(a) above shall be made to the Board.
- (7) Where—
- (a) under any arrangements which have effect by virtue of this section, relief may be given, either in the United Kingdom or in the territory with the government of which the arrangements are made, in respect of any income or chargeable gains, and
 - (b) it appears that the assessment to income tax or corporation tax made in respect of the income or chargeable gains is not made in respect of the full amount thereof, or is incorrect having regard to the credit, if any, which falls to be given under the arrangements,
- any such assessments may be made as are necessary to ensure that the total amount of the income or chargeable gains is assessed, and the proper credit, if any, is given in respect thereof, and, where the income is, or the chargeable gains are, entrusted to any person in the United Kingdom for payment, any such assessment may be made on the recipient of the income or gains, and, in the case of an assessment in respect of income, may be assessed under Case VI of Schedule D.
- (8) Any arrangements to which effect is given under this section may include provision for relief from tax for periods before the passing of this Act, or before the making of the arrangements, and provisions as to income or chargeable gains which is or are not subject to double taxation, and the preceding provisions of this section shall have effect accordingly.
- (9) Any Order in Council made under this section revoking an earlier such Order in Council may contain such transitional provisions as appear to Her Majesty to be necessary or expedient.
- (10) Before any Order in Council proposed to be made under this section is submitted to Her Majesty in Council, a draft of the Order shall be laid before the House of Commons, and the Order shall not be so submitted unless an Address is presented to Her Majesty by that House praying that the Order be made.

790 Unilateral relief.

- (1) ^{M1488}To the extent appearing from the following provisions of this section, relief from income tax and corporation tax in respect of income and chargeable gains shall be given in respect of tax payable under the law of any territory outside the United Kingdom by allowing that tax as a credit against income tax or corporation tax, notwithstanding that there are not for the time being in force any arrangements under section 788 providing for such relief.
- (2) Relief under subsection (1) above is referred to in this Part as “unilateral relief”.
- (3) ^{M1489}Unilateral relief shall be such relief as would fall to be given under Chapter II of this Part if arrangements with the government of the territory in question containing the provisions specified in subsections (4) to [^{F3407}(10C)] below were in force by virtue of section 788, but subject to any particular provision made with respect to unilateral relief in that Chapter; and any expression in that Chapter which imports a reference to relief under arrangements for the time being having effect by virtue of that section shall be deemed to import also a reference to unilateral relief.

- (4) ^{M1490}Credit for tax paid under the law of the territory outside the United Kingdom and computed by reference to income arising or any chargeable gain accruing in that territory shall be allowed against any United Kingdom income tax or corporation tax computed by reference to that income or gain (profits from, or remuneration for, personal or professional services performed in that territory being deemed for this purpose to be income arising in that territory).
- (5) Subsection (4) above shall have effect subject to the following modifications, that is to say—
- (a) where the territory is the Isle of Man or any of the Channel Islands, the limitation to income or gains arising in the territory shall not apply;
 - (b) where arrangements with the government of the territory are for the time being in force by virtue of section 788, credit for tax paid under the law of the territory shall not be allowed by virtue of subsection (4) above in the case of any income or gains if any credit for that tax is allowable under those arrangements in respect of that income or those gains; and
 - (c) credit shall not be allowed by virtue of subsection (4) above for overseas tax on a dividend paid by a company resident in the territory unless—
 - (i) the overseas tax is directly charged on the dividend, whether by charge to tax, deduction of tax at source or otherwise, and the whole of it represents tax which neither the company nor the recipient would have borne if the dividend had not been paid; or
 - (ii) the dividend is paid to a company within subsection (6) below; or
 - (iii) the dividend is paid to a company to which section 802(1) applies and is a dividend of the kind described in that subsection.
- (6) ^{M1491}Where a dividend paid by a company resident in the territory is paid to a [^{F3408}company falling within subsection (6A) below] which either directly or indirectly controls, or is a subsidiary of a company which directly or indirectly controls—
- (a) not less than 10 per cent. of the voting power in the company paying the dividend; or
 - (b) less than 10 per cent. of the voting power in the company paying the dividend if—
 - (i) it has been reduced below that percentage on or after 1st April 1972; or
 - (ii) it has been acquired on or after that date in exchange for voting power in another company in respect of which relief under this subsection by virtue of paragraph (a) above was due prior to the exchange; and the company receiving the dividend shows that the conditions specified in subsection (7) below are satisfied;
- any tax in respect of its profits paid under the law of the territory by the company paying the dividend shall be taken into account in considering whether any, and if so what, credit is to be allowed in respect of the dividend.

In this subsection references to one company being a subsidiary of another are to be construed in accordance with section 792(2).

[^{F3409}(6A) A company falls within this subsection if—

- (b) it is resident outside the United Kingdom but the dividend mentioned in subsection (6) above forms part of the profits of a branch or agency of the company's in the United Kingdom.]
- (7) The conditions referred to in subsection (6)(b) above are as follows—
- (a) that the reduction below the 10 per cent. limit (and any further reduction) or, as the case may be, the exchange (and any reduction thereafter) could not have been prevented by any reasonable endeavours on the part of the company receiving the dividend and was due to a cause or causes not reasonably foreseeable by it when control of the relevant voting power was acquired; and
 - (b) no reasonable endeavours on the part of that company could have restored or, as the case may be, increased the voting power to not less than 10 per cent.
- (8) In subsection (7) above references to the company receiving the dividend include references—
- (a) to any company of which it is a subsidiary within the meaning of section 792(2); and
 - (b) where prior to the reduction or exchange the voting power in question was controlled otherwise than directly by the company receiving the dividend, to each other company relevant for determining whether that voting power was controlled as required by subsection (6)(a) above.
- (9) In subsection (7) above “the relevant voting power” means the voting power by virtue of which relief was due under subsection (6)(a) above prior to the reduction or exchange or, where control of the whole of that voting power was not acquired at the same time, that part of the voting power of which control was last acquired.
- (10) In any case in which relief in respect of a dividend is due by virtue of subsection (6)(b) above, there shall be taken into account, as if it were tax payable under the law of the territory in which the company paying the dividend is resident, any tax that would be so taken into account under section 801 if the company paying the dividend and the company receiving it were related to each other within the meaning of section 801(5).
- ^{F3410}(10A) In any case where—
- (a) under the law of the territory outside the United Kingdom, an amount of tax (“the spared tax”) would, but for a relief, have been payable by a company resident in that territory (“company A”) in respect of any of its profits,

- (10C) Except as provided by subsection (10B) above, in relation to any dividend paid—
- (a) to a company resident in the United Kingdom,
- (b) by a company resident in the territory outside the United Kingdom,
- credit by virtue of section 801 does not fall to be given by virtue of this section in respect of tax which would have been payable under the law of that or any other territory outside the United Kingdom but for a relief (notwithstanding any arrangements made with the government of that or any other territory outside the United Kingdom which have effect by virtue of section 788 and provide for a relief to which subsection (5) of that section applies).]
- (11) ^{M1492}Where—
- (a) unilateral relief may be given in respect of any income or chargeable gain, and
- (b) it appears that the assessment to income tax or corporation tax made in respect of the income or chargeable gain is not made in respect of the full amount thereof, or is incorrect having regard to the credit, if any, which falls to be given by way of unilateral relief,
- any such assessments may be made as are necessary to ensure that the total amount of the income or chargeable gain is assessed, and the proper credit, if any, is given in respect thereof, and, where the income is, or the chargeable gain is, entrusted to any person in the United Kingdom for payment, any such assessment may be made on the recipient of the income or gain, and, in the case of an assessment in respect of income, may be assessed under Case VI of Schedule D.
- (12) In this section and in Chapter II of this Part in its application to unilateral relief, references to tax payable or paid under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom include only references—
- (a) to taxes which are charged on income and which correspond to United Kingdom income tax, and
- (b) to taxes which are charged on income or chargeable gains and which correspond to United Kingdom corporation tax;
- but for this purpose tax under the law of any such territory shall not be treated as not corresponding to income tax or corporation tax by reason only that it is payable under the law of a province, state or other part of a country, or is levied by or on behalf of a municipality or other local body.

[^{F3422}797] Foreign tax on [^{F3421}items giving rise to] a non-trading credit.

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of any arrangements where, in the case of any company—
 - (a) any non-trading credit relating to an [^{F3423}item] is brought into account for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships) for any accounting period (“the applicable accounting period”); and
 - (b) there is in respect of [^{F3424}that item] an amount of foreign tax for which, under the arrangements, credit is allowable against United Kingdom tax computed by reference to that interest.
- (2) It shall be assumed that tax chargeable under paragraph (a) of Case III of Schedule D on the profits and gains arising for the applicable accounting period from the company’s loan relationships falls to be computed on the actual amount of its non-trading credits for that period, and without any deduction in respect of non-trading debits.
- (3) Section 797(3) shall have effect (subject to subsection (7) below) as if—
 - (a) there were for the applicable accounting period an amount equal to the adjusted amount of the non-trading debits falling to be brought into account by being set against profits of the company for that period of any description; and
 - (b) different parts of that amount might be set against different profits.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, the adjusted amount of a company’s non-trading debits for any accounting period is the amount equal, in the case of that company, to the aggregate of the non-trading debits given for that period for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships) less the aggregate of the amounts specified in subsection (5) below.
- (5) Those amounts are—
 - (a) so much of any non-trading deficit for the applicable accounting period as is an amount to which a claim under subsection (2)(b), (c) or (d) of section 83 of the Finance Act 1996 or paragraph 4(3) of Schedule 11 to that Act (group relief and transfer to previous or subsequent period of deficits) relates; [^{F3425}and]
 - (b) so much of any non-trading deficit for that period as falls to be carried forward to a subsequent period in accordance with subsection (3) of that section or paragraph 4(4) of that Schedule; ^{F3426} . . .
 - (c) ^{F3426}

[^{F3427}An amount carried forward to the applicable accounting period under section 83(3) of that Act shall not be treated as a non-trading deficit for that period for the purposes of paragraphs (a) and (b).]
- (6) Section 797(3) shall have effect as if any amount [^{F3428}carried forward to the applicable accounting period in pursuance of a claim under section 83(2)(d) of that Act] were an amount capable of being allocated only to any non-trading profits of the company.

(7) Where—

- (a) the company has a non-trading deficit for the applicable accounting period,
- (b) the amount of that deficit exceeds the aggregate of the amounts specified in subsection (5) above, and
- (c) in pursuance of a claim under—
 - (i) subsection (2)(a) of section 83 of the Finance Act 1996 (deficit set against current year profits), or
 - (ii) paragraph 4(2) of Schedule 11 to that Act (set-off of deficits in the case of insurance companies), the excess falls to be set off against profits of any description, section 797(3) shall have effect as if non-trading debits of the company which in aggregate are equal to the amount of the excess were required to be allocated to the profits against which they are set off in pursuance of the claim.

[^{F3429}An amount carried forward to the applicable accounting period under section 83(3) of the ^{M1501}Finance Act 1996 shall be disregarded for the purposes of paragraphs (a) and (b).]

[^{F3431}798] Restriction of relief on certain interest and dividends.

- (1) This section applies where—
- (a) in any chargeable period the profits of a trade carried on by a qualifying taxpayer include an amount computed in accordance with section 795 in respect of foreign interest or foreign dividends;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) the taxpayer is entitled in accordance with this Chapter to credit for foreign tax on the foreign interest or foreign dividends; and
 - (c) in the case of foreign dividends, the foreign tax mentioned in paragraph (b) above is or includes underlying tax.
- (2) The amount of the credit for foreign tax referred to in subsection (1)(b) above which, in accordance with this Chapter, is to be allowed against income tax or corporation tax—
- (a) shall be limited by treating the amount of the foreign interest or foreign dividends (as increased or reduced under section 798A) as reduced (or further reduced) for the purposes of this Chapter by an amount equal to the taxpayer’s financial expenditure in relation to the interest or dividends (as determined in accordance with section 798B); and
 - (b) so far as the credit relates to foreign tax on interest or foreign tax on dividends which is not underlying tax, shall not exceed 15 per cent. of the interest or dividends, computed without regard to paragraph (a) above or to any increase or reduction under section 798A.
- (3) In this section and sections 798A and 798B—
- “interest”, in relation to a loan, includes any introductory or other fee or charge which is payable in accordance with the terms on which the loan is made or is otherwise payable in connection with the making of the loan;
 - “foreign dividends” means dividends payable out of or in respect of the stocks, funds, shares or securities of a body of persons not resident in the United Kingdom;
 - “foreign interest” means interest payable by a person not resident in the United Kingdom or by a government or public or local authority in a country outside the United Kingdom.
- (4) In this section and section 798B “qualifying taxpayer” means, subject to subsection (5) below, a person carrying on a trade which includes the receipt of interest or dividends and is not an insurance business.
- (5) Where a company which is connected or associated with a qualifying taxpayer is acting in accordance with a scheme or arrangement the purpose, or one of the main purposes, of which is to prevent or restrict the application of this section to the taxpayer—
- (a) the company shall be treated for the purposes of this section as a qualifying taxpayer; and
 - (b) any foreign interest or foreign dividends received in pursuance of the scheme or arrangement shall be treated for those purposes as profits of a trade carried on by the company.
- (6) For the purposes of this section and section 798B—
- (a) section 839 applies; and
 - (b) subsection (10) of section 783 applies as it applies for the purposes of that section.]

[^{F3432}798A Adjustments of interest and dividends for spared tax etc.

- (1) In a case where section 798 applies—
 - (a) subsection (2) below applies if the foreign tax referred to in subsection (1)(b) of that section is or includes an amount of spared tax; and
 - (b) subsection (3) below applies if the foreign tax so referred to is or includes an amount of tax which is not spared tax.
- (2) For the purposes of income tax or corporation tax, the amount which apart from this subsection would be the amount of the foreign interest or foreign dividends shall be treated as increased by so much of the spared tax as does not exceed—
 - (a) the amount of the spared tax for which, in accordance with any arrangements applicable to the case in question, credit falls to be given as mentioned in section 798(1)(b); or
 - (b) if it is less, 15 per cent. of the interest or dividends, computed without regard to any increase under this subsection.
- (3) If the amount of tax which is not spared tax exceeds—
 - (a) the amount of the credit which, by virtue of this Chapter (but disregarding subsection (2) of section 798), is allowed for that tax against income tax or corporation tax; or
 - (b) if it is less in the case of tax on foreign interest, 15 per cent. of the interest, computed without regard to any increase or reduction under this section or that subsection,then, for the purposes of income tax or corporation tax, the amount which, apart from this subsection, would be the amount of the foreign interest or foreign dividends shall be treated as reduced by a sum equal to the excess.
- (4) Subsection (2) above has effect for the purposes of corporation tax notwithstanding anything in section 80(5) of the ^{M1502}Finance Act 1996 (matters to be brought into account in the case of loan relationships only under Chapter II of Part IV of that Act).
- (5) Nothing in subsection (2) above prejudices the operation of section 795 in relation to foreign tax which is not spared tax.
- (6) In this section “spared tax” means foreign tax which although not payable falls to be taken into account for the purposes of credit by virtue of section 788(5).]

- (a) so much of the financial expenses (consisting of interest, discounts or similar sums or qualifying losses) incurred by the taxpayer or a person connected or associated with him as—
 - (i) is properly attributable to the earning of the interest or dividends; and
 - (ii) falls to be taken into account in computing the taxpayer’s or person’s liability to income tax or corporation tax; and
 - (b) so much of any other sum paid by the taxpayer or a person connected or associated with him which—
 - (i) falls to be taken into account as mentioned in paragraph (a) above; and
 - (ii) would not, apart from this paragraph, be taken into account in determining the amount of the interest or dividends, as it is reasonable to regard as attributable to the earning of the interest or dividends (whether or not it would fall, in accordance with normal accountancy practice, to be so treated).
- (2) There shall be deducted from the aggregate given by subsection (1) above so much of the qualifying gains and profits accruing to the qualifying taxpayer or a person connected or associated with him as—
- (a) is properly attributable to the earning of the interest or dividends; and
 - (b) falls to be taken into account in computing the taxpayer’s or person’s liability to income tax or corporation tax.
- (3) In a case where the amount of a qualifying taxpayer’s financial expenditure in relation to the earning of the interest or dividends is not readily ascertainable—
- (a) that amount shall be taken, subject to subsection (4) below, to be such sum as it is just and reasonable to attribute to the earning of the interest or dividends; and
 - (b) in the case of interest, regard shall be had in particular to any market rates of interest by reference to which the rate of the interest is determined.
- (4) The Board may by regulations supplement subsection (3) above—
- (a) by specifying matters to be taken into account in determining such a just and reasonable attribution as is referred to in paragraph (a); and
 - (b) by making provision with respect to the determination of market rates of interest for the purposes of paragraph (b);
- and any such regulations may make different provision for different cases.
- (5) In this section “qualifying losses” means—

- (2) A dividend falls within this subsection if, for the purposes of Part I of Schedule 25, the whole or any part of it falls to be treated by virtue of paragraph 4 of that Schedule as paid by the controlled foreign company to a United Kingdom resident.
- (3) If, in a case where this section applies,—
 - (a) an initial dividend is paid to a company resident outside the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) that company, or any other company which is related to it, pays an intermediate dividend which for the purposes of paragraph 4 of Schedule 25 to any extent represents that initial dividend,subsection (4) below shall have effect in relation to the UK recipient concerned.
- (4) Where this subsection has effect, it shall be assumed for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part to that UK recipient—
 - (a) that, instead of the intermediate dividend, the dividends described in subsection (5) below had been paid and the circumstances had been as described in subsection (6) or (7) below, as the case may be; and
 - (b) that any tax paid under the law of any territory in respect of the intermediate dividend, or which is underlying tax in relation to that dividend, had instead fallen to be borne accordingly (taking account of any reduction falling to be made under section 799(2)).
- (5) The dividends mentioned in subsection (4)(a) above are—
 - (a) as respects each of the initial dividends which are, for the purposes of paragraph 4 of Schedule 25, to any extent represented by the intermediate dividend, a separate dividend (an “ADP dividend”) representing, and of an amount equal to, so much of that initial dividend as is for those purposes represented by the intermediate dividend; and
 - (b) a further separate dividend (a “residual dividend”) representing, and of an amount equal to, the remainder (if any) of the intermediate dividend.
- (6) As respects each of the ADP dividends, the intermediate company is to be treated as if it were a separate company whose distributable profits are of a constitution corresponding to, and an amount equal to, that of the ADP dividend.
- (7) As respects the residual dividend (if any), the relevant profits out of which it is to be regarded for the purposes of section 799(1) as paid by the intermediate company are, in consequence of subsection (6) above, to be treated as being of such constitution and amount as remains after excluding accordingly so much of those relevant profits as constitute the whole or any part of the distributable profits out of which the ADP dividends are paid.
- (8) If, in a case where this section applies, an intermediate company also pays a dividend which is not an intermediate dividend (an “independent dividend”) and either—
 - (a) that dividend is paid to a United Kingdom resident, or
 - (b) if it is not so paid, a dividend which to any extent represents it is paid by a company which is related to that company and resident outside the United Kingdom to a United Kingdom resident,subsection (9) below shall have effect in relation to the United Kingdom resident.
- (9) Where this subsection has effect, it shall be assumed for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part to the United Kingdom resident—

- (a) that the relevant profits out of which the independent dividend is to be regarded for the purposes of section 799(1) as paid by the intermediate company are, in consequence of subsection (6) above, to be treated as being of such constitution and amount as remains after excluding so much of those relevant profits as constitute the whole or any part of the distributable profits out of which the ADP dividends are paid; and
 - (b) that any tax paid under the law of any territory in respect of the independent dividend, or which is underlying tax in relation to that dividend, had instead fallen to be borne accordingly (taking account of any reduction falling to be made under section 799(2)).
- (10) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) a controlled foreign company is an “ADP controlled foreign company” as respects any of its accounting periods if the condition in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) above is satisfied as respects that accounting period;
 - (b) an “initial dividend” (subject to subsection (14) below) is any of the dividends mentioned in paragraph (b) of subsection (1) above paid by an ADP controlled foreign company; and
 - (c) a “subsequent dividend” is any dividend which, in relation to one or more initial dividends, is the subsequent dividend for the purposes of paragraph 4 of Schedule 25.
- (11) In this section—
- “distributable profits” means a company’s profits available for distribution, determined in accordance with section 799(6);
- “intermediate company” means any company resident outside the United Kingdom which pays an intermediate dividend;
- “intermediate dividend” means any dividend which is paid by a company resident outside the United Kingdom and which—
- (a) for the purposes of paragraph 4 of Schedule 25, to any extent represents one or more initial dividends paid by other companies; and
 - (b) either is the subsequent dividend in the case of those initial dividends or is itself to any extent represented for those purposes by a subsequent dividend;
- “the UK recipient” means the United Kingdom resident to whom a subsequent dividend is paid.
- (12) Where—
- (a) one company pays a dividend (“dividend A”) to another company, and
 - (b) that other company, or a company which is related to it, pays a dividend (“dividend B”) to another company,
- then, for the purposes of this section, dividend B represents dividend A, and dividend A is represented by dividend B, to the extent that dividend B is paid out of profits which are derived, directly or indirectly, from the whole or part of dividend A.
- (13) Sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 4 of Schedule 25 (related companies) shall apply for the purposes of this section as it applies for the purposes of that paragraph.
- (14) Where an intermediate company which is an ADP controlled foreign company pays a dividend—

^{M1507}(1) This section applies in a case where—

- (a) a bank or a company connected with a bank makes a claim for an allowance by way of credit in accordance with this Chapter; and
- (b) the claim relates to underlying tax on a dividend [^{F3453} (“the overseas dividend”)] paid by the overseas company, within the meaning of section 801; and
- (c) that underlying tax is or includes tax payable under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom on or by reference to [^{F3454} interest or dividends earned or received] in the course of its business by that overseas company or by such third, fourth or successive company as is referred to in subsection (2) or (3) of that section; and

- (4) In subsection (3) above—
- (a) “interest”, subject to subsection (5) below, has the meaning assigned to it by [F3457 section 798(3)]; and
 - F3458 “the company's relevant expenditure” means the amount which, if the company referred to in subsection (1)(d) above were resident in the United Kingdom and were a qualifying taxpayer for the purposes of section 798, would be its financial expenditure in relation to the earning of the interest or dividends, as determined in accordance with section 798B.]
- (5) If, in accordance with subsection (6) or subsection (8) below, the amount of [F3459 the overseas dividend] would be treated for the purposes of corporation tax as increased or reduced by any amount, then the amount which, apart from this subsection, would be the amount of [F3460 the interest or dividends] referred to in subsection (3) above shall be taken to be increased or reduced by the same amount as [F3459 the overseas dividend] is so treated as increased or reduced.
- (6) If, in a case where this section applies, the underlying tax is or includes an amount of spared tax, then, for the purposes of corporation tax, the amount which apart from this subsection would be the amount of [F3461 the overseas dividend] shall be treated as increased by an amount equal to so much of that spared tax as does not exceed—
- F3462 the amount of the spared tax which under any arrangements is to be taken into account for the purpose of allowing credit against corporation tax in respect of the overseas dividend; or
 - (b) if it is less, 15 per cent. of the interest or dividends;]
- but nothing in this subsection prejudices the operation of section 795 in relation to foreign tax which is not spared tax.
- F3463 In this section “spared tax” has the same meaning as in section 798A.]
- (8) If, in a case where this section applies—
- (a) the underlying tax is or includes an amount of tax which [F3464 is referable to interest and] is not spared tax, and
 - (b) that amount of tax exceeds 15 per cent. of the interest to which it is referable, then, for the purposes of corporation tax, the amount which would apart from this subsection be the amount of [F3465 the overseas dividend] shall be treated as reduced by a sum equal to the excess.
- (9) Where this section applies, the amount of the credit referred to in paragraph (a) of subsection (1) above which is referable to the underlying tax payable as mentioned in paragraph (c) of that subsection shall not exceed 15 per cent. of so much of [F3466 the interest or dividends] referred to in that paragraph as is included in the relevant profits of the company paying [F3467 the overseas dividend]; and for the purposes of this subsection—
- (a) “relevant profits” has the same meaning as, by virtue of section 799, it has for the purposes of the computation of underlying tax; and
 - (b) the amount of [F3466 the interest or dividends] shall be determined without making any deduction in respect of any foreign tax.

804 Relief against income tax in respect of income arising in years of commencement.

- ^{M1508}(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, credit for overseas tax paid in respect of ^{F3470}any income which is an overlap profit] shall be allowed under this Part against United Kingdom income tax chargeable for any year of assessment in respect of that income if it would have been so allowed but for the fact that credit for that overseas tax had been allowed against the United Kingdom income tax chargeable in respect of that income for a previous year of assessment.
- (2) The amount of credit to be allowed in respect of any income by virtue of this section for any year of assessment shall not exceed the difference between—
- (a) the total credit allowable against income tax in respect of that income under this Part (including this section) for all years of assessment for which credit is so allowable; and
 - (b) the amount of credit which was in fact so allowed in respect of that income for any earlier year or years of assessment.
- (3) The total credit so allowable in respect of any income for all those years of assessment shall be taken to be the amount of the overseas tax charged on that income, adjusted where the number of the United Kingdom periods of assessment exceeds the number of foreign periods of assessment, in the proportion which the former number bears to the latter, a period for which part only of the income is charged to tax being counted not as one period but as a fraction equal to the proportion which that part of the income bears to the whole of the income.
- (4) Where the same income is charged to different overseas taxes for different foreign periods of assessment, subsection (3) above, so far as it relates to the adjustment of overseas tax, shall be applied separately to each of the overseas taxes, and the total credit allowable shall be the aggregate of those taxes after the making of any adjustments in accordance with that subsection as so applied.

[^{F3471}(5) Subsections (5A) and (5B) below apply where—

- (a) credit against income tax for any year of assessment is allowed by virtue of subsection (1) above in respect of any income which is an overlap profit (“the original income”), and
- (b) the original income or any part of it contributes to an amount which, by virtue of section 63A(1) or (3), is deducted in computing the profits or gains of a subsequent year of assessment (“the subsequent year”).

(5A) The following shall be set off one against the other, namely—

- (a) the difference between—
 - (i) the amount of the credit which, under this Part (including this section), has been allowed against income tax in respect of so much of the original income as contributes as mentioned in subsection (5) above, and
 - (ii) the amount of the credit which, apart from this section, would have been so allowed; and
- (b) the amount of credit which, on the assumption that no amount were deducted by virtue of section 63A(1) or (3), would be allowable under this Part against income tax in respect of income arising in the subsequent year from the same source as the original income.

(5B) The person chargeable in respect of the income (if any) arising in the subsequent year from the same source as the original income shall—

- (a) if the amount given by paragraph (a) of subsection (5A) above exceeds that given by paragraph (b) of that subsection, be treated as having received in that year a payment chargeable under Case VI of Schedule D of an amount such that income tax on it at the basic rate is equal to the excess; and
- (b) if the amount given by paragraph (b) of subsection (5A) above exceeds that given by paragraph (a) of that subsection, be allowed for that year under this Part an amount of credit equal to the excess.

(5C) For the purposes of subsections (5) to (5B) above, it shall be assumed that, where an amount is deducted by virtue of section 63A(1), each of the overlap profits included in the aggregate of such profits contributes to that amount in the proportion which that overlap profit bears to that aggregate.]

- (6) Any payment which a person is treated by virtue of subsection (5) above as having received shall not on that account constitute income of his for any of the purposes of the Income Tax Acts other than that subsection and in particular no part thereof shall constitute profits or gains brought into charge to income tax for the purposes of section 348.
- (7) Any claim for relief by way of credit under subsection (1) above against income tax for any year of assessment shall be made [^{F3472}on or before the fifth anniversary of the 31st January next following] that year or, where there is more than one year of assessment in respect of which such relief may be given, [^{F3472}on or before the fifth anniversary of the 31st January next following] the later of them.

[^{F3486} 804C Insurance companies: allocation of expenses etc in computations under Case I of Schedule D.

- (1) Where—
 - (a) an insurance company carries on any category of insurance business in a period of account,
 - (b) a computation in accordance with the provisions applicable to Case I of Schedule D falls to be made in relation to that category of business for that period, and
 - (c) there arises to the company in that period any income or gain in respect of which credit for foreign tax falls to be allowed under any arrangements,subsection (2) below shall have effect.
- (2) In any such case, the amount of the credit for foreign tax which, under the arrangements, is to be allowed against corporation tax in respect of so much of that income or gain as is referable to the category of business concerned (“the relevant income”) shall be limited by treating the amount of the relevant income as reduced in accordance with subsections (3) and (4) below.
- (3) The first limitation is to treat the amount of the relevant income as reduced (but not below nil) for the purposes of this Chapter by the amount of expenses (if any) attributable to the relevant income.
- (4) If—
 - (a) the amount of the relevant income after any reduction under subsection (3) above, exceeds
 - (b) the relevant fraction of the profits of the category of business concerned for the period of account in question which are chargeable to corporation tax,the second limitation is to treat the relevant amount as further reduced (but not below nil) for the purposes of this Chapter to an amount equal to that fraction of those profits.

In this subsection any reference to the profits of a category of business is a reference to those profits after the set off of any losses of that category of business which have arisen in any previous accounting period.

- (5) In determining the amount of the credit for foreign tax which is to be allowed as mentioned in subsection (2) above, the relevant amount shall not be reduced except in accordance with that subsection.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (3) above, the amount of expenses attributable to the relevant income is the appropriate fraction of the total relevant expenses of the category of business concerned for the period of account in question.
- (7) In subsection (6) above, the “appropriate fraction” means the fraction—
- (a) whose numerator is the amount of the relevant income before any reduction in accordance with subsection (2) above, and
 - (b) whose denominator is the total income of the category of business concerned for the period of account in question,
- unless the denominator so determined is nil, in which case the denominator shall instead be the amount described in subsection (8) below.

Textual Amendments

F3491 Ss. 806A-806H, 806J and cross-heading inserted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 30 para. 21(2) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2000 (c. 17), Sch. 30 para. 21(1)

806A Eligible unrelieved foreign tax on dividends: introductory.

- (1) This section applies where, in any accounting period of a company resident in the United Kingdom, an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax arises in respect of a dividend falling within subsection (2) below paid to the company.
- (2) The dividends that fall within this subsection are any dividends chargeable under Case V of Schedule D, other than—
 - (a) any dividend which is trading income for the purposes of section 393;

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) any dividend which, in the circumstances described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (8) of section 393, would by virtue of that subsection fall to be treated as trading income for the purposes of subsection (1) of that section;
 - (c) in a case where section 801A applies, the dividend mentioned in subsection (1) (b) of that section;
 - (d) in a case where section 803 applies, the dividend mentioned in subsection (1) (b) of that section;
 - (e) any dividend the amount of which is, under section 811, treated as reduced.
- (3) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) the cases where an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax arises in respect of a dividend falling within subsection (2) above are the cases set out in subsections (4) and (5) below; and
 - (b) the amounts of eligible unrelieved foreign tax which arise in any such case are those determined in accordance with section 806B.
- (4) Case A is where—
- (a) the amount of the credit for foreign tax which under any arrangements would, apart from section 797, be allowable against corporation tax in respect of the dividend,

exceeds
 - (b) the amount of the credit for foreign tax which under the arrangements is allowed against corporation tax in respect of the dividend.
- (5) Case B is where the amount of tax which, by virtue of any provision of any arrangements, falls to be taken into account as mentioned in section 799(1) in the case of the dividend (whether or not by virtue of section 801(2) or (3)) is less than it would be apart from the mixer cap.
- (6) In determining whether the circumstances are as set out in subsection (4) or (5) above, sections 806C and 806D shall be disregarded.

806B The amounts that are eligible unrelieved foreign tax.

- (1) This section has effect for determining the amounts of eligible unrelieved foreign tax which arise in the cases set out in section 806A(4) and (5).
- (2) In Case A, the difference between—
- (a) the amount of the credit allowed as mentioned in section 806A(4)(b), and
 - (b) the greater amount of the credit that would have been so allowed if, for the purposes of subsection (2) of section 797, the rate of corporation tax payable as mentioned in that subsection were the upper percentage,
- shall be an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax.
- (3) In Case B, where the mixer cap restricts the amount of tax to be taken into account as mentioned in section 799(1) in the case of the Case V dividend, the difference, in the case of that dividend, between—
- (a) the amount of tax to be taken into account as there mentioned, and
 - (b) the greater amount of tax that would have been taken into account as there mentioned, had M in the formula in section 799(1A) in its application in the case of that dividend (but not any lower level dividend) been the upper percentage,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

shall be an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax.

- (4) In Case B, where the mixer cap—
- (a) restricts the amount of underlying tax that is treated as mentioned in subsection (2) or (3) of section 801 in the case of any dividend received as mentioned in that subsection, but
 - (b) does not restrict the relevant tax in the case of any higher level dividend,
- subsection (5) below shall apply.
- (5) Where this subsection applies, an amount equal to the appropriate portion of the difference, in the case of the dividend mentioned in subsection (4)(a) above, between—
- (a) the amount of underlying tax treated as mentioned in section 801(2) or (3), as the case may be, and
 - (b) the greater amount of underlying tax that would have been so treated, had M in the formula in section 799(1A) in its application in the case of that dividend (but not any higher or lower level dividend) been the upper percentage,
- shall be an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax.
- (6) For the purposes of subsection (5) above, the “appropriate portion” of the difference there mentioned in the case of any dividend is found by multiplying the amount of that difference by the product of the reducing fractions for each of the higher level dividends.
- (7) For the purposes of subsection (6) above, the “reducing fraction” for any dividend is the fraction—
- (a) whose numerator is the amount of the dividend; and
 - (b) whose denominator is the amount of the relevant profits (within the meaning of section 799(1)) out of which the dividend is paid.
- (8) Any reference in this section to any tax being restricted by the mixer cap in the case of any dividend is a reference to that tax being so restricted otherwise than by virtue only of the application of the mixer cap in the case of one or more lower level dividends.
- (9) For the purpose of determining the amount described in subsection (2)(b), (3)(b) or (5)(b) above, sections 806C and 806D shall be disregarded.
- (10) In this section—
- “the Case V dividend” means the dividend mentioned in section 806A(1);
 - “higher level dividend”, in relation to another dividend, means any dividend—
 - (a) by which that other dividend is to any extent represented; and
 - (b) which either is the Case V dividend or is to any extent represented by the Case V dividend;
 - “lower level dividend”, in relation to another dividend, means any dividend which—
 - (a) is received as mentioned in section 801(2) or (3); and
 - (b) is to any extent represented by that other dividend;
 - “the relevant tax” means—
 - (a) in the case of the Case V dividend, the foreign tax to be taken into account as mentioned in section 799(1); and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) in the case of any other dividend, the amount of underlying tax to be treated as mentioned in section 801(2) or (3) in the case of the dividend.

806C Onshore pooling.

- (1) In this section “qualifying foreign dividend” means any dividend which falls within section 806A(2), other than—
- (a) an ADP dividend paid by a controlled foreign company;
 - (b) so much of any dividend paid by any company as represents an ADP dividend paid by another company which is a controlled foreign company;
 - (c) a dividend in respect of which an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax arises.
- (2) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) a “related qualifying foreign dividend” is any qualifying foreign dividend paid to a company resident in the United Kingdom by a company which, at the time of payment of the dividend, is related to that company;
 - (b) an “unrelated qualifying foreign dividend” is any qualifying foreign dividend which is not a related qualifying foreign dividend.
- (3) For the purposes of giving credit relief under this Part to a company resident in the United Kingdom—
- (a) the related qualifying foreign dividends that arise to the company in an accounting period shall be aggregated;
 - (b) the unrelated qualifying foreign dividends that arise to the company in an accounting period shall be aggregated;
 - (c) the underlying tax in relation to the related qualifying foreign dividends that arise to the company in an accounting period shall be aggregated;
 - (d) so much of the foreign tax paid in respect of the qualifying foreign dividends that arise to the company in an accounting period as is not underlying tax shall be aggregated.
- (4) Credit relief under this Part shall be given as if—
- (a) the related qualifying foreign dividends aggregated under paragraph (a) of subsection (3) above in the case of any accounting period instead together constituted a single related qualifying foreign dividend arising in that accounting period (“the single related dividend” arising in that accounting period);
 - (b) the unrelated qualifying foreign dividends aggregated under paragraph (b) of that subsection in the case of any accounting period instead together constituted a single unrelated qualifying foreign dividend arising in that accounting period (“the single unrelated dividend” arising in that accounting period);
 - (c) the underlying tax aggregated under paragraph (c) of that subsection for any accounting period were instead underlying tax in relation to the single related dividend arising in that accounting period (the “aggregated underlying tax” in respect of the single related dividend);
 - (d) the tax aggregated under paragraph (d) of that subsection for any accounting period were instead foreign tax (other than underlying tax) paid in respect of, and computed by reference to,—
 - (i) the single related dividend arising in that accounting period,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.
Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(ii) the single unrelated dividend so arising, or
(iii) partly the one dividend and partly the other,
(that aggregated tax being referred to as the “aggregated withholding tax”).

(5) For the purposes of this section, a dividend paid by a controlled foreign company is an “ADP dividend” if it is a dividend by virtue of which (whether in whole or in part and whether taken alone or with one or more other dividends) no apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made as regards an accounting period of the controlled foreign company in a case where such an apportionment would fall to be made apart from section 748(1)(a).

806D Utilisation of eligible unrelieved foreign tax.

- (1) For the purposes of this section, where—
- (a) any eligible unrelieved foreign tax arises in an accounting period of a company, and
 - (b) the dividend in relation to which it arises is paid by a company which, at the time of payment of the dividend, is related to that company,
- that tax is “eligible underlying tax” to the extent that it consists of or represents underlying tax.
- (2) To the extent that any eligible unrelieved foreign tax is not eligible underlying tax it is for the purposes of this section “eligible withholding tax”.
- (3) For the purposes of giving credit relief under this Part to a company resident in the United Kingdom—
- (a) the amounts of eligible underlying tax that arise in an accounting period of the company shall be aggregated (that aggregate being referred to as the “relievable underlying tax” arising in that accounting period); and
 - (b) the amounts of eligible withholding tax that arise in an accounting period of the company shall be aggregated (that aggregate being referred to as the “relievable withholding tax” arising in that accounting period).
- (4) The relievable underlying tax arising in an accounting period of the company shall be treated for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part as if it were—
- (a) underlying tax in relation to the single related dividend that arises in the same accounting period,
 - (b) relievable underlying tax arising in the next accounting period (whether or not any related qualifying foreign dividend in fact arises to the company in that accounting period), or
 - (c) underlying tax in relation to the single related dividend that arises in such one or more preceding accounting periods as result from applying the rules in section 806E,
- or partly in one of those ways and partly in each or either of the others.
- (5) The relievable withholding tax arising in an accounting period of the company shall be treated for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part as if it were—
- (a) foreign tax (other than underlying tax) paid in respect of, and computed by reference to, the single related dividend or the single unrelated dividend that arises in the same accounting period,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) relievable withholding tax arising in the next accounting period (whether or not any qualifying foreign dividend in fact arises to the company in that accounting period), or
- (c) foreign tax (other than underlying tax) paid in respect of, and computed by reference to, the single related dividend or the single unrelated dividend that arises in such one or more preceding accounting periods as result from applying the rules in section 806E, or partly in one of those ways and partly in any one or more of the others.

- (6) The amount of relievable underlying tax or relievable withholding tax arising in an accounting period that is treated—
 - (a) under subsection (4)(a) or (c) above as underlying tax in relation to the single related dividend arising in the same or any earlier accounting period, or
 - (b) under subsection (5)(a) or (c) above as foreign tax paid in respect of, and computed by reference to, the single related dividend or the single unrelated dividend arising in the same or any earlier accounting period, must not be such as would cause an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax to arise in respect of that dividend.

806E Rules for carry back of relievable tax under section 806D.

- (1) Where any relievable tax is to be treated as mentioned in section 806D(4)(c) or (5) (c), the rules for determining the accounting periods in question (and the amount of the relievable tax to be so treated in relation to each of them) are those set out in the following provisions of this section.
- (2) Rule 1 is that the accounting periods in question must be accounting periods beginning not more than three years before the accounting period in which the relievable tax arises.
- (3) Rule 2 is that the relievable tax must be so treated that—
 - (a) credit for, or for any remaining balance of, the relievable tax is allowed against corporation tax in respect of the single dividend arising in a later one of the accounting periods beginning as mentioned in rule 1 above, before
 - (b) credit for any of the relievable tax is allowed against corporation tax in respect of the single dividend arising in any earlier such accounting period.
- (4) Rule 3 is that the relievable tax must be so treated that, before allowing credit for any of the relievable tax against corporation tax in respect of the single dividend arising in any accounting period, credit for foreign tax is allowed—
 - (a) first for the aggregated foreign tax in respect of the single dividend arising in that accounting period, so far as not consisting of relievable tax arising in another accounting period; and
 - (b) then for relievable tax arising in any accounting period before that in which the relievable tax in question arises.

(5) The above rules are subject to sections 806D(6) and 806F.

(6) In this section—

“aggregated foreign tax” means aggregated underlying tax or aggregated withholding tax;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

“relievable tax” means relievable underlying tax or relievable withholding tax;

“the single dividend” means—

- (a) in relation to relievable underlying tax, the single related dividend; and
- (b) in relation to relievable withholding tax, the single related dividend or the single unrelated dividend.

806F Credit to be given for underlying tax before other foreign tax etc.

- (1) For the purposes of this Part, credit in accordance with any arrangements shall, in the case of any dividend, be given so far as possible—
 - (a) for underlying tax (where allowable) before foreign tax other than underlying tax;
 - (b) for foreign tax other than underlying tax before amounts treated as underlying tax; and
 - (c) for amounts treated as underlying tax (where allowable) before amounts treated as foreign tax other than underlying tax.
- (2) Accordingly, where the amount of foreign tax to be brought into account for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part is subject to any limitation or restriction, the limitation or restriction shall be taken to have the effect of excluding foreign tax other than underlying tax before excluding underlying tax.

806G Claims for the purposes of section 806D(4) or (5).

- (1) The relievable underlying tax or relievable withholding tax arising in any accounting period shall only be treated as mentioned in subsection (4) or (5) of section 806D on a claim.
- (2) Any such claim must specify the amount (if any) of that tax—
 - (a) which is to be treated as mentioned in paragraph (a) of the subsection in question;
 - (b) which is to be treated as mentioned in paragraph (b) of that subsection; and
 - (c) which is to be treated as mentioned in paragraph (c) of that subsection.
- (3) A claim under subsection (1) above may only be made before the expiration of the period of—
 - (a) six years after the end of the accounting period mentioned in that subsection; or
 - (b) if later, one year after the end of the accounting period in which the foreign tax in question is paid.

806H Surrender of relievable tax by one company in a group to another.

- (1) The Board may by regulations make provision for, or in connection with, allowing a company which is a member of a group to surrender all or any part of the amount of the relievable tax arising to it in an accounting period to another company which is a member of that group at the time, or throughout the period, prescribed by the regulations.
- (2) The provision that may be made under subsection (1) above includes provision—

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) prescribing the conditions which must be satisfied if a surrender is to be made;
 - (b) determining the amount of relievable tax which may be surrendered in any accounting period;
 - (c) prescribing the conditions which must be satisfied if a claim to surrender is to be made;
 - (d) prescribing the consequences for tax purposes of a surrender having been made;
 - (e) allowing a claim to be withdrawn and prescribing the effect of such a withdrawal.
- (3) Regulations under subsection (1) above—
- (a) may make different provision for different cases; and
 - (b) may contain such supplementary, incidental, consequential or transitional provision as the Board may think fit.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (1) above a company is a member of a group if the conditions prescribed for that purpose in the regulations are satisfied.

806J Interpretation of foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter.

- (1) This section has effect for the interpretation of the foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter.
- (2) In this section, “the foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter” means sections 806A to 806H and this section.
- (3) For the purposes of the foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter, where—
- (a) one company pays a dividend (“dividend A”) to another company, and
 - (b) that other company, or a company which is related to it, pays a dividend (“dividend B”) to another company,
- dividend B represents dividend A, and dividend A is represented by dividend B, to the extent that dividend B is paid out of profits which are derived, directly or indirectly, from the whole or part of dividend A.
- (4) Where—
- (a) one company is related to another, and
 - (b) that other is related to a third company,
- the first company shall be taken for the purposes of paragraph (b) of subsection (3) above to be related to the third, and so on where there is a chain of companies, each of which is related to the next.
- (5) In any case where—
- (a) a company resident outside the United Kingdom pays a dividend to a company resident in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) the circumstances are such that subsection (6)(b) of section 790 has effect in relation to that dividend,
- the foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter shall have effect as if the company resident outside the United Kingdom were related to the company resident in the United Kingdom (and subsection (10) of that section shall have effect accordingly).
- (6) Subsection (5) of section 801 (related companies) shall apply for the purposes of the foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter as it applies for the purposes of that section.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

(7) In the foreign dividend provisions of this Chapter—

“aggregated underlying tax” shall be construed in accordance with section 806C(4)(c);

“controlled foreign company” has the same meaning as in Chapter IV of Part XVII;

“eligible unrelieved foreign tax” shall be construed in accordance with sections 806A and 806B;

“the mixer cap” means section 799(1)(b);

“qualifying foreign dividend” has the meaning given by section 806C(1);

“related qualifying foreign dividend” has the meaning given by section 806C(2)(a);

“relievable tax” has the meaning given by section 806E(6);

“relievable underlying tax” shall be construed in accordance with 806D(3)(a);

“relievable withholding tax” shall be construed in accordance with 806D(3)(b);

“single related dividend” shall be construed in accordance with section 806C(4)(a);

“the upper percentage” is 45 per cent.]

F3492S. 806K and cross-heading inserted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 30 para. 22(2) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2000 (c. 17), Sch. 30 para. 22(1)

806K Application of foreign dividend provisions to branches or agencies in the UK of persons resident elsewhere.

(1) Sections 806A to 806J shall apply in relation to an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax arising in a chargeable period in respect of any of the income of a branch or agency in the United Kingdom of a person resident outside the United Kingdom as they apply in relation to eligible unrelieved foreign tax arising in an accounting period of a company resident in the United Kingdom in respect of any of the company's income, but with the modifications specified in subsection (2) below.

(2) Those modifications are—

- (a) take any reference to an accounting period as a reference to a chargeable period;
- (b) take any reference to corporation tax as including a reference to income tax;
- (c) take the reference in section 806A(4)(a) to section 797 as a reference to sections 796 and 797;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (d) in relation to income tax, for subsection (2) of section 806B substitute the subsection (2) set out in subsection (3) below.
- (3) That subsection is—
- (“ In Case A, the difference between—
- (a) the amount of the credit allowed as mentioned in section 806A(4)(b), and
- (b) the greater amount of credit that would have been so allowed if, for the purposes of section 796, the amount of income tax borne on the dividend as computed under that section were charged at a rate equal to the upper percentage,
- shall be an amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax. ”.]

F3493 Ss. 806L, 806M and cross-heading inserted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 30 para. 23\(2\)\(3\) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2000 \(c. 17\), Sch. 30 para. 23\(1\)

806L Carry forward or carry back of unrelieved foreign tax.

- (1) This section applies where, in any accounting period of a company resident in the United Kingdom, an amount of unrelieved foreign tax arises in respect of any of the company’s qualifying income from an overseas branch or agency of the company.
- (2) The amount of the unrelieved foreign tax so arising shall be treated for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part as if it were foreign tax paid in respect of, and computed by reference to, the company’s qualifying income from the same overseas branch or agency—
- (a) in the next accounting period (whether or not the company in fact has any such income from that source in that accounting period), or
- (b) in such one or more preceding accounting periods, beginning not more than three years before the accounting period in which the unrelieved foreign tax arises, as result from applying the rules in subsection (3) below,
- or partly in the one way and partly in the other.
- (3) Where any unrelieved foreign tax is to be treated as mentioned in paragraph (b) of subsection (2) above, the rules for determining the accounting periods in question (and the amount of the unrelieved foreign tax to be so treated in relation to each of them) are that the unrelieved foreign tax must be so treated under that paragraph—
- (1) that—
- (a) credit for, or for any remaining balance of, the unrelieved foreign tax is allowed against corporation tax in respect of income of a later one of the accounting periods beginning as mentioned in that paragraph,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.
Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- before
- (b) credit for any of the unrelieved foreign tax is allowed against corporation tax in respect of income of any earlier such period;
- (2) that, before allowing credit for any of the unrelieved foreign tax against corporation tax in respect of income of any accounting period, credit for foreign tax is allowed—
- (a) first for foreign tax in respect of the income of that accounting period, other than unrelieved foreign tax arising in another accounting period; and
 - (b) then for unrelieved foreign tax arising in any accounting period before that in which the unrelieved foreign tax in question arises.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, the cases where an amount of unrelieved foreign tax arises in respect of any of a company's qualifying income from an overseas branch or agency in an accounting period are those cases where—
- (a) the amount of the credit for foreign tax which under any arrangements would, apart from section 797, be allowable against corporation tax in respect of that income,
exceeds
 - (b) the amount of the credit for foreign tax which under the arrangements is allowed against corporation tax in respect of that income;
- and in any such case that excess is the amount of the unrelieved foreign tax in respect of that income.
- (5) For the purposes of this section, a company's qualifying income from an overseas branch or agency is the profits of the overseas branch or agency which are—
- (a) chargeable under Case I of Schedule D; or
 - (b) included in the profits of life reinsurance business or overseas life assurance business chargeable under Case VI of Schedule D by virtue of section 439B or 441.
- (6) Where (whether by virtue of this subsection or otherwise) an amount of unrelieved foreign tax arising in an accounting period falls to be treated under subsection (2) above for the purposes of allowing credit relief under this Part as foreign tax paid in respect of, and computed by reference to, qualifying income of an earlier accounting period, it shall not be so treated for the purpose of any further application of this section.
- (7) In this section "overseas branch or agency", in relation to a company, means a branch or agency through which the company carries on a trade in a territory outside the United Kingdom.

806M Provisions supplemental to section 806L.

- (1) This section has effect for the purposes of section 806L and shall be construed as one with that section.
- (2) If, in any accounting period, a company ceases to have a particular overseas branch or agency, the amount of any unrelieved foreign tax which arises in that accounting period in respect of the company's income from that overseas branch or agency shall, to the extent that it is not treated as mentioned in section 806L(2)(b), be reduced to nil (so that no amount arises which falls to be treated as mentioned in section 806L(2)(a)).

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) If a company—
- (a) at any time ceases to have a particular overseas branch or agency in a particular territory (“the old branch or agency”), but
 - (b) subsequently again has an overseas branch or agency in that territory (“the new branch or agency”),
- the old branch or agency and the new branch or agency shall be regarded as different overseas branches or agencies.
- (4) If, under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom, tax is charged in the case of a company resident in the United Kingdom in respect of the profits of two or more of its overseas branches or agencies in that territory, taken together, then, for the purposes of—
- (a) section 806L, and
 - (b) subsection (3) above,
- those overseas branches or agencies shall be treated as if they together constituted a single overseas branch or agency of the company.
- (5) Unrelieved foreign tax arising in respect of qualifying income from a particular overseas branch or agency in any accounting period shall only be treated as mentioned in subsection (2) of section 806L on a claim.
- (6) Any such claim must specify the amount (if any) of the unrelieved foreign tax—
- (a) which is to be treated as mentioned in paragraph (a) of that subsection; and
 - (b) which is to be treated as mentioned in paragraph (b) of that subsection.
- (7) A claim under subsection (5) above may only be made before the expiration of the period of—
- (a) six years after the end of the accounting period mentioned in that subsection, or
 - (b) if later, one year after the end of the accounting period in which the foreign tax in question is paid.]

CHAPTER III

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

807 Sale of securities with or without accrued interest.

^{M1515}(1) In any case where—

- (a) a person is treated under section 714(2) as receiving annual profits or gains on the day an interest period ends; and
- (b) assuming that, in the chargeable period in which the day falls, he were to become entitled to any interest on the securities concerned, he would be liable in respect of the interest to tax chargeable under Case IV or V of Schedule D; and
- (c) he is liable under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom to tax in respect of interest payable on the securities at the end of the interest period or he would be so liable if he were entitled to that interest, credit of an amount equal to the relevant proportion of the profits or gains shall be allowed against any United Kingdom income tax or corporation tax computed by reference to the profits or gains, and shall be treated as if it were allowed under section 790(4).

In this subsection the relevant proportion is the rate of tax to which the person is or would be liable as mentioned in paragraph (c) above.

- (2) In any case where—
- (a) a person is entitled to credit against United Kingdom tax under section 790(4) or any corresponding provision of arrangements under section 788; and
 - (b) the tax is computed by reference to income consisting of interest which falls due on securities at the end of an interest period and which is treated as reduced by virtue of section 714(5);

then the amount of that credit shall be a proportion of the amount it would be apart from this subsection, and the proportion is to be found by applying the formula—

$$\frac{I - R}{I}$$

where—

I is the amount of the interest; and

R is the amount by which it is treated as reduced.

- (3) ^{M1516}Where the person entitled to the credit is an individual, subsection (2) above does not apply unless the interest arises from securities to which the person either became or ceased to be entitled during the interest period.
- (4) Where section 811(1) applies to any income and, if credit were allowable in respect of it the credit would be reduced by virtue of subsection (2) above, section 811(1) shall have effect in relation to the income as if the reference to any sum paid in respect of tax on it were a reference to the amount which would be the amount of the credit if it were allowable and subsection (2) above applied.
- (5) Sections 710 and 711 shall apply for the interpretation of this section.

[^{F3494}(6) This section does not apply for the purposes of corporation tax.]

809 Relief in respect of discretionary trusts.

^{M1520}(1) In any case where—

- (a) a payment made by trustees falls to be treated as a net amount in accordance with section 687(2) and the income arising under the trust includes any taxed overseas income, and
- (b) the trustees certify that—
 - (i) the income out of which the payment was made was or included taxed overseas income of an amount and from a source stated in the certificate, and
 - (ii) that amount arose to them not earlier than six years before the end of the year of assessment in which the payment was made;

then the person to whom the payment was made may claim that the payment, up to the amount so certified, shall be treated for the purposes of this Part as income received by him from that source and so received in the year in which the payment was made.

(2) In subsection (1) above “taxed overseas income”, in relation to any trust, means income in respect of which the trustees are entitled to credit for overseas tax under this Part.

812 Withdrawal of right to tax credit of certain non-resident companies connected with unitary states.

- (a) a company has, or is an associated company of a company which has, a qualifying presence in a unitary state, and
- (b) at any time when it or its associated company has such a qualifying presence, the company is entitled by virtue of arrangements having effect under [^{F3513}section 2(1) of TIOPA 2010] to a tax credit in respect of qualifying distributions made to it by companies which are resident in the United Kingdom which is equal to one half of the tax credit to which an individual resident in the United Kingdom would be entitled in respect of such distributions,

then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the arrangements, the company shall not be entitled to claim under [^{F3514}section 397(2)(a) of ITTOIA 2005] to have that tax credit set against the income tax chargeable on its income for the year of assessment in which the distribution is made [^{F3515}nor, by virtue of section 30(9) of the Finance (No. 2) Act 1997, where] the credit exceeds that income tax, to have the excess paid to it.

- (2) ^{M1525}In this section and sections 813 and 814, “unitary state” means a province, state or other part of a territory outside the United Kingdom [^{F3516}in relation to] which the arrangements referred to in subsection (1) above have been made which, in taxing the income or profits of companies from sources within that province, state or other part, takes into account, or is entitled to take into account, income, receipts, deductions, outgoings or assets of such companies, or associated companies of such companies, arising, expended or situated, as the case may be, outside that territory and which has been prescribed under subsection (6) below as a unitary state for the purposes of this subsection.
- (3) ^{M1526}A company shall be treated as having a qualifying presence in a unitary state if it is a member of a group and, in any period for which members of the group make up their accounts ending after the relevant date, 7½ per cent. or more in value of the property, payroll or sales of such members situated in, attributable to or derived from

^{M1524}(1) In any case where—

- (a) a company has, or is an associated company of a company which has, a qualifying presence in a unitary state, and
- (b) at any time when it or its associated company has such a qualifying presence, the company is entitled by virtue of arrangements having effect under section 788(1) to a tax credit in respect of qualifying distributions made to it by companies which are resident in the United Kingdom which is equal to one half of the tax credit to which an individual resident in the United Kingdom would be entitled in respect of such distributions,

then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the arrangements, the company shall not be entitled to claim under [^{F3514}section 397(2)(a) of ITTOIA 2005] to have that tax credit set against the income tax chargeable on its income for the year of assessment in which the distribution is made [^{F3515}nor, by virtue of section 30(9) of the Finance (No. 2) Act 1997, where] the credit exceeds that income tax, to have the excess paid to it.

- (2) ^{M1525}In this section and sections 813 and 814, “unitary state” means a province, state or other part of a territory outside the United Kingdom [^{F3516}in relation to] which the arrangements referred to in subsection (1) above have been made which, in taxing the income or profits of companies from sources within that province, state or other part, takes into account, or is entitled to take into account, income, receipts, deductions, outgoings or assets of such companies, or associated companies of such companies, arising, expended or situated, as the case may be, outside that territory and which has been prescribed under subsection (6) below as a unitary state for the purposes of this subsection.

^{M1531}(1) Where—

- (a) section 812 applies so as to withdraw the entitlement of a company to claim to have a tax credit in respect of a qualifying distribution set against the income tax chargeable on its income and to have the excess of the credit over that income tax paid to it; and
- (b) the company (“the recipient company”) has either had that excess paid to it, or has received an additional amount in accordance with arrangements made under Regulation 2(1) of the ^{M1532}Double Taxation Relief (Taxes on Income) (General) (Dividend) Regulations 1973;

the recipient company shall be liable to a fine for the violation of the provisions of section 812 equal to twice the amount of the excess or the additional amount, as the case may be.

(2) Any fine payable under subsection (1) above—

- (a) shall be payable to the Board;
 - (b) shall be treated as having become payable at the date when the excess or additional amount was paid to the recipient company; and
 - (c) may be recovered in accordance with subsections (3) to (7) below;
- and any such fine is referred to below as “the recoverable amount”.

(3) The recoverable amount may be assessed and recovered as if it were unpaid tax and section 30 of the Management Act (recovery of overpayment of tax etc.) shall apply accordingly.

(4) Any amount which may be assessed and recovered as if it were unpaid tax by virtue of this section shall carry interest at the rate of 9 per cent. per annum from the date when it was payable in accordance with subsection (1) above until the date it is paid.

(5) It is hereby declared that this section applies to a recoverable amount which is paid without the making of an assessment (but is paid after it is due) and that, where the recoverable amount is charged by any assessment (whether or not any part of it has been paid when the assessment is made), this section applies in relation to interest running before, as well as after, the making of the assessment.

(6) Where the recoverable amount is not paid by the recipient company within six months from the date on which it became payable—

- (a) the recoverable amount may at any time within six years from the date on which it became payable be assessed and recovered as if it were unpaid tax due from any person who—
 - (i) is or was at any time prior to the expiration of that six year period connected with the recipient company, or
 - (ii) would have been connected on the assumption that all the facts and circumstances relating to the recipient company at the time the excess or additional amount, as the case may be, was paid continued to apply for six years thereafter, and section 30 of the Management Act shall apply accordingly; and
- (b)

^{F3522}(7) Where a recoverable amount is assessed and recovered from a person connected with the recipient company in accordance with subsection (6)(a) above, that person shall be liable for the interest payable in accordance with subsection (4) above, and until the interest is so paid, subsection (6)(b) above shall apply as if the words “ the interest due in accordance with subsection (4) above is paid ” were substituted for the words “the recoverable amount is paid in accordance with the provisions of this section”.

(8) Interest payable under this section shall be paid without any deduction of income tax and shall not be allowed as a deduction in computing any income, profits or losses for any tax purposes.

(9) Where under the law in force in a territory outside the United Kingdom interest is payable subject to a deduction in respect of taxation and such deduction applies to an amount of interest paid in accordance with subsection (4) above, the reference to the rate of 9 per cent. per annum in that subsection shall be deemed to be a reference to such rate of interest as after such deduction shall be equal to the rate of 9 per cent. per annum.

814 Arrangements to avoid section 812. U.K.

- ^{M1533}(1) In any case where arrangements are made, whether before or after the coming into force of this section, as a result of which interest is paid or a discount is allowed by or through a person who is resident in the United Kingdom, or carries on business in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency, and it is reasonable to suppose that, if such payment or allowance had not been made, a qualifying distribution would have been made by that person, or by another company resident in the United Kingdom to a company which has, or is an associated company of a company which has, a qualifying presence in a unitary state at the time when the payment or allowance is made, then—
- (a) no person who receives that payment or allowance shall be entitled to relief from income tax or corporation tax thereon by virtue of arrangements having effect under section 788(1); and
 - (b) the payment or allowance shall not be allowed as a deduction in computing any income, profits or losses for any tax purposes.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Without prejudice to the generality of subsection (1) above, where a payment or allowance is not of itself a payment or allowance to which that subsection applies, but is made in conjunction with other payments of whatever nature and taken together with those payments has substantially similar effect to a distribution, then, for the purposes of subsection (1) above it shall be treated as a payment or allowance within that subsection.
- (3) Any company which has received such a payment of interest as is referred to in subsection (1) above, from which income tax has not been deducted by the person making the payment, and has a qualifying presence in a unitary state at the time of the payment, shall be treated for the purposes of section 813 as a company—
- (a) from which the entitlement to claim payment of the excess of a tax credit over the income tax chargeable on its income has been withdrawn by section 812(1), and
 - (b) which has had paid to it such an excess in an amount equal to the income tax which should have been deducted from the payment of interest.

[^{F3525}(2) Where gains accruing to company A on the transfer would have been chargeable to tax under the law of the relevant member State but for the Mergers Directive, this Part, including any arrangements having effect by virtue of section 788, shall apply as if the amount of tax, calculated on the required basis, which would have been payable under that law in respect of the gains so accruing but for that Directive, were tax payable under that law.]

- (5) For the purposes of this section, the required basis is that—
- (a) so far as permitted under the law of the relevant member State, any losses arising on the transfer are set against any gains so arising, and
 - (b) any relief available to company A under that law has been duly claimed.

(6) In this section—

“the Mergers Directive” means the Directive of the Council of the European Communities dated 23rd July 1990 on the common system of taxation applicable to mergers, divisions, transfers of assets and exchanges of shares concerning companies of different member States (no. 90/434/EEC);

“relevant member State” means the member State in which, immediately before the time of the transfer, company A carried on the trade through a branch or agency.]

[^{F3545}(2A) Subsection (1) above shall apply to a repayment made in consequence of a claim under section 228 of the Income Tax Act 1952 (relief in respect of income accumulated under trusts) as if the repayment were of income tax paid by the claimant for the year of assessment in which the contingency mentioned in that section happened.]

[^{F3547}(2B) Subsection (1) above shall apply to a payment made by the Board under section 375(8) (payment of amount which borrower would have been able to deduct from interest payment under section 369(1)) as if the payment were a repayment falling within that subsection.]

[^{F3548}(3) For the purposes of subsection (1) above—

[^{F3549}(aa) if the repayment is a payment made by the Board under section 375(8), the relevant time is—

- (i) if the interest payment was made in the year 1996-97 or a subsequent year of assessment, the 31st January next following that year;
- (ii) if the interest payment was made in an earlier year of assessment, the 5th April next following that year;]

[^{F3550}(a) if the repayment is—

- (i) the repayment of an amount paid in accordance with the requirements of section 59A of the Management Act on account of income tax for a year of assessment, or
- (ii) the repayment of income tax for such a year which is not income tax deducted at source, the relevant time is the date of the payment that is being repaid;

- (b) if the repayment is of income tax deducted at source for a year of assessment, the relevant time is the 31st January next following that year; and]
- (c) if the repayment is of a penalty or surcharge, [^{F3551}the relevant time is the date on which the penalty or surcharge was paid].]

[^{F3552}(4) For the purposes of subsection (3) above, where a repayment in respect of income tax for a year of assessment is made to any person, that repayment—

- (a) shall be attributed first to so much of any payment made by him under section 59B of the Management Act as is a payment in respect of income tax for that year;

- (b) a repayment of income tax in respect of a payment received by the company in that accounting period on which the company bore income tax by deduction; or
 - (c) a payment of the whole or part of the tax credit comprised in any franked investment income received by the company in that accounting period.
- (2) Subject to the following provisions of this section, where a payment ^{F3562} . . . to which this section applies is made by the Board or an inspector after the end of the 12 months beginning with the material date, the payment shall be increased under this section by an amount (a “repayment supplement”) equal to interest on the amount paid at the [^{F3563}rate applicable under section 178 of the Finance Act 1989] for each complete tax month contained in the period (if any) beginning with the relevant date and ending at the end of the tax month in which the order for the payment is issued.
- ^{F3564}(2A) In relation to any complete tax month beginning before 6th April 1974 which is contained in the last-mentioned period, subsection (2) above shall have effect as if the rate of interest specified in it were 6 per cent. per annum (instead of the rate so specified or any other rate in force by virtue of subsection (5) below or section 48(6) of the Finance (No.2) Act 1975). ^{F3565}
- (3) ^{M1546}For the purposes of subsection (2) above—
 - (a) if the payment is a repayment of corporation tax that was paid on or after the first anniversary of the material date, the relevant date is the anniversary of the material date that occurs next after the date on which that tax was paid;
 - (b) in any other case, the relevant date is the first anniversary of the material date; and where a payment to which this section applies is a repayment of corporation tax paid by a company on different dates, the payment shall as far as possible be treated for the purposes of this subsection as a repayment of tax paid on a later rather than an earlier date among those dates.
- (4) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) a repayment of corporation tax made in consequence of a claim by a company under section 239(3) to have the whole or any part of an amount of surplus advance corporation tax arising in the case of any accounting period treated as if it were advance corporation tax paid in respect of distributions made by the company in any earlier accounting period shall be treated as a repayment of corporation tax paid for the accounting period in the case of which that amount of surplus advance corporation tax arose; and
 - (b) a repayment of income tax or corporation tax made on a claim under subsection (4) of section 419 shall be treated as if it were a repayment of corporation tax paid for the accounting period in which the repayment of, or of the part in question of, the loan or advance mentioned in that subsection was made. [^{F3566}and
 - (c) a repayment of corporation tax or income tax falling to be made as a result of a claim under section 393A(1) to have the whole or any part of a loss incurred in an accounting period set off against profits of an earlier accounting period (“the earlier period”)—
 - (i) shall, in a case where the earlier period falls wholly within the period of twelve months immediately preceding the accounting period in which the loss was incurred, be treated as a repayment of tax paid for the earlier period; and

(5) [^{F3568}Without prejudice to subsection (2A) above] the Treasury may by order from time to time increase or decrease the rate of interest by reference to which repayment supplements are calculated under subsection (2) above.

