

Identity Documents Act 2010

2010 CHAPTER 40

Repeal of Identity Cards Act 2006

1 Repeal of Identity Cards Act 2006

- (1) The Identity Cards Act 2006 is repealed.
- (2) But—
  - (a) sections 25 and 26 of that Act (possession of false identity documents etc), and
  - (b) section 38 of that Act (verifying information provided with passport applications etc),are re-enacted by this Act (with consequential amendments and, in the case of section 38, also with minor amendments).
- (3) In addition, the amendment of section 1 of the Consular Fees Act 1980 made by section 36 of the Identity Cards Act 2006 continues to have effect subject to a consequential amendment (see paragraph 2 of the Schedule to this Act).

2 Cancellation of ID cards etc

- (1) No ID cards are to be issued by the Secretary of State at any time on or after the day on which this Act is passed.
- (2) All ID cards that are valid immediately before that day are to be treated as cancelled by the Secretary of State at the end of the period of one month beginning with that day.
- (3) As soon as reasonably practicable after that day, the Secretary of State must send a letter to every cardholder—
  - (a) informing the cardholder that the cardholder's ID card is to be treated as cancelled as mentioned in subsection (2), and
  - (b) providing the cardholder with such information about the consequences of its cancellation as the Secretary of State considers appropriate.

Status: Point in time view as at 21/01/2011.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Identity Documents Act 2010. (See end of Document for details)

---

- (4) A letter under subsection (3) must be sent to the address recorded (at the time it is sent) in the National Identity Register as the address of the cardholder's principal place of residence in the United Kingdom.
- (5) For the purposes of this section a person is a “cardholder” if—
  - (a) an ID card has been issued to the person, and
  - (b) the ID card is valid immediately before the day on which this Act is passed.
- (6) In this section “ID card” has the same meaning as in the Identity Cards Act 2006.

3 Destruction of information recorded in National Identity Register

The Secretary of State must ensure that all the information recorded in the National Identity Register is destroyed before the end of the period of two months beginning with the day on which this Act is passed.

False identity documents etc

4 Possession of false identity documents etc with improper intention

- (1) It is an offence for a person (“P”) with an improper intention to have in P's possession or under P's control—
  - (a) an identity document that is false and that P knows or believes to be false,
  - (b) an identity document that was improperly obtained and that P knows or believes to have been improperly obtained, or
  - (c) an identity document that relates to someone else.
- (2) Each of the following is an improper intention—
  - (a) the intention of using the document for establishing personal information about P;
  - (b) the intention of allowing or inducing another to use it for establishing, ascertaining or verifying personal information about P or anyone else.
- (3) In subsection (2)(b) the reference to P or anyone else does not include, in the case of a document within subsection (1)(c), the individual to whom it relates.
- (4) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable, on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 10 years or a fine (or both).

5 Apparatus designed or adapted for the making of false identity documents etc

- (1) It is an offence for a person (“P”) with the prohibited intention to make or to have in P's possession or under P's control—
  - (a) any apparatus which, to P's knowledge, is or has been specially designed or adapted for the making of false identity documents, or
  - (b) any article or material which, to P's knowledge, is or has been specially designed or adapted to be used in the making of such documents.
- (2) The prohibited intention is the intention—
  - (a) that P or another will make a false identity document, and

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Identity Documents Act 2010. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) that the document will be used by somebody for establishing, ascertaining or verifying personal information about a person.
- (3) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable, on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 10 years or a fine (or both).

6 Possession of false identity documents etc without reasonable excuse

- (1) It is an offence for a person (“P”), without reasonable excuse, to have in P’s possession or under P’s control—
  - (a) an identity document that is false,
  - (b) an identity document that was improperly obtained,
  - (c) an identity document that relates to someone else,
  - (d) any apparatus which, to P’s knowledge, is or has been specially designed or adapted for the making of false identity documents, or
  - (e) any article or material which, to P’s knowledge, is or has been specially designed or adapted to be used in the making of such documents.
- (2) A person guilty of an offence under this section is liable—
  - (a) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 2 years or a fine (or both), or
  - (b) on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding the maximum period or a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum (or both).
- (3) In subsection (2)(b) “the maximum period” means—
  - (a) in England and Wales or Scotland, 12 months, and
  - (b) in Northern Ireland, 6 months.
- (4) In subsection (3)(a) the reference to 12 months in England and Wales is to be read, in relation to an offence committed before the commencement of section 154(1) of the Criminal Justice Act 2003, as a reference to 6 months.

