

Oxford University Act 1862

1862 CHAPTER 26 25 and 26 Vict

10 Saving of rights.

This Act shall not be construed to take away or affect any power of making statutes or regulations now possessed by the University or by any college therein, nor shall it prejudice or affect any interest vested in any member of the University previously to the passing of this Act.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Oxford University Act 1862, Section 10.