3 Selection and preservation of public records. U.K.

- (1) It shall be the duty of every person responsible for public records of any description which are not in the Public Record Office or a place of deposit appointed by the [^{F11}Secretary of State] under this Act to make arrangements for the selection of those records which ought to be permanently preserved and for their safe-keeping.

Status: Point in time view as at 09/12/2015.

Changes to legislation: Public Records Act 1958 is up to date with all changes known to be in force on or before 13 July 2024. There are changes that may be brought into force at a future date. Changes that have been made appear in the content and are referenced with annotations. (See end of Document for details)

- (2) Every person shall perform his duties under this section under the guidance of the Keeper of Public Records and the said Keeper shall be responsible for co-ordinating and supervising all action taken under this section.
- (3) All public records created before the year sixteen hundred and sixty shall be included among those selected for permanent preservation.
- (4) Public records selected for permanent preservation under this section shall be transferred not later than [^{F12}20 years] after their creation either to the Public Record Office or to such other place of deposit appointed by the [^{F13}Secretary of State] under this Act as the [^{F13}Secretary of State] may direct:

Provided that any records may be retained after the said period if, in the opinion of the person who is responsible for them, they are required for administrative purposes or ought to be retained for any other special reason and, where that person is not the [^{F13}Secretary of State], the [^{F13}Secretary of State] has been informed of the facts and given his approval.

- [^{F14}(4A) Until the end of the period of 10 years beginning with the commencement of section 45 of the Constitutional Reform and Governance Act 2010, subsection (4) has effect subject to any order made under subsection (2) of that section.]
- (5) The [^{F15}Secretary of State] may, if it appears to him in the interests of the proper administration of the Public Record Office, direct that the transfer of any class of records under this section shall be suspended until arrangements for their reception have been completed.
- (6) Public records which, following the arrangements made in pursuance of this section, have been rejected as not required for permanent preservation shall be destroyed or, subject in the case of records for which some person other than the [^{F16}Secretary of State] is responsible, to the approval of the [^{F16}Secretary of State], disposed of in any other way.
- (7) Any question as to the person whose duty it is to make arrangements under this section with respect to any class of public records shall be referred to the [^{F17}Secretary of State] for his decision.
- (8) The provisions of this section shall not make it unlawful for the person responsible for any public record to transmit it to the Keeper of the Records of Scotland or to the Public Record Office of Northern Ireland.

4 Place of deposit of public records. U.K.

- (1) If it appears to the [^{F18}Secretary of State] that a place outside the Public Record Office affords suitable facilities for the safe-keeping and preservation of records and their inspection by the public he may, with the agreement of the authority who will be responsible for records deposited in that place, appoint it as a place of deposit as respects any class of public records selected for permanent preservation under this Act.
- (2) In choosing a place of deposit under this section for public records of—
 - (a) courts of quarter sessions or magistrates' courts, or
 - (b) courts of coroners of counties or boroughs,the [^{F19}Secretary of State] shall have regard to any arrangements made by the person for the time being responsible for the records with respect to the place where those records are to be kept and, where he does not follow any such arrangements, shall, so far as practicable, proceed on the principle that the records of any such court ought to be kept in the area of the [^{F20}county] or county borough comprising the area for which the court acts or where it sits, except in a case where the authorities or persons appearing to the [^{F19}Secretary of State] to be mainly concerned consent to the choice of a place of deposit elsewhere.
- (3) The [^{F21}Secretary of State] may at any time direct that public records shall be transferred from the Public Record Office to a place of deposit appointed under this section or from such a place of deposit to the Public Record Office or another place of deposit.
- (4) Before appointing a place of deposit under this section as respects public records of a class for which the [^{F22}Secretary of State] is not himself responsible, he shall consult with the Minister or other person, if any, who appears to him to be primarily concerned and, where the records are records of a court of quarter sessions the records of which are, apart from the provisions of this Act, subject to the directions of a custos rotulorum, the [^{F22}Secretary of State] shall consult him.
- (5) Public records in the Public Record Office shall be in the custody of the Keeper of Public Records and public records in a place of deposit appointed under this Act shall be in the custody of such officer as the [^{F23}Secretary of State] may appoint.

Status: Point in time view as at 09/12/2015.

8 Court records. U.K.

(1) The Lord Chancellor shall be responsible for the public records of every court of record or magistrates' court which are not in the Public Record Office or a place of deposit appointed by [^{F33}the Secretary of State] under this Act and shall have power to determine in the case of any such records [^{F34}other than records of the Supreme Court,] the officer in whose custody they are for the time being to be:

^{F35} . . .

[^{F36}(1A) Records of the Supreme Court for which the Lord Chancellor is responsible under subsection (1) shall be in the custody of the chief executive of that court.]

(2) [^{F37}The power of the President of the Probate Division of the High Court under section one hundred and seventy of the ^{M1}Supreme Court of Judicature (Consolidation) Act 1925, to direct where the wills and other documents mentioned in that section are to be deposited and preserved (exercisable with the consent of the Lord Chancellor) shall be transferred to the Lord Chancellor.]

^{F38}(3)

(4) Where any private documents have remained in the custody of a court in England or Wales for more than fifty years without being claimed, the Keeper of Public Records may, with the approval of the Master of the Rolls, require the documents to be transferred to the Public Record Office and thereupon the documents shall become public records for the purposes of this Act.

(5) Section three of this Act shall not apply to such of the records of ecclesiastical courts described in paragraph (n) of sub-paragraph (1) of paragraph 4 of the First Schedule to this Act as are not held in any office of the [^{F39}Senior Courts] or in the Public Record Office, but, if the Lord Chancellor after consulting the President of the [^{F40}Family Division] so directs as respects any of those records, those records shall be transferred to such place of deposit as may be appointed by the [^{F41}Secretary of State] and shall thereafter be in the custody of such officer as may be so appointed.

(6) The public records which at the commencement of this Act are in the custody of the University of Oxford and which are included in the index a copy of which was transmitted to the principal probate registrar under section two of the ^{M2}Oxford University Act 1860, shall not be required to be transferred under the last foregoing subsection but the Lord Chancellor shall make arrangements with the University of Oxford as to the conditions under which those records may be inspected by the public.