(6) A repayment supplement shall not be payable under this section in respect of a payment made in consequence of an order or judgment of a court having power to allow interest on the payment.

(7) A repayment supplement paid under this section shall be disregarded for all purposes of income tax and corporation tax.

(8) In this section—

“tax month” means the period beginning with the 6th day of any calendar month and ending with the 5th day of the following calendar month;

“the material date” in relation to a payment to which this section applies, means the last date on which corporation tax on any of the profits of the company in question arising in the relevant accounting period could have been paid—

(a) in a case where section 10(1) applies, within the nine months there mentioned;

(b) in a case where section 478 applies, within the time limit imposed by subsection (2)(a) of that section, but subject to subsection (6) of that section.

(9) This section has effect subject to section 826(8).

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) within the meaning of section 806D, any relievable underlying tax or relievable withholding tax arises in an accounting period of a company (“the later period”),
 - (b) pursuant to a claim under section 806G, the whole or any part of that tax is treated as mentioned in section 806D(4)(c) or (5)(c) in relation to the single related dividend or the single unrelated dividend arising in an earlier accounting period (“the earlier period”), and
 - (c) a repayment falls to be made of corporation tax paid for the earlier period or of income tax in respect of a payment received by the company in that period,
- then, in determining the amount of interest (if any) payable under this section on the repayment referred to in paragraph (c) above, no account shall be taken of so much of the amount of the repayment as falls to be made as a result of the claim under section 806G, except so far as concerns interest for any time after the date on which any corporation tax for the later period became due and payable (as mentioned in subsection (7D) below).

(7BC) Where, in a case falling within subsection (7A)(a) and (b) above—

- (a) as a result of the claim under section 393A(1), an amount or increased amount of eligible unrelieved foreign tax arises for the purposes of section 806A(1), and
- (b) pursuant to a claim under section 806G, the whole or any part of an amount of relievable underlying tax or relievable withholding tax is treated as mentioned in section 806D(4)(c) or (5)(c) in relation to the single related dividend or the single unrelated dividend arising in an accounting period before the earlier period, then subsection (7BB) above shall have effect in relation to the claim under section 806G as if the reference in the words after paragraph (c) to the later period within the meaning of that subsection were a reference to the period which, in relation to the claim under section 393A(1), would be the later period for the purposes of subsection (7A) above.]

[^{F3601}(7D) In subsections (7), (7A), (7B) [^{F3602}, (7BB)] and (7C) above, any reference to the date on which corporation tax for an accounting period became, or would have become, due and payable shall be construed on the basis that corporation tax for an accounting period becomes due and payable on the day following the expiry of nine months from the end of the accounting period.]

[^{F3603}(7E) The power conferred by section 59E of the Management Act (alteration of date on which corporation tax becomes due and payable) does not include power to make provision in relation to subsection (7), (7A), (7B), [^{F3604}(7BB),] (7C) or (7D) above the effect of which would be to change the meaning of references in subsection (7), (7A), (7B) [^{F3604}, (7BB)] or (7C) above to the date on which corporation tax for an accounting period became, or would have become, due and payable (as mentioned in subsection (7D) above).]

(8) In consequence of the preceding provisions of this section, no repayment supplement (within the meaning of section 825) shall be paid in respect of any repayment of tax or payment of tax credit where the relevant accounting period (within the meaning of that section) ends after the appointed day.

[^{F3605}(8A) Where—

(a) interest has been paid to a company under subsection (1)(a) [^{F3606}or (d)] above,

[^{F3607}(b) there is—

(i) a change in the company's assessed liability to corporation tax, or

(ii) a change in the amount of the R&D tax credit payable to the company (which does not result in a change falling within sub-paragraph (i)),

other than a change which in whole or in part corrects an error made by the Board or an officer of the Board, and]

(c) as a result only of that change (and, in particular, not as a result of any error in the calculation of the interest), it appears to an officer of the Board that the interest ought not to have been paid, either at all or to any extent,

(8B) For the purposes of subsection (8A) above, the cases where there is a change in a company's assessed liability to corporation tax are those cases where—

(a) an assessment, or an amendment of an assessment, of the amount of corporation tax payable by the company for the accounting period in question is made, or

(b) a determination of that amount is made under paragraph 36 or 37 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (which until superseded by a self-assessment under that Schedule has effect as if it were one), whether or not any previous assessment or determination has been made.

[For the purposes of subsection (8A)(b) above, the cases where there is a change in ^{F3608}(8BA) the amount of the R&D tax credit payable to the company are those cases where an assessment, or an amendment to an assessment, is made to recover an amount of R&D tax credit paid to the company for the accounting period in question.]

(8C) In subsection (8A)(b) above “error” includes—

(a) any computational error; and

(b) the allowance of a claim or election which ought not to have been allowed.]

and a source of income is within the charge to corporation tax or income tax if that tax is chargeable on the income arising from it, or would be so chargeable if there were any such income, and references to a person, or to income, being within the charge to tax, shall be similarly construed.

- (2) ^{M1567}The definition of “company” is subject to section 468, and does not apply in the following provisions of this Act, that is to say—

sections 774 to 777;

section 839;

paragraph 15 of Schedule 3;

(and also does not apply where the context otherwise requires because some other definition of “company” applies).

- (3) ^{M1568}Except so far as the context otherwise requires, in the Tax Acts, and in any enactment passed after 12th March 1970 which by any express provision is to be construed as one with the Tax Acts, the Corporation Tax Acts or the Income Tax Acts, “tax”, where neither income tax nor corporation tax is specified, means either of those taxes.

- (4) Subsection (3) above is without prejudice to the provisions of section 9 which apply income tax law for certain purposes of corporation tax, and accordingly the employment of “income tax” rather than “tax” in any provision of the Tax Acts is not a conclusive indication that that provision is not applied to corporation tax by that section.

[Any reference in the Tax Acts to franked investment income received by a company ^{F3656}(4A) apply to any such income received by another person on behalf of or in trust for the company, but not to any such income received by the company on behalf of or in trust for another person.]

- (5) ^{M1569}In the Tax Acts any reference to a child, however expressed, shall be construed as including a reference to an adopted child.

This subsection does not apply for the purposes of paragraph 10 of Schedule 30.|||||||

833 Interpretation of Income Tax Acts.

- (1) ^{M1570}In the Income Tax Acts references to profits or gains shall not include references to chargeable gains.
- (2) ^{M1571}References in the Income Tax Acts to the retail prices index are references to the general index of retail prices (for all items) published by the [^{F3657}Office for National Statistics]; and if that index is not published for a month which is relevant for the purposes of any provision of those Acts that provision shall be construed as referring to any substituted index or index figures published by [^{F3658}that Office].
- (3) ^{M1572}For the purposes of any provision of the Income Tax Acts (other than section 550 or Schedule 2 ^{F3659}) requiring income of any description to be treated as the highest part of a person's income, his income shall be calculated without regard to—
 - (a) any payment [^{F3660}or other benefit] chargeable to tax by virtue of section 148; or
 - (b) any amount included in his total income by virtue of section 547(1)(a); or
 - (c) any chargeable sum as defined in paragraph 2 of Schedule 2 ^{F3659}.
- (4) ^{M1573}Subject to subsections (5) and (6) below, in the Income Tax Acts "earned income" means, in relation to any individual—
 - (a) any income arising in respect of—
 - (i) any remuneration from any office or employment held by the individual, or
 - (ii) any pension, superannuation or other allowance, deferred pay or compensation for loss of office, given in respect of the past services of the individual or of the [^{F3661}spouse] or parent of the individual in any office or employment, or given to the individual in respect of past services of any deceased person, whether the individual or [^{F3661}spouse] or parent of the individual shall have contributed to such pension, superannuation allowance or deferred pay or not; and
 - (b) any income from any property which is attached to or forms part of the emoluments of any office or employment held by the individual; and
 - (c) any income which is charged under Schedule A ^{F3662}, B ^{F3663} or D and is immediately derived by the individual from the carrying on or exercise by him of his trade, profession or vocation, either as an individual or, in the case of a partnership, as a partner personally acting in the partnership.

In cases where the income of a wife is deemed to be income of the husband, any reference in this subsection to the individual includes either the husband or the wife^{F3664}.

- (5)^{M1574} Without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of subsection (4) above, in the Income Tax Acts, except so far as is otherwise expressly provided, “earned income” also includes, in relation to any individual—
- (a) any income arising in respect of Civil List pensions granted under the ^{M1575}Civil List Act 1837 as amended by any subsequent enactment; and
 - (b) any annuity, pension or annual payment to which section 58(2) or 133 applies; and
 - (c) any payments chargeable to income tax under Schedule E by virtue of section 150, 151 or 617;
 - (d) any sum payable by way of annuity to an individual by virtue of a scheme under section 27 of the ^{M1576}Agriculture Act 1967 (grants for relinquishing occupation of uncommercial agricultural units), unless the annuity was granted to the individual by reason of his having relinquished occupation before attaining the age of 55; and
 - (e) income which is earned income by virtue of section 529.
- (6)^{M1577} The provisions of this section are without prejudice to any other provision of the Income Tax Acts directing income to be treated as earned income.

834 Interpretation of the Corporation Tax Acts.

^{M1578}(1) For the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts, except in so far as the context otherwise requires—

“accounting date” means the date to which a company makes up its accounts and “period of account” means the period for which it does so;

“accounting period” shall be construed in accordance with section 12;

“allowable loss” does not include, for the purposes of corporation tax in respect of chargeable gains, a loss accruing to a company in such circumstances that if a gain accrued the company would be exempt from corporation tax in respect of it;

“branch or agency” means any factorship, agency, receivership, branch or management;

“charges on income” has the meaning given by section 338;

“the financial year 1988” means the financial year beginning with April 1988, and similarly with references embodying other dates;

“group relief” has the meaning given by section 402;

^{F3665}“loan relationship” has the same meaning as it has for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996;

“non-trading deficit”, in relation to a company’s loan relationships, shall be construed in accordance with section 82 of the Finance Act 1996.]

(2) Section 6(4) shall also apply for the purposes of the following provisions of this Act, that is to say—

Chapter II of Part X, except section 395;

sections 75 and 76;

section 490;

sections 768 and 769;

^{F3666}

(3) For all the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts dividends shall be treated as paid on the date when they become due and payable, [^{F3667}except in so far as Chapter III of Part XII makes other provision for dividends treated as paid by virtue of that Chapter].

(4) Except as otherwise provided by the Corporation Tax Acts, any apportionment to different periods which falls to be made under those Acts shall be made on a time basis according to the respective lengths of those periods.

835 “Total income” in the Income Tax Acts.

- ^{M1579}(1) In the Income Tax Acts “total income”, in relation to any person, means the total income of that person from all sources estimated in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Acts.
- (2) Any person who, on his own behalf or on behalf of another person, delivers a statement of the amount of his or that other person’s total income shall observe the rules and directions contained in section 836.
- (3) ^{M1580}Where deductions reduce a person’s total income and the order in which they are made or in which income of different descriptions is reduced thereby may affect his liability to income tax the deductions shall be made and treated as reducing income in accordance with subsections (4) and (5) below.
- (4) Subject to any express provisions of the Income Tax Acts, any deductions allowable in computing a person’s total income or to be made from a person’s total income shall be treated as reducing income of different descriptions in the order which will result in the greatest reduction of his liability to income tax.
- (5) Deductions from total income under Chapter I of Part VII shall be made after any other deductions and shall not affect the amount to be taken as a person’s total income for the purposes of section 257(5) [^{F3671}, 257A(5)] or 274*nor the amount determining whether a person is entitled to relief under section 263 or by how much relief under that section is reduced*^{F3672}.
- (6) ^{M1581}In estimating the total income of any person—
- (a) any income which is chargeable with income tax by way of deduction at the basic rate [^{F3673} or the lower rate] in force for any year or which for the purposes of Schedule F comprises an [^{F3674} amount which is equal to a tax credit calculated by reference to the tax credit fraction] shall be deemed to be income of that year; and
 - (b) any deductions which are allowable on account of sums payable under deduction of income tax at the basic rate in force for any year out of the property or profits of that person shall be allowed as deductions in respect of that year;
- notwithstanding that the income or sums, as the case may be, accrued or will accrue in whole or in part before or after that year.
- (7) Where an assessment has become final and conclusive for the purposes of income tax for any year of assessment—
- (a) that assessment shall also be final and conclusive in estimating total income; and
 - (b) no allowance or adjustment of liability, on the ground of diminution of income or loss, shall be taken into account in estimating total income unless that allowance or adjustment has previously been made on an application under the special provisions of the Income Tax Acts relating thereto.
- (8) Subsection (7) above shall apply in relation to—
- (a) any relief under section 353;
 - (b) any relief by reason of the operation of an election for the herd basis under Schedule 5; and
 - ^{F3675}(c) any allowance given effect under section 258 or 479 of the Capital Allowances Act;]

839 Connected persons.

^{M1587}(1) For the purposes of, and subject to, the provisions of the Tax Acts which apply this section, any question whether a person is connected with another shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions of this section (any provision that one person is connected with another being taken to mean that they are connected with one another).

(2) A person is connected with an individual if that person is the individual's wife or husband, or is a relative, or the wife or husband of a relative, of the individual or of the individual's wife or husband.

[^{F3681}(3) A person, in his capacity as trustee of a settlement, is connected with—

- (a) any individual who in relation to the settlement is a settlor,
- (b) any person who is connected with such an individual, and
- (c) any body corporate which is connected with that settlement.

In this subsection “settlement” and “settlor” have the same meaning as in Chapter IA of Part XV (see section 660G(1) and (2)).

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (3A) For the purpose of subsection (3) above a body corporate is connected with a settlement if—
- (a) it is a close company (or only not a close company because it is not resident in the United Kingdom) and the participators include the trustees of the settlement; or
 - (b) it is controlled (within the meaning of section 840) by a company falling within paragraph (a) above.]
- (4) Except in relation to acquisitions or disposals of partnership assets pursuant to bona fide commercial arrangements, a person is connected with any person with whom he is in partnership, and with the wife or husband or relative of any individual with whom he is in partnership.
- (5) A company is connected with another company—
- (a) if the same person has control of both, or a person has control of one and persons connected with him, or he and persons connected with him, have control of the other; or
 - (b) if a group of two or more persons has control of each company, and the groups either consist of the same persons or could be regarded as consisting of the same persons by treating (in one or more cases) a member of either group as replaced by a person with whom he is connected.
- (6) A company is connected with another person if that person has control of it or if that person and persons connected with him together have control of it.
- (7) Any two or more persons acting together to secure or exercise control of a company shall be treated in relation to that company as connected with one another and with any person acting on the directions of any of them to secure or exercise control of the company.
- (8) In this section—
- “company” includes any body corporate [^{F3682}(including an open-ended investment company)] or unincorporated association, but does not include a partnership, and this section shall apply in relation to any unit trust scheme as if the scheme were a company and as if the rights of the unit holders were shares in the company;
- “control” shall be construed in accordance with section 416; and
- “relative” means brother, sister, ancestor or lineal descendant.

In relation to any period during which section 470(2) has effect the reference above to a unit trust scheme shall be construed as a reference to a unit trust scheme within the meaning of the ^{M1588}Prevention of Fraud (Investments) Act 1958 or the ^{M1589}Prevention of Fraud (Investments) Act (Northern Ireland) 1940.

- (d) that the distribution as dividend of surpluses arising from the realisation of investments is prohibited by the company's memorandum or articles of association; and
- (e) that the company does not retain in respect of any accounting period more than 15 per cent. of [^{F3691}its eligible investment income].

[^{F3692}(1AA) Income is eligible investment income for the purposes of this section in so far as it is either—

- (a) income deriving from shares or securities, or
- (b) eligible rental income, within the meaning of section 508A.]

[^{F3693}(1A) For the purposes of paragraph (b) of subsection (1) above and the other provisions of this section having effect in relation to that paragraph—

- (a) holdings in companies which are members of a group (whether or not including the investing company) and are not excluded from that paragraph shall be treated as holdings in a single company; and
- (b) where the investing company is a member of a group, money owed to it by another member of the group shall be treated as a security of the latter held by the investing company and accordingly as, or as part of, the holding of the investing company in the company owing the money; and for the purposes of this subsection “group” means a company and all companies which are its 51 per cent. subsidiaries]

(2) Subsection (1)(b) above shall not apply—

- (a) to a holding in a company acquired before 6th April 1965 which on that date represented not more than 25 per cent. by value of the investing company's investments; or
- (b) to a holding in a company which, when it was acquired, represented not more than 15 per cent. by value of the investing company's investments; so long as no addition is made to the holding.

[^{F3694}(2A) Subsection (1)(e) above shall not apply as regards an accounting period if—

- (a) the company is required to retain income in respect of the period by virtue of a restriction imposed by law, and
- (b) the amount of income the company is so required to retain in respect of the period exceeds an amount equal to 15 per cent. of the income the company derives from shares and securities.

(2B) Subsection (2A) above shall not apply where—

- (a) the amount of income the company retains in respect of the accounting period exceeds the amount of income it is required by virtue of a restriction imposed by law to retain in respect of the period, and
- (b) the amount of the excess or, where the company distributes income in respect of the period, that amount together with the amount of income which the company so distributes is at least £10,000 or, where the period is less than 12 months, a proportionately reduced amount.

(2C) Paragraph (e) of subsection (1) above shall not apply as regards an accounting period if the amount which the company would be required to distribute in order to fall within that paragraph is less than £10,000 or, where the period is less than 12 months, a proportionately reduced amount.]

- (a) in the case of an approval given in the year 1995-96, 6th April 1995; or
 - (b) in any other case, the time when the application for approval was made.
- (2) Subject to the following provisions of this section, the Board shall not approve a company for the purposes of this section unless it is shown to their satisfaction in relation to the most recent complete accounting period of the company—
- (a) that the company's income in that period has been derived wholly or mainly from shares or securities;
 - (b) that at least 70 per cent. by value of the company's investments has been represented throughout that period by shares or securities comprised in qualifying holdings of the company;
 - (c) that at least 30 per cent. by value of the company's qualifying holdings has been represented throughout that period by holdings of eligible shares;
 - (d) that no holding in any company, other than a venture capital trust or a company which would qualify as a venture capital trust but for paragraph (e) below, has at any time during that period represented more than 15 per cent. by value of the company's investments;
 - (e) that the shares making up the company's ordinary share capital (or, if there are such shares of more than one class, those of each class) have throughout that period been [^{F3698}listed in the Official List of] the Stock Exchange; and
 - (f) that the company has not retained more than 15 per cent. of the income it derived in that period from shares and securities.
- (3) Where, in the case of any company, the Board are satisfied that the conditions specified in subsection (2) above are fulfilled in relation to the company's most recent complete accounting period, they shall not approve the company for the purposes of this section unless they are satisfied that the conditions will also be fulfilled in relation to the accounting period of the company which is current when the application for approval is made.
- (4) The Board may approve a company for the purposes of this section notwithstanding that conditions specified in subsection (2) above are not fulfilled with respect to that company in relation to its most recent complete accounting period if they are satisfied—
- (a) in the case of any of the conditions specified in paragraphs (a), (d), (e) and (f) of that subsection which are not fulfilled, that the conditions will be fulfilled in relation to the accounting period of the company which is current when the application for approval is made or in relation to its next accounting period;
 - (b) in the case of any of the conditions specified in paragraphs (b) and (c) of that subsection which are not fulfilled, that the conditions will be fulfilled in relation to an accounting period of the company beginning no more than three years after the time when they give their approval or, if earlier, when the approval takes effect; and
 - (c) in the case of every condition which is not fulfilled but with respect to which the Board are satisfied as mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b) above, that the condition will continue to be fulfilled in relation to accounting periods following the period in relation to which they are satisfied as so mentioned.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (2)(b) to (d) above the value of any holding of investments of any description shall be taken—
- (a) unless—

- (i) it is added to by a further holding of investments of the same description, or
- (ii) any such payment is made in discharge, in whole or in part, of any obligation attached to the holding as (by discharging the whole or any part of that obligation) increases the value of the holding, to be its value when acquired, and

- (b) where it is so added to or such a payment is made, to be its value immediately after the most recent addition or payment.

[For the purposes of subsection (2)(b) to (d) above where—

- ^{F3699}(5AA) (a) any shares (“new shares”) are exchanged for other shares (“old shares”) under arrangements in relation to which paragraph 10C of Schedule 28B applies, and
- (b) those arrangements have not ceased by virtue of sub-paragraph (13) of that paragraph to be arrangements by reference to which requirements of that Schedule are deemed to be satisfied, the value of the new shares, both at the time of their acquisition and immediately after any subsequent addition to a holding of the new shares that is made under those arrangements, shall be taken to be the same as the value, when last valued in accordance with subsection (5) above, of the old shares for which they are exchanged.

- (5AB) References in subsection (5AA) above to shares in a company include references to any securities of that company.

(5AC) For the purposes of subsection (2)(b) to (d) above, where—

- (a) shares (“new shares”) are issued to a company by virtue of the exercise by that company of any right of conversion attached to other shares, or securities, held by that company (“convertibles”), and
- (b) paragraph 10D of Schedule 28B applies in relation to the issue of the new shares, the value of the new shares at the time of their acquisition shall be taken to be the same as the value, when last valued in accordance with subsection (5) above, of the convertibles for which they are exchanged.]

 - (b) the new shares are treated by virtue of the regulations as meeting the requirements of that Schedule, the value of the holding of new shares, and of any original shares that are retained under the exchange, shall be taken to be an amount such that the requirements of subsection (2)(b) to (d) above do not cease to be met by reason of the exchange.

(5AE) In subsection (5AD) above—

- (a) “shares” includes securities; and
- (b) “exchange of shares”, “new shares” and “original shares” have the same meaning as in paragraph 11B of Schedule 28B.]

[Subsection (5B) below applies where—

- ^{F3701}(5A) (a) there has been an issue of ordinary share capital of a company (“the first issue”),

- (b) an approval of that company for the purposes of this section has taken effect on or before the day of the making of the first issue, and
 - (c) a further issue of ordinary share capital of that company has been made since the making of the first issue.
- (5B) Where this subsection applies, the use to which the money raised by the further issue is put, and the use of any money deriving from that use, shall be disregarded in determining whether any of the conditions specified in subsection (2)(b) and (c) above are, have been or will be fulfilled in relation to—
- (a) the accounting period in which the further issue is made; or
 - (b) any later accounting period ending no more than three years after the making of the further issue.]
- (6) The Board may withdraw their approval of a company for the purposes of this section wherever it at any time appears to them that there are reasonable grounds for believing—
- (a) that the conditions for the approval of the company were not fulfilled at the time of the approval;
 - (b) in a case where the Board were satisfied for the purposes of subsection (3) or (4) above that a condition would be fulfilled in relation to any period, that that condition is one which will not be or, as the case may be, has not been fulfilled in relation to that period;
 - (c) in the case of a company approved in pursuance of subsection (4) above, that the company has not fulfilled such other conditions as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Board in relation to, or to any part of, the period of three years mentioned in subsection (4)(b) above;
- [in a case where the use of any money falls to be disregarded for any accounting
- ^{F3702}(ca) period in accordance with subsection (5B) above—
- (i) that the first accounting period of the company for which the use of that money will not be disregarded will be a period in relation to which a condition specified in subsection (2) above will fail to be fulfilled; or
 - (ii) that the company has not fulfilled such other conditions as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Board in relation to, or to any part of, an accounting period for which the use of that money falls to be disregarded;] or
 - (d) that the company's most recent complete accounting period or its current one is a period in relation to which there has been or will be a failure of a condition specified in subsection (2) above to be fulfilled, not being a failure which, at the time of the approval, was allowed for in relation to that period by virtue of subsection (4) above.
- (7) Subject to subsections (8) and (9) below, the withdrawal of the approval of any company for the purposes of this section shall have effect as from the time when the notice of the withdrawal is given to the company.
- (8) If, in the case of a company approved for the purposes of this section in exercise of the power conferred by subsection (4) above, the approval is withdrawn at a time before all the conditions specified in subsection (2) above have been fulfilled with respect to that company in relation either—
- (a) to a complete accounting period of twelve months, or
 - (b) to successive complete accounting periods constituting a continuous period of twelve months or more, the withdrawal of the approval shall have the effect that the approval shall, for all purposes, be deemed never to have been given.

- (9) A notice withdrawing the approval of a company for the purposes of this section may specify a time falling before the time mentioned in subsection (7) above as the time as from which the withdrawal is to be treated as having taken effect for the purposes of section 100 of the 1992 Act; but the time so specified shall be no earlier than the beginning of the accounting period in relation to which it appears to the Board that the condition by reference to which the approval is withdrawn has not been, or will not be, fulfilled.
- (10) Notwithstanding any limitation on the time for making assessments, an assessment to any tax chargeable in consequence of the withdrawal of any approval given for the purposes of this section may be made at any time before the end of the period of three years beginning with the time when the notice of withdrawal is given.
- (11) The following provisions of section 842 shall apply as follows for the purposes of this section as they apply for the purposes of that section, that is to say—
- (a) subsections (1A) and (2) of that section shall apply in relation to subsection (2) (d) above (but with the omission of subsection (2)(a) of that section) as they apply in relation to subsection (1)(b) of that section;
 - (b) subsections (2A) to (2C) of that section shall apply in relation to subsection (2) (f) above as they apply in relation to subsection (1)(e) of that section; and
 - (c) without prejudice to their application in relation to provisions applied by paragraph (a) or (b) above, subsections (3) and (4) of that section shall apply in relation to any reference in this section to a holding or an addition to a holding as they apply in relation to any such reference in that section.
- (12) In this section, and in the provisions of section 842 as applied for the purposes of this section, “securities”, in relation to any company—
- (a) includes any liability of the company in respect of a loan (whether secured or not) which has been made to the company on terms that do not allow any person to require the loan to be repaid, or any stock or security relating to that loan to be re-purchased or redeemed, within the period of five years from the making of the loan or, as the case may be, the issue of the stock or security; but
 - (b) does not include any stock or security relating to a loan which has been made to the company on terms which allow any person to require the loan to be repaid, or the stock or security to be re-purchased or redeemed, within that period.
- (13) Schedule 28B shall have effect for construing the references in this section to a qualifying holding.
- (14) In this section “eligible shares” means shares in a company which are comprised in the ordinary share capital of the company and carry no present or future preferential right to dividends or to the company’s assets on its winding up and no present or future
- ^{F3703} . . . right to be redeemed.]

Farming: election for the herd basis

- 2 (1) An election for the herd basis shall apply to all production herds of a particular class kept by the farmer making the election, including herds which he has ceased to keep before, or first begins to keep after, the making of the election.
- (2) An election for the herd basis must be made in writing to the inspector, and must specify the class of herds to which it relates.
- (3) Subject to paragraphs 6 and 12 below, an election for the herd basis made by any farmer shall be valid only if it is made—
 - [^{F3771}(a) in the case of an election by a person chargeable to income tax, not later than twelve months from the 31st January next following the qualifying year of assessment;
 - (b) in the case of an election on behalf of persons in partnership, not later than twelve months from the 31st January next following the year of assessment in which the qualifying period of account ends; and
 - (c) in the case of an election by a person chargeable to corporation tax, not later than two years from the end of the qualifying accounting period.]
- (4) An election for the herd basis made by any farmer shall be irrevocable and, subject to paragraph 6 below, shall have effect—
 - [^{F3772}(a) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (3)(a) above, for the qualifying year of assessment and all subsequent years;
 - (b) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (3)(b) above, for the qualifying period of account and all subsequent periods of account; and
 - (c) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (3)(c) above, for the qualifying accounting period and all subsequent accounting periods.]
- [^{F3773}(5) Where, in a case falling within sub-paragraph (3)(a) above, the commencement year immediately precedes the qualifying year of assessment, sub-paragraph (4)(a) above shall have effect as if the reference to the qualifying year of assessment were a reference to the commencement year.
- (6) In this paragraph—deductions in computing [^{F3775}profits] of farming under Case I of Schedule D, shall, subject to sub-paragraphs (5) and (6) below, be deducted as an expense.

- (5) Where the second animal is of better quality than the first animal, the amount deducted shall not exceed the amount which it would have been necessary to expend in order to acquire an animal of the same quality as the first animal.
- (6) Where the first animal was slaughtered by the order of any Ministry, government department or local or public authority under the law relating to diseases of animals, and the second animal is of worse quality, the amount included as a trading receipt shall not exceed the amount allowable as a deduction.
- (7) Where the herd is sold as a whole, and another production herd of the same class is acquired, sub-paragraphs (1) to (6) above shall apply as though there had been sold from, and replaced in, the original herd a number of animals equal to the number in the original herd or in the newly acquired herd, whichever is the less.
- (8) Subject to sub-paragraph (9) below, if (either all at once or over a period not exceeding 12 months) either—
 - (a) the whole of a herd is sold in circumstances in which sub-paragraph (7) above does not apply, or
 - (b) a part of a herd is sold on a substantial reduction being made in the number of animals in the herd, any profit or loss arising from the transaction shall not be taken into account.
- (9) Where within five years of the sale the seller acquires or begins to acquire another production herd of the class in question or, as the case may be, acquires or begins to acquire animals to replace the part of the herd in question—
 - (a) sub-paragraphs (4) to (7) above shall apply to the acquisition or replacement, except that, if the sale was one which the seller was compelled to effect by causes wholly beyond his control, the amount included as a trading receipt in respect of any animal sold which is replaced by an animal of worse quality shall not exceed the amount allowable as a deduction in respect of that animal of worse quality; and

Farming: provisions applicable to special cases

- 4 A farmer who, having kept a production herd of a particular class, ceases altogether to keep herds of that class for a period of at least five years shall, as respects production herds kept by him after the end of that period, be treated as if he had never kept any production herds of that class before the end of that period.
- 5 (1) Where a farmer transfers to another person all or any of the animals which form part of a production herd otherwise than by way of sale or by way of sale but for a price other than that which they would have fetched if sold in the open market, and either—
- (a) the transferor is a body of persons over whom the transferee has control or the transferee is a body of persons over whom the transferor has control or both the transferor and the transferee are bodies of persons and some other person has control over both of them; or
 - (b) it appears with respect to the transfer, or with respect to transactions of which the transfer is one that the sole or main benefit, or one of the main benefits, which (apart from the provisions of this paragraph) might have been expected to accrue to the parties or any of them was a benefit resulting from—
 - (i) the obtaining of a right to make an election for the herd basis, or
 - (ii) such an election having effect or ceasing to have effect, or
 - (iii) such an election having a greater effect or a less effect;the like consequences shall ensue, in relation to all persons concerned, for the purpose of computing [^{F3776}profits] under Case I of Schedule D as would have ensued if the animals had been sold for the price which they would have fetched if sold in the open market.
- (2) In this paragraph “body of persons” includes a partnership, and “control” has the meaning given by section 840.

6 (1) Where the whole or a substantial part of a production herd kept by a farmer for the purposes of his farming is slaughtered by the order of any Ministry, government department or local or public authority under the law relating to the diseases of animals in such circumstances that compensation is payable in respect of it, an election for the herd basis thereupon made by the farmer in relation to that herd and any other production herds of the same class so kept by him shall, subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, be valid notwithstanding that it is not made within the time required by paragraph 2(3) above.

[^{F3777}(2) An election for the herd basis made by virtue of sub-paragraph (1) above shall only be valid if made—

- (a) in the case of an election by a person chargeable to income tax, not later than twelve months from the 31st January next following the qualifying year of assessment;
- (b) in the case of an election on behalf of persons in partnership, not later than twelve months from the 31st January next following the year of assessment in which the qualifying period of account ends; and
- (c) in the case of an election by a person chargeable to corporation tax, not later than two years from the end of the qualifying accounting period.

(3) An election for the herd basis made by virtue of sub-paragraph (1) above shall, notwithstanding paragraph 2(4) above, have effect—

- (a) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (2)(a) above, for the qualifying year of assessment and all subsequent years;
- (b) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (2)(b) above, for the qualifying period of account and all subsequent periods of account; and
- (c) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (2)(c) above, for the qualifying accounting period and all subsequent accounting periods.

(4) In this paragraph—

“period of account”, in relation to persons in partnership, means any period for which accounts are drawn up;

“qualifying accounting period”, in relation to a person chargeable to corporation tax, means the first accounting period in which the compensation is relevant;

“qualifying period of account”, in relation to persons in partnership, means the first period of account in which the compensation is relevant;

“qualifying year of assessment”, in relation to a person chargeable to income tax, means the first year of assessment for which the amount of [^{F3778}profits] or losses in respect of his farming falls to be computed for tax purposes by reference to the facts of a period in which the compensation is relevant.]

(5) For the purposes of this paragraph, compensation shall be deemed to be relevant in any period if, but only if, it falls (or would but for an election under this paragraph fall) to be taken into account as a trading receipt in computing the [^{F3778}profits] or losses of that or an earlier period.

Exclusion of working animals, and interpretation of preceding provisions

- 7 Nothing in this Schedule applies to any animals kept wholly or mainly for the work they do in connection with the carrying on of the farming.
- 8 (1) In this Schedule “herd” includes a flock, and any other collection of animals however named.
- (2) For the purposes of this Schedule, immature animals kept in a herd shall not be treated as forming part of the herd unless—
- (a) the land on which the herd is kept is such that animals which die or cease to form part of the herd cannot be replaced except by animals bred and reared on that land; and
 - (b) the immature animals in question are bred in the herd, are maintained in the herd for the purpose of replacement, and are necessarily maintained for that purpose;
- and references in this Schedule to herds shall be construed accordingly.
- (3) References in this Schedule to an animal being added to a herd include references to an immature animal which is kept in the herd becoming a mature animal except that not more immature animals shall be treated as forming part of a herd than are required to prevent a fall in the numbers of the herd.
- (4) Female animals shall be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as becoming mature when they produce their first young.
- (5) In this Schedule “a production herd” means, in relation to a farmer, a herd of animals of the same species (irrespective of breed) kept by him wholly or mainly for the sake of the products which they produce for him to sell, being products obtainable from the living animal.
- In this sub-paragraph “products obtainable from the living animal” means—
- (a) the young of the animal, or
 - (b) any other product obtainable from the animal, not being a product obtainable only by slaughtering the animal itself.
- (6) For the purposes of this Schedule, production herds kept by a farmer shall be deemed to be of the same class if, and only if, all the animals kept in the herds are of the same species (irrespective of breed) and the products produced for him to sell for the sake of which (either wholly or mainly) the herds are kept by him are of the same kinds in the case of all the herds; and elections for the herd basis shall be framed accordingly.

F3779 Words in Sch. 5 para. 8(7) substituted (31.7.1998) by Finance Act 1998 (c. 36), ss. 46(3)(a)(b), Sch. 7 para. 1

creatures other than animals, and animals and creatures kept singly*

- 9 (1) The preceding provisions of this Schedule shall, with the necessary adaptations, apply in relation to trades other than farming, and trades consisting only in part of farming as they apply in relation to farming, and references to farmers shall be construed accordingly.
- (2) Those provisions shall (both in relation to farming and in relation to other trades) apply in relation to living creatures other than animals as they apply in relation to animals.
- (3) Laying birds shall be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as becoming mature when they first lay.
- (4) The provisions of this Schedule shall (both in relation to farming and in relation to other trades) apply, with the necessary adaptations [^{F3780}—
- (a) in relation to animals or other creatures kept singly as they apply in relation to herds; and
 - (b) in relation to shares in animals or other creatures as they apply in relation to animals or other creatures themselves.]
- (5) Nothing in this Schedule shall apply in relation to any animal or other creature kept wholly or mainly for public exhibition or for racing or other competitive purposes.

- 11 Where an election for the herd basis has effect for any chargeable period after an assessment for that period has become final and conclusive, any such assessment or, on a claim therefor, repayment of tax shall be made as may be necessary to give effect to the election.
- 12 The validity of an election for the herd basis in force immediately before the commencement of this Schedule and made in pursuance of—
- (a) section 35 of the Finance Act 1973 on or after 25th July 1973 and before 6th April 1976, or
 - (b) section 48(6) to (9) of the Finance Act 1984,
- shall not be affected by the repeal of those sections by this Act.

SCHEDULE 5AA

GUARANTEED RETURNS ON TRANSACTIONS IN FUTURES AND OPTIONS

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C966 Sch. 5AA modified (24.2.2003) by Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 \(c. 29\), Sch. 10 para. 8 (with Sch. 10 para. 10); S.I. 2003/120, art. 2, Sch. (with arts. 3, 4 (as amended by S.I. 2003/333, art. 14))

Charge to tax etc.

- 1 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, profits and gains arising from a transaction to which this Schedule applies (including those which, apart from this sub-paragraph, would be taken to be of a capital nature) shall be treated, when realised—
- (a) as income of the person by whom they are realised; and
 - (b) as chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D for the chargeable period in which they are realised.
- (2) Sub-paragraph (1) above does not apply to—
- (a) so much of any profits or gains arising to a person from a transaction as are charged to tax in his case under Case I or V of Schedule D;
 - (b) any profits or gains arising to a company which is a qualifying company from a transaction which, as regards that company, is or is deemed to be a qualifying contract; or
 - (c) any profits or gains arising to an authorised unit trust (within the meaning of section 468).
- (3) In sub-paragraph (2) above—
- “qualifying company” means a qualifying company for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the ^{M1611}Finance Act 1994 (interest rate, currency and debt contracts); and
- “qualifying contract” means a qualifying contract for those purposes.

- (4) For the purposes of this Schedule the profits and gains arising from a transaction to which this Schedule applies are to be taken to be realised at the time when the disposal comprised in the transaction takes place.
- (5) For the purposes of sections 392 and 396 any loss in a transaction to which this Schedule applies is to be taken to be sustained at the time when, in accordance with sub-paragraph (4) above, any profits or gains arising from that transaction would have been realised.
- (6) Subject to sub-paragraph (7) below, the following, namely—
- (a) profits and gains to which sub-paragraph (1) above applies, and
 - (b) losses in transactions the profits and gains from which (if there were any) would be profits and gains to which that sub-paragraph applies,
- shall not be brought into account for the purposes of income tax, corporation tax or capital gains tax except by virtue of this Schedule and, in the case of losses, section 392 or 396.
- (7) Nothing in sub-paragraph (6) above shall prevent any amount from being brought into account in accordance with section 83 of the ^{M1612}Finance Act 1989 (receipts to be brought into account in any Case I computation made in respect of life insurance).

Transactions to which Schedule applies

- 2 (1) This Schedule applies to a transaction if—
- (a) it is a disposal of futures or options;
 - (b) it is one of two or more related transactions designed to produce a guaranteed return; and
 - (c) the guaranteed return comprises the return from that disposal or from a number of disposals of futures or options, of which that disposal is one, taken together.
- (2) For the purposes of this Schedule two or more related transactions are transactions designed to produce a guaranteed return if, taking the transactions together, it would be reasonable to assume, from either or both of—
- (a) the likely effect of the transactions, and
 - (b) the circumstances in which the transactions are entered into, or in which any of them is entered into,
- that their main purpose, or one of their main purposes, is or was the production of a guaranteed return from one or more disposals of futures or options.

Production of guaranteed return

- 3 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule a guaranteed return is produced from one or more disposals of futures or options wherever (taking all the disposals together where there is more than one) risks from fluctuations in the underlying subject matter are so eliminated or reduced as to produce a return from the disposal or disposals—
- (a) the amount of which is not, to any significant extent, attributable (otherwise than incidentally) to any such fluctuations; and
 - (b) which equates, in substance, to the return on an investment of money at interest.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above the cases where risks from fluctuations in the underlying subject matter are eliminated or reduced shall be deemed to include any case where the main reason, or one of the main reasons, for the choice of that subject matter is—
- (a) that there appears to be no risk that it will fluctuate; or
 - (b) that the risk that it will fluctuate appears to be insignificant.
- (3) In this paragraph the references, in relation to a disposal of futures or options, to the underlying subject matter are references to or to the value of the commodities, currencies, shares, stock or securities, interest rates, indices or other matters to which, or to the value of which, those futures or options are referable.

Disposals of futures or options

- 4 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule a disposal is a disposal of futures or options if it consists in—
- (a) the disposal of one or more futures;
 - (b) the disposal of one or more options; or
 - (c) the disposal of one or more futures together with one or more options.
- (2) Subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, any question for the purposes of this Schedule as to whether there is a disposal falling within sub-paragraph (1)(a) to (c) above, or as to when such a disposal is made, shall be determined, on the assumptions specified in sub-paragraph (3) below, in accordance with—
- (a) section 143(5) and (6), 144 and 144A of the 1992 Act (closing out and settlement of futures contracts and rules in relation to options); and
 - (b) the other provisions having effect for determining for the purposes of that Act whether or when an asset is disposed of;
- and references in this Schedule to entering into a transaction are references, in relation to a transaction consisting in a disposal, to the making of the disposal.
- (3) Those assumptions are—
- (a) that all futures are assets for the purposes of the 1992 Act;
 - (b) that the words “in the course of dealing in commodity or financial futures” are omitted in each place where they occur in section 143(5) and (6) of that Act; and

- (c) that any reference in that Act to a financial option within the meaning given by section 144(8) of that Act is a reference to any option that is not a traded option.
- (4) Subject to sub-paragraph (5) below, where—
- (a) one of a number of related transactions designed to produce a guaranteed return is the grant of an option,
 - (b) at least one of the other transactions is a transaction entered into after the grant of the option, and
 - (c) the transaction or transactions entered into after the grant of the option is or include a disposal which is not itself the grant of an option,
- the disposal consisting in the grant of the option shall be deemed for the purposes of this Schedule to be a disposal made on the first occasion after the grant of the option when one of the other transactions which is a disposal but is not itself the grant of an option is entered into.
- (5) Nothing in sub-paragraph (4) above affects so much of sub-paragraph (2) above as (by applying section 144(2) or 144A(2) of the 1992 Act (cases where options are exercised))—
- (a) requires the grant of an option and the transaction entered into by the grantor in fulfilment of his obligations under that option to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as a single transaction; or
 - (b) determines the time at which such a single transaction is to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as entered into.
- (6) In this paragraph—
- “future” means outstanding rights and obligations under a commodity or financial futures contract;
- “option” means a traded option or an option which is not a traded option but is an option relating to—
- (a) currency, shares, stock, securities or an interest rate; or
 - (b) rights under a commodity or financial futures contract;
- [^{F3781}and includes any liability or entitlement under an option.]
- “traded option” has the meaning given for the purposes of subsection (4) of section 144 of the 1992 Act by subsection (8) of that section.

- (c) the other transaction, or one of the other transactions, is or would be the running of the future to delivery or the exercise of the option; and
 - (d) the transaction mentioned in paragraph (c) above is not treated for those purposes as a disposal of a future or option.
- (2) This Schedule shall have effect in relation to the parties to the future or option as if the transaction specified in sub-paragraph (3) below—
 - (a) were a transaction for which the scheme or arrangements by reference to which the transactions are related transactions provided; and
 - (b) were a transaction which in fact takes place at the time (“the relevant time”) immediately before the future runs to delivery or, as the case may be, the option is exercised.
- (3) That transaction is a disposal of the future or option which—
 - (a) in the case of a person whose rights and entitlements under the future or option have a market value at the relevant time, consists in a disposal for a consideration equal to that market value; and
 - (b) in the case of any other party to the future or option, consists in a disposal which—
 - (i) is made for a nil consideration; and
 - (ii) involves that person in incurring costs equal to the amount specified in sub-paragraph (4) below.
- (4) That amount is the amount which that party to the future or option might reasonably have been expected to pay, in a transaction at arm’s length entered into at the relevant time, for the release of his obligations and liabilities under the future or option.
- (5) Where, in a case in which a transaction is deemed to take place by virtue of sub-paragraph (2)(b) above (“the deemed transaction”)—
 - (a) any profits or gains arising from the deemed transaction are chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D in accordance with paragraph 1(1) above, or
 - (b) any loss arising in the deemed transaction is brought into account for the purposes of section 392 or 396 in accordance with paragraph 1(5) above,amounts taken into account or allowable as deductions in computing those profits or gains, or that loss, shall not be excluded by virtue of section 37 or 39 of the 1992 Act (exclusion of amounts taken into account or allowable for the purposes of the taxation of income and profits) from any computation made for the purposes of that Act, but paragraph 1(6) above shall be given effect to in relation to the 1992 Act in accordance with sub-paragraphs (6) to (10) below.
- (6) Where there are profits or gains arising to any person (“the taxpayer”) from the deemed transaction, an increase equal to the amount of those profits or gains shall be made in the amount that would otherwise be taken for the purposes of the 1992 Act to be—
 - (a) the amount of the consideration for the acquisition of any asset acquired by the taxpayer by means of the future running to delivery or, as the case may be, by the exercise of the option; or
 - (b) the amount of the consideration for the acquisition by him of any asset disposed of by him by means of the future running to delivery or, as the case may be, in consequence of the exercise of the option;

but any increase made by virtue of paragraph (b) above in the amount of any consideration shall be disregarded in computing the amount of any indexation allowance.

- (7) Where there is a loss for any person (“the taxpayer”) in the deemed transaction—
- (a) a reduction equal to the smaller of the amount of the loss and the amount to be reduced shall be made in the amount that would otherwise be taken for the purposes of the 1992 Act to be the amount of the consideration mentioned in sub-paragraph (6)(a) or (b) above; and
 - (b) the amount (if any) by which the amount of the loss exceeds the amount to be reduced shall be deemed to be a chargeable gain accruing to the taxpayer on the occasion specified in sub-paragraph (8) below.
- (8) That occasion is—
- (a) in a case where the consideration mentioned in paragraph (a) of sub-paragraph (6) above has been reduced to nil, the first occasion after the acquisition mentioned in that paragraph when there is a disposal of the asset in question; and
 - (b) in a case where it is the consideration mentioned in sub-paragraph (6)(b) above that has been reduced to nil, the occasion of the disposal made by the taxpayer by means of the future running to delivery or, as the case may be, in consequence of the exercise of the option.
- (9) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (6) and (7) above, where in any case there is a deemed disposal of an option by the person who granted it, any determination—
- (a) of the profits arising to the grantor of the option from that disposal, or
 - (b) of the losses for the grantor in that disposal,
- shall be made as if that disposal and the disposal by which the option was granted were a single transaction.
- (10) In sub-paragraph (8) above—
- (a) the reference in paragraph (a) to a disposal of the asset in question includes a reference to anything that would be such a disposal but for the provisions of section 116(10) or 127 of the 1992 Act; and
 - (b) the references in each of paragraphs (a) and (b) to a disposal include references to a disposal which, in accordance with the 1992 Act, would (apart from sub-paragraph (7)(b) above) be a disposal on which neither a gain nor a loss accrues.
- (11) In this paragraph—
- “future” and “option” have the same meanings as in paragraph 4 above;
- “market value” has the same meaning as in the 1992 Act;
- “party”, in relation to a future or option, means one of the persons who has any right or entitlement comprised in or arising under the future or option or who is subject to any obligation or liability so comprised or arising;
- and references in this paragraph to a future running to delivery are references to the discharge by performance of the obligations owed under the commodity or financial futures contract in question to the party to the future whose rights are in relation to its underlying subject matter.
- (12) Sub-paragraph (3) of paragraph 3 above applies for the purposes of sub-paragraph (11) above as it applies for the purposes of that paragraph.

The return from one or more disposals

- 5 (1) In this Schedule references to the return from one or more disposals are references to the return on investment represented either—
- (a) by the total net profits and gains arising from the disposal or disposals; or
 - (b) by all but an insignificant part of those net profits and gains.
- (2) For the purposes of the references in sub-paragraph (1) above to the total net profits and gains from any two or more disposals, it shall be assumed that profits and gains realised, and losses sustained, by persons who are associated with each other are all realised or sustained by the same person.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above persons are associated with each other in relation to any two or more disposals made in pursuance of the same scheme or arrangements if—
- (a) each of those persons shares or is to share, to an extent determined for the purposes of or in accordance with the scheme or arrangements, in the net return represented by the aggregate of all the profits, gains and losses realised or sustained on those disposals;
 - (b) those persons are associated companies at the time when the last of those disposals is made; or
 - (c) those persons have been associated companies at an earlier time falling after the first occasion on which a transaction was entered into in pursuance of the scheme or arrangements.
- (4) In this paragraph—
- “associated company” shall be construed in accordance with section 416;
 - and
 - “scheme or arrangements” shall be construed in accordance with paragraph 6(4) below.

Related transactions

- 6 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule two or more transactions are related if all of them are entered into in pursuance of the same scheme or arrangements.
- (2) Nothing in this Schedule shall be construed as preventing transactions with different parties, or transactions with parties different from the parties to the scheme or arrangements in pursuance of which they are entered into, from being related transactions.
- (3) For the purposes of this paragraph the cases in which any two or more transactions are to be taken to be entered into in pursuance of the same scheme or arrangements shall include any case in which it would be reasonable to assume, from either or both of—
- (a) the likely effect of the transactions, and
 - (b) the circumstances in which the transactions are entered into, or in which any of them is entered into,
- that neither of them or, as the case may be, none of them would have been entered into independently of the other or others.

- (4) In this paragraph “scheme or arrangements” includes schemes, arrangements and understandings of any kind, whether or not legally enforceable.

Special rule for trusts

- 7 (1) Where any profits or gains are treated, in accordance with paragraph 1 above, as income arising to trustees for any year of assessment, the relevant part of that income shall be treated for the purposes of the Tax Acts as if it were income to which section 686 applies (income taxable at the rate applicable to trusts).
- (2) In sub-paragraph (1) above the reference to the relevant part of any income is a reference to so much (if any) of that income as—
- (a) does not fall to be treated for the purposes of the Income Tax Acts as income of a settlor;
 - (b) is not income arising under a trust established for charitable purposes; and
 - (c) is not income from investments, deposits or other property held for any such purposes as are mentioned in sub-paragraph (i) or (ii) of section 686(2)(c) (property held for pension purposes).
- (3) Subsection (6) of section 686 (meaning of “trustees” etc.) shall apply for the purposes of this paragraph as it applies for the purposes of that section.

Transfer of assets abroad

- 8 For the purpose of determining whether an individual ordinarily resident in the United Kingdom has a liability for income tax in respect of any profit or gain which—
- (a) is realised by a person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) arises from a transaction to which this Schedule applies,
- sections 739 and 740 (transfer of assets abroad) shall have effect as if that profit or gain, when realised, constituted income becoming payable to the person resident or domiciled outside the United Kingdom.

Apportionment in the case of insurance companies

- [^{F37829} (1) This paragraph applies where—
- (a) any determination falls to be made under section 432A of the category of business to which any income or losses is or are referable; and
 - (b) that income or those losses would all be chargeable or relievable by virtue of this Schedule but for the exemptions from tax and exclusions from the provisions of this Schedule that are applicable in respect of the category of business to which it or they are determined to be referable.
- (2) Section 432A shall have effect] as if (where that would not otherwise be the case)—
- (a) any such income were for the purposes of that section a gain accruing on the disposal of an asset; and

- (b) any such loss were for the purposes of that section a loss accruing on the disposal of an asset.
- [^{F3783}(3) Subject to sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) below, paragraph 4A above shall have effect as if the references in sub-paragraph (5) of that paragraph to—
- (a) profits or gains arising from the deemed transaction that are chargeable to tax under Case VI of Schedule D in accordance with paragraph 1(1) above, or
 - (b) any loss arising in the deemed transaction that is brought into account for the purposes of section 392 or 396 in accordance with paragraph 1(5) above,
- were references to all the income or losses in relation to which the determination mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above falls to be made.
- (4) Sub-paragraph (6) of paragraph 4A above shall not apply in relation to the amount of the consideration for the acquisition of any asset acquired by the taxpayer by means of the future running to delivery or, as the case may be, by the exercise of the option if—
- (a) immediately before the time of the deemed transaction, the future or option is an asset within one of the categories set out in section 440(4); and
 - (b) immediately after its acquisition, the asset acquired is within another of those categories.
- (5) Sub-paragraph (6) of paragraph 4A above shall not apply in relation to the amount of the consideration for the acquisition of any asset disposed of by the taxpayer by means of the future running to delivery or, as the case may be, by the exercise of the option if—
- (a) immediately before the time of the deemed transaction, the future or option is an asset within one of the categories set out in section 440(4); and
 - (b) immediately before its disposal, the asset disposed of is within another of those categories.
- (6) Where any future or option would not fall (apart from this sub-paragraph) to be treated as an asset for the purposes of section 440, any question for the purposes of this paragraph whether it is an asset within any of the categories set out in subsection (4) of that section shall be determined as if it were an asset.
- (7) Expressions used in this paragraph and in paragraph 4A above have the same meanings in this paragraph as in that paragraph.]

PART II

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS

Cash equivalent

- (1) The cash equivalent of the benefit is the appropriate percentage for the year of the price of the car as regards the year.
- (2) This is subject to paragraphs 6 and 7 below (reductions for periods when car unavailable and payments for use of car).

The appropriate percentage

- The appropriate percentage for the year is determined in accordance with paragraphs 3 to 5G below.

Car with CO₂ emissions figure

- (1) This paragraph applies where—
 - the car—
 - is first registered on or after 1st January 1998 but before 1st October 1999, and
 - when so registered conformed to a vehicle type with an EC type-approval certificate, or had a UK approval certificate, that specifies a CO₂ emissions figure in terms of grams per kilometre driven, or
 - the car—
 - is first registered on or after 1st October 1999, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(ii) is so registered on the basis of an EC certificate of conformity or UK approval certificate that specifies a CO₂ emissions figures in terms of grams per kilometre driven.

- (2) In this paragraph references to “the applicable CO₂ emissions figure” are—
- (a) if the car is within sub-paragraph (1)(a) above, to the figure mentioned in paragraph (ii) of that sub-paragraph, and
 - (b) if the car is within sub-paragraph (1)(b) above—
 - (i) where the EC certificate of conformity or UK approval certificate specifies only one CO₂ emissions figure, that figure, and
 - (ii) where it specifies more than one, the figure specified as the CO₂ emissions (combined) figure.

This is subject to paragraph 5 (bi-fuel cars) and paragraph 5A (disabled drivers).

- (3) Where the applicable CO₂ emissions figure does not exceed the lower threshold for the year the appropriate percentage for the year is 15% (“the basic percentage”).
- (4) Where the applicable CO₂ emissions figure exceeds the lower threshold for the year, the appropriate percentage for the year is whichever is the smaller of—
 - (a) the basic percentage increased by 1% for each 5 grams per kilometre by which the applicable CO₂ emissions figure exceeds the lower threshold for the year, and
 - (b) 35%.
- (5) This paragraph is subject to paragraph 5D (diesel car supplement) and any regulations under paragraph 5E (power to provide for discounts).

The lower threshold

- 4 (1) For the purposes of paragraph 3 above the lower threshold is ascertained from the following Table—

TABLE

Year of assessment	Lower threshold (in g/km)
2002-03	165
2004-05 and subsequent years of assessment	145

- (2) The Treasury may by order provide for a lower threshold different from that provided for in the Table in sub-paragraph (1) above to apply for years of assessment beginning on or after 6th April 2005 or such later date as may be specified in the order.
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph 3 above the applicable CO₂ emissions figure (if it is not a multiple of five) is rounded down to the nearest multiple of five.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Bi-fuel cars

- 5 Where the car—
- (a) is first registered on or after 1st January 2000, and
 - (b) is so registered on the basis of an EC certificate of conformity, or UK approval certificate, that specifies separate CO₂ emissions figures in terms of grams per kilometre driven for different fuels,
- then, for the purposes of paragraph 3 above, “the applicable CO₂ emissions figure” is the lowest figure specified or, if there is more than one figure specified in relation to each fuel, the lowest CO₂ emissions (combined) figure specified.

Automatic cars made available to disabled drivers

- 5A (1) Sub-paragraph (2) below applies where—
- (a) paragraph 3 above (car with CO₂ emissions figure) applies to the car,
 - (b) the car has automatic transmission,
 - (c) at any time in the year when the car is available to the employee, he holds a disabled person’s badge, and
 - (d) by reason of his disability he must, if he wants to drive a car, drive a car that has automatic transmission.

For this purpose the car is not at any time available to the employee by reason only of its being made available to a member of his family or household.

- (2) If the applicable CO₂ figure for the car (“the relevant car”) is more than it would have been if the car had been an equivalent manual car, paragraph 3 above shall have effect as if the applicable CO₂ emissions figure in relation to the relevant car were the same as that in relation to an equivalent manual car.
- (3) For this purpose “an equivalent manual car” means a car that—
 - (a) is first registered at or about the same time as the relevant car, and
 - (b) does not have automatic transmission, but otherwise is the closest variant available of the make and model of the relevant car.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph a car has automatic transmission if—
 - (a) the driver of the car is not provided with any means whereby he may vary the gear ratio between the engine and the road wheels independently of the accelerator and the brakes, or
 - (b) he is provided with such means, but they do not include a clutch pedal or lever that he may operate manually.
- (5) In this paragraph—
 - “the applicable CO₂ emissions figure” has the same meaning as in paragraph 3 above; and
 - “disabled person’s badge” has the meaning given in section 168AA(3).

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

“EC certificate of conformity”, “EC type-approval certificate” and “UK approval certificate”

5B In this Schedule—

“EC certificate of conformity” means a certificate of conformity issued by a manufacturer under any provision of the law of a Member State implementing Article 6 of Council Directive 70/156/EEC, as amended;

“EC type-approval certificate” means a type-approval certificate issued under any provision of the law of a Member State implementing Council Directive 70/156/EEC, as amended; and

“UK approval certificate” means a certificate issued under—

- (a) section 58(1) or (4) of the ^{M1613}Road Traffic Act 1988, or
- (b) Article 31A(4) or (5) of the ^{M1614}Road Traffic (Northern Ireland) Order 1981.

Car with no CO₂ emissions figure

5C (1) This paragraph applies where—

- (a) the car is first registered on or after 1st January 1998, and
- (b) paragraph 3 above does not apply.

(2) If the car has an internal combustion engine with one or more reciprocating pistons, the appropriate percentage for the year is ascertained from the following Table—

TABLE

Cylinder capacity of car in cubic centimetres	Appropriate percentage
1,400 or less	15%
More than 1,400 but not more than 2,000	25%
More than 2,000	35%

For this purpose a car’s cylinder capacity is the capacity of its engine calculated as for the purposes of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994.

- (3) If sub-paragraph (2) above does not apply the appropriate percentage for the year is—
 - (a) 15%, if the car is an electrically propelled vehicle, and
 - (b) 35%, in any other case.
- (4) This paragraph is subject to paragraph 5D (diesel car supplement) and any regulations under paragraph 5E (power to provide for discounts) below.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Diesel car supplement

- 5D (1) This paragraph applies where the car—
- (a) is propelled solely by diesel, and
 - (b) is first registered on or after 1st January 1998.
- (2) The appropriate percentage for the year is whichever is the smaller of—
- (a) the percentage which is 3% greater than the appropriate percentage for the year ascertained in accordance with paragraphs 2 to 5C above, and
 - (b) 35%.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (1) “diesel” means any diesel fuel within the definition in Article 2 of Directive 98/70/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council.
- (4) This paragraph is subject to any regulations under paragraph 5E below (power to provide for discounts).

Discounts

- 5E The Treasury may by regulations provide for the value of the appropriate percentage as determined in accordance with paragraphs 2 to 5D above to be reduced by such amount as may be prescribed in the regulations, in such circumstances and subject to such conditions as may be so prescribed.

Car registered before 1st January 1998

- 5F (1) This paragraph applies where the car was first registered before 1st January 1998.
- (2) Where the car has an internal combustion engine with one or more reciprocating pistons, the appropriate percentage for the year is ascertained from the following Table—

Table

Cylinder capacity of car in cubic centimetres	Appropriate percentage
1,400 or less	15%
More than 1,400 but not more than 2,000	22%
More than 2,000	32%

For this purpose a car’s cylinder capacity is the capacity of its engine calculated as for the purposes of the Vehicle Excise and Registration Act 1994.

- (3) Where sub-paragraph (2) above does not apply, the appropriate percentage for the year is—
- (a) 15%, if the car is an electrically propelled vehicle, and
 - (b) 32%, in any other case.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Electrically propelled vehicle

- 5G For the purposes of this Schedule, a vehicle is not an electrically propelled vehicle unless—
- (a) it is propelled solely by electrical power, and
 - (b) that power is derived from—
 - (i) a source external to the vehicle, or
 - (ii) an electrical storage battery which is not connected to any source of power when the vehicle is in motion.

- F3809 4 (1) This Part of this Schedule applies to a van for a year if it is a shared van for any period in the year.
- (2) A van is a shared van for a period if the period is one throughout which the van is available concurrently to more than one employee of the same employer.
- (3) A van is also a shared van for a period if—
- (a) the period is one throughout which the van is available to different employees of the same employer, but
 - (b) the circumstances are such that the employee or employees to whom the van is available at any given time in the period are not necessarily the same as the employee or employees to whom it is available at any other given time in the period.
- (4) But if the van is available to one employee only for a period exceeding 30 days (an exclusive period)—
- (a) the exclusive period shall not count towards any period that would otherwise fall within sub-paragraph (3) above;
 - (b) any period falling within sub-paragraph (3) above shall be treated as ending when the exclusive period begins (without prejudice to the start after the exclusive period of a further period falling within sub-paragraph (3) above).
- (5) If a van would (apart from this sub-paragraph) be treated as shared during part of a day it shall be treated as shared throughout the day.

F3810 Benefit to employee

Textual Amendments

F3810Sch. 6A inserted (27.7.1993 with effect for the year 1993-94 and subsequent years of assessment) by 1993 c. 34, s. 73, Sch. 4 paras.7, 8

- F38115 (1) This paragraph applies where for any year this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) applies to a van, or
 - (b) applies to each of two or more vans made available by the same employer.
- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph a participating employee is an employee to whom—
- (a) the van is available for his private use while it is a shared van (where only one van is involved),
 - (b) one of the vans is available for his private use while it is a shared van (where more than one van is involved), or
 - (c) some or all of the vans are available for his private use while they are shared vans (where more than one van is involved);
- but an employee is not a participating employee unless he makes private use of the van, or (if more than one is involved) he makes private use of at least one of them, at least once while it is a shared van.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (2) above—
- (a) any reference to a van being available for an employee’s private use includes a reference to the van being available for the private use of others being members of his family or household, and
 - (b) any reference to an employee making private use of a van includes a reference to a member of his family or household making private use of it.
- (4) This paragraph shall apply to each participating employee in the same way, irrespective of—
- (a) the number available to a particular employee of the vans involved;
 - (b) the fact that a particular van involved is or is not available to him or used by him;
 - (c) the extent to which a particular van involved is available to him or used by him.
- (5) Where this paragraph applies—
- (a) find the basic value of the van for the year or (as the case may be) the basic value for the year of each van involved;
 - (b) take that basic value or (as the case may be) the aggregate of those basic values;

- (c) find for each participating employee a portion of the figure taken under paragraph (b) above by dividing it equally among the participating employees.
- (6) The figure found for a participating employee shall be taken to be the cash equivalent of the benefit to him in the year of—
- (a) the van available to him while it is a shared van (where only one van is involved or only one of the vans involved is available to him), or
 - (b) the vans available to him while they are shared vans (where more than one van is involved and more than one of them is available to him).

F3812 Basic value

Textual Amendments

F3812 Sch. 6A inserted (27.7.1993 with effect for the year 1993-94 and subsequent years of assessment) by 1993 c. 34, s. 73, Sch. 4 paras.7, 8

- F3813⁶ (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, the basic value of a van for a year is—
- (a) £500, if the van is aged less than 4 years at the end of the year concerned;
 - (b) £350, if the van is aged 4 years or more at the end of the year concerned.
- (2) Where for any part of the year—
- (a) the van is not a shared van, or
 - (b) the van is incapable of use,
- its basic value is the amount ascertained under sub-paragraph (1) above (the full value) reduced by an amount which bears to the full value the same proportion as the number of excluded days in the year bears to 365.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above a van is to be treated as being incapable of use on any day if the day falls within a period, of 30 days or more, throughout which the van is incapable of being used at all.
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above an excluded day is a day on which the van falls within paragraph (a) or (b) of that sub-paragraph.

- F3817g (1) In a case where—
- (a) a figure is found under paragraph 5 or 7 above for a participating employee for a year, and
 - (b) the employee makes a claim for this paragraph to be applied,
- the figure found for the employee for the year shall be taken to be the alternative figure found under this paragraph.
- (2) The alternative figure is a figure found by—
- (a) taking for each van involved the number of relevant days;
 - (b) aggregating the numbers found under paragraph (a) above where more than one van is involved;
 - (c) multiplying the number found under paragraph (a) (or paragraphs (a) and (b)) above by £5.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(a) above a relevant day is a day which falls in the year and during which (or part of which) the employee, or a member of his family or household, makes private use of the van concerned while it is a shared van.
- (4) For the purposes of section 95 of the ^{M1615}Taxes Management Act 1970 (incorrect return etc.) a claim under this paragraph shall be taken to be a claim for relief.

- F3819 (1) Where this Part of this Schedule applies and in the year concerned a participating employee is required, as a condition of the van or vans being available for his private use, to pay any amount of money (whether by way of deduction from his emoluments or otherwise) for that use, then—
- (a) if the figure found for the employee for the year under paragraph 5 or 7 or 8 above exceeds the relevant sum, the figure shall be taken to be a figure equal to the excess;
 - (b) if the relevant sum exceeds or is equal to the figure found for the employee for the year under paragraph 5 or 7 or 8 above, the figure shall be taken to be nil.
- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph the relevant sum shall be found by—
- (a) taking for any van involved the amount paid by the employee, as a condition of it being available for his private use, in respect of the period when the van is a shared van in the year concerned, and
 - (b) where more than one van is involved, aggregating the amounts found under paragraph (a) above.
- (3) Any reference in this paragraph to a van being available for the employee's private use includes a reference to the van being available for the private use of others being members of his family or household.

Normal method of calculation (averaging)

4[^{F3832}(1)] In the absence of a requirement or election that paragraph 5 below should apply, the amount of interest at the official rate payable on a loan for any year (“the relevant year”) shall be ascertained as follows—

- (a) take half the aggregate of—
 - (i) the maximum amount of the loan outstanding on 5th April preceding the relevant year or, if it was made in that year, on the date on which it was made, and
 - (ii) the maximum amount of the loan outstanding on 5th April in the relevant year or, if the loan was discharged in that year, the date of discharge;
- (b) multiply that figure by the number of whole months during which the loan was outstanding in that year, and divide by 12;
- (c) multiply the result by the official rate of interest in force during the period when the loan was outstanding in that year or, if the official rate changed during that period, the average rate during that period ascertained by reference to the number of days in the period and the number of days for which each rate was in force.

For the purposes of this paragraph, months begin on the sixth day of the calendar month.

