 - (a) satisfies the contracting authority’s requirements, and
 - (b) best satisfies the award criteria when assessed by reference to—
 - (i) the assessment methodology under section 23(3)(a), and
 - (ii) if there is more than one criterion, the relative importance of the criteria under section 23(3)(b).
- (3) In assessing tenders for the purposes of this section a contracting authority—
 - (a) must disregard any tender from a supplier that does not satisfy the conditions of participation;
 - (b) may disregard any tender from a supplier that—
 - (i) is not a United Kingdom supplier or treaty state supplier, or
 - (ii) intends to sub-contract the performance of all or part of the contract to a supplier that is not a United Kingdom supplier or treaty state supplier;
 - (c) may disregard any tender that offers a price that the contracting authority considers to be abnormally low for performance of the contract;
 - (d) may disregard any tender which breaches a procedural requirement set out in the tender notice or associated tender documents.
- (4) Before disregarding a tender under subsection (3)(c) (abnormally low price), a contracting authority must—
 - (a) notify the supplier that the authority considers the price to be abnormally low, and
 - (b) give the supplier reasonable opportunity to demonstrate that it will be able to perform the contract for the price offered.
- (5) If the supplier demonstrates to the contracting authority’s satisfaction that it will be able to perform the contract for the price offered, the authority may not disregard the tender under subsection (3)(c) (abnormally low price).
- (6) The reference to a tender breaching a procedural requirement includes a reference to a supplier breaching a procedural requirement in relation to the tender.

 - (b) such other competitive tendering procedure as the contracting authority considers appropriate for the purpose of awarding the public contract (a “competitive flexible procedure”).
- (3) A contracting authority must ensure that the procedure is a proportionate means of awarding the public contract, having regard to the nature, complexity and cost of the contract.
- (4) A competitive flexible procedure—
 - (a) may limit the number of participating suppliers, generally or in respect of particular tendering rounds or other selection processes;
 - (b) may provide for the refinement of award criteria in accordance with section 24;
 - (c) may not permit the participation of suppliers that did not submit a tender in the first round of tendering or that were excluded following an earlier round.
- (5) A competitive flexible procedure may provide for the exclusion of suppliers—
 - (a) by reference to conditions of participation (see section 22);
 - (b) by reference to an intermediate assessment of tenders;
 - (c) that are not United Kingdom suppliers or treaty state suppliers;

 in each case, at the point of assessment.
- (7) A competitive tendering procedure may, if a contract is being awarded by reference to lots, limit the number of lots in respect of which any one supplier can submit a tender.
- (8) See sections 27, 28 and 30 for provision about excluding suppliers that are excluded or excludable suppliers, that are sub-contracting to excluded or excludable suppliers or for improper behaviour.

 - (a) the legal and financial capacity to perform the contract, or
 - (b) the technical ability to perform the contract.
- (2) A “condition of participation” is a condition that a supplier must satisfy if the supplier is to be awarded the public contract.
- (3) A condition set under subsection (1)(a) may not—

 - (b) require insurance relating to the performance of the contract to be in place before the award of the contract.
- (4) A condition set under subsection (1)(b) may relate to suppliers' qualifications, experience or technical ability, but may not—
 - (a) require suppliers to have been awarded a contract by a particular contracting authority,
 - (b) break the rules on technical specifications in section 56, or
 - (c) require particular qualifications without allowing for their equivalents.
- (5) When considering whether a condition is proportionate for the purposes of subsection (1), a contracting authority must have regard to the nature, complexity and cost of the public contract.
- (6) A condition of participation may require the provision of evidence that is verifiable by a person other than the supplier.
- (7) If a supplier does not satisfy a condition of participation, the contracting authority may exclude the supplier from participating in, or progressing as part of, the competitive tendering procedure.

 - (a) relate to the subject-matter of the contract,
 - (b) are sufficiently clear, measurable and specific,
 - (c) do not break the rules on technical specifications in section 56, and
 - (d) are a proportionate means of assessing tenders, having regard to the nature, complexity and cost of the contract.
- (3) In setting award criteria, a contracting authority must—
 - (a) describe how tenders are to be assessed by reference to them and, in particular, specify whether failure to meet one or more criteria would disqualify a tender (the “assessment methodology”), and
 - (b) if there is more than one criterion, indicate their relative importance by—
 - (i) weighting each as representing a percentage of total importance,
 - (ii) ranking them in order of importance, or
 - (iii) describing it in another way.
- (4) In setting award criteria for the assessment of tenders by reference to lots, a contracting authority—
 - (a) may limit the number of lots that may be awarded to any one supplier, and
 - (b) in doing so, must provide an objective mechanism for supplier selection in circumstances where a supplier would otherwise exceed the limit.
- (5) In subsection (2), the reference to the subject-matter of a contract includes a reference to—
 - (a) the goods, services or works to be supplied under the contract, including in respect of any aspect of their production, trading or other stage in their life-cycle;

 - (i) who should supply the services, and

 - (b) the authority is yet to invite suppliers to submit tenders to be assessed under section 19 (award following competitive tendering procedure).
- (2) A contracting authority may, in consequence of refining an award criterion under subsection (1), refine the indication of the relative importance of the award criteria under section 23(3)(b).
- (3) A contracting authority may not make a refinement under this section if it would result in award criteria that would, had the refinement been made earlier, have allowed one or more suppliers that did not progress beyond an earlier round or selection process to have done so.
- (4) A contracting authority must modify and republish or provide again the tender notice and any associated tender documents affected by refinements under this section.
