

Employment Rights Act 1996

1996 CHAPTER 18

PART VI

TIME OFF WORK

Public duties

51 Complaints to industrial tribunals.

- (1) An employee may present a complaint to an industrial tribunal that his employer has failed to permit him to take time off as required by section 50.
- (2) An industrial tribunal shall not consider a complaint under this section that an employer has failed to permit an employee to take time off unless it is presented—
  - (a) before the end of the period of three months beginning with the date on which the failure occurred, or
  - (b) within such further period as the tribunal considers reasonable in a case where it is satisfied that it was not reasonably practicable for the complaint to be presented before the end of that period of three months.
- (3) Where an industrial tribunal finds a complaint under this section well-founded, the tribunal—
  - (a) shall make a declaration to that effect, and
  - (b) may make an award of compensation to be paid by the employer to the employee.
- (4) The amount of the compensation shall be such as the tribunal considers just and equitable in all the circumstances having regard to—
  - (a) the employer's default in failing to permit time off to be taken by the employee, and
  - (b) any loss sustained by the employee which is attributable to the matters to which the complaint relates.