[^{F3833}(2) Where an employment-related loan is replaced, directly or indirectly—

- (a) by a further employment-related loan, or
- (b) by a non-employment-related loan which in turn is, in the same year of assessment or within 40 days thereafter, replaced, directly or indirectly, by a further employment-related loan,

- (a) no interest is paid on a loan, but
- (b) had interest been paid on it at the official rate part of that interest would have been eligible for relief, then the calculation of the cash equivalent under Part II of this Schedule shall be modified as provided by paragraph 8(a) or (b) above with the substitution for the references to the amounts of interest paid or not eligible for relief of references to the amounts (ascertained in accordance with the following provisions of this paragraph) which would have been paid or would not have been eligible for relief.

- (2) For the purposes of paragraph 8(a) above as applied by this paragraph, the whole amount of interest at the official rate which would have been paid for any year shall be taken to be the amount payable for that year calculated in accordance with paragraph 4 above (disregarding paragraph 8); and the amount of that interest which would not have been eligible for relief shall be ascertained—
 - (a) by finding that amount on the assumption that the amount referred to in paragraph 4(a)(i) was the amount outstanding for the whole year;
 - (b) by finding that amount on the assumption that the amount referred to in paragraph 4(a)(ii) was the amount outstanding for the whole year; and
 - (c) by adding together the resulting figures and dividing by 2.
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph 8(b) above as applied by this paragraph, the amount of interest which would have been paid and the amount of it which would not have been eligible for relief shall be ascertained on the assumption that interest at the official rate was paid daily throughout the year on the maximum amount outstanding on each day.

10 (1) If—

- (a) a person has a loan on which no interest is paid and of which the benefit was obtained by reason of his or any other person’s employment (“the employer’s loan”); and
- (b) that person or his wife or her husband has another loan which was made later than, or at the same time as, the employer’s loan and interest on which is, in whole or in part, eligible for relief;

then, for the purposes of determining whether, had interest been paid on the employer’s loan at the official rate, the whole or any part of that interest would have been eligible for relief, sections . . . 355(1) to (4), 356 to 358 and 360 to 365 shall have effect as if the employer’s loan were made after any other loan which falls within paragraph (b) above and which, in the context of the application of sections 354(1) to (4) and 355(5), relates to the same land, caravan or house boat as does the employer's loan.

- (2) Where such a loan is made as is mentioned in paragraph (b) of sub-paragraph (1) above, sections . . . 355(1) to (4), 356 to 358 and 360 to 365 have effect in accordance with that sub-paragraph with respect to so much of the interest referred to therein as would be paid on and after the day on which the loan is made; and paragraph 9(3) above shall have effect for the purpose of determining how much of that interest would have been eligible for relief.

14 This Part of this Schedule applies in relation to the employee for any year for which he is, or, apart from paragraph 7, 8 or 9 above as they apply in relation to home loans, would be, liable to income tax at a rate higher than basic rate or to tax chargeable in respect of excess liability.

15 Where this Part of this Schedule applies in relation to the employee for any year, none of paragraphs 7, 8 and 9 above shall apply in his case in relation to any home loan in that year, except as provided by paragraph 17 below.

.....

16 (1) Where, by virtue only of paragraph 15 above, paragraph 7, 8 or 9 above does not apply in the case of the employee in relation to a home loan in any year, there shall be treated as interest eligible for relief under section 353 by virtue of section 355(1) (a) in that year—

- (a) in a case where, apart from paragraph 15 above, paragraph 7 would have applied in relation to the home loan, an amount equal to the cash equivalent of the benefit of that loan in that year, apart from paragraph 7, or
- (b) in a case where, apart from paragraph 15 above, paragraph 8 or 9 would have applied in relation to the home loan, an amount equal to the difference between—

- (i) the cash equivalent of the benefit of the home loan in that year, apart from paragraphs 8 and 9, and

- (ii) what the cash equivalent of the benefit of the home loan would have been in that year, apart from paragraph 15 above, but subject to the following provisions of this paragraph.

(2) In the application of section 353 by virtue of this paragraph—

- (a) the amount that falls to be treated as mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above shall be taken to fall within paragraph (a) of subsection (1) of that section; and
- (b) subsections (2) and (3) of that section shall be disregarded in relation to that amount.

17 Paragraph 15 above shall not prevent paragraph 7, 8 or 9 applying in the case of the employee in any year if, apart from paragraph 15—

- (a) he would not have been charged for that year to income tax at any rate higher than basic rate in respect of any of his total income or to tax in respect of excess liability; and

- (b) the aggregate of the following amounts, that is to say—

- (i) the amount of income in respect of which, apart from any home loans, he would have been charged to income tax for that year at the basic rate,

- (ii) any income which is treated by virtue of section 683(1) or 684(1) as his income for that year for the purposes of excess liability,

19 (1) In this Schedule—

“eligible for relief” shall be construed in accordance with subparagraph (2) below;

“eligible loan” means—

- (a) any loan the interest on which is eligible for relief, other than a home loan; and
- (b) in a case where part of the interest on a loan is eligible for relief otherwise than by virtue of section 355(1)(a), 356(1) or 365, that proportion of the loan which that part of the interest bears to the whole of the interest;

and in determining for the purposes of this definition whether the whole or any part of the interest on a loan is so eligible for relief, it shall be assumed that interest at a uniform rate is paid on the loan, whether or not that is in fact the case;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

“excess liability” means liability to income tax over what it would be if all income tax not chargeable at the lower rate by virtue of section 1(2)(aa) were charged at the basic rate, or (so far as applicable in accordance with section 207A) the lower rate,, to the exclusion of any higher rate;

“home loan” means—

- (a) any loan the interest on which is, or apart from section 357 would have been, eligible for relief by virtue of section 355(1)(a), 356(1) or 365; and
- (b) in a case where part of the interest on a loan is or would have been so eligible for relief, that proportion of the loan which that part of the interest bears to the whole of the interest;

and in determining for the purposes of this definition whether the whole or any part of the interest on a loan is or would have been so eligible for relief, it shall be assumed that interest at a uniform rate is paid on the loan, whether or not that is in fact the case;

“loan”, except in Part I of this Schedule, shall be construed in accordance with sub-paragraphs (3) to (5) below;

“nominal element”, in relation to the employee, means the amount (if any) which, apart from paragraph 15 above, would, by virtue of section 161(1), not have been charged to tax under section 160 in that year in his case.

- (2) Interest is “eligible for relief” for the purposes of this Schedule if it is eligible for relief under section 353 or would be eligible for such relief apart from subsection (2) of that section.
- (3) In the definitions of “eligible loan” and “home loan” in sub-paragraph (1) above, “loan” means any such loan as is mentioned in section 160(1), and for this purpose sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) below shall be disregarded.
- (4) Where by virtue of sub-paragraph (1) above part of a loan constitutes a home loan or an eligible loan, the loan shall be treated for the purposes of this Schedule, apart from Part I, as if it were two or more separate loans, consisting respectively—
 - (a) of the part (if any) which is a home loan,
 - (b) of the part (if any) which is an eligible loan, and
 - (c) of the part (if any) which is neither a home loan nor an eligible loan, and, subject to sub-paragraph (5) below, references in this Schedule, apart from Part I, to loans, home loans and eligible loans shall be construed accordingly.
- (5) Except for home loans and eligible loans, all the loans between the same lender and borrower for which a cash equivalent falls to be ascertained and which are outstanding at any time, as to any amount, in any year are to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule, apart from Part I, as a single loan.

SCHEDULE 7A

BENEFICIAL LOANS: LOANS ON ORDINARY COMMERCIAL TERMS

Introduction

- 1 For the purposes of section 161B(1) a loan “on ordinary commercial terms” means a loan—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) made by a person (“the lender”) in the ordinary course of a business carried on by him which includes—
 - (i) the lending of money, or
 - (ii) the supplying of goods or services on credit, and
- (b) in relation to which the requirements of paragraph 2, 3 or 4 below are met.

Requirements relating to original loan

- 2 (1) This paragraph applies to any loan and the relevant time for the purposes of this paragraph is the time the loan was made.
- (2) The requirements of this paragraph are—
 - (a) that at the relevant time comparable loans were available to all those who might be expected to avail themselves of the services provided by the lender in the course of his business;
 - (b) that a substantial proportion of the relevant loans were made to members of the public;
 - (c) that the loan in question and comparable loans generally made by the lender at or about the relevant time to members of the public are held on the same terms; and
 - (d) that if those terms differ from those applicable immediately after the relevant time they were imposed in the ordinary course of the lender’s business.
- (3) For the purposes of this paragraph a loan is comparable to another loan if it is made for the same or similar purposes and on the same terms and conditions.
- (4) The relevant loans for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(b) are—
 - (a) the loan in question, and
 - (b) comparable loans made by the lender at or about the relevant time.
- (5) In determining for the purposes of this paragraph whether any loans made by any person before 1st June 1994 are made on the same terms or conditions, or held on the same terms, there shall be left out of account any amounts, by way of fees, commission or other incidental expenses, incurred for the purpose of obtaining any of those loans by the persons to whom they are made.

Requirements relating to loan varied before 6th April 2000

- 3 (1) This paragraph applies to a loan that has been varied before 6th April 2000 and the relevant time for the purposes of this paragraph is the time of the variation.
- (2) The requirements of this paragraph are—
 - (a) that a substantial proportion of the relevant loans were made to members of the public;
 - (b) that the loan in question and relevant loans generally made by the lender at or about the relevant time to members of the public are held on the same terms; and
 - (c) that if those terms differ from those applicable immediately after the relevant time they were imposed in the ordinary course of the lender’s business.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (3) The relevant loans for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(a) are—
- (a) the loan in question;
 - (b) any existing loans which were varied at or about the time of the variation of the loan in question so as to be held on the same terms as that loan after it was varied;
 - (c) any new loans made by the lender, at or about that time, which are held on those terms.

Requirements relating to loan varied on or after 6th April 2000

- (1) The requirements of this paragraph apply to a loan that has been varied on or after 6th April 2000 and the relevant time for the purposes of this paragraph is the time of the variation.
 - (2) The first requirement is that at the relevant time members of the public that had loans from the lender for similar purposes had a right to vary their loans on the same terms and conditions as applied in relation to the variation of the loan in question.
 - (3) The second requirement is that any existing loans so varied and the loan in question as varied are held on the same terms.
 - (4) The third requirement is that if those terms differ from the terms applicable immediately after the relevant time, they were imposed in the ordinary course of the lender's business.
 - (5) The fourth requirement is that a substantial proportion of the relevant loans were made to members of the public.
 - (6) The relevant loans for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) are—
 - (a) the loan in question;
 - (b) any existing loans which were varied at or about the time of the variation of the loan in question so as to be held on the same terms as that loan after it was varied;
 - (c) any new loans made by the lender, at or about that time, which are held on those terms.

Disregard of certain penalties, fees, etc.

- 5
- Amounts incurred by the person to whom a loan is made—
- (a) on penalties or interest or similar amounts incurred as a result of varying the loan, and
 - (b) on fees, commission or other incidental expenses, incurred for the purpose of obtaining the loan,
- shall be left out of account in determining for the purposes of paragraph 3 or 4 whether rights to vary loans are exercisable on the same terms and conditions or loans are held on the same terms.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Meaning of 'member of the public'

- 6 For the purposes of this Schedule a “member of the public” means a member of the public at large with whom the lender deals at arm’s length.

PART I

GENERAL

- [^{F3879}1 (1) ^{M1627}Subject to the provisions of this Schedule, on the application of a body corporate (“the grantor”) which has established a share option scheme or a profit sharing scheme, the Board shall approve the scheme if they are satisfied that it fulfils such requirements of Part II and this Part as apply in relation to the scheme in question, and the requirements of Part III, IV or V of this Schedule; and in this Schedule—

“the relevant requirements” means, in relation to any scheme, the requirements of this Schedule by reference to which the scheme is approved; and “savings-related share option scheme” means a scheme in relation to which the relevant requirements include the requirements of Part III of this Schedule.

- (b) there is, with respect to the operation of the scheme, any contravention of any of the relevant requirements, Schedule 10, the scheme itself or the terms of the trust referred to in paragraph 30(1)(c) below; or
 - (c) any shares of a class of which shares have been appropriated to the participants receive different treatment in any respect from the other shares of that class, in particular, different treatment in respect of—
 - (i) the dividend payable;
 - (ii) repayment;
 - (iii) the restrictions attaching to the shares; or
 - (iv) any offer of substituted or additional shares, securities or rights of any description in respect of the shares; or
- [the Board—
- ^{F3881}(ca) (i) cease to be satisfied of the matters mentioned in paragraph 2(2A) above, or
 - (ii) in the case of a scheme approved before 21st March 2000, are not satisfied of those matters; or]
 - (d) the Board cease to be satisfied that the scheme complies with the requirements of paragraph 2(3) above or paragraph 36 below; or
 - (e) the trustees, the grantor or, in the case of a group scheme, a company which is or has been a participating company fail or fails to furnish any information which they are or it is required to furnish under paragraph 6 below [^{F3882}; or,
 - (f) the trustees appropriate shares to participants, one or more of whom have had free shares appropriated to them, at an earlier time in the same year of assessment, under a relevant share plan], the Board may, subject to sub-paragraph (3) below, withdraw the approval with effect from that time or from such later time as the Board may specify.

- (3) ^{M1634}It shall not be a ground for withdrawal of approval of a profit sharing scheme that shares which have been newly issued receive, in respect of dividends payable with respect to a period beginning before the date on which the shares were issued, treatment which is less favourable than that accorded to shares issued before that date.

[For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(f) above the reference to persons having had

- ^{F3883}(4) free shares appropriated to them includes persons who would have had free shares appropriated to them but for their failure to obtain a performance allowance (within the meaning of paragraph 25 of Schedule 8 to the Finance Act 2000).

- (5) In sub-paragraph (2)(f) and (4) above—
 - “free shares” has the same meaning as in Schedule 8 to the Finance Act 2000;
 - “relevant share plan”, in relation to a profit sharing scheme, means an employee share ownership plan that—
 - (a) was established by the grantor or a connected company, and
 - (b) is approved under Schedule 8 to that Act.
- (6) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above “connected company” means—
 - (a) a company which controls or is controlled by the grantor or which is controlled by a company which also controls the grantor, or
 - (b) a company which is a member of a consortium owning the grantor or which is owned in part by the grantor as a member of a consortium.]

(1B) In the case of a profit sharing scheme, scheme shares must not be subject to any restrictions affecting the rights attaching to those shares which relate to—

- (a) dividends, or
- (b) assets on a winding-up of the company,

other than restrictions which attach to all other ordinary shares in the same company.]

(2) Except as provided below, the shares may be subject to a restriction imposed by the company's articles of association—

- (a) requiring all shares held by directors or employees of the company or of any other company of which it has control to be disposed of on ceasing to be so held; and
- (b) requiring all shares acquired, in pursuance of rights or interests obtained by such directors or employees, by persons who are not (or have ceased to be) such directors or employees to be disposed of when they are acquired.

(3) A restriction is not authorised by sub-paragraph (2) above unless—

- (a) any disposal required by the restriction will be by way of sale for a consideration in money on terms specified in the articles of association; and
- (b) the articles also contain general provisions by virtue of which any person disposing of shares of the same class (whether or not held or acquired as mentioned in sub-paragraph (2) above) may be required to sell them on terms which are the same as those mentioned in paragraph (a) above.

(4) In the case of a profit sharing scheme, except in relation to redeemable shares in a workers' cooperative, nothing in sub-paragraph (2) above authorises a restriction which would require a person, before the release date, to dispose of his beneficial interest in shares the ownership of which has not been transferred to him.

- (2) ^{M1650}Where the Board are satisfied that—
- (a) a person has entered into a certified contractual savings scheme before 15th November 1980, and
 - (b) he has obtained rights under a scheme established before that date to acquire shares in a company of which he is an employee or director (or a company of which such a company has control) using repayments made under the certified contractual savings scheme;
- then, repayments and interest paid under the certified contractual savings scheme shall be treated as repayments and interest paid, under a scheme approved by the Board for the purposes of this Schedule under sub-paragraph (1) above, and, accordingly, may be used for the purchase of shares under a savings-related share option scheme approved under this Schedule.
- (3) The repayments and interest to which sub-paragraph (2) above applies shall not exceed the repayments and interest to which the participant would have been entitled if the terms of the scheme had corresponded to those of a certified contractual savings scheme approved by the Board under sub-paragraph (1) above.

- 17 ^{M1651}Subject to paragraphs 18 to 21 below, the rights obtained under the scheme must not be capable of being exercised before the bonus date, that is to say, the date on which repayments under the certified contractual savings scheme are due; and for the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph 16 above—
- (a) repayments under a certified contractual savings scheme may be taken as including or as not including a bonus;
 - (b) the time when repayments are due shall be, where repayments are taken as including the maximum bonus, the earliest date on which the maximum bonus is payable and, in any other case, the earliest date on which a bonus is payable under the scheme; and
 - (c) the question what is to be taken as so included must be required to be determined at the time when rights under the scheme are obtained.

MATERIAL INTEREST TEST

[^{F3911} Interests under trusts

Textual Amendments

F3911 Sch. 9 Pts. 1, 2, 6 repealed (except for specified purposes) (6.4.2003 with effect in accordance with s. 723(1) of the repealing Act) by Income Tax (Earnings and Pensions) Act 2003 (c. 1), Sch. 6 para. 112(1), Sch 8 Pt. 1 (with Sch. 7)

- 37 (1) This ^{M1680} paragraph applies in a case where—
- (a) the individual (“the beneficiary”) was one of the objects of a discretionary trust; and
 - (b) the property subject to the trust at any time consisted of or included any shares or obligations of the company.
- (2) If neither the beneficiary nor any relevant associate of his had received any benefit under the discretionary trust before 14th November 1986, then, as respects any time before that date, the trustees of the settlement concerned shall not be regarded, by reason only of the matters referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above, as having been associates (as defined in section 417(3) and (4)) of the beneficiary.
- (3) If, on or after 14th November 1986—

- (a) the beneficiary ceases to be eligible to benefit under the discretionary trust by reason of—
 - (i) an irrevocable disclaimer or release executed by him under seal; or
 - (ii) the irrevocable exercise by the trustees of a power to exclude him from the objects of the trust; and
- (b) immediately after he so ceases, no relevant associate of his is interested in the shares or obligations of the company which are subject to the trust; and
- (c) during the period of 12 months ending with the date when the beneficiary so ceases, neither the beneficiary nor any relevant associate of his received any benefit under the trust, the beneficiary shall not be regarded, by reason only of the matters referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above, as having been interested in the shares or obligations of the company as mentioned in section 417(3)(c) at any time during the period of 12 months referred to in paragraph (c) above.

- (4) In sub-paragraphs (2) and (3) above “relevant associate” has the meaning given to “associate” by subsection (3) of section 417 but with the omission of paragraph (c) of that subsection.
- (5) Sub-paragraph (3)(a)(i) above, in its application to Scotland, shall be construed as if the words “under seal” were omitted.

- 38 (1) For the purposes of section 187(3)(a) a right to acquire shares (however arising) shall be taken to be a right to control them.
- (2) Any reference in sub-paragraph (3) below to the shares attributed to an individual is a reference to the shares which, in accordance with section 187(3)(a), fall to be brought into account in his case to determine whether their number exceeds a particular percentage of the company’s ordinary share capital.
- (3) In any case where—
- (a) the shares attributed to an individual consist of or include shares which he or any other person has a right to acquire; and
 - (b) the circumstances are such that, if that right were to be exercised, the shares acquired would be shares which were previously unissued and which the company is contractually bound to issue in the event of the exercise of the right;
- then, in determining at any time prior to the exercise of that right whether the number of shares attributed to the individual exceeds a particular percentage of the ordinary share capital of the company, that ordinary share capital shall be taken to be increased by the number of unissued shares referred to in paragraph (b) above.

The period of retention

2 ^{M1684}For the purposes of any of the relevant provisions, “the period of retention”, in relation to any of a participant’s shares, means the period beginning on the date on which they are appropriated to him and ending on the second anniversary of that date or, if it is earlier—

- (a) the date on which the participant ceases to be a director or employee of the grantor or, in the case of a group scheme, a participating company by reason of injury or disability or on account of his being dismissed by reason of redundancy, within the meaning of [^{F3915}the Employment Rights Act 1996] or the [^{F3916}Employment Rights (Northern Ireland) Order 1996]; or
- (b) the date on which the participant reaches [^{F3917}the relevant age]; or
- (c) the date of the participant’s death; [^{F3918}or]
- (d) in a case where the participant’s shares are redeemable shares in a workers’ cooperative, the date on which the participant ceases to be employed by, or by a subsidiary of, the cooperative.

For the purposes of sub-paragraph (a) above, in the case of a group scheme, the participant shall not be treated as ceasing to be a director or employee of a participating company until such time as he is no longer a director or employee of any of the participating companies.

[^{F3919}In this paragraph, the reference to the relevant age is a reference, in the case of a scheme approved before the day on which the Finance Act 1991 was passed, [^{F3920}in the case of a man, to the age of 65, and in the case of a woman, to the age of 60] and, in the case of a scheme approved on or after that day, to the specified age.]

Capital receipts

- 4 (1) ^{M1685} Money or money's worth is not a capital receipt for the purposes of section 186(3) if or, as the case may be, to the extent that—
- (a) it constitutes income in the hands of the recipient for the purposes of income tax; or
 - (b) it consists of the proceeds of a disposal falling within section 186(4); or
 - (c) it consists of new shares within the meaning of paragraph 5 below.
- (2) If, pursuant to a direction given by or on behalf of the participant or any person in whom the beneficial interest in the participant's shares is for the time being vested, the trustees—
- (a) dispose of some of the rights arising under a rights issue, as defined in section 186(8), and
 - (b) use the proceeds of that disposal to exercise other such rights,
- the money or money's worth which constitutes the proceeds of that disposal is not a capital receipt for the purposes of section 186(3).
- (3) If, apart from this sub-paragraph, the amount or value of a capital receipt would exceed the sum which, immediately before the entitlement to the receipt arose, was the locked-in value of the shares to which the receipt is referable, section 186(3) shall have effect as if the amount or value of the receipt were equal to that locked-in value.
- (4) Section 186(3) does not apply in relation to a capital receipt if the entitlement to it arises after the death of the participant to whose shares it is referable.

- (2) Where an issue of shares of any of the following descriptions (in respect of which a charge to income tax arises) is made as part of a company reconstruction, those shares shall be treated for the purposes of this paragraph as not forming part of the new holding, that is to say—
- (a) redeemable shares or securities issued as mentioned in section 209(2)(c);
 - (b) share capital issued in circumstances such that section 210(1) applies; and
 - (c) share capital to which section 249 applies.

“corresponding shares”, in relation to any new shares, means those shares in respect of which the new shares are issued or which the new shares otherwise represent;

“new shares” means shares comprised in the new holding which were issued in respect of, or otherwise represent, shares comprised in the original holding; and “original holding” has the meaning given by sub-paragraph (1) above.

- (4) Subject to the following provisions of this paragraph, in relation to a profit sharing scheme, references in the relevant provisions to a participant’s shares shall be construed, after the time of the company reconstruction, as being or, as the case may be, as including references to any new shares, and for the purposes of the relevant provisions—
- (a) a company reconstruction shall be treated as not involving a disposal of shares comprised in the original holding;
 - (b) the date on which any new shares are to be treated as having been appropriated to the participant shall be that on which the corresponding shares were appropriated; and
 - (c) the conditions in paragraphs 10 to 12 and 14 of Schedule 9 shall be treated as fulfilled with respect to any new shares if they were (or were treated as) fulfilled with respect to the corresponding shares.
- (5) In relation to shares comprised in the new holding, section 186(5) shall apply as if the references in that subsection to the initial market value of the shares were references to their locked-in value immediately after the company reconstruction, which shall be determined as follows—
- (a) ascertain the aggregate amount of locked-in value immediately before the reconstruction of those shares comprised in the original holding which had at that time the same locked-in value; and
 - (b) distribute that amount pro rata among—
 - (i) such of those shares as remain in the new holding, and
 - (ii) any new shares in relation to which those shares are the corresponding shares, according to their market value immediately after the date of their reconstruction; and section 186(5)(a) shall apply only to capital receipts after the date of the reconstruction.
- (6) For the purposes of the relevant provisions if, as part of a company reconstruction, trustees become entitled to a capital receipt, their entitlement to the capital receipt shall be taken to arise before the new holding comes into being and, for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above, before the date on which the locked-in value of any shares comprised in the original holding falls to be ascertained.
- (7) In the context of a new holding, any reference in this paragraph to shares includes securities and rights of any description which form part of the new holding for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the [F3925 1992] Act.

Excess or unauthorised shares

- 6 (1) ^{M1687}This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) the total amount of the initial market value of all the shares which are appropriated to an individual in any one year of assessment (whether under a single approved profit sharing scheme or under two or more such schemes) exceeds the relevant amount; or
 - (b) the trustees of an approved profit sharing scheme appropriate shares to an individual at a time when he is ineligible to participate in the scheme by virtue of paragraph 8 or 35 of Schedule 9.
- (2) In this paragraph—
- "excess shares" means any share which caused the relevant amount to be exceeded and any share appropriated after that amount was exceeded; and
- "unauthorised shares" means any share appropriated as mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(b) above.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(a) above, if a number of shares is appropriated to an individual at the same time under two or more approved profit sharing schemes, the same proportion of the shares appropriated at that time under each scheme shall be regarded as being appropriated before the relevant amount is exceeded.

P.A.Y.E. deduction of tax

- 7 (1) ^{M1688}Subject to sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) below, where the trustees of an approved profit sharing scheme receive a sum of money which constitutes (or forms part of)—
- (a) the proceeds of a disposal of shares falling within section 186(4), or
 - (b) a capital receipt,
- in respect of which a participant in the scheme is chargeable to income tax under Schedule E in accordance with section 186, the trustees shall pay out of that sum of money to the company specified in sub-paragraph (3) below an amount equal to that on which income tax is so payable; and the company shall then pay over that amount to the participant but in so doing shall make a P.A.Y.E. deduction.
- (2) Where a participant disposes of his beneficial interest in any of his shares to the trustees of the scheme and the trustees are deemed by virtue of section 186(9) to have disposed of the shares in question, this paragraph shall apply as if the consideration payable by the trustees to the participant on the disposal had been received by the trustees as the proceeds of disposal of shares falling within section 186(4).
- (3) The company to which the payment mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above is to be made is the company—
- (a) of which the participant is an employee or director at the time the trustees receive the sum of money referred to in that sub-paragraph, and

(b) whose employees are at that time eligible (subject to the terms of the scheme and Schedule 9) to be participants in the approved profit sharing scheme concerned, and if there is more than one company which falls within paragraphs (a) and (b) above, such one of those companies as the Board may direct.

(4) Where the trustees of an approved profit sharing scheme receive a sum of money to which sub-paragraph (1) above applies but—

(a) there is no company which falls within paragraphs (a) and (b) of sub-paragraph (3) above, or

(b) the Board is of opinion that it is impracticable for the company which falls within those paragraphs (or, as the case may be, any of them) to make a P.A.Y.E. deduction and accordingly direct that this sub-paragraph shall apply, then, in paying over to the participant the proceeds of the disposal or the capital receipt, the trustees shall make a P.A.Y.E. deduction in respect of an amount equal to that on which income tax is payable as mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above as if the participant were a former employee of the trustees.

(5) Where the trustees of an approved profit sharing scheme receive a sum of money to which sub-paragraph (1) above applies and the Board direct that this sub-paragraph shall apply—

(a) the trustees shall make the payment mentioned in that sub-paragraph to the company specified in the Board's direction; and

(b) that company shall pay over that amount to the participant but in so doing shall make a P.A.Y.E. deduction, and for that purpose if the participant is not an employee of that company he shall be treated as a former employee;

but no such direction shall be given except with the consent of the trustees, the company or companies (if any) specified in sub-paragraph (3) above and the company specified in the direction.

(6) Where, in accordance with this paragraph any person is required to make a P.A.Y.E. deduction in respect of any amount, that amount shall be treated for the purposes of section 203 and any regulations made under that section as an amount of income payable to the recipient and assessable to income tax under Schedule E, and, accordingly, such deduction shall be made as is required by those regulations.

(7) Where, in connection with a transfer of a participant's shares to which sub-paragraph (c) of paragraph 2(2) of Schedule 9 applies, the trustees receive such a sum as is referred to in that sub-paragraph, that sum shall be treated for the purposes of the Income Tax Acts—

(a) as a sum deducted by the trustees pursuant to a requirement to make a P.A.Y.E. deduction under sub-paragraph (4) above; and

(b) as referable to the income tax to which, as a result of the transfer, the participant is chargeable by virtue of section 186(4).

(8) Unless the Board otherwise direct, in the application of this paragraph to a sum of money which constitutes or forms part of the proceeds of a disposal of, or a capital receipt referable to, excess or unauthorised shares (within the meaning of paragraph 6 above), the trustees shall determine the amount of the payment mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above or, as the case may be, the amount of the P.A.Y.E. deduction to be made under sub-paragraph (4) above as if the shares were not excess or unauthorised shares.

SCHEDULE 11

PAYMENTS AND OTHER BENEFITS IN CONNECTION WITH TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT, ETC.

Introductory

- 1 The provisions of this Schedule supplement the provisions of section 148 with respect to the taxation of payments and other benefits received in connection with—
- (a) the termination of a person's employment, or
 - (b) any change in the duties of or emoluments from a person's employment.

Payments and other benefits to which section 148 applies

- 2 (1) Section 148 applies to all payments and other benefits received directly or indirectly in consideration or in consequence of, or otherwise in connection with, the termination or change—
- (a) by the employee or former employee,
 - (b) by the spouse or any relative or dependant of the employee or former employee, or
 - (c) by the personal representatives of the former employee.
- (2) For the purposes of section 148 a payment or other benefit which is provided on behalf of, or to the order of, the employee or former employee is treated as received by the employee or former employee.

Payments and other benefits excluded from charge under section 148

- 3 Tax is not charged under section 148 on a payment or other benefit provided—
- (a) in connection with the termination of the employment by the death of the employee, or
 - (b) on account of injury to or disability of the employee.
- 4 (1) Tax is not charged under section 148 on a payment or other benefit provided in pursuance of any such scheme or fund as was described in section 221(1) and (2) of the 1970 Act or as is described in section 596(1) (approved retirement benefits schemes, etc) in the following cases.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) The first case is where the payment or other benefit is by way of compensation for loss of employment, or for loss or diminution of emoluments, and the loss or diminution is due to ill-health.
- (3) The second case is where the payment or other benefit is properly regarded as earned by past service.
- 5 Tax is not charged under section 148 on a payment or other benefit provided—
- (a) under a Royal Warrant, Queen’s Order or Order in Council relating to members of Her Majesty’s forces, or
 - (b) by way of payment in commutation of annual or other periodical payments authorised by any such Warrant or Order.
- 6 (1) Tax is not charged under section 148 on—
- (a) any benefit provided under a superannuation scheme administered by the government of an overseas territory within the Commonwealth, or
 - (b) any payment of compensation for loss of career, interruption of service or disturbance made in connection with any change in the constitution of any such overseas territory to a person who, before the change, was employed in the public service of that territory.
- (2) In sub-paragraph (1) references to an overseas territory, to the government of such a territory, and to employment in the public service of such a territory have the same meaning as in the ^{M1689} Overseas Development and Cooperation Act 1980: see sections 10(2) and 13(1) and (2) of that Act.

Application of £30,000 threshold

- 7 (1) This paragraph specifies how the £30,000 threshold in section 148(1) applies.
- (2) Tax is charged only on the excess over £30,000, but the threshold applies to the aggregate amount of payments and other benefits provided in respect of the same person—
- (a) in respect of the same employment, or
 - (b) in respect of different employments with the same employer or associated employers (see paragraph 8).
- (3) If payments and other benefits are received in different tax years, the £30,000 is set against the amount of payments and other benefits received in earlier years before those of later years.
- (4) If more than one payment or other benefit is received in a tax year in which the threshold is exceeded—

- (a) the £30,000 (or the balance of it) is set against the amounts of cash benefits as they are received, and
 - (b) any balance at the end of the year is set against the aggregate amount of non-cash benefits received in the year.
- 8 (1) For the purposes of paragraph 7(2)(b) employers are associated if on the date which is the relevant date in relation to any of the payments or other benefits—
- (a) one of them is under the control of the other, or
 - (b) one of them is under the control of a third person who controls or is under the control of the other on that or any other such date.
- (2) In sub-paragraph (1)—
- (a) “control” has the meaning given by section 840, and
 - (b) references to an employer, or to a person controlling or controlled by an employer, include the successors of the employer or person.

Exclusion or reduction of charge in case of foreign service

- 9 (1) If the employee’s service in the employment in respect of which the payment or other benefit is received included foreign service, then—
- (a) in certain cases, tax is not charged under section 148 (see paragraph 10);
 - (b) in other cases the amount charged to tax is reduced (see paragraph 11).
- (2) “Foreign service” for this purpose means—
- (a) service in or after the tax year 1974-75 such that—
 - (i) the emoluments from the employment were not chargeable under Case I of Schedule E (or would not have been so chargeable, had there been any), or
 - (ii) a deduction equal to the whole amount of the emoluments from the employment was or would have been allowable under paragraph 1 of Schedule 2 to the ^{M1690}Finance Act 1974, paragraph 1 of Schedule 7 to the ^{M1691}Finance Act 1977 or section 192A or 193(1) of this Act (foreign earnings deduction);
 - (b) service before the tax year 1974-75 such that tax was not chargeable in respect of the emoluments of the employment—
 - (i) in the tax year 1956-57 or later, under Case I of Schedule E;
 - (ii) in earlier tax years, under Schedule E.

- (b) if the period of service down to the relevant date exceeded ten years, the whole of the last ten years, or
 - (c) if the period of service down to the relevant date exceeded 20 years, one-half or more of that period, including any ten of the last 20 years.
- 11 (1) Where there is foreign service and paragraph 10 does not apply, the person chargeable to tax under section 148 may claim relief in the form of a proportionate reduction of the amount charged to tax.
- The amount charged to tax means the amount after any reduction under paragraph 7 (application of £30,000 threshold).
- (2) The proportion is that which the length of the foreign service bears to the whole length of service in the employment before the relevant date.
- (3) A person is not entitled to relief under this paragraph in so far as the relief, together with any personal relief allowed to him, would reduce the amount of income on which he is chargeable below the amount of income tax which he is entitled—
- (a) to charge against any other person, or
 - (b) to deduct, retain or satisfy out of any payment which he is liable to make.
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3)—
- (a) “personal relief” means relief under Chapter I of Part VII; and
 - (b) the amount of tax to which a person is or would be chargeable means the amount of tax to which he is or would be chargeable either by assessment or by deduction.

Valuation of benefits

- 12 (1) For the purposes of section 148, the amount of a payment or other benefit is taken to be—
- (a) in the case of a cash benefit, the amount received, and
 - (b) in the case of a non-cash benefit, the cash equivalent of the benefit.
- (2) The cash equivalent of a non-cash benefit is whichever is the greater of—
- (a) the amount which would be chargeable to tax under section 19(1) if the benefit were an emolument of the employment chargeable to tax under Case I of Schedule E, or
 - (b) the cash equivalent determined in accordance with the provisions of section 596B (cash equivalent of benefits in kind for purposes of charge to tax on benefits under non-approved retirement benefits scheme).

Notional interest treated as paid if amount charged in respect of beneficial loan

- 13 (1) This paragraph applies where a person is chargeable to tax under section 148 in any tax year on an amount which consists of or includes an amount representing the cash equivalent of the benefit of a loan determined in accordance with Part II of Schedule 7.

- (2) Where this paragraph applies, the person chargeable is treated as having paid interest on the loan of the same amount as the cash equivalent so determined.

This is subject to application of the £30,000 threshold: see sub-paragraph (5) below.

- (3) The interest is treated as paid for all the purposes of the Tax Acts (other than section 148 and this Schedule), but not so as to make it—
- (a) income of the person making the loan, or
 - (b) relevant loan interest to which section 369 applies (mortgage interest payable under deduction of tax).
- (4) The interest is treated as accruing during and paid at the end of the tax year or, if different, the period in the tax year during which the loan is outstanding.
- (5) No amount of interest is treated as paid under this paragraph in a tax year in which, after applying the £30,000 threshold in section 148(1), no amount falls to be charged to tax.

If in any tax year the effect of the £30,000 threshold is that some but not all of the amount otherwise chargeable is charged to tax, the amount of interest treated as paid is limited to the amount charged to tax.

Giving effect to the charge to tax

- 14 (1) Tax under section 148 is charged on the employee or former employee, whether or not he is the recipient of the payment or other benefit.
- (2) After the death of the employee or former employee, any amount chargeable to tax under section 148 shall be assessed and charged upon his personal representatives and is a debt due from and payable out of the estate.

Reporting requirements

- 15 Provision may be made by regulations under section 203(2) requiring an employer or former employer to provide such information as may be prescribed by the regulations, within such time as may be so prescribed, as to payments or other benefits provided or to be provided in connection with the termination of a person's employment or a change in the duties of or emoluments from a person's employment.

Interpretation

- 16 In this Schedule—
- “the relevant date” means the date of the termination or change in question; and
- “tax year” means a year of assessment.

F3943 Expenses of disposal

Textual Amendments

F3943 Sch. 11A inserted (27.7.1993) by 1993 c. 34, s. 76, Sch. 5 para.2

- F3944 8 (1) Expenses fall within paragraph 7(a) above if (and only if)—
- (a) the employee has an interest in his former residence,
 - (b) that interest is disposed of, or is intended to be disposed of, in consequence of the change of residence, and
 - (c) the expenses fall within sub-paragraph (2) below.
- (2) Expenses fall within this sub-paragraph if they consist of one of the following—
- (a) legal expenses connected with the disposal or intended disposal of the employee's interest in his former residence (including legal expenses connected with the redemption of any loan relating to the residence),
 - (b) any penalty for redeeming, for the purpose of the disposal or intended disposal, any loan relating to the residence,
 - (c) fees of any estate agent or auctioneer engaged in the disposal or intended disposal,
 - (d) expenses of advertising the disposal or intended disposal,
 - (e) charges for disconnecting, for the purpose of the disposal or intended disposal, public utilities serving the residence,
 - (f) expenses of maintaining, insuring, or preserving the security of the residence at any time when unoccupied pending the disposal or intended disposal, and
 - (g) any rent paid in respect of the residence at any such time.
- (3) The reference in this paragraph to the employee having an interest in his former residence includes a reference to—
- (a) one or more members of the employee's family or household having such an interest;
 - (b) the employee and one or more members of his family or household having such an interest;
- and references to the disposal or intended disposal of the employee's interest in his former residence shall be construed accordingly.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph a loan relates to a residence if the loan was raised to obtain an interest in the residence, or an interest in the residence forms security for the loan, or both.

THE QUALIFYING LIMIT

Textual Amendments

F3976Sch. 11A inserted (27.7.1993) by 1993 c. 34, s. 76, Sch. 5 para.2

- F3977*24(1) In a case where, by reason of the employee's employment and in connection with a particular change of residence—

- (a) any sums are paid as mentioned in paragraph 1(1)(a) or (b) above, or
(b) any qualifying removal benefit is provided as mentioned in paragraph 1(1)(c) above,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

paragraph 1(1) above shall apply only to the extent that the total value to the employee, found under sub-paragraph (2) below, does not exceed the qualifying limit.

- (2) The total value to the employee is the total of the following—
- (a) the aggregate of the amounts of any sums paid as mentioned in paragraph 1(1)(a) or (b) above in connection with the change of residence;
 - (b) the aggregate of any amounts represented by qualifying removal benefits which are provided as mentioned in paragraph 1(1)(c) above in connection with the change.
- (3) Subject to sub-paragraphs (4) to (8) below, for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(b) above the amount represented by a benefit is the amount which would be the cash equivalent of the benefit under Chapter II of this Part of this Act if the benefit were chargeable under the appropriate provision of that Chapter.
- (4) In the case of a benefit which—
- (a) consists of living accommodation provided for a person, and
 - (b) is, or would be apart from this Schedule, chargeable under section 145 and not under section 146,
- for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(b) above the amount represented by the benefit is the amount which, if the benefit were so chargeable, would be the value to the employee of the accommodation for the period in which the accommodation is provided, less the appropriate sum.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4) above the value to the employee of accommodation in any period shall be determined in accordance with section 145, and the reference in that sub-paragraph to the appropriate sum is to the total of—
- (a) so much of any sum made good by the employee to those at whose cost the accommodation is provided as is properly attributable to the provision of the accommodation, and
 - (b) any amounts which, if the benefit were chargeable under section 145, would be deductible by virtue of section 145(3) from the amount to be treated as emoluments under section 145(1) as regards the benefit.
- (6) In the case of a benefit which—
- (a) consists of living accommodation provided for a person, and
 - (b) is, or would be apart from this Schedule, chargeable under both section 145 and section 146,
- for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(b) above the amount represented by the benefit is the total of the amounts mentioned in sub-paragraph (7) below.
- (7) The amounts referred to in sub-paragraph (6) above are—
- (a) the amount which would be found under sub-paragraph (4) above if the benefit were chargeable under section 145 and not under section 146, and
 - (b) the amount which, if the benefit were chargeable under section 146, would be the additional value to the employee of the accommodation for the period in which the accommodation is provided, less the appropriate sum.
- (8) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (7) above the additional value to the employee of accommodation in any period shall be determined in accordance with section 146, and the reference in that sub-paragraph to the appropriate sum is to the total of—

- (a) so much of any rent paid by the employee in respect of the accommodation to the person providing it as exceeds the value to the employee of the accommodation for the period (determined in accordance with section 145), and
 - (b) any amounts which, if the benefit were chargeable under section 146, would be deductible by virtue of subsection (9) of that section from the amount to be treated as emoluments under that section as regards the benefit.
- (9) The qualifying limit, as regards any change of residence, is £8,000.
- (10) The Treasury may by order substitute for the sum for the time being specified in sub-paragraph (9) above a sum of a greater amount.
- (11) Any such substitution shall have effect as regards any change of an employee's residence which results from—
- (a) the employee becoming employed by an employer on or after the specified day;
 - (b) an alteration, with effect from a time falling on or after the specified day, of the duties of the employee's employment;
 - (c) an alteration, with effect from a time falling on or after the specified day, of the place where the employee is normally to perform the duties of his employment;
- and in this sub-paragraph “the specified day” means the day specified in the order for the purposes of this sub-paragraph.

SCHEDULE 13B

CHILDREN’S TAX CREDIT

Child living with more than one adult: married and unmarried couples

- 1 (1) Paragraphs 2 to 5 below apply where at any time in a year of assessment—
- (a) a husband and wife are living together or a man and a woman are living together as husband and wife, and
 - (b) a relevant child is resident with them.
- (2) In those paragraphs—
- (a) the husband and wife, or the man and the woman, are referred to as the partners,
 - (b) “the higher-earning partner” means the partner who has the higher total income for the year of assessment,
 - (c) “the lower-earning partner” means the partner who has the lower total income for the year of assessment, and
 - (d) “relevant child” means a child who is a qualifying child in relation to both partners.
- (3) If the partners have the same total income for the year—
- (a) they may elect that one of them be treated for the purposes of paragraphs 2 to 5 below as the lower-earning partner, and
 - (b) if they do not make an election, neither shall be entitled to a children’s tax credit for the year in respect of a relevant child.
- 2 Subject to paragraph 3 below, the lower-earning partner shall not be entitled to a children’s tax credit for the year in respect of a relevant child.
- 3 (1) This paragraph applies if no part of either partner’s income for the year falls within section 1(2)(b).
- (2) If the lower-earning partner makes a claim for a children’s tax credit for the year in respect of a relevant child—
- (a) paragraph 2 above shall not apply, and
 - (b) in calculating the credit for each partner, the amount mentioned in section 257AA(2) shall be halved.
- (3) If the partners make an election under this sub-paragraph—
- (a) paragraph 2 above shall not apply, and
 - (b) the higher-earning partner shall not be entitled to a children’s tax credit for the year in respect of a relevant child.
- 4 (1) This paragraph applies where—
- (a) a partner is entitled to a children’s tax credit for a year of assessment,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

- (b) the amount by reference to which his credit falls to be calculated (Amount A) exceeds the amount which would be necessary, in accordance with section 256(2) [^{F4048} (read with section 25(6)(c) of the ^{M1696} Finance Act 1990 where applicable)], to reduce his liability for the year to income tax on his total income to nil (Amount B), and
 - (c) he gives notice to an officer of the Board under this paragraph.
- (2) Where the other partner would not, by virtue of paragraph 2 or 3 above, be entitled to a children's tax credit for the year in respect of a relevant child—
- (a) he shall be entitled to a children's tax credit in respect of a relevant child notwithstanding that paragraph, and
 - (b) the amount by reference to which his credit shall be calculated shall be the amount of the difference between Amount A and Amount B.
- (3) In any other case, the difference between Amount A and Amount B shall be added to the amount by reference to which children's tax credit would otherwise be calculated for the other partner in respect of a relevant child.
- (4) A notice under this paragraph—
- (a) must be given on or before the fifth anniversary of the 31st January next following the end of the year of assessment to which it relates,
 - (b) shall be in such form as the Board may determine, and
 - (c) shall be irrevocable.

- 5 (1) This paragraph applies to elections under paragraph 3 above.
- (2) An election—
- (a) shall be made by giving notice to an officer of the Board in such form as the Board may determine, and
 - (b) may be made so as to have effect for a single year of assessment or for two or more consecutive years.
- (3) Subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, an election must be made before the first year of assessment for which it is to have effect and on the basis of assumptions about the partners' incomes for that year.
- (4) An election may be made, on the basis of such assumptions, at a time during the first year for which it is to have effect if—
- (a) the election is made within the first 30 days of that year and an officer of the Board has been given written notification before that year that the election will be made, or
 - (b) the partners marry in that year, or
 - (c) the partners start to live together as man and wife in that year, or

- (d) a relevant child becomes resident with the partners in that year and no relevant child has previously in that year been resident with the partners, or
 - (e) it is assumed that the partner who was the higher-earning partner in the previous year will be the lower-earning partner in that year.
- (5) An election may be withdrawn—
- (a) by the making of another election which supersedes the first, or
 - (b) by notice given to an officer of the Board, in such form as the Board may determine, by either partner.
- (6) A withdrawal shall have effect for the year of assessment in which it is given and subsequent years.
- (7) If the higher-earning partner for one year of assessment (Year 1) is the lower-earning partner for the next year (Year 2), an election having effect for Year 1 shall not have effect for Year 2 or subsequent years.

Child living with more than one adult: other cases

- 6 (1) This paragraph applies to a child for a year of assessment if—
- (a) he is resident with two or more persons at the same time or at different times during the year,
 - (b) he is a qualifying child in relation to two or more of those persons, and
 - (c) paragraphs 2 to 5 above do not apply in relation to him in that year.
- (2) The persons in relation to whom the child is a qualifying child are referred to in this paragraph as the taxpayers.
- (3) None of the taxpayers shall be entitled to a children’s tax credit for the year of assessment by virtue of the residence of any child to whom this paragraph applies except in accordance with the following provisions of this paragraph.
- (4) If a taxpayer claims a children’s tax credit for the year of assessment by virtue of the residence of any child to whom this paragraph applies, for the amount mentioned in section 257AA(2) (before any reduction) there shall be substituted his allotted proportion of that amount.
- (5) A taxpayer’s allotted proportion is—
- (a) such proportion as may be agreed between him and the other taxpayers, or
 - (b) in default of agreement, a proportion which is assigned to him by the Commissioners.
- (6) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above—
- (a) a proportion may be 100 per cent.,
 - (b) the sum of the proportions shall not exceed 100 per cent., and
 - (c) “the Commissioners” means such body of General Commissioners, being the General Commissioners for a division in which one of the taxpayers resides, as the Board may direct or, if none of the taxpayers resides in the United Kingdom, the Special Commissioners.
- (7) Where a person—

- (a) is a member of more than one set of taxpayers in relation to whom this paragraph applies for a year of assessment,
- (b) has more than one allotted proportion under this paragraph for the year, and
- (c) claims a children's tax credit for the year, for the amount mentioned in section 257AA(2) (before any reduction) there shall be substituted the aggregate of his allotted proportions of that amount (not exceeding 100 per cent.).

(8) Where—

- (a) a taxpayer makes a claim under section 257AA, and
- (b) it appears that an allotted proportion will need to be assigned to him under sub-paragraph (5)(b) above for that purpose, the Board may direct that the claim shall be dealt with, and the assignment shall be made, by a specified body of Commissioners which could be directed under sub-paragraph (6)(c) above to make the assignment; and where a direction is given no other body of Commissioners shall have jurisdiction to determine the claim.

(9) For the purposes of any assignment to a taxpayer under sub-paragraph (5)(b) above—

- (a) the Commissioners shall hear and determine the case in the same manner as an appeal, and
- (b) any of the taxpayers shall be entitled to appear and be heard by the Commissioners or to make representations to them in writing.

Combined cases

7 (1) This paragraph applies where a child is a relevant child for the purposes of paragraphs 2 to 5 above in a year of assessment and—

- (a) he is a relevant child for the year in relation to more than one pair of partners, or
- (b) paragraph 6 above would apply to him for the year but for the fact that he is a relevant child for the purposes of paragraphs 2 to 5 above.

(2) Where this paragraph applies—

- (a) paragraph 6 above shall apply, but with each pair of partners for the purposes of paragraphs 2 to 5 above being treated as a single taxpayer, and
- (b) paragraphs 2 to 5 above shall apply in relation to each pair of partners, taking for the amount mentioned in section 257AA(2) (before any reduction) the amount substituted by virtue of paragraph 6 above.

Change of circumstances

8 (1) For the purposes of this paragraph a change of circumstances occurs in relation to a child in a year of assessment if a relevant event takes place in that year and—

- (a) as a result of the event the child becomes a qualifying child in relation to any person or stops being a qualifying child in relation to any person, or
- (b) the child is, immediately before the event, a qualifying child in relation to both parties to the event.

(2) The following are relevant events—

- (a) a marriage or a man and a woman starting to live together as husband and wife;
 - (b) a separation.
- (3) A separation occurs when—
- (a) a husband and wife cease to live together, or
 - (b) a man and a woman cease to live together as husband and wife, having been living together as husband and wife without being married.
- (4) In a year of assessment in which a change of circumstances (or more than one) occurs in relation to a child, section 257AA and paragraphs 2 to 7 above shall apply in relation to the child's residence as if each of the following were a separate year of assessment—
- (a) the period ending with the day before the first (or only) change of circumstances,
 - (b) the period starting with the day of the last (or only) change of circumstances, and
 - (c) any period starting with the day of one change of circumstances and ending with the day before the next.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4) above the amount specified in section 257AA(2) (before any reduction or substitution) shall be taken to be the result of the following formula—

$$\frac{\text{Days during the period}}{365} \times \text{Amount in s.257AA(2)}$$

- (6) In applying sub-paragraph (4) above a reference in section 257AA or this Schedule to a person's income for the year shall be taken as a reference to his income for the year and not his income for the period.

life of the other or made by the other shall not be affected by section 287(4), (5) or (6) ^{F4049}.

- (3) Where throughout a year of assessment a woman is a married woman living with her husband, then—
- (a) if no election under section 283 is in force, section 274 and paragraph 6 below shall apply as if any relief to which the wife is entitled under section 266 were relief to which the husband is entitled; and
 - (b) if such an election is in force, section 274 and paragraph 6 below shall apply separately to the amounts paid by each of them, but as if for the limit specified in that section there were substituted, in relation to each of them, a limit of £750 or one-twelfth of their total income, whichever is the greater, plus any amount by which the payments in respect of which relief can be given to the other fall short of the limit so substituted ^{F4049}.

- (a) for the furnishing of such information by persons by whom premiums are payable as may be necessary for determining whether they are entitled to make deductions under section 266(5) and for excluding the operation of that subsection in relation to payments made by persons who fail to comply with the regulations;
 - (b) for rounding to a multiple of one penny any payment which, after a deduction authorised under section 266(5), is not such a multiple;
 - (c) for the manner in which claims for the recovery of any sum under section 266(5)(b) may be made;
 - (d) for the furnishing of such information by persons by or to whom premiums are payable as appears to the Board necessary for deciding such claims and for exercising their powers under paragraph 4 or 6 above; and
 - (e) for requiring persons to whom premiums are paid to make available for inspection by an officer authorised by the Board such books and other documents in their possession or under their control as may reasonably be required for the purposes of determining whether any information given by those persons for the purposes of the relevant provisions is correct and complete.
- (3) The following provisions of the Management Act, that is to say—
- ^{F4056} (a) section 29(1)(c) (excessive relief) as it has effect apart from section 29(2) to (10) of that Act;
 - (b) section 30 (recovery of tax repaid in consequence of fraud or negligence etc.) [^{F4057} apart from subsection (1B)];
 - (c) [^{F4058} section 86] (interest); and
 - (d) section 95 (incorrect return or accounts);

^{F4059} shall apply in relation to an amount which is paid to any person by the Board as an amount recoverable by virtue of section 266(5)(b) but to which that person is not entitled as if it were income tax which ought not to have been repaid and, where that

Premium limit for qualifying policies to apply from 6 April 2013

- A1 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies if—
- (a) an event falling within sub-paragraph (3) occurs,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (b) apart from sub-paragraph (2), the policy to which the event relates would be a qualifying policy after the event, and
 - (c) an individual who is a beneficiary under that policy is in breach of the premium limit for qualifying policies.
- (2) That policy is not to be a qualifying policy after the event.
- (3) The events falling within this sub-paragraph are—
- (a) the issue of a policy in respect of an insurance made on or after 6 April 2013;
 - (b) the variation of a policy on or after 6 April 2013 where as a result of the variation—
 - (i) the period over which premiums are payable under the policy is or could be lengthened, or
 - (ii) the total amount of the premiums payable under the policy in any relevant period is or could be increased,or both;
 - (c) the assignment on or after 6 April 2013 of any rights, or any share in any rights, under a policy where the assignment falls within paragraph B2(3)(c) to (g) or (5) below;
 - (d) a deceased beneficiary event on or after 6 April 2013;
 - (e) the conditions in paragraph 24(3) below being fulfilled for the first time in respect of a new non-resident policy where—
 - (i) the conditions are fulfilled for the first time on or after 6 April 2013, and
 - (ii) but for the conditions being fulfilled, the policy could not be a qualifying policy because of paragraph 24(2).
- (4) An event does not fall within sub-paragraph (3) if—
- (a) the policy to which the event relates is—
 - (i) a protected policy,
 - (ii) a restricted relief qualifying policy, or
 - (iii) a pure protection policy,
 - (b) the event is the issue of a policy which is a new policy in relation to an earlier policy where—
 - (i) the new policy is issued in substitution for the earlier policy (and not on its maturity), and
 - (ii) the life assured under the new policy is different to the life assured under the earlier policy but that is the only difference to what the position would have been had the earlier policy continued to run,
 - (c) paragraph 20ZA below applies to a policy and the event is the reinstatement or replacement of the policy as mentioned in paragraph 20ZA(4),
 - (d) the event is the issue or variation of a policy in relation to which paragraph 29 of Schedule 39 to the Finance Act 2012 applies, or
 - (e) the event is an assignment falling within paragraph B2(3)(e) below where the assignment is a mortgage endowment assignment.
- (5) In sub-paragraph (3)(b)(ii) “relevant period” means any period of 12 months beginning at or after the time of the variation.

- (6) A variation is to be ignored for the purposes of sub-paragraph (3)(b) if its effect is nullified before the end of the period of 3 months after the day on which the variation occurs.
- (7) Sub-paragraph (4)(a)(i) does not apply in the case of an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(e).
- (8) Sub-paragraph (4)(a)(ii) does not apply in the case of—
 - (a) an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(c) or (d) occurring in relation to a restricted relief qualifying policy (“the assigned policy”),
 - (b) any subsequent event relating to the assigned policy, or
 - (c) any event relating to—
 - (i) a later policy which is a new policy in relation to the assigned policy, or
 - (ii) any policy which is a new policy in relation to the later policy, and so on.
- (9) In the case of an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(b), sub-paragraph (4)(a)(iii) applies only if the policy is a pure protection policy both before and after the variation.
- (10) This paragraph is to be applied after all other provisions of this Schedule relevant to the question of whether a policy is a qualifying policy after an event have been applied.

Restricted relief qualifying policies

- A2 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies if—
- (a) an event falling within sub-paragraph (3) occurs,
 - (b) the policy to which the event relates is a qualifying policy after the event, and
 - (c) an individual who is a beneficiary under that policy is in breach of the premium limit for qualifying policies.
- (2) That policy is to be a restricted relief qualifying policy after the event.
- (3) The events falling within this sub-paragraph are—
- (a) a premium limit event in relation to a protected policy on or after 21 March 2012;
 - (b) the issue of a policy as mentioned in paragraph A4(2)(b) below if, assuming that the substitution of the protected policy were instead a variation of that policy, there would be a premium limit event in relation to that policy;
 - (c) the assignment on or after 6 April 2013 of any rights, or any share in any rights, under a protected policy where the assignment falls within paragraph B2(3)(c) to (g) or (5) below;
 - (d) a deceased beneficiary event on or after 6 April 2013 where the policy in question is a protected policy;
 - (e) the issue of a policy in respect of an insurance made on or after 21 March 2012 but before 6 April 2013 otherwise than as mentioned in paragraph A4(2)(b) below;
 - (f) the variation of a policy, other than a protected policy, on or after 21 March 2012 but before 6 April 2013 where as a result of the variation—

- (i) the period over which premiums are payable under the policy is or could be lengthened, or
 - (ii) the total amount of the premiums payable under the policy in any relevant period is or could be increased,
 - or both;
 - (g) the conditions in either sub-paragraph (3) or sub-paragraph (4) of paragraph 24 below being fulfilled for the first time in respect of a new non-resident policy where—
 - (i) the conditions are fulfilled for the first time on or after 21 March 2012 but before 6 April 2013, and
 - (ii) but for the conditions being fulfilled, the policy could not be a qualifying policy because of sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 24.
- (4) An event does not fall within sub-paragraph (3) if—
 - (a) the policy to which the event relates is a pure protection policy,
 - (b) the event is the issue of a policy which is a new policy in relation to an earlier policy where—
 - (i) the new policy is issued in substitution for the earlier policy (and not on its maturity), and
 - (ii) the life assured under the new policy is different to the life assured under the earlier policy but that is the only difference to what the position would have been had the earlier policy continued to run,
 - (c) paragraph 20ZA below applies to a policy and the event is the reinstatement or replacement of the policy as mentioned in paragraph 20ZA(4),
 - (d) the event is the issue or variation of a policy in relation to which paragraph 29 of Schedule 39 to the Finance Act 2012 applies, or
 - (e) the event is an assignment falling within paragraph B2(3)(e) below where the assignment is a mortgage endowment assignment.
- (5) In sub-paragraph (3)(f)(ii) “relevant period” means any period of 12 months beginning at or after the time of the variation.
- (6) A premium limit event or a variation is to be ignored for the purposes of sub-paragraph (3)(a) or (f) if its effect is nullified before 6 July 2013.
- (7) In the case of a premium limit event which occurs on or after 6 April 2013, in sub-paragraph (6) the reference to 6 July 2013 is to be read as a reference to the end of the period of 3 months after the day on which the premium limit event occurs.
- (8) In the case of an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(a) or (f), sub-paragraph (4) (a) applies only if the policy is a pure protection policy both before and after the premium limit event or variation.
- (9) A “premium limit event” occurs in relation to a protected policy if—
 - (a) the policy is varied or a relevant option is exercised so as to change the terms of the policy, and
 - (b) as a result of the variation or exercise of the relevant option—
 - (i) the period over which premiums are payable under the policy is or could be lengthened, or
 - (ii) the total amount of the premiums payable under the policy in any relevant period is or could be increased,
 - or both.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

- (10) A “premium limit event” also occurs in relation to a protected policy if on or after 6 April 2013—
- (a) the policy is varied or a relevant option is exercised so as to change the terms of the policy, and
 - (b) as a result of the variation or exercise of the relevant option—
 - (i) the period over which premiums are payable under the policy is or could be shortened, or
 - (ii) the total amount of the premiums payable under the policy in any relevant period is or could be decreased,
 or both.
- (11) In sub-paragraphs (9)(b)(ii) and (10)(b)(ii) “relevant period” means any period of 12 months beginning at or after the time of the variation or exercise of the relevant option.
- (12) The variation of, or exercise of a relevant option under, a protected policy is not a premium limit event in relation to the policy if—
- (a) the policy secures a capital sum payable either—
 - (i) on survival for a specified term, or
 - (ii) on earlier death or on earlier death or disability,
 - (b) the policy is issued and maintained for the sole purpose of ensuring that the borrower under an interest-only mortgage will have sufficient funds to repay the principal lent under the mortgage, and
 - (c) the policy is varied, or the relevant option is exercised, for that sole purpose.
- (13) In sub-paragraph (3)(g) references to paragraph 24 below are to that paragraph as it has effect before the appointed date for the purposes of section 55 of the Finance Act 1995.
- (14) A qualifying policy which is a new policy in relation to an earlier policy is a restricted relief qualifying policy if the earlier policy is a restricted relief qualifying policy.
- (15) A policy which is a restricted relief qualifying policy remains a restricted relief qualifying policy so long as it is a qualifying policy.
- (16) Paragraph A1 above is to be ignored in determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (14) or (15) if a policy is a qualifying policy. This is subject to paragraph A1(8).
- (17) For further provision about restricted relief qualifying policies, see sections 463A to 463D of ITTOIA 2005.

The premium limit for qualifying policies

- A3 (1) For the purposes of paragraphs A1(1)(c) and A2(1)(c) above an individual is in breach of the premium limit for qualifying policies if the total amount of the premiums payable under relevant policies in any relevant period—
- (a) exceeds £3,600, or
 - (b) could exceed £3,600 as a result of—
 - (i) the exercise of any one or more relevant options conferred by one or more relevant policies, or

(ii) so far as not covered by sub-paragraph (i), the application of one or more terms of one or more relevant policies relating to increases in premiums.

(2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)—

- (a) so much of a premium payable under a relevant policy as is charged on the grounds that an exceptional risk of death or disability is involved is to be left out of account in determining the premiums payable under the policy,
- (b) so much of the first premium payable under a relevant policy the liability for the payment of which—
 - (i) is discharged in accordance with paragraph 15(2) below, or
 - (ii) in the case of a policy in relation to which paragraph 3 below applies, is discharged under a provision of the policy falling within paragraph 3(4)(c),is to be left out of account in determining the premiums payable under the policy (subject to sub-paragraph (3) below),
- (c) in determining the premiums payable under a relevant policy any provision for the waiver of premiums by reason of a person's disability is to be ignored, and
- (d) “relevant period” means any period of 12 months beginning at or after the time when the event falling within paragraph A1(3) or A2(3) above (“the relevant event”) occurs.

(3) The maximum amount that may be left out of account under sub-paragraph (2)(b) in the case of a relevant policy is—where N is the number of complete years for which ran—

$$£3,600 \times N$$

- a the other policy involved, or
- b if there is more than one other policy involved, the policy which ran for the most number of complete years.

(4) For the purposes of this paragraph the following are “relevant policies”—

- (a) the policy to which the relevant event relates, and
- (b) any other policy—
 - (i) which is a qualifying policy, and
 - (ii) under which the individual is a beneficiary.

(5) But neither a protected policy nor a pure protection policy is to be a relevant policy by virtue of sub-paragraph (4)(b).

(6) Sub-paragraph (7) applies if this paragraph is to be applied in the case of an individual in consequence of two or more events occurring at the same time (including where one or more of the events falls within paragraph A1(3) above and one or more of the events falls within paragraph A2(3) above).

(7) For the purpose of applying this paragraph in the case of the individual in consequence of any of the events, sub-paragraph (4)(a) has effect as if the reference to the policy to which the relevant event relates were a reference to all the policies to which the events, taken together, relate.

- (8) But sub-paragraph (7) does not apply, and sub-paragraph (9) applies instead, if—
- (a) all the policies in question are policies issued by the same issuer, and
 - (b) each of them has a unique identifier in a series of unique identifiers which the issuer gives to policies issued by it.
- (9) For the purpose of applying this paragraph in the case of the individual in consequence of any of the events, an event relating to a policy (“policy A”) is treated as occurring before an event relating to another policy (“policy B”) if, in the issuer’s series of unique identifiers, policy A’s unique identifier comes before policy B’s unique identifier.

Protected policies

- A4 (1) This paragraph applies for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule.
- (2) A policy is “protected” if—
- (a) it is issued in respect of an insurance made before 21 March 2012, or
 - (b) it is issued in respect of an insurance made on or after 21 March 2012 where—
 - (i) it is a new policy in relation to an earlier policy,
 - (ii) it is issued in substitution for the earlier policy (and not on its maturity), and
 - (iii) the earlier policy is a protected policy (whether by virtue of paragraph (a) or this paragraph).
- (3) A policy which is protected ceases to be protected if it becomes a restricted relief qualifying policy.
- (4) A policy issued as mentioned in sub-paragraph (2)(b) is not protected if—
- (a) its issue is an event falling within paragraph A2(3) above, and
 - (b) after that event it is a restricted relief qualifying policy.

How to determine if an individual is a beneficiary under a policy

- A5 (1) This paragraph applies for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule in determining if an individual is a beneficiary under a policy.
- (2) An individual is a beneficiary under a policy if the individual beneficially owns—
- (a) any rights under the policy, or
 - (b) any share in any rights under the policy.
- (3) An individual is a beneficiary under a policy if—
- (a) any rights under the policy are, or any share in any rights under the policy is, held on non-charitable trusts created by the individual, and
 - (b) those rights are, or that share is, not beneficially owned by any individual.
- (4) The following provisions of ITTOIA 2005 apply for the purposes of sub-paragraph (3)(a)—
- (a) section 465(6), and
 - (b) the definition of “non-charitable trust” in section 545(1).

- (5) An individual is a beneficiary under a policy if—
- (a) any rights under the policy are, or any share in any rights under the policy is, held as security for a debt of the individual, and
 - (b) those rights are, or that share is, not beneficially owned by any individual.

Further definitions

- A6 (1) In this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) “new policy” has the meaning given in paragraph 17 below,
 - (b) references to the variation of a policy are to a variation in relation to which paragraph 18 below applies,
 - (c) “pure protection policy” means a policy—
 - (i) which has no surrender value and is not capable of acquiring a surrender value, or
 - (ii) under which the benefits payable cannot exceed the amount of the premiums paid except on death or in respect of disability, and
 - (d) “relevant option”, in relation to a policy, means an option conferred by the policy on the person to whom it is issued to have another policy substituted for it or to have any of its terms changed.
- (2) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule a “deceased beneficiary event” occurs if, in connection with the death of an individual (“D”) who was a beneficiary under a policy, an individual (“B”) becomes a beneficiary under that policy by reference (wholly or partly) to any rights, or to any share in any rights, by reference to which D was a beneficiary (wholly or partly).
- For this purpose, it does not matter if B is already a beneficiary under the policy.
- (3) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule an assignment is a “mortgage endowment assignment” if—
- (a) the policy to which the assignment relates secures a capital sum payable either—
 - (i) on survival for a specified term, or
 - (ii) on earlier death or on earlier death or disability,
 - (b) the policy is issued and maintained for the sole purpose of ensuring that the borrower under an interest-only mortgage will have sufficient funds to repay the principal lent under the mortgage, and
 - (c) when the assignment occurs, it is intended that the policy will continue to be maintained for that sole purpose.]

