

Railways Clauses Act 1863

1863 CHAPTER 92 26 and 27 Vict

PART II

EXTENSION OF TIME

21 Existing contracts and notices to take lands not to be affected.

The extension of time shall not affect any contract entered into or notice given by the company before the passing of the special Act granting the extension, for purchasing, taking, or using any lands which the company was entitled to purchase, take, or use; but every such contract and notice shall be construed and take effect, and the same proceedings may be had thereunder, and all parties thereto shall be entitled to the same rights and remedies in respect thereof, at law and in equity, as if the extension had not been granted.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the Railways Clauses Act 1863, Section 21.