7 Meaning of “identity document”

- (1) For the purposes of sections 4 to 6 “identity document” means any document that is or purports to be—
  - (a) an immigration document,

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Identity Documents Act 2010. (See end of Document for details)

---

- (4) A credit reference agency is “qualifying” if, at the time a requirement is imposed, the agency is acting for the purposes of a contract for the provision to the Secretary of State of information that could be used as mentioned in subsection (1)(a) or (b).
- (5) A requirement imposed under this section on a qualifying credit reference agency is enforceable in civil proceedings for—
  - (a) an injunction,
  - (b) in Scotland, specific performance of a statutory duty under section 45 of the Court of Session Act 1988, or
  - (c) any other appropriate remedy or relief.
- (6) The persons who may be specified under subsection (3)(i) include any person who carries out a function that—
  - (a) is conferred by or under an enactment (whenever passed or made), and
  - (b) falls to be carried out on behalf of the Crown.
- (7) An order under subsection (3)(i) may provide that where a requirement is imposed under this section on the person specified in the order, the duty to comply with the requirement is enforceable as mentioned in subsection (5).
- (8) In a case within subsection (1)(a) where a passport is issued, information provided in accordance with this section must be destroyed no later than 28 days after the passport is issued.
- (9) In a case within subsection (1)(b) where a passport is not withdrawn, information provided in accordance with this section must be destroyed no later than 28 days after the determination is made not to withdraw the passport.
- (10) Subsections (8) and (9) do not apply in a case where it appears to the Secretary of State to be desirable to retain the information for the purpose of—
  - (a) preventing or detecting crime, or
  - (b) apprehending or prosecuting offenders.
- (11) The Secretary of State may make payments to a person providing information in accordance with this section in respect of the provision of the information.
- (12) In this section—
  - (a) “information” includes documents (including stamps and labels) and records, and
  - (b) the “issue” of a document includes its renewal, replacement or re-issue (with or without modifications).

General

11 Orders

- (1) This section applies to an order under section 7(6) or 10(3)(i).
- (2) An order is to be made by statutory instrument.
- (3) An order may be made only if a draft of the statutory instrument containing it has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament.

Status: Point in time view as at 21/01/2011.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Identity Documents Act 2010. (See end of Document for details)

---

- (4) An order may contain incidental, supplemental, consequential or transitional provision.

12 Consequential amendments

The Schedule contains consequential amendments.

13 Transitional provision

- (1) The repeal and re-enactment of provisions by this Act does not affect the continuity of the law.
- (2) Any subordinate legislation or other thing which—
- (a) has been made or done under or for the purposes of a provision repealed and re-enacted by this Act, and
  - (b) is in force or effective immediately before commencement,
- has effect after commencement as if made or done under or for the purposes of the corresponding provision of this Act.
- (3) Any reference (express or implied) in any enactment, instrument or document to a provision of this Act is to be read as including, in relation to times, circumstances or purposes in relation to which any corresponding provision repealed by this Act had effect, a reference to that corresponding provision.

This subsection applies only so far as the context permits.

- (4) Any reference (express or implied) in any enactment, instrument or document to a provision repealed and re-enacted by this Act is to be read, in relation to times, circumstances or purposes in relation to which the corresponding provision of this Act has effect, as a reference or (as the context may require) as including a reference to that corresponding provision.

This subsection applies only so far as the context permits.

- (5) Any reference to a provision repealed and re-enacted by this Act which is contained in a document made, served or issued after commencement is to be read, except so far as a contrary intention appears, as a reference or (as the context may require) as including a reference to the corresponding provision of this Act.
- (6) In this section “commencement” means the commencement of this section.
- (7) This section has effect instead of section 17(2) of the Interpretation Act 1978 (but is without prejudice to section 16 and the other provisions of that Act).

14 Commencement, extent and short title

- (1) Sections 2 and 3 and this section come into force on the day on which this Act is passed.
- (2) The other provisions of this Act come into force at the end of the period of one month beginning with that day.
- (3) Any amendment, repeal or revocation made by this Act has the same extent as the enactment to which it relates.
- (4) Subject to that, this Act extends to England and Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.