PART I

QUALIFYING CONDITIONS

VALID FROM 17/07/2013

[^{F4064}RULES FOR QUALIFYING POLICIES

Textual Amendments

F4064Sch. 15 paras. B1-B3, cross-headings and preceding heading inserted (17.7.2013) by Finance Act 2013 (c. 29), Sch. 9 para. 3

Rights to be beneficially owned by individuals only

- B1 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies in relation to a policy issued in respect of an insurance made on or after 6 April 2013.
- (2) In order for the policy to be a qualifying policy, when it is issued all the rights under it must be beneficially owned by (and only by)—
- (a) one individual, or
 - (b) two or more individuals taken together.
- (This is the case notwithstanding any other provision of this Schedule.)
- (3) Sub-paragraph (2) does not apply if the policy is protected.
- (4) A policy is “protected” if it is a new policy (as defined in paragraph 17 below) in relation to—
- (a) a policy issued in respect of an insurance made before 21 March 2012, or
 - (b) a policy which is protected (whether by virtue of paragraph (a) or this paragraph).

Assignments

- B2 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies if any rights under a qualifying policy are, or any share in any rights under a qualifying policy is, assigned on or after 6 April 2013.
- (2) The policy is not to be a qualifying policy after the assignment (notwithstanding any other provision of this Schedule).
- (3) Sub-paragraph (2) does not apply if—
- (a) the assignment is from an individual by way of security for a debt of the individual,
 - (b) the assignment is to an individual on the discharge of a debt of the individual secured by the rights or share,
 - (c) the assignment is from an individual to the individual's spouse or civil partner,
 - (d) the assignment is to an individual in pursuance of an order made by a court,
 - (e) the assignment is to an individual in pursuance of a legally enforceable obligation relating to a divorce or the dissolution of a civil partnership,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (f) the assignment is from an individual and, as a result of the assignment, the rights assigned are, or the share assigned is, held on trusts created by the individual,
 - (g) the assignment is to an individual and, as a result of the assignment, the rights assigned are, or the share assigned is, no longer held on trusts, or
 - (h) the assignment—
 - (i) is to the personal representatives of a deceased individual, or
 - (ii) is to an individual where, as a result of the assignment, a deceased beneficiary event (see paragraph A6(2) above) occurs.
- (4) Section 465(6) of ITTOIA 2005 applies for the purposes of sub-paragraph (3)(f).
- (5) The Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs may by regulations provide that sub-paragraph (2) does not apply if prescribed conditions are met in relation to the assignment.
- “Prescribed” means prescribed by the regulations.
- (6) Regulations under sub-paragraph (5) may—
 - (a) make different provision for different cases or circumstances, and
 - (b) contain incidental, supplementary, consequential, transitional, transitory or saving provision.
- (7) See paragraphs A1 and A2 above which may apply in consequence of an assignment falling within sub-paragraph (3) or (5).

Required statements

- B3 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) applies if any of the following events occurs—
- (a) the issue of a policy in respect of an insurance made on or after 6 April 2013;
 - (b) the variation of a policy on or after 6 April 2013 where paragraph 18 below applies in relation to the variation and as a result of the variation—
 - (i) the period over which premiums are payable under the policy is or could be lengthened, or
 - (ii) the total amount of the premiums payable under the policy in any relevant period is or could be increased,or both;
 - (c) a premium limit event in relation to a protected policy on or after 6 April 2013 (see paragraph A2(9) to (12) above);
 - (d) an event on or after 6 April 2013 which would be a premium limit event in relation to a protected policy but for paragraph A2(12) above;
 - (e) the assignment on or after 6 April 2013 of any rights, or any share in any rights, under a policy where the assignment falls within paragraph B2(3) (c) to (g) or (5) above;
 - (f) a deceased beneficiary event (see paragraph A6(2) above) on or after 6 April 2013;
 - (g) the conditions in paragraph 24(3) below being fulfilled for the first time in respect of a new non-resident policy where—
 - (i) the conditions are fulfilled for the first time on or after 6 April 2013, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(ii) but for the conditions being fulfilled, the policy could not be a qualifying policy because of paragraph 24(2).

(2) Each individual who is a beneficiary under the policy must, before the end of the statement period, make to the issuer of the policy a statement dealing with the prescribed matters.

(3) If an individual does not comply with sub-paragraph (2) the policy is not to be a qualifying policy after the event (notwithstanding any other provision of this Schedule).

(4) In sub-paragraph (1)(b)(ii) “relevant period” means any period of 12 months beginning at or after the time of the variation.

(5) Sub-paragraph (2)—

- (a) does not apply in the case of an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(a), (e), (f) or (g) if the policy is a pure protection policy, and
- (b) does not apply in the case of an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(b), (c) or (d) if the policy is a pure protection policy both before and after the event.

“Pure protection policy” has the meaning given by paragraph A6(1)(c) above.

(6) Sub-paragraph (2) does not apply in the case of an event mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(e) where the assignment falls within paragraph B2(3)(e) above and is a mortgage endowment assignment.

“Mortgage endowment assignment” is to be read in accordance with paragraph A6(3) above.

(7) The Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs may by regulations provide that an individual is not required to comply with sub-paragraph (2) if prescribed conditions are met.

“Prescribed” means prescribed by the regulations.

(8) Accordingly, if by virtue of regulations under sub-paragraph (7) an individual is not required to comply with sub-paragraph (2), sub-paragraph (3) does not apply because that individual does not comply with sub-paragraph (2).

(9) In sub-paragraph (2)—

- (a) the reference to an individual who is a beneficiary under the policy is to be read in accordance with paragraph A5 above,
- (b) “the statement period” means—
 - (i) the period of 3 months after the day on which the event occurs, or
 - (ii) if the event occurs before the day on which the first regulations under paragraph (c) below come into force, the period of 3 months after that day, or such longer period as an officer of Revenue and Customs may allow, and
- (c) “prescribed” means prescribed by regulations made by the Commissioners for Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs.

(10) An officer of Revenue and Customs may allow a longer period for the purposes of sub-paragraph (9)(b) only if—

- (a) the individual in question has made a request in writing to an officer of Revenue and Customs for a longer period to be allowed, and
 - (b) such an officer is satisfied—
 - (i) that there is a reasonable excuse for the required statement not having been made within the period mentioned in sub-paragraph (9)(b)(i) or (ii), and
 - (ii) that the request under paragraph (a) was made without unreasonable delay after the reasonable excuse ceased.
- (11) Sub-paragraph (12) applies in relation to a policy if the obligations under the policy of its issuer are at any time the obligations of another person (“the transferee”) to whom there has been a transfer of the whole or any part of a business previously carried on by the issuer.
- (12) In relation to that time, in sub-paragraph (2) the reference to the issuer of the policy is to be read as a reference to the transferee.
- (13) Regulations under sub-paragraph (7) or (9)(c) may—
- (a) make different provision for different cases or circumstances, and
 - (b) contain incidental, supplementary, consequential, transitional, transitory or saving provision.]

GENERAL RULES APPLICABLE TO WHOLE LIFE AND TERM ASSURANCES

- 1 (1) ^{M1707} Subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Schedule, if a policy secures a capital sum which is payable only on death, or one payable either on death or on earlier disability, it is a qualifying policy if—
- (a) it satisfies the conditions appropriate to it under sub-paragraphs (2) to (5) below, and
 - (b) except to the extent permitted by sub-paragraph (7) below, it does not secure any other benefits.
- (2) If the capital sum referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above is payable whenever the event in question happens, or if it happens at any time during the life of a specified person—
- (a) the premiums under the policy must be payable at yearly or shorter intervals, and either—
 - (i) until the happening of the event or, as the case may require, until the happening of the event or the earlier death of the specified person, or
 - (ii) until the time referred to in sub-paragraph (i) above or the earlier expiry of a specified period ending not earlier than ten years after the making of the insurance; and
 - (b) the total premiums payable in any period of 12 months must not exceed—
 - (i) twice the amount of the total premiums payable in any other such period, or
 - (ii) one-eighth of the total premiums which would be payable if the policy were to continue in force for a period of ten years from the making of the insurance, or, in a case falling within sub-paragraph (ii) of paragraph (a) above, until the end of the period referred to in that sub-paragraph.
- (3) If the capital sum referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above is payable only if the event in question happens before the expiry of a specified term ending more than ten years after the making of the insurance, or only if it happens both before the expiry of such a term and during the life of a specified person—

- (a) the premiums under the policy must be payable at yearly or shorter intervals, and either—
 - (i) until the happening of the event or the earlier expiry of that term or, as the case may require, until the happening of the event or, if earlier, the expiry of the term or the death of the specified person, or
 - (ii) as in sub-paragraph (i) above, but with the substitution for references to the term of references to a specified shorter period being one ending not earlier than ten years after the making of the insurance or, if sooner, the expiry of three-quarters of that term; and
- (b) the total premiums payable in any period of 12 months must not exceed—
 - (i) twice the amount of the total premiums payable in any other such period, or
 - (ii) one-eighth of the total premiums which would be payable if the policy were to continue in force for the term referred to in sub-paragraph (i) of paragraph (a) above, or, as the case may require, for the shorter period referred to in sub-paragraph (ii) of that paragraph.

(4) If the capital sum referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above is payable only if the event in question happens before the expiry of a specified term ending not more than ten years after the making of the insurance, or only if it happens both before the expiry of such a term and during the life of a specified person, the policy must provide that any payment made by reason of its surrender during the period is not to exceed the total premiums previously paid under the policy.

(5) Except where—

- (a) the capital sum referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above is payable only in the circumstances mentioned in sub-paragraph (3) or (4) above; and
- (b) the policy does not provide for any payment on the surrender in whole or in part of the rights conferred by it; and
- (c) the specified term mentioned in sub-paragraph (3) or, as the case may be, (4) above ends at or before the time when the person whose life is insured attains the age of 75 years;

the capital sum, so far as payable on death, must not be less than 75 per cent. of the total premiums that would be payable if the death occurred at the age of 75 years, the age being, if the sum is payable on the death of the first to die of two persons, that of the older of them, if on the death of the survivor of them, that of the younger of them, and in any other case, that of the person on whose death it is payable; and if the policy does not secure a capital sum in the event of death occurring before the age of 16 or some lower age, it must not provide for the payment in that event of an amount exceeding the total premiums previously paid under it.

(6)^{M1708} In determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above whether a capital sum is less than 75 per cent. of the total premiums, any amount included in the premiums by reason of their being payable otherwise than annually shall be disregarded, [^{F4065}and if the policy provides for payment otherwise than annually without providing for the amount of the premiums if they are paid annually,] 10 per cent. of the premiums payable under the policy shall be treated as so included.

(7)^{M1709} Notwithstanding sub-paragraph (1)(b) above, if a policy secures a capital sum payable only on death, it may also secure benefits (including benefits of a capital nature) to be provided in the event of a person's disability; and no policy is to be regarded for the purposes of that provision as securing other benefits by reason only of the fact that—

- (a) it confers a right to participate in profits, or
- (b) it provides for a payment on the surrender in whole or in part of the rights conferred by the policy, or
- (c) it gives an option to receive payments by way of annuity, or
- (d) it makes provision for the waiver of premiums by reason of a person's disability, or for the effecting of a further insurance or insurances without the production of evidence of insurability.

(8) In applying sub-paragraph (2) or (3) above to any policy—

- (a) no account shall be taken of any provision for the waiver of premiums by reason of a person's disability, and
- (b) if the term of the policy runs from a date earlier, but not more than three months earlier, than the making of the insurance, the insurance shall be treated as having been made on that date, and any premium paid in respect of the period before the making of the insurance, or in respect of that period and a subsequent period, as having been payable on that date.

(9) References in this paragraph to a capital sum payable on any event include references to any capital sum, or series of capital sums, payable by reason of that event but where what is so payable is either an amount consisting of one sum or an amount made up of two or more sums, the 75 per cent. mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) above shall be compared with the smaller or smallest amount so payable; and a policy secures a capital sum payable either on death or on disability notwithstanding that the amount payable may vary with the event.

(10) ^{M1710} In relation to any policy issued in respect of an insurance made before 1st April 1976 this paragraph shall have effect—

- (a) with the omission of sub-paragraphs (5) and (6) and in sub-paragraph (9) the words “but where what is so payable is either an amount consisting of one sum or an amount made up of two or more sums, the 75 per cent. mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) above shall be compared with the smaller or smallest amount so payable”; and
- (b) with the substitution, for sub-paragraph (7)(b), of—
“(b) it carries a guaranteed surrender value;”.

GENERAL RULES APPLICABLE TO ENDOWMENT ASSURANCES

- 2 (1) ^{M1711} Subject to the following provisions of this Part of this Schedule, a policy which secures a capital sum payable either on survival for a specified term or on earlier death, or earlier death or disability, including a policy securing the sum on death only if occurring after the attainment of a specified age not exceeding 16, is a qualifying policy if it satisfies the following conditions—
- (a) the term must be one ending not earlier than ten years after the making of the insurance;
 - (b) premiums must be payable under the policy at yearly or shorter intervals, and—
 - (i) until the happening of the event in question; or
 - (ii) until the happening of that event, or the earlier expiry of a specified period shorter than the term but also ending not earlier than ten years after the making of the insurance; or
 - (iii) if the policy is to lapse on the death of a specified person, until one of those times or the policy's earlier lapse;
 - (c) the total premiums payable under the policy in any period of 12 months must not exceed—
 - (i) twice the amount of the total premiums payable in any other such period, or
 - (ii) one-eighth of the total premiums which would be payable if the policy were to run for the specified term;
 - (d) the policy—
 - (i) must guarantee that the capital sum payable on death, or on death occurring after the attainment of a specified age not exceeding 16, will, whenever that event may happen, be equal to 75 per cent. at least of the total premiums which would be payable if the policy were to run for that term, disregarding any amounts included in those premiums by reason of their being payable otherwise than annually, except that if, at the beginning of that term, the age of the person concerned exceeds 55 years, the capital sum so guaranteed may, for each year of the excess, be less by 2 per cent. of that total than 75 per cent. thereof, the person concerned being, if the capital sum is payable on the death of the first to die of two persons, the older of them, if on the death of the survivor of them, the younger of them and in any other case the person on whose death it is payable; and
 - (ii) if it is a policy which does not secure a capital sum in the event of death before the attainment of a specified age not exceeding 16, must not provide for the payment in that event of an amount exceeding the total premiums previously paid thereunder; and
 - (e) the policy must not secure the provision (except by surrender in whole or in part of the rights conferred by the policy) at any time before the happening of the event in question of any benefit of a capital nature other than a payment falling within paragraph (d)(ii) above, or benefits attributable to a right to participate in profits or arising by reason of a person's disability.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(d)(i) above, 10 per cent. of the premiums payable under any policy [^{F4066}that provides for the payment of premiums otherwise than annually without providing for the amount of the premiums if they are paid annually,] shall be treated as attributable to the fact that they are not paid annually.

SPECIAL TYPES OF POLICY

(i) Friendly Society policies

- 3 (1) ^{M1713} Paragraphs 1 and 2 above do not apply to a policy issued by a [^{F4067}friendly society] in the course of tax exempt life or endowment business in respect of an insurance made or varied on or after 19th March 1985, but such a policy shall not be a qualifying policy unless—
 - (a) in the case of a policy for the assurance of a gross sum or annuity, the conditions in sub-paragraph (2) are fulfilled with respect to it; and
 - (b) in the case of a policy for the assurance of a gross sum, the conditions in sub-paragraphs (5) to (11) below are fulfilled with respect to it; ^{F4068} . . .
 - ^{F4068}(c)
- (2) The conditions referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above are as follows—
 - (a) subject to sub-paragraph (3) below, the period (the “term” of the policy) between—
 - (i) the making of the insurance or, where the contract provides for the term to begin on a date not more than three months earlier than the making of the insurance, that date, and
 - (ii) the time when the gross sum assured is payable (or, as the case may be, when the first instalment of the annuity is payable),shall be not less than ten years, and must not, on any contingency other than the death, or retirement on grounds of ill health, of the person liable to pay the premiums or whose life is insured, become less than ten years;
 - (b) subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, the premiums payable under the policy shall be premiums of equal or rateable amounts payable at yearly or shorter intervals over the whole term of the policy of assurance, or over the whole term of the policy of assurance apart from any period after the person liable to pay the premiums or whose life is insured attains a specified age, being an age which he will attain at a time not less than ten years after the beginning of the term of the policy of assurance;

^{F4069}(c)

(3) Notwithstanding sub-paragraph (2)(a) above, the policy—

- (a) may provide for a payment to a person of an age not exceeding 18 years at any time not less than five years from the beginning of the term of the policy if the premium or premiums payable in any period of 12 months in the term of the policy do not exceed £13;
- (b) may provide for a payment at any time not less than five years from the beginning of the term of the policy, if it is one of a series of payments falling due at intervals of not less than five years, and the amount of any payment, other than the final payment, does not exceed four-fifths of the premiums paid in the interval before its payment.

For the purposes of paragraph (a) above, if the term begins on a date earlier than the making of the insurance, any premium paid in respect of a period before the making of the insurance, or in respect of that period and a subsequent period, shall be treated as having been payable on that date.

(4) Notwithstanding sub-paragraph (2)(b) above, the policy—

- (a) may allow a payment at any time after the expiration of one-half of the term of the policy of assurance, or of ten years from the beginning of the term, whichever is the earlier, being a payment in commutation of the liability to pay premiums falling due after that time;
- (b) may allow the person liable to pay the premiums to commute any liability for premiums where he ceases to reside in the United Kingdom or gives satisfactory proof of intention to emigrate;
- (c) may allow any liability for premiums to be discharged in consideration of surrendering a sum which has become payable on the maturity of any other policy of assurance issued by the same friendly society [^{F4070}(or any predecessor of it)] to the person liable to pay the premiums, or to his parent, where that other policy of assurance is issued as part of the friendly society's tax exempt life or endowment business; and
- (d) may make provision for the waiver of premiums by reason of a person's disability.

[^{F4071}(4A) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (2) and (4) above—

- (a) a friendly society formed on the amalgamation of two or more friendly societies is the successor of each of those societies (and each of those societies was a predecessor of the society so formed), and
- (b) an incorporated friendly society that was a registered friendly society before its incorporation is the successor of the registered friendly society (and the registered friendly society was the predecessor of the incorporated friendly society).]

(5) Where the policy secures a capital sum which is payable only on death or only on death occurring after the attainment of a specified age not exceeding 16, that capital sum must be not less than 75 per cent. of the total premiums which would be payable if the death of the relevant beneficiary occurred at the age of 75.

- (6) Where the policy secures a capital sum which is payable only on survival for a specified term, that capital sum must be not less than 75 per cent. of the total premiums which would be payable if the policy were to run for that term.
- (7) Where the policy secures a capital sum which is payable on survival for a specified term or on earlier death, or on earlier death or disability (including a policy securing the sum on death only if occurring after the attainment of a specified age not exceeding 16), the capital sum payable on death, whenever that event occurs, must be not less than 75 per cent. of the total premiums which would be payable if the policy were to run for that term, except that if, at the beginning of that term, the age of the relevant beneficiary exceeds 55, that capital sum may, for each year of the excess, be less by 2 per cent. of that total than 75 per cent. thereof.
- (8) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (5) to (7) above—
 - (a) “the relevant beneficiary” means—
 - (i) if the capital sum concerned is payable on the death of the first to die of two persons, the older of them;
 - (ii) if that capital sum is payable on the death of the survivor of two persons, the younger of them; and
 - (iii) in any other case, the person on whose death that capital sum is payable; and
 - (b) in determining the total premiums payable in any circumstances—
 - (i) where those premiums are payable otherwise than annually, and the policy is issued by a new society, there shall be disregarded an amount equal to 10 per cent. of those premiums;
 - (ii) where the policy is issued by a society other than a new society, there shall be disregarded an amount equal to £10 for each year for which account is taken of those premiums [^{F4072}or, where those premiums are payable otherwise than annually, an amount equal to 10 per cent. of those premiums if that is greater]; ^{F4073} . . .
 - (iii) ^{F4073}
 - (c) ^{F4073}
- (9) If the policy does not secure a capital sum in the event of death occurring before the age of 16 or some lower age, it must not provide for the payment in that event of an amount exceeding the total premiums previously paid under it.
- (10) References in this paragraph to a capital sum payable on any event include references to a capital sum or series of capital sums payable by reason of that event, but where what is so payable is either an amount consisting of one sum or an amount made up of two or more sums, any reference in sub-paragraphs (5) to (7) above to 75 per cent. of the total premiums payable in any circumstances shall be compared with the smaller or smallest amount so payable; and for the purposes of those sub-paragraphs a policy secures a capital sum payable either on death or on disability notwithstanding that the amount may vary with the event.
- (11) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (5) to (7) and (10) above, in the case of a policy which provides for any such payments as are referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above (“interim payments”), the amount of the capital sum which is payable on any event shall be taken to be increased—

- (2) The rules (for the purposes of which, the question whether the old policy was a qualifying policy shall be determined in accordance with this Part of this Schedule, whatever the date of the insurance in respect of which it was issued), are as follows—
- (a) if the new policy would apart from this paragraph be a qualifying policy but the old policy was [^{F4080}not,] the new policy is not a qualifying policy unless the person making the insurance in respect of which it is issued was an infant when the old policy was issued, and the old policy was one securing a capital sum payable either on a specified date falling not later than one month after his attaining 25 or on the anniversary of the policy immediately following his attainment of that age;
 - (b) if the new policy would apart from this paragraph be a qualifying policy, and the old policy was also a qualifying policy, the new policy is a qualifying policy unless—
 - (i) it takes effect before the expiry of ten years from the making of the insurance in respect of which the old policy was issued, and
 - (ii) subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, the highest total of premiums payable thereunder for any period of 12 months expiring before that time is less than one half of the highest total paid for any period of 12 months under the old policy, or under any related policy issued less than ten years before the issue of the new policy (“related policy” meaning any policy in relation to which the old policy was a new policy within the meaning of this paragraph, any policy in relation to which that policy was such a policy, and so on);
 - (c) if the new policy would not apart from this paragraph be a qualifying policy, and would fail to be so by reason only of paragraph 1(2) or (3) or 2(1)(a), (b) or (c) above, it is nevertheless a qualifying policy if the old policy was a qualifying policy and—
 - (i) the old policy was issued in respect of an insurance made more than ten years before the taking effect of the new policy, and, subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, the premiums payable for any period of 12 months under the new policy do not exceed the smallest total paid for any such period under the old policy; or

- (a) sections 268 to 270 and 540 and 541; and
- (b) any second or subsequent application of this paragraph;

the later policy and the earlier policy shall be treated as a single policy issued in respect of an insurance made at the time of the making of the insurance in respect of which the earlier policy was issued; and, accordingly, so long as the later policy continues to be a qualifying policy, the single policy shall also be treated as a qualifying policy for those purposes.

- (2) Sub-paragraph (1) above does not apply unless—

- (a) any sum which would otherwise become payable by the insurer on or in connection with the coming to an end of the earlier policy is retained by the insurer and applied in the discharge of some or all of the liability for any premium becoming due under the later policy; and
- (b) no consideration in money or money’s worth (other than the benefits for which provision is made by the later policy) is receivable by any person on or in connection with the coming to an end of the earlier policy or the coming into existence of the later policy.

^{F4085}(viii) Policy reinstated after non-payment of premium

Textual Amendments

F4085Sch. 15 para. 20ZA and preceding cross-heading inserted (1.4.2011 with effect in accordance with art. 15(2) of the amending S.I.) by The Enactment of Extra-Statutory Concessions Order 2011 (S.I. 2011/1037), arts. 1, 15(1)

20ZA (1) This paragraph applies to a qualifying policy (“the original policy”) if conditions A to D are satisfied.

- (2) Condition A is that one or more premiums due under the original policy are not paid on or before the date on which they become due.
- (3) Condition B is that the original policy, in accordance with its terms, is treated as having lapsed or is converted into a paid-up policy—
 - (a) by reason only of the failure to pay that premium or those premiums, and
 - (b) within the period of 12 months beginning with the day following the day on which the earliest unpaid premium becomes due.
- (4) Condition C is that the original policy—
 - (a) is reinstated on the same terms, or
 - (b) is replaced by another policy in the same terms (“the replacement policy”), on or before the thirtieth day after the first anniversary of the day following the day on which the earliest unpaid premium becomes due.
- (5) Condition D is that all unpaid premiums due under the original policy are paid on or before the date on which the policy is reinstated or replaced.
- (6) Where condition C is satisfied by virtue of sub-paragraph (4)(b) the replacement policy is to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as if it were the original policy.
- (7) The policy is to be treated for the purposes of this Schedule as if the premiums payable under it had been paid on their due dates.]

Treasury specifications

- 4 (1) The requirements which may be specified under section 326(3)(b), (4)(b) or (5)(b) are such requirements as the Treasury think fit.
- (2) In particular, the requirements may relate to—
- (a) the descriptions of individuals who may enter into contracts under a scheme;
 - (b) the contributions to be paid by individuals;
 - (c) the sums to be paid or repaid to individuals.
- (3) The requirements which may be specified under any of the relevant provisions may be different from those specified under any of the other relevant provisions; and the relevant provisions are section 326(3)(b), (4)(b) and (5)(b).
- 5 (1) Where a specification has been made under section 326(3)(b), (4)(b) or (5)(b) the Treasury may—
- (a) withdraw the specification and any certification made by reference to the specification, and
 - (b) stipulate the date on which the withdrawal is to become effective.
- (2) No withdrawal under this paragraph shall affect—
- (a) the operation of the scheme before the stipulated date, or
 - (b) any contract entered into before that date.
- (3) No withdrawal under this paragraph shall be effective unless the Treasury—
- (a) send a notice by post to each relevant body informing it of the withdrawal, and
 - (b) do so not less than 28 days before the stipulated date;
- and a relevant body is a society or institution authorised (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met) to enter into contracts under the scheme concerned.
- 6 (1) Where a specification has been made under section 326(3)(b), (4)(b) or (5)(b) the Treasury may—
- (a) vary the specification,
 - (b) withdraw any certification made by reference to the specification obtaining before the variation, and
 - (c) stipulate the date on which the variation and withdrawal are to become effective; and the Treasury may at any time certify a scheme as fulfilling the requirements obtaining after the variation.

- (2) No variation and withdrawal under this paragraph shall affect—
 - (a) the operation of the scheme before the stipulated date, or
 - (b) any contract entered into before that date.
- (3) No variation and withdrawal under this paragraph shall be effective unless the Treasury—
 - (a) send a notice by post to each relevant body informing it of the variation and withdrawal, and
 - (b) do so not less than 28 days before the stipulated date;and a relevant body is a society or institution authorised (whether unconditionally or subject to conditions being met) to enter into contracts under the scheme concerned.

Treasury authorisation

- 7 (1) The Treasury may authorise a society or institution under section 326(7) or (8) as regards schemes generally or as regards a particular scheme or particular schemes.
 - (2) More than one authorisation may be given to the same society or institution.
- 8 (1) Where an authorisation has been given under section 326(7) or (8) the Treasury may withdraw the authorisation and stipulate the date on which the withdrawal is to become effective; and the withdrawal shall have effect as regards any contract not entered into before the stipulated date.
 - (2) No withdrawal under this paragraph shall be effective unless the Treasury—
 - (a) send a notice by post to the society or institution concerned informing it of the withdrawal, and
 - (b) do so not less than 28 days before the stipulated date.
 - (3) A withdrawal of an authorisation shall not affect the Treasury's power to give another authorisation or other authorisations.
- 9 (1) Where an authorisation has been given under section 326(7) the Treasury may—
 - (a) stipulate that the authorisation is to be varied by being treated as given subject to specified conditions being met, and
 - (b) stipulate the date on which the variation is to become effective.
 - (2) As regards any contract entered into on or after the stipulated date the authorisation shall be treated as having been given under section 326(8) subject to the conditions being met.
 - (3) No variation under this paragraph shall be effective unless the Treasury—
 - (a) send a notice by post to the society or institution concerned informing it of the variation, and

PART I

RELIEF ON INVESTMENT

Entitlement to claim relief

- 1
- (1) Subject to the following provisions of this Schedule, an individual shall, for any year of assessment, be entitled under this Part of this Schedule to claim relief in respect of an amount equal to the aggregate of the amounts (if any) which, by reference to eligible shares issued to him by venture capital trusts in the course of that year, are amounts on which he is eligible for relief in accordance with sub-paragraph (2) below.
 - (2) The amounts on which an individual shall be taken for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above to be eligible for relief shall be any amounts subscribed by him on his own behalf for eligible shares issued by a venture capital trust for raising money.
 - (3) An individual shall not be entitled under this Part of this Schedule to claim relief for any given year of assessment in respect of an amount of more than £100,000.
 - (4) An individual shall not be entitled under this Schedule to claim any relief to which he is eligible by reference to any shares unless he had attained the age of eighteen years before those shares were issued.
 - (5) Where an individual makes a claim for any relief to which he is entitled under this Part of this Schedule for any year of assessment, the amount of his liability for that year to income tax on his total income shall be equal to the amount to which he would be so liable apart from this Part of this Schedule less whichever is the smaller of—
 - (a) an amount equal to tax at the lower rate for that year on the amount in respect of which he is entitled to claim relief for that year, and
 - (b) the amount which reduces his liability to nil.
 - (6) In determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above the amount of income tax to which a person would be liable apart from this Part of this Schedule, no account shall be taken of—
 - (a) any income tax reduction under section 289A,
 - (b) any income tax reduction under Chapter I of Part VII or under section 347B,
 - (c) any income tax reduction under section 353(1A),
 - (d) any income tax reduction under section 54(3A) of the ^{M1742}Finance Act 1989,
 - (e) any relief by way of a reduction of liability to tax which is given in accordance with any arrangements having effect by virtue of section 788 or by way of a credit under section 790(1), or
 - (f) any tax at the basic rate on so much of that person's income as is income the income tax on which he is entitled to charge against any other person or to deduct, retain or satisfy out of any payment.
 - (7) Where, in the case of any claim for relief under this Part of this Schedule in respect of any shares issued in any year of assessment, effect is given to the claim by repayment of tax, section 824 shall have effect in relation to the repayment as if the time from which the twelve months mentioned in subsections (1)(a) and (3)(a) of that section are to be calculated were the end of the year of assessment in which the shares were issued.

- (8) A person shall not be entitled to be given any relief under this Part of this Schedule by reference to any shares if circumstances have arisen which would have resulted, had that relief already been given, in the withdrawal or reduction of the relief.
- (9) A person shall not under this Part of this Schedule be eligible for any relief on any amount by reference to any shares unless the shares are both subscribed for and issued for bona fide commercial purposes and not as part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose of which, or one of the main purposes of which, is the avoidance of tax.

Loan-linked investments

- 2 (1) An individual shall not be entitled to relief under this Part of this Schedule in respect of any shares if—
- (a) there is a loan made by any person, at any time in the relevant period, to that individual or any associate of his; and
 - (b) the loan is one which would not have been made, or would not have been made on the same terms, if that individual had not subscribed for those shares or had not been proposing to do so.
- (2) References in this paragraph to the making by any person of a loan to any individual or an associate of his include references—
- (a) to the giving by that person of any credit to that individual or any associate of his; and
 - (b) to the assignment or assignment to that person of any debt due from that individual or any associate of his.
- (3) In this paragraph—
- “associate” has the meaning given in subsections (3) and (4) of section 417, except that in those subsections (as applied for the purposes of this paragraph) “relative” shall not include a brother or sister; and
- “the relevant period”, in relation to relief under this Part of this Schedule in respect of any shares in a company which is a venture capital trust, means the period beginning with the incorporation of the company (or, if the company was incorporated more than two years before the date on which the shares were issued, beginning two years before that date) and [^{F4097}ending immediately before the third anniversary of the date on which the shares were issued].

Loss of investment relief

- 3 (1) This paragraph applies, subject to sub-paragraph (5) below, where—
- (a) an individual who has made any claim for relief under this Part of this Schedule makes any disposal of eligible shares in a venture capital trust, and
 - (b) that disposal takes place before the end of the period of [^{F4098}three years beginning with the date on which those shares were issued to that individual].
- (2) If the disposal is made otherwise than by way of a bargain made at arm's length, any relief given under this Part of this Schedule by reference to the shares which are disposed of shall be withdrawn.
- (3) Where the disposal was made by way of a bargain made at arm's length—
- (a) if, apart from this sub-paragraph, the relief given by reference to the shares that are disposed of is greater than the amount mentioned in sub-paragraph (4) below, it shall be reduced by that amount, and
 - (b) if paragraph (a) above does not apply, any relief given by reference to those shares shall be withdrawn.
- (4) The amount referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above is an amount equal to tax at the lower rate for the year of assessment for which the relief was given on the amount or value of the consideration which the individual receives for the shares.
- (5) This paragraph shall not apply in the case of any disposal of shares which is made by a married man to his wife or by a married woman to her husband if it is made, in either case, at a time when they are living together.
- (6) Where any eligible shares issued to any individual (“the transferor”), being shares by reference to which any amount of relief under this Part of this Schedule has been given, are transferred to the transferor's spouse (“the transferee”) by a disposal such as is mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) above, this paragraph shall have effect, in relation to any subsequent disposal or other event, as if—
- (a) the transferee were the person who had subscribed for the shares,
 - (b) the shares had been issued to the transferee at the time when they were issued to the transferor,
 - (c) there had been, in respect of the transferred shares, such a reduction under this Part of this Schedule in the transferee's liability to income tax as is equal to the actual reduction in respect of those shares of the transferor's liability, and
 - (d) that deemed reduction were (notwithstanding the transfer) to be treated for the purposes of this paragraph as an amount of relief given by reference to the shares transferred.
- (7) Any assessment for withdrawing or reducing relief by reason of a disposal or other event falling within sub-paragraph (6) above shall be made on the transferee.
- (8) In determining for the purposes of this paragraph any question whether any disposal relates to shares by reference to which any relief under this Part of this Schedule has been given, it shall be assumed, in relation to any disposal by any person of any eligible shares in a venture capital trust, that—
- (a) as between eligible shares acquired by the same person on different days, those acquired on an earlier day are disposed of by that person before those acquired on a later day; and

- (b) as between eligible shares acquired by the same person on the same day, those by reference to which relief under this Part of this Schedule has been given are disposed of by that person only after he has disposed of any other eligible shares acquired by him on that day.
- (9) Where—
- (a) the approval of any company as a venture capital trust is withdrawn, and
- (b) the withdrawal of the approval is not one to which section 842AA(8) applies,
- any person who, at the time when the withdrawal takes effect, is holding any shares by reference to which relief under this Part of this Schedule has been given shall be deemed for the purposes of this paragraph to have disposed of those shares immediately before that time and otherwise than by way of a bargain made at arm's length.

RELIEF ON DISTRIBUTIONS

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1014Sch. 15B Pt. 2 applied (1.5.1995) by Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992 (c. 12), s. 151A(6) (as inserted by Finance Act 1995 (c. 4), s. 72(3))

- 7 (1) A relevant distribution of a venture capital trust shall not be regarded as income for any income tax purposes if the person beneficially entitled to it is a qualifying investor.
- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph a person is a qualifying investor, in relation to any distribution, if he is an individual who has attained the age of eighteen years and is beneficially entitled to the distribution—
- (a) as the person who himself holds the shares in respect of which the distribution is made, or

- (b) as a person with such a beneficial entitlement to the shares as derives from their being held for him, or for his benefit, by a nominee of his.
- (3) In this paragraph “relevant distribution”, in relation to a company which is a venture capital trust, means any distribution which—
- (a) consists in a dividend (including a capital dividend) which is paid in respect of any ordinary shares in that company which—
- (i) were acquired by the person to whom the distribution is made at a time when the company was such a trust,
- [^{F4101}(ia) were so acquired for bona fide commercial purposes and not as part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose of which, or one of the main purposes of which, is the avoidance of tax,] and
- (ii) are not shares acquired in excess of the permitted maximum for any year of assessment;
- and
- (b) is not a dividend paid in respect of profits or gains arising or accruing in any accounting period ending at a time when the company was not such a trust.

Textual Amendments

F4101 Sch. 15B para. 7(3)(a)(ia) inserted (with effect in accordance with s. 70(2) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 1999 (c. 16), s. 70(1)

Meaning of “permitted maximum”

- 8 (1) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule shares in a venture capital trust shall be treated, in relation to any individual, as acquired in excess of the permitted maximum for any year of assessment to the extent that the value of the shares comprised in the relevant acquisitions of that individual for that year exceeds £100,000.
- (2) The reference in sub-paragraph (1) above to the relevant acquisitions of an individual for a year of assessment is a reference to all shares which—
- (a) are acquired in that year of assessment by that individual or any nominee of his;
- (b) are ordinary shares in a company which is a venture capital trust at the time of their acquisition; and
- (c) are shares so acquired for bona fide commercial purposes and not as part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose of which, or one of the main purposes of which, is the avoidance of tax.
- (3) Sub-paragraph (4) below applies where—
- (a) any ordinary shares in a venture capital trust (“the new shares”) are acquired by any individual in circumstances in which they are required for the purposes of the 1992 Act to be treated as the same assets as any other shares; and
- (b) the other shares consist of or include any ordinary shares in a venture capital trust that were, or are treated as, acquired otherwise than in excess of the permitted maximum for any year of assessment.
- (4) Where this sub-paragraph applies—

- (a) the value of the new shares shall be disregarded in determining whether any other shares acquired in the same year of assessment as the new shares are acquired in excess of the permitted maximum for that year; and
 - (b) the new shares or, as the case may be, an appropriate proportion of them shall be treated as themselves acquired otherwise than in excess of the permitted maximum.
- (5) For the purposes of this paragraph the value of any shares acquired by or on behalf of any individual shall be taken to be their market value (within the meaning of the 1992 Act) at the time of their acquisition.
- (6) Where any shares in a venture capital trust are acquired in excess of the permitted maximum for any year of assessment, the shares representing the excess shall be identified for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) by treating shares acquired later in the year as comprised in the excess before those acquired earlier in the year;
 - (b) by treating shares of different descriptions acquired on the same day as acquired within the permitted maximum in the same proportions as are borne by the respective values of the shares comprised in the acquisitions of each description to the total value of all the shares in the trust acquired on that day; and
 - (c) by applying the rules in section 151A(4) and (5) of the 1992 Act for determining the shares to which any disposal of shares in the trust relates (even one which is not a disposal for the purposes of that Act).

Interpretation of Part III

- 9 (1) In this Part of this Schedule “ordinary shares”, in relation to a company, means shares forming part of the company’s ordinary share capital.
- (2) In this Part of this Schedule “nominee”, in relation to any individual, includes the trustees of a bare trust of which that individual is the only beneficiary.

Interpretation

- 1 In this Schedule “relevant payment” means any payment to which section 350(4)(a) applies.

Duty to make returns

- 2 (1) A company shall for each of its accounting periods make, in accordance with this Schedule, returns to the collector of the relevant payments made by it in that period and of the income tax for which it is accountable in respect of those payments.
- (2) A return shall be made for—
- (a) each complete quarter falling within the accounting period, that is to say, each of the periods of three months ending with 31st March, 30th June, 30th September and 31st December which falls within that period;
 - (b) each part of the accounting period which is not a complete quarter and ends on the first (or only), or begins immediately after the last (or only), of those dates which falls within the accounting period;
 - (c) if none of those dates falls within the accounting period, the whole accounting period.
- (3) A return for any period for which a return is required to be made under this paragraph shall be made within 14 days from the end of that period.

Payment of tax

- 4 (1) ^{F4102} . . . Income tax in respect of any payment required to be included in a return under this Schedule shall be due at the time by which the return is to be made, and income tax so due—
- (a) shall be payable by the company without the making of any assessment; and
 - (b) may be assessed on the company (whether or not it has been paid when the assessment is made) if it, or any part of it, is not paid on or before the due date.
- (2) If it appears to [^{F4103}an officer of the Board] that there is a relevant payment which ought to have been and has not been included in a return, [^{F4104}or if an officer of the Board is of the opinion that a return is incorrect, any such officer may] make an assessment on the company to the best of his judgment; and any income tax due under an assessment made by virtue of this sub-paragraph shall be treated for the purposes of interest on unpaid tax as having been payable at the time when it would have been payable if a correct return had been made.

- 6 (1) Where a claim has been made under paragraph 5 above no proceedings for collecting tax which would fall to be discharged if the claim were allowed shall be instituted pending the final determination of the claim, but this sub-paragraph shall not affect the date when the tax is due.
- (2) When the claim is finally determined any tax underpaid in consequence of sub-paragraph (1) above shall be paid.
- (3) Where proceedings are instituted for collecting tax assessed, or interest on tax assessed, under any provision of paragraph 4 above, effect shall not be given to any claim made after the institution of the proceedings so as to affect or delay the collection or recovery of the tax charged by the assessment or of interest thereon, until the claim has been finally determined.
- (4) When the claim is finally determined any tax overpaid in consequence of sub-paragraph (3) above shall be repaid.
- (5) References in this paragraph to proceedings for the collection of tax include references to proceedings by way of distraint or pouding for tax.
- 7 Income tax set against other tax under paragraph 5 above shall be treated as paid or repaid, as the case may be, and the same tax shall not be taken into account both under this Schedule and under section 7(2).

Amended return where company becomes aware of an error

- 7A (1) If a company becomes aware—
- (a) that anything which ought to have been included in a return made by it under this Schedule for any period has not been so included,
 - (b) that anything which ought not to have been included in a return made by it under this Schedule for any period has been so included, or
 - (c) that any other error has occurred in a return made by it under this Schedule for any period,
- it shall forthwith supply to the collector an amended return for that period.
- (2) The duty imposed by sub-paragraph (1) above is without prejudice to any duty that may also arise under paragraph 7A of Schedule 13.
- (3) Where an amended return is supplied under this paragraph, all such assessments, adjustments, set-offs or payments or repayments of tax shall be made as may be required for securing that the resulting liabilities to tax (including interest on unpaid or overpaid tax) whether of the company or any other person are the same as they would have been if a correct return had been made.

Section 404.

M1744 DUAL RESIDENT INVESTING COMPANIES

Marginal Citations

M1744 Source—1987 (No.2) Sch.4

PART I

DIVISION OF ACCOUNTING PERIODS COVERING 1ST APRIL 1987

- 1 (1) This Part of this Schedule has effect in the circumstances set out in section 404(3)(a).
- (2) In this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) “the straddling period” means the accounting period of the dual resident investing company which begins before and ends on or after 1st April 1987; and
- (b) “dual resident investing company” has the same meaning as in section 404.
- (3) It shall be assumed for the purposes of this Chapter (except section 404(3) to (6)) and Part II of this Schedule—
- (a) that an accounting period of the company ends on 31st March 1987; and
- (b) that a new accounting period begins on 1st April 1987, the new accounting period to end with the end of the straddling period.
- (4) In this Part of this Schedule “the component accounting periods” means the two accounting periods referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above.
- 2 Subject to paragraph 5 below, for the purposes referred to in paragraph 1(3) above, the losses and other amounts of the straddling period of a dual resident investing company, excluding any such excess of charges on income as is referred to in section 403(7), shall be apportioned to the component accounting periods on a time basis according to their lengths.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- 3 If, in the straddling period of a dual resident investing company, the company has paid any amount by way of charges on income, then, for the purposes referred to in paragraph 1(3) above, the excess of that amount referred to in section 403(7) shall be apportioned to the component accounting periods—
- (a) according to the dates on which, subject to paragraph 6 below, the interest or other payments giving rise to those charges were paid (or were treated as paid for the purposes of section 338); and
 - (b) in proportion to the amounts of interest or other payments paid (or treated as paid) on those dates.

PART II

EARLY PAYMENTS OF INTEREST ETC. AND CHARGES ON INCOME

Interpretation

- 4 In this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) a “1986 accounting period” means an accounting period which begins or ends (or begins and ends) in the financial year 1986;
 - (b) a “post-1986 accounting period” means an accounting period which begins on or after 1st April 1987; and
 - (c) “dual resident investing company” has the same meaning as in section 404.

Early payment of interest etc.

- 5 (1) If the conditions in sub-paragraph (2) or (3) below are fulfilled and if the Board so direct, this paragraph applies in relation to a 1986 accounting period of a dual resident investing company.
- (2) The conditions in this sub-paragraph are applicable only if the company is carrying on a trade in the 1986 accounting period, and those conditions are—
- (a) that in that accounting period the company has incurred a loss, computed as for the purposes of section 393(2), in carrying on that trade; and
 - (b) that in that period the company has made a payment falling within section 404(6)(a)(iii); and
 - (c) that the payment referred to in paragraph (b) above either did not fall due in that period or would not have fallen due in that period but for the making, on or after 5th December 1986, of arrangements varying the due date for payment.
- (3) The conditions in this sub-paragraph are applicable only if the company is an investment company in the 1986 accounting period, and those conditions are—
- (a) that for that accounting period the company has (apart from this paragraph) such an excess as is referred to in section 403(4); and
 - (b) that one or more of the sums which for that accounting period may be deducted as expenses of management under section 75(1) either did not fall due in that period or would not have fallen due in that period but for the making, on or after 5th December 1986, of arrangements varying the due date for payment.

- (4) The Board shall not give a direction under this paragraph with respect to a 1986 accounting period of a dual resident investing company unless it appears to the Board that the sole or main benefit that might be expected to accrue from the early payment or, as the case may be, from the arrangements was that (apart from this paragraph) the company would, for that period, have an amount or, as the case may be, a larger amount available for surrender by way of group relief.
- (5) If this paragraph applies in relation to a 1986 accounting period of a dual resident investing company which is carrying on a trade then, for the purposes of this Chapter and, where appropriate, any apportionment under paragraph 2 above—
 - (a) the loss (if any) of the company for that period shall be computed (as mentioned in section 403(1)) as if any payment falling within sub-paragraph (2)(b) above had not been made in that period; and
 - (b) the loss (if any) of the company for its first post-1986 accounting period shall be computed as if any such payment were made in that period.
- (6) If this paragraph applies in relation to a 1986 accounting period of a dual resident investing company which is an investment company, then, for the purposes referred to in sub-paragraph (5) above—
 - (a) the amount which may be deducted as expenses of management for that period, as mentioned in section 403(4), shall be computed as if any sum falling within sub-paragraph (3)(b) above had not been disbursed; and
 - (b) the amount which may be so deducted as expenses of management for the first of the company's post-1986 accounting periods shall be computed as if any such sum were disbursed in that period.

Early payment of charges on income

- 6 (1) If, in the case of a dual resident investing company, either of the following conditions is fulfilled—
 - (a) that any interest or other payment which is, or is treated as, a charge on income falls due in a post-1986 accounting period but is paid (or treated for the purposes of section 338 as paid) in a 1986 accounting period, or
 - (b) that, on or after 5th December 1986, arrangements have been made such that any such interest or other payment which, but for the arrangements, would have fallen due in a post-1986 accounting period, fell due in a 1986 accounting period, the interest or other payment shall, if the Board so direct, be treated for the purposes of this Chapter and, where appropriate, paragraph 3 above as paid in the post-1986 accounting period referred to in paragraph (a) or, as the case may be, paragraph (b) above.

- (2) The Board shall not give a direction under this paragraph unless it appears to them that the sole or main benefit that might be expected to accrue from the early payment or, as the case may be, from the arrangements was that (apart from the direction) the interest or other payment would be attributed or apportioned to a 1986 accounting period rather than a post-1986 accounting period, so that, for the 1986 accounting period, the dual resident investing company would have an amount or, as the case may be, a larger amount available for surrender by way of group relief.

Appeals

- 7 Notice of the giving of a direction under paragraph 5 or 6 above shall be given to the dual resident investing company concerned; and any company to which such a notice is given may, by giving notice of appeal to the Board within 60 days of the date of the notice given to the company, appeal to the Special Commissioners against the direction on either or both of the following grounds—
- (a) that the conditions applicable to the company under paragraph 5(2) or (3) above are not fulfilled or, as the case may be, that neither of the conditions in paragraph 6(1) above is fulfilled;
 - (b) that the sole or main benefit that might be expected to accrue from the early payment or, as the case may be, the arrangements was not that stated in paragraph 5(4) or, as the case may be, paragraph 6(2) above.

PART III

GENERAL

- 8 (1) Parts I and II of this Schedule have effect in priority to section 409 and, accordingly, each of the component accounting periods resulting from the operation of Part I of this Schedule shall be regarded as a true accounting period for the purposes of that section.
- (2) References in this Schedule to this Chapter do not include any provision of this Schedule.

 - (ii) represent no more than a reasonable commercial return on the new consideration received by the company in respect of the issue of the shares; and
 - (d) on repayment do not carry any rights to an amount exceeding that new consideration except in so far as those rights are reasonably comparable with those general for fixed dividend shares listed ^{F4115}on a recognised stock exchange].
- (4) Subsection (7) of section 417 shall apply for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(b) above as it applies for the purposes of Part XI, but with the omission of the reference to subsection (9) of that section.
- (5) In sub-paragraph (1)(b) above “normal commercial loan” means a loan of or including new consideration and—
- ^{F4116}(a) which does not carry any right either to conversion into shares or securities of any other description except—
 - (i) shares to which sub-paragraph (5A) below applies,
 - (ii) securities to which sub-paragraph (5B) below applies, or
 - (iii) shares or securities in the company’s quoted parent company, or to the acquisition of any additional shares or securities;] and
 - (b) which does not entitle that loan creditor to any amount by way of interest which depends to any extent on the results of the company’s business or any part of it or on the value of any of the company’s assets or which exceeds a reasonable commercial return on the new consideration lent; and
 - (c) in respect of which the loan creditor is entitled, on repayment, to an amount which either does not exceed the new consideration lent or is reasonably comparable with the amount generally repayable (in respect of an equal amount of new consideration) under the terms of issue of securities listed ^{F4115}on a recognised stock exchange].
- ^{F4117}(5A) This sub-paragraph applies to any shares which—
- (a) satisfy the requirements of sub-paragraph (3)(a), (c) and (d) above, and
 - (b) do not carry any rights either to conversion into shares or securities of any other description, except shares or securities in the company’s quoted parent company, or to the acquisition of any additional shares or securities.

(5B) This sub-paragraph applies to any securities representing a loan of or including new consideration and—

- (a) which satisfies the requirements of sub-paragraph (5)(b) and (c) above, and
- (b) which does not carry any such rights as are mentioned in sub-paragraph (5A)(b) above.

(5C) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (3) and (5) to (5B) above a company (“the parent company”) is another company’s “quoted parent company” if and only if—

- (a) the other company is a 75 per cent. subsidiary of the parent company,
- (b) the parent company is not a 75 per cent. subsidiary of any company, and
- (c) the parent company’s ordinary shares (or, if its ordinary share capital is divided into two or more classes, its ordinary shares of each class) are [F4118]listed] on a recognised stock exchange or dealt in on the Unlisted Securities Market; and in this sub-paragraph “ordinary shares” means shares forming part of ordinary share capital.

(5D) In the application of sub-paragraphs (3) and (5) to (5B) above in determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5C)(a) above who are the equity holders of the other company (and, accordingly, whether section 413(7) prevents the other company from being treated as a 75 per cent. subsidiary of the parent company for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5C)(a)), it shall be assumed that the parent company is for the purposes of sub-paragraphs (3) and (5) to (5B) above the other company’s quoted parent company.]

F4119 For the purposes of sub-paragraph (5)(b) above, the amount to which the loan creditor is entitled by way of interest—

- (a) shall not be treated as depending to any extent on the results of the company’s business or any part of it by reason only of the fact that the terms of the loan provide for the rate of interest to be reduced in the event of the results of the company’s business or any part of it improving [F4120], or for the rate of interest to be increased in the event of the results of the company’s business or any part of it deteriorating] , and
- (b) shall not be treated as depending to any extent on the value of any of the company’s assets by reason only of the fact that the terms of the loan provide for the rate of interest to be reduced in the event of the value of any of the company’s assets increasing [F4121], or for the rate of interest to be increased in the event of the value of any of the company’s assets diminishing].

(5F) Sub-paragraph (5H) below applies where—

- (a) a person makes a loan to a company on the basis mentioned in sub-paragraph (5G) below for the purpose of facilitating the acquisition of land, and
- (b) none of the land which the loan is used to acquire is acquired with a view to resale at a profit.

(5G) The basis referred to above is that—

- (a) the whole of the loan is to be applied in the acquisition of land by the company or in meeting the incidental costs of obtaining the loan,

- (b) the payment of any amount due in connection with the loan to the person making it is to be secured on the land which the loan is to be used to acquire, and
 - (c) no other security is to be required for the payment of any such amount.
- (5H) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (5)(b) above, the amount to which the loan creditor is entitled by way of interest shall not be treated as depending to any extent on the value of any of the company's assets by reason only of the fact that the terms of the loan are such that the only way the loan creditor can enforce payment of an amount due is by exercising rights granted by way of security over the land which the loan is used to acquire.
- (5I) In sub-paragraph (5G)(a) above the reference to the incidental costs of obtaining the loan is to any expenditure on fees, commissions, advertising, printing or other incidental matters wholly and exclusively incurred for the purpose of obtaining the loan or of providing security for it.]
- (6) Notwithstanding anything in sub-paragraphs (1) to (5) above but subject to sub-paragraph (7) below, where—
- (a) any person has, directly or indirectly, provided new consideration for any shares or securities in the company, and
 - (b) that person, or any person connected with him, uses for the purposes of his trade assets which belong to the company and in respect of which there is made to the company—
 - (i) a first-year allowance within the meaning of [F4122Part 2 of the Capital Allowances Act] in respect of expenditure incurred by the company on the provision of [F4122plant or machinery];
 - (ii) a writing-down allowance within the meaning of [F4122Part 2 of the Capital Allowances Act] in respect of expenditure incurred by the company on the provision of [F4122plant or machinery]; or
 - (iii) an allowance under section [F4123Chapter 3 of Part 6 of the Capital Allowances Act] in respect of expenditure incurred by the company on [F4124research and development (within the meaning of Part VII of that Act)];

then, for the purposes of this Schedule, that person, and no other, shall be treated as being an equity holder in respect of those shares or securities and as being beneficially entitled to any distribution of profits or assets attributable to those shares or securities.
- (7) In any case where sub-paragraph (6) above applies in relation to a bank in such circumstances that—
- (a) the only new consideration provided by the bank as mentioned in paragraph (a) of that sub-paragraph is provided in the normal course of its banking business by way of a normal commercial loan as defined in sub-paragraph (5) above; and
 - (b) the cost to the company concerned of assets falling within paragraph (b) of that sub-paragraph which are used as mentioned in that paragraph by the bank or a person connected with the bank is less than the amount of that new consideration,
- references in sub-paragraph (6) above, other than the reference in paragraph (a), to shares or securities in the company shall be construed as references to so much

- (a) the dividends represent no more than a reasonable commercial return on the new consideration received by the company in respect of the issue of the shares, and
 - (b) condition A, B or C is met.
- (2) Condition A is that—
- (a) the dividends are of a fixed amount or at a fixed rate per cent of the nominal value of the shares, and
 - (b) the company is not entitled by virtue of any term subject to which the shares are issued or held to reduce the amount of, or not to pay, any of the dividends.
- (3) Condition B is that—
- (a) the dividends are of a rate per cent of the nominal value of the shares and the rate fluctuates in accordance with—
 - (i) a standard published rate of interest, or
 - (ii) the retail prices index, or any similar general index of prices which is published by the government, or by an agent of the government, of the country or territory in whose currency the shares are denominated, and
 - (b) the company is not entitled by virtue of any term subject to which the shares are issued or held to reduce the amount of, or not to pay, any of the dividends.
- (4) Condition C is that condition A or B would be met but for sub-paragraph (2)(b) or (3)(b), and—
- (a) the company is only entitled to reduce the amount of, or not to pay, any of the dividends in relevant circumstances, or
 - (b) having regard to all the circumstances, it is reasonable to assume that the company is only likely to reduce the amount of, or not to pay, any of the dividends in relevant circumstances.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4) a company reduces the amount of, or does not pay, dividends “in relevant circumstances” if—
- (a) at the time the dividend is or would be payable, the company is in severe financial difficulties, or
 - (b) it does so for the purpose of following a recommendation of a relevant regulatory body.
- (6) The Treasury may by order specify circumstances in which a company is to be treated as in severe financial difficulties for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5)(a).
- (7) In sub-paragraph (5)(b) “relevant regulatory body” means—
- (a) in relation to a dividend paid by a company that is authorised for the purposes of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000, the Financial Services Authority, and
 - (b) in relation to a dividend paid by any other company, a body discharging functions in relation to the company under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom that correspond to functions discharged by the Financial Services Authority in relation to a company authorised as mentioned in paragraph (a).

(8) In this paragraph “new consideration” has the same meaning as in section 254.

- 2 (1) Subject to the following provisions of this Schedule, for the purposes of [^{F4125}sections 403C and 413(7)] the percentage to which one company is beneficially entitled of any profits available for distribution to the equity holders of another company means the percentage to which the first company would be so entitled in the relevant accounting period on a distribution in money to those equity holders of—
- (a) an amount of profits equal to the total profits of the other company which arise in that accounting period (whether or not any of those profits are in fact distributed); or
 - (b) if there are no profits of the other company in that accounting period, profits of £100; and in the following provisions of this Schedule that distribution is referred to as “the profit distribution”.

[^{F4126}(1A) The total profits of a non-resident company arising in an accounting period shall be determined for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(a) above as if it were resident in the United Kingdom in that accounting period.]

- (2) For the purposes of the profit distribution, it shall be assumed that no payment is made by way of repayment of share capital or of the principal secured by any loan unless that payment is a distribution.
- (3) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) above, where an equity holder is entitled as such to a payment of any description which, apart from this sub-paragraph, would not be treated as a distribution, it shall nevertheless be treated as an amount to which he is entitled on the profit distribution.

- ^{F4130}5 (1) This paragraph applies if, at any time in the relevant accounting period, any of the equity holders—
- (a) to whom the profit distribution is made, or
 - (b) who is entitled to participate in the notional winding-up,
- holds, as such an equity holder, any shares or securities which carry rights in respect of dividend or interest or assets on a winding-up which are of such a nature (as, for example, if any shares will cease to carry a right to a dividend at a future time) that if the profit distribution or the notional winding-up were to take place in a different accounting period the percentage to which, in accordance with paragraphs 1 to 4 above, that equity holder would be entitled of profits on the profit distribution or of assets on the notional winding-up would be different from the percentage determined in the relevant accounting period.
- (2) Where this paragraph applies, there shall be determined—
- (a) the percentage of profits to which, on the profit distribution, the first company referred to in paragraph 2(1) above would be entitled, and
 - (b) the percentage of assets to which, on the notional winding-up, the first company referred to in paragraph 3(1) above would be entitled,
- if the rights of the equity holders in the relevant accounting period were the same as they would be in the different accounting period referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above.
- (3) If in the relevant accounting period an equity holder holds, as such, any shares or securities in respect of which arrangements exist by virtue of which, in that or any subsequent accounting period, the equity holder's entitlement to profits on the profit distribution or to assets on the notional winding-up could be different as compared with his entitlement if effect were not given to the arrangements, then for the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) it shall be assumed that effect would be given to those arrangements in a later accounting period, and
 - (b) those shares or securities shall be treated as though any variation in the equity holder's entitlement to profits or assets resulting from giving effect to the arrangements were the result of the operation of such rights attaching to the shares or securities as are referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above.
- In this sub-paragraph “arrangements” means arrangements of any kind whether in writing or not.

- [F413351) This paragraph applies if, at any time in the relevant accounting period, option arrangements exist; and option arrangements are arrangements of any kind (whether in writing or not) as regards which the two conditions set out below are fulfilled.
- (2) The first condition is that the arrangements are ones by virtue of which there could be a variation in—
 - (a) the percentage of profits to which any of the equity holders is entitled on the profit distribution, or
 - (b) the percentage of assets to which any of the equity holders is entitled on the notional winding-up.
 - (3) The second condition is that, under the arrangements, the variation could result from the exercise of any of the following rights (option rights)—
 - (a) a right to acquire shares or securities in the second company referred to in paragraphs 2(1) and 3(1) above;
 - (b) a right to require a person to acquire shares or securities in that company.
 - (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3) above—

There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) it is immaterial whether or not the shares or securities were issued before the arrangements came into existence;
 - (b) “shares” does not include fixed-rate preference shares;
 - (c) “securities” does not include normal commercial loans (within the meaning given by paragraph 1(5) above);
 - (d) “right” does not include a right of an individual to acquire shares, if the right was obtained by reason of his office or employment as a director or employee of the company and in accordance with the provisions of a share option scheme approved under Schedule 9 at the time it was obtained.
- (5) As regards each point in time when option arrangements exist in the relevant accounting period—
- (a) there shall be taken each possible state of affairs that could then subsist if the outstanding option rights, or any of them or any combination of them, became effective at that point, and
 - (b) taking each such state of affairs, it shall be assumed that the rights and duties of the equity holders in the relevant accounting period were to be found accordingly.
- (6) The following rules shall have effect—
- (a) for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above outstanding option rights are all such option rights under the arrangements (or sets of arrangements if more than one) as exist at the point in time concerned but have not become effective at or before that point;
 - (b) for the purpose of applying sub-paragraph (5) above it is immaterial whether or not the rights are exercisable at or before the point in time concerned and it is immaterial whether or not they are capable of becoming effective at or before that point;
 - (c) for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) above and this sub-paragraph an option right becomes effective when the shares or securities to which it relates are acquired in pursuance of it.
- (7) The determination mentioned in sub-paragraph (8) below shall be made as regards each point in time when option arrangements exist in the relevant accounting period; and for each such point in time a separate determination shall be made for each of the possible states of affairs mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) above.
- (8) The determination is a determination of—
- (a) the percentage of profits to which, on the profit distribution, the first company referred to in paragraph 2(1) above would be entitled, and
 - (b) the percentage of assets to which, on the notional winding-up, the first company referred to in paragraph 3(1) above would be entitled,
- if the rights and duties of the equity holders in the relevant accounting period were found as mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) above.
- (9) Where different determinations yield different percentages of profits and different percentages of assets, only one determination of each percentage (yielding the lowest figure) shall be treated as having been made.
- (10) Sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph 4 above shall apply for the purposes of this paragraph as they apply for the purposes of that paragraph and, accordingly, references there to sub-paragraphs (2)(a) and (2)(b) of that paragraph shall be construed as references to sub-paragraphs (8)(a) and (8)(b) of this paragraph.]

 - (b) the determination of a member's share in a consortium in any case where the surrendering company or the claimant company is a non-resident company owned by the consortium.
- (2) The first case in which this paragraph applies is where any of the equity holders—
 - (a) to whom the profit distribution is made, or
 - (b) who is entitled to participate in the notional winding-up of that company,holds, as such an equity holder of the non-resident company, any shares or securities which carry rights in respect of dividend or interest or assets on a winding-up which have effect wholly or partly by reference to whether or not, or to what extent, the profits or assets distributed are referable to the non-resident company's UK trade.
- (3) The second case in which this paragraph applies is where—
 - (a) option arrangements (within the meaning of paragraph 5B above) exist at any time in the relevant accounting period; and
 - (b) the percentage which, in any of the states of affairs referred to in sub-paragraph (5) of that paragraph, is—
 - (i) the percentage of profits to which any of the equity holders of the non-resident company would be entitled on the profit distribution, or
 - (ii) the percentage of assets to which any of the equity holders of that company would be entitled on the notional winding-up,would differ, at any of the times so referred to, according to whether or not, or to what extent, the profits or assets distributed are referable to the non-resident company's UK trade.
- (4) If the percentage of profits to which, on the profit distribution, a particular equity holder would be taken for the relevant purposes to be entitled would be less if the determination under paragraph 2(1) above were made on the basis specified in sub-paragraph (7) below, then that shall be the basis used for the relevant purposes in the case of that equity holder.
- (5) If the percentage of assets to which, on the notional winding-up, a particular equity holder would be taken for the relevant purposes to be entitled would be less if the determination under paragraph 3(1) above were made on the basis specified in sub-paragraph (7) below, then that shall be the basis used for the relevant purposes in the case of that equity holder.

compared, only the lower of the percentages determined under paragraph (a) above.

(7) That basis is the assumption—

- (a) that the profit distribution or the distribution on the notional winding-up is confined to a distribution of profits or assets that are referable to the non-resident company's UK trade; and
- (b) that the amount of the distribution does not exceed whichever is the greater of £100 and the following amount—
 - (i) in the case of a profit distribution, the amount (if any) of so much of the company's chargeable profits for the relevant accounting period as is referable to its UK trade; and
 - (ii) in the case of a distribution on a notional winding-up, its net UK assets;

and

- (c) that none of the ordinary equity holders has an entitlement to a proportion of the profits or assets mentioned in paragraph (a) above that is any greater than the proportion of the distribution to which he would be entitled if—
 - (i) the assumptions specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) above were disregarded; but
 - (ii) it were assumed, where it is less, that the distribution is equal to £100.

(8) In sub-paragraph (7) above—

“net UK assets”, in relation to a non-resident company, means the excess, if any, of the total amount of the assets of the company that are referable to its UK trade (as shown in the relevant balance sheet), over the total amount of those of its liabilities (as so shown) which are so referable and are not liabilities to equity holders as such; and

“ordinary equity holder” means any equity holder whose entitlement on the profit distribution or the distribution on the notional winding-up does not differ according to whether or not, or the extent to which, the profits or assets distributed are referable to the non-resident company's UK trade.

(9) In sub-paragraph (8) above “relevant balance sheet”, in relation to a company, means any balance sheet relating to its affairs as at the end of the relevant accounting period.

(10) For the purposes of this paragraph profits, assets or liabilities of a non-resident company shall be taken to be referable to its UK trade to the extent only that they—

- (a) are attributable to, or used for the purposes of, activities the income and gains from which are, or (were there any) would be, brought into account in computing the company's chargeable profits for any accounting period, and
- (b) are not attributable to, or used for the purposes of, any activities which (within the meaning of section 403D) are made exempt from corporation tax for any accounting period by any double taxation arrangements.

