 - (c) the times in that year when Scotland is where his principal UK home is located comprise (in aggregate) at least as much of that year as the times (if any) in that year when the location of his principal UK home is not in Scotland.
- (4) For the purposes of this section—
- (a) an individual spends a day in Scotland if, but only if, he is in Scotland at the end of that day, and
 - (b) an individual spends a day elsewhere in the United Kingdom if, but only if, he is in the United Kingdom at the end of that day and it is not a day that he spends in Scotland.
- (5) For the purposes of this section an individual’s principal UK home at any time is located in Scotland if at that time—
- (a) he is an individual with a place of residence in Scotland, and
 - (b) in the case of an individual with two or more places of residence in the United Kingdom, Scotland is the location of such one of those places as at that time is his main place of residence in the United Kingdom.
- (6) In this section “place” includes a place on board a vessel or other means of transport.

76 Changes to income tax structure.

- (1) This section applies where—
- (a) there has been a proposal for the modification of any provision made by or under the Income Tax Acts,
 - (b) that proposal is one made and published by the Treasury or the Board, or (without having been so made and published) appears to the Treasury to be a proposal to which effect is likely to be given by Act of Parliament, and
 - (c) it appears to the Treasury that the proposed modification would have a significant effect on the practical extent for any year of assessment of the Parliament’s tax-varying powers.

Status: Point in time view as at 27/06/2002.

Changes to legislation: Scotland Act 1998 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 10 June 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) It shall be the duty of the Treasury, as soon as reasonably practicable after the publication of the proposal, or (as the case may be) as soon as reasonably practicable after it first appears to the Treasury that the proposal is likely to be enacted, to lay before the House of Commons—
- (a) a statement of whether, in the Treasury’s opinion, an amendment of the Parliament’s tax-varying powers is required as a consequence of the proposal, and
 - (b) if in their opinion an amendment of those powers is required, the Treasury’s proposals for amending those powers.
- (3) Any proposals for amending the Parliament’s tax-varying powers that are laid before the House of Commons by the Treasury under this section—
- (a) must be confined to income tax,
 - (b) must appear to the Treasury to satisfy the conditions set out in subsections (4) and (5), and
 - (c) must not contain any proposal for the Parliament’s tax-varying powers to be exercisable in relation to the taxation of income from savings or distributions.
- (4) The first condition mentioned in subsection (3)(b) is that the proposals would secure—
- (a) so far as possible, and
 - (b) after making due allowance for annual changes in the retail prices index,
- that the practical extent of the Parliament’s tax-varying powers would remain broadly the same from year to year as it would be if (apart from any resolution of the Parliament) the law relating to income tax were the same from year to year as it was in relation to the year 1997-98.
- (5) The second condition so mentioned is that the proposals would not enable the Parliament’s tax-varying powers to be exercised for any year of assessment so as to have an effect on the levels of the after-tax income of Scottish taxpayers generally that would be significantly different from the effect their exercise could have had in any previous year of assessment.
- (6) References in this section to the practical extent of the Parliament’s tax-varying powers are references to the amounts of income tax for any year of assessment which appear to be or (as the case may be) to have been the maximum amounts capable of being raised and foregone in that year in pursuance of a resolution of the Parliament.
- (7) In this section “income from savings or distributions” means income which, had it been income for the year 1998-99, would have been income to which section 1A of the ^{M37}Income and Corporation Taxes Act 1988 applied for that year.

- (7) In this section “income tax receipts”, in relation to any year of assessment, means so much as is referable to income tax charged for that year of any sums which, disregarding both—
 - (a) subsection (8), and
 - (b) any regulations or direction made or given by the Treasury,are sums that have to be paid into the Consolidated Fund under section 10 of the ^{M38}Exchequer and Audit Departments Act 1866 (gross revenues of Board’s department to be paid into that Fund after the making of specified deductions).
- (8) Sums required by the Board for making payments under this section shall be paid out of the gross revenues of the Board’s department; and, accordingly, those sums shall be treated as included in the amounts to be deducted from those revenues before they are paid into the ^{M39}Consolidated Fund under section 10 of the Exchequer and Audit Departments Act 1866.

- (4) For the purposes of this section the Board shall make and maintain arrangements as to—
 - (a) the manner of estimating the shortfall in income tax receipts for any year of assessment that is properly attributable to a resolution of the Parliament,
 - (b) the circumstances and manner in which an estimate of that shortfall may be revised before or in the course of the year of assessment to which it relates,
