

Social Security Contributions and Benefits (Northern Ireland) Act 1992

1992 CHAPTER 7

PART II

CONTRIBUTORY BENEFITS

Benefits for widows and widowers

[^{F1}39B Bereavement allowance where no dependent children.

- (1) This section applies where a person whose spouse [^{F2}or civil partner] dies on or after the appointed day is over the age of 45 but under pensionable age at the spouse's [^{F3}or civil partner's] death.
- (2) The surviving spouse [^{F2}or civil partner] shall be entitled to a bereavement allowance at the rate determined in accordance with section 39C below if the deceased spouse [^{F2}or civil partner] satisfied the contribution conditions for a bereavement allowance specified in Schedule 3, Part I, paragraph 5.
- (3) A bereavement allowance shall be payable for not more than 52 weeks beginning with the date of the spouse's [^{F3}or civil partner's] death or (if later) the day on which the surviving spouse's [^{F3}or civil partner's] entitlement is to be regarded as commencing by virtue of section 5(1)(l) of the Administration Act.
- (4) The surviving spouse shall not be entitled to the allowance for any period after she or he remarries [^{F4}or forms a civil partnership], but, subject to that, the surviving spouse shall continue to be entitled to it until—
 - (a) she or he attains pensionable age, or
 - (b) the period of 52 weeks mentioned in subsection (3) above expires,whichever happens first.

Status: Point in time view as at 23/09/2010. This version of this provision has been superseded.