6 For the purposes of [^{F4140}sections 403C and 413(7)] and paragraphs 2 to [^{F4141}5F] above—

- (a) the percentage to which one company is beneficially entitled of any profits available for distribution to the equity holders of another company, and

- (2) Where in a period of account assets of a company which were assets of the overseas life assurance fund at the end of the immediately preceding period of account are disposed of by the company, or otherwise cease to be assets of the long term business fund of the company, they shall be assets of the overseas life assurance fund from the beginning of the period until they are disposed of or, as the case may be, they cease to be assets of the long term business fund .
- (3) Where—
- (a) in any period of account assets are acquired by a company as assets of the long term business fund, or otherwise become assets of that fund,
 - (b) the assets are disposed of by the company, or otherwise cease to be assets of that fund, later in the same period,
 - (c) throughout the part of the period during which the assets are assets of the long term business fund they are ^{F4150}assets within paragraph 5(5)(a) or] assets within paragraph 5(5)(c) below, and
 - (d) it is appropriate having regard to all the circumstances (including a comparison between the relationship of the value of the assets of the overseas life assurance fund and the liabilities of the overseas life assurance business and that of the value of the assets of the long term business fund and the liabilities of the company’s long term business) that they be assets of the overseas life assurance fund,
- they shall be assets of the overseas life assurance fund for the part of the period during which they are assets of the long term business fund.

C1056See 1990 s. 42 and Sch. 7 para. 10\(2\) regarding treatment of assets in relation to the first period of account of an insurance company

- 3 (1) Where the value of the assets mentioned in paragraph 2(1) above at the end of the period is less than the amount mentioned in paragraph 4 below (or where there are no assets within paragraph 2(1)), assets which—
- (a) are assets of the long term business fund of the company at the end of the period,
 - (b) have a value at that time equal to the difference (or to that amount), and
 - (c) are designated in accordance with paragraph 5 below,
- shall become assets of the overseas life assurance fund at the relevant time.
- (2) In sub-paragraph (1) above “the relevant time” means—
- (a) where the asset is not an asset of the long term business fund of the company throughout the period, the time when it became such an asset, and

(b) in any other case, the end of the period.

- (3) Where the value of the assets mentioned in paragraph 2(1) above at the end of the period is greater than the amount mentioned in paragraph 4 below, assets which—
- (a) are assets of the long term business fund of the company at the end of the period,
 - (b) have a value at that time equal to the difference, and
 - (c) are designated in accordance with paragraph 5 below,
- shall cease to be assets of the overseas life assurance fund at the end of the period.

4 ^{F4151}(1) The amount referred to in paragraph 3 above shall be determined by the formula—

$$A + B - C - D$$

where—

A is the liabilities of the company's overseas life assurance business at the end of the period of account,

^{F4152}B is the aggregate of—

- (a) the appropriate part of the investment reserve at that time, and
- (b) the appropriate part of any liabilities of the company's long term business fund at that time which represent a money debt,]

C is the value, at that time, of any land in the United Kingdom which is an asset linked solely to the company's overseas life assurance business, and

D is the relevant fraction of the value, at that time, of any land in the United Kingdom which is an asset linked both to the company's overseas life assurance business and to some other category of business.]

^{F4153}(2) In sub-paragraph (1) above, in B, the "appropriate part" of the company's investment reserve at the end of the period of account, or of any liabilities of its long term business fund at that time which represent a money debt, is—

- (a) where none (or none but an insignificant proportion) of the liabilities of the company's long term business at that time are with-profits liabilities, the part which bears to the whole the proportion A/B; and
- (b) in any other case, the part which bears to the whole the proportion C/D.

For this purpose—

A is the amount of the liabilities of the company's overseas life assurance business at the end of the period of account,

B is the whole amount of the liabilities of the company's long term business at that time,

C is the amount of the with-profits liabilities of the company's overseas life assurance business at that time, and

D is the whole amount of the with-profits liabilities of the company's long-term business at that time.]

[^{F4154}(3) In this Schedule “land” includes buildings and other structures, land covered with water, and any estate, interest, easement, servitude, right or licence in or over land.

- (4) In sub-paragraph (1) above, in D, “the relevant fraction” is the fraction of which—
- (a) the numerator is the value, at the end of the period of account, of such of the liabilities of the company’s overseas life assurance business as were liabilities in respect of benefits to be determined by reference to the value of the asset; and
 - (b) the denominator is the value, at that time, of all the liabilities of the company’s long term business which were liabilities in respect of benefits to be so determined.]

[^{F4155}(5) In this paragraph—

“investment reserve”, in relation to an insurance company, means the excess of the value of the assets of the company’s long term business over the aggregate of—

- (a) the liabilities of that business, and
- (b) any liabilities of the long term business fund which represent a money debt;

“money debt” has the same meaning as in Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 ^{M1784}.]

^{F4164}Entitlement to certain payments on account

Textual Amendments

F4164Sch. 19AB inserted (25.7.1991 with effect as mentioned in s. 49(3) in relation to accounting periods beginning on or after 2.10.1992) by Finance Act 1991 (c. 31, SIF 63:1), s. 49, Sch. 8; S.I. 1992/1746, art.2

- ^{F4165}1 (1) An insurance company carrying on pension business shall for each provisional repayment period in an accounting period be entitled on a claim made in that behalf to a payment (in this Schedule referred to as a “provisional repayment”) of an amount equal [^{F4166}, subject to paragraph 2 below,] to the aggregate of—
- (a) the appropriate portion of any income tax borne by deduction on any payment received by the company in that provisional repayment period and referable to its pension business, and
 - (b) the appropriate portion of any tax credit in respect of a distribution received by the company in that provisional repayment period and referable to its pension business,
- or of such lesser amount as may be specified in the claim.
- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph, a “provisional repayment period” of a company—
- (a) shall begin whenever—
 - (i) the company begins to carry on pension business;
 - (ii) an accounting period of the company begins, at a time when the company is carrying on such business; or
 - (iii) a provisional repayment period of the company ends, at a time when the company is carrying on such business; and
 - (b) shall end on the first occurrence of either of the following—
 - (i) the expiration of three months from the beginning of the provisional repayment period; or
 - (ii) the end of an accounting period of the company.
- [^{F4167}(3) In the application of subsections (5) to (9) of section 432A for the purpose of determining the amounts to which a company is entitled by way of provisional repayments in the case of any accounting period of the company, the reference in subsection (5) to “the relevant fraction” shall be taken as a reference to the provisional fraction for that accounting period.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) the provisional fraction for an accounting period of a company is the fraction which would, on the basis of the company’s latest [^{F4168}company tax return], be the relevant fraction for the purposes of section 432A(5) for the accounting period to which that return relates; but
 - (b) if there is no [^{F4168}company tax return] on the basis of which that fraction can be ascertained, the provisional fraction shall be taken to be nil;
- but this sub-paragraph is subject to paragraph 2 below.]
- (5) In sub-paragraph (1) above “the appropriate portion” means—

 - “self-assessment” means an assessment included in a company tax return, and includes a reference to such an assessment as amended.
- (11) In any case where—
- (a) there is a company tax return which would, apart from this sub-paragraph, be the latest such return in the case of an accounting period of a company,
 - (b) the self-assessment required to be included in that return has been amended, and
 - (c) that amendment was made before the making of the first claim for a provisional repayment for the accounting period mentioned in paragraph (a) above,

^{F4184}Changes in the provisional fraction

Textual Amendments

F4184Sch. 19AB inserted (25.7.1991 with effect as mentioned in s. 49(3) in relation to accounting periods beginning on or after 2.10.1992) by Finance Act 1991 (c. 31, SIF 63:1), s. 49, Sch.8; S.I. 1992/1746, art.2

- ^{F4185}~~1~~^{F4186} (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) a claim has been made for a provisional repayment for at least one provisional repayment period in an accounting period of a company;
 - (b) subsequently, a further such claim is made for a provisional repayment period falling within that accounting period; and
 - (c) had that further claim been the first claim made for a provisional repayment for that accounting period, the provisional fraction for the accounting period would have been a different fraction (whether in consequence of the delivery of a [^{F4187}company tax return] for a later preceding accounting period or the application of paragraph 1(11) above);
- and in this paragraph the “substituted provisional fraction” means the different fraction mentioned in paragraph (c) above.
- (2) Where this paragraph applies—
- (a) the amount of any provisional repayment to which the company is entitled for the provisional repayment period mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(b) above shall be an amount determined in accordance with sub-paragraph (3) below or such lesser amount as may be specified in the claim; and
 - (b) in relation to any later provisional repayment period in the same accounting period, the substituted provisional fraction shall, subject to any further application of this paragraph, be treated as the provisional fraction for the accounting period.]
- (3) The amount referred to in sub-paragraph (2) above is the amount (if any) by which total entitlement exceeds total past payments, and for this purpose—
- “total entitlement” means the aggregate of the provisional repayments to which the company would have been entitled (apart from this paragraph) for—
- (a) the provisional repayment period to which the claim relates, and
 - (b) any earlier provisional repayment period in the same accounting period,
- [^{F4188}had the substituted provisional fraction been the provisional fraction for the accounting period as from the beginning of that period; and]

F4189 Repayment, with interest, of excessive provisional repayments

Textual Amendments

- F4189Sch. 19AB inserted (25.7.1991 with effect as mentioned in s. 49(3) in relation to accounting periods beginning on or after 2.10.1992) by Finance Act 1991 (c. 31, SIF 63:1), s. 49, Sch. 8; S.I. 1992/1746, art.2

- F41903 (1) In any case where—

- [^{F4191}(a) an insurance company’s self-assessment for an accounting period becomes final, and
- (b) the aggregate amount of the provisional repayments made to the company for that accounting period exceeds the appropriate amount,] the excess, together with the amount of any relevant interest, shall be treated for the purposes of [^{F4192}paragraph 52 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998] as if it were an amount of corporation tax for that accounting period which had been repaid to the insurance company and which ought not to have been so repaid.

- [^{F4193}(1ZA) In its application by sub-paragraph (1) above, section 30 of the Management Act shall have effect as if, instead of the provision made by subsection (5), it provided that an assessment under that section by virtue of sub-paragraph (1) above is not out of time under section 34 of that Act if it is made no later than the end of the accounting period following that in which the assessment mentioned in paragraph (a) of that sub-paragraph is finally determined.]

- [^{F4194}(1A) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(b) above, the appropriate amount for an accounting period of a company is the amount (if any) which, on the assumptions in sub-paragraphs (1B) and (1C) below and disregarding any provisional repayments, the company would be entitled to be ^{F4195} . . . repaid, when its self-assessment for the period becomes final, in respect of its pension business for that accounting period on a claim such as is mentioned in [^{F4196} paragraph 9(2) of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998]^{F4197} . . . in respect of—

- (a) income tax borne by deduction on payments received by the company in that accounting period and referable to its pension business,^{F4198} . . .
- (b) ^{F4199}

(1B) The first assumption is that no ^{F4200} . . . repayments have been made to the company in respect of—

- (a) income tax such as is mentioned in paragraph (a) of sub-paragraph (1A) above,^{F4201} . . .
- (b) ^{F4202}

before the company’s self-assessment for the accounting period in question becomes final.

(1C) The second assumption is that in making any set off under—

- (a) section 7(2), [^{F4203} or]
- (b) paragraph 5 of Schedule 16,^{F4204} . . .

^{F4204}(c)

income tax borne by deduction on income which is not referable to pension business is set off before income tax so borne on income which is referable to pension business.

[^{F4205}(1D) Paragraph 53 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (time limit for recovery of excessive repayments etc.) does not apply to an assessment under paragraph 52 of that Schedule made by virtue of this paragraph.

But such an assessment is not out of time under paragraph 46 of that Schedule (general six year time limit for assessments) if it is made not later than the end of the accounting period following that in which the self-assessment mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(a) above becomes final.]]

(2) In this paragraph, “relevant interest” means interest—

- (a) on so much of the excess referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above as is or was from time to time outstanding,
- (b) for any period for which it is or was so outstanding, and
- (c) at the rate applicable under section 178 of the Finance Act 1989 for the purposes of section 87A of the Management Act (interest on overdue corporation tax).

(3) In the application of section 87A of the Management Act in relation to an amount assessed to corporation tax under [^{F4206} paragraph 52 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998] by virtue of this paragraph—

- (a) the amount so assessed shall be taken to have become due and payable on the date on which that assessment was made; and
- (b) the words [^{F4207}“(in accordance with section 59D of this Act)”] in subsection (1) shall accordingly be disregarded.

(4) In determining the amount of any relevant interest, any question whether the excess mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above (in the following provisions of this paragraph referred to as “the principal”) or any part of it is or was “outstanding” at any time shall be determined in accordance with sub-paragraphs (5) to [^{F4208}(8)] below.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

- (5) So much of the principal as does not exceed the amount of the last provisional repayment made to the company for the accounting period in question shall be taken to have become outstanding on the date on which that provisional repayment was made.
- (6) So much (if any) of the principal as—
- (a) exceeds the amount of the provisional repayment referred to in sub-paragraph (5) above, but
 - (b) does not exceed the amount of the preceding provisional repayment for that accounting period,
- shall be taken to have become outstanding on the date on which that preceding provisional repayment was made; and so on with any remaining portion of the principal and any preceding provisional repayments for that accounting period.
- (7) So much (if any) of the principal as has become outstanding as mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) or (6) above and has at any time neither been repaid to the Board nor been assessed to corporation tax under [^{F4209}paragraph 52 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998] by virtue of this paragraph shall be taken to remain outstanding at that time (and an amount shall accordingly be taken to cease being outstanding only when it is repaid to the Board or when it is so assessed).
- [^{F4210}(8) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (7) above, any repayment made by the company in respect of an amount ^{F4211} . . . repaid to it in respect of—
- (a) income tax such as is mentioned in paragraph (a) of sub-paragraph (1A) above, ^{F4212} . . .
 - (b) ^{F4213}
- shall be treated as a repayment in respect of the principal, taking an earlier such repayment by the company before a later.
- (9) In this paragraph “self-assessment” means an assessment included in a [^{F4214}company tax return] and includes a reference to such an assessment as amended.]

- (a) the maximum amount to which it could have been entitled by way of provisional repayment for that provisional repayment period apart from the regulations;
 - (b) the maximum reduced entitlement for that provisional repayment period; and
 - (c) the amount of the provisional repayment claimed for that provisional repayment period.
- (3) The regulations may make provision—
- (a) for the charging of interest in any case where an insurance company claims, and is paid, by way of provisional repayment an amount in excess of the maximum reduced entitlement for the provisional repayment period to which the claim relates;
 - (b) for the period for which, and the rate at which, any such amount is to carry interest under the regulations;
 - (c) for any such interest to be treated for the purposes of section 30 of the Management Act as if it were an amount of corporation tax which had been repaid and which ought not to have been repaid; and
 - (d) for section 87A of that Act to apply in relation to an amount assessed to corporation tax under section 30 of that Act by virtue of the regulations with modifications corresponding to those specified in paragraph 3(3) above.
- (4) The regulations may prescribe for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above different percentages for accounting periods ending after different dates.
- (5) Sub-paragraphs (2) to (4) above are without prejudice to the generality of sub-paragraph (1) above.
- (6) In this paragraph—
- “the maximum reduced entitlement”, in relation to an insurance company and a provisional repayment period, means the maximum amount (as reduced in accordance with the regulations) to which the company could have been entitled by way of provisional repayment for that provisional repayment period;
 - “the opening transitional date” and “the closing transitional date” mean respectively such date as the Board may specify for the purpose in the first regulations made under this paragraph;
 - “prescribed” means specified in the regulations;
 - “the regulations” means any regulations under this paragraph.

F4217 Transitional application of pay and file provisions

Textual Amendments

F4217Sch. 19AB inserted (25.7.1991 with effect as mentioned in s. 49(3) in relation to accounting periods beginning on or after 2.10.1992) by Finance Act 1991 (c. 31, SIF 63:1), s. 49, Sch. 8; S.I. 1992/1746, art.2

- F42185 (1) This paragraph applies in relation to an accounting period of an insurance company if—
- (a) the accounting period—
 - (i) begins on or after the commencement day; and
 - (ii) ends on or before the day appointed for the purposes of section 10;
 - (b) the company carries on pension business for the whole or part of the accounting period; and
 - (c) the company makes a claim for a provisional repayment for the accounting period;
- and in this paragraph “transitional accounting period” means an accounting period in relation to which this paragraph applies.
- (2) An insurance company shall be entitled—
- (a) to make a claim for payment of a tax credit in respect of any income of a transitional accounting period, and
 - (b) to make a claim for the purposes of section 7(5), so far as relating to section 7(2) or 11(3), in respect of any income tax falling to be set off against corporation tax for a transitional accounting period,
- (and may do so whether or not the income in question is referable to the company’s pension business).
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above, sections 7(2) and 11(3) shall have effect in relation to a transitional accounting period as if the words from “and accordingly” to the end, in each provision, were omitted.
- (4) A claim under sub-paragraph (2) above may only be made at such time or within such period as the Board may by regulations provide.
- (5) In the application of this Schedule in relation to a transitional accounting period, paragraph 1 above shall have effect as if the reference in each of sub-paragraphs (7) and (10) to a claim such as is mentioned in section 7(6) or in section 42(5A) of the Management Act were a reference to a claim under paragraph (a) or (b) of sub-paragraph (2) above.
- (6) If and to the extent that the provisions of section 826, or of section 87A of the Management Act, would not, apart from this sub-paragraph, have effect in relation to a transitional accounting period, they shall be treated as having effect for all purposes in relation to that accounting period; and—
- (a) in the application of section 826 by virtue of this sub-paragraph, the reference in subsection (1)(a) of that section to an accounting period which ends after the appointed day shall be treated as a reference to a transitional accounting period; and “11A “Overseas life insurance companies: interpretation of sections 11B and 11C.

- (1) For the purposes of this section and sections 11B and 11C—
 - (a) an asset is at any time a section 11(2)(b) asset if, were it to be disposed of at that time, any chargeable gains accruing to the company on the disposal would form part of its chargeable profits for corporation tax purposes by virtue of section 11(2)(b);
 - (b) an asset is at any time a section 11(2)(c) asset if, were it to be disposed of at that time, any chargeable gains accruing to the company on the disposal would form part of its chargeable profits for corporation tax purposes by virtue of section 11(2)(c);
 - (c) relevant contracts and policies are contracts and policies the effecting of which constitutes the carrying on of life assurance business;and in this section and those sections any expression to which a meaning is given by section 431(2) has that meaning.
- (2) For the purposes only of subsection (1)(a) and (b) above any enactment which—
 - (a) limits any chargeable gain on the disposal of an asset;
 - (b) treats any gain on the disposal of an asset as not being a chargeable gain; or
 - (c) treats any disposal of an asset as not giving rise to a chargeable gain, shall be disregarded.
- (3) For the purposes of sections 11B and 11C—
 - (a) the notional value at any time is the value at that time of the assets which the branch or agency would reasonably be expected to hold at

- that time in consequence of any relevant contracts, and any relevant policies, which at that time are carried out at the branch or agency;
- (b) the section 11B value at any time is the value at that time of such of the section 11(2)(b) and section 11(2)(c) assets as are assets held at that time in consequence of any relevant contracts, and any relevant policies, which at that time are carried out at the branch or agency;
- (c) the section 11C value at any time is the value at that time of—
- (i) such of the section 11(2)(b) and section 11(2)(c) assets as are assets held at that time in consequence of any relevant contracts, and any relevant policies, which at that time are carried out at the branch or agency; and
 - (ii) the assets which by virtue of section 11B are attributed to the branch or agency at that time;
- (d) a relevant fund is a fund of assets of the company (wherever those assets may be situated) any part of which is held in consequence of any relevant contracts, and any relevant policies, which at any time in the accounting period concerned are carried out at the branch or agency.
- (4) In applying subsection (3)(a) above as regards a particular time, it shall be assumed that—
- (a) at that time the branch or agency is a company resident in the United Kingdom, undertaking the activities it then actually undertakes;
 - (b) the terms of any dealings between the branch or agency and another part of the company are not (or not necessarily) their actual terms but are such as would be the terms if the branch or agency and the other part of the company were independent persons dealing at arm's length.

11B Overseas life insurance companies: attribution of assets.

- (1) This section applies for an accounting period where the mean of the notional value at the beginning and end of the accounting period exceeds the mean of the section 11B value at those times.
- (2) Where this section applies for an accounting period, assets shall be attributed to the branch or agency in that period in accordance with the following provisions of this section.
- (3) There shall be attributed to the branch or agency in the accounting period such of the qualifying assets of the company as (having regard to the excess mentioned in subsection (1) above) it is just and reasonable to attribute to the branch or agency.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3) above—
 - (a) where an asset is a qualifying asset for the whole of the accounting period it may, subject to paragraphs (c) and (d) below, be attributed to the branch or the agency for the whole or any part or parts of that period;
 - (b) where an asset is a qualifying asset for any portion of the accounting period it may, subject to paragraphs (c) and (d) below, be attributed to the branch or agency for the whole or any part or parts of that portion;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) an asset shall not be attributed to the branch or agency for any period of time during which it is a section 11(2)(b) or section 11(2)(c) asset;
 - (d) an asset shall not be attributed to the branch or agency at any particular time unless it is held in consequence of any relevant contracts, and any relevant policies, which at that time are carried out at the branch or agency.
- (5) An asset of the company is a qualifying asset at any time if it is an asset of one or more of the following descriptions, that is to say—
- (a) an asset which, in relation to any relevant contracts and any relevant policies which at that time are carried out at the branch or agency, is a linked asset within the meaning given by section 431(2);
 - (b) an asset which at that time is maintained in the United Kingdom as a result of a requirement imposed under section 39 of the ^{M1789}Insurance Companies Act 1982, other than an asset not treated as so maintained by virtue of a direction under subsection (2) of that section;
 - (c) an asset which at that time is treated for the purposes of any such requirement as is mentioned in paragraph (b) above as maintained in the United Kingdom by virtue of a direction under subsection (2) of that section;
 - (d) an asset which at that time is held in respect of the business carried on by the branch or agency as a result of a condition of an order under section 68 of the Insurance Companies Act 1982;
 - (e) an asset which at that time is held in a fund which the company is required to maintain under the prudential legislation of a territory outside the United Kingdom in respect of the business carried on by the branch or agency;
 - (f) an asset which is identified in tax returns submitted to a taxing authority of a territory outside the United Kingdom as an asset which at that time is wholly referable to the business carried on by the branch or agency.

11C Overseas life insurance companies: additional income and gains.

- (1) This section applies for an accounting period where the mean of the notional value at the beginning and end of the accounting period exceeds the mean of the section 11C value at those times.
- (2) Where this section applies for an accounting period, the income which falls within this subsection in that period shall be the specified amount of each item of relevant income arising in that period from any assets of the relevant fund.
- (3) Where this section applies for an accounting period, the chargeable gains accruing to the company in that period by virtue of this subsection shall be the specified amount of each relevant gain accruing to the company in that period on the disposal of any assets of the relevant fund.
- (4) For the purposes of this section—
 - (a) relevant income is income other than income which falls within section 11(2)(a) or (aa);

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) a relevant gain is a gain (other than a chargeable gain which falls within section 11(2)(b), (c) or (d)) which would be a chargeable gain if the company were resident in the United Kingdom.
- (5) For the purposes of this section the specified amount of an item of relevant income arising in the accounting period from any assets of the relevant fund shall be determined by the formula—

$$SI = I_y \frac{(NV - CV)}{RF}$$

- (6) For the purposes of this section the specified amount of a relevant gain accruing to the company in the accounting period on the disposal of any assets of the relevant fund shall be determined by the formula—

$$SG = G_y \frac{(NV - CV)}{RF}$$

- (7) In subsections (5) and (6) above—

SI is the specified amount of an item of relevant income arising in the accounting period from any assets of the relevant fund;

I is an item of relevant income arising in that period from any assets of the relevant fund;

NV is the mean of the notional value at the beginning and end of that period;

CV is the mean of the section 11C value at the beginning and end of that period;

RF (subject to subsection (8) below) is the mean of the value of the relevant fund at the beginning and end of that period;

SG is the specified amount of a relevant gain accruing to the company in that period on the disposal of any assets of the relevant fund;

G is a relevant gain accruing to the company in that period on the disposal of any assets of the relevant fund.

- (8) Where the assets of the relevant fund at the beginning or end of the accounting period include—

(a) section 11(2)(b) or section 11(2)(c) assets; or

(b) assets which by virtue of section 11B are attributed to the branch or agency, the value at that time of the relevant fund for the purposes of the definition of RF in subsection (7) above shall be reduced by the value at that time of those assets.

- (9) Where in the accounting period the company has more than one relevant fund—

(a) in the definition of RF in subsection (7) above, the reference to the value of the relevant fund shall be treated as a reference to the value of the relevant funds; and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. ^{F4242}6 (1) In subsection (2) of section 431, the following definition shall be treated as substituted for the definition of “investment reserve”—

“ “investment reserve”, in relation to an overseas life insurance company, means the excess of the value of the relevant assets over the relevant liabilities, and for the purposes of this definition—

- (a) relevant assets are such assets of the company’s long term business fund as are—
 - (i) section 11(2)(b) assets;
 - (ii) section 11(2)(c) assets; or
 - (iii) assets which by virtue of section 11B are attributed to the branch or agency in the United Kingdom through which the company carries on life assurance business; and
- (b) relevant liabilities are such liabilities of the long term business as are attributable to the branch or agency; and in a case where section 11C applies, the value of the relevant assets shall be increased by the amount by which the notional value exceeds the section 11C value; and any expression used in this definition to which a meaning is given by section 11A has that meaning;.”

(2) In that subsection, the following definition shall be treated as substituted for the definition of “liabilities”—

“ “liabilities”, where the company concerned is an overseas life insurance company, does not include excluded liabilities and (subject to that) means—

- (a) liabilities as estimated for the purposes of the company’s periodical return, or
- (b) in the case of liabilities not estimated for the purposes of such a periodical return, liabilities as estimated for the purposes of any return equivalent to a periodical return and required to be made by the company under the law of the territory in which the company is resident, or
- (c) in the case of liabilities not estimated for the purposes of such a periodical return or equivalent return, liabilities as found from the company’s records; and excluded liabilities are any liabilities that have fallen due or been reinsured and any not arising under or in connection with policies or contracts effected as part of the company’s insurance business;.”

“UK distribution income” has the meaning given by paragraph 5B(4) of Schedule 19AC;]

(5) In that subsection, the following definition shall be treated as substituted for the definition of “value” —

“ “value”, in relation to assets and where the company concerned is an overseas life insurance company, means—

- (a) their value as taken into account for the purposes of the company’s periodical return, or
- (b) where their value is not taken into account for the purposes of such a periodical return, their value as taken into account for the purposes of any return equivalent to a periodical return and required to be made by the company under the law of the territory in which the company is resident, or
- (c) where their value is not taken into account for the purposes of such a periodical return or equivalent return, their value as found from the company’s records; and the reference in paragraph (c) above to the value of assets as found from the company’s records is a reference to the market value as so found or, where applicable, the current value (within the meaning of the Directive of the Council of the European Communities dated 19th December 1991 No. 91/674/EEC (directive on the annual accounts and consolidated accounts of insurance undertakings)) as so found;”.

PART 1

INTRODUCTORY

About this Schedule

- 1 (1) This Schedule entitles a company carrying on a ring fence trade, on making a claim in respect of an accounting period ending on or after 1st January 2004, to a supplement (initially of 6%, but variable by Treasury order) in respect of—
 - (a) qualifying capital expenditure incurred before the trade is set up and commenced,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) losses incurred in the trade, determined by reference to allowances under Part 6 of the Capital Allowances Act (expenditure on research and development) in respect of qualifying capital expenditure, and
 - (c) some or all of the supplement allowed in respect of earlier periods.
- (2) To qualify, the capital expenditure in question must be incurred on or after 1st January 2004 in respect of oil and gas exploration and appraisal (as well as satisfying other conditions).
- (3) Part 2 makes provision about the application and interpretation of this Schedule.
- (4) Part 3 makes provision about supplement in relation to expenditure incurred by the company—
- (a) with a view to carrying on a ring fence trade, but
 - (b) in an accounting period before the company sets up and commences that trade.
- (5) Part 4 makes provision about supplement in relation to losses incurred in carrying on the ring fence trade.
- (6) There is a limit on the number of accounting periods (6) in respect of which a company may claim supplement.
- (7) In determining the amount of supplement allowable, reductions fall to be made in respect of—
- (a) disposal receipts by virtue of section 555 of the Capital Allowances Act (disposal of oil licence with exploitation value),
 - (b) ring fence losses that could be set off under section 393A against ring fence profits of earlier periods,
 - (c) ring fence losses incurred in earlier periods that fall to be set off under section 393 against profits of succeeding periods,
 - (d) unrelieved group ring fence profits.

PART 2

APPLICATION AND INTERPRETATION

Qualifying companies

- 2 This Schedule applies in relation to any company which—
- (a) carries on a ring fence trade, or
 - (b) is engaged in oil and gas exploration and appraisal (see section 837B) with a view to carrying on a ring fence trade,
- and in this Schedule any such company is referred to as a “qualifying company”.

Accounting periods

- 3 (1) In this Schedule, in the case of any qualifying company,—
- “the commencement period” means the accounting period in which the company sets up and commences its ring fence trade;
 - “post-commencement period” means any accounting period ending on or after 1st January 2004—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) which is the commencement period, or
 - (b) which ends after the commencement period;
- “pre-commencement period” means any accounting period ending—
- (a) on or after 1st January 2004, and
 - (b) before the commencement period.
- (2) For the purposes of this Schedule a company not within the charge to corporation tax which incurs qualifying E&A expenditure is to be treated as having such accounting periods as it would have if—
- (a) it carried on a trade consisting of the activities in respect of which the expenditure is incurred, and
 - (b) it had started to carry on that trade when it started to carry on the research and development on which the expenditure is incurred.

The relevant percentage

- 4 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule, the relevant percentage for any accounting period ending on or after 1st January 2004 is 6%.
- (2) The Treasury may by order vary the percentage for the time being specified in subparagraph (1) for such accounting periods as may be specified in the order.

Limit on number of accounting periods for which supplement may be claimed

- 5 (1) A company may claim supplement under this Schedule in respect of no more than 6 accounting periods.
- (2) The accounting periods in respect of which claims are made need not be consecutive.

Qualifying E&A expenditure

- 6 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule “qualifying E&A expenditure” is any expenditure as respects which the following conditions are satisfied.
- (2) Condition 1 is that the expenditure is incurred on or after 1st January 2004.
- (3) Condition 2 is that, for the purposes of Part 6 of the Capital Allowances Act, the expenditure is qualifying expenditure incurred on research and development consisting of oil and gas exploration and appraisal (see section 437(2)(b) of that Act).
- (4) Condition 3 is that an allowance under section 441 of that Act is claimed in respect of the expenditure.
- (5) Condition 4 is that the expenditure is incurred in the course of oil extraction activities.
- (6) Condition 5 is that—
- (a) those oil extraction activities are comprised in a ring fence trade, or
 - (b) after incurring the expenditure, the person incurring it sets up and commences a ring fence trade connected with the research and development.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Unrelieved group ring fence profits for accounting periods

- 7 (1) There is an amount of unrelieved group ring fence profits for an accounting period of a qualifying company (“company Q”) in any case where—
- (a) the company and any other company (“company X”) are members of the same group of companies, within the meaning given by section 413(3)(a), and
 - (b) company X has an amount of taxable ring fence profits (see paragraph 8) for a corresponding accounting period.
- (2) An accounting period of company X corresponds to an accounting period of company Q if—
- (a) it coincides with, or falls wholly within, the accounting period of company Q, or
 - (b) it falls partly within the accounting period of company Q.
- (3) Where an accounting period of company X—
- (a) coincides with an accounting period of company Q, or
 - (b) falls wholly within an accounting period of company Q,
- there is, for the accounting period of company Q, an amount of unrelieved group ring fence profits equal to the whole of company X’s taxable ring fence profits for its accounting period.
- (4) Where an accounting period of company X falls partly within an accounting period of company Q—
- (a) there is an amount of unrelieved group ring fence profits for the accounting period of company Q, and
 - (b) that amount is an amount equal to the part of company X’s taxable ring fence profits for its accounting period that is attributable, on an apportionment in accordance with section 834(4), to the part of that period which falls within the accounting period of company Q.
- (5) This paragraph applies for the purposes of this Schedule.

Taxable ring fence profits of an accounting period

- 8 For the purposes of this Schedule, a company has taxable ring fence profits for an accounting period if it has an amount of ring fence profits which is chargeable to corporation tax for that accounting period after any group relief claimed under Chapter 4 of Part 10.

PART 3

PRE-COMMENCEMENT SUPPLEMENT

Supplement in respect of a pre-commencement accounting period

- 9 (1) Where—
- (a) a qualifying company claims an allowance under section 441 of the Capital Allowances Act (research and development allowances) for the commencement period, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(b) the claim is for an allowance in respect of qualifying E&A expenditure incurred before that period, the company may also claim supplement under this Part of this Schedule (“pre-commencement supplement”) in respect of one or more pre-commencement periods.

- (2) Any pre-commencement supplement allowed on a claim in respect of a pre-commencement period shall be treated as an allowance under Part 6 of the Capital Allowances Act for the commencement period in respect of qualifying E&A expenditure incurred by the company.
- (3) The amount of the supplement for any pre-commencement period in respect of which a claim under this paragraph is made is the relevant percentage for that period of the reference amount for that period.
- (4) If the pre-commencement period is a period of less than twelve months, the amount of the supplement for the period (apart from this sub-paragraph) shall be reduced proportionally.
- (5) Paragraphs 10 to 13 have effect for the purpose of determining the reference amount for a pre-commencement period.

The mixed pool of qualifying E&A expenditure and supplement previously allowed

- 10 (1) For the purpose of determining the amount of any pre-commencement supplement, a qualifying company shall be taken to have had, at all times in the pre-commencement periods of the company, a continuing mixed pool of qualifying E&A expenditure and pre-commencement supplement.
- (2) The pool shall be taken to have consisted of—
 - (a) the company’s qualifying E&A expenditure, allocated to the pool for each pre-commencement period in accordance with sub-paragraph (3), and
 - (b) the company’s pre-commencement supplement, allocated to the pool for each pre-commencement period in accordance with sub-paragraph (4).
 - (3) To allocate qualifying E&A expenditure to the pool for any pre-commencement period, take the following steps—
 - (a) Step 1: count as eligible expenditure for that period so much of the qualifying E&A expenditure mentioned in paragraph 9(1)(b) as was incurred in that period,
 - (b) Step 2: find the total of all the eligible expenditure for that period (amount E),
 - (c) Step 3: if paragraph 11 applies, reduce amount E in accordance with that paragraph,
 - (d) Step 4: if paragraph 12 applies, reduce (or, as the case may be, further reduce) amount E in accordance with that paragraph,and so much of amount E as remains after making those reductions shall be taken to have been added to the pool in that period.
 - (4) If any pre-commencement supplement is allowed on a claim in respect of a pre-commencement period, the amount of that supplement shall be taken to have been added to the pool in that period.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Treatment of disposal value on disposal of oil licence with exploitation value

- 11 (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) the qualifying company disposes of an interest in an oil licence in a pre-commencement period,
 - (b) part of the value of the interest (the “deductible amount”) is attributable to qualifying E&A expenditure incurred by the company, and
 - (c) section 555 of the Capital Allowances Act (disposal of oil licence with exploitation value) has effect in relation to the disposal.
- (2) For the purpose of allocating qualifying E&A expenditure to the pool for each pre-commencement period—
- (a) find the total of the deductible amounts in the case of all such disposals made by the company (amount D), and
 - (b) taking later periods before earlier periods, reduce (but not below nil) amount E for any pre-commencement period by setting against it so much of amount D as does not fall to be set against amount E for a later pre-commencement period.
- (3) In this paragraph “oil licence” has the same meaning as in section 555 of the Capital Allowances Act (see section 552 (1) of that Act).

Reduction in respect of unrelieved group ring fence profits

- 12 (1) This paragraph applies if there is an amount of unrelieved group ring fence profits for a pre-commencement period.
- (2) For the purpose of allocating qualifying E&A expenditure to the pool for that period—
- (a) find so much (if any) of amount E for that period as remains after any reduction falling to be made under paragraph 11, and
 - (b) reduce that amount (but not below nil) by setting against it a sum equal to the aggregate of the amounts of unrelieved group ring fence profits for the period.

The reference amount for a pre-commencement period

- 13 For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule, the reference amount for a pre-commencement period is the amount in the pool at the end of the period—
- (a) after the addition to the pool of any qualifying E&A expenditure allocated to the pool for that period in accordance with paragraph 10(3), but
 - (b) before determining, and adding to the pool, the amount of any pre-commencement supplement claimed in respect of the period.

Claims for pre-commencement supplement

- 14 (1) Any claim for pre-commencement supplement in respect of a pre-commencement period must be made at the same time as, and as if it were part of, the claim under section 441 of the Capital Allowances Act mentioned in paragraph 9(1)(a).
- (2) Subsection (3) of that section (claim for reduced amount) applies in relation to any such claim.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

PART 4

POST-COMMENCEMENT SUPPLEMENT

Supplement in respect of a post-commencement period

- 15 (1) A qualifying company which incurs a qualifying E&A loss (see paragraph 17) in a post-commencement period may claim supplement under this Part of this Schedule (“post-commencement supplement”) in respect of—
- (a) that period, or
 - (b) any subsequent accounting period in which it carries on its ring fence trade.
- (2) Any post-commencement supplement allowed on a claim in respect of a post-commencement period shall be treated for the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts (other than this Part of this Schedule) as if it were a loss—
- (a) incurred in carrying on the ring fence trade in that period,
 - (b) which falls in whole to be set off under section 393 against trading income from the ring fence trade in succeeding accounting periods.
- (3) Paragraph 74 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (company tax returns etc: time limit for claims for group relief) shall apply in relation to a claim for post-commencement supplement as it applies in relation to a claim for group relief.

Amount of post-commencement supplement for a post-commencement period

- 16 (1) The amount of the post-commencement supplement for any post-commencement period in respect of which a claim under paragraph 15 is made is the relevant percentage for that period of the reference amount for that period.
- (2) If the post-commencement period is a period of less than twelve months, the amount of the supplement for the period (apart from this sub-paragraph) shall be reduced proportionally.
- (3) Paragraphs 19 to 24 have effect for the purpose of determining the reference amount for a post-commencement period.

Ring fence losses and qualifying E&A losses

- 17 (1) Where—
- (a) in any post-commencement period (“the period of the loss”) a qualifying company carrying on a ring fence trade incurs a loss in the trade, and
 - (b) some or all of the loss falls to be set off under section 393 against trading income from the trade in succeeding accounting periods,
- so much of the loss as falls to be so set off is a “ring fence loss” of the company.
- (2) In determining for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule how much of a loss incurred in a ring fence trade falls to be set off as mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) (b), it shall be assumed that every claim is made that could be made by the company under section 393A to set losses incurred in the ring fence trade against ring fence profits of earlier post-commencement periods.
- (3) So much of a ring fence loss as is attributable to qualifying E&A allowances for the period of the loss is a “qualifying E&A loss”.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) A ring fence loss is attributable to qualifying E&A allowances to the extent that the amount of the ring fence loss does not exceed the amount of the qualifying E&A allowances for the period of the loss.
- (5) But a claim for post-commencement supplement may include an election for a ring fence loss to be treated—
 - (a) as attributable to qualifying E&A allowances for the period of the loss to such lesser extent as may be specified in the election, or
 - (b) as not attributable to such allowances.
- (6) “Qualifying E&A allowances”, in the case of an accounting period, means allowances for that period under Part 6 of the Capital Allowances Act in respect of qualifying E&A expenditure incurred by the company (including any pre-commencement supplement treated under paragraph 9(2) as such an allowance).
- (7) This paragraph has effect for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule.

Ring fence losses and non-qualifying losses

- 18 (1) So much of a ring fence loss as is not a qualifying E&A loss is a non-qualifying loss.
- (2) Where—
- (a) a loss was incurred by a qualifying company in its ring fence trade in an accounting period ending on or before 31st December 2003, and
 - (b) some or all of that loss falls to be set off under section 393 against profits of that trade in accounting periods ending on or after that date,
- so much of the loss as falls to be so set off is a ring fence loss and that loss is a non-qualifying loss.
- (3) This paragraph has effect for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule.

Special rule for straddling periods

- [^{F4309}18(A)] This paragraph applies in any case where the period of the loss in which a ring fence loss is incurred is the deemed accounting period under paragraph 3(3) ending before 1st January 2006.
- (2) The following assumption shall be made for the purpose of calculating the amount of the qualifying E&A loss and the amount of the non-qualifying loss.
 - (3) The assumption is that the loss made in the trade is taken to be the loss incurred in the accounting period beginning before 1st January 2006 and ending on or after that date (disregarding paragraph 3(3)).
 - (4) The amount of the non-qualifying loss (found in accordance with that assumption) is then reduced (but not below nil) by the following amount.
 - (5) The amount is the amount of the ring fence loss in the deemed accounting period beginning on 1st January 2006 determined under paragraph 18 of Schedule 19C for the purposes of Part 4 of that Schedule.]

F4309Sch. 19B para. 18A inserted (19.7.2006) by Finance Act 2006 (c. 25), s. 154(9)

The pool of qualifying E&A losses and the pool of non-qualifying losses

- 19 (1) For the purpose of determining the amount of any post-commencement supplement, a qualifying company shall be taken at all times in its post-commencement periods to have—
- (a) a continuing pool of the company's non-qualifying losses (the "non-qualifying pool"), and
 - (b) a continuing mixed pool of the company's qualifying E&A losses and post-commencement supplement (the "qualifying pool").
- (2) A pool continues even if the amount in it is nil.

The non-qualifying pool

- 20 (1) The non-qualifying pool consists of the company's non-qualifying losses, allocated to the pool in accordance with sub-paragraph (2).
- (2) A non-qualifying loss is allocated to the pool by adding the amount of the non-qualifying loss to the pool in the period of the loss.
- (3) In the case of a non-qualifying loss incurred in an accounting period ending on or before 31st December 2003, the period of the loss shall be taken for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) to be the first accounting period of the company that ends on or after 1st January 2004.
- (4) The amount in the non-qualifying pool is subject to reductions in accordance with the following provisions of this Part of this Schedule.
- (5) Where a reduction in the amount in the non-qualifying pool falls to be made in any accounting period—
- (a) the reduction is to be made after the addition to the pool of any non-qualifying loss allocated to the pool in that period in accordance with sub-paragraph (2), and
 - (b) references to the amount in the non-qualifying pool shall be construed accordingly.

The qualifying pool

- 21 (1) The qualifying pool consists of—
- (a) the company's qualifying E&A losses, allocated to the pool in accordance with sub-paragraph (2)(a), and
 - (b) the company's post-commencement supplement, allocated to the pool in accordance with sub-paragraph (2)(b).
- (2) The allocation of qualifying E&A losses and post-commencement supplement to the pool is as follows—
- (a) the amount of a qualifying E&A loss is added to the pool in the period of the loss, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) if any post-commencement supplement is allowed on a claim in respect of a post-commencement period, the amount of that supplement is added to the pool in that period.
- (3) The amount in the qualifying pool is subject to reductions in accordance with the following provisions of this Part of this Schedule.
- (4) Where a reduction in the amount in the qualifying pool falls to be made in any accounting period, the reduction is to be made—
 - (a) after the addition to the pool of the amount of any qualifying E&A losses allocated to the pool in that period in accordance with sub-paragraph (2) (a), but
 - (b) before determining, and adding to the pool, the amount of any supplement claimed in respect of the period, and references to the amount in the pool shall be construed accordingly.

Reductions in respect of utilised ring fence losses

- 22
- (1) If one or more ring fence losses are set off under section 393 against any profits of a post-commencement period, reductions shall be made in that period in accordance with this paragraph.
 - (2) The amount in the non-qualifying pool shall be reduced (but not below nil) by setting against it a sum equal to the total amount so set off.
 - (3) If any of that sum remains after being so set against the amount in the non-qualifying pool, the amount in the qualifying pool shall be reduced (but not below nil) by setting against it so much of that sum as so remains.

Reductions in respect of unrelieved group ring fence profits

- 23
- (1) If there is an amount of unrelieved group ring fence profits for a post-commencement period, reductions shall be made in that period in accordance with this paragraph.
 - (2) In the following provisions of this paragraph, references to the remaining amount in a pool are references to so much (if any) of the amount in the pool as remains after making any reductions that fall to be made in accordance with paragraph 22.
 - (3) The remaining amount in the non-qualifying pool shall be reduced (but not below nil) by setting against it a sum equal to the aggregate of the amounts of unrelieved group ring fence profits for the period.
 - (4) If any of that sum remains after being so set against the remaining amount in the non-qualifying pool, the remaining amount in the qualifying pool shall be reduced (but not below nil) by setting against it so much of that sum as so remains.

The reference amount for a post-commencement period

- 24
- For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule the reference amount for a post-commencement period is so much of the amount in the qualifying pool as remains after making any reductions required by paragraph 22 or 23.]

PART III

ATTRIBUTION OF EXCESS NON-QUALIFYING EXPENDITURE TO EARLIER CHARGEABLE PERIODS

- 11 This Part of this Schedule applies in the circumstances specified in subsection (6) of section 506 and in this Part—
- (a) “the primary period” means the chargeable period of the charity concerned in which there is such an excess as is mentioned in that subsection;
 - (b) “unapplied non-qualifying expenditure” means so much of the excess referred to in that subsection as does not exceed the non-qualifying expenditure of the primary period; and
 - (c) “earlier period”, in relation to an amount of unapplied non-qualifying expenditure, means any chargeable period of the charity concerned which ended not more than six years before the end of the primary period.
- 12 (1) So much of the unapplied non-qualifying expenditure as is not shown by the charity to be the expenditure of non-taxable sums received by the charity in the primary period shall be treated in accordance with paragraph 13 below as non-qualifying expenditure of earlier periods.
- (2) In sub-paragraph (1) above “non-taxable sums” means donations, legacies and other sums of a similar nature which, apart from section 505(1) of this Act and section [F4319]256 of the 1992] Act, are not within the charge to tax.

- 13 (1) Where, in accordance with paragraph 12 above, an amount of unapplied non-qualifying expenditure (“the excess expenditure”) falls to be treated as non-qualifying expenditure of earlier periods—
- (a) it shall be attributed only to those earlier periods (if any) which, apart from the attribution, (but taking account of any previous operation of this paragraph) the relevant income and gains exceed the aggregate of the qualifying and non-qualifying expenditure incurred in that period; and
 - (b) the amount to be attributed to any such earlier period shall not be greater than the excess of that period referred to in paragraph (a) above.
- (2) Where there is more than one earlier period to which the excess expenditure can be attributed in accordance with sub-paragraph (1) above, it shall be attributed to later periods in priority to earlier periods.

PART I

PRELIMINARY

- 1 (1) In this Schedule—
- “scheme” means a scheme which is for the time being certified or has at any time been certified by the Secretary of State under section 568;
 - “payment” means a payment made under a scheme, being a payment made to a person carrying on a trade to which the scheme relates and not being a payment made by way of repayment of contributions;
 - “the person chargeable” means, in relation to any such payment, the person liable to pay any tax which may fall to be paid by reason of the receipt of the payment;
 - “damage” includes any loss, liability, expense or other burden, and references to the amount of any damage are references to the sum which would be fair compensation for that damage;
 - “contribution” includes part of a contribution, and “deductible contribution” means a contribution allowed to be deducted under section 568, any reduction under Part III of this Schedule being left out of account; and
 - “asset” includes part of an asset.
- (2) For the purposes of this Schedule, a sum received by any person by way of repayment of contributions shall be deemed to be by way of repayment of the last contribution paid by him, and, if the sum exceeds the amount of that contribution, by way of repayment of the penultimate contribution so paid, and so on.

PART II

RELIEF IN RESPECT OF CERTAIN PAYMENTS

2 The question whether any, and if so, what, relief is to be given shall be determined separately in relation to each payment made under the scheme in respect of the trade, but for the purpose of determining that question regard shall be had, as provided by the following provisions of this Part of this Schedule, to the sum (“the total payment”) produced by adding the amount of the payment to the amount of any payments previously so made.

4 No relief shall be given in respect of the payment unless the total payment, or the amount of the damage in respect of which the total payment has been made, whichever is the smaller, exceeds the aggregate amount of the deductible contributions which have been paid in furtherance of the scheme in respect of the trade in question before the payment is made, exclusive of any contributions which have been repaid before the payment is made.

5 The amount of the reduction to be made in respect of the payment shall be arrived at by—
(a) ascertaining the sum which bears to the excess mentioned in paragraph 4 above the same proportion that the amount mentioned in paragraph 3(b) above bears to the amount mentioned in paragraph 3(a); and
(b) deducting from that sum the total amount of any reductions which have been or fall to be made under this Schedule in respect of payments previously made under the scheme in respect of the trade.

6 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule, and subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, damage shall be deemed to be damage in respect of which relief may be given under the Tax Acts if and only if—
(a) the damage is attributable to any of the following events, that is to say, the demolition, destruction or putting out of use of any asset, or the disposition or termination of an interest in any asset, and, by reason of that event, an allowance falls to be made under ^{F4321}Part 2 or 3 of the Capital Allowances Act in calculating the profits of a trade]; or
(b) the damage consists of any loss, liability, expense or other burden in respect of which an allowance may be made in computing the ^{F4322}profits] of the trade for the purposes of the Tax Acts.

(2) F4323

(3) Where any event occurs which would give rise to an allowance under the Tax Acts in respect of any asset in taxing, or computing the ^{F4322}profits] of, a trade but for any of the following matters, that is to say—
(a) that there are no ^{F4322}profits] against which the allowance could be made, or

- (b) that account is required to be taken of allowances previously made or deemed to have been made in respect of the asset; or
 - (c) that account is required to be taken of any sum which falls to be written off the expenditure incurred on the asset for the purpose of determining whether any and if so what allowance may be given by reason of the event; or
 - (d) that account is required to be taken of any sum falling to be taken into account as sale, insurance, salvage or compensation moneys, the like consequences shall ensue under this Schedule as if an allowance had fallen to be made by reason of that event.
- (4) Where any damage is attributable to a permanent change in the purposes for which an asset is used, or the temporary or permanent putting out of use of an asset, the question whether the damage is damage in respect of which relief may be given under the Tax Acts shall be determined as if the damage had been attributable to a sale of the asset on the date upon which the change or putting out of use took place.

PART III

EXCLUSION OF RELIEF IN RESPECT OF CONTRIBUTIONS PAID AFTER RELIEF HAS BEEN GIVEN UNDER PART II

- 7 The provisions of this Part of this Schedule shall have effect where—
- (a) a contribution is paid under a scheme in respect of a trade; and
 - (b) before the contribution is paid, payments have been made under the scheme to the person carrying on the trade; and
 - (c) reductions have been made, under Part II of this Schedule, in the amounts which, by reason of those payments, are to be treated as trading receipts of the trade.
- 8 There shall be ascertained—
- (a) the total amount of those reductions; and
 - (b) the sum by which that total would have been decreased if the contribution, and any previous contributions to which this Part of this Schedule applies, had been paid before any of the payments were made.
- 9 For the purpose of determining what deduction is to be made in respect of the contribution under section 568, the contribution shall be deemed to be reduced by the sum specified in paragraph 8(b) above, but—
- (a) for the purpose of the application of paragraph 8 above in relation to contributions subsequently paid under the scheme in respect of the trade, the total amount of the reductions referred to in that paragraph shall be treated as decreased by that sum; and

 - (f) such other ways as may be prescribed.
 - (4) In prescribed circumstances sub-paragraph (3) above shall apply subject to such omissions or modifications as may be prescribed.
 - (5) Subject to paragraph 4(4) below, if the administrator of the scheme fails to submit proposals to the Board within the period mentioned in subparagraph (1) above, or if the proposals submitted to them within that period are not approved by the Board within a further prescribed period, paragraph 7 below shall apply.
- 4 (1) Where a valuation has been produced under paragraph 2 above, the Board may serve on the administrator of the scheme a notice requiring him to furnish the Board, within a prescribed period, with such particulars relating to the valuation as may be specified in the notice.
 - (2) Where a certificate has been given under paragraph 2 above, the Board may serve on the administrator of the scheme a notice requiring him to produce to the Board, within a prescribed period, a written valuation such as is mentioned in paragraph 2(2) above.
 - (3) Where a valuation has been produced in compliance with a notice served under sub-paragraph (2) above, the Board may serve on the administrator of the scheme a further notice requiring him to furnish the Board, within a prescribed period, with such particulars relating to the valuation as may be specified in the notice.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (4) Where a notice is served on the administrator of a scheme under sub-paragraph (1) or (2) above, paragraph 3(1) and (5) above shall cease to apply.
- 5 (1) Where particulars have been furnished under paragraph 4 above, or a valuation has been produced under that paragraph, the Board shall, within a prescribed period, serve on the administrator of the scheme a notice—
- (a) stating that they accept the valuation produced under paragraph 2 or, as the case may be, 4 above; or
 - (b) stating that they do not accept the valuation so produced, and specifying their estimate of the value of the liabilities of the scheme at the relevant time and their estimate of the value of the assets held for the purposes of the scheme at that time.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(b) above, the relevant time is the time specified in the valuation produced under paragraph 2 or 4 above as the time by reference to which the values of the assets and liabilities are determined.
- (3) Where—
- (a) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (1)(a) above, the valuation shows that the value of the assets exceeds the value of the liabilities by a percentage which is more than the prescribed maximum; or
 - (b) in a case falling within sub-paragraph (1)(b) above, the value of the assets as estimated by the Board exceeds the value of the liabilities as so estimated by a percentage which is more than the prescribed maximum;
- the administrator of the scheme shall within a prescribed period submit to the Board for their approval proposals which comply with paragraph 3(2) to (4) above.
- (4) If the administrator of the scheme fails to submit proposals to the Board within the period mentioned in sub-paragraph (3) above, or if proposals submitted to them within that period are not approved by the Board within a further prescribed period, paragraph 7 below shall apply.
- 6 (1) Where proposals are submitted to the Board under paragraph 3(1) or 5(3) above and they approve them within the further prescribed period mentioned in paragraph 3(5) or 5(4) above, the administrator of the scheme shall carry out the proposals within the period mentioned in paragraph 3(2) above.
- (2) If the administrator fails to carry out the proposals within that period, paragraph 7 below shall apply.
- 7 (1) Where this paragraph applies the Board may specify a percentage equivalent to the fraction—

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

A represents their estimate of the value of the liabilities of the scheme at the relevant time increased by a prescribed percentage; and

B represents their estimate of the value of the assets held for the purposes of the scheme at that time.

- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph the relevant time is the time specified—
 - (a) in the valuation produced or certificate given under paragraph 2 above; or
 - (b) where a valuation has been produced under paragraph 4 above, in that valuation,as the time by reference to which the values of the assets and liabilities are determined.
- (3) Where a percentage has been so specified—
 - (a) section 592(2) shall apply only to that percentage of any income derived in the relevant period from the assets held for the purposes of the scheme;
 - (b) section 592(3) shall apply only to that percentage of any underwriting commissions applied in the relevant period for the purposes of the scheme;
 - (c) section 56 shall by virtue of subsection (3)(b) of that section not apply only to that percentage of any profits or gains arising to the scheme in the relevant period; and
 - (d) section [F⁴³²⁴271(1)(g) of the 1992] Act (capital gains tax exemption) shall apply only to that percentage of any gain accruing on the disposal in the relevant period of any of those assets.
- (4) Sub-paragraphs (5) to (8) below shall apply where a percentage has been so specified, securities are transferred in the relevant period, and the transferor or transferee is such that, if he became entitled to any interest on them, exemption could be allowed under section 592(2).
- (5) Section 715(1)(k) shall not apply.
- (6) Where, in consequence of sub-paragraph (5) above, section 713(2)(a) or (3)(b) applies, the sum concerned shall be treated as reduced by an amount equal to the specified percentage of itself.
- (7) Where, in consequence of sub-paragraph (5) above, section 713(2)(b) or (3)(a) applies, the relief concerned shall be treated as reduced by an amount equal to the specified percentage of itself.
- (8) For the purposes of section 714(5), the amount of interest falling to be reduced by the amount of the allowance shall be treated as the amount found after applying section 592(2).
- (9) In sub-paragraphs (4) to (8) above expressions which also appear in sections 710 to 728 have the same meanings as in those sections.
- (10) In this paragraph “the relevant period” means the period beginning at the relevant time and ending when it is proved to the satisfaction of the Board that the value of the assets (as determined in accordance with prescribed principles) exceeds the value of the liabilities (as so determined) by a percentage which is no more than the prescribed maximum.

- 7A (1) This paragraph applies if a calculation falls to be made under paragraph 7 above in a case where—
- (a) relief is to be given under section 454 of ITTOIA 2005 (listed deeply discounted securities held since 26th March 2003: relief for losses) in respect of a loss sustained on the disposal of securities, and
 - (b) had there been a profit on the disposal it would have been eligible for relief from tax for the year of assessment in which the loss is sustained by virtue of section 592(2).
- (2) That relief is to be given before the calculation under paragraph 7 above is made.
- (3) Then the amount of income to which the specified percentage is applied by virtue of sub-paragraph (3)(a) of that paragraph is reduced by the amount of that relief.
- (4) In this paragraph “disposal” has the same meaning as in Chapter 8 of Part 4 of ITTOIA 2005.
- 8 (1) The Board may make regulations providing that an appeal may be brought against a notice under paragraph 5(1)(b) above as if it were notice of the decision of the Board on a claim made by the administrator of the scheme concerned.
- (2) Regulations under this paragraph may include—
- (a) provision that bringing an appeal shall suspend the operation of paragraph 5(3) and (4) above; and
 - (b) other provisions consequential on the provision that an appeal may be brought (including provisions modifying this Schedule).

~~M1800~~Source—1987 (No. 2) c. 51, Sch.3 Pt. II

Preliminary

- 1 (1) This Schedule shall be deemed to have come into force on 17th March 1987 and, subject to sub-paragraphs (2) and (3) below, applies in relation to any retirement benefits scheme approved by the Board before the passing of the Finance (No.2) Act 1987 (23rd July 1987).
- [^{F4325}(2) The Board may by regulations provide that, in circumstances prescribed in the regulations, this Schedule or any provision of it shall not apply or shall apply with such modifications as may be so prescribed.
- (2A) Regulations under sub-paragraph (2) above—
- (a) may include provision authorising the Board to direct that this Schedule or any provision of it shall not apply in any particular case where in the opinion of the Board the facts are such that its application would not be appropriate;
 - (b) may take effect (and may authorise any direction given under them to take effect) as from 17th March 1987 or any later date;
 - (c) may make such supplementary provision as appears to the Board to be necessary or expedient.]
- (3) This Schedule shall not apply to a retirement benefits scheme if, before the end of 1987, the administrator of the scheme gave notice to the Board that it is not to apply.
- (4) Where a notice is given to the Board under sub-paragraph (3) above, the scheme shall, with effect from 17th March 1987 or (if later) the date with effect from which it was approved, cease to be approved.

Textual Amendments

~~F4325~~1988(F) s.56.Previously

“(2) The Board may by regulations provide that this Schedule, or any provision of it, shall not apply in relation to a scheme or to an employee—(a) in circumstances prescribed in the regulations; (b) in any case where in the opinion of the Board the facts are such that it would be appropriate for this Schedule, or the provision in question, not to apply.”

For regulations see Part III Vol.5 under “Retirement Benefit Schemes: transitional provisions”.

Accelerated accrual

- 2 (1) This paragraph applies where an employee becomes a member of the scheme on or after 17th March 1987.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (2) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the rules of the scheme, they shall have effect as if they did not allow the provision for the employee of a pension exceeding one-thirtieth of his relevant annual remuneration for each year of service up to a maximum of 20.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1074 See S.I. 1988 No. 1436 (in Part III Vol.5) for circumstances when paras.2-4, 5(2), 5(3), 6 and 7 are disapplied and when para.2 is modified.

- 3 (1) This paragraph applies where an employee becomes a member of the scheme on or after 17th March 1987 and the scheme allows him to commute his pension or part of it for a lump sum or sums.
- (2) If the employee's full pension (that is, the pension before any commutation) is equal to or less than a basic rate commutable pension, the rules of the scheme shall have effect (notwithstanding anything in them to the contrary) as if they did not allow him to obtain by way of commutation a lump sum or sums exceeding in all a basic rate lump sum.
- (3) If the employee's full pension is greater than a basic rate commutable pension but less than a maximum rate commutable pension, the rules of the scheme shall have effect (notwithstanding anything in them to the contrary) as if they did not allow him to obtain by way of commutation a lump sum or sums exceeding in all the aggregate of—
- (a) a basic rate lump sum, and
 - (b) an amount equal to the relevant percentage of the difference between a basic rate lump sum and a maximum rate lump sum.
- (4) In this paragraph, as it applies in relation to an employee—
- (a) a “basic rate commutable pension” means a pension of one-sixtieth of his relevant annual remuneration for each year of service up to a maximum of 40;
 - (b) a “maximum rate commutable pension” means a pension of one-thirtieth of his relevant annual remuneration for each year of service up to a maximum of 20;
 - (c) a “basic rate lump sum” means a lump sum of three-eighths of his relevant annual remuneration for each year of service up to a maximum of 40;
 - (d) a “maximum rate lump sum” means a lump sum of such amount as may be determined by or under regulations made by the Board for the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph 4 below;
 - (e) “the relevant percentage” means the difference between a basic rate commutable pension and the employee's full pension expressed as a percentage of the difference between a basic rate commutable pension and a maximum rate commutable pension.

- (1) This paragraph applies where an employee becomes a member of the scheme on or after 17th March 1987 and the scheme provides a lump sum or sums for him otherwise than by commutation of his pension or part of it.
 - (2) If the employee's pension is equal to or less than a basic rate non-commutable pension, the rules of the scheme shall have effect (notwithstanding anything in them to the contrary) as if they did not allow the payment to him, otherwise than by way of commutation, of a lump sum or sums exceeding in all a basic rate lump sum.
 - (3) If the employee's pension is greater than a basic rate non-commutable pension but less than a maximum rate non-commutable pension the rules of the scheme shall have effect (notwithstanding anything in them to the contrary) as if they did not allow the payment to him, otherwise than by way of commutation, of a lump sum or sums exceeding in all the aggregate of—
 - (a) a basic rate lump sum, and
 - (b) an amount equal to the relevant percentage of the difference between a basic rate lump sum and a maximum rate lump sum.
 - (4) In this paragraph, as it applies in relation to an employee—
 - (a) a “basic rate non-commutable pension” means a pension of one-eightieth of his relevant annual remuneration for each year of service up to a maximum of 40,
 - (b) a “maximum rate non-commutable pension” means a pension of one-fortieth of his relevant annual remuneration for each year of service up to a maximum of 20,
 - (c) “basic rate lump sum” and “maximum rate lump sum” have the same meanings as in paragraph 3 above, and
 - (d) “the relevant percentage” means the difference between a basic rate non-commutable pension and the employee's actual pension expressed as a percentage of the difference between a basic rate non-commutable pension and a maximum rate non-commutable pension.

Final remuneration

- (1) This paragraph applies where an employee who is a member of the scheme retires on or after 17th March 1987.
 - (2) The rules of the scheme shall have effect as if they provided that in determining the employee's relevant annual remuneration for the purpose of calculating benefits, no account should be taken of anything excluded from the definition of “remuneration” in section 612(1).
 - (3) In the case of an employee—

- (a) whose employer is a company and who at any time in the last ten years of his service is a controlling director of the company, or
- (b) whose relevant annual remuneration for the purpose of calculating benefits, so far as the remuneration is ascertained by reference to years beginning on or after 6th April 1987, would (apart from this Schedule) exceed the permitted maximum, the rules of the scheme shall have effect as if they provided that his relevant annual remuneration must not exceed his highest average annual remuneration for any period of three or more years ending within the period of ten years which ends with the date on which his service ends.

- (4) In the case of an employee within paragraph (b) of sub-paragraph (3) above who retires before 6th April 1991, the rules of the scheme shall have effect as if they provided that his relevant annual remuneration must not exceed the higher of—
 - (a) the average annual remuneration referred to in that sub-paragraph, and
 - (b) his remuneration (within the meaning given by section 612(1)) assessable to income tax under Schedule E for the year of assessment 1986-87.
- (5) For the purposes of this paragraph a person is a controlling director of a company if—
 - (a) he is a director (as defined in section 612), and
 - (b) he is within paragraph (b) of section 417(5), in relation to the company.

- (a) irrevocably cease to be approved, and to be capable of approval, under Chapter I of Part XIV; and
 - (b) become an approved personal pension scheme (and subject accordingly to section 631(4) and the other provisions of Chapter IV of Part XIV).
- (3) The date of the change must not be earlier than 6th April 2001.
- (4) An application under sub-paragraph (1) above shall be in such form, shall contain such information, and shall be accompanied by such documents, in such form, and prepared as at such time, as the Board may prescribe.
- (5) The Board may at their discretion grant or refuse an application under sub-paragraph (1) above.
- (6) The Board's discretion under sub-paragraph (5) above shall be subject to the restrictions set out in sections 632 to 638A and this Schedule.
- (7) The Board shall give notice to the applicant of the grant or refusal of an application.
- (8) A notice under sub-paragraph (7) above shall, in the case of a refusal, state the grounds for the refusal.
- (9) If, at any time after the making of an application under sub-paragraph (1) above, the eligible scheme concerned ceases to be approved under Chapter I of Part XIV otherwise than by virtue of the operation of sub-paragraph (2)(a) above, the scheme shall not, by virtue of that application, become an approved personal pension scheme.

Excessive funding of certain individual members

- 4 (1) The Board may refuse or withhold approval under paragraph 3 above in the case of an eligible scheme of a prescribed description if or so long as they are not satisfied that prescribed requirements will be fulfilled with respect to—
 - (a) the value of any prescribed benefits which may be provided for or in respect of an individual member of a prescribed description, and
 - (b) the value of the assets held for the purpose of providing benefits for or in respect of that member,if approval under paragraph 3 above is granted.
- (2) Regulations may make provision for or in connection with cases where the value mentioned in paragraph (b) of sub-paragraph (1) above exceeds, or exceeds by more than a prescribed percentage, the value mentioned in paragraph (a) of that sub-paragraph.
- (3) The provision that may be made by virtue of sub-paragraph (2) above includes provision for or in connection with eliminating or reducing any such excess within a prescribed period by one or more prescribed methods.

 - (f) the basis on which any such tables are to be prepared;
 - (g) the manner in which any such tables are to be applied.
- (6) The methods or principles of valuation and the tables that may be prescribed by virtue of sub-paragraph (5) above include methods or principles or, as the case may be, tables published by the Government Actuary for any purposes of the personal pension provisions of this Act.

Directions as to contributions between valuation and date of change etc.

