

International Criminal Court Act 2001

2001 CHAPTER 17

PART 2

ARREST AND DELIVERY OF PERSONS

Proceedings where court makes delivery order

11 Procedure where court makes order

- (1) Where a competent court makes a delivery order in respect of a person, the court shall—
  - (a) commit the person to custody or on bail to await the Secretary of State's directions as to the execution of the order,
  - (b) inform the person of his rights under section 12 (right to review of delivery order) in ordinary terms and in a language which appears to the court to be one which he fully understands and speaks, and
  - (c) notify the Secretary of State and, in the case of proceedings in Scotland, the Scottish Ministers of its decision.
- (2) A person committed to custody under subsection (1)(a) shall be committed to prison or to the custody of a constable.
- (3) A court which commits a person to custody under subsection (1)(a) may subsequently grant bail.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the International Criminal Court Act 2001, Section 11.