

Exchequer Court (Scotland) Act 1856

1856 CHAPTER 56 19 and 20 Vict

1 The Court of Session to be the Court of Exchequer in Scotland.

The whole power, authority, and jurisdiction at present belonging to the Court of Exchequer in Scotland, as at present constituted, shall be transferred to and vested in the Court of Session, and the Court of Session shall be also the Court of Exchequer in Scotland.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Exchequer Court (Scotland) Act 1856, Section 1.