- 5 (1) The Board may give directions for or in connection with—
- (a) prohibiting the making of contributions during the post-valuation period, or
 - (b) restricting the amount of the contributions that may be made during that period,
- by or in respect of members of a converting scheme.
- (2) Directions under sub-paragraph (1) above—
- (a) may be given in respect of schemes generally, schemes of a particular description or any particular scheme or schemes; and
 - (b) may make different provision in relation to different schemes or different members.
- (3) Any directions under sub-paragraph (1) above must be complied with by—
- (a) the trustees and managers, or administrators, of any scheme to which the directions relate;
 - (b) any member of such a scheme to whom the directions relate; and
 - (c) any person who is the employer of such a member.
- (4) If there is any contravention of, or failure to comply with, directions under sub-paragraph (1) above, the Board may—
- (a) refuse or withhold approval of the conversion application in question; or
 - (b) revoke or vary any approval granted or any conditions pending the satisfaction of which approval is withheld.
- (5) Sub-paragraph (4) above is without prejudice to any other powers of the Board.
- (6) In this paragraph—
- “conversion application”, in the case of a converting scheme, means the application under paragraph 3(1) above in respect of the scheme;
 - “converting scheme” means a scheme in respect of which an application under paragraph 3(1) above has been made and not withdrawn or finally refused;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

“the post-valuation period”, in the case of a converting scheme, means the period which—

- (a) begins with the day as at which any valuation for the purposes of paragraph 4 above is made in connection with the conversion application; and
- (b) ends with the day preceding the date of the change (or, if earlier, the date on which the conversion application is withdrawn or finally refused).

(7) For the purposes of this paragraph, an application is “finally refused” when it has been refused by the Board and—

- (a) the time for appealing under section 651 against the refusal has expired without such an appeal being made; or
- (b) an appeal under that section against the refusal has been withdrawn or finally disposed of in a way which affirms refusal of the application.

(8) Any directions under this paragraph must be given in writing.

Scheme rules to allow changes for purpose of conversion

- 6 An approved retirement benefits scheme shall be taken to include provisions allowing the making of changes to any provisions of the scheme for the purpose of enabling the scheme to become an eligible scheme, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in any provision of the scheme.

Manufactured interest on UK securities: general

- 3 (1) This paragraph applies (subject to paragraph 3A below) in any case where, under a contract or other arrangements for the transfer of United Kingdom securities, one of the parties (an “interest manufacturer”) is required to pay to the other (“the recipient”) an amount (“the manufactured interest”) which is representative of a periodical payment of interest on the securities.
- (2) For the relevant purposes of the Tax Acts, in their application in relation to the interest manufacturer—
- (a) the manufactured interest shall be treated, except in determining whether it is deductible, as if it—
 - (i) were an annual payment to the recipient, but
 - (ii) were neither yearly interest nor an amount payable wholly out of profits or gains brought into charge for income tax;
 - (b) the gross amount of that deemed annual payment shall be taken—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (i) to be equal to the gross amount of the interest of which the manufactured interest is representative; and
 - (ii) to constitute income of the recipient falling within section 1A;
- and
- (c) an amount equal to so much of the gross amount of the manufactured interest as is not otherwise deductible shall be allowable as a deduction against the total income or, as the case may be, total profits of the interest manufacturer.
- (3) For the relevant purposes of the Tax Acts, in their application in relation to the recipient and any persons claiming title through or under him—
- (a) the manufactured interest shall be treated as if it were a periodical payment of interest on the securities in question; and
 - (b) the gross amount of that deemed periodical payment of interest shall be taken to be equal to the gross amount of the interest of which the manufactured interest is representative.
- (4) Sub-paragraph (2) above shall not require any deduction of tax to be made by the interest manufacturer if—
- (a) the interest manufacturer is not resident in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) the manufactured interest is paid otherwise than in the course of a trade carried on by the interest manufacturer in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency.
- (5) Where, in a case falling within sub-paragraph (4)(a) and (b) above, the recipient—
- (a) is resident in the United Kingdom, or
 - (b) (without being so resident) receives the manufactured interest for the purposes of a trade carried on by him in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency,
- the recipient shall be liable to account for income tax in respect of the manufactured interest.
- (6) The amount of the income tax for which the recipient is liable to account under sub-paragraph (5) above is the amount equal to the income tax which the interest manufacturer, had he been resident in the United Kingdom, would have been required, in respect of the manufactured interest, to account for and pay by virtue of sub-paragraph (2) above.
- (7) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above, if the interest manufacturer is a company which—
- (a) is not resident in the United Kingdom, but
 - (b) carries on a trade in the United Kingdom through a branch or agency,
- Schedule 16 shall have effect in relation to the manufactured interest as it has effect in the case of a company which is resident in the United Kingdom but as if, in paragraph 7, the words “section 11(3)” were substituted for the words “section 7(2)”.
- (8) Where sub-paragraph (2) above has effect in the case of any manufactured interest so as to require any amount to be deducted by way of tax from the gross amount of the manufactured interest, the interest manufacturer shall, on paying the manufactured interest, provide the recipient with a statement in writing setting out—
- (a) the gross amount of the manufactured interest;
 - (b) the amount deducted by way of tax by the interest manufacturer;
 - (c) the amount actually paid by the interest manufacturer; and

- (d) the date of the payment by the interest manufacturer.
- (9) The duty imposed by sub-paragraph (8) above shall be enforceable at the suit or instance of the recipient.
- (10) The references in this paragraph to an amount being deductible are references to its being either—
- (a) deductible in computing the amount of any of the interest manufacturer’s profits or gains for the purposes of income tax or corporation tax; or
 - (b) deductible for those purposes from the total income or, as the case may be, total profits of the interest manufacturer.
- (11) For the purposes of this paragraph “the relevant purposes of the Tax Acts” means all the purposes of those Acts except the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the ^{M1805}Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships).
- (12) Without prejudice to the generality of section 80(5) of the Finance Act 1996 (matters to be brought into account only under that Chapter), this paragraph does not have effect for determining how any manufactured interest falls to be treated for any purpose in relation to a company in relation to which that interest falls to be treated in accordance with section 97 of that Act.
- (13) For the purposes of this paragraph references to the gross amount of any interest or payment are references to the amount of the interest or payment before the making of any deduction of income tax that is required to be deducted from it on its being paid or made.

 - (b) the overseas dividend of which the manufactured overseas dividend is representative.]
- (4) Where a manufactured overseas dividend is paid after deduction of the amount required by sub-paragraph (2) above, or where the amount of tax required under sub-paragraph (3) above in respect of such a dividend has been accounted for and paid, then for all purposes of the Tax Acts as they apply in relation to persons resident in the United Kingdom or to persons not so resident but carrying on business through a branch or agency in the United Kingdom—
- (a) the manufactured overseas dividend shall be treated in relation to the recipient, and all persons claiming title through or under him, as if it were an overseas dividend of an amount equal to the gross amount of the manufactured overseas dividend, but paid after the withholding therefrom, on account of overseas tax, of the amount deducted under sub-paragraph (2) above; and
 - (b) the amount so deducted shall accordingly be treated in relation to the recipient, and all persons claiming title through or under him, as an amount so withheld instead of as an amount on account of income tax.
- (5) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) “relevant withholding tax”, in relation to the gross amount of a manufactured overseas dividend, means an amount of tax representative of—
 - (i) the amount (if any) that would have been deducted by way of overseas tax from an overseas dividend on the overseas securities of the same gross amount as the manufactured overseas dividend; and
 - (ii) the amount of the overseas tax credit (if any) in respect of such an overseas dividend;
 - (b) the gross amount of a manufactured overseas dividend is an amount equal to the gross amount of that overseas dividend of which the manufactured overseas dividend is representative, as mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above; and
 - (c) the gross amount of an overseas dividend is an amount equal to the aggregate of—
 - (i) so much of the overseas dividend as remains after the deduction of the overseas tax (if any) chargeable on it;
 - (ii) the amount of the overseas tax (if any) so deducted; and
 - (iii) the amount of the overseas tax credit (if any) in respect of the overseas dividend.
- (6) Dividend manufacturing regulations may make provision with respect to the rates of relevant withholding tax which are to apply in relation to manufactured overseas dividends in relation to different overseas territories, but in prescribing those rates the Treasury shall have regard to—

VALID FROM 21/07/2009

- 4A (1) A reference in paragraph 4(4)(a) or (b) to the relevant amount in relation to an amount deducted under section 922(2) of ITA 2007 is—
- (a) where the deduction is made in respect of a manufactured overseas dividend that is treated as paid under paragraph 13(1) of Schedule 13 to FA 2007 (sale and repurchase of securities), to amount A, and
 - (b) otherwise, to the amount deducted under section 922(2) of ITA 2007.
- (2) Amount A is—
- (a) in a case to which sub-paragraph (3) applies, the amount deducted under section 922(2) of ITA 2007,
 - (b) in a case to which sub-paragraph (4) applies—
 - (i) the amount deducted under section 922(2) of ITA 2007, less
 - (ii) the excess mentioned in that sub-paragraph, and
 - (c) in any other case, nil.
- (3) This sub-paragraph applies to a case in which—
- (a) an amount is actually paid by way of manufactured overseas dividend,
 - (b) the amount so paid equals the relevant net amount, and
 - (c) it is reasonable to assume that, in deciding the repurchase price of the securities, no account was taken of the fact that the amount would be so paid.
- (4) This sub-paragraph applies to a case in which—
- (a) an amount is actually paid by way of manufactured overseas dividend,
 - (b) the amount so paid exceeds the relevant net amount, and
 - (c) it is reasonable to assume that, in deciding the repurchase price of the securities, no account was taken of the fact that the amount would be so paid.
- (5) In this paragraph “the repurchase price” of the securities means the price at which the payer of the manufactured overseas dividend is entitled or obliged to sell the securities, or similar securities, to the recipient of the manufactured overseas dividend.
- (6) In this paragraph “the securities” means the securities in respect of which the overseas dividend of which the manufactured overseas dividend is representative is paid.
- (7) In this paragraph “the relevant net amount” means—
- (a) the gross amount of the overseas dividend of which the manufactured overseas dividend is representative, less
 - (b) the amount deducted under section 922(2) of ITA 2007.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Manufactured payments under arrangements having an unallowable purpose

- 7A (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) a manufactured payment falls to be made by a company in an accounting period in pursuance of any arrangements (see sub-paragraphs (9) and (10) for definitions), and
 - (b) the arrangements have an unallowable purpose at any time (see sub-paragraphs (3) to (5)).

But this is subject to sub-paragraph (8) below (cases where tax relief is denied apart from this paragraph).

- (2) The company is not entitled, by virtue of anything in this Schedule or any provision of regulations under it, or otherwise, to any relevant tax relief (see sub-paragraph (10)), to the extent that the relief is in respect of, or referable to, the whole or any part of so much of the manufactured payment as, on a just and reasonable apportionment, is attributable to the unallowable purpose.
- (3) Arrangements have an unallowable purpose at any time if at that time the purposes for which the company is a party to—
 - (a) the arrangements,
 - (b) any related transaction (see sub-paragraphs (6) and (7)), or
 - (c) any transaction in pursuance of the arrangements, include a purpose (“the unallowable purpose”) which is not among the business or other commercial purposes of the company.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) The business and other commercial purposes of a company do not include the purposes of any part of its activities in respect of which it is not within the charge to corporation tax.
- (5) Where one of the purposes for which a company is at any time a party to—
- (a) any arrangements,
 - (b) any related transaction in the case of any arrangements, or
 - (c) any transaction in pursuance of any arrangements,
- is a tax avoidance purpose, that purpose shall be taken to be a business or other commercial purpose of the company only where it is not the main purpose, or one of the main purposes, for which the company is party to the arrangements or transaction at that time.
- (6) One or more transactions are to be regarded as related transactions, in the case of any arrangements, if it would be reasonable to assume, from either or both of—
- (a) the likely effect of the transactions, and
 - (b) the circumstances in which the transactions are entered into or effected,
- that none of the transactions would have been entered into or effected independently of the arrangements.
- (7) Transactions are not prevented from being related transactions, in the case of any arrangements, just because the transactions—
- (a) are not between the same parties, or
 - (b) are not between the parties to the arrangements.
- (8) This paragraph does not apply if, as a result of any of the following provisions—
- (a) section 75(4)(b) (expenses of management of companies with investment business: unallowable purposes),
 - (b) section 76(4)(d) (expenses of insurance companies: unallowable purposes),
 - (c) paragraph 13 of Schedule 9 to the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships with unallowable purposes),
- the company in question is not entitled to a relevant tax relief in respect of, or referable to, the whole or any part of the manufactured payment.
- The references to sections 75 and 76 are references to those provisions as they have effect in relation to accounting periods beginning on or after 1st April 2004.
- (9) Any reference in this paragraph to a manufactured payment falling to be made by a company includes a reference to a manufactured payment which is deemed by or under any provision of the Tax Acts to be made by a company (and references to a transaction, or to a company being party to a transaction, are to be construed accordingly).
- (10) In this paragraph—
- “arrangements” includes schemes, arrangements and understandings of any kind, whether or not legally enforceable, and shall be taken to include any related transactions;
 - “manufactured payment” means any of the following—
- (a) any manufactured dividend;
 - (b) any manufactured interest;
 - (c) any manufactured overseas dividend;

“related transaction” shall be construed in accordance with sub-paragraphs (6) and (7) above;

“relevant tax relief” means any of the following—

- (a) any deduction in computing profits or gains for the purposes of corporation tax;
- (b) any deduction against total profits;
- (c) the bringing into account of any debit for the purposes of Chapter 2 of Part 4 of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships);
- (d) the surrender of an amount by way of group relief;

“tax advantage” has the same meaning as in Chapter 1 of Part 17 (tax avoidance);

“tax avoidance purpose” means any purpose that consists in securing a tax advantage (whether for the company in question or any other person); and sub-paragraphs (3) to (7) above have effect for the purposes of this paragraph.

General

- 1 (1) The company shall be assumed to be resident in the United Kingdom.
- (2) Nothing in sub-paragraph (1) above requires it to be assumed that there is any change in the place or places at which the company carries on its activities.
- (3) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that, if any sums forming part of the company's profits for an accounting period have been received by the company without any deduction of or charge to tax ^{F4379} and have been so received by virtue of section 154(2) of the Finance Act 1996] the effect of the assumption in sub-paragraph (1) above is that those sums are to be brought within the charge to tax for the purposes of calculating the company's chargeable profits or corresponding United Kingdom tax.

^{F4380}(3A) In any case where—

- (a) it is at any time necessary for any purpose of Chapter IV of Part XVII to determine ^{F4381}in the case of any person] the chargeable profits of the company for an accounting period, and
- (b) at that time—
 - ^{F4382}(i) it has not been established in the case of that person that that or any earlier accounting period of the company is an accounting period in respect of which an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made, and]
 - (ii) it has not been established ^{F4383}in the case of that person] that that or any earlier accounting period of the company is an ADP exempt period,

^{F4384}in determining the chargeable profits of the company for the accounting period mentioned in paragraph (a) above, it shall be assumed, for the purposes of those provisions of paragraphs 2 and 10 below which refer to the first accounting period in respect of which an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made or which is an ADP exempt period, that that period (but not any earlier period) is an accounting period in respect of which such an apportionment falls to be made or which is an ADP exempt period.]]

- (4) In any case where—

- (a) it is at any time necessary for any purpose of Chapter IV of Part XVII to determine [^{F4385}in the case of any person] the chargeable profits of the company for an accounting period, and
- [^{F4386}(b) at that time it has not been established in the case of that person that that or any earlier accounting period of the company is an accounting period in respect of which an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made.]
- [^{F4387}in determining the chargeable profits of the company for the accounting period mentioned in paragraph (a) above, it shall be assumed, for the purposes of those provisions of paragraph 9 below which refer to the first accounting period in respect of which an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made, that such an apportionment falls to be made in respect of that period (but not in respect of any earlier period).]
- (5) Nothing in this Schedule affects any liability for, or the computation of, corporation tax in respect of a trade which is carried on by a company resident outside the United Kingdom through a branch or agency in the United Kingdom.
- [^{F4388}(6) Any reference in this Schedule to an “ADP exempt period”, in the case of any company, is a reference to an accounting period of the company—
- (a) which begins on or after 28th November 1995; and
- (b) in respect of which the company pursued, within the meaning of Part I of Schedule 25, an acceptable distribution policy.]

Company reconstructions

- 8 Without prejudice to the operation of section 343 in a case where the company is the predecessor, within the meaning of that section, and a company resident in the United Kingdom is the successor, within the meaning of that section—
- (a) the assumption that the company is resident in the United Kingdom shall not be regarded as requiring it also to be assumed that the company is within the charge to tax in respect of a trade for the purposes of that section, and
 - (b) except in so far as the company is actually within that charge (by carrying on the trade through a branch or agency in the United Kingdom), it shall accordingly be assumed that the company can never be the successor, within the meaning of that section, to another company (whether resident in the United Kingdom or not).

Losses in pre-direction accounting periods

- 9 (1) ^{F4410} . . . This paragraph applies in any case where the company incurred a loss in a trade in an accounting period—
- (a) which precedes the first accounting period in respect of which [^{F4411}an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made] (“the starting period”); and
 - (b) which ended less than six years before the beginning of the starting period; and
 - (c) in which the company was not resident [^{F4412}, and is not to be assumed by virtue of paragraph 2(1)(b) above to have been resident,] in the United Kingdom; and in this paragraph any such accounting period is referred to as a “[^{F4413}pre-apportionment] period”.

[^{F4441}(3) For the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph 2A below, a dividend which is not paid for the period or periods the profits of which are, in relation to the dividend, the relevant profits for the purposes of section 799 shall be treated (subject to sub-paragraph (3A) below) as so paid.

(3A) For the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph 2A below—

- (a) where a dividend is paid for a period which is not an accounting period but falls wholly within an accounting period, it shall be treated as paid for that accounting period, and
- (b) where a dividend (“the actual dividend”) is paid for a period which falls within two or more accounting periods—
 - (i) it shall be treated as if it were a number of separate dividends each of which is paid for so much of the period as falls wholly within an accounting period, and
 - (ii) the necessary apportionment of the amount of the actual dividend shall be made to determine the amount of the separate dividends.]

(4) This sub-paragraph applies where—

- (a) throughout the accounting period in question all the issued shares of the controlled foreign company are of a single class, and
- (b) at the end of that accounting period some of those shares are held by persons resident outside the United Kingdom, and
- (c) at no time during that accounting period does any person have an interest in the company other than an interest derived from the issued shares of the company; and in a case where this sub-paragraph applies the appropriate portion for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(d) above is the fraction of which the denominator is the total number of the issued shares of the company at the end of the accounting period in question and, subject to sub-paragraph (8) below, the numerator is the number of those issued shares by virtue of which persons resident in the United Kingdom have interests in the company at that time.

- (5) This sub-paragraph applies where—
- (a) throughout the accounting period in question there are only two classes of issued shares of the controlled foreign company and, of those classes, one (“non-voting shares”) consists of non-voting fixed-rate preference shares and the other (“voting shares”) consists of shares which carry the right to vote in all circumstances at general meetings of the company; and
 - (b) at the end of that accounting period some of the issued shares of the company are held by persons resident outside the United Kingdom; and
 - (c) at no time during that accounting period does any person have an interest in the company other than an interest derived from non-voting or voting shares;
- and in a case where this sub-paragraph applies the appropriate portion of the profits referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(d) above is the amount determined in accordance with sub-paragraph (6) below.

- (6) The amount referred to in sub-paragraph (5) above is that given by the formula—

$$\frac{PyQ}{R} + \frac{(X - P)yY}{Z}$$

where—

P is the amount of any dividend falling within (a) and (b) of sub-paragraph (1) above which is paid in respect of the non-voting shares or, if there is more than one such dividend, of the aggregate of them;

Q is, subject to sub-paragraph (8) below, the number of the non-voting shares by virtue of which persons resident in the United Kingdom have interests in the company at the end of the accounting period in question;

R is the total number at that time of the issued non-voting shares;

X is the [^{F4442}net chargeable profits] for the accounting period in question;

- (b) if the distribution condition is satisfied in relation to the preceding period, any dividend which is paid for the accounting period [^{F4444}immediately preceding] the preceding period and [^{F4445}which is not an excluded dividend] shall be treated as falling within that paragraph, and so on; and in this sub-paragraph “dividend” means a dividend not paid out of specified profits.
- (3) For the purposes of this paragraph, the distribution condition is satisfied in relation to any accounting period if—
 - (a) a dividend or dividends are paid for the period to persons resident in the United Kingdom,
 - (b) the amount or, as the case may be, aggregate amount of any dividends falling within paragraph (a) above is not less than—
 - (i) the relevant profits for that period, or
 - (ii) where paragraph 2(4) or (5) above applies (with the modifications of paragraph 2 made by sub-paragraph (5) below), the appropriate portion of those profits, and
 - (c) any dividends falling within that paragraph are paid not later than the time by which any dividend paid for the relevant accounting period is required by paragraph 2(1)(b) above to be paid; or if there are no relevant profits for the period.
- (4) Where, by reason only of the fact that a company pursued an acceptable distribution policy in respect of any accounting period (“the earlier period”) earlier than the relevant accounting period, [^{F4446}no apportionment under section 747(3) fell to be made in respect of the earlier period], sub-paragraph (2) above shall apply to any dividend required to be taken into account for the purpose of showing that the company pursued an acceptable distribution policy in respect of the earlier period only to the extent (if any) to which that dividend was not required to be taken into account for that purpose.
- (5) The modifications of paragraph 2 above referred to in sub-paragraph (3)(b) above are that—
 - (a) the references in sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) to the accounting period in question are to be read as references to the accounting period for which the dividend or dividends are paid,
 - (b) the references in those sub-paragraphs to sub-paragraph (1)(d) are to be read as references to sub-paragraph (3)(b) above, and
 - (c) the reference in the definition of “X” in sub-paragraph (6) to [^{F4447}net chargeable profits] is to be read as a reference to relevant profits.

(6) ^{F4448}

(7) ^{F4448}

- (8) For the purposes of this paragraph—
 - ^{F4449}(aa) a dividend is an excluded dividend if it is paid, in whole or in part, out of the total profits from which (in accordance with section 747(6)(a)) the chargeable profits for an excluded period are derived,]
 - (a) a period is an excluded period if it is an accounting period in respect of which [^{F4450}an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made], and

- 7 (1) For the purposes of paragraph 6(1)(a) above, a “business establishment”, in relation to a controlled foreign company, means premises—
- (a) which are, or are intended to be, occupied and used with a reasonable degree of permanence; and
 - (b) from which the company’s business in the territory in which it is resident is wholly or mainly carried on.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above the following shall be regarded as premises—
- (a) an office, shop, factory or other building or part of a building; or
 - (b) a mine, an oil or gas well, a quarry or any other place of extraction of natural resources; or
 - (c) a building site or the site of a construction or installation project;
- but such a site as is referred to in paragraph (c) above shall not be regarded as premises unless the building work or the project, as the case may be, has a duration of at least twelve months.
- 8 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, the condition in paragraph 6(1)(b) above shall not be regarded as fulfilled unless—
- (a) the number of persons employed by the company in the territory in which it is resident is adequate to deal with the volume of the company’s business; and
 - (b) any services provided by the company for persons resident outside that territory are not in fact performed in the United Kingdom.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(a) above, persons who are engaged wholly or mainly in the business of the company and whose remuneration is paid by a person connected with, and resident in the same territory as, the company shall be treated as employed by the company.
- (3) In the case of a holding company [^{F4483}or superior holding company], sub-paragraph (2) above shall apply with the omission of the words “wholly or mainly”.
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(b) above, no account shall be taken of services—

 - (g) insurance business which is long-term business or general business, as defined in section 1 of the ^{M1817}Insurance Companies Act 1982 [^{F4491}]; and
 - (h) the provision of services not falling within any of the preceding paragraphs.]
- (2) In a case where the gross trading receipts of a company include an amount in respect of the proceeds of sale of any description of property or rights, the cost to the company of the purchase of that property or those rights shall be a deduction in calculating the company’s gross trading receipts for the purposes of paragraph 6(2)(b) above.
- (3) In the case of a controlled foreign company engaged in a [^{F4492}business] falling within sub-paragraph (1)(c) above—
- (a) no payment of interest received from a company resident in the United Kingdom shall be regarded for the purposes of paragraph 6(2)(b) above as a receipt derived directly or indirectly from connected or associated persons, but
 - (b) it shall be conclusively presumed that the condition in paragraph 6(2)(b) above is not fulfilled if, at any time during the accounting period in question, the amount by which the aggregate value of the capital interests in the company held directly or indirectly by—
 - (i) the persons who have control of the company, and
 - (ii) any person connected or associated with those persons, exceeds the value of the company’s fixed assets is 15 per cent. or more of the amount by which the company’s outstanding capital exceeds that value.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph, in relation to a controlled foreign company—
- (a) “capital interest” means an interest in the issued share capital or reserves of the company or in a loan to or deposit with the company or the liability of a guarantor under a guarantee given to or for the benefit of the company;
 - (b) except in the case of the liability of a guarantor, the value of a capital interest is its value as shown in the company’s accounts;

- (c) in the case of the liability of a guarantor, the value shall be taken to be the market value of the benefit which the controlled foreign company derives from the provision of the guarantee;
 - (d) the value of the company's fixed assets means the value, as shown in the company's accounts, of the plant, premises and trade investments employed in the company's business; and
 - (e) "outstanding capital" means the total value of all the capital interests in the company, less the value, as shown in the company's accounts, of any advances made by the company to persons resident outside the United Kingdom and falling within paragraph (i) or paragraph (ii) of sub-paragraph (3)(b) above.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4) above—
- (a) "trade investments", in relation to a controlled foreign company, means securities any profit on the sale of which would not be brought into account as a trading receipt in computing the chargeable profits of an accounting period in which that profit arose; and
 - (b) the reference in paragraph (e) to advances made to a person by the controlled foreign company includes, in the case of a company which is a person resident outside the United Kingdom and falling within paragraph (i) or paragraph (ii) of sub-paragraph (3)(b) above, any securities of that company which are held by the controlled foreign company but are not trade investments, as defined in paragraph (a) above;
- and in this sub-paragraph "securities" includes stocks and shares.
- (6) In the application of paragraph 6(2)(b) above in the case of a controlled foreign company engaged in insurance business of any kind—
- (a) the reference to gross trading receipts which are derived directly or indirectly from connected or associated persons is a reference to those which, subject to sub-paragraph (7) below, are attributable, directly or indirectly, to liabilities undertaken in relation to any of those persons or their property;
 - (b) the only receipts to be taken into account are commissions and premiums received under insurance contracts;
 - (c) so much of any such commission or premium as is returned is not to be taken into account; and
 - (d) when a liability under an insurance contract is reinsured, in whole or in part, the amount of the premium which is attributable, directly or indirectly, to that liability shall be treated as reduced by so much of the premium under the reinsurance contract as is attributable to that liability.
- (7) In determining, in relation to a controlled foreign company to which sub-paragraph (6) above applies, the gross trading receipts referred to in paragraph (a) of that sub-paragraph, there shall be left out of account any receipts under a local reinsurance contract which are attributable to liabilities which—
- (a) are undertaken under an insurance contract made in the territory in which the company is resident; and
 - (b) are not reinsured under any contract other than a local reinsurance contract; and
 - (c) relate either to persons who are resident in that territory and are neither connected nor associated with the company or to property which is situated there and belongs to persons who are not so connected or associated;

- (4) “Insurance group” shall be construed in accordance with section 255A(5) of the Companies Act 1985 (meaning of “insurance group” in Part 7) but reading Part 7 of that Act—
- (a) as if it extended to Northern Ireland, and
 - (b) as if any reference to a company (within the meaning of that Act) included a reference to a company as defined in Article 3 of the Companies (Northern Ireland) Order 1986,
- but does not include such an insurance group if it falls within sub-paragraph (5) below.
- (5) Such an insurance group falls within this sub-paragraph if (within the meaning of that Part as so read) the parent company is a subsidiary undertaking of a parent company which is neither—
- (a) the parent company of an insurance group; nor
 - (b) a subsidiary undertaking of the parent company of an insurance group.
- (6) A controlled foreign company is, in accordance with sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) above, a “member of an insurance group” if (within the meaning of that Part as so read) it is the parent company, or a subsidiary undertaking of the parent company, of an insurance group which is by virtue of sub-paragraph (4) above an insurance group for the purposes of paragraph 6(2B) above.
- (7) A company’s main business is “insuring or reinsuring large risks” if (and only if)—
- (a) the company’s main business is the effecting or carrying out of contracts of insurance; and
 - (b) 50% or more of its gross trading receipts from that business are derived from insuring or reinsuring large risks.
- “Large risks” is defined in paragraph 11B below.
- (8) In this paragraph—
- “contract of insurance” has the meaning given by article 3(1) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001;
 - “contract of long-term insurance” has the meaning given by sub-paragraph (2) above.

VALID FROM 27/11/2002

- 11B (1) In paragraph 11A above “large risks” means—
- (a) risks falling within classes 4, 5, 6, 7, 11 and 12 of Part I of Schedule 1 to the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001;
 - (b) risks falling within classes 14 and 15 of that Part which relate to a business carried on by the policy holder;
 - (c) risks falling within classes 3, 8, 9, 10, 13 and 16 of that Part where the policy holder carries on a business in respect of which the condition specified in sub-paragraph (2) below is satisfied.

- (2) The condition referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(c) above is that, in the case of that business of the policy holder, at least two of the three following criteria were exceeded in the most recent financial year beginning on or after 1st January 1999 for which the information is available—
- (a) balance sheet total: 6.2 million euros;
 - (b) net turnover: 12.8 million euros;
 - (c) number of employees: 250.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above as it applies where the policy holder is a company, within the meaning of section 735(1) of the Companies Act 1985 or Article 3 of the Companies (Northern Ireland) Order 1986,—
- (a) “balance sheet total” has the meaning given by section 247(5) of that Act or Article 255(5) of that Order;
 - (b) “net turnover” has the meaning given to “turnover” by section 262(1) of that Act or Article 270(1) of that Order; and
 - (c) “number of employees” has the meaning given by section 247(6) of that Act or Article 255(6) of that Order;
- and for a financial year which is a company’s financial year but not in fact a year, the net turnover of the company shall be proportionately reduced.
- (4) Where the policy holder is a member of a group for which consolidated accounts (within the meaning of Directive 83/349/EEC) are drawn up, the question whether the condition in sub-paragraph (2) above is met shall be determined by reference to those accounts.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(c) above as it applies where the policy holder is a professional association, joint venture or temporary grouping, the question whether the condition in sub-paragraph (2) above is met shall be determined by reference to the aggregate of the figures of the description in question for all the members of the professional association, joint venture or temporary grouping.
- (6) In sub-paragraphs (1) to (5) above “business” includes a trade or profession and, for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(c) above, any activity of a professional association, joint venture or temporary grouping.
- (7) For the purposes of this paragraph, where an amount is denominated in any accounts in a currency other than the euro, it shall be converted into its equivalent in euros using the London closing exchange rate for that currency and the euro for the last day of the period to which the accounts relate.
- (8) In this paragraph—
- “euro” means the single currency adopted or proposed to be adopted as its currency by a member State in accordance with the Treaty establishing the European Community;
- “financial year”, in relation to any person, means the period (not exceeding 12 months) for which that person makes up accounts.

- 12 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, in paragraphs 6 and 8(3) above and [F4493 paragraph 12A below and in] sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) below “holding company” means—

- (a) a company the business of which consists wholly or mainly in the holding of shares or securities of companies which are either local holding companies and its 90 per cent. subsidiaries or trading companies and either its 51 per cent. subsidiaries or companies falling within paragraph 6(5) above; or
 - (b) a company which would fall within paragraph (a) above if there were disregarded so much of its business as consists in the holding of property or rights of any description for use wholly or mainly by companies which it controls and which are resident in the territory in which it is resident.
- (2) In determining whether a company is a holding company for the purposes of paragraph 6(3) above (and, accordingly, whether the company is or may be a local holding company), sub-paragraph (1) above shall have effect with the omission from paragraph (a) thereof of the words “either local holding companies and its 90 per cent. subsidiaries or”.
- (3) In its application for the purposes of this paragraph, section 838 shall have effect with the omission of—
 - (a) in subsection (1)(a), the words “or indirectly”; and
 - (b) subsection (2).
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3) or (4), as the case may be, of paragraph 6 above, as it applies in relation to a holding company part of whose business consists of activities other than the holding of shares or securities or the holding of property or rights as mentioned in paragraph (a) or (b) of sub-paragraph (1) above, the company’s gross income during any accounting period shall be determined as follows—
 - (a) there shall be left out of account so much of what would otherwise be the company’s gross income as is derived from any activity which, if it were the business in which the company is mainly engaged, would be such that paragraph 6(2) above would apply to the company; and
 - (b) to the extent that the receipts of the company from any other activity include receipts from the proceeds of sale of any description of property or rights, the cost to the company of the purchase of that property or those rights shall (to the extent that the cost does not exceed the receipts) be a deduction in calculating the company’s gross income, and no other deduction shall be made in respect of that activity.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph 6 above, so much of the income of a holding company as—
 - (a) is derived directly from another company which it controls and which is not a holding company [^{F4494}or superior holding company] but otherwise is, in terms of this Schedule, engaged in exempt activities [^{F4495}or, in terms of sub-paragraph (5A) of that paragraph, is an exempt trading company], and
 - (b) was or could have been paid out of any non-trading income of that other company which is derived directly or indirectly from a third company connected or associated with it,shall be treated, in relation to the holding company, as if it were not derived directly from companies which it controls.
- (6) The reference in sub-paragraph (5) above to the non-trading income of a company is a reference to so much of its income as, if the company were carrying on its trade in the United Kingdom, would not be within the charge to corporation tax under Case I of Schedule D.

- 12A (1) In paragraphs 6, 8(3) and 12(5) above and this paragraph, “superior holding company” means—
- (a) a company whose business consists wholly or mainly in the holding of shares or securities of companies which—
 - (i) are holding companies or local holding companies; or
 - (ii) are themselves superior holding companies; or
 - (b) a company which would fall within paragraph (a) above if there were disregarded so much of its business as consists in the holding of property or rights of any description for use wholly or mainly by companies which it controls and which are resident in the territory in which it is resident.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (4A) and (4B) of paragraph 6 above, the income of a company during any period which “represents qualifying exempt activity income of its subsidiaries” is any income of the company during that period which is directly or indirectly derived from companies—
- (a) which it controls, and
 - (b) which, throughout that period, fall within sub-paragraph (4B)(a) of that paragraph, but
 - (c) which are not holding companies other than local holding companies.
- (3) In determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (4A) or (4B) of paragraph 6 above the companies from which, and the proportions in which, different descriptions of income of a company are derived (whether directly or indirectly), any dividend shall be taken to be paid out of the appropriate profits.
- (4) Subsections (3) and (4) of section 799 (which provide rules for determining the profits out of which a dividend is to be regarded as paid for the purpose of subsection (1) of that section) shall apply for determining the appropriate profits for the purposes of subsection (3) above as they apply for determining the relevant profits for the purposes of subsection (1) of that section.
- (5) Sub-paragraphs (4) to (6) of paragraph 12 above shall apply in relation to sub-paragraph (4A) or (4B) of paragraph 6 above and a superior holding company as they apply in relation to sub-paragraph (3) or (4) of paragraph 6 above and a holding company, but taking the reference in sub-paragraph (4) of paragraph 12 above to paragraph (a) or (b) of sub-paragraph (1) of that paragraph as a reference to paragraph (a) or (b) of sub-paragraph (1) above.

^{F4496}PART 2A

TRADING COMPANIES WITH LIMITED UK CONNECTION

Textual Amendments

F4496Sch. 25 Pts. 2A, 2B (paras. 12B-12N) inserted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 12 para. 14(2) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2011 (c. 11), Sch. 12 para. 3

Introductory

- 12B (1) For the purposes of section 748(1)(ba), a controlled foreign company (“C”) is exempt for an accounting period if the requirements of this Part of this Schedule are satisfied.
- (2) The requirements are those imposed as to C’s—
- (a) business establishment (see paragraph 12C),
 - (b) business activities (see paragraph 12D),
 - (c) UK connection (see paragraph 12E), and
 - (d) finance income and relevant IP income (see paragraph 12F).

Business establishment

- 12C (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that throughout the accounting period C has a business establishment in the territory in which it is resident.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)—
- (a) paragraph 5(2) to (5) (special rules about residence of the company) applies as it applies for the purposes of Part 2 of this Schedule, and
 - (b) paragraph 7 (meaning of “business establishment”) applies as it applies for the purposes of paragraph 6(1)(a).

Business activities

- 12D (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that—
- (a) C’s business does not, at any time during the accounting period, include to a substantial extent non-exempt activities, or
 - (b) if C is wholly engaged in business falling within paragraph 11(1)(c) (banking etc), C’s business does not, at any time during the accounting period, include to a substantial extent non-exempt activities which do not constitute investment business.
- (2) For this purpose—
- “non-exempt activities” means—
- (a) the holding or managing of shares or securities,
 - (b) the holding of intellectual property,
 - (c) dealing in securities, other than in the capacity of a broker,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (d) the leasing of any description of property or rights,
- (e) the investment in any manner of funds which would otherwise be available, directly or indirectly, for investment by or on behalf of any person (whether resident in the United Kingdom or not) who has, or is connected or associated with a person who has, control, either alone or together with other persons, of C, and
- (f) if C is not a member of an insurance group throughout the accounting period, the effecting or carrying out of contracts of insurance between C and persons related to C; “investment business” means activities within paragraphs (a) to (d) of paragraph 9(1).

- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(f), a person is “related” to C if—
- (a) the person is connected or associated with C,
 - (b) the person has a 25 per cent assessable interest in C in the case of the accounting period in question (within the meaning of paragraph 6(4C)), or
 - (c) if C is a controlled foreign company in that accounting period by virtue of subsection (1A) of section 747, the person is connected or associated with either or both of the two persons mentioned in that subsection.

- (4) In sub-paragraph (2)—

“broker” includes any person offering to sell securities to, or purchase securities from, members of the public generally;

“contract of insurance” has the meaning given by Article 3(1) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Regulated Activities) Order 2001;

“insurance group” has the meaning given by paragraph 11A(4);

“intellectual property” is to be construed in accordance with paragraph 9(1A);

“member of an insurance group” has the meaning given by paragraph 11A(6).

UK connection

- 12E (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that C does not have a significant connection with the United Kingdom during the accounting period.
- (2) C has a significant connection with the United Kingdom during the accounting period if Condition A or B is met.
- (3) Condition A is that—
- (a) the UK-connected gross income of C's business for that period exceeds 10% of the gross income of that business for that period, and
 - (b) sub-paragraph (4) does not apply.
- (4) This sub-paragraph applies if—
- (a) at all times in the accounting period there are sufficient individuals working for C in the territory in which it is resident, or in any other territory outside of the United Kingdom, who have the competence and authority to undertake all, or substantially all, of C's business,
 - (b) C's relevant profits for the accounting period do not exceed 10% of C's relevant operating expenses for that period, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(c) the UK-connected gross income of C's business for that period does not exceed 50% of the gross income of that business for that period.

(5) Condition B is that—

- (a) the UK-connected related-party business expenditure of C's business for that period exceeds 50% of the total related-party business expenditure of C's business for that period, and
- (b) during the accounting period C has been involved in a scheme where the main purpose, or one of the main purposes, of any party to the scheme in entering into the scheme is to achieve a reduction in corporation tax or any tax chargeable as if it were corporation tax.

(6) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4)(a), individuals are not to be regarded as working for C in any territory unless—

- (a) they are employed by C in the territory, or
- (b) they are otherwise directed by C to perform duties on its behalf in the territory.

(7) In this paragraph—

“related-party business expenditure” means any expenditure, other than capital expenditure, which gives rise, directly or indirectly, to income of a person related to C;

“relevant profits”, for an accounting period, means the total profits of C for that period calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting practice (disregarding any capital gains or losses), but before any deduction for interest or tax;

“relevant operating expenses” of C means operating expenses of C other than—

- (a) the cost of goods sold, and
- (b) related-party business expenditure;

“scheme” means any scheme, arrangements or understanding of any kind whatever, whether or not legally enforceable, involving one or more transactions;

“UK-connected gross income” means the gross income derived, directly or indirectly, from persons who are within the charge to United Kingdom tax for all or part of the accounting period;

“UK-connected related-party business expenditure” means related-party business expenditure which gives rise, directly or indirectly, to income of a person within the charge to United Kingdom tax in respect of that income;

“United Kingdom tax” means income tax or corporation tax;

and paragraph 12D(3) (persons “related” to C) applies for the purposes of this paragraph as it applies for the purposes of paragraph 12D(2)(f).

(8) In the case of a company which is within the charge to United Kingdom tax only because it carries on a trade in the United Kingdom through a permanent establishment there, for the purposes of sub-paragraph (7)—

- (a) the gross income derived from that company is so much of the gross income as is attributable to that establishment, and
- (b) the income received by that company is such of its income as is attributable to that establishment.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Finance income and relevant IP income

- 12F (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that not more than 5% of C's gross income for the accounting period falls within sub-paragraph (2).
- (2) Gross income falls within this sub-paragraph to the extent that it is—
- (a) finance income, or
 - (b) relevant IP income.
- (3) “Finance income” means—
- (a) any amount which in accordance with UK generally accepted accounting practice falls to be recognised as arising from a financial asset, and
 - (b) any return, in relation to an amount, which—
 - (i) is produced for C by an arrangement to which C is party, and
 - (ii) is economically equivalent to interest, except to the extent that the return is taken into account in determining an amount within paragraph (a).
- (4) “Relevant IP income” means royalties and receipts of a similar nature arising from intellectual property.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3)(b), the amount of a return is the amount which by virtue of the return would, in calculating C's chargeable profits, be treated under section 486B of CTA 2009 (disguised interest to be regarded as profit from loan relationship) as a profit arising to C from a loan relationship.
- (6) But, in calculating that profit for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5), sections 486B(7) and 486C to 486E of CTA 2009 are to be ignored.
- (7) In this paragraph—
- “economically equivalent to interest” is to be construed in accordance with section 486B(2) and (3) of CTA 2009;
- “financial asset” means a financial asset as defined for the purposes of UK generally accepted accounting practice or international accounting standards;
- “intellectual property” is to be construed in accordance with paragraph 9(1A).

Gross income

- 12G (1) References in this Part of this Schedule to C's gross income are to be construed in accordance with this paragraph.
- (2) C's gross income for an accounting period does not include—
- (a) any distribution that would not be included in C's chargeable profits by reason of it being exempt for the purposes of Part 9A of CTA 2009 (see section 931A of that Act), or
 - (b) any amount that would be taken into account in computing chargeable gains if C were within the charge to corporation tax.
- (3) C's gross income for an accounting period includes—
- (a) any income which accrues during that period to the trustees of a settlement in relation to which C is a settlor or a beneficiary, and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) any income which accrues during that period to a partnership of which C is a partner, apportioned between C and the other partners on a just and reasonable basis.
- (4) Where there is more than one settlor or beneficiary in relation to the settlement mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(a), the income is to be apportioned between C and the other settlors or beneficiaries on a just and reasonable basis.
- (5) In this paragraph—
- “distribution” has the same meaning as in the Corporation Tax Acts (see Part 23 of CTA 2010);
 - “partnership” includes an entity established under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom of a similar character to a partnership; and
 - “partner” is to be read accordingly.

VALID FROM 19/07/2011

PART 2B

COMPANIES EXPLOITING INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY WITH LIMITED UK CONNECTION

Introductory

- 12H (1) For the purposes of section 748(1)(bb), a company (“C”) is exempt for an accounting period if the requirements of this Part of this Schedule are satisfied.
- (2) The requirements are those imposed as to C's—
- (a) business establishment (see paragraph 12I),
 - (b) intellectual property business (see paragraph 12J),
 - (c) other business activities (see paragraph 12K),
 - (d) UK connection (see paragraph 12L), and
 - (e) finance income (see paragraph 12M).

Business establishment

- 12I (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that throughout the accounting period C has a business establishment in the territory in which it is resident.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)—
- (a) paragraph 5(2) to (5) (special rules about residence of the company) applies as it applies for the purposes of Part 2 of this Schedule, and
 - (b) paragraph 7 (meaning of “business establishment”) applies as it applies for the purposes of paragraph 6(1)(a).

Intellectual property business

- 12J (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that C's main business, throughout the accounting period, consists of the exploitation of intellectual property which does not have a relevant UK connection.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1), if any part of C's main business consists of the exploitation of intellectual property which has a relevant UK connection, that part is to be ignored if it is an insignificant part of C's main business.
- (3) Intellectual property has a relevant UK connection if—
- (a) at any time during the accounting period or the 6 years immediately preceding that period, it has been held by a person resident in the United Kingdom, or
 - (b) activities relating to the creation, maintenance or enhancement of the intellectual property (other than activities of an incidental or insignificant nature) have been carried on by a person who for some or all of the period—
 - (i) beginning when the activities were first carried on by the person, and
 - (ii) ending at the end of the accounting period, was related to C and within the charge to United Kingdom tax.

Other business activities

- 12K (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that—
- (a) C does not, at any time during the accounting period, carry on any activities otherwise than in the course of its main business, or
 - (b) if it carries on any such activities (“secondary activities”), the secondary activities condition is met.
- (2) The secondary activities condition is that either—
- (a) the secondary activities do not, at any time during the accounting period, constitute a substantial part of the activities of C's business taken as a whole, or
 - (b) section 748(1)(b) or (ba) would apply to prevent an apportionment under section 747(3) falling to be made as regards that period, if C's business consisted only of the secondary activities carried on by it during the accounting period.

UK connection

- 12L (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that C does not have a significant connection with the United Kingdom during the accounting period.
- (2) C has a significant connection with the United Kingdom during the accounting period if—
- (a) all or a substantial proportion of C's gross income for that period consists of income from the exploitation of intellectual property which derives from persons within the charge to United Kingdom tax, or
 - (b) during that period C incurs expenditure (other than expenditure of an incidental or insignificant nature) on—
 - (i) R&D sub-contractor payments, or
 - (ii) the creation, development or maintenance of relevant intellectual property, and that expenditure forms part of the income of a person who for some or all of that period is related to C and within the charge to United Kingdom tax.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

(3) In this paragraph—

“R&D sub-contractor payment” means a payment made by C to another person in respect of research and development contracted out by C to that person;

“relevant intellectual property” means intellectual property which does not have a relevant UK connection (see paragraph 12J(3)) and which C exploits in the course of its main business.

Finance income

12M The requirement of this paragraph is that not more than 5% of C's gross income for the accounting period consists of finance income (within the meaning of paragraph 12F(3)).

Interpretation of Part 2B

12N (1) For the purpose of this Part of this Schedule—

“intellectual property” is to be construed in accordance with paragraph 9(1A);

“United Kingdom tax” means corporation tax or income tax;

and paragraph 12G (meaning of “gross income”) applies as it applies for the purposes of Part 2A of this Schedule.

(2) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule a person is “related” to C at a particular time if at that time—

- (a) the person is connected or associated with C,
- (b) the person has a 25 per cent assessable interest in C in the case of the accounting period of C in which that time falls (within the meaning of paragraph 6(4C)), or
- (c) if C is a controlled foreign company in the accounting period in which that time falls by virtue of subsection (1A) of section 747, the person is connected or associated with either or both of the two persons mentioned in that subsection.

(3) In the case of a company which is within the charge to United Kingdom tax only because it carries on a trade in the United Kingdom through a permanent establishment there—

- (a) for the purposes of paragraph 12J(3)(b), the activities carried on by the company are such of the activities as are carried on through that establishment,
- (b) for the purposes of paragraph 12L(2)(a), the income derived from that company is such of the income so derived as is attributable to that establishment, and
- (c) for the purposes of paragraph 12L(2)(b), the income of that company is such of its income as is attributable to that establishment.]

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

PART III

THE PUBLIC QUOTATION CONDITION

- 13 (1) The provisions of this Part of this Schedule have effect for the purposes of section 748(1)(c).
- (2) Subject to paragraph 14 below, a controlled foreign company fulfils the public quotation condition with respect to a particular accounting period if—
- (a) shares in the company carrying not less than 35 per cent. of the voting power in the company (and not being shares entitled to a fixed rate of dividend, whether with or without a further right to participate in profits) have been allotted unconditionally to, or acquired unconditionally by, the public and, throughout that accounting period, are beneficially held by the public; and
 - (b) within the period of 12 months ending at the end of the accounting period, any such shares have been the subject of dealings on a recognised stock exchange situated in the territory in which the company is resident; and
 - (c) within that period of 12 months the shares have been [^{F4497}listed] in the official list of such a recognised stock exchange.

Textual Amendments

F4497Word in Sch. 25 para. 13(2)(c) substituted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 38 para. 6(5) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 1996 (c. 8), Sch. 38 para. 6(1)(2)(m)

- 14 (1) The condition in paragraph 13(2) above is not fulfilled with respect to an accounting period of a controlled foreign company if at any time in that period the total percentage of the voting power in the company possessed by all of the company's principal members exceeds 85 per cent.
- (2) For the purposes of paragraph 13(2) above shares in a controlled foreign company shall be deemed to be beneficially held by the public if they are held by any person other than—
- (a) a person connected or associated with the company; or
 - (b) a principal member of the company;
- and a corresponding construction shall be given to the reference to shares which have been allotted unconditionally to, or acquired unconditionally by, the public.
- 15 (1) References in this Part of this Schedule to shares held by any person include references to any shares the rights or powers attached to which could, for the purposes of section 416, be attributed to that person under subsection (5) of that section.
- (2) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) a person is a principal member of a controlled foreign company if he possesses a percentage of the voting power in the company of more than 5 per cent. and—
 - (i) where there are more than five such persons, if he is one of the five persons who possess the greatest percentages, or

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (ii) if, because two or more persons possess equal percentage of the voting power in the company, there are no such five persons, he is one of six or more persons (so as to include those two or more who possess the equal percentages) who possess the greatest percentages; and
 - (b) a principal member's holding consists of the shares which carry the voting power possessed by him.
- (3) In arriving at the voting power which a person possesses, there shall be attributed to him any voting power which, for the purposes of section 416, would be attributed to him under subsection (5) or (6) of that section.
- (4) In this Part of this Schedule “shares” include “stock”.

^{F4498}PART 3A

EXEMPT PERIODS

Textual Amendments

F4498Sch. 25 Pt. 3A (paras. 15A-15G) inserted (with effect in accordance with Sch. 12 para. 14(2) of the amending Act) by Finance Act 2011 (c. 11), Sch. 12 para. 8

Introductory

- 15A The provisions of this Part of this Schedule have effect for the purposes of section 748(1)(f).

Beginning of exempt period

- 15B (1) An exempt period begins in relation to a company (“X”) at a time (“the relevant time”) when—
- (a) X is resident outside the United Kingdom,
 - (b) X is controlled by persons resident in the United Kingdom,
 - (c) there is at least one relevant UK corporate investor in X, and
 - (d) the requirements of paragraph 15C or 15D are met.
- (2) There is a “relevant UK corporate investor in X” at a particular time if, at that time, there is a company which—
- (a) is resident in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) would, on the assumptions set out in sub-paragraph (3), be a company to which an apportionment of X's chargeable profits for the relevant accounting period would fall to be made in circumstances where section 747(5) would not prevent tax being chargeable on the company under section 747(4).
- (3) The assumptions are—
- (a) X has chargeable profits for the relevant accounting period,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) an apportionment of those profits falls to be made under section 747(3) for that period, and
 - (c) no reduction of those profits arises under section 751A, 751AA or 751AB.
- (4) “The relevant accounting period” means the accounting period of X in which the time mentioned in sub-paragraph (2) falls.
- 15C (1) The requirements of this paragraph are that—
- (a) no company was, at any time before the relevant time, a relevant UK corporate investor in X,
 - (b) no asset owned by X, or part of the business carried on by X, at the relevant time was previously owned, or carried on, by a company which—
 - (i) was under the control of persons resident in the United Kingdom at any time it owned the asset or carried on the part of the business, and
 - (ii) is or has been related to X,
 - (c) condition A, B, C or D is met, and
 - (d) no disqualifying relevant transaction occurs (see paragraph 15E).
- (2) Condition A is that, immediately before the relevant time, X—
- (a) was in existence, but
 - (b) was not a member of the same group of companies as any person who, at the relevant time, was a controlling UK person.
- (3) Condition B is that—
- (a) at the relevant time X is controlled by a company which is resident in the United Kingdom, and
 - (b) immediately before that time, X was controlled by that same company but that company was not then resident in the United Kingdom.
- (4) Condition C is that—
- (a) at the relevant time—
 - (i) X is controlled by a company which is resident in the United Kingdom (“the intermediate parent”), and
 - (ii) the intermediate parent is controlled by a company which is not resident in the United Kingdom (“the parent”), and
 - (b) immediately before that time X was controlled by the parent but not the intermediate parent.
- (5) Condition D is that X—
- (a) is a controlled foreign company at the time it is formed, and
 - (b) is formed by one or more persons for the purpose of controlling one or more companies in circumstances where it is expected that an exempt period will begin in relation to one or more of those companies at the time when X begins to control the company or companies.
- (6) In this paragraph “controlling UK person” means a person resident in the United Kingdom who alone, or together with other such persons, controls X.
- 15D (1) The requirements of this paragraph are that—
- (a) the relevant time falls after 23 March 2011,
 - (b) X has an accounting period during which 23 March 2011 falls,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (c) no company was, at any time during that accounting period, a relevant UK corporate investor in X,
 - (d) no company was, immediately before the relevant time, a relevant UK corporate investor in X,
 - (e) at the relevant time X is controlled by a company which—
 - (i) is resident in the United Kingdom, and
 - (ii) is not under the control of another body corporate, or two or more other bodies corporate taken together, and
 - (f) no disqualifying relevant transaction occurs (see paragraph 15E).
- (2) In determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(e)(ii) whether a company is under the control of two or more bodies corporate taken together, a body corporate which holds less than 10% of the issued ordinary shares of that company is to be disregarded.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2), a body corporate is treated as holding any shares held by persons who are connected or associated with the body corporate.

Disqualifying relevant transactions

- 15E (1) This paragraph applies for the purposes of paragraph 15C and 15D.
- (2) A disqualifying relevant transaction occurs if—
- (a) a relevant transaction occurs at the relevant time (whether or not the transaction occurs pursuant to an agreement entered into by X before that time), or
 - (b) a relevant transaction occurs on or after 9 December 2010 but before the relevant time and that transaction forms part of an avoidance scheme.
- (3) “Relevant transaction” means—
- (a) the making by X of a loan or advance of an amount (other than a negligible amount) to a person who, at the time it is made, is related to X and subject to United Kingdom tax,
 - (b) an increase (other than an increase of a negligible amount) in the amount of an existing loan or advance made by X to a person who, at the time of the increase, is related to X and subject to United Kingdom tax,
 - (c) a change in the terms or conditions of an existing loan or advance made by X where—
 - (i) the loan or advance is to a person who, at the time the change is made, is related to X and subject to United Kingdom tax, and
 - (ii) the change has an effect (other than a negligible effect) on the amount of interest payable, or
 - (d) a transaction to which sub-paragraph (4) applies.
- (4) This sub-paragraph applies to a transaction if—
- (a) it is referable to an activity carried on by X as part, or the whole, of any non-exempt activities carried on by X,
 - (b) the results of the transaction are reflected in the profits arising in an accounting period of X and are not negligible in value, and
 - (c) the results of the transaction alone, or together with the results of one or more other transactions, achieves a reduction in United Kingdom tax.

Gains on disposal of shares in controlled foreign companies

- 3 (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- ^{F4509}(a) an accounting period of a controlled foreign company (“the apportionment period”) is one in respect of which an apportionment under section 747(3) falls to be made; and]
 - (b) the company’s chargeable profits for ^{F4510}the apportionment period] have been apportioned among the persons in subsection (3) of that section; and
 - (c) a company resident in the United Kingdom (“the claimant company”) disposes of—
 - (i) shares in the controlled foreign company, or
 - (ii) shares in another company which, in whole or in part, give rise to the claimant company’s interest in the controlled foreign company, being, in either case, shares acquired before the end of ^{F4510}the apportionment period]; and
 - (d) by virtue of the apportionment referred to in paragraph (b) above, a sum is, under section 747(4)(a), ^{F4511}chargeable on] the claimant company as if it were an amount of corporation tax; and
 - (e) the claimant company makes a claim for relief under this paragraph;
 and in this paragraph the disposal mentioned in paragraph (c) above is referred to as “the relevant disposal”.
- (2) Subject to the following provisions of this paragraph, in the computation under Chapter ^{F4512}III of Part II of the 1992] Act of the gain accruing on the relevant disposal, the appropriate fraction of the sum referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(d) above shall be allowable as a deduction; but to the extent that any sum has been allowed as a deduction under this sub-paragraph it shall not again be allowed as a deduction on any claim under this paragraph (whether made by the claimant company or another company).
- (3) In relation to the relevant disposal, the appropriate fraction is—

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

where—

A is the average market value in ^{F4513}the apportionment period] of the shares disposed of, and

B is the average market value in that period of the interest in the controlled foreign company which, in the case of the claimant company, was taken into account in the apportionment referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(b) above.

- (4) Where, before the relevant disposal—
- (a) a dividend is paid by the controlled foreign company, and
 - (b) the profits out of which the dividend is paid are those from which the chargeable profits referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(b) above are derived, and
 - (c) at least one of the two conditions in sub-paragraph (5) below is fulfilled,
- this paragraph does not apply in relation to a sum [^{F4514}chargeable under section 747(4)(a)] in respect of so much of the chargeable profits as corresponds to the profits which the dividend represents.
- (5) The conditions referred to in sub-paragraph (4) above are—
- (a) that the effect of the payment of the dividend is such that the value of the shares disposed of by the relevant disposal is less after the payment than it was before it; and
 - (b) that, in respect of a dividend paid or payable on the shares disposed of by the relevant disposal, the claimant company is, by virtue of paragraph 4(2) below, entitled under Part XVIII to relief (by way of underlying tax) by reference to sums which include the sum referred to in sub-paragraph (1) (d) above.
- (6) A claim for relief under this paragraph shall be made before the expiry of the period of three months beginning—
- (a) at the end of the accounting period in which the relevant disposal occurs; or
 - (b) if it is later, on the date on which the assessment to tax for which the claimant company is liable by virtue of section 747(4)(a) becomes final and conclusive.
- [^{F4515}(6A) Nothing in—
- (a) paragraph 10 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (claims or elections in company tax returns), or
 - (b) Schedule 1A to the Management Act (claims or elections not included in returns),
- shall apply, whether by virtue of section 754 or otherwise, to a claim under sub-paragraph (6) above.]
- (7) In identifying for the purposes of this paragraph shares in a company with shares of the same class which are disposed of by the relevant disposal, shares acquired at an earlier time shall be deemed to be disposed of before shares acquired at a later time.

Dividends from the controlled foreign company

- 4 (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- ^{F4516}(a) an accounting period of a controlled foreign company is one in respect of which an apportionment under subsection (3) of section 747 falls to be made; and]
 - (b) the company’s chargeable profits for that period have been apportioned among the persons referred to in [^{F4517}that subsection], and
 - (c) the controlled foreign company pays a dividend in whole or in part out of the total profits from which (in accordance with subsection (6)(a) of that section) those chargeable profits are derived.
- (2) Subject to paragraphs 5 and 6 below, where this paragraph applies, the aggregate of the sums [^{F4518}chargeable on] companies resident in the United Kingdom in accordance with section 747(4)(a) in respect of the chargeable profits referred to in sub-paragraph (1)(b) above shall be treated for the purposes of Part XVIII as if it were an amount of tax paid in respect of the profits concerned under the law of the territory in which the controlled foreign company was resident and, accordingly, as underlying tax for the purposes of Chapter II of that Part.
- (3) In the following provisions of this paragraph and in paragraphs 5 and 6 below, the aggregate of the sums which, under sub-paragraph (2) above, fall to be treated as underlying tax is referred to as the “gross attributed tax”.
- (4) If, in the case of a person who receives the dividend, section 796 or section 797 has the effect of reducing the amount which (apart from that section) would have been the amount of the credit for foreign tax which is to be allowed to that person, then, for the purposes of sub-paragraph (5) below, the amount of that reduction shall be determined and so much of it as does not exceed the amount of the foreign tax, exclusive of underlying tax, for which credit is to be allowed in respect of the dividend is in that sub-paragraph referred to as “the wasted relief”.
- (5) Except for the purpose of determining the amount of the wasted relief, the gross attributed tax shall be treated as reduced by the aggregate of the wasted relief arising in the case of all the persons falling within sub-paragraph (4) above and, on the making of a claim by any of the companies referred to in sub-paragraph (2) above—
- (a) the amount of tax [^{F4518}chargeable on] the company in accordance with section 747(4)(a) in respect of the chargeable profits referred to in sub-paragraph (1) (b) above shall, where appropriate, be reduced; and
 - (b) all such adjustments (whether by repayment of tax or otherwise) shall be made as are appropriate to give effect to any reduction under paragraph (a) above.

PART I

THE DISTRIBUTION TEST

Requirements as to distributions

- 1 (1) For the purposes of this Chapter, an offshore fund pursues a full distribution policy with respect to an account period if—
- (a) a distribution is made for that account period or for some other period which, in whole or in part, falls within that account period; and
 - (b) subject to Part II of this Schedule, the amount of the distribution which is paid to the holders of material and other interests in the fund—
 - (i) represents at least 85 per cent. of the income of the fund for that period, and
 - (ii) is not less than 85 per cent. of the fund's United Kingdom equivalent profits for that period; and
 - (c) the distribution is made during that account period or not more than six months, or such longer period as the Board may in any particular case allow, after the expiry of it; and

- (d) the form of the distribution is such that, if any sum forming part of it were received in the United Kingdom by a person resident there and did not form part of the profits of a trade, profession or vocation, that sum would fall to be chargeable to tax under Case IV or V of Schedule D;
- and any reference in this sub-paragraph to a distribution made for an account period includes a reference to any two or more distributions so made or, in the case of paragraph (b), the aggregate of them.
- (2) Subject to sub-paragraph (3) below, with respect to any account period for which—
- [^{F4519}(a) there is no income of the fund and there are no United Kingdom equivalent profits of the fund, or
- (b) the amount of the gross income of the fund does not exceed 1 per cent. of the average value of the fund's assets held during the account period,]
- the fund shall be treated as pursuing a full distribution policy notwithstanding that no distribution is made as mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) above.
- (3) For the purposes of this Chapter, an offshore fund shall be regarded as not pursuing a full distribution policy with respect to an account period for which the fund does not make up accounts.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) where a period for which an offshore fund makes up accounts includes the whole or part of two or more account periods of the fund, then, subject to paragraph (c) below, income shown in those accounts shall be apportioned between those account periods on a time basis according to the number of days in each period which are comprised in the period for which the accounts are made up;
- (b) where a distribution is made for a period which includes the whole or part of two or more account periods of the fund, then, subject to sub-paragraph (5) below, the distribution shall be apportioned between those account periods on a time basis according to the number of days in each period which are comprised in the period for which the distribution is made;
- (c) where a distribution is made out of specified income but is not made for a specified period, that income shall be attributed to the account period of the fund in which it in fact arose and the distribution shall be treated as made for that account period; and
- (d) where a distribution is made neither for a specified period nor out of specified income, then, subject to sub-paragraph (5) below, it shall be treated as made for the last account period of the fund which ended before the distribution was made.
- (5) If, apart from this sub-paragraph, the amount of a distribution made, or treated by virtue of sub-paragraph (4) above as made, for an account period would exceed the income of that period, then, for the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) if the amount of the distribution was determined by apportionment under sub-paragraph (4)(b) above, the excess shall be re-apportioned, as may be just and reasonable, to any other account period which, in whole or in part, falls within the period for which the distribution was made or, if there is more than one such period, between those periods; and
- (b) subject to paragraph (a) above, the excess shall be treated as an additional distribution or series of additional distributions made for preceding account periods in respect of which the distribution or, as the case may be, the aggregate distributions would otherwise be less than the income of the period, applying the excess to later account periods before earlier ones, until it is exhausted.

(6) In any case where—

- (a) for a period which is or includes an account period, an offshore fund is subject to any restriction as regards the making of distributions, being a restriction imposed by the law of any territory outside the United Kingdom; and
- (b) the fund is subject to that restriction by reason of an excess of losses over profits (applying the concepts of “profits” and “losses” in the sense in which and to the extent to which they are relevant for the purposes of the law in question);

then in determining for the purposes of the preceding provisions of this paragraph the amount of the fund’s income for that account period, there shall be allowed as a deduction any amount which, apart from this sub-paragraph, would form part of the income of the fund for that account period and which cannot be distributed by virtue of the restriction.

Funds operating equalisation arrangements

- 2 (1) In the case of an offshore fund which throughout any account period operates equalisation arrangements, on any occasion in that period when there is a disposal to which this sub-paragraph applies, the fund shall be treated for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule as making a distribution of an amount equal to so much of the consideration for the disposal as, in accordance with this paragraph, represents income accrued to the date of the disposal.
- (2) Sub-paragraph (1) above applies to a disposal—
- (a) which is a disposal of a material interest in the offshore fund concerned; and
 - (b) which is a disposal to which this Chapter applies (whether by virtue of section 758(3) or otherwise) or is one to which this Chapter would apply if subsections (5) and (6) of that section applied generally and not only for the purpose of determining whether, by virtue of subsection (3) of that section, there is a disposal to which this Chapter applies; and
 - (c) which is not a disposal with respect to which the conditions in subsection (4) of that section are fulfilled; and
 - (d) which is a disposal to the fund itself or to the persons concerned in the management of the fund (“the managers”) in their capacity as such.
- (3) On a disposal to which sub-paragraph (1) above applies, the part of the consideration which represents income accrued to the date of the disposal is, subject to sub-paragraph (4) and paragraph 4(4) below, the amount which would be credited to the equalisation account of the offshore fund concerned in respect of accrued income if, on the date of the disposal, the material interest which is disposed of were acquired by another person by way of initial purchase.

- (4) If, after the beginning of the period by reference to which the accrued income referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above is calculated, the material interest disposed of by a disposal to which sub-paragraph (1) above applies was acquired by way of initial purchase (whether or not by the person making the disposal)—
- (a) there shall be deducted from the amount which, in accordance with sub-paragraph (3) above, would represent income accrued to the date of the disposal, the amount which on that acquisition was credited to the equalisation account of the fund in respect of accrued income; and
 - (b) if in that period there has been more than one such acquisition of that material interest by way of initial purchase, the deduction to be made under this sub-paragraph shall be the amount so credited to the equalisation account on the latest such acquisition prior to the disposal in question.
- (5) Where, by virtue of this paragraph, an offshore fund is treated for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule as making a distribution on the occasion of a disposal, the distribution shall be treated for those purposes—
- (a) as complying with paragraph 1(1)(d) above; and
 - (b) as made out of the income of the fund for the account period in which the disposal occurs; and
 - (c) as paid, immediately before the disposal, to the person who was then the holder of the interest disposed of.
- (6) In any case where—
- (a) a distribution in respect of an interest in an offshore fund is made to the managers of the fund, and
 - (b) their holding of that interest is in their capacity as such, and
 - (c) at the time of the distribution, the fund is operating equalisation arrangements,
- the distribution shall not be taken into account for the purposes of paragraph 1(1) above except to the extent that the distribution is properly referable to that part of the period for which the distribution is made during which that interest has been held by the managers of the fund in their capacity as such.
- (7) Subsection (2) of section 758 applies for the purposes of this paragraph as it applies for the purposes of that section.

