PART II

COURTS OF INQUIRY

4 Inquiry into trade disputes.

- (1) Where any trade dispute exists or is apprehended, [^{F3}the Secretary of State] may, . . . ^{F4} inquire into the causes and circumstances of the dispute, and, if he thinks fit, refer any matters appearing to him to be connected with or relevant to the dispute to a court of inquiry appointed by him for the purpose of such reference, and the court shall, either in public or in private, at their discretion, inquire into the matters referred to them and report thereon to [^{F3}the Secretary of State].
- (2) A court of inquiry for the purposes of this Part of this Act (in this Act referred to as “a court of inquiry”) shall consist of a chairman and such other persons as [^{F3}the Secretary of State] thinks fit to appoint, or may, if [^{F3}the Secretary of State] thinks fit, consist of one person appointed by [^{F3}the Secretary of State].
- (3) A court of inquiry may act notwithstanding any vacancy in their number.
- (4) [^{F3}The Secretary of State] may make rules regulating the procedure of any court of inquiry, including rules as to summoning of witnesses, quorum, and the appointment of committees and enabling the court to call for such documents as the court may determine to be relevant to the subject-matter of the inquiry.
- (5) A court of inquiry may, if and to such extent as may be authorised by rules made under this section, by order require any person who appears to the court to have any knowledge of the subject-matter of the inquiry to furnish, in writing or otherwise, such particulars in relation thereto as the court may require, and, where necessary, to attend before the court and give evidence on oath, and the court may administer or authorise any person to administer an oath for that purpose.
