

Foreign Marriage (Amendment) Act 1988

1988 CHAPTER 44

3 Caveat against marriage.

(1) In section 5 of the 1892 Act (caveats) in subsection (2) (Secretary of State to refer doubtful cases to the Registrar-General for England and Wales for decision by him) for the words “to the Registrar-General, and the Registrar-General” there shall be substituted the words “to whichever of the following he considers appropriate, that is to say—

- (a) the Registrar General for England and Wales;
- (b) the Registrar General of Births, Deaths and Marriages for Scotland; or
- (c) the Registrar General in Northern Ireland;

and that Registrar General”.

(2) In subsection (4) of that section for the words “by the Registrar-General or Secretary of State” there shall be substituted the words “under subsection (2) or (3) above”.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Foreign Marriage (Amendment) Act 1988, Section 3.