Income taxable under Case IV or Case V of Schedule D

- 3 (1) Sub-paragraph (2) below applies if any sums which form part of the income of an offshore fund falling within section 759(1)(b) or (c) are of such a nature that—
- (a) the holders of interests in the fund who are either companies resident in the United Kingdom or individuals domiciled and resident there—
 - (i) are chargeable to tax under Case IV or Case V of Schedule D in respect of such of those sums as are referable to their interests; or
 - (ii) if any of that income is derived from assets within the United Kingdom, would be so chargeable had the assets been outside the United Kingdom; and

- (b) the holders of interests who are not such companies or individuals would be chargeable as mentioned in sub-paragraph (i) or (ii) above if they were resident in the United Kingdom or, in the case of individuals, if they were domiciled and both resident and ordinarily resident there.
- (2) To the extent that sums falling within sub-paragraph (1) above do not actually form part of a distribution complying with paragraphs 1(1)(c) and (d) above, they shall be treated for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule—
- (a) as a distribution complying with those paragraphs and made out of the income of which they form part; and
 - (b) as paid to the holders of the interests to which they are referable.

Commodity income

- 4 (1) To the extent that the income of an offshore fund for any account period includes profits from dealing in commodities, one half of those profits shall be left out of account in determining for the purposes of paragraphs 1(1)(b) and 5 below—
- (a) the income of the fund for that period; and
 - (b) the fund's United Kingdom equivalent profits for that period;
- but in any account period in which an offshore fund incurs a loss in dealing in commodities the amount of that loss shall not be varied by virtue of this paragraph.
- (2) In this paragraph “dealing in commodities” shall be construed as follows—
- (a) “commodities” does not include currency, securities, debts or other assets of a financial nature but, subject to that, means tangible assets which are dealt with on a commodity exchange in any part of the world; and
 - (b) “dealing” includes dealing by way of futures contracts and traded options.
- (3) Where the income of an offshore fund for any account period consists of profits from dealing in commodities and other income, then—
- (a) in determining whether the condition in paragraph 1(1)(b) above is fulfilled with respect to that account period, the expenditure of the fund shall be apportioned in such manner as is just and reasonable between the profits from dealing in commodities and the other income; and
 - (b) in determining whether, and to what extent, any expenditure is deductible under section [75 ^{F4520}] in computing the fund's United Kingdom equivalent profits for that period, so much of the business of the fund as does not consist of dealing in commodities shall be treated as a business carried on by a separate company.
- (4) Where there is a disposal to which paragraph 2(1) above applies, then, to the extent that any amount which was or would be credited to the equalisation account in respect of accrued income, as mentioned in sub-paragraph (3) or (4) of that paragraph, represents profits from dealing in commodities, one half of that accrued income shall be left out of account in determining under those sub-paragraphs the part of the consideration for the disposal which represents income accrued to the date of the disposal.

United Kingdom equivalent profits

- 5 (1) Any reference in this Schedule to the United Kingdom equivalent profits of an offshore fund for an account period is a reference to the amount which, on the assumptions in sub-paragraph (3) below, would be the total profits of the fund for that period on which, after allowing for any deductions available against those profits, corporation tax would be chargeable.
- (2) In this paragraph the expression “profits” does not include chargeable gains.

- (a) sections 125 to 133 of the Finance Act 1993 (exchange gains and losses), and
 - (b) sections 159 and 160 of, and paragraph 1 of Schedule 18 to, the Finance Act 1994 (treatment of profits and losses on interest rate and currency contracts).]]
- (3) The assumptions referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above are—
- (a) that the offshore fund is a company which, in the account period in question, but not in any other account period, is resident in the United Kingdom; and
 - (b) that the account period is an accounting period of that company; and
 - (c) that any dividends or distributions which, by virtue of section 208, should be left out of account in computing income for corporation tax purposes are nevertheless to be brought into account in that computation in like manner as if they were dividends or distributions of a company resident outside the United Kingdom.
- (4) Without prejudice to any deductions available apart from this sub-paragraph, the deductions referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above include—
- (a) a deduction equal to any amount which, by virtue of paragraph 1(6) above, is allowed as a deduction in determining the income of the fund for the account period in question; and
 - (b) a deduction equal to any amount of tax (paid under the law of a territory outside the United Kingdom) which was taken into account as a deduction in determining the income of the fund for the account period in question but which, because it is referable to capital rather than income, does not fall to be taken into account by virtue of section 811.
- (5) For the avoidance of doubt it is hereby declared that, if any sums forming part of the offshore fund’s income for any period have been received by the fund without any deduction of or charge to tax [^{F4523}and have been so received by virtue of section 154(2) of the Finance Act 1996], the effect of the assumption in sub-paragraph (3)(a) above is that those sums are to be brought into account in determining the total profits referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above.

PART II

MODIFICATIONS OF CONDITIONS FOR CERTIFICATION IN CERTAIN CASES

Exclusion of investments in distributing offshore funds

- 6 (1) In any case where—
- (a) in an account period of an offshore fund (in this Part of this Schedule referred to as the “primary fund”), the assets of the fund consist of or include interests in another offshore fund; and
 - (b) those interests (together with other interests which the primary fund may have) are such that, by virtue of subsection (3)(a) or, if the other fund concerned is a company, subsection (3)(b) or (c) of section 760, the primary fund could not, apart from this paragraph, be certified as a distributing fund in respect of that account period; and
 - (c) without regard to the provisions of this paragraph, that other fund could be certified as a distributing fund in respect of its account period or, as the case may be, each of its account periods which comprises the whole or any part of the account period of the primary fund;
- then, in determining whether anything in section 760(3)(a) to (c) prevents the primary fund being certified as mentioned in paragraph (b) above, the interests of the primary fund in that other fund shall be left out of account except for the purposes of determining the total value of the assets of the primary fund.
- (2) In this Part of this Schedule an offshore fund falling within sub-paragraph (1)(c) above is referred to as a “qualifying fund”.
- (3) In a case falling within sub-paragraph (1) above—
- (a) section 760(3)(a) to (c) shall have effect in relation to the primary fund with the modification in paragraph 7 below (in addition to that provided for by sub-paragraph (1) above); and
 - (b) Part I of this Schedule shall have effect in relation to the primary fund with the modification in paragraph 8 below.

- 7 The modification referred to in paragraph 6(3)(a) above is that, in any case where—

- (a) at any time in the account period referred to in paragraph 6(1) above, the assets of the primary fund include an interest in an offshore fund or in any company (whether an offshore fund or not); and
- (b) that interest falls to be taken into account in determining whether anything in section 760(3)(a) to (c) prevents the primary fund being certified as a distributing fund in respect of that account period; and
- (c) at any time in that account period the assets of the qualifying fund include an interest in the offshore fund or company referred to in paragraph (a) above; for the purposes of the application in relation to the primary fund of section 760(3) (a) to (c), at any time when the assets of the qualifying fund include the interest referred to in paragraph (c) above, the primary fund's share of that interest shall be treated as an additional asset of the primary fund.

- 8
- (1) The modification referred to in paragraph 6(3)(b) above is that, in determining whether the condition in paragraph 1(1)(b)(ii) above is fulfilled with respect to the account period of the primary fund referred to in paragraph 6(1) above, the United Kingdom equivalent profits of the primary fund for that period shall be treated as increased by the primary fund's share of the excess income (if any) of the qualifying fund which is attributable to that period.
 - (2) For the purposes of this paragraph, the excess income of the qualifying fund for any account period of that fund is the amount (if any) by which its United Kingdom equivalent profits for that account period exceed the amount of the distributions made for that period, as determined for the purposes of the application of paragraph 1(1) above to the qualifying fund.
 - (3) If an account period of the qualifying fund coincides with an account period of the primary fund, then the excess income (if any) of the qualifying fund for that period is the excess income which is attributable to that period of the primary fund.
 - (4) In a case where sub-paragraph (3) above does not apply, the excess income of the qualifying fund which is attributable to an account period of the primary fund is the appropriate fraction of the excess income (if any) of the qualifying fund for any of its account periods which comprises the whole or any part of the account period of the primary fund and, if there is more than one such account period of the qualifying fund, the aggregate of the excess income (if any) of each of them.
 - (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4) above, the appropriate fraction is—

$$\frac{A}{B}$$

where—

A is the number of days in the account period of the primary fund which are also days in an account period of the qualifying fund; and

B is the number of days in that account period of the qualifying fund or, as the case may be, in each of those account periods of that fund which comprises the whole or any part of the account period of the primary fund.

- 9 (1) The references in paragraphs 7 and 8(1) above to the primary fund's share of—
- (a) an interest forming part of the assets of the qualifying fund, or
 - (b) the excess income (as defined in paragraph 8 above) of the qualifying fund,
- shall be construed as references to the fraction specified in sub-paragraph (2) below of that interest or excess income.
- (2) In relation to any account period of the primary fund, the fraction referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above is—

$$\frac{C}{D}$$

where—

C is the average value of the primary fund's holding of interests in the qualifying fund during that period; and

D is the average value of all the interests in the qualifying fund held by any persons during that period.

Offshore funds investing in trading companies

- 10 (1) In any case where the assets of an offshore fund for the time being include an interest in a trading company, as defined in sub-paragraph (2) below, the provisions of section 760(3) have effect subject to the modifications in sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) below.
- (2) In this paragraph “trading company” means a company whose business consists wholly of the carrying on of a trade or trades and does not to any extent consist of—
- (a) dealing in commodities, as defined in paragraph 4(2) above, or dealing, as so defined, in currency, securities, debts or other assets of a financial nature; or
 - (b) banking or money-lending.
- (3) In the application of section 760(3)(b) to so much of the assets of an offshore fund as for the time being consists of interests in a single trading company, for the words “10 per cent.” there shall be substituted the words “ 20 per cent. ”.
- (4) In the application of section 760(3)(c) to an offshore fund the assets of which for the time being include any issued share capital of a trading company or any class of that share capital, for the words “more than 10 per cent.” there shall be substituted the words “ 50 per cent. or more ”.

Offshore funds with wholly-owned subsidiaries

- 11 (1) In relation to an offshore fund which has a wholly-owned subsidiary which is a company the provisions of section 760(3) and Part I of this Schedule shall have effect subject to the modifications in sub-paragraph (3) below.
- (2) Subject to sub-paragraph (3) below, for the purposes of this paragraph, a company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of an offshore fund if and so long as the whole of the issued share capital of the company is—

- (a) in the case of an offshore fund falling within section 759(1)(a), directly and beneficially owned by the fund; and
 - (b) in the case of an offshore fund falling within section 759(1)(b), directly owned by the trustees of the fund for the benefit of the fund; and
 - (c) in the case of an offshore fund falling within section 759(1)(c), owned in a manner which, as near as may be, corresponds either to paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) above.
- (3) In the case of a company which has only one class of issued share capital, the reference in sub-paragraph (2) above to the whole of the issued share capital shall be construed as a reference to at least 95 per cent. of that share capital.
- (4) The modifications referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above are that, for the purposes of section 760(3) and Part I of this Schedule—
- (a) that percentage of the receipts, expenditure, assets and liabilities of the subsidiary which is equal to the percentage of the issued share capital of the company concerned which is owned as mentioned in sub-paragraph (2) above shall be regarded as the receipts, expenditure, assets and liabilities of the fund; and
 - (b) there shall be left out of account the interest of the fund in the subsidiary and any distributions or other payments made by the subsidiary to the fund or by the fund to the subsidiary.

Offshore funds with interests in dealing and management companies

- 12 (1) Section 760(3)(c) shall not apply to so much of the assets of an offshore fund as consists of issued share capital of a company which is either—
- (a) a wholly-owned subsidiary of the fund which falls within sub-paragraph (2) below; or
 - (b) a subsidiary management company of the fund, as defined in sub-paragraph (3) below.
- (2) A company which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of an offshore fund is one to which sub-paragraph (1)(a) above applies if—
- (a) the business of the company consists wholly of dealing in material interests in the offshore fund for the purposes of and in connection with the management and administration of the business of the fund; and
 - (b) the company is not entitled to any distribution in respect of any material interest for the time being held by it;
- and paragraph 11(2) above shall apply to determine whether a company is, for the purposes of this paragraph, a wholly-owned subsidiary of an offshore fund.
- (3) A company in which an offshore fund has an interest is for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(b) above a subsidiary management company of the fund if—
- (a) the company carries on no business other than providing services falling within sub-paragraph (4) below either for the fund alone or for the fund and for any other offshore fund which has an interest in the company; and
 - (b) the company's remuneration for the services which it provides to the fund is not greater than it would be if it were determined at arm's length between the fund and a company in which the fund has no interest.

- (4) The services referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above are—
- (a) holding property (of any description) which is occupied or used in connection with the management or administration of the fund; and
 - (b) providing administrative, management and advisory services to the fund.
- (5) In determining, in accordance with sub-paragraph (3) above, whether a company in which an offshore fund has an interest is a subsidiary management company of that fund—
- (a) every business carried on by a wholly-owned subsidiary of the company shall be treated as carried on by the company; and
 - (b) no account shall be taken of so much of the company's business as consists of holding its interests in a wholly-owned subsidiary; and
 - (c) any reference in sub-paragraph (3)(b) above to the company shall be taken to include a reference to a wholly-owned subsidiary of the company.
- (6) Any reference in sub-paragraph (5) above to a wholly-owned subsidiary of a company is a reference to another company the whole of the issued share capital of which is for the time being directly and beneficially owned by the first company.

Disregard of certain investments forming less than 5 per cent. of a fund

- 13 (1) In any case where—
- (a) in any account period of an offshore fund, the assets of the fund include a holding of issued share capital (or any class of issued share capital) of a company; and
 - (b) that holding is such that by virtue of section 760(3)(c) the fund could not (apart from this paragraph) be certified as a distributing fund in respect of that account period;
- then, if the condition in sub-paragraph (3) below is fulfilled, that holding shall be disregarded for the purposes of section 760(3)(c).
- (2) In this paragraph any holding falling within sub-paragraph (1) above is referred to as an “excess holding”.
- (3) The condition referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above is that at no time in the account period in question does that portion of the fund which consists of—
- (a) excess holdings, and
 - (b) interests in other offshore funds which are not qualifying funds,
- exceed 5 per cent. by value of all the assets of the fund.

Power of Board to disregard certain breaches of conditions

- 14 If, in the case of any account period of an offshore fund ending after the passing of the ^{M1820}Finance (No. 2) Act 1987 (23rd July 1987), it appears to the Board that there has been a failure to comply with any of the conditions in paragraphs (a) to (c) of section 760(3) (as modified, where appropriate, by the preceding provisions of this Part of this Schedule) but the Board are satisfied—
- (a) that the failure occurred inadvertently; and

(b) that the failure was remedied without unreasonable delay, the Board may disregard the failure in determining whether to certify the fund as a distributing fund in respect of that account period.

PART III

CERTIFICATION PROCEDURE

Application for certification

- 15 (1) The Board shall, in such manner as they think appropriate, certify an offshore fund as a distributing fund in respect of an account period if—
- (a) an application in respect of that period is made under this paragraph; and
 - (b) the application is accompanied by the accounts of the fund for, or for a period which includes, the account period to which the application relates; and
 - (c) there is furnished to the Board such information as they may reasonably require for the purpose of determining whether the fund should be so certified; and
 - (d) they are satisfied that nothing in section 760(2) or (3) prevents the fund being so certified.
- (2) An application under this paragraph shall be made to the Board by the fund or by a trustee or officer thereof on behalf of the fund and may be so made—
- (a) before the expiry of the period of six months beginning at the end of the account period to which the application relates; or
 - (b) at such later time as the Board may in any particular case allow.
- (3) In any case where, on an application under this paragraph, the Board determine that the offshore fund concerned should not be certified as a distributing fund in respect of the account period to which the application relates, they shall give notice of that fact to the fund.
- (4) If at any time it appears to the Board that the accounts accompanying an application under this paragraph in respect of any account period of an offshore fund or any information furnished to the Board in connection with such an application is or are not such as to make full and accurate disclosure of all facts and considerations relevant to the application, they shall give notice to the fund accordingly, specifying the period concerned.
- (5) Where a notice is given by the Board under sub-paragraph (4) above, any certification by them in respect of the account period in question shall be void.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

Appeals

- 16 (1) An appeal to the Special Commissioners—
- (a) against such a determination as is referred to in paragraph 15(3) above, or
 - (b) against a notification under paragraph 15(4) above,
- may be made by the offshore fund or by a trustee or officer thereof on behalf of the fund, and shall be so made by notice specifying the grounds of appeal and given to the Board within 90 days of the date of the notice under paragraph 15(3) or (4), as the case may be.
- (2) The jurisdiction of the Special Commissioners on an appeal under this paragraph shall include jurisdiction to review any decision of the Board which is relevant to a ground of the appeal.

PART IV

SUPPLEMENTARY

Assessment: effect of non-certification

- 17 No appeal may be brought against an assessment to tax on the ground that an offshore fund should have been certified as a distributing fund in respect of an account period of the fund.
- 18 (1) Without prejudice to paragraph 17 above, in any case where no application has been made under paragraph 15 above in respect of an account period of an offshore fund, any person who is assessed to tax for which he would not be liable if the offshore fund were certified as a distributing fund in respect of that period may by notice in writing require the Board to take action under this paragraph with a view to determining whether the fund should be so certified.
- (2) Subject to sub-paragraphs (3) and (5) below, if the Board receive a notice under sub-paragraph (1) above, they shall by notice invite the offshore fund concerned to make an application under paragraph 15 above in respect of the period in question.
- (3) Where sub-paragraph (2) above applies, the Board shall not be required to give notice under that sub-paragraph before the expiry of the account period to which the notice is to relate nor if an application under paragraph 15 above has already been made; but where notice is given under that sub-paragraph, an application under paragraph 15 above shall not be out of time under paragraph 15(2)(a) above if it is made within 90 days of the date of that notice.
- (4) If an offshore fund to which notice is given under sub-paragraph (2) above does not, within the time allowed by sub-paragraph (3) above or, as the case may be, paragraph 15(2)(a) above, make an application under paragraph 15 above in respect of the account period in question, the Board shall proceed to determine the question of certification in respect of that period as if such an application had been made.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (5) Where the Board receive more than one notice under sub-paragraph (1) above with respect to the same account period of the same offshore fund, their obligations under sub-paragraphs (2) and (4) above shall be taken to be fulfilled with respect to each of those notices if they are fulfilled with respect to any one of them.
- (6) Notwithstanding anything in sub-paragraph (5) above, for the purpose of a determination under sub-paragraph (4) above with respect to an account period of an offshore fund, the Board shall have regard to accounts and other information furnished by all persons who have given notice under sub-paragraph (1) above with respect to that account period; and paragraph 15 above shall apply as if accounts and information so furnished had been furnished in compliance with sub-paragraph (1) of that paragraph.
- (7) Without prejudice to sub-paragraph (5) above, in any case where—
- (a) at a time after the Board have made a determination under sub-paragraph (4) above that an offshore fund should not be certified as a distributing fund in respect of an account period, notice is given under sub-paragraph (1) above with respect to that period; and
 - (b) the person giving that notice furnishes the Board with accounts or information which had not been furnished to the Board at the time of the earlier determination;
- the Board shall reconsider their previous determination in the light of the new accounts or information and, if they consider it appropriate, may determine to certify the fund accordingly.
- (8) Where any person has given notice to the Board under sub-paragraph (1) above with respect to an account period of an offshore fund and no application has been made under paragraph 15 above with respect to that period—
- (a) the Board shall notify that person of their determination with respect to certification under sub-paragraph (4) above; and
 - (b) paragraph 16 above shall not apply in relation to that determination.

Postponement of tax pending determination of question as to certification

- 19 (1) In any case where—
- (a) an application has been made under paragraph 15 above with respect to an account period of an offshore fund and that application has not been finally determined; or
 - (b) paragraph (a) above does not apply but notice has been given under paragraph 18(1) above in respect of an account period of an offshore fund and the Board have not yet given notice of their decision as to certification under paragraph 18(4) above; any person who has been assessed to tax and considers that, if the offshore fund were to be certified as a distributing fund in respect of the account period in question, he would be overcharged to tax by the assessment may, by notice given to the inspector within 30 days after the date of the issue of the notice of assessment, apply to the General Commissioners for a determination of the amount of tax the payment of which should be postponed pending the determination of the question whether the fund should be so certified.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) A notice of application under sub-paragraph (1) above shall state the amount in which the applicant believes that he is over-charged to tax and his grounds for that belief.
- (3) Subsections (3A) onwards of section 55 of the Management Act (recovery of tax not postponed) shall apply with any necessary modifications in relation to an application under sub-paragraph (1) above as if it were an application under subsection (3) of that section and as if the determination of the question as to certification (whether by the Board or on appeal) were the determination of an appeal.

Information as to decisions on certification etc.

- 20 No obligation as to secrecy imposed by statute or otherwise shall preclude the Board or an inspector from disclosing to any person appearing to have an interest in the matter—
- (a) any determination of the Board or (on appeal) the Special Commissioners whether an offshore fund should or should not be certified as a distributing fund in respect of any account period; or
 - (b) the content and effect of any notice given by the Board under paragraph 15(4) above.

Section 761(1).

COMPUTATION OF OFFSHORE INCOME GAINS ^{M1821}

PART I

DISPOSALS OF INTERESTS IN NON-QUALIFYING FUNDS

Interpretation

- 1 In this Part of this Schedule “material disposal” means a disposal to which this Chapter applies, otherwise than by virtue of section 758.

Calculation of unindexed gain

- 2 (1) Where there is a material disposal, there shall first be determined for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule the amount (if any) which, in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph, is the unindexed gain accruing to the person making the disposal.
- (2) Subject to section 757(3) to (6) and paragraph 3 below, the unindexed gain accruing on a material disposal is the amount which would be the gain on that disposal for the purposes of the [^{F4524}1992] Act if it were computed—
- (a) without regard to any charge to income tax or corporation tax by virtue of section 761; and
 - (b) without regard to any indexation allowance on the disposal under [^{F4524}the 1992 Act].

Textual Amendments

F4524 Words in Sch. 28 para. 2 substituted (6.3.1992 with effect as mentioned in s. 289(1)(2) of the amending Act) by Taxation of Chargeable Gains Act 1992 (c. 12), ss. 289, 290, Sch. 10 para. 14(63)(a) (with ss. 60, 101(1), 171, 201(3))

- 3 (1) If the amount of any chargeable gain or allowable loss which (apart from section 763) would accrue on the material disposal would fall to be determined in a way which, in whole or in part, would take account of the indexation allowance on an earlier disposal to which [^{F4525}section 56(2) of the 1992 Act] (disposals on a no gain/no loss basis) applies, the unindexed gain on the material disposal shall be computed as if—
- (a) no indexation allowance had been available on any such earlier disposal; and
 - (b) subject to that, neither a gain nor a loss had accrued to the person making such an earlier disposal.

There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)*

- (2) If the material disposal forms part of a transfer to which section [F4525 162 of the 1992 Act] (roll-over relief on transfer of business) applies, the unindexed gain accruing on the disposal shall be computed without regard to any deduction which falls to be made under that section in computing a chargeable gain.
- (3) If the material disposal is made otherwise than under a bargain at arm's length and a claim for relief is made in respect of that disposal under [F4525 section 165 or 260 of the 1992 Act (relief for gifts) the claim shall] not affect the computation of the unindexed gain accruing on the disposal.
- (4)
- (5) Notwithstanding section [F4525 16 of the 1992 Act] (losses determined in like manner as gains) if, apart from this sub-paragraph, the effect of any computation under the preceding provisions of this Part of this Schedule would be to produce a loss, the unindexed gain on the material disposal shall be treated as nil; and accordingly for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule no loss shall be treated as accruing on a material disposal.
- (6) Section 431 has effect in relation to sub-paragraph (4) above as if it were included in Chapter I of Part XII.

Gains since 1st January 1984

- 4 (1) This paragraph applies where—
 - (a) the interest in the offshore fund which is disposed of by the person making a material disposal was acquired by him before 1st January 1984; or
 - (b) he is treated by virtue of any provision of sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) below as having acquired the interest before that date.
- (2) Where this paragraph applies, there shall be determined for the purposes of this Part of this Schedule the amount which would have been the gain on the material disposal—
 - (a) on the assumption that, on 1st January 1984, the interest was disposed of and immediately reacquired for a consideration equal to its market value at that time; and
 - (b) subject to that, on the basis that the gain is computed in like manner as, under paragraphs 2 and 3 above, the unindexed gain on the material disposal is determined; and that amount is in paragraph 5 below referred to as the “post-1983 gain” on the material disposal.

- (3) Where the person making the material disposal acquired the interest disposed of—
- (a) on or after 1st January 1984, and
 - (b) in such circumstances that, by virtue of any enactment other than section [F452656, 57, 131 or 145 of the 1992 Act] (indexation provisions), he and the person from whom he acquired it (“the previous owner”) fell to be treated for the purposes of the [1992] Act as if his acquisition were for a consideration of such an amount as would secure that, on the disposal under which he acquired it, neither a gain nor a loss accrued to the previous owner,
- the previous owner’s acquisition of the interest shall be treated as his acquisition of it.
- (4) If the previous owner acquired the interest disposed of on or after 1st January 1984 and in circumstances similar to those referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above, his predecessor’s acquisition of the interest shall be treated for the purposes of this paragraph as the previous owner’s acquisition, and so on back through previous acquisitions in similar circumstances until the first such acquisition before 1st January 1984 or, as the case may be, until an acquisition on a material disposal on or after that date.

The offshore income gain

- 5 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, a material disposal gives rise to an offshore income gain of an amount equal to the unindexed gain on that disposal.
- (2) In any case where—
- (a) paragraph 4 above applies, and
 - (b) the post-1983 gain on the material disposal is less than the unindexed gain on the disposal,
- the offshore income gain to which the disposal gives rise is an amount equal to the post-1983 gain.

PART II

DISPOSALS INVOLVING AN EQUALISATION ELEMENT

- 6 (1) Subject to paragraph 7 below, a disposal to which this Chapter applies by virtue of section 758(3) gives rise to an offshore income gain of an amount equal to the equalisation element relevant to the asset disposed of.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Subject to sub-paragraphs (4) to (6) below, the equalisation element relevant to the asset disposed of by a disposal falling within sub-paragraph (1) above is the amount which would be credited to the equalisation account of the offshore fund concerned in respect of accrued income if, on the date of the disposal, the asset which is disposed of were acquired by another person by way of initial purchase.
- (3) In the following provisions of this Part of this Schedule, a disposal falling within sub-paragraph (1) above is referred to as a “disposal involving an equalisation element”.
- (4) Where the asset disposed of by a disposal involving an equalisation element was acquired by the person making the disposal after the beginning of the period by reference to which the accrued income referred to in sub-paragraph (2) above is calculated, the amount which, apart from this sub-paragraph, would be the equalisation element relevant to that asset shall be reduced by the following amount, that is to say—
- (a) if that acquisition took place on or after 1st January 1984, the amount which, on that acquisition, was credited to the equalisation account of the offshore fund concerned in respect of accrued income or, as the case may be, would have been so credited if that acquisition had been an acquisition by way of initial purchase; and
 - (b) in any other case, the amount which would have been credited to that account in respect of accrued income if that acquisition had been an acquisition by way of initial purchase taking place on 1st January 1984.
- (5) In any case where—
- (a) the asset disposed of by a disposal involving an equalisation element was acquired by the person making the disposal at or before the beginning of the period by reference to which the accrued income referred to in sub-paragraph (2) above is calculated, and
 - (b) that period began before 1st January 1984 and ends after that date,
- the amount which, apart from this sub-paragraph, would be the equalisation element relevant to that asset shall be reduced by the amount which would have been credited to the equalisation account of the offshore fund concerned in respect of accrued income if the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a) above had been an acquisition by way of initial purchase taking place on 1st January 1984.
- (6) Where there is a disposal involving an equalisation element, then, to the extent that any amount which was or would be credited to the equalisation account of the offshore fund in respect of accrued income, as mentioned in any of sub-paragraphs (2) to (5) above, represents profits from dealing in commodities, within the meaning of paragraph 4 of Schedule 27, one half of that accrued income shall be left out of account in determining under those sub-paragraphs the equalisation element relevant to the asset disposed of by that disposal.
- 7 (1) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule, there shall be determined, in accordance with paragraph 8 below, the Part I gain (if any) on any disposal involving an equalisation element.
- (2) Notwithstanding anything in paragraph 6 above—
- (a) if there is no Part I gain on a disposal involving an equalisation element, that disposal shall not give rise to an offshore income gain; and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) if, apart from this paragraph, the offshore income gain on a disposal involving an equalisation element would exceed the Part I gain on that disposal, the offshore income gain to which that disposal gives rise shall be reduced to an amount equal to that Part I gain.

- 8 (1) On a disposal involving an equalisation element, the Part I gain is the amount (if any) which, by virtue of Part I of this Schedule (as modified by sub-paragraphs (2) to (5) below), would be the offshore income gain on that disposal if it were a material disposal within the meaning of that Part.
- (2) For the purposes only of the application of Part I of this Schedule to determine the Part I gain (if any) on a disposal involving an equalisation element, subsections (5) and (6) of section 758 shall have effect as if, in subsection (5), the words “by virtue of subsection (3) above” were omitted.
- (3) If a disposal involving an equalisation element is one which, by virtue of any enactment other than section [F4527 56, 57, 131 or 145 of the 1992 Act], is treated for the purposes of the [F4527 1992] Act as one on which neither a gain nor a loss accrues to the person making the disposal, then, for the purpose only of determining the Part I gain (if any) on the disposal, that enactment shall be deemed not to apply to it (but without prejudice to the application of that enactment to any earlier disposal).

SCHEDULE 28A

CHANGE IN OWNERSHIP OF INVESTMENT COMPANY: DEDUCTIONS

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1097Sch. 28A modified (22.7.2004) by Finance Act 2004 \(c. 12\), s. 43\(7\)

PART I

SIGNIFICANT INCREASE IN COMPANY CAPITAL

General

- 1 The provisions referred to in section 768B(2) for determining whether there is a significant increase in the amount of a company's capital after a change in the ownership of the company are as follows.

The basic rule

- 2 There is a significant increase in the amount of a company's capital if amount B—
- (a) exceeds amount A by at least £1 million; or
 - (b) is at least twice amount A.

Amount A

- 3 (1) Amount A is the lower of—
- (a) the amount of the company's capital immediately before the change in the ownership; and
 - (b) the highest 60 day minimum amount for the pre-change year, found in accordance with sub-paragraphs (2) to (6) below.
- (2) Find the daily amounts of the company's capital over the pre-change year.
- (3) Take the highest of the daily amounts.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (4) Find out whether there was in the pre-change year a period of 60 days or more in which there was no daily amount lower than the amount taken.
- (5) If there was, the amount taken is the highest 60 day minimum amount for the pre-change year.
- (6) If there was not, take the next highest of the daily amounts and repeat the process in sub-paragraph (4) above; and so on, until the highest 60 day minimum amount for the pre-change year is found.
- (7) In this Part of this Schedule “the pre-change year” means the period of one year ending immediately before the change in the ownership of the company in question.

Amount B

- 4 (1) Amount B is the highest 60 day minimum amount for the post-change period (finding that amount for that period in the same way as the highest 60 day minimum amount for the pre-change year is found).
- (2) In this paragraph “the post-change period” means the period of three years beginning with the change in the ownership of the company in question.

Capital and amounts of capital

- 5 (1) The capital of a company consists of the aggregate of—
 - (a) the amount of the paid up share capital of the company;
 - (b) the amount outstanding of any debts incurred by the company which are of a description mentioned in any of paragraphs (a) to (c) of section 417(7); and
 - (c) the amount outstanding of any redeemable loan capital issued by the company.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above—
 - (a) the amount of the paid up share capital includes any amount in the share premium account of the company (construing “share premium account” in the same way as in section 130 of the ^{M1822}Companies Act 1985); and
 - (b) the amount outstanding of any debts includes any interest due on the debts.
- (3) Amounts of capital shall be expressed in sterling and rounded up to the nearest pound.

PART IV

DISALLOWED DEBITS

- 9 (1) This paragraph has effect in a case to which section 768B applies for determining the debits to be brought into account for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships) for—
- (a) the accounting period beginning immediately after the change in the ownership of the company; and
 - (b) any subsequent accounting period.
- (2) The debits so brought into account shall not include the debits falling within paragraph 11 below to the extent (if at all) that the aggregate of—
- (a) the amount of those debits, and
 - (b) the amount of any debits falling within that paragraph which have been brought into account for the purposes of that Chapter for any previous accounting period ending after the change in the ownership,
- exceeds the profits for the accounting period ending with the change in the ownership.
- (3) The reference in sub-paragraph (2) above to the profits is a reference to profits after making all deductions and giving all reliefs that for the purposes of corporation tax are made or given against the profits, including deductions and reliefs which under any provision are treated as reducing them for those purposes.

VALID FROM 20/07/2005

- 9A (1) This paragraph has effect in any case to which section 768B applies where the non-trading deficit mentioned in paragraph 6(dc) above is apportioned by paragraph 7(b) above to the first part of the accounting period being divided.
- (2) In any such case, none of that non-trading deficit shall be carried forward to—

- (a) the accounting period beginning immediately after the change in the ownership of the company, or
- (b) any subsequent accounting period.

- 10 (1) This paragraph has effect in a case to which section 768C applies for determining the debits to be brought into account for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 (loan relationships) for—
- (a) the accounting period beginning immediately after the change in the ownership of the relevant company; and
 - (b) any subsequent accounting period.
- (2) The debits so brought into account for any such accounting period shall not include the debits falling within paragraph 11 below to the extent (if at all) that the amount of those debits exceeds the modified total profits for the accounting period.
- (3) The reference in sub-paragraph (2) above to the modified total profits for an accounting period is a reference to the total profits for that period—
- (a) reduced, if that period is the period in which the relevant gain accrues, by an amount equal to the amount of the total profits for that period which represents the relevant gain; and
 - (b) after making all deductions and giving all reliefs that for the purposes of corporation tax are made or given against the profits, including deductions and reliefs which under any provision are treated as reducing them for those purposes, other than any reduction by virtue of paragraph 1(2) of Schedule 8 to the Finance Act 1996.
- (4) Where by virtue of sub-paragraph (2) above a debit is to any extent not brought into account for an accounting period, that debit may (to that extent) be brought into account for the next accounting period, but this is subject to the application of sub-paragraphs (1) to (3) above to that next accounting period.

VALID FROM 20/07/2005

- 10A (1) This paragraph has effect in any case to which section 768C applies where the non-trading deficit mentioned in paragraph 13(1)(ec) below is apportioned by paragraph 16(1)(b) below to the first part of the accounting period being divided.
- (2) In any such case, none of that non-trading deficit shall be carried forward to—
- (a) the accounting period beginning immediately after the change in the ownership of the company, or
 - (b) any subsequent accounting period.

- 11 (1) A debit falls within this paragraph if it is a non-trading debit which—
- (a) falls to be brought into account for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 in accordance with an authorised accruals basis of accounting;

- (b) so falls to be brought into account on the assumption, specified in sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 2 of Schedule 9 to that Act, that the interest to which it relates does not accrue until it is paid; and
 - (c) apart from that sub-paragraph, would have fallen to be brought into account for those purposes for an accounting period ending before or with the change in the ownership of the company or, as the case may be, the relevant company.
- (2) The debits that fall within this paragraph also include—
- (a) ^{F4538}
 - (b) any non-trading debit given by paragraph 13 of Schedule 15 to the Finance Act 1996 (transitional adjustment for past interest) in respect of any debtor relationship of the company or, as the case may be, the relevant company.
- (3) The debits that fall within this paragraph also include any non-trading debit which—
- (a) is not such a debit as is mentioned in sub-paragraph (1) or (2) above;
 - (b) is a debit in respect of a debtor relationship of the company or, as the case may be, the relevant company;
 - (c) falls to be brought into account for the purposes of Chapter II of Part IV of the Finance Act 1996 in accordance with an authorised accruals basis of accounting; and
 - (d) relates to an amount that accrued before the change in the ownership of that company.
- (4) In this paragraph “post-change accounting period” means the accounting period beginning immediately after the change in the ownership of the company or, as the case may be, the relevant company.

PART VI

APPORTIONMENT FOR PURPOSES OF SECTION 768C

- 14 The apportionment required by section 768C(3)(c) shall be made as follows.
- 15 In the case of the amount mentioned in paragraph 13(1)(a) above—
- (a) if it does not exceed the amount of the relevant gain, the whole of it shall be apportioned to the second part of the accounting period being divided;
 - (b) if it exceeds the amount of the relevant gain, the excess shall be apportioned to the first part of the accounting period being divided and the relevant gain shall be apportioned to the second part.
- 16 (1) Subject to paragraph 17 below, the apportionment shall be made—
- (a) in the case of the sums and charges mentioned in paragraph 13(1)(b) and (c) above, by reference to the time when the sum or charge is due to be paid;
 - (b) in the case of the excess mentioned in paragraph 13(1)(d) above, [^{F4544}or in the case of the non-trading [^{F4545}deficit] mentioned in paragraph 13(1)(ec) above,] by apportioning the whole amount of the excess to the first part of the accounting period being divided;

Basic rule on transfer pricing etc.

- 1 (1) This Schedule applies where—
- (a) provision (“the actual provision”) has been made or imposed as between any two persons (“the affected persons”) by means of a transaction or series of transactions, and
- (b) at the time of the making or imposition of the actual provision—
- (i) one of the affected persons was directly or indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of the other; or

(ii) the same person or persons was or were directly or indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of each of the affected persons.

(2) Subject to paragraphs 8, 10 and 13 below, if the actual provision—

- (a) differs from the provision (“the arm's length provision”) which would have been made as between independent enterprises, and
- (b) confers a potential advantage in relation to United Kingdom taxation on one of the affected persons, or (whether or not the same advantage) on each of them, the profits and losses of the potentially advantaged person or, as the case may be, of each of the potentially advantaged persons shall be computed for tax purposes as if the arm's length provision had been made or imposed instead of the actual provision.

(3) For the purposes of this Schedule the cases in which provision made or imposed as between any two persons is to be taken to differ from the provision that would have been made as between independent enterprises shall include the case in which provision is made or imposed as between any two persons but no provision would have been made as between independent enterprises; and references in this Schedule to the arm's length provision shall be construed accordingly.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Provision in relation to securities: determination of arm's length provision

1A (1) This paragraph applies where—

- (a) both of the affected persons are companies, and
- (b) the actual provision is provision in relation to a security issued by one of those companies (“the issuing company”).

(2) Paragraph 1(2)(a) above shall be construed as requiring account to be taken of all factors, including—

- (a) the question whether the loan would have been made at all in the absence of the special relationship (see sub-paragraph (6) below),
- (b) the amount which the loan would have been in the absence of the special relationship, and
- (c) the rate of interest and other terms which would have been agreed in the absence of the special relationship, but this is subject to the following provisions of this paragraph.

(3) In a case where—

- (a) a company makes a loan to another company with which it has a special relationship, and
- (b) it is not part of the first company's business to make loans generally, the fact that it is not part of the first company's business to make loans generally shall be disregarded in construing sub-paragraph (2) above.

(4) Paragraph 1(2)(a) above shall be construed as requiring no account to be taken, in the determination of any of the matters mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) below, of

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

(or of any inference capable of being drawn from) any guarantee provided by a company with which the issuing company has a participatory relationship (see subparagraphs (7) and (8) below).

- (5) The matters are—
- (a) the appropriate level or extent of the issuing company's overall indebtedness;
 - (b) whether it might be expected that the issuing company and a particular person would have become parties to a transaction involving the issue of a security by the issuing company or the making of a loan, or a loan of a particular amount, to the issuing company;
 - (c) the rate of interest and other terms that might be expected to be applicable in any particular case to such a transaction.
- (6) In this paragraph “special relationship” means any relationship by virtue of which the condition in paragraph 1(1)(b) above is satisfied in the case of the affected persons.
- (7) In this paragraph any reference to a guarantee includes a reference to a surety and to any other relationship, arrangements, connection or understanding (whether formal or informal) such that the person making the loan to the issuing company has a reasonable expectation that in the event of a default by the issuing company he will be paid by, or out of the assets of, one or more companies.
- (8) For the purposes of this paragraph, the cases where one company has a “participatory relationship” with another are those where—
- (a) one of them is directly or indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of the other; or
 - (b) the same person or persons is or are directly or indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of each of them.
- (9) In this paragraph “security” includes securities not creating or evidencing a charge on assets.
- (10) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) interest payable by a company on money advanced without the issue of a security for the advance, or
 - (b) other consideration given by a company for the use of money so advanced, shall be treated as if payable or given in respect of a security issued for the advance by the company, and references in this paragraph to a security shall be construed accordingly.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Guarantees etc

- 1B (1) This paragraph applies where the actual provision is made or imposed by means of a series of transactions which include—
- (a) the issuing of a security by a company which is one of the affected persons (“the issuing company”), and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. - (b) the provision of a guarantee by a company which is the other of those persons.
- (2) Paragraph 1(2)(a) above shall be construed as requiring account to be taken of all factors, including—
 - (a) the question whether the guarantee would have been provided at all in the absence of the special relationship,
 - (b) the amount that would have been guaranteed in the absence of the special relationship, and
 - (c) the consideration for the guarantee and other terms which would have been agreed in the absence of the special relationship, but this is subject to the following provisions of this paragraph.
- (3) In a case where—
 - (a) a company provides a guarantee in respect of another company with which it has a special relationship, and
 - (b) it is not part of the first company's business to provide guarantees generally, the fact that it is not part of the first company's business to provide guarantees generally shall be disregarded in construing sub-paragraph (2) above.
- (4) Paragraph 1(2)(a) above shall be construed as requiring no account to be taken, in the determination of any of the matters mentioned in sub-paragraph (5) below, of (or of any inference capable of being drawn from) any guarantee provided by a company with which the issuing company has a participatory relationship.
- (5) The matters are—
 - (a) the appropriate level or extent of the issuing company's overall indebtedness;
 - (b) whether it might be expected that the issuing company and a particular person would have become parties to a transaction involving the issue of a security by the issuing company or the making of a loan, or a loan of a particular amount, to the issuing company;
 - (c) the rate of interest and other terms that might be expected to be applicable in any particular case to such a transaction.
- (6) The following provisions of paragraph 1A above also apply for the purposes of this paragraph—
 - (a) sub-paragraph (6) (meaning of special relationship);
 - (b) sub-paragraph (7) (construction of references to a guarantee);
 - (c) sub-paragraph (8) (meaning of participatory relationship);
 - (d) sub-paragraph (9) (meaning of security);
 - (e) sub-paragraph (10) (extended meaning of security).

Principles for construing rules in accordance with OECD principles

- 2 (1) This Schedule shall be construed (subject to paragraphs 8 to 11 below) in such manner as best secures consistency between—
 - (a) the effect given to paragraph 1 above; and

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) the effect which, in accordance with the transfer pricing guidelines, is to be given, in cases where double taxation arrangements incorporate the whole or any part of the OECD model, to so much of the arrangements as does so.
- (2) In this paragraph “the OECD model” means—
- (a) the rules which, at the passing of this Act, were contained in Article 9 of the Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital published by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development; or
 - (b) any rules in the same or equivalent terms.
- (3) In this paragraph “the transfer pricing guidelines” means—
- (a) all the documents published by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, at any time before 1st May 1998, as part of their Transfer Pricing Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and Tax Administrations; and
 - (b) such documents published by that Organisation on or after that date as may for the purposes of this Schedule be designated, by an order made by the Treasury, as comprised in the transfer pricing guidelines.

Meaning of “transaction” and “series of transaction”s

- 3
- (1) In this Schedule “transaction” includes arrangements, understandings and mutual practices (whether or not they are, or are intended to be, legally enforceable).
 - (2) References in this Schedule to a series of transactions include references to a number of transactions each entered into (whether or not one after the other) in pursuance of, or in relation to, the same arrangement.
 - (3) A series of transactions shall not be prevented by reason only of one or more of the matters mentioned in sub-paragraph (4) below from being regarded for the purposes of this Schedule as a series of transactions by means of which provision has been made or imposed as between any two persons.
 - (4) Those matters are—
 - (a) that there is no transaction in the series to which both those persons are parties;
 - (b) that the parties to any arrangement in pursuance of which the transactions in the series are entered into do not include one or both of those persons; and
 - (c) that there is one or more transactions in the series to which neither of those persons is a party.
 - (5) In this paragraph, “arrangement” means any scheme or arrangement of any kind (whether or not it is, or is intended to be, legally enforceable).

Participation in the management, control or capital of a person

- 4 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule a person is directly participating in the management, control or capital of another person at a particular time if, and only if, that other person is at that time—
- (a) a body corporate or a partnership; and
 - (b) controlled by the first person.
- (2) For the purposes of this Schedule a person (“the potential participant”) is indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of another person at a particular time if, and only if—
- (a) he would be taken to be directly so participating at that time if the rights and powers attributed to him included all the rights and powers mentioned in sub-paragraph (3) below that are not already attributed to him for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above; or
 - (b) he is, at that time, one of a number of major participants in that other person’s enterprise.
- (3) The rights and powers referred to in sub-paragraph (2)(a) above are—
- (a) rights and powers which the potential participant is entitled to acquire at a future date or which he will, at a future date, become entitled to acquire;
 - (b) rights and powers of persons other than the potential participant to the extent that they are rights or powers falling within sub-paragraph (4) below;
 - (c) rights and powers of any person with whom the potential participant is connected; and
 - (d) rights and powers which for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(a) above would be attributed to a person with whom the potential participant is connected if that connected person were himself the potential participant.
- (4) Rights and powers fall within this sub-paragraph to the extent that they—
- (a) are required, or may be required, to be exercised in any one or more of the following ways, that is to say—
 - (i) on behalf of the potential participant;
 - (ii) under the direction of the potential participant; or
 - (iii) for the benefit of the potential participant;
 and
 - (b) are not confined, in a case where a loan has been made by one person to another, to rights and powers conferred in relation to property of the borrower by the terms of any security relating to the loan.
- (5) In sub-paragraphs (3)(b) to (d) and (4) above, the references to a person’s rights and powers include references to any rights or powers which he either—
- (a) is entitled to acquire at a future date, or
 - (b) will, at a future date, become entitled to acquire.
- (6) In paragraph (d) of sub-paragraph (3) above, the reference to rights and powers which would be attributed to a connected person if he were the potential participant includes a reference to rights and powers which, by applying that paragraph wherever one person is connected with another, would be so attributed to him through a number of persons each of whom is connected with at least one of the others.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (7) For the purposes of this paragraph a person (“the potential major participant”) is a major participant in another person’s enterprise at a particular time if at that time—
- (a) that other person (“the subordinate”) is a body corporate or partnership; and
 - (b) the 40 per cent. test is satisfied in the case of each of two persons who, taken together, control the subordinate and of whom one is the potential major participant.
- (8) For the purposes of this paragraph the 40 per cent. test is satisfied in the case of each of two persons wherever each of them has interests, rights and powers representing at least 40 per cent. of the holdings, rights and powers in respect of which the pair of them fall to be taken as controlling the subordinate.
- (9) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) the question whether a person is controlled by any two or more persons taken together, and
 - (b) any question whether the 40 per cent. test is satisfied in the case of a person who is one of two persons,
- shall be determined after attributing to each of the persons all the rights and powers attributed to a potential participant for the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(a) above.
- (10) References in this paragraph—
- (a) to rights and powers of a person, or
 - (b) to rights and powers which a person is or will become entitled to acquire,
- include references to rights or powers which are exercisable by that person, or (when acquired by that person) will be exercisable, only jointly with one or more other persons.
- (11) For the purposes of this paragraph two persons are connected with each other if—
- (a) one of them is an individual and the other is his spouse, a relative of his or of his spouse, or the spouse of such a relative; or
 - (b) one of them is a trustee of a settlement and the other is—
 - (i) a person who in relation to that settlement is a settlor; or
 - (ii) a person who is connected with a person falling within sub-paragraph (i) above.
- (12) In sub-paragraph (11) above—
- “relative” means brother, sister, ancestor or lineal descendant; and
 - “settlement” and “settlor” have the same meanings as in Chapter IA of Part XV.

Persons acting together in relation to financing arrangements

- 4A (1) A person (“P”) shall be treated for the purposes of paragraph 1(1)(b)(i) above (but subject to sub-paragraph (7) below) as indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of another (“A”) at the time of the making or imposition of the actual provision if—
- (a) the actual provision relates, to any extent, to financing arrangements for A;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) A is a body corporate or partnership;
 - (c) P and other persons acted together in relation to the financing arrangements; and
 - (d) P would be taken to have control of A if, at any relevant time, there were attributed to P the rights and powers of each of the other persons mentioned in paragraph (c) above.
- (2) A person (“Q”) shall be treated for the purposes of paragraph 1(1)(b)(ii) above (but subject to sub-paragraph (7) below) as indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of each of the affected persons at the time of the making or imposition of the actual provision if—
- (a) the actual provision relates, to any extent, to financing arrangements for one of the affected persons (“B”);
 - (b) B is a body corporate or partnership;
 - (c) Q and other persons acted together in relation to the financing arrangements; and
 - (d) Q would be taken to have control of both B and the other affected person if, at any relevant time, there were attributed to Q the rights and powers of each of the other persons mentioned in paragraph (c) above.
- (3) It is immaterial for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(c) or (2)(c) above whether P or Q and the other persons acting together in relation to the financing arrangements did so at the time of the making or imposition of the actual provision or at some earlier time.
- (4) In sub-paragraph (1)(d) or (2)(d) “relevant time” means—
- (a) a time when P or Q and the other persons were acting together in relation to the financing arrangements; or
 - (b) a time in the period of six months beginning with the day on which they ceased so to act.
- (5) In determining for the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(d) or (2)(d) whether P or Q would be taken to have control of another person, the rights and powers of any person (and not just P or Q) shall be taken to include those that would be attributed to that person in determining under paragraph 4 above whether he is indirectly participating in the management, control or capital of the other person.
- (6) In this paragraph “financing arrangements” means arrangements made for providing or guaranteeing, or otherwise in connection with, any debt, capital or other form of finance.
- (7) Where the condition in paragraph 1(1)(b) above would not be satisfied but for this paragraph, paragraph 1(2) above applies only to the extent that the actual provision relates to the financing arrangements in question.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. Financing arrangements: anticipatory provision

- 4B (1) To the extent that it applies to provision relating to financing arrangements, this Schedule has effect as if in paragraph 1(1)(b) above the words “or within the period of six months beginning with the day on which the actual provision was made or imposed” were inserted immediately before sub-paragraph (i).
- (2) In this paragraph “financing arrangements” has the same meaning as in paragraph 4A above.

Advantage in relation to United Kingdom taxation

- 5 (1) For the purposes of this Schedule (but subject to sub-paragraph (2) below) the actual provision confers a potential advantage on a person in relation to United Kingdom taxation wherever, disregarding this Schedule, the effect of making or imposing the actual provision, instead of the arm's length provision, would be one or both of the following, that is to say—
- (a) that a smaller amount (which may be nil) would be taken for tax purposes to be the amount of that person's profits for any chargeable period; or
 - (b) that a larger amount (or, if there would not otherwise have been losses, any amount of more than nil) would be taken for tax purposes to be the amount for any chargeable period of any losses of that person.
- (2) Subject to paragraph 11(2) below, the actual provision shall not be taken for the purposes of this Schedule to confer a potential advantage in relation to United Kingdom taxation on either of the persons as between whom it is made or imposed if—
- (a) the three conditions set out in sub-paragraphs (3) to (5) below are all satisfied in the case of each of those two persons; and
 - (b) the further condition set out in sub-paragraph (6) below is satisfied in the case of each of those persons who is an insurance company.
- (3) The first condition is satisfied in the case of any person if—
- (a) that person is within the charge to income tax or corporation tax in respect of profits arising from the relevant activities;
 - (b) that person is not entitled to any exemption from income tax or corporation tax in respect of, or of a part of, the income or profits arising from the relevant activities in respect of which he is within that charge; and
 - (c) where that person is within the charge to income tax in respect of profits arising from those activities, he is resident in the United Kingdom in the chargeable periods in which he is so within that charge.
- (4) The second condition is satisfied in the case of any person if he is neither—
- (a) a person with an entitlement, in pursuance of any double taxation arrangements or under section 790(1), to be given credit in any chargeable

- period for any foreign tax on or in respect of profits arising from the relevant activities; nor
- (b) a person who would have such an entitlement in any such period if there were any such profits or if they exceeded a certain amount.
- (5) The third condition is satisfied in the case of any person if the amounts taken into account in computing the profits or losses arising from the relevant activities to that person in any chargeable period in which he is within the charge to income tax or corporation tax in respect of profits arising from those activities do not include any income the amount of which is reduced in accordance with section 811(1) (deduction for foreign tax where no credit allowable).
- (6) The further condition is satisfied in the case of an insurance company if the profits arising from the relevant activities in respect of which the company is within the charge to corporation tax do not include—
- (a) any profits in the computation of which acquisition expenses have been brought into account in accordance with section 86 of the ^{M1823}Finance Act 1989 (expenses of acquiring insurance business); or
- (b) any profits in relation to which the rate of corporation tax is fixed by section 88 or 88A of that Act (lower rate on certain profits of insurance companies).

Exemption for dormant companies

- 5A (1) Paragraph 1(2) above does not apply in computing for any chargeable period the profits and losses of a potentially advantaged person if that person is a company which satisfies the condition in sub-paragraph (2) below.
- (2) The condition is that—
- (a) the company was dormant throughout the pre-qualifying period, and
- (b) apart from paragraph 1 above, the company has continued to be dormant at all times since the end of the pre-qualifying period.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (2) above “the pre-qualifying period” means—
- (a) if there is an accounting period of the company that ends on 31st March 2004, that accounting period, or
- (b) if there is no such accounting period, the period of 3 months ending with that date.
- (4) In this paragraph “dormant” has the same meaning as in section 249AA of the Companies Act 1985 (see subsections (4) to (7) of that section).

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Exemption for small or medium-sized enterprises

- 5B (1) Paragraph 1(2) above does not apply in computing for any chargeable period the profits and losses of a potentially advantaged person if that person is a small or medium-sized enterprise for that chargeable period (see paragraph 5D below).
- (2) Exceptions to sub-paragraph (1) above are provided—
- (a) in the case of a small enterprise, by sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) below, and
 - (b) in the case of a medium-sized enterprise, by sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) and paragraph 5C below.
- (3) The first exception is where the small or medium-sized enterprise elects for sub-paragraph (1) above not to apply in relation to the chargeable period.
- Any such election is irrevocable.
- (4) The second exception is where, at the time when the actual provision is or was made or imposed,—
- (a) the other affected person, or
 - (b) a party to a relevant transaction (see sub-paragraph (5) below),
- is a resident (see sub-paragraph (6) below) of a non-qualifying territory (whether or not that person is also a resident of a qualifying territory).
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (4) above, a “party to a relevant transaction” is a person who, in a case where the actual provision is or was imposed by means of a series of transactions, is or was a party to one or more of those transactions.
- (6) In this paragraph “resident”, in relation to a territory,—
- (a) means a person who, under the laws of that territory, is liable to tax there by reason of his domicile, residence or place of management, but
 - (b) does not include a person who is liable to tax in that territory in respect only of income from sources in that territory or capital situated there.
- (7) The definitions of “qualifying territory” and “non-qualifying territory” are in paragraph 5E below.

Additional provisions for medium-sized enterprises

- 5C (1) Paragraph 5B(1) above does not apply as respects any provision made or imposed if—
- (a) the potentially advantaged person in question is a medium-sized enterprise for the chargeable period in question, and
 - (b) the Board gives that person a notice under this sub-paragraph (a “transfer pricing notice”) requiring him to compute the profits and losses of that chargeable period in accordance with paragraph 1(2) above in the case of that provision.
- (2) A transfer pricing notice may be given in respect of —
- (a) any provision specified, or of a description specified, in the notice, or
 - (b) every provision in relation to which the assumption in paragraph 1(2) above would fall to be made apart from paragraph 5B(1) above.
- (3) A transfer pricing notice may be given only after a notice of enquiry has been given to the potentially advantaged person in respect of his tax return for the chargeable period.
- (4) A transfer pricing notice must identify the officer of the Board to whom any notice of appeal under this paragraph is to be given.
- (5) A person to whom a transfer pricing notice is given may appeal against the decision to give the notice, but only on the grounds that the condition in sub-paragraph (1) (a) above is not satisfied.
- (6) Any such appeal must be brought by giving written notice of appeal to the officer of the Board identified for the purpose in the transfer pricing notice in accordance with sub-paragraph (4) above.
- (7) The notice of appeal must be given before the end of the period of 30 days beginning with the day on which the transfer pricing notice is given.
- (8) A person to whom a transfer pricing notice is given may amend his tax return for the purpose of complying with the notice at any time before the end of the period of 90 days beginning with—
- (a) the day on which the notice is given, or
 - (b) if he appeals against the notice, the day on which the appeal is finally determined or abandoned.
- (9) Where a transfer pricing notice is given in the case of any tax return, no closure notice may be given in relation to that tax return until—
- (a) the end of the period of 90 days specified in sub-paragraph (8) above, or
 - (b) the earlier amendment of the tax return for the purpose of complying with the notice.
- (10) So far as relating to any provision made or imposed by or in relation to a person—
- (a) who is a medium-sized enterprise for a chargeable period,

(b) who does not make an election under paragraph 5B(3) above for that period, and

(c) who is not excepted from paragraph 5B(1) above by virtue of paragraph 5B(4) above in relation to that provision for that period, the tax return required to be made for that period is a return that disregards paragraph 1(2) above.

(11) Sub-paragraph (10) above does not prevent a tax return for a period becoming incorrect if, in the case of any provision made or imposed,—

(a) a transfer pricing notice is given which has effect in relation to that provision for that period,

(b) the return is not amended in accordance with sub-paragraph (8) above for the purpose of complying with the notice, and

(c) the return ought to have been so amended.

(12) In this paragraph—

“closure notice” means a notice under—

(a) section 28A or 28B of the Management Act, or

(b) paragraph 32 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998;

“company tax return” means the return required to be delivered pursuant to a notice under paragraph 3 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998, as read with paragraph 4 of that Schedule;

“notice of enquiry” means a notice under—

(a) section 9A or 12AC of the Management Act, or

(b) paragraph 24 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998;

“tax return” means—

(a) a return under section 8, 8A or 12AA of the Management Act, or

(b) a company tax return.

Meaning of “small enterprise” and “medium-sized enterprise”

5D (1) In this Schedule—

(a) “small enterprise” means a small enterprise as defined in the Annex to the Commission Recommendation,

(b) “medium-sized enterprise” means an enterprise which—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (i) falls within the category of micro, small and medium-sized enterprises as defined in that Annex, and
 - (ii) is not a small enterprise as defined in that Annex,
- but for these purposes that Annex has effect with the modifications set out in sub-paragraphs (3) to (6) of this paragraph.

(2) In this paragraph—

“the Annex” means the Annex to the Commission Recommendation;

“the Commission Recommendation” means Commission Recommendation 2003/361/EC of 6th May 2003 (concerning the definition of micro, small and medium-sized enterprises).

- (3) Where any enterprise is in liquidation or administration, the rights of the liquidator or administrator (in that capacity) shall be left out of account when applying Article 3(3)(b) of the Annex in determining for the purposes of this Schedule whether—
- (a) that enterprise, or
 - (b) any other enterprise (including that of the liquidator or administrator),
- is a small or medium-sized enterprise.
- (4) Article 3 of the Annex shall have effect with the omission of paragraph 5 (declaration in good faith where control cannot be determined etc).
- (5) The first sentence of Article 4(1) of the Annex shall have effect as if the data to apply to—
- (a) the headcount of staff, and
 - (b) the financial amounts,
- were the data relating to the chargeable period in paragraph 5B(1) above (instead of the period described in that sentence) and calculated on an annual basis.
- (6) Article 4 of the Annex shall have effect with the omission of the following provisions—
- (a) the second sentence of paragraph 1 (data to be taken into account from date of closure of accounts);
 - (b) paragraph 2 (no change of status unless ceilings exceeded for two consecutive periods);
 - (c) paragraph 3 (bona fide estimate in case of newly established enterprise).

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Meaning of “qualifying territory” and “non-qualifying territory”

5E (1) In this Schedule—

“non-qualifying territory” means any territory which is not a qualifying territory;

“qualifying territory” means—

- (a) the United Kingdom, or
- (b) any territory as respects which Condition 1 or Condition 2 below is satisfied.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Condition 1 is that—
- (a) arrangements to which section 788 applies (double taxation relief by agreement with other territories) have been made in relation to the territory;
 - (b) those arrangements contain a non-discrimination provision (see sub-paragraphs (4) and (5) below); and
 - (c) the territory is not designated as a non-qualifying territory for the purposes of this sub-paragraph in regulations made by the Treasury.
- (3) Condition 2 is that—
- (a) arrangements to which section 788 applies have been made in relation to the territory; and
 - (b) the territory is designated as a qualifying territory for the purposes of this sub-paragraph in regulations made by the Treasury.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph a “non-discrimination provision”, in relation to any arrangement to which section 788 applies, is a provision to the effect that nationals of a state which is a party to those arrangements (a “contracting state”) are not to be subject in any other contracting state to—
- (a) any taxation, or
 - (b) any requirement connected with taxation,
- which is other or more burdensome than the taxation and connected requirements to which nationals of that other state in the same circumstances (in particular with respect to residence) are or may be subjected.
- (5) In this paragraph, “national”, in relation to a contracting state, includes—
- (a) any individual possessing the nationality or citizenship of the contracting state,
 - (b) any legal person, partnership or association deriving its status as such from the laws in force in that contracting state.
- (6) A statutory instrument containing regulations under this paragraph shall not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, the House of Commons.

Elimination of double counting

- 6 (1) This paragraph applies where—
- (a) only one of the affected persons (“the advantaged person”) is a person on whom a potential advantage in relation to United Kingdom taxation is conferred by the actual provision; but
 - (b) the other affected person (“the disadvantaged person”) is a person in relation to whom the condition set out in sub-paragraph (3) of paragraph 5 above either—
 - (i) is satisfied, or
 - (ii) were any such exemption as is mentioned in paragraph (b) of that sub-paragraph to be disregarded, would be satisfied.
- (2) Subject to sub-paragraphs (3) to (6) and paragraph 7 below, on the making of a claim by the disadvantaged person for the purposes of this paragraph—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) the disadvantaged person shall be entitled to have his profits and losses computed for tax purposes as if the arm's length provision had been made or imposed instead of the actual provision; and
 - (b) notwithstanding any limit in the Tax Acts on the time within which any adjustment may be made, all such adjustments shall be made in his case as may be required to give effect to the assumption that the arm's length provision was made or imposed instead of the actual provision.
- (3) A claim made by the disadvantaged person for the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) shall not be made unless a computation has been made in the case of the advantaged person on the basis that the arm's length provision was made or imposed instead of the actual provision; and
 - (b) must be consistent with the computation made on that basis in the case of the advantaged person.
- (4) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3) above a computation shall be taken to have been made in the case of the advantaged person on the basis that the arm's length provision was made or imposed instead of the actual provision if, and only if—
- (a) the computations made for the purposes of any return by the advantaged person have been made on that basis by virtue of this Schedule; or
 - (b) a relevant notice given to the advantaged person takes account of a determination in pursuance of this Schedule of an amount falling to be brought into account for tax purposes on that basis.
- (5) Subject to section 111(3)(b) of the Finance Act 1998 (which provides for the extension of the period for making a claim), a claim for the purposes of this paragraph shall not be made except within one of the following periods—
- (a) in a case where a return has been made by the advantaged person on the basis mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(a) above, the period of two years beginning with the day of the making of the return; and
 - (b) in any case where a relevant notice taking account of such a determination as is mentioned in sub-paragraph (4)(b) above has been given to the advantaged person, the period of two years beginning with the day on which that notice was given.
- (6) Subject to section 111(3)(b) of the Finance Act 1998, where—
- (a) a claim for the purposes of this paragraph is made by the disadvantaged person in relation to a return made on the basis mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(a) above, and
 - (b) a relevant notice taking account of such a determination as is mentioned in sub-paragraph (4)(b) above is subsequently given to the advantaged person,
- the disadvantaged person shall be entitled, within the period mentioned in sub-paragraph (5)(b) above, to make any such amendment of the claim as may be appropriate in consequence of the determination contained in that notice.
- (7) In this paragraph—
- “relevant notice” means—
- (a) a notice under section 28A(5) or 28B(5) of the Management Act stating the conclusions of an officer of the Board in relation to any self-assessment, partnership statement, claim or election;
 - (b) a closure notice under paragraph 32 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 in relation to an enquiry into a company tax return;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (c) a notice of an assessment under section 29 of the Management Act;
- (d) a notice of any discovery assessment or discovery determination under paragraph 41 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (including any notice of an assessment by virtue of paragraph 52 of that Schedule);
- (e) a notice under section 30B(1) of the Management Act amending a partnership statement;

“return” means any return required to be made under the Management Act or Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 for income tax or corporation tax purposes or any voluntary amendment of such a return; and “voluntary amendment”, in relation to a return, means any amendment in accordance with the Management Act or Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998, other than one made in response to the giving of a relevant notice.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1107Sch. 28AA paras. 6, 7 modified (27.7.1999) by Finance Act 1999 (c. 16), s. 87(1)-(3) (with s. 87(4))

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Application of paragraph 6 in relation to transfers of trading stock etc

- 6A (1) Paragraph 6(2)(a) above does not affect the credits to be brought into account by the disadvantaged person in respect of—
- (a) closing trading stock, or
 - (b) closing work in progress in a trade,
- for accounting periods ending on or after the last day of the relevant accounting period of the advantaged person.
- (2) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1) above, the relevant accounting period of the advantaged person is the accounting period in which the actual provision was made or imposed.
- (3) For the purposes of this paragraph “trading stock”, in relation to any trade, has the same meaning as it has for the purposes of section 100 (valuation of trading stock at discontinuance of trade) (see subsection (2) of that section).

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Compensating adjustment where advantaged person is a controlled foreign company

- 6B (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) the actual provision is provision made or imposed in relation to a controlled foreign company,
 - (b) in determining for the purposes of Chapter 4 of Part 17 the amount of that company's chargeable profits for an accounting period, its profits and

- losses fall to be computed in accordance with paragraph 1(2) above in the case of that provision,
- (c) the whole of those chargeable profits fall to be apportioned under section 747(3) to one or more companies resident in the United Kingdom, and
 - (d) tax is chargeable by virtue of section 747(4) in respect of the whole of those chargeable profits, as so apportioned to those companies.
- (2) Where this paragraph applies, paragraph 6 above shall have effect as if the controlled foreign company were a person on whom a potential advantage in relation to United Kingdom taxation were conferred by the actual provision.
- (3) In the application of paragraph 6 above by virtue of this paragraph—
- (a) references to the advantaged person in sub-paragraphs (4)(a) and (b), (5) (a) and (b) and (6)(b) of that paragraph include a reference to any of the companies mentioned in sub-paragraph (1)(c) above, and
 - (b) references to corporation tax include a reference to tax chargeable by virtue of section 747(4).
- (4) In this paragraph—
- “controlled foreign company” has the same meaning as in Chapter 4 of Part 17;
 - “accounting period”, in relation to a controlled foreign company, has the same meaning as in Chapter 4 of Part 17.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Claims under paragraph 6 where paragraph 1A applies

- 6C (1) Where paragraph 1A above applies in relation to any provision, this paragraph has effect in relation to that provision.
- (2) A claim under paragraph 6(2) above may be made in accordance with this paragraph.
- For the purposes of this Schedule a “paragraph 6C claim” is a claim under paragraph 6(2) above made in accordance with this paragraph.
- (3) A paragraph 6C claim may be made by—
- (a) the disadvantaged person, or
 - (b) the advantaged person,
- but any such claim made by the advantaged person shall be taken to be made on behalf of the disadvantaged person.
- (4) A paragraph 6C claim may be made before or after a computation falling within paragraph 6(3)(a) above has been made.
- (5) A paragraph 6C claim must be made either—
- (a) at any time before the end of the period mentioned in paragraph 6(5)(a) above, or

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. (b) within the period mentioned in paragraph 6(5)(b) above, but this is subject to section 111(3)(b) of the Finance Act 1998 (extension of period for making a claim).

(6) A paragraph 6C claim is not a claim within paragraph 57 or 58 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998 (company tax returns, assessments and related matters).

Accordingly, paragraph 59 of that Schedule (application of Schedule 1A to the Management Act) has effect in relation to a paragraph 6C claim.

(7) Where—

- (a) a paragraph 6C claim is made before a computation falling within paragraph 6(3)(a) above has been made,
- (b) such a computation is subsequently made, and
- (c) the claim is not consistent with the computation,

the affected persons shall be treated as if (instead of the claim actually made) a claim had been made that was consistent with the computation.

(8) All such adjustments shall be made (whether by discharge or repayment of tax, the making of assessments or otherwise) as are required to give effect to sub-paragraph (7) above.

(9) Sub-paragraph (8) above has effect notwithstanding any limit on the time within which any adjustment may be made.

(10) Where—

- (a) a paragraph 6C claim is made,
- (b) a return is subsequently made by the advantaged person on the basis mentioned in paragraph 6(3)(a) above, and
- (c) a relevant notice (within the meaning of paragraph 6 above) taking account of such a determination as is mentioned in paragraph 6(4)(b) above is subsequently given to the advantaged person, sub-paragraph (11) below applies.

(11) Where this sub-paragraph applies, any such amendment of the paragraph 6C claim as may be appropriate in consequence of the determination contained in the relevant notice may be made by—

- (a) the disadvantaged person, or
- (b) the advantaged person,

but any such amendment made by the advantaged person shall be taken to be made on behalf of the disadvantaged person.

(12) Any such amendment must be made within the period mentioned in paragraph 6(5)(b) above.

But that is subject to section 111(3)(b) of the Finance Act 1998 (extension of period for making amendment).

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Compensating adjustment for guarantor company etc where paragraph 1B applies

- 6D (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) a company (“the issuing company”) has liabilities under a security issued by the company,
 - (b) those liabilities are to any extent the subject of a guarantee provided by a company (“the guarantor company”), and
 - (c) in computing the profits and losses of the issuing company for tax purposes, the amounts to be deducted in respect of interest or other amounts payable under the security fall to be reduced (whether or not to nil) under paragraph 1(2) above by virtue of paragraph 1B above.
- (2) On the making of a claim in any such case, the guarantor company shall, to the extent of that reduction, be treated for all purposes of the Taxes Acts as if it (and not the issuing company)—
- (a) had issued the security,
 - (b) owed the liabilities under it, and
 - (c) had paid any interest or other amounts paid under it by the issuing company,
- and in computing the profits and losses of the guarantor company for those purposes amounts shall be brought into account accordingly.
- This sub-paragraph is subject to the following provisions of this paragraph.
- (3) Where the issuing company’s liabilities under the security are the subject of two or more guarantees (whether or not provided by the same person) TD must not exceed TR, where—
- TD is the total of the amounts brought into account by the guarantor companies by virtue of sub-paragraph (2) above, and
- TR is the total amount of the reductions that fall within sub-paragraph (1) (c) above.
- (4) In this paragraph “the loan provision” means the actual provision made or imposed between—
- (a) the issuing company, and
 - (b) another company (“the lending company”),
- which is provision in relation to the security.
- (5) Where—
- (a) the guarantor company makes a claim under sub-paragraph (2) above, and
 - (b) the lending company makes a claim under paragraph 6 above in respect of the loan provision,
- sub-paragraphs (6) and (7) below apply.
- (6) In determining, in a case where this sub-paragraph applies, the arm’s length provision for the purposes of paragraph 6(2)(a) above in relation to the lending company’s claim, additional amounts shall be brought into account as credits corresponding to the debits that fall to be brought into account by virtue of sub-paragraph (2) above in relation to the guarantor company.

- (7) If, in a case where this sub-paragraph applies,—
- (a) the lending company makes its claim under paragraph 6 above before the guarantor company makes its claim under sub-paragraph (2) above, and
 - (b) the computation on which the lending company's claim is based does not comply with sub-paragraph (6) above,
- the guarantor company's claim shall be disallowed.
- (8) A claim under sub-paragraph (2) above may be made by—
- (a) the guarantor company,
 - (b) where there are two or more guarantor companies, those companies acting together, or
 - (c) the issuing company,
- but any claim made by the issuing company shall be taken to be made on behalf of the guarantor company or companies.
- (9) Sub-paragraphs (3) to (6) of paragraph 6 above (claims and time limits) shall apply in relation to a claim under sub-paragraph (2) above made by or on behalf of any person or persons as they apply in relation to a claim under that paragraph made by the disadvantaged person, but taking references in those sub-paragraphs—
- (a) to the advantaged person, as references to the issuing company, and
 - (b) to the disadvantaged person, as references to the guarantor company or companies.
- (10) The following provisions of paragraph 1A above also apply for the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) sub-paragraph (7) (construction of references to a guarantee);
 - (b) sub-paragraph (9) (meaning of security);
 - (c) sub-paragraph (10) (extended meaning of security).
- (11) In this paragraph “the Taxes Acts” has the meaning given in section 118(1) of the Management Act.

Certain interest not to be regarded as chargeable under Case III of Schedule D

- 6E Where—
- (a) interest is paid by any person under the actual provision,
 - (b) paragraph 1(2) above applies in relation to the actual provision,
 - (c) the amount of interest that would have been payable under the arm's length provision is less than the amount of interest paid under the actual provision (or there would not have been any interest payable),
 - (d) the person receiving the interest makes a claim under paragraph 6 above or a paragraph 6C claim,

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. the interest paid under the actual provision, to the extent that it exceeds the amount of interest that would have been payable under the arm's length provision, shall not be regarded as chargeable under Case III of Schedule D.

Adjustment of disadvantaged person's double taxation relief

- 7 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (4) below, where—
- (a) a claim is made for the purposes of paragraph 6 above, and
 - (b) the disadvantaged person is entitled, on that claim, to make a computation, or to have an adjustment made in his case, on the basis that the arm's length provision was made or imposed instead of the actual provision,
- the assumptions specified in sub-paragraph (2) below shall apply, in the disadvantaged person's case, as respects any credit for foreign tax which the disadvantaged person has been or may be given in pursuance of any double taxation arrangements or under section 790(1).
- (2) Those assumptions are—
- (a) that the foreign tax paid or payable by the disadvantaged person does not include any amount of foreign tax which would not be or have become payable were it to be assumed for the purposes of that tax that the arm's length provision had been made or imposed instead of the actual provision; and
 - (b) that the amount of the relevant profits of the disadvantaged person in respect of which he is given credit for foreign tax does not include the amount (if any) by which his relevant profits are treated as reduced in accordance with paragraph 6 above.
- (3) Sub-paragraph (4) below applies if—
- (a) a claim is made for the purposes of paragraph 6 above;
 - (b) the disadvantaged person is entitled, on that claim, to make a computation, or to have an adjustment made in his case, on the basis that the arm's length provision was made or imposed instead of the actual provision;
 - (c) the application of that basis in the computation of the disadvantaged person's profits or losses for any chargeable period involves a reduction in the amount of any income; and
 - (d) that income is also income that falls to be treated as reduced in accordance with section 811(1).
- (4) Where this sub-paragraph applies—
- (a) the reduction mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(c) above shall be treated as made before any reduction under section 811(1); and
 - (b) tax paid, in the place in which any income arises, on so much of that income as is represented by the amount of the reduction mentioned in sub-paragraph (3)(c) above shall be disregarded for the purposes of section 811(1).
- (5) Where, in a case in which a claim has been made for the purposes of paragraph 6 above, any adjustment is required to be made for the purpose of giving effect to any of the preceding provisions of this paragraph—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) it may be made in any case by setting the amount of the adjustment against any relief or repayment to which the disadvantaged person is entitled in pursuance of that claim; and
 - (b) nothing in the Tax Acts limiting the time within which any assessment is to be or may be made or amended shall prevent that adjustment from being so made.
- (6) References in this paragraph to relevant profits of the disadvantaged person are references to profits arising to the disadvantaged person from the carrying on of the relevant activities.

Modifications etc. (not altering text)

C1108Sch. 28AA paras. 6, 7 modified (27.7.1999) by Finance Act 1999 (c. 16), s. 87(1)-(3) (with s. 87(4))

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Balancing payments between affected persons: no charge to, or relief from, tax

- 7A (1) This paragraph applies where—
- (a) the circumstances are as described in paragraph 6(1) above,
 - (b) one or more payments (the “balancing payments”) are made to the advantaged person by the disadvantaged person, and
 - (c) the sole or main reason for making those payments is that paragraph 1(2) above applies.
- (2) To the extent that the balancing payments do not in the aggregate exceed the amount of the available compensating adjustment, those payments—
- (a) shall not be taken into account in computing profits or losses of either of the affected persons for the purposes of income tax or corporation tax, and
 - (b) shall not for any of the purposes of the Corporation Tax Acts be regarded as distributions or charges on income.
- (3) In this paragraph “the available compensating adjustment” means the difference between PL1 and PL2 where—
- PL1 is the profits and losses of the disadvantaged person computed for tax purposes on the basis of the actual provision, and
 - PL2 is the profits and losses of the disadvantaged person as they fall (or would fall) to be computed for tax purposes on a claim under paragraph 6 above,
- for this purpose taking PL1 or PL2 as a positive amount if it is an amount of profits and as a negative amount if it is an amount of losses.

Securities: election to discharge tax liability instead of making balancing payments

- 7B (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—
- (a) both of the affected persons are companies,
 - (b) the circumstances are as described in paragraph 6(1) above, and
 - (c) the actual provision is provision in relation to a security (the “relevant security”).
- (2) The disadvantaged person may make an election under this paragraph in respect of the relevant security if the condition in sub-paragraph (3) below is satisfied.
- (3) The condition is that—
- (a) the actual provision forms part of a capital market arrangement,
 - (b) the capital market arrangement involves the issue of a capital market investment,
 - (c) the securities that represent the capital market investment are issued wholly or mainly to independent persons (see sub-paragraph (9) below), and
 - (d) the total value of the capital market investments made under the capital market arrangement is at least £50 million.
- (4) An election under this paragraph in respect of the relevant security is an election for the disadvantaged person—
- (a) to make no balancing payment within paragraph 7A above to the advantaged person in respect of the application of paragraph 1(2) above in relation to the relevant security in a chargeable period by virtue of paragraph 1A above, but
 - (b) instead, to undertake sole responsibility for discharging the advantaged person’s liability to tax for that period so far as resulting from the application of paragraph 1(2) above in relation to the relevant security by virtue of paragraph 1A above.
- (5) Where an election under this paragraph has effect in relation to an accounting period of the advantaged person, the tax mentioned in sub-paragraph (4)(b) above—
- (a) shall be recoverable from the disadvantaged person as if it were an amount of corporation tax due and owing from that person, and
 - (b) shall not be recoverable from the advantaged person.
- (6) Any election under this paragraph in respect of the relevant security—
- (a) must be made by being included (whether by amendment or otherwise) in the disadvantaged person’s company tax return for the chargeable period in which the relevant security is issued,
 - (b) has effect in relation to each of the affected persons for the chargeable period in which the relevant security is issued and all subsequent chargeable periods, and
 - (c) is irrevocable.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

For the purposes of this sub-paragraph a security issued in a chargeable period beginning before 1st April 2004 shall be treated as if it had been issued in the chargeable period beginning on that date.

(7) An election under this paragraph by a person is of no effect if the Board give that person a notice under this sub-paragraph refusing to accept the election.

(8) A notice under sub-paragraph (7) above may be given only after a notice of enquiry in respect of the company tax return containing the election has been given to the disadvantaged person.

(9) In this paragraph—

“capital market arrangement” has the same meaning as in section 72B(1) of the Insolvency Act 1986 (see paragraph 1 of Schedule 2A to that Act);

“capital market investment” has the same meaning as in section 72B(1) of the Insolvency Act 1986 (see paragraphs 2 and 3 of Schedule 2A to that Act);

“company tax return” means the return required to be delivered pursuant to a notice under paragraph 3 of Schedule 18 to the Finance Act 1998, as read with paragraph 4 of that Schedule;

“independent person” means a person—

- (a) who is not the disadvantaged person, and
- (b) who does not have a participatory relationship with either of the affected persons.

(10) The following provisions of paragraph 1A above also apply for the purposes of this paragraph—

- (a) sub-paragraph (8) (meaning of participatory relationship);
- (b) sub-paragraph (9) (meaning of security);
- (c) sub-paragraph (10) (extended meaning of security).

Balancing payments by guarantor to issuer: no charge to, or relief from, tax

7C (1) This paragraph applies in any case where—

- (a) the circumstances are as described in paragraph 6D(1) above,
- (b) one or more payments (the “balancing payments”) are made by the guarantor company to the issuing company, and
- (c) the sole or main reasons for making those payments are that paragraph 1(2) above applies by virtue of paragraph 1B above or that paragraph 6D above applies.

(2) To the extent that the balancing payments made by all the guarantor companies do not in the aggregate exceed the amount TR in paragraph 6D(3) above (total reductions within paragraph 6D(1)(c) above), those payments—

- (a) shall not be taken into account in computing for the purposes of corporation tax the profits or losses of the guarantor company or companies or the issuing company, and
- (b) shall not for any purpose of the Corporation Tax Acts be regarded as distributions or charges on income.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Guarantees: election to discharge tax liability instead of making balancing payments

- 7D (1) This paragraph applies where the following conditions are satisfied—
- (a) both of the affected persons are companies,
 - (b) the circumstances are as described in paragraph 6(1) above,
 - (c) the actual provision falls within paragraph 1B(1) above.
- (2) Sub-paragraphs (2) to (8) of paragraph 7B above apply in a case where this paragraph applies as they apply in a case where that paragraph applies, but with the modifications in sub-paragraphs (3) and (4) below.
- (3) The relevant security is the security in paragraph 1B(1)(a) above.
- (4) In sub-paragraph (4) (nature of the election)—
- (a) for “paragraph 7A above” substitute paragraph 7C below;
 - (b) for “paragraph 1A”, in both places, substitute paragraph 1B.

Foreign exchange gains and losses and financial instruments

- 8 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) below, this Schedule shall not require the amounts brought into account in any person's case under—
- (a) Chapter II of Part II of the ^{M1824}Finance Act 1993 (foreign exchange gains and losses), or
 - (b) Chapter II of Part IV of the ^{M1825}Finance Act 1994 (financial instruments), to be computed in that person's case on the assumption that the arm's length provision had been made or imposed instead of the actual provision.
- (2) Sub-paragraph (1) above—
- (a) shall not affect so much of sections 136 and 136A of the ^{M1826}Finance Act 1993 (application of arm's length test) as has effect by reference to whether the whole or any part of a loan falls to be treated in accordance with this Schedule as an amount on which interest has been charged or, as the case may be, has been charged at a higher rate; and
 - (b) accordingly, shall not prevent the assumption mentioned in that sub-paragraph from determining for the purposes of sections 136(8) and (9) and 136A(6) and (7) of that Act how much (if any) of any loan falls to be so treated.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

- 9 (1) Subject to paragraph 10 below, this paragraph applies to provision made or imposed by or in relation to the terms of a sale of oil if—
- (a) the oil sold is oil which has been, or is to be, extracted under rights exercisable by a company (“the producer”) which (although it may be the seller) is not the buyer; and
 - (b) at the time of the sale not less than 20 per cent. of the producer’s ordinary share capital is owned directly or indirectly by one or more of the following, that is to say, the buyer and the companies (if any) that are linked to the buyer.
- (2) Where this paragraph applies to provision made or imposed by or in relation to the terms of a sale of oil, this Schedule shall have effect as respects that provision as if the buyer, the seller and (if it is not the seller) the producer were all controlled by the same person at the time of the making or imposition of that provision.
- (3) For the purposes of this paragraph two companies are linked if—
- (a) one is under the control of the other; or
 - (b) both are under the control of the same person or persons.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) any question whether ordinary share capital is owned directly or indirectly by a company shall be determined as for section 838;
 - (b) rights to extract oil shall be taken to be exercisable by a company even if they are exercisable by that company only jointly with one or more other companies; and
 - (c) a sale of oil shall be deemed to take place at the time of the completion of the sale or when possession of the oil passes, whichever is the earlier.
- (5) In this paragraph “oil” includes any mineral oil or relative hydrocarbon, as well as natural gas.

Transactions and deemed transactions involving oil

- 10 This Schedule does not apply in relation to provision made or imposed by means of any transaction or deemed transaction in the case of which the price or consideration is determined in accordance with any of subsections (1) to (4) of section 493 (transactions and deemed transactions involving oil treated as made at market value).

Special provision for companies carrying on ring fence trades

- 11 (1) This paragraph applies where any person (“the taxpayer”) carries on as, or as part of, a trade any activities (“the ring fence trade”) which, in accordance with section 492(1) either—
- (a) fall to be treated for any tax purposes as a separate trade, distinct from all other activities carried on by him as part of the trade; or
 - (b) would so fall if the taxpayer did carry on any other activities as part of that trade.
- (2) Subject to paragraph 10 above and sub-paragraph (4) below, where provision made or imposed as between the taxpayer and another person by means of a transaction or series of transactions—
- (a) falls, in relation to the taxpayer, to be regarded as made or imposed in the course of, or with respect to, the ring fence trade; but
 - (b) falls, in relation to the other person, to be regarded as made or imposed in the course of, or with respect to, activities of that other person which do not fall within section 492(1),
- this Schedule shall have effect in relation to that provision with the omission of paragraph 5(2) above.
- (3) Subject to paragraph 10 above and sub-paragraph (4) below, this Schedule shall have effect as respects any provision made or imposed by the taxpayer as between the ring fence trade and any other activities carried on by him as if—
- (a) that trade and those activities were carried on by two different persons;
 - (b) that provision were made or imposed as between those two persons by means of a transaction;
 - (c) a potential advantage in relation to United Kingdom taxation were conferred by that provision on each of those two persons;
 - (d) those two persons were both controlled by the same person at the time of the making or imposition of that provision; and
 - (e) paragraphs 5 to 7 above were omitted.
- (4) This Schedule shall apply in accordance with this paragraph in relation to any provision mentioned in sub-paragraph (2) or (3) above only where the effect of its application in relation to that provision is either—
- (a) that a larger amount (including, if there would not otherwise have been profits, an amount of more than nil) is taken for tax purposes to be the amount of the profits of the ring fence trade for any chargeable period; or
 - (b) that a smaller amount (including nil) is taken for tax purposes to be the amount for any chargeable period of any losses of that trade.

Appeals

- 12 (1) In so far as the question in dispute on any appeal falling within sub-paragraph (2) below—
- (a) is or involves a determination of whether this Schedule has effect as respects any provision made or imposed as between any two persons, or of how it so has effect, and

SCHEDULE 28AB

SECTION 804ZA: PRESCRIBED SCHEMES AND ARRANGEMENTS

SCHEDULE 28B

VENTURE CAPITAL TRUSTS: MEANING OF “QUALIFYING HOLDINGS”

Introductory

- 1
- (1) This Schedule applies, where any shares in or securities of any company (“the relevant company”) are at any time held by another company (“the trust company”), for determining whether and to what extent those shares or securities (“the relevant holding”) are, for the purposes of section 842AA, to be regarded as at that time comprised in the trust company’s qualifying holdings.
 - (2) The relevant holding shall be regarded as comprised in the trust company’s qualifying holdings at any time if—
 - (a) all the requirements of the following provisions of this Schedule are satisfied at that time in relation to the relevant company and the relevant holding; and
 - (b) the relevant holding consists of shares or securities which were first issued by the relevant company to the trust company and have been held by the trust company ever since.
 - (3) Subject to paragraph 6(3) below, where the requirements of paragraph 6 or 7 below would be satisfied as to only part of the money raised by the issue of the relevant holding and that holding is not otherwise capable of being treated as comprising separate holdings, this Schedule shall have effect in relation to that holding as if it were two holdings consisting of—

- (a) a holding from which that part of the money was raised; and
- (b) a holding from which the remainder was raised;

and section 842AA shall have effect as if the value of the holding were to be apportioned accordingly between the two holdings which are deemed to exist in pursuance of this sub-paragraph.

Requirement that company must be unquoted company

- (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that the relevant company (whether or not it is resident in the United Kingdom) must be an unquoted company.
 - (2) In this paragraph “unquoted company” means a company none of whose shares, stocks, debentures or other securities is marketed to the general public.
 - (3) For the purposes of this paragraph shares, stocks, debentures or other securities are marketed to the general public if they are—
 - (a) listed on a recognised stock exchange,
 - (b) listed on a designated exchange in a country outside the United Kingdom, or
 - (c) dealt in on the Unlisted Securities Market or dealt in outside the United Kingdom by such means as may be designated.
 - (4) In sub-paragraph (3) above “designated” means designated by an order made by the Board for the purposes of that sub-paragraph; and an order made for the purposes of paragraph (b) of that sub-paragraph may designate an exchange by name, or by reference to any class or description of exchanges, including a class or description framed by reference to any authority or approval given in a country outside the United Kingdom.
 - (5) Section 828(1) does not apply to an order made for the purposes of sub-paragraph (3) above.
 - (6) Where a company any shares in or securities of which are included in the qualifying holdings of the trust company ceases at any time while the trust company is approved as a venture capital trust to be an unquoted company, the requirements of this paragraph shall be deemed, in relation to shares or securities acquired by the trust company before that time, to continue to be satisfied for a period of five years after that time.

 - (f) providing services or facilities for any such trade carried on by another person (not being a company of which the company providing the services or facilities is a subsidiary) as—
 - (i) consists, to a substantial extent, in activities within any of paragraphs (a) to [^{F4554}(ee)] above; and
 - (ii) is a trade in which a controlling interest is held by a person who also has a controlling interest in the trade carried on by the company providing the services or facilities.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(b) above—
- (a) a trade of wholesale distribution is one in which the goods are offered for sale and sold to persons for resale by them, or for processing and resale by them, to members of the general public for their use or consumption;
 - (b) a trade of retail distribution is one in which the goods are offered for sale and sold to members of the general public for their use or consumption; and
 - (c) a trade is not an ordinary trade of wholesale or retail distribution if—
 - (i) it consists, to a substantial extent, in dealing in goods of a kind which are collected or held as an investment, or in that activity and any other activity of a kind falling within sub-paragraph (2)(a) to (f) above, taken together; and
 - (ii) a substantial proportion of those goods are held by the company for a period which is significantly longer than the period for which a vendor would reasonably be expected to hold them while endeavouring to dispose of them at their market value.
- [^{F4555}(3A) For the purposes of this Schedule the activities of a person shall not be taken to fall within paragraph (ed) or (ee) of sub-paragraph (2) above except where that person has an estate or interest in, or is in occupation of, the hotels or comparable establishments or, as the case may be, the nursing homes or residential care homes.]
- (4) In determining for the purposes of this paragraph whether a trade carried on by any person is an ordinary trade of wholesale or retail distribution, regard shall be had to the extent to which it has the following features, that is to say—
- (a) the goods are bought by that person in quantities larger than those in which he sells them;
 - (b) the goods are bought and sold by that person in different markets;

- (c) that person employs staff and incurs expenses in the trade in addition to the cost of the goods and, in the case of a trade carried on by a company, to any remuneration paid to any person connected with it;
- (d) there are purchases or sales from or to persons who are connected with that person;
- (e) purchases are matched with forward sales or vice versa;
- (f) the goods are held by that person for longer than is normal for goods of the kind in question;
- (g) the trade is carried on otherwise than at a place or places commonly used for wholesale or retail trade;
- (h) that person does not take physical possession of the goods; and for the purposes of this sub-paragraph the features specified in paragraphs (a) to (c) above shall be regarded as indications that the trade is such an ordinary trade and those in paragraphs (d) to (h) above shall be regarded as indications of the contrary.

^{F4556}(5) A trade shall not be treated as failing to comply with this paragraph by reason only that it consists to a substantial extent in the receiving of royalties or licence fees if the royalties and licence fees (or all but for a part that is not a substantial part in terms of value) are attributable to the exploitation of relevant intangible assets.

- (6) For this purpose an intangible asset is a “relevant intangible asset” if the whole or greater part (in terms of value) of it has been created—
 - (a) by the company carrying on the trade, or
 - (b) by a company which at all times during which it created the intangible asset was—
 - (i) the parent company of the company carrying on the trade, or
 - (ii) a qualifying subsidiary of that parent company.

(6A) In the case of a relevant asset that is intellectual property, references in sub-paragraph (6) above to the creation of the asset by a company are to its creation in circumstances in which the right to exploit it vests in the company (whether alone or jointly with others).

(6B) For the purposes of sub-paragraphs (5) to (6A) above “intangible asset” means any asset which falls to be treated as an intangible asset in accordance with normal accounting practice.

For this purpose “normal accounting practice” means normal accounting practice in relation to the accounts of companies incorporated in any part of the United Kingdom.

- (6C) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (6) above
 - (a) “parent company” means a company that—
 - (i) has one or more 51% subsidiaries, but
 - (ii) is not itself a 51% subsidiary of another company; and
 - (b) paragraph 10 below (meaning of “qualifying subsidiary”) shall apply as if the references in that paragraph to the relevant company were references to the parent company referred to in sub-paragraph (6)(b) above.
- (6D) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (6A) above “intellectual property” means—
 - (a) any patent, trade mark, registered design, copyright, design right, performer’s right or plant breeder’s right; and

(b) any rights under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom which correspond or are similar to those falling within paragraph (a) above.]

(7) A trade shall not be treated as failing to comply with this paragraph by reason only of its consisting in letting ships, other than oil rigs or pleasure craft, on charter if—

- (a) every ship let on charter by the company carrying on the trade is beneficially owned by the company;
- (b) every ship beneficially owned by the company is registered in the United Kingdom;
- (c) the company is solely responsible for arranging the marketing of the services of its ships; and
- (d) the conditions mentioned in sub-paragraph (8) below are satisfied in relation to every letting of a ship on charter by the company;

but where any of the requirements mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (d) above are not satisfied in relation to any lettings, the trade shall not thereby be treated as failing to comply with this paragraph if those lettings and any other activity of a kind falling within sub-paragraph [F⁴⁵⁵⁷(2)(a) to (f)] above do not, when taken together, amount to a substantial part of the trade.

(8) The conditions are that—

- (a) the letting is for a period not exceeding 12 months and no provision is made at any time (whether in the charterparty or otherwise) for extending it beyond that period otherwise than at the option of the charterer;
- (b) during the period of the letting there is no provision in force (whether by virtue of being contained in the charterparty or otherwise) for the grant of a new letting to end, otherwise than at the option of the charterer, more than 12 months after that provision is made;
- (c) the letting is by way of a bargain made at arm's length between the company and a person who is not connected with it;
- (d) under the terms of the charter the company is responsible as principal—
 - (i) for taking, throughout the period of the charter, management decisions in relation to the ship, other than those of a kind generally regarded by persons engaged in trade of the kind in question as matters of husbandry; and
 - (ii) for defraying all expenses in connection with the ship throughout that period, or substantially all such expenses, other than those directly incidental to a particular voyage or to the employment of the ship during that period;

and

- (e) no arrangements exist by virtue of which a person other than the company may be appointed to be responsible for the matters mentioned in paragraph (d) above on behalf of the company;

but this sub-paragraph shall have effect, in relation to any letting between one company and another where one of those companies is the relevant company and the other is a qualifying subsidiary of that company, or where both companies are qualifying subsidiaries of the relevant company, as if paragraph (c) were omitted.

(9) A trade shall not comply with this paragraph unless it is conducted on a commercial basis and with a view to the realisation of profits.

Meaning of “relevant qualifying subsidiary”

- 5A (1) For the purposes of this Schedule, a company (“the subsidiary”) is a relevant qualifying subsidiary of the relevant company at any time when it falls within sub-paragraph (2) below.
- (2) The subsidiary falls within this sub-paragraph if—
- (a) the relevant company possesses not less than 90 per cent. of the issued share capital of, and not less than 90 per cent. of the voting power in, the subsidiary;
 - (b) the relevant company would—
 - (i) in the event of a winding up of the subsidiary, or
 - (ii) in any other circumstances, be beneficially entitled to receive not less than 90 per cent. of the assets of the subsidiary which would then be available for distribution to the equity holders of the subsidiary;
 - (c) the relevant company is beneficially entitled to not less than 90 per cent. of any profits of the subsidiary which are available for distribution to the equity holders of the subsidiary;
 - (d) no person other than the relevant company has control of the subsidiary within the meaning of section 840; and
 - (e) no arrangements are in existence by virtue of which any of the conditions in paragraphs (a) to (d) above would cease to be met.
- (3) Sub-paragraphs (4) to (4C) and (5) of paragraph 10 below apply in relation to sub-paragraph (2) of this paragraph as they apply in relation to sub-paragraph (3) of that paragraph, but with the following modification.
- (4) That modification is that sub-paragraph (5) of that paragraph is to be read as if the words “or (as the case may be) by another subsidiary of that company” were omitted.
- (5) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) the persons who are equity holders of the subsidiary, and

(b) the percentage of the assets of the subsidiary to which an equity holder would be entitled, shall be determined in accordance with paragraphs 1 and 3 of Schedule 18.

(6) But in making that determination—

- (a) references in paragraph 3 of that Schedule to the first company are to be read as references to an equity holder, and
- (b) references in that paragraph to a winding up are to be read as including references to any other circumstances in which assets of the subsidiary are available for distribution to its equity holders.

Requirements as to the money raised by the investment in question

- 6 (1) The requirements of this paragraph are that the money raised by the issue of the relevant holding must—
- (a) have been employed wholly for the purposes of the trade by reference to which the requirements of paragraph 3(3) above are satisfied; or
 - (b) be money which the relevant company or a [^{F4564}relevant qualifying subsidiary] of that company is intending to employ wholly for the purposes of that trade.
- (2) The requirements of sub-paragraph (1) above shall not be capable of being satisfied by virtue of paragraph (b) of that sub-paragraph at any time after twelve months have expired from whichever is applicable of the following, that is to say—
- (a) in a case where the requirements of sub-paragraph (3) of paragraph 3 above were satisfied in relation to the time when the relevant holding was issued by virtue of paragraph (a) of that sub-paragraph, that time; and
 - (b) in a case where they were satisfied in relation to that time by virtue of paragraph (b) of that sub-paragraph, the time when the relevant company or, as the case may be, the subsidiary in question began to carry on the intended trade.
- [^{F4565}(2A) Where the relevant company is a company falling within paragraph 3(2)(aa) above, the requirements of this paragraph are not satisfied unless—
- (a) the trader company is a company in relation to which the requirements of paragraph 3(2)(a) above are satisfied, or
 - (b) the trader company is a company in relation to which those requirements would be satisfied if its purposes were disregarded to the extent that they consist in the carrying on of activities such as are mentioned in paragraph 3(9)(a) and (b) and (10)(a) above, or
 - (c) the trader company is a [^{F4564}relevant qualifying subsidiary] of the relevant company and falls within sub-paragraph (2B) below.
- (2B) A [^{F4564}relevant qualifying subsidiary] of the relevant company falls within this sub-paragraph if—
- (a) apart from purposes capable of having no significant effect (other than in relation to incidental matters) on the extent of its activities, it exists wholly for the purpose of carrying on activities such as are mentioned in paragraph 3(9)(b) above; or

- (b) it has no profits for the purposes of corporation tax and no part of its business consists in the making of investments.
- (2C) In sub-paragraph (2A) above “the trader company” means the company (whether the relevant company or a qualifying subsidiary of the relevant company) carrying on, or preparing to carry on, the trade by reference to which the requirements of paragraph 3(3) above are satisfied.]
- (3) For the purposes of this paragraph money shall not be treated as employed otherwise than wholly for the purposes of a trade if the only amount employed for other purposes is an amount which is not a significant amount; and nothing in paragraph 1(3) above shall require any money whose use is disregarded by virtue of this sub-paragraph to be treated as raised by a different holding.
- (4) References in this paragraph to employing money for the purposes of a trade shall include references to employing it for the purpose of preparing for the carrying on of the trade.
- [^{F4566}(5) For the purposes of this paragraph a company is a relevant qualifying subsidiary of another company at any time when it would be a qualifying subsidiary of that company if “90” were substituted for “75” in every place where “75” occurs in paragraph 10(3) below.]

- (3) The subsidiary falls within this sub-paragraph if—
- (a) the relevant company, or another of its subsidiaries, possesses not less than [F4572-75] per cent. of the issued share capital of, and not less than [F4572-75] per cent. of the voting power in, the subsidiary;
 - (b) the relevant company, or another of its subsidiaries, would in the event of a winding up of the subsidiary or in any other circumstances be beneficially entitled to receive not less than [F4572-75] per cent. of the assets of the subsidiary which would then be available for distribution to the equity holders of the subsidiary;
 - (c) the relevant company, or another of its subsidiaries, is beneficially entitled to not less than [F4572-75] per cent. of any profits of the subsidiary which are available for distribution to the equity holders of the subsidiary;
 - (d) no person other than the relevant company or another of its subsidiaries has control of the subsidiary within the meaning of section 840; and
 - (e) no arrangements are in existence by virtue of which the relevant company could cease to fall within this sub-paragraph.
- (4) The subsidiary shall not be regarded, at a time when it is being wound up, as having ceased on that account to be a company falling within [F4573 sub-paragraph] (3) above if it is shown—
- (a) that it would fall within [F4574 that sub-paragraph] apart from the winding up; and
 - (b) that the winding up is for bona fide commercial reasons and not part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose of which, or one of the main purposes of which, is the avoidance of tax.
- (5) The subsidiary shall not be regarded, at any time when arrangements are in existence for the disposal by the relevant company, or (as the case may be) by another subsidiary of that company, of all its interest in the subsidiary in question, as having ceased on that account to be a company falling within [F4573 sub-paragraph] (3) above if it is shown that the disposal is to be for bona fide commercial reasons and not part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose of which, or one of the main purposes of which, is the avoidance of tax.
- (6) For the purposes of this paragraph the persons who are equity holders of the subsidiary and the percentage of the assets of the subsidiary to which an equity holder would be entitled shall be determined in accordance with paragraphs 1 and 3 of Schedule 18, taking references in paragraph 3 to the first company as references to an equity holder, and references to a winding up as including references to any other circumstances in which assets of the subsidiary are available for distribution to its equity holders.

VALID FROM 22/07/2004

Requirement as to property managing subsidiaries

- 10ZA (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that the relevant company must not have a property managing subsidiary which is not a relevant qualifying subsidiary of the relevant company.
- (2) “Property managing subsidiary” means a qualifying subsidiary of the relevant company whose business consists wholly or mainly in the holding or managing of land or any property deriving its value from land.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (2) above, “land” and “property deriving its value from land” have the same meaning as in section 776.

Requirement that securities should not relate to a guaranteed loan

- 10A (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that there are no securities relating to a guaranteed loan in the relevant holding.
- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph a security relates to a guaranteed loan if (and only if) there are arrangements for the trust company to be or become entitled, in the event of a failure by any person to comply with—
- (a) the terms of the loan to which the security relates, or
 - (b) the terms of the security,
- to receive anything (whether directly or indirectly) from a third party.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2) above it shall be immaterial whether the arrangements apply in all cases of a failure to comply or only in certain such cases.
- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph “third party” means any person except—
- (a) the relevant company; and
 - (b) if the relevant company is the parent company of a trading group for the purposes of paragraph 3 above, the subsidiaries of the relevant company.

Requirement that a proportion of the holding in each company must be eligible shares

- 10B (1) The requirement of this paragraph is that eligible shares represent at least 10 per cent. by value of the totality of the shares in or securities of the relevant company (including the relevant holding) which are held by the trust company.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) For the purposes of this paragraph the value at any time of any shares in or securities of a company shall be taken (subject to sub-paragraph (4) below) to be their value immediately after—
- (a) any relevant event occurring at that time; or
 - (b) where no relevant event occurs at that time, the last relevant event to occur before that time.
- (3) In sub-paragraph (2) above “relevant event”, in relation to any shares in or securities of the relevant company, means—
- (a) the acquisition by the trust company of those shares or securities;
 - (b) the acquisition by the trust company of any other shares in or securities of the relevant company which—
 - (i) are of the same description as those shares or securities, and
 - (ii) are acquired otherwise than by virtue of being allotted to the trust company without that company’s becoming liable to give any consideration;
- or
- (c) the making of any such payment in discharge, in whole or in part, of any obligation attached to any shares in or securities of the relevant company held by the trust company as (by discharging that obligation) increases the value of any such shares or securities.
- (4) If at any time the value of any shares or securities held by the trust company is less than the amount of the consideration given by the trust company for those shares or securities, it shall be assumed for the purposes of this paragraph that the value of those shares or securities at that time is equal to the amount of that consideration.
- (5) In this paragraph “eligible shares” has the same meaning as in section 842AA.

Acquisitions for restructuring purposes

- 10C (1) This paragraph applies where—
- (a) arrangements are made for a company (“the new company”) to acquire all the shares (“old shares”) in another company (“the old company”);
 - (b) the acquisition provided for by the arrangements falls within sub-paragraph (2) below; and
 - (c) the Board have, before any exchange of shares takes place under the arrangements, given an approval notification.
- (2) An acquisition of shares falls within this sub-paragraph if—
- (a) the consideration for the old shares consists wholly of the issue of shares (“new shares”) in the new company;

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) new shares are issued in consideration of old shares only at times when there are no issued shares in the new company other than subscriber shares and new shares previously issued in consideration of old shares;
 - (c) the consideration for new shares of each description consists wholly of old shares of the corresponding description; and
 - (d) new shares of each description are issued to the holders of old shares of the corresponding description in respect of, and in proportion to, their holdings.
- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (1)(c) above an approval notification is one which, on an application by either the old company or the new company, is given to the applicant company and states that the Board are satisfied that the exchange of shares under the arrangements—
 - (a) will be effected for bona fide commercial reasons; and
 - (b) will not form part of any such scheme or arrangements as are mentioned in section 137(1) of the 1992 Act.
- (4) If the requirements of paragraph 3 above were satisfied in relation to the old company and any old shares immediately before the beginning of the period for giving effect to the arrangements, then (to the extent that it would not otherwise be the case) those requirements shall be deemed to be satisfied in relation to the new company and the matching new shares at all times which—
 - (a) fall in that period; and
 - (b) do not fall after a time when (apart from the arrangements) those requirements would have ceased by virtue of—
 - (i) sub-paragraph (4) or (5) of that paragraph, or
 - (ii) any cessation of a trade by any company,to be satisfied in relation to the old company and the matching old shares.
- (5) For the purposes of paragraph 3 above the period of two years mentioned in sub-paragraph (4) of that paragraph shall be deemed, in the case of any new shares, to expire at the same time as it would have expired (or by virtue of this sub-paragraph would have been deemed to expire) in the case of the matching old shares.
- (6) Subject to sub-paragraph (7) below, where—
 - (a) there is an exchange under the arrangements of any new shares for any old shares, and
 - (b) those old shares are shares in relation to which the requirements of paragraphs 6 and 8 above were (or were deemed to be) satisfied to any extent immediately before the exchange,those requirements shall be deemed, at all times after that time, to be satisfied to the same extent in relation to the matching new shares.
- (7) Where there is a time following any exchange under the arrangements of any new shares for any old shares when (apart from the arrangements) the requirements of paragraph 6 above would have ceased under—
 - (a) sub-paragraph (2) of that paragraph, or
 - (b) this sub-paragraph,to be satisfied in relation to those old shares, those requirements shall cease at that time to be satisfied in relation to the matching new shares.
- (8) For the purposes of paragraph 7 above any new shares acquired under the arrangements shall be deemed to represent an investment which—

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (a) raised the same amount of money as was raised (or, by virtue of this sub-paragraph, is deemed to have been raised) by the issue of the matching old shares, and
 - (b) raised that amount by an issue of shares in the new company made at the time when the issue of the matching old shares took place (or, as the case may be, is deemed to have taken place).
- (9) In determining whether the requirements of paragraph 9 above are satisfied in relation to the old company or the new company at a time in the period for giving effect to the arrangements, both—
 - (a) the arrangements themselves, and
 - (b) any exchange of new shares for old shares that has already taken place under the arrangements,shall be disregarded.
- (10) For the purposes of paragraph 10B above the value of the new shares, both immediately after the time of their acquisition and immediately after the time of any subsequent relevant event occurring by virtue of the arrangements, shall be taken to be the same as the value, when last valued in accordance with that paragraph, of the old shares for which they are exchanged.
- (11) Nothing in this paragraph shall deem any of the requirements of this Schedule to be satisfied in relation to any new shares unless the matching old shares were first issued to the trust company and have been held by that company from the time when they were issued until they are acquired by the new company.
- (12) References in this paragraph to the period for giving effect to the arrangements are references to the period which—
 - (a) begins with the time when those arrangements first came into existence; and
 - (b) ends with the time when the new company completes its acquisition under the arrangements of all the old shares.
- (13) If, at any time after the arrangements first came into existence and before the new company has acquired all the old shares, the arrangements—
 - (a) cease to be arrangements for the acquisition of all the old shares by the new company, or
 - (b) cease to be arrangements for an acquisition falling within sub-paragraph (2) above,this paragraph shall not deem any requirement of this Schedule to be satisfied, and sub-paragraph (10) above shall not apply, in the case of any new shares at any time after the arrangements have so ceased.
- (14) Subject to sub-paragraph (15) below, references in this paragraph, except in the expression “subscriber shares”, to shares in a company include references to any securities of that company.
- (15) For the purposes of this paragraph, a relevant security of the old company shall not be treated as a security of that company if—
 - (a) the arrangements do not provide for the acquisition of the security by the new company; or
 - (b) such treatment prevents sub-paragraph (1)(b) above from being satisfied in connection with the arrangements.

Status: Point in time view as at 01/05/2001. This version of this Act contains provisions that are not valid for this point in time.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (16) In sub-paragraph (15) above “relevant security” means an instrument which is a security for the purposes of this Schedule by reason only of section 842AA(12).
- (17) For the purposes of this paragraph—
- (a) old shares and new shares are of a corresponding description if, were they shares in the same company, they would be of the same description; and
 - (b) old shares and new shares are matching shares in relation to each other if the old shares are the shares for which those new shares are exchanged under the arrangements.

Conversion of convertible shares and securities

- 10D (1) This paragraph applies where—
- (a) shares have been issued to the trust company by virtue of the exercise by that company of any right of conversion attached to other shares, or securities, held by that company (“the convertibles”);
 - (b) the shares so issued are in the same company as the convertibles to which the right was attached;
 - (c) the convertibles to which the right was attached were first issued to the trust company and were held by that company from the time they were issued until converted; and
 - (d) the right was attached to the convertibles when they were first so issued and was not varied before it was exercised.
- (2) Sub-paragraphs (5) to (8) of paragraph 10C above shall apply in relation to the exchange of convertibles for shares by virtue of the exercise of the right of conversion as if—
- (a) that exchange were an exchange under any such arrangements as are mentioned in that paragraph of new shares for old shares; and
 - (b) the references in those sub-paragraphs and sub-paragraph (17)(b) of that paragraph to the arrangements were references to the provision conferring the right of conversion.
- (3) For the purposes of paragraph 10B above the value of the new shares immediately after the time of their acquisition by the trust company shall be taken to be the same as the value, when last valued in accordance with that paragraph, of the convertibles for which they are exchanged.

Winding up of the relevant company

- 11 None of the requirements of this Schedule shall be regarded, at a time when the relevant company is being wound up, as being, on that account, a requirement that is not satisfied in relation to that company if it is shown—
- (a) that the requirements of this Schedule would be satisfied in relation to that company apart from the winding up; and
 - (b) that the winding up is for bona fide commercial reasons and not part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose of which, or one of the main purposes of which, is the avoidance of tax.

Company in administration or receivership

- 11A (1) A company which is in administration or receivership shall not be regarded as ceasing to comply with paragraph 3(2) or (3) by reason of anything done as a consequence of its being in administration or receivership.
- (2) For this purpose—
- (a) a company is “in administration” if there is in force in relation to it—
- (i) an administration order under Part II of the ^{M1829}Insolvency Act 1986 or Part III of the ^{M1830}Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989, or
- (ii) any corresponding order under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom; and
- (b) a company is “in receivership” if there is in force in relation to it—
- (i) an order for the appointment of an administrative receiver, a receiver and manager or a receiver under Chapter I or II of Part III of the ^{M1831}Insolvency Act 1986 or Part IV of the ^{M1832}Insolvency (Northern Ireland) Order 1989, or
- (ii) any corresponding order under the law of a country or territory outside the United Kingdom.
- (3) This paragraph applies only if—
- (a) the making of the order in question, and
- (b) everything done as a consequence of the company being in administration or receivership,
- is for bona fide commercial reasons and is not part of a scheme or arrangement the main purpose or one of the main purposes of which is the avoidance of tax.

Company reorganisations etc. involving exchange of shares

- 11B (1) The Treasury may by regulations make provision for cases where—
- (a) a holding of shares or securities that meets the requirements of this Schedule is exchanged for other shares or securities,
- (b) the exchange is made for bona fide commercial reasons and does not form part of a scheme or arrangements of which the main purpose, or one of the main purposes, is the avoidance of tax, and
- (c) the new shares or securities do not meet some or all of the requirements of this Schedule,
- providing that the new shares or securities shall be treated as meeting those requirements.

- (2) The references in sub-paragraph (1) to an exchange of shares or securities include any form of company reorganisation or other arrangement which involves a holder of shares or securities in a company receiving other shares or securities—
 - (a) whether the original shares or securities are transferred, cancelled or retained, and
 - (b) whether the new shares or securities are in the same or another company.
- (3) The regulations shall specify—
 - (a) the cases in which, and conditions subject to which, they apply,
 - (b) which requirements of this Schedule are to be treated as met, and
 - (c) the period for which those requirements are to be treated as met.
- (4) The regulations may contain such administrative provisions (including provision for advance clearances) as appear to the Treasury to be necessary or expedient.
- (5) The regulations may authorise the Board to give notice to any person requiring him to provide such information, specified in the notice, as they may reasonably require in order to determine whether any conditions imposed by the regulations are met.
- (6) Regulations under this paragraph—
 - (a) may make different provision for different cases,
 - (b) may include such supplementary, incidental and transitional provisions as appear to the Treasury to be appropriate, and
 - (c) may include provision having retrospective effect.

Power to amend Schedule

- 12 The Treasury may by order amend this Schedule for any or all of the following purposes, that is to say—
- (a) to make such modifications of paragraphs [F45753 to 5] above as they may consider expedient;
 - (b) to substitute different sums for the sums of money for the time being specified in paragraphs 7(2) and 8(1) above.

- [^{F4577}(2) For the purposes of paragraphs 5(2) and 9 above, the question whether a person controls a company shall be determined in accordance with subsections (2) to (6) of section 416 with the modification given by sub-paragraph (3) below.
- (3) The modification is that, in determining whether a person controls a company, there shall be disregarded—
- (a) his or any other person’s possession of, or entitlement to acquire, relevant fixed-rate preference shares of the company; and
 - (b) his or any other person’s possession of, or entitlement to acquire, rights as a loan creditor of the company.
- (4) Section 839 shall apply for the purposes of this Schedule, but as if the reference in subsection (8) to section 416 were a reference to subsections (2) to (6) of section 416 with the modification given by sub-paragraph (3) above.
- (5) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (3) above—
- (a) relevant fixed-rate preference shares are fixed-rate preference shares that do not for the time being carry voting rights; ^{F4578} . . .
 - (b) ^{F4578}]
- [^{F4579}(6) In this paragraph “fixed-rate preference shares” means shares which—
- (a) were issued wholly for new consideration;
 - (b) do not carry any right either to conversion into shares or securities of any other description or to the acquisition of any additional shares or securities; and
 - (c) do not carry any right to dividends other than dividends which—
 - (i) are of a fixed amount or at a fixed rate per cent. of the nominal value of the shares, and
 - (ii) together with any sum paid on redemption, represent no more than a reasonable commercial return on the consideration for which the shares were issued;
- and in paragraph (a) above “new consideration” has the meaning given by section 254.]

SCHEDULE 30

Section 844.

TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS AND SAVINGS

Corporation tax payment dates

- 1 (1) In this paragraph, an “old company” means a company to which section 244 of the 1970 Act applied in respect of the last accounting period ending before 17th March 1987.
- (2) In relation to an old company —
- (a) “the company's section 244 interval” means the interval after the end of an accounting period of the company which, in accordance with section 244 of the 1970 Act, was the period within which corporation tax assessed for that period was required to be paid; and
- (b) “the period of reduction” means the number of whole days which are comprised in a period equal to one-third of the difference between nine months and the company’s section 244 interval.
- (3) Subject to sub-paragraph (6) below, with respect to the first accounting period of an old company beginning on or after 17th March 1987, section 243(4) of the 1970 Act and section 10(1) of this Act (time for payment of corporation tax) shall have effect as if for the reference to nine months there were substituted a reference to a period which is equal to the company’s section 244 interval less the period of reduction.
- (4) Subject to sub-paragraph (6) below, with respect to any accounting period of an old company which begins —
- (a) after the accounting period referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above, but
- (b) before the second anniversary of the beginning of that period,
- section 10(1) of this Act shall have effect as if for the reference to nine months there were substituted a reference to a period equal to the previous payment interval less the period of reduction.
- (5) In relation to any accounting period of an old company falling within sub-paragraph (4) above, “the previous payment interval” means the interval after the end of the immediately preceding accounting period within which corporation tax for that preceding period is required to be paid by virtue of section 243(4) of the 1970 Act or section 10(1) of this Act, as modified by this paragraph.

Changes to legislation: Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 01 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (6) If the accounting period referred to in sub-paragraph (3) above or any accounting period falling within sub-paragraph (4) above is less than 12 months, the sub-paragraph in question shall have effect in relation to that accounting period as if for the reference in that sub-paragraph to the period of reduction there were substituted a reference to the number of whole days comprised in a period which bears to the period of reduction the same proportion as that accounting period bears to 12 months.
- (7) With respect to any accounting period of an old company which falls within sub-paragraph (3) or (4) above, section 86(4) of the Management Act (interest on overdue tax) shall have effect as if, in paragraph 5(a) of the Table (the reckonable date in relation to corporation tax), the reference to the nine months mentioned in section 243(4) of the 1970 Act or section 10(1) of this Act were a reference to the period which, under sub-paragraphs (3) to (6) above, is substituted for those nine months.
- (8) In section 88(5)(e) of the Management Act (the date when corporation tax ought to have been paid) for the words from “where section 244(1)” to “the interval” there shall be substituted “ in the case of an accounting period in respect of which section 10(1) of the principal Act applies as modified by sub-paragraph 1(3) or (4) of Schedule 30 to that Act, at the end of the period which, under that sub-paragraph, is substituted for the period of nine months ”.
- (9) With respect to any accounting period of an old company which falls within sub-paragraph (3) or (4) above, section 825 shall have effect as if, in subsection (8) in paragraph (a) of the definition of “the material date”, the reference to the nine months mentioned in section 10(1) were a reference to the period which, under sub-paragraphs (1) to (8) above is substituted for those nine months.

Duration of leases

- 2 (1) Subject to sub-paragraph (2) and paragraph 3 below, section 38 has effect —
 - (a) as respects a lease granted after 12th June 1969; and
 - (b) so far as it relates to section 34(5), as respects a variation or waiver the contract for which is entered into after that date.
- (2) So far as relates to relief under —
 - (a) section 385 [^{F4632}or] 393 [^{F4633}or 393A(1)]; or
 - (b) section 380(1) as applied by subsection (2) of that section; or
 - (c) section 25(1);
 given by setting a loss against, or making a deduction from, income of —
 - (i) the year 1988-89 or any subsequent year of assessment, or
 - (ii) a company's accounting period ending after 5th April 1988, section 38 shall be deemed to have had effect as from the passing of the Finance Act 1963, and as respects leases granted at any time.
- (3) Notwithstanding section 31 or any other enactment governing the order in which reliefs are given, in applying sub-paragraph (2) above it shall be assumed that all relief which could not be affected by the operation of that sub-paragraph was given (for all years of assessment and accounting periods before or after the passing of this Act) before relief which could be affected by the operation of that sub-paragraph.

*Repeal of section 136 of the Income Tax Act 1952:
allowance of annual value of land as a business expense*

- 5 (1) This paragraph has effect for allowing deductions by reference to those which would have fallen to be made if section 136 of the Income Tax Act 1952 had applied for the years 1963-64 and 1964-65.
- (2) Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, an allowance under this paragraph shall be made to the person (“the occupier”) carrying on a trade where land which was occupied by him at any time before the end of the year 1962-63 for the purposes of the trade permanently ceases to be occupied by him for those purposes.
- (3) The amount of the allowance shall be the excess of —
 - (a) the aggregate of any deductions in respect of the annual value of the land which, by virtue of section 136, would have been made in computing the profits or gains of the trade for the years 1963-64 and 1964-65 but for section 29(1) of the Finance Act 1963 and the repeal by that Act of section 136;

over

 - (b) the aggregate of any deductions relating to the land made in computing the profits or gains of the trade for those years, being —
 - (i) deductions permitted by section 29(2) of the Finance Act 1963, so far as made in respect of the period in respect of which the deductions mentioned in paragraph (a) above would have been made; or
 - (ii) deductions in respect of rent from which an amount representing tax was deducted under section 173 of the Income Tax Act 1952, so far as made in respect of that period.
- (4) The allowance shall be made by —
 - (a) treating the amount of it as rent paid for the land by the occupier (in addition to any actual rent), becoming due from day to day during the period defined in sub-paragraph (5) below; and

- (b) allowing deductions accordingly in computing the profits or gains of the trade chargeable under Case I of Schedule D for any chargeable period the profits or gains for which fall to be computed by reference to a period including the period defined in sub-paragraph (5) below or any part thereof.
- (5) The period referred to in sub-paragraph (4) above is that ending when the land permanently ceases to be occupied by the occupier for the purposes of the trade, and of a duration, equal to the aggregate of—
 - (a) the number of months and fractions of months during which the land was occupied by him for the purposes of the trade in so much of the period by reference to which the profits or gains of the trade for the year 1963-64 fell to be computed as fell before the beginning of that year; and
 - (b) the number of months and fractions of months during which the land was so occupied in so much of the period by reference to which the profits or gains of the trade for the year 1964-65 fell to be computed as fell before the beginning of the year 1963-64.
- (6) No allowance shall be made under this paragraph where the date on which the land permanently ceases to be occupied by the occupier for the purposes of the trade
 - (a) falls within a chargeable period in which he permanently ceases to carry on the trade; or
 - (b) where the occupier is not a company, falls within a year of assessment and also within a period by reference to which the profits or gains of the trade for that year of assessment fall to be computed.
- (7) Where, by reason of a change in the persons carrying on the trade, the trade falls to be treated for any of the purposes of the Income Tax Acts as permanently discontinued, a person engaged in carrying on the trade immediately before the change occurred who continues to be so engaged immediately after it occurred shall be treated for the purposes of this paragraph as not having been in occupation of the land at any time before it occurred.
- (8) Where there has been a change in the persons carrying on the trade, but by virtue of section 113 of this Act or section 17(1) of the Finance Act 1954 (company reconstructions before introduction of corporation tax), the trade does not by reason of the change fall to be treated for any of the purposes of the Income Tax Acts as permanently discontinued, this paragraph (including this sub-paragraph) shall apply as if any occupation of the land before the change occurred by the persons carrying on the trade immediately before it occurred were occupation by the persons carrying on the trade immediately after it occurred.
- (9) Where section 343(1) applies, then for the purposes of this paragraph any occupation of land for the purposes of the trade by the predecessor shall be treated as having been the occupation of the successor.
 - Subsection (6) of that section shall apply to this sub-paragraph as it applies to subsections (2) to (5) of that section, and in this paragraph “predecessor” and “successor” have the same meaning as in that section.
- (10) Where section 518 has effect, then for the purposes of this paragraph any occupation of land for the purposes of the trade by the transferor shall be treated as having been the occupation of the transferee. This sub-paragraph shall be construed as one with section 518.

- (11) Sub-paragraphs (1) to (10) above shall apply in relation to a profession or vocation as they apply in relation to a trade, but as if the reference in sub-paragraph (4) to Case I of Schedule D were a reference to Case II of that Schedule.
- (12) For the purposes of this paragraph, any occupation of land by the London Transport Board which was by virtue of paragraph 6 of Schedule 3 to the Finance Act 1970 immediately before the commencement of this Act treated as occupation by another body, shall continue to be so treated by virtue of this sub-paragraph.

Loss relief etc.

- 6 (1) The substitution of this Act for the corresponding enactments repealed by this Act shall not alter the effect of any provision enacted before this Act (whether or not there is a corresponding provision in this Act) so far as it determines whether and to what extent —
- (a) losses or expenditure incurred in, or other amounts referable to, a chargeable period earlier than those to which this Act applies may be taken into account for any tax purposes in a chargeable period to which this Act applies; or
 - (b) losses or expenditure incurred in, or other amounts referable to, a chargeable period to which this Act applies may be taken into account for any tax purposes in a chargeable period earlier than those to which this Act applies.
- (2) Without prejudice to sub-paragraph (1) above, the repeals made by this Act shall not affect the following enactments (which are not re-enacted) —
- (a) section 27(4) of the Finance Act 1952 (restrictions on removal of six year time limit on carry forward of trading losses);
 - (b) section 29(3) of the Finance Act 1953 (Isles of Scilly);
 - (c) section 17 of, and Schedule 3 to, the Finance Act 1954 (company reconstructions before corporation tax) so far as in force by virtue of the saving in Part IV of Schedule 22 to the Finance Act 1965, and section 80(8) of the Finance Act 1965 (which amends Schedule 3 to the Finance Act 1954);
 - (d) section 82(4) of the Finance Act 1965 (losses allowable against chargeable gains);
 - (e) section 85 of the Finance Act 1965 (carry forward of surplus of franked investment income: dividends paid out of pre-1966-67 profits) and the enactments amending that section;
 - (f) paragraph 25 of Schedule 15 to the Finance Act 1965 (continuity of elections for purposes of corporation tax);
 - (g) paragraph 7 of Schedule 16 to the Finance Act 1965 (overseas trade corporations); in so far as those enactments may be relevant to tax for any chargeable period to which this Act applies.

- 7 (1) This paragraph shall apply with respect to claims for group relief in respect of any amount which is attributable —
- (a) to writing-down allowances, within the meaning of Chapter II of Part I of the 1968 Act, or, as the case may require, Chapter I of Part III of the Finance

Act 1971, in respect of expenditure incurred by the surrendering company on the provision of machinery or plant; or

- (b) to initial allowances under section 56 of the 1968 Act (expenditure in connection with mines etc.) in respect of expenditure incurred by the surrendering company and falling within section 52(1) of that Act of 1971 (works in a development area or in Northern Ireland); or
- (c) to allowances under section 91 of the 1968 Act in respect of expenditure incurred by the surrendering company on scientific research; where the expenditure is incurred under a contract entered into by the surrendering company before 6th March 1973.

- (2) Notwithstanding anything in section 410(1) to (6) or 413(7) to (10) or in Schedule 18 but subject to sub-paragraph (5) below, group relief may be claimed in respect of any such amount as is referred to in sub-paragraph (1) above if —

- (a) immediately before 6th March 1973 —
 - (i) the surrendering company and the company claiming relief were members of a group of companies, and
 - (ii) throughout the period beginning on that date and ending at the end of the accounting period in respect of which the claim is made, there is no reduction in the rights of the parent company with respect to the matters specified in section 413(7)(a) and (b); or
- (b) immediately before 6th March 1973 the company claiming relief was a member of a consortium and, throughout the period beginning on that date and ending at the end of the accounting period in respect of which the claim is made, there is
 - (i) no variation in the percentage of the ordinary share capital of the company owned by the consortium which is beneficially owned by that member, and
 - (ii) no reduction in the rights of that member (in respect of the company owned by the consortium) with respect to the matters specified in section 413(7)(a) and (b); and in either case no such arrangements as are specified in section 410(1) or (2) have come into existence after 5th March 1973 with respect to any of the companies concerned and no variation is made in any such arrangements which are in existence on that date with respect to any of those companies.

- (3) For the purposes of sub-paragraph (2)(a) above, “the parent company” means the company of which another member of the group referred to in that sub-paragraph was, immediately before 6th March 1973, a 75 per cent subsidiary, and the rights of the parent company referred to in that paragraph are —

- (a) if the parent company is either the surrendering company or the company claiming relief, its rights in the other company; and
- (b) in any other case, its rights in both the surrendering company and the company claiming relief.

- (4) For the purposes of this paragraph an amount which the claimant company claims by way of group relief shall be treated as attributable to an allowance falling within any of paragraphs (a) to (c) of sub-paragraph (1) above to the extent that that amount would not have been available for surrender by the surrendering company if no such allowance had been available to the surrendering company in respect of the expenditure concerned.

- (5) Sub-paragraph (2) above shall not apply if, during the period referred to in that sub-paragraph —
- (a) there is a major change in the nature or conduct of a trade or business carried on by the relevant company; or
 - (b) the relevant company sets up and commences a trade or business which it did not carry on immediately before 6th March 1973.
- (6) In sub-paragraph (5) above — “a major change in the nature or conduct of a trade or business” has the same meaning as in section 245(1); and “the relevant company” means, if the machinery or plant to which the allowance relates was brought into use on or before 6th March 1978, the company claiming group relief and in any other case either that company or the company which if sub-paragraph (5) did not apply would be the surrendering company.
- (7) This paragraph shall be construed as if it were contained in Chapter IV of Part X.

Capital allowances

- 8 Without prejudice to paragraphs 6 and 7 above, where a person is, immediately before the commencement of this Act, entitled to a capital allowance by virtue of any enactment repealed by this Act, he shall not cease to be so entitled by reason only of that repeal, notwithstanding that the enactment in question is not re-enacted by this Act; and accordingly the provisions of this Act shall apply, with any necessary modifications, so far as may be necessary to give effect to any such entitlement.

Social security benefits

- 9 (1) In relation to any period before regulations containing the first schemes under section 20 of the Social Security Act 1986 and Article 21 of the Social Security (Northern Ireland) Order 1986 providing for income support come into force —
- (a) the repeal by this Act of sections 27 and 28 of the Finance Act 1981 shall not have effect;
 - (b) sections 151 and 152 of this Act shall not have effect;
 - (c) section 204 of this Act shall have effect with the substitution for paragraph (b) of the following paragraph —
 - “(b) he has claimed a payment of supplementary allowance under the Supplementary Benefits Act 1976 or the Supplementary Benefits (Northern Ireland) Order 1977 in respect of a period including that time and his right to the allowance is subject to any condition contained in section 5 of the said Act of 1976 or, in Northern Ireland, Article 7 of the said Order (requirements as to registration and availability for employment)” and with the addition at the end of the following —
 - “(2) Any reference in this section to section 5 of the Supplementary Benefits Act 1976 or to Article 7 of the Supplementary Benefits (Northern Ireland) Order 1977 includes a reference to that section or Article as amended by any other enactment including an enactment passed or made after the passing of this Act”; and

Schedule E emoluments

- 19 The repeal by this Act of section 21 of the Finance Act 1974 shall not affect the taxation of emoluments which if that section had been in force before 1973-74 would have fallen within Case I or Case II of Schedule E, and, accordingly, any such emoluments shall not be chargeable under Case III of Schedule E.

Unitary states

- 20 The repeal by this Act of section 54 of and Schedule 13 to the Finance Act 1985 shall not prevent the Treasury making an order under subsection (7) of section 54 exercising the powers conferred on the Treasury by that subsection in relation to distributions made in chargeable periods ending before 6th April 1988 and, accordingly, subsections (7) and (8) of section 54 shall continue to have effect in later chargeable periods for that purpose.

Continuity and construction of references to old and new law

- 21 (1) The continuity of the operation of the Tax Acts and of the law relating to chargeable gains shall not be affected by the substitution of this Act for the enactments repealed by this Act and earlier enactments repealed by and corresponding to any of those enactments (“the repealed enactments”).
- (2) Any reference, whether express or implied, in any enactment, instrument or document (including this Act and any Act amended by this Act) to, or to things done or falling to be done under or for the purposes of, any provision of this Act shall, if and so far as the nature of the reference permits, be construed as including, in relation to the times, years or periods, circumstances or purposes in relation to which the corresponding provision in the repealed enactments has or had effect, a reference to, or as the case may be to things done or falling to be done under or for the purposes of, that corresponding provision.
- (3) Any reference, whether express or implied, in any enactment, instrument or document (including the repealed enactments and enactments, instruments and documents passed or made after the passing of this Act) to, or to things done or falling to be done under or for the purposes of, any of the repealed enactments shall, if and so far as the nature of the reference permits, be construed as including, in relation to the times, years or periods, circumstances or purposes in relation to which the corresponding provision in this Act has effect, a reference to, or as the case